

Talent2 named as a Global Market Leader in 2010 Baker's Dozen List

Talent2 International has emerged as a global market leader in Recruitment Process Outsourcing (RPO) and Talent Acquisition solutions, according to HRO Today Magazine's annual Baker's Dozen List for 2010.

The magazine's annual list is developed based on a comprehensive survey of RPO buyers and experts. Provider rankings are based on quality of service, breadth of service and size of deals.

Talent2 ranked number 12 in the Overall Rankings and an incredible number seven on the Global Market Leaders list. Of the 13 organisations ranked in the Baker's Dozen Overall Rankings, only eight were included on the distinguished Global Leaders List. Talent2's number seven placing is testament to the commitment and dedication of a team that won its first RPO deal in Australia in 2005.

"I am immensely proud of our global team achieving such a prominent ranking on the Global Market Leaders List. It is a considerable achievement given we only established the company in the Australian market five years ago. Since then, we have grown at an exponential rate, with 40 offices in 19 countries and a total of 20 RPO clients globally." says Andrew Grant, Global RPO Managing Director, Talent2.

Talent2 has invested heavily in organic growth over the past three years, going from 150 employees in their global RPO division to over 300.

Less than a point separated Talent2 from achieving the top spot in the Breadth of Service scoring and the company came in second in the Global Clients tally. The race to lead the pack in the Quality of Service ranking was certainly a close call, with only 49 points separating number one from number eight.
