

Talent2 triumphs at FEMA

Neil Galvin wins prestigious "Recruiter of the Year" award

Talent2 has taken out a key award at the 2010 Fairfax Employment Marketing Awards (FEMA) with recruiter, Neil Galvin, awarded "Recruiter of the Year".

At a gala dinner at the Sydney Opera House last week, the 6th annual awards recognised and rewarded creative and effective employment advertising and excellence in the field of recruitment. FEMA is widely acknowledged as an industry benchmark for the recruitment industry.

Speaking on the win, Talent2 CEO, John Rawlinson, said: "Neil is a valued member of the Talent2 team and is held in high esteem by his colleagues. He has received several internal awards over the last year, including a management award for performance excellence and a peer-nominated award for most valuable contribution.

"Neil continually strives for success and we congratulate him on his remarkable achievement at FEMA. Recognition of his role as an industry leader is a tribute to his drive, focus and continued commitment to developing good quality client relationships, as well as his ability to attract and look after high calibre candidates.

"The win also marks Talent2's continuing success at FEMA, showcasing the company's culture of excellence and our strong position in the industry," he said.

Talent2 was named the industry's "Executive Recruitment Firm of the Year" for four consecutive years (2005-2008) which resulted in it being inducted into the esteemed FEMA "Neville Jeffress Hall of Fame" in 2009.

Originally from the UK, Neil migrated to Sydney in 2005, building his professional networks from scratch. Over the last financial year, he generated $1.1M in billings, a level of performance far outstripping his peers.

"One of my secrets is to work hard but also work smart," said Neil. "For the last three and a half years, I have worked four day weeks, spending Thursdays with my young daughter. I start early in the morning to take care of administrative tasks, then spend the remainder of my day speaking and meeting with people and building my market knowledge to add real value to clients and candidates."
