Beijing became the first city in the PRC that had completed such type of conversion project, and the coal gas business of Original Gas Group also ceased to operate simultaneously in Beijing.

Industry Overview on the Supply of Natural Gas

Energy consumption forecast in the PRC

Due to the energy structure of China, coal occupies a significant share in the primary energy consumption in the PRC, accounting for approximately 68.9% of the total consumption of primary energy in the PRC in 2005. Petroleum followed coal and accounted for approximately 21%, and natural gas accounted for approximately 2.9% in 2005, respectively. Consumption of coal in the PRC has resulted in the problems of acid rain and air pollution in certain regions in the PRC. It has created additional pressure on the economic development and environmental protection in the PRC. Furthermore, the crude oil reserves in the PRC are limited and China has to rely on imports. Due to the high degree of volatility of international oil prices, the exploration and development of alternative energy sources is an issue of the PRC government requiring for resolutions. As natural gas is clean, economical, safe, efficient and convenient, and the natural gas reserves in the PRC are relatively abundant, the development in the utilisation of natural gas bears significance in improving the energy structure of China and mitigating the pressure on the demand and supply of petroleum.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

As of the end of 2005, China had completed the construction of 22,451 km of natural gas transmission pipelines, with a transportation capacity of 37.4 billion cubic metres per annum. The “West to East Gas Transmission” pipelines of approximately 4,200 km long officially commenced commercial operation on 30 December 2004, which enabled the transportation of natural gas from the rich reserves in the west to the central and eastern part of China which is more economically developed and more densely populated. Nos. 1 and 2 transmission pipelines of the Shaanxi-Beijing Gas Transmission Pipelines with a total length of approximately 1,700 km were completed in 1997 and 2005 respectively, of which the total transportation capacity is 15.3 billion cubic metres per annum. It effectively meets the demand for natural gas of northern China, particularly Beijing. In addition, the PRC government has also adopted a number of measures to encourage the use of natural gas so as to reduce pollution.

Development of the natural gas businesses in Beijing

Beijing is the capital of China. It is also one of the largest and most rapidly growing metropolitans in the PRC. The major energy source of Beijing is coal. The massive utilisation of coal has resulted in severe air pollution in Beijing. In order to improve the air quality in the urban area, Beijing Municipal Government has devoted efforts in introducing natural gas as an alternative energy source. From 1998 until now, Beijing Municipal Government has published numerous measures to reduce air pollution, which expressly endorse the active promotion of natural gas and other clean energy sources to accelerate the improvement of air quality.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

With the acceleration of urbanisation in Beijing, urban renewal and the increase in new constructions (according to the statistical figures of Beijing Statistical Year Book published by Beijing Statistics Bureau, newly constructed gross floor area in Beijing increased from 23,580,000 sq. m. in 2000 to 46,790,000 sq. m. in 2005), as well as the growth in the population of Beijing (according to the statistical figures of Beijing Statistics Year Book, the population of Beijing grew from 13,636,000 in 2000 to 15,380,000 in 2005), the utilisation of natural gas also increased significantly. Set out below is a table of the annual purchase volume of natural gas, number of users and length of natural gas pipelines in Beijing between 1998 and 2005:

Annual purchase volume (billion cubic metres per annum)	0.326	0.648	0.957	1.674	1.800	2.385	2.553	3.024

With 2008 Olympics scheduled to be held in Beijing, Beijing is positioning itself as the Resident-Friendly City and is accelerating the implementation of the strategy of construction of new urban and rural areas. Hence, the Directors are of the opinion that the development of the gas market in Beijing will continue to be rapid. It is expected that by 2008, the proportion of clean energy in Beijing will increase substantially. Total consumption of natural gas will reach over five billion cubic metres per annum. By 2010, it is expected to reach over six billion cubic metres per annum. According to the Overall Urban Planning of Beijing (2004-2020), by 2020, the aggregate natural gas consumption will be approximately 11-12 billion cubic metres per annum. The urban areas will be supplied with piped gas, with major suburban towns enjoying priority in adopting the supply of piped gas.

Legal regulation of the urban piped gas industry

The Ministry of Construction of PRC published the “Management Methods on the Administration of City Gas” on 23 December 1997, which officially became effective on 1 January 1998. Such measures are applicable to the planning, construction and operation of a gas business in urban areas, the production and sales of equipment, and the application and safety management for gas consumption and operation. It provides that the design and construction of piped gas projects shall be undertaken by units with corresponding qualification certificates in design and construction, and shall comply with the relevant technology standards and specifications of the government. Entities supplying gas must satisfy qualification assessment and register with the Administration of Industry and Commerce before engaging in the activities.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

The Ministry of Construction of the PRC published the “Management Methods on the Administration of Concession Granting for Public Utilities” on 19 March 2004, which was officially implemented on 1 May 2004. Such measures state that the granting of a concession in municipal and public utility businesses is by selection of investors or operators in municipal and utility businesses by the government pursuant to the law, and the investor or operator may operate a particular municipal and public utility products or provide a particular service within a certain timeframe and scope. The term of the concession is up to 30 years. The relevant authorities shall enter into a concession agreement with the company which has been granted the concession. Such measures also provide that the municipal administration authorities shall assist the concessionaire to compute the pricing and cost structure of the utility service, and provide advice to adjust the pricing and structure whenever necessary.

The Beijing Municipal Government published the “Measures for the Granting of Concessions to Operate Municipal Infrastructure in Beijing Municipal City” on 28 August 2003, which was officially implemented on 1 October 2003. Pursuant to such methods, the government may grant a concession to operate municipal infrastructure to an enterprise or any type of entity, which permits it to operate a particular municipal infrastructure within a certain period of time and scope. The implementing authorities shall enter into a concession agreement with the company which has been granted the concession. The Standing Committee of the People’s Congress of Beijing published the “Regulations concerning Granting of Concessions to Operate Municipal Infrastructure in Beijing” on 1 December 2005, which was officially implemented on 1 March 2006 and at the same time repealed the “Management Methods on the Administration for the Granting of Concession of Infrastructure in Beijing Municipal City”. Such regulations govern the granting of concessions to operate municipal infrastructure by the government. The term of the concession is up to 30 years. The regulations also provide that the implementing authorities shall supervise and analyse the status of implementation for the concessioned municipal infrastructure projects, and regularly conduct joint assessment of the status of implementation with professional institutions of the relevant authorities.

The Standing Committee of the People’s Congress of Beijing published the “Regulations concerning the Administration of Gas in Beijing Municipal City” on 3 November 2006, which will be officially implemented on 1 May 2007. Such regulations are applicable to the planning, supply and usage of gas, the construction of gas facilities and other related administration activities in the administration districts in Beijing.

According to the relevant provisions such as the “Pricing Law of the PRC”, the “Measures for the Hearing on the Government Pricing Setting of the PRC” and the “Regulations on Implementing the System of Hearing on Pricing of Beijing Municipal City”, the price of natural gas, as an important public utility commodity, adopts government guidance price and/or government-set price. In addition, pursuant to the “Catalog for the Hearing of Pricing”, the setting and adjustment of the price of gas consumed by residents of Beijing is decided upon the conduct of hearings organised by the pricing authorities in Beijing as to the necessity and feasibility in the determination and adjustment of pricing of gas consumed by residents. In accordance with the

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

“Notice on the Reform of Computation Mechanisms for the Wellhead Price of Natural Gas and the Appropriate Increase in the Wellhead Price of Natural Gas in the Near Term” published by the National Development and Reform Commission of PRC on 23 December 2005, the State will reform the setting of computation of the wellhead price of natural gas, and formulate a mechanism that may link the price of Natural Gas to that of alternative energy sources with a dynamic adjustment the price dynamically. Local governments at various levels and their pricing authorities shall adequately consider the demand and supply of natural gas in the market to reasonably arrange the selling price of natural gas.

Competitive Advantages of the Target Group

The Board considers that the competitive advantages of the Target Group are as follows:

- Unparallel location advantage of capital: As the capital of the PRC, Beijing ranks top in the PRC both in terms of the pace of economic development and the progress of urbanisation. Beijing will hold the 2008 Olympics and has initiated the mission to hold a “Green Olympics”, which will dramatically speed up the process of urbanisation, marketisation and globalisation of Beijing. As a result, the city’s modernisation will be gradually enhanced. The demand for clean energy, in particular natural gas, will increase substantially. These factors provide a favourable operating environment, broad user base and great potential for expansion of Gas Group. As the piped natural gas operator serving Beijing, the capital city of the PRC, the Target Group has an unparallel location advantage. Due to the utmost importance of “ensuring the safe and stable natural gas supply for Beijing”, the Target Group is supported by resources and policies provided by the State energy administration authorities and upstream gas providers to achieve its business planning and expansion.
- Leading position in the industry: As at the end of 2005, among the city gas suppliers in the PRC, the Target Group ranked No. 1 in China in terms of the number of natural gas users, the volume in purchase and sales of natural gas and the length of the operating pipeline network system. The above demonstrates the key position of the Target Group in the industry, which could greatly facilitate the further expansion of its piped natural gas business in other cities and regions.
- Broadly covering trunk pipeline network system: The trunk pipeline network of the Target Group covers all urban districts of Beijing as well as suburban districts including Tongzhou, Daxing, Changping, Shunyi, Fangshan and Mentougou. In the near future, the trunk pipeline network will be extended to districts and counties including Huairou, Miyun and Pinggu. After years of development, it has formed the unique distribution network system in the PRC with five pressure levels ranging from high to low pressure levels, which is comprised of pipelines of 7,295 km, five citygates, four spherical gas-holder stations and over 10,000 pressure regulation facilities and related monitoring and control systems. As a result, the Target Group has established a distinct competitive advantage in Beijing urban and sub-urban areas.

- Stable and adequate supply of gas: At present, natural gas of adequate volume in Shaanxi, Hebei and Xinjiang is supplied to Beijing through long transmission pipelines. The Target Group has formed a strategic cooperation relationship with PetroChina by setting up a joint venture which owns Nos. 1 and 2 Shaanxi-Beijing Gas Transmission Pipelines and underground gas storage reservoirs, in order to further secure the natural gas supply.
- Advanced operation management systems: As the largest city gas supplier in the PRC in terms of scale, the Target Group has 50 years of history and an experienced and professional management team, with a number of experts and leading scholars in the gas industry. In respect of planning of pipeline networks, construction, construction management, gas distribution, contingency safety management, sales services and customers services, the Target Group has formed high-quality management systems. The state-of-the-art technology and the management experience in the industry that the Target Group possesses have served as the example for many city gas suppliers in the PRC in their development of their respective gas businesses.
- Cutting-edge technology in the industry: With an emphasis on investment in technology and the introduction and application of state-of-the-art technology, the Target Group has maintained a leading advantage with respect to technology in the industry. The Target Group has conducted more than one hundred technology development projects. Recently, five of them were awarded the Beijing Science and Technology Advance Award. It also has a state-of-the-art control and dispatch centre equipped with the internationally leading SCADA system, which can ensure the safe operation and stable supply under various complicated circumstances.

Business Strategies of the Target Group

The Target Group will endeavour to maintain its status as the “leading city clean energy operator” in the PRC in the future and intends to implement the following business strategies:

- Further consolidate its leading position in Beijing: Based on its existing advantages in pipeline network and gas sources, and following the city development plan of Beijing, the Target Group will improve its service standards and proactively develop its heating, commercial and industrial user base so as to increase its sales volume. Capitalizing on the advantages arising from the coverage of the existing trunk pipeline network, the Target Group will increase the usage of piped gas in rural areas to the level as in the urban areas. The marketing of gas supply in Beijing will also be strengthened. Efforts will be devoted to the integration of urban and rural piped gas supply.

- Continuously improve operation efficiency and enhance investment return: The Target Group intends to adopt state-of-the-art technology to protect the pipeline network from corrosion, so as to extend the lifetime of the pipeline network and reduce repairs expenses. The Target Group strictly implements the investment budget management system and efficiency evaluation process for strengthening control over capital expenditures as well as increasing the return on investment. At the same time, it plans to upgrade and integrate the existing information management system gradually, to establish a complete customer management information system, to unify its customer's consumption records and credit records and to improve the customer service standard and promote the capital efficiency.
- Timely expand the market coverage: The Target Group intends to seek opportunities for its business proactively in other cities in the PRC outside Beijing, so as to fully capitalise on the competitive advantages already possessed by the Target Group, in particular in those cities alongside Nos. 1 and 2 Shaanxi-Beijing Gas Transmission Pipelines. Gas Group has entered into an entrustment investment agreement with the Beijing Enterprises Group for participation in Tangshan Gas Group Company Limited ("Tangshan Gas"). The Gas Group may consider acquiring a certain shareholding interest in Tangshan Gas at any appropriate time.
- Invest proactively in upstream and downstream entities so as to expand the scope of business: Following the successful investment in Hua You Company, the Target Group will continue to participate in the construction of upstream transmission pipelines and underground storage reservoirs through Hua You Company, on the one hand, and will continue to identify opportunities to participate in upstream business including transmission pipeline projects within provinces outside Beijing, on the other hand. In addition, the Target Group will tap into the downstream market such as distributed energy supply and customer energy management through different means such as investment and participation.

The principal operating activities of Gas Group

Gas Group has assumed the piped gas business, which mainly involves the distribution and sales of natural gas previously operated by Original Gas Group. Gas Group has obtained the Beijing Gas Operation Permit granted by the Beijing gas administration authority, which enables it to engage in the supply and sale of piped natural gas.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Operation Concession

In the event that a gas supplier with a gas operation permit has obtained the corresponding operation concession, it shall operate the concessioned gas business in the concessioned area during the specified term, subject to compliance with the relevant operation conditions. Beijing Municipal Administration Commission proposed the Implementation Plan for Concessioned Gas Business in Beijing in February 2006. Such plan has been agreed in-principle by the Beijing Municipal Government. According to the plan, Gas Group has the exclusive right within the concession term and the concessioned area to construct gas pipelines, to supply natural gas to the users and to charge the users accordingly. The concessioned area is the area within the Sixth Ring Road in Beijing, the eastern extension area of Changping and the group of the Machihou and Nimtou of Changping. The concession period is 25 years, which will commence from the date the concession agreement is executed. Gas Group may apply for an extension of term from the Beijing Municipal Government at any time during the period of one year prior to the expiration of the term of the concession. The Implementation Plan also sets out in-principle the rights and obligations of the government and Gas Group.

Notwithstanding the relevant regulations that require the authorities of the Beijing Municipal Government to enter into a concession agreement with Gas Group, as at the Latest Practicable Date, both parties are still negotiating the relevant terms of the agreement. The agreement has not yet been entered into. However, pursuant to the opinion of the PRC legal advisers of the Company as to the PRC law:

- On the basis of the prevailing laws and regulations in the PRC and the documents already obtained from the government (including the Implementation Plan and the consent in-principle granted by the Beijing Municipal Government in respect of the same), Gas Group was established upon the Division and succeeded the piped gas business and related businesses under the integrated operation by Original Gas Group in the relevant districts in Beijing prior to the Division. The succession complies with the requirement for integrated operation of urban supply of piped gas. Although the concession agreement has not yet been entered into, there will not be any significant and material adverse effect to the business operation of Gas Group.
- The prevailing laws and regulations of the PRC do not prescribe a timeframe within which the concession agreement must be executed upon confirmation of the Implementation Plan by the government.
- The major provisions of the concession agreement are already provided in-principle in the Implementation Plan.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

- Gas Group is negotiating with the authorities authorised by the Beijing Municipal Government on the relevant terms of the concession agreement. The Company's PRC legal advisers believe that there are no legal impediments to execution of the concession agreement.

Sales

The income of Gas Group is mainly derived from the sale of piped gas through the trunk pipeline network and the service lines to residential, heating and cooling, commercial and industrial users as well as heat-electricity co-generation across Beijing. For the three years ended 31 December 2006, the sales volume of natural gas by Gas Group amounted to 2.335 billion cubic metres, 2.826 billion cubic metres and 3.352 billion cubic metres, respectively. The sales income of natural gas accounted for 94.46%, 94.18% and 93.74%, respectively, of the total turnover of Gas Group.

Gas Group has a wide-spread and steady customer base, and does not rely on any single customer. For the year ended 31 December 2006, sales income from the top five customers of Gas Group accounted for approximately 9.3% of the total turnover of Gas Group in aggregate. The top five customers of Gas Group for the year ended 31 December 2006 are shown in the following table:

Top Five Customers of Gas Group in 2006

	Name of the entity	Gas type	Sales income (RMB1,000)
1	Beijing Jingfeng Gas Co-generation Plant	Natural gas	267,545
2	Beijing Luyuanda Clean Vehicle Fuel Technology Development Co., Ltd.	Natural gas	81,514
3	Beijing District Heating Group Limited	Natural gas	77,895
4	Beijing Shougang Tegang Company Limited	Natural gas	77,399
5	Shunyi Gas Company	Natural gas	53,483

The major customer group of Gas Group at present are heating and cooling users (i.e., the operators providing heating and cooling), but mainly heating users. For the three years ended 31 December 2006, the sales volume of natural gas to heating and cooling users by Gas Group amounted to 1.442 billion cubic metres, 1.815 billion cubic metres and 1.850 billion cubic metres, respectively, and accounted for approximately 62%, 64% and 55%, respectively, of the total sales volume of natural gas by Gas Group respectively. Gas Group will replace coal-fired boilers with gas-fired boilers under the guidance of the environmental protection policies of the government and seek new heating users; and devote more efforts to promote direct-fired absorption chilling users and CCHP (combined cooling-heating-power) users so as to increase sales of gas in summer, as well as expand sales volume of those users.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Residential users are the largest customer group of Gas Group in terms of number of users and demonstrate rapid growth momentum. For the three years ended 31 December 2006, the sales volume of natural gas amounted to 488 million cubic metres, 563 million cubic metres and 678 million cubic metres, respectively, and accounted for approximately 21%, 20% and 20%, respectively, of the total sales volume of Gas Group. In order to increase sales to this type of customers, Gas Group will enhance service standard continuously and improve coverage of pipeline network and hookup rate.

Commercial users include restaurants and hotels. It is the steadily growing quality user group of Gas Group. For each of three years ended 31 December 2006, the sales of natural gas to commercial users of Gas Group amounted to 286 million cubic metres, 297 million cubic metres and 308 million cubic metres, respectively, and accounted for approximately 12%, 11% and 9% respectively of the total sales volume in natural gas by Gas Group. With the development in the economy of Beijing as a whole, a substantial number of commercial users deploying other types of energy as fuel now has the ability to switch to natural gas. Hence, there will be greater room for the growth in gas consumption volume by commercial users.

For the three years ended 31 December 2006, the sales volume of natural gas to the industrial users of Gas Group amounted to 75 million cubic metres, 109 million cubic metres and 174 million cubic metres, respectively, and accounted for approximately 3%, 4% and 5%, respectively, of the total sales volume in natural gas by Gas Group. With stricter requirements on environmental protection being imposed by the government on enterprises, and the introduction of relevant regulations, more enterprises will select to switch from highly polluting fuel to clean energy. Natural gas as a clean energy source will become more widely accepted by enterprises. In addition, the continuing and sound development of the economy in Beijing will also accelerate the increase in total consumption of natural gas by enterprises. Based on the reasons above, gas consumption by industrial users will tend to grow.

Other users are mainly heat-electricity co-generation users. Jingfeng Gas Co-generation Plant, the first gas co-generation plant in Beijing, was completed in 2005 and has officially commenced operation. The operation of the plant will mitigate the pressure on electricity supply during the summer peak season in Beijing and reduce the pollution resulting from coal-burning in Beijing. Gas Group supplies natural gas to the plant. As the electricity consumption in Beijing increases year-by-year, whilst highly polluting generation means will be gradually phased out, Beijing Municipal Government plans to construct more natural gas powered electricity generation plants in the future. This will help the Target Group to increase its sales and efficiency and reduce its overall cost.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Selling price

Pursuant to the Circular on the Reform of Computation Mechanisms for the Wellhead Price of Natural Gas and the Appropriate Increase in the Wellhead Price of Natural Gas in the Near Term stipulated by the National Development and Reform Commission, Beijing Municipal Government will establish a price adjustment mechanism on natural gas. In order to deliver the message of energy shortage in China and to mitigate the impact of upstream price increase on local distribution companies, Gas Group has filed an application for the establishment of a price passthrough mechanism to the pricing administration authorities. The pricing administration authorities organised and held a pricing hearing on 22 December 2006, at which the price passthrough mechanism proposed by Gas Group was considered and approved, and it was determined that (1) the price passthrough mechanism will be adjusted once every three years; and (2) the selling prices of natural gas are to be adjusted at the same time and in the same direction as the rise or fall of the citygate prices, with the amount of adjustment substantially equivalent to the change in citygate price.

Pursuant to Jing Fa Gai No. 573 of 2007 issued by the Beijing Municipal Government regarding the notice of the adjustment of municipal natural gas prices, the municipal natural gas price has been upwardly adjusted as of 1 April 2007.

The prices of natural gas sold by Gas Group (taxes included) to various types of major users during the period from 2005 to the Latest Practicable Date are set out in the table below:

Types of users	1 January 2005 to 31 August 2006 (RMB per cubic metre)	1 September 2006 to Latest Practicable Date (RMB per cubic metre)
Residential	1.90	1.90 (RMB2.05 after 1 April 2007)
Heating and cooling	1.70 to 1.80	1.85 to 1.95
Commercial	2.40	2.55
Industrial	1.80	1.95
Heat-electricity co-generation	1.40	1.55

Purchases

Gas Group purchases from PetroChina natural gas which comes from gas fields in Shaanxi, Xinjiang and Hebei, respectively. With the completion of the long distance transmission pipeline network project (including, but not limited to, the existing pipelines of PetroChina) throughout the country, main gas fields in the PRC owned by PetroChina basically will realise pooled operation, thus increasing the stability in the supply of gas to Beijing. This will also imply that the natural gas purchased by Gas Group will not be limited to the regions mentioned above. The contract for the purchase of natural gas entered into between Gas Group and PetroChina is renewed once every five years. It is supplemented by a natural gas supply volume confirmation entered into once a year to confirm the purchase volume of natural gas for the current year and the first quarter of the following year.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

The price of purchase of natural gas by Gas Group is referred to as the “citygate price”, which comprises the wellhead price and the transportation fee of gas from gas fields to Beijing. The wellhead price is paid to PetroChina, whilst the transportation fee is paid to Hua You Company (except Hua Bei oil field, of which the purchase cost of natural gas is directly paid to Hua Bei oil field). The National Development and Reform Commission of the PRC sets the citygate price for the year, which is the basis price for the purchase of natural gas by Gas Group. In recent years, the purchase price of Gas Group was the basis price. For each of the three years ended 31 December 2006, the price for the purchase of natural gas by Gas Group from Hua Bei oil field was RMB0.96 per cubic metre. The price for the purchase of natural gas by Gas Group from the Shaanxi – Beijing transmission pipelines system between 2004 and 31 July 2005 was RMB1.13 per cubic metre, and it was RMB1.28 per cubic metre thereafter until the Latest Practicable Date.

The demand and consumption of natural gas fluctuate from season to season and is affected by weather. Among various types of users of Gas Group, sales to heating and cooling users is more heavily affected by weather. Heating service in Beijing usually commences from November of the year and extends until March the next year. During this period, demand for natural gas increases significantly. Pursuant to the purchase contract, PetroChina must satisfy the monthly planned purchase volume. PetroChina usually adopts various means to regulate the gas volume during the peak seasons, so as to ensure it is not affected by any change in demand and can supply natural gas in accordance with the requirements of the contract.

Key performance indicators

Set out in the table below are the key operating figures of the natural gas distribution business for Gas Group between 2004 and 2006:

	As at 31 December,
	2004	2005	2006
	(units)	(units)	(units)
Residential users	2,527,568	2,865,767	3,191,034

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

As at 31 December 2006, the combined owner's equity value of the Target Group attributable to the shareholder of the Target Group was approximately RMB9,016 million. For the years ended 31 December 2004, 2005 and 2006, the combined profit before tax of the Target Group was approximately RMB612 million, RMB707 million and RMB549 million, respectively. The combined profit for the year attributable to the shareholder of the Target Company for the years ended 31 December 2004, 2005 and 2006 was approximately RMB492 million, RMB564 million and RMB480 million, respectively, while turnover was approximately RMB4,258 million, RMB5,089 million and RMB6,010 million respectively, for the same three years. The above financial information is extracted from the accountant's report on the Target Company set out in Appendix II of this circular.

Processes and facilities for the distribution of gas

The natural gas sold by Gas Group was first transmitted by upstream supplier from the gas fields to the citygates of upstream where gas is purified, depressurised and metered and then flows to the citygates of Gas Group. After gas analysis, filtering, metering and odorizing, the natural gas is distributed to various types of users in Beijing through the distribution main and relevant facilities.

The main operating facilities of Gas Group include citygate stations, main distribution service lines, citygate station is the overall name for the pressure regulation stations, skids, spherical gas holder stations.

The gas distribution network operated by Gas Group currently includes the pipeline network invested and constructed by Original Gas Group ("Self-built Pipeline Network") and the pipeline network taken over from other parties ("Assigned Pipeline Network"). There is 7,295 km in length of pipelines in the pipeline network in total. The Company has been advised by its PRC legal advisers that, according to the relevant laws and regulations of the PRC, the supply of gas through pipelines is conducted on the basis of integrated operation on a geographical basis. Pursuant to this principle, together with the approval of the Beijing Municipal Government, Gas Group succeeded at nil consideration the integrated operation right of all gas pipelines (including the Self-built Pipeline Network and Assigned Pipeline Network) formerly operated by Original Gas Group within Beijing.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

An Illustrative Diagram on the transmission and dispatch system for piped natural gas of Gas Group in Beijing

Most pipelines operated by Gas Group are mainly built with steel. The remaining pipelines are built with polyethylene. Moreover, in order to sustain safe supply of gas, Gas Group has been upgrading the old pipelines or the seriously corroded pipelines.

The gas supply facilities owned and operated by Gas Group are citygates, pressure regulation stations and storage stations. The functions of citygates include gas receipt analysis, pressure regulation, metering, filtering and odourisation. The functions of the pressure regulation stations mainly include filtering, pressure regulation and metering. The functions of the storage stations mainly include daily peak shaving and contingent supply of gas under emergency circumstances as well as the functions of the pressure regulation stations.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Auxiliary businesses of the Target Group

Subsidiaries

The auxiliary businesses not within the scope of, but related to, the piped gas operation of the Target Group are mainly provided by the subsidiaries of Gas Group. Those businesses include the installation and repair of gas appliances, the surveying and plotting of underground projects, gas technology consultation and development, installation, pipeline anti-corrosion, equipment installation, trial-run and repair, technical service and development, and engineering procurement construction.

Hua You Company

In order to fulfill the demand for natural gas from the economic and social development in Beijing, PetroChina and the Beijing Municipal Government established Beijing Natural Gas Transmission Company on 12 July 1991. Beijing Natural Gas Transmission Company was mainly engaged in the construction, operation and management of the Shaanxi-Beijing Gas Transmission Pipeline. PetroChina and the Beijing Municipal Government held 60% and 40% of equity interests in that company respectively. In May 2001, Beijing Natural Gas Transmission Company was transformed into Hua You Company. In March 2002, Original Gas Group obtained the 40% equity interest in Hua You Company previously held by the Beijing Municipal Government, and such equity interest was succeeded by Gas Group pursuant to the Division.

The natural gas transmission and dispatch facilities now owned by Hua You Company mainly include Nos. 1 and 2 Shaanxi-Beijing Gas Transmission Pipeline (with a designed maximum annual transmission capability of 15.3 billion cubic metres in total), 4 underground storage reservoirs (with a designed working volume of 2.357 billion cubic metres in total), and numerous gas supply stations, valve rooms, pressure compression stations and dispatch centres.

Hua You Company mainly transmits natural gas from the upstream gas field to Beijing, Tianjin and Hebei through the abovementioned transmission and dispatch facilities, and supplies gas to the above regions. Gas Group is the largest customer of Hua You Company. For each of the three years ended 31 December 2006, the total volume of gas transported by Hua You Company amounted to approximately 3.291 billion cubic metres, 4.032 billion cubic metres and 5.888 billion cubic metres, respectively. Upon the completion of the Shaanxi-Beijing Gas Transmission Pipeline, gas supply to Beijing will become more reliable with such system of double-lines and pooled operation of gas fields.

For the year ended 31 December 2006, the turnover of Hua You Company for the year was RMB2,560 million and the profit for the year was RMB428 million. As at 31 December 2006, the total assets of Hua You Company was RMB12,594 million and the net assets was RMB6,571 million. The investment of Gas Group in Hua You Company not only renders economic benefits for the Gas Group but also ensures a stable and steady supply of gas from a strategic perspective.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Competition

In order to ensure the safe supply of gas in Beijing and the reasonable allocation of resources and taking the leading role of the government in the allocation of incoming gas, the Beijing Municipal Administration Commission drew up the Implementation Plan for Granting Concession to Gas Group in accordance with the procedures and requirements as provided in the relevant regulations in February 2006. The Implementation Plan has obtained the consent in principle from the Beijing Municipal Government.

The Directors are of the opinion that, with the coverage of the pipeline network, the professional operation management experience, its reputation and status established in the market, Gas Group will occupy a leading position in future market development outside the concession area.

Apart from the above, Gas Group also faces competition from those suppliers of substitute energy, such as coal and electricity. Compared with coal, natural gas has the advantages of being cleaner, safer and more convenient. Taking into account environmental protection, the PRC government is planning to gradually increase the use of natural gas. In terms of costs, natural gas is more advantageous than electricity. Therefore, the Directors are of the opinion that the competition from other alternative energy sources will not pose serious threats to the businesses of Gas Group.

VI. CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS AND CONTINUING CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS

At the same time as or immediately after Completion, the Transfers will be completed, as a result of which Beijing Holdings will become a wholly-owned subsidiary of Beijing Enterprises Group and the Vendor will become the controlling shareholder of BEIL. As BEIL is a substantial shareholder of the Company, Beijing Enterprises Group will, by virtue of its shareholding interest in the Vendor and BEIL, become a substantial shareholder of the Company. Accordingly, Beijing Enterprises Group will become a connected person of the Company. The associates of Beijing Enterprises Group (including the Vendor, Beijing Holdings, Beiran Enterprises Ltd. and the enterprises controlled by Beiran Enterprises Ltd.) will also become connected persons of the Company.

As the Transfers will be conducted at the same time as or immediately after Completion, and the Vendor will become a connected person of the Company following the Transfers, the Acquisition is regarded as a connected transaction for the Company at Completion.

The Group has also entered into several agreements with Beijing Enterprises Group and its associates (except the Deed of Indemnity described as Category 1.2 below which will only be entered into upon Completion). 4. Arrangement for entrustment investment

Tangshan City Construction Investment Co., Ltd (“TCI”) and Gas Group entered into the “Tangshan Gas Group Limited Joint Venture Agreement” (“Joint Venture Agreement”) on 6 January 2007, pursuant to which TCI and Gas Group intend to jointly establish Tangshan Gas, with Gas Group investing RMB265,000,000, amounting to 49% of the registered capital of Tangshan Gas. As Tangshan Gas has not yet been established as at the Latest Practicable Date, Gas Group has not yet fulfilled its obligation to make capital contributions to the company.

The foregoing investment of Gas Group is in fact entrusted by Beijing Enterprises Group whereby Gas Group would hold the interest and exercise rights and obligations associated therewith on behalf of Beijing Enterprises Group. Beijing Enterprises Group and Gas Group entered into an Entrustment Investment Agreement (“Entrustment Investment Agreement”) in respect of the entrustment arrangement on 2 February 2007, which stipulates that:

- the investment of RMB265,000,000 in Tangshan Gas to be contributed by Gas Group will in fact be owned by Beijing Enterprises Group, and that it has entrusted Gas Group to make the capital contribution;
- Gas Group agrees to act without remuneration as the agent of Beijing Enterprises Group in subscribing, holding and managing, in the name of Gas Group, the 49% interest in Tangshan Gas and all rights as a shareholder (“Entrustment Shareholding”);
- the risk associated with the operation and the loss (if any) of Tangshan Gas shall be assumed by Tangshan Gas, and Beijing Enterprises Group (as the actual beneficial owner of the Entrustment Shareholding) and Gas Group (as the nominee shareholder of the Entrustment Shareholding) shall not be liable to assume the foregoing risk and loss (if any);
- Gas Group is not under any obligation or liability for the establishment of the Tangshan Gas. Where the value of the Entrustment Shareholding depreciates at any time, or the actual beneficial shareholder (Beijing Enterprises Group) of the Entrustment Shareholding suffers loss in any form, due to the business performance of Tangshan Gas, Beijing Enterprises Group shall assume all such losses in proportion to its shareholding in Tangshan Gas, and Gas Group need not assume any liability, unless the liability is caused by Gas Group’s wilful default or gross negligence;
- where Gas Group is liable to compensate TCI, Tangshan Gas or any other third party as a result of Gas Group’s performance of the entrusted affairs or the exercise of the entrusted authority under the Entrustment Investment Agreement, Beijing Enterprises Group shall indemnify Gas Group against all compensation so paid, unless such liability for compensation is caused by Gas Group’s wilful default or gross negligence; and
- if Beijing Enterprises Group wishes to transfer the Entrustment Shareholding held by it to any third party, Gas Group has an absolute pre-emptive right in respect of the same. However the exercise of the pre-emptive right by Gas Group shall comply with the relevant laws and regulations and the provisions of the articles of association of Tangshan Gas.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

TCI has confirmed in writing that it knows that Gas Group is entrusted by Beijing Enterprises Group to execute the Joint Venture Agreement on behalf of Beijing Enterprises Group, and all rights and obligations of Gas Group under the Joint Venture Agreement will be assumed by Beijing Enterprises Group.

The Company has been advised by PRC legal advisers that the abovementioned entrustment investment arrangements are not restricted nor prohibited under PRC law. The substance and form of the Joint Venture Agreement and the Entrustment Investment Agreement do not contravene any restrictive or prohibitive regulations under PRC law and are binding on the signing parties. The observance of the agreements is not subject to any limitation under law. The obligations of Gas Group under the agreements do not conflict with its obligations under other contracts and legal documents.

Reasons for and the benefits of the transaction: As there is insufficient information to show whether Tangshan Gas is suitable for the Company to invest in, the rights and obligations of Gas Group under the Joint Venture Agreement are currently assumed by Beijing Enterprises Group. Once the potential profitability of Tangshan Gas has been ascertained and various risk factors have been fully evaluated, the Company may consider acquiring the interests of Beijing Enterprises Group in Tangshan Gas at a fair price. In the event the Company decides to acquire the project, it will comply with the relevant provisions of the Listing Rules.

Considering the fact that the business of Tangshan Gas is conducted in Tangshan outside the operational territory of the Group and the Target Group, the Directors are of the opinion that Tangshan Gas will not be a competitor of the Group and the Target Group.

Based on the historical transaction values, the presently agreed amount of rental payments and the valuation of the future market rental value of similar properties, it is expected that the future amounts of rent payable by Gas Group and its subsidiaries to Beiran Enterprises Ltd. for the leasing of relevant buildings will be RMB38,814,600, RMB38,814,600 and RMB38,814,600, respectively, and the rent receivable by Gas Group from Beiran Enterprises Ltd. and its subsidiaries for the leasing of relevant buildings will be RMB2,167,100, RMB2,167,100 and RMB2,167,100, respectively, for the three years ending 31 December 2007, 2008 and 2009. As previous leasing arrangements were internal arrangements and did not involve the Company, the rental payments were relatively lower. As the market value of the rental payments has been taken into account in reaching the future amounts, the future amounts are high as compared to the historical transaction figures.

Reasons for and the benefits of the continuing connected transactions: prior to Completion, Beijing Enterprises Group, the Target Company, Beiran Enterprises Ltd. and their subsidiaries have been operated as one entity with many intercompany transactions. Following the Acquisition, the Target Company will become a subsidiary of the Company as a result of which the foregoing transactions under Categories 5 to 9 will constitute continuing connected transactions of the Company. Such continuing connected transactions will be conducted in the daily and normal course of business of the Enlarged Group, on fair and reasonable terms and in the interest of the Enlarged Group. Due to the long-term relationship between Beijing Enterprises Group and the Group, the Directors are of the opinion that it is for the benefit of the Enlarged Group to continue the conduct of such transactions, as such transactions will continue to facilitate the business operations of the Enlarged Group.

Conclusions

The Directors (including the independent non-executive Directors) are of the opinion that each of the foregoing connected transactions and continuing connected transactions have been or will be entered into, and will be carried out on normal commercial terms (or from the Company's perspective, the conditions of such transactions are not less favourable than those offered to or provided by Independent Third Parties (subject to circumstances)) which are fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Company and the Shareholders.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

The transactions in Category 1 will technically constitute connected transactions of the Company upon Completion. The Directors (including the independent non-executive Directors) are of the view that such transactions are put in place for the benefit of the Company and the Independent Shareholders. There are no monetary limits on such indemnities and the Company is not in a position to give any estimate of the same before any claim is made by the Company against the Vendor, Beijing Enterprises Group or Beiran Enterprises Ltd. under the relevant agreement. Therefore, the transactions are exempted from independent Shareholders' approval requirements.

The transactions in Category 2 will technically constitute connected transactions of the Company upon Completion. The Directors (including the independent non-executive Directors) are of the view that such transactions are put in place for the benefit of the Company. Any claims that might arise would merely be performance of the non-competition commitment entered into before Completion. Therefore, such transactions are exempted from independent Shareholders' approval requirements.

The guarantees under Category 3 constitute financial assistance that is exempted under Rule 14A.65(4) of the Listing Rules from reporting, announcement and independent Shareholders' approval requirements applicable to continuing connected transactions under Chapter 14A of the Listing Rules as they are on normal commercial terms and no security has been given by the Target Group or any member of the Group.

For the connected transaction under Category 4, as no remuneration will be received for the entrustment shareholding, it qualifies under Rule 14A.31 (2) of the Listing Rules as a de minimis transaction that is exempt from reporting, announcement and independent Shareholders' approval requirements.

For each type of continuing connected transactions under Categories 5 to 9, the Relevant Ratios calculated on the basis of projections for the years 2007 to 2009 measured against benchmarks for the year ended 31 December 2006, are less than 2.5%. Accordingly, these transactions qualify under Rule 14A.34 (1) of the Listing Rules and are, thus exempted from independent Shareholders' approval. However, if the Relevant Ratios of the actual aggregate amount for the years 2007 to 2009 measured against benchmarks of the same year is higher than 2.5%, then the Company will seek the approval of the independent Shareholders in compliance with the Listing Rules. Meanwhile, the Directors confirm that such transactions comply with Rule 14A.35(1) of the Listing Rules.

The table below sets out the breakdown of turnover in terms of principal business activities for the three years ended 31 December 2006 of the Group:

Infrastructure and Public Utilities

The traffic volume of Airport Expressway broke historical records and reached 50.96 million vehicles in 2006. Average daily traffic flow was 140,000 vehicles for the year, exceeding the original designed capacity of 135,000 vehicles. Net profit attributable to the Group for the year ended 31 December 2006 amounted to HK$208 million. The traffic volume in 2004 and 2005 also grew rapidly. If Airport Expressway does not implement expansion and increase the number of e-lanes, the growth in traffic volume will be constrained.

The traffic volume of Shenzhen Shiguan Toll Road reached 9,800,000 vehicles in 2006, which was reduced by 2.6% as compared with 2005. This was attributable to the diversion of traffic due to the ongoing expansion and completion of road networks in Baoan District of Shenzhen. The net profit attributable to the Group for the year ended 31 December 2006 declined by 8.4% from the previous year to HK$19.09 million.

The net profit from the water treatment concession attributable to the Group for the year ended 31 December 2006 was approximately HK$132 million, an increase of 2.85% from 2005. The cash return generated by this water treatment concession remained the major source of cash income for the Group.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Consumer Products

The sales volume of Yanjing Brewery increased from 2,880,000 tonnes in 2004 to 3,570,000 tonnes in 2006. The revenue also increased from HK$3.5 billion in 2004 to HK$4.6 billion in 2005, which then increased to HK$5.5 billion in 2006. The market share of Yanjing Brewery is currently estimated to be approximately 85% in Beijing and approximately 12% in the PRC. In 2006, the net profit (excluding net loss from share reform and exercise of convertible bonds) attributable to the Group decreased by 22.9% from that in 2005 to HK$103 million, which was mainly attributable to the dilution of equity interests in the share reform plan. Yanjing Brewery successfully tapped into the high end beer market, with gross profit margin remained steady. This was mainly attributable to the implementation of effective cost control measures. The share reform plan of Yanjing Beer and its subsidiary, Huiquan Beer, as well as the exercise of the convertible bonds of Yanjing in full resulted in net exceptional loss of HK$258 million in total in 2006. Sanyuan Food recorded a net loss of HK$121 million in 2004. The Group recorded an exceptional gain of HK$80 million upon the completion with the disposal of the equity interests in Sanyuan Food in early 2005.

Retail Services

The revenue of Wangfujing surged from HK$3.26 billion in 2004 to HK$4.74 billion in 2005, which was mainly attributable to the acquisition and the opening of new stores in Beijing and other provinces in the PRC. Although there was positive increase in the revenue, the profit attributable to the Group in 2005 was only HK$20.44 million, which increased substantially from a relatively low base in 2004, as a result of operating loss arising from the failure to achieve economies of scale for certain new stores. At the same time, operating profit derived from department store business was largely offset by the interest expenses and preliminary expenses in the opening of new stores. Revenue of Wangfujing in 2006 continued to increase substantially to HK$6.32 billion and net profit attributable to the Group was HK$97 million prior to its disposal.

On 31 March 2006, the Group entered into a conditional sale and purchase agreement, pursuant to which it agreed to dispose of its entire controlling interests of 50.13% in Wangfujing. The transaction was completed on 12 December 2006. The Group recorded an exceptional gain of HK$142 million from the disposal. At the same time the Group completely exited from the retail industry.

As a result of a change in its operating strategies, the Group completely exited from the tourism industry. The Group disposed of Jianguo Hotel in 2004 and Badaling Tourism Development Ltd. (“Badaling Tourism”) in 2005, respectively. Only Longqingxia tourism site was left behind in this sector.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Technology

Beijing Development (Hong Kong) Limited remained the Group's IT platform application service provider. Also, it will further strengthen its technology business alongside the flagship Beijing Public Transport Smart Card project which serves as the major electronic payment and settlement platform for infrastructure and utilities services in Beijing. Its consolidated revenue was HK$585 million in 2006, which increased 10% from that in 2005. The revenue almost remained unchanged in 2005 as compared with 2004. The Group shared a net profit of HK$6.74 million in 2006, which was turnaround from the loss making position.

Ever Source Science & Technology Development Company Limited ("ESTD") engages in the development and use of energy (heat) of the earth's surface. After five years' practice, its development and use of surface energy (heat) is applied to buildings located in different geological conditions. At present, the specification of its products for surface heat gathering are standardised and subject to proprietary intellectual property rights protection. Since 2005, ESTD has been establishing regional energy service companies as franchised operations to promote the use of surface energy (heat) as a first alternative strategic energy resource for heating. Formerly an engineering contractor, ESTD is in the process of transformation into a product supplier and a technology service supplier. The business turnover of ESTD has undergone a significant fall as a result of operation mode adjustments. In 2005, a net loss of approximately HK$30 million of ESTD was attributed to the Group. In early 2006, the business of ESTD was changed to profit subcontracting. The Group ceased to share its operating profit.

Comparison between the years of 2006 and 2005

Revenue

The revenue from the continuing operations of the Group in 2006 was approximately HK$7,247 million, which increased by 15.7% from HK$6,263 million in 2005. Tax

Tax expenditure attributable to continuing operations of the Group increased from HK$137 million in 2005 to HK$170 million in 2006, an increase of 24.1%. Excluding those non-taxable exceptional items, the effective income tax rate of the group slightly fell from 22.4% for the year of 2005 to 21.5% for the year of 2006.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Net exceptional loss

Yanjing Brewery and Huiquan Beer, both of which are subsidiaries of the Group, completed their share reform plans during the year. The Group directly and indirectly contributed share compensation to the holders of A Shares for both subsidiaries above, which resulted in a lump sum loss of HK$486 million. In the meantime, the convertible bonds of Yanjing were exercised in full. The Group recorded an exceptional gain of HK$141 million. The loss attributable to the Group amounted to HK$258 million in total. In addition, the Group completed the disposal of equity interests in Wangfujing at the end of the year and recorded an exceptional gain of HK$142 million. Save as those discussed above, the Group made one-off provision to certain assets and goodwill of HK$173 million in total. In conclusion of the above, the Group shared HK$289 million of total net exceptional loss in 2006.

Profit for the year

Based on the above factors, net profit of the Group significantly decreased from HK$715 million in 2005 to HK$608 million in 2006, a decrease of 14.9% or HK$107 million.

Comparison between the years of 2005 and 2004

Revenue

The revenue of the Group in 2005 was approximately HK$11,001 million, which increased by 13.8% from HK$9,666 million in 2004. The main reasons for the increase were the merger of Shuang An Department Store and Dong An Department Store with Wangfujing, the opening of new stores of Wangfujing and the expansion of business by Yanjing Brewery in other regions.

Cost of sales

The cost of sales of the Group in 2005 were approximately HK$8,025 million, which increased by HK$1,019 million from HK$7,006 million in 2004, an increase of 15%. The cost of sales of the Group were mainly comprised of the costs of sales for Wangfujing, as well as raw materials and various direct production costs of Yanjing Brewery. Growth in operating costs was in line with the growth in turnover.

Gross profit

Overall gross profit margin remained at 27% mainly due to the steady product price and material costs.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Net exceptional gain

In 2005, the Group completed the sale of equity interest in Sanyuan Food and Badaling Tourism and several other smaller projects and altogether derived gross exceptional gain of approximately HK$217 million. The Group also took the chance to make provision for the diminution in value of goodwill attributing to certain non performing assets and diminution in value of some other investment projects. The net exceptional gain attributable to the Group was approximately HK$128 million.

Selling and distribution costs

The selling and distribution costs of the Group in 2005 was approximately HK$1,166 million, which increased by HK$331 million from HK$835 million in 2004. The main reason was the consolidation of results of Shuang An and Dong An department stores as well as Huiquan Beer.

Administrative expenses

The administrative expenses of the Group in 2005 were HK$1,037 million, which decreased by HK$58 million from HK$1,095 million in 2004. The main reasons for the decrease were the improvement in the management of Yanjing Brewery and Wangfujing.

Finance costs

The finance costs of the Group in 2005 was HK$156 million, which increased by 13% from HK$138 million in 2004. The main reasons were the increase in bank borrowings for Yanjing Brewery and the rise of interest rate for the syndicated loan of headquarter.

Share of profits and losses of jointly-controlled entities and associates

The share of loss of jointly controlled entities by the Group in 2005 was HK$27 million and decreased by HK$83 million, which was mainly due to one off profit of HK$38 million from the disposal of Jianguo Hotel recorded in 2004 and the amortisation of certain investment provisions for Longqingxia of HK$21 million in 2005. The share of profits of associates in 2005 reduced by approximately HK$29 million from that in 2004 to HK$22 million. It was mainly attributable to the exceptional gain of approximately HK$22 million from the disposal of 20% of equity interests in Siemens Network in 2004.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Tax

Tax expenditure of the Group decreased from HK$229 million in 2004 to HK$175 million in 2005, a decrease of 24%. The effective income tax rate of the Group fell from 26% for the year of 2004 to approximately 20% for the year of 2005. The main reason was the effective tax rate of Yanjing Brewery, which decreased from 26% to 15%.

Profit for the year

Based on the factors above, the net profit of the Group increased from HK$665 million in 2004 to HK$715 million in 2005, an increase of 7.5% or HK$50 million.

Liquidity and financial resources

As of to date, the working capital of the Group is mainly derived from the cash generated from the Group's brewery, toll road and water concession operation, as well as bank borrowings.

As at 31 December 2004, 2005 and 2006, the net current assets of the Group were HK$3,182 million, HK$1,584 million and HK$2,909 million respectively. Liquidity mainly comprised cash, trade and bills receivables, inventory and other receivables. The proportion of bad debts for the trade and bills receivables and the inventory elimination rate of the Group in the past were extremely low. Current liabilities were mainly comprised of trade and bills payables for purchases, other payables and short term loans. Most of the Group's accounts receivables, other receivables, trade and bills payables and other payables are mostly settled in Renminbi. As Renminbi steadily appreciates against HK dollar, the Group recorded gain in foreign exchange in translating the net assets of its fellow operating subsidiaries.

Cash and cash flow

The Group's existing breweries, toll roads and water concession operation generate substantial cash flow every year. The disposal of non-core assets by the Group in the past three years also obtained cash flow of more than HK$1 billion.

The Group principally applies cash to invest in the purchase of additional manufacturing devices and equipment for brewery operation, the repayment of debts, and the allocation to working capital and usual recurrent expenses. With respect to the consolidated cash flow statement, the Company had cash and cash equivalents of HK$2,708 million as at 31 December 2006.

The Group's businesses have strong backgrounds and sound condition to support. The credit facilities granted by the corresponding bank for liquidity exceeded HK$500 million, which can support any contingent requirement in operation at any time.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

In order to calculate the indebtedness of the Group, the gearing ratio of the Group for the year ended 31 December 2004 was 1%, while the gearing ratio for the years ended 31 December 2005 and 2006 was not applicable as the Group had net cash as at the end of the respective years. The gearing ratio is calculated by dividing the total interest-bearing borrowings (net off cash balances) by total assets.

As at 31 December 2006, the outstanding balance for the loans of the Group included loans in Renminbi of HK$1,660 million in equivalent value.

As at 31 December 2004, 2005 and 2006, assets with a book value of HK$551 million, HK$288 million and HK$138 million were pledged to the banks as the security for certain loans.

In addition, the convertible bonds of Yanjing Brewery of HK$548 million were exercised in May 2006, which simultaneously diluted the shareholding of the Group and increased the interests of the minority shareholders.

Significant investment and financing plans in future

The Company entered into a conditional sale and purchase agreement with Beijing Enterprises Group and proposed to acquire the piped gas business in Beijing. The initial consideration for the acquisition was HK$11,600 million. Approximately HK$7,600 million of the consideration for the acquisition will be settled by the issue of new shares to Beijing Enterprises Group, with the balance of approximately HK$4,000 million to be paid in cash. The Company will apply approximately HK$2 billion from internal resources to settle the cash consideration in part, with the remaining HK$2,000 million to be financed from raising syndicated bank loans. The directors estimate the syndicated loans will carry interest rate of approximately 4.5% based on prevailing market condition representing a per annum interest expense of approximately HK$90 million.

Interest rate and foreign currency risks management objectives and policies

The Group's principal financial instruments include bank loans, convertible bonds, cash and short term deposits. The main purpose of these financial instruments is to raise finance for the Group's operations. The Group has various financial instruments such as trade and bills receivables and trade and bills payables, which arise directly from its operations.

The main risks arising from the Group's financial instruments are the fair value and cash flow interest rate risks and the foreign currency risk. However, the board of directors meets periodically to analyse and formulate measures to manage the Group's exposure to these risks. Generally the Group introduces conservative strategies on its risk management. As the Group's exposure to these risks is kept to a minimum, the Group has not used any derivatives and other instruments for hedging purposes. The directors review and agree policies for managing each of these risks and they are summarised as follows:

(i) Fair value and cash flow interest rate risks

Fair value interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument fluctuates due to changes in market interest rates. Cash flow interest rate risk is the risk that the future cash flows of a financial instrument fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates. The Group is exposed to both fair value and cash flow interest rate risks. The Group's exposure to market risk for changes in interest rates relates primarily to the Group's long term debt obligations. No hedging measure is implemented as outstanding balance remains insignificant.

Bank loans, convertible bonds, cash and short term deposits are stated at amortised cost and not revalued on a periodic basis. Floating rate interest income and expenses are charged to the income statement as incurred.

(ii) Foreign currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument fluctuates due to changes in foreign exchange rates. As a result of significant investment operations in the PRC, the Group's balance sheet can be affected significantly by fluctuations in the RMB/HK$ exchange rate.

The Group has minimal transactional currency exposure which arises from sales or purchases by an operating unit in currencies other than the unit's measurement currency.

Employees

As at 31 December 2006, the principal businesses of the Group had approximately 28,600 employees. The Group ensures that the level of remuneration for its employees is competitive in the market. The Group has adopted employee share options incentive plan, and granted share options to the key senior management staff. All staff in the Group are entitled to statutory required pension plans i.e. MPF in Hong Kong and Social Welfare Fund in the PRC. Please refer to the notes to financial statements of the Group in Section B of Appendix I for details.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Overview

The core business of the Target Group is the provision of piped natural gas for the supply and sale to residential users, industrial users, commercial users, heating and cooling users and co-generation users. Following the increasing demand for clean energy in the course of development in Beijing, and natural gas had been replacing coal gas to become a major gas source, the natural gas business of the Target Group has been growing rapidly. The contribution of coal gas business to the Target Group had been declining, and the operation of coal gas business was ceased completely in Beijing in July 2006.

Business category	For the year ended 31 December
	Sales volume in 2004 (Thousand cubic metres)	Sales volume in 2005 (Thousand cubic metres)	Sales volume in 2006 (Thousand cubic metres)

Coal gas	176,856	167,641	97,634

With the expansion in the scale of municipal construction in Beijing, the length of gas pipeline network increased simultaneously from approximately 6,756 km in 2004 to approximately 7,300 km in 2006.

Substantial investment held by the Target Group

Investment in Hua You Company

The Target Group started to hold the equity interests of Hua You Company in March 2002. Ever since then until 30 June 2005, the Target Group did not assign any person to become a director of Hua You Company, and had not participated in the decision of its usual course of business. Thus, prior to 30 June 2005, the interests of the Target Group in Hua You Company was accounted for using cost method. For the year of 2004 and between 1 January 2005 and 30 June 2005, the investment income received by the Target Group from Hua You Company were RMB93 million and RMB113 million. Since July 2005, the Target Group began to assign officers to become directors of Hua You Company, representing 40% of the composition of the board of directors of Hua You Company. Neither the Target Group nor PetroChina Company Limited, which is another investor in Hua You Company, has unilateral control over the board of directors of Hua You Company. Therefore, since July 2005, Hua You Company was classified as a jointly-controlled entity of the Target Group and accounted for according to the equity method. Between 1 July 2005 and 31 December 2005 and the year of 2006, the Target Group's share of profit of the jointly-controlled entity attributable to Hua You Company were RMB13 million and RMB171 million, respectively.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Other significant investments

The Target Group acquired the controlling interests in Beijing Haohaida Gas Equipment Maintenance Co., Ltd., Beijing Tiancai Gas Engineering Co., Ltd., Beijing Yongyishuke Anti-Corrosion Technology Co., Ltd. and Beijing Tianxing Gas Engineering Co., Ltd. in 2005. These investments will effectively promote the business development of the Target Group.

Basis of presentation for the combined financial information

As the Beijing SASAC and the Beijing Municipal Government ultimately controlled the relevant businesses of the Target Group before the Reorganisation (as defined in Appendix II) and continues to have ultimate control over the Target Group after the Reorganisation, the Reorganisation has been accounted for as a reorganisation of entities under common control in a manner similar to pooling-of-interests. As a result, the Combined Financial Information of the Target Group set out in Appendix II of this circular has been prepared on the basis as if the relevant businesses had been transferred to the Target Group at the beginning of the Relevant Periods (being the three years ended 31 December 2006) or when such businesses were acquired by Original Gas Group, whichever is later, and all assets and liabilities of the Target Group have been stated at historical carrying amounts.

The Combined Financial Information set out in Appendix II of this circular has been prepared under the going concern concept, notwithstanding that the Target Group had net current liabilities of approximately RMB1,432 million as at 31 December 2006. The current liabilities consisted of RMB1,237 million of non refundable advance sales receipt which will be recognised as sales later on. If taking out the advance sales receipt, the actual net current liabilities would have been approximately RMB195 million. The directors of the Company and the Target Company consider that, based on the Target Group's profit forecast, cash flow projection and unutilised banking facilities of RMB2,343 million (consist of RMB1,343 million contracted amount and RMB1,000 million authorised by relevant banks but without contracts signed) and on the assumption that such facilities will continue to be available from the Target Group's principal bankers, the Target Group will have sufficient funds available to enable it to operate as a going concern. Accordingly, the Combined Financial Information have been prepared on a going concern basis which assumes the realisation of assets and satisfaction of obligations in the usual course of business. The Directors consider that adopting this basis is in the interests of the Company and the Shareholders as a whole.

In addition, the useful life for the depreciation of pipeline network assets in the gas industry is usually between 20 to 25 years. Prior to 1 January 2005, the management of the Target Group considered with prudence and selected 20 year as the useful life for the depreciation of pipeline network assets of the Target Group. Since 2000, the Target Group extended the useful life of the pipeline network through the gradual adoption of various measures, such as new anti-corrosive technologies, enhancement in the management of construction and operation, and the promotion of polyethylene pipelines. Therefore, since 1 January 2005, the Target Group revised the useful life of the pipeline network from 20 years to 25 years. Such change will affect the depreciation charged on the property, plant and machinery by the Target Group every year.

Please refer to note 3 in section 1 of the Accountant's Report on the Target Group as set out in Appendix II for the details on the basis of presentation.

Comparison between the years of 2006 and 2005

Revenue

The turnover of the Target Group in 2006 was approximately RMB6,010 million, which increased significantly by 18.1% from RMB5,089 million in 2005. Such increase in revenue was mainly attributable to the revenue from the piped gas business of the Target Group. Such revenue in 2006 increased by RMB771 million from that in 2005.

The growth in the turnover of the Target Group was mainly attributable to the increase in natural gas users, which resulted in the growth of natural gas business. Total number of natural gas users increased from approximately 2.89 million in 2005 to approximately 3.22 million in 2006. Sales of natural gas in 2006 was approximately 3,352 million cubic metres, which increased by 18.6% from approximately 2,826 million cubic metres in 2005.

Cost of sales

The cost of sales of the Target Group in 2006 was approximately RMB5,213 million, which increased from RMB4,144 million in 2005 by RMB1,069 million, representing an increase of 25.8%. The cost of sales of the Target Group are mainly costs of purchase from external gas source, direct and indirect wages and benefits, depreciation, overhaul fees and other costs. The main reason for the increase in cost of sales was the growth in sales of natural gas and the surge of upstream price in August 2005, which resulted in the increase in the total costs of purchase from external gas source by RMB842 million. The balance of the increase in costs was mainly from depreciation charges, surge in direct and indirect staff cost and the increase of costs from the operating results of the subsidiaries acquired in 2005.

Gross profit

The gross profit of the Target Group in 2006 was RMB797 million, which decreased by RMB149 million from RMB946 million in 2005. The overall gross profit margin in 2006 was 13.3%, which was decreased from the gross profit margin of 18.6% in 2005. The main reason for the decrease in the gross profit of the Target Group in 2006 was the increase in the costs of purchase for natural gas through No. 1 and No. 2 lines of Shaanxi-Beijing Gas Transmission Line by the

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Target Group from RMB1.13 per cubic metre to RMB1.28 per cubic metre (including value-added tax) since 1 August 2005. However, the selling price for the non-residential users of the Target Group was only revised upward on 1 September 2006. The selling price to residential users has already been implemented since 1 April 2007. The selling price failed to timely adjust with the change in the purchase price was the main reason for the decrease in gross profit and profit margin of the Target Group in 2006. This factor led to a decrease in the gross profit of 2006 by approximately RMB340 million. In addition, the sales volume of co-generation users, for which the selling price was relatively lower, increased faster in 2006, which also resulted in the fall of overall profit margin in 2006.

Other income and gains, net

Other income and gains of the Target Group in 2006 was RMB47 million, which decreased by RMB111 million from RMB158 million in 2005. It was mainly resulted from the inclusion of investment income in Hua You Company of RMB113 million accounted for in accordance with the cost method in other income and gains for 2005. As the Target Group accounted for its equity interests in Hua You Company using the equity method since the second half of 2005, other income and gains in 2006 did not include the dividend income received from Hua You Company.

Selling and distribution costs

The selling and distribution costs of the Target Group in 2006 was approximately RMB74 million, which increased significantly by RMB17 million from RMB57 million in 2005. Of which, the main reasons were the employee wages and relevant expenses (including labour insurance and housing fund) of the customer services employees increased by approximately RMB13 million from 2005, and other items such as depreciation charges and repair expenses increased with the increase in plant, property and equipment and the scale of sale by approximately RMB4 million.

Administrative expenses

The administrative expenses of the Target Group in 2006 were RMB307 million, which increased by RMB88 million from RMB219 million in 2005. The main reasons in the increase were:

- 2006 included the full year result of the four subsidiaries acquired in 2005, which resulted in the increase of administrative expenses by RMB22 million.
- The increase in employee wages and relevant expenses: as the Target Group has achieved the pre-set operating indicators for the year, employee wages were increased pursuant to the prevailing performance appraisal policies of the Target Group. This factor increased administrative expenses by approximately RMB36 million.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

- Increase in depreciation charges: As there was increase in property, plant and equipment in 2006 by the Target Group, depreciation charges increased by approximately RMB9 million.
- Increase in other administrative expenses: Following the continuous expansion of the scale of business with the Target Group, other administrative expenses increased by approximately RMB21 million.

Other operating expenses, net

Other operating expenses of the Target Group were mainly comprised of provision loss of bad debts in trade receivables and impairment and loss on disposals of property, plant and equipment. Other operating expenses decreased significantly by RMB46 million, which was mainly attributable to the decrease in loss on disposal of items of property, plant and equipment and impairment of trade receivables of approximately RMB33 million and RMB10 million, respectively, from those in 2005.

Finance costs

Finance costs in 2006 decreased from approximately RMB43 million in 2005 by approximately RMB2 million to approximately RMB41 million. The main reason was the decrease in the balance of long term loans for the Target Group in 2006.

Share of profit of a jointly-controlled entity

The share of profit in Hua You Company by the Target Group in 2006 was approximately RMB171 million, which increased by RMB158 million from RMB13 million in 2005. It was attributable to:

- (i) the Target Group accounted for its interests in Hua You Company according to the equity method since July 2005. Therefore, the share of profit of Hua You Company by the Target Group in 2005 was only the contribution from the results of Hua You Company for the second half of 2005; and
- (ii) As the No. 2 Shaanxi-Beijing Gas Transmission Pipeline of Hua You Company completed and commenced operation in the second half of 2005, depreciation charges increased and the capitalisation of interest expenses ceased. On the other hand, as the natural gas transmission volume and the corresponding increase in income had not yet achieved the expected level, the results of Hua You Company for the second half of 2005 was not satisfactory. With the increase in gas transmission volume and income gradually achieving the expected level in 2006, the results of Hua You Company also improved accordingly.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Tax

Tax expenditure of the Target Group in 2006 decreased from approximately RMB143 million in 2005 by approximately RMB77 million to approximately RMB66 million. The main reason was the fall of operating profit of the Target Group in 2006.

Profit for the year

Based on the factors above, the profit for the year of the Target Group decreased from RMB564 million in 2005 to RMB483 million in 2006, representing a decrease of 14.4% or RMB81 million.

Cash flow and financial condition

The cash and cash equivalents balance of the Target Group increased from RMB639 million as at 31 December 2005 to RMB644 million as at 31 December 2006. There is no significant change in the balance of cash and cash equivalents between these two years. As at 31 December 2006, the net cash of the Target Group, after deducting bank and other loans was RMB(183) million.

The non-current assets of the Target Group increased by RMB721 million. It was mainly attributable to the increase in the interests in Hua You Company by the Target Group and the land (prepaid land premiums) of approximately RMB423 million injected by Beijing Enterprises Group to the Target Group as capital contribution. Current assets increased by approximately RMB121 million, which was mainly attributable to the receipt of cash from IC card users for recharge that resulted in the increase of monetary funds.

The non-current liabilities of the Target Group decreased by approximately RMB630 million. This was mainly attributable to the substantial decrease in government grants received by the Target Group in 2006 and the completion of infrastructure funded by the government successively. This had resulted in the corresponding government grants being transferred to the capital of the Gas Group, a subsidiary of the Target Company. The current liabilities increased by approximately RMB682 million, which was mainly attributable to the substantial increase in advanced receipts in cash from IC card users for recharge.

Comparison between the years of 2005 and 2004

Revenue

The turnover of the Target Group in 2005 was approximately RMB5,089 million, which increased significantly by 19.5% from RMB4,258 million in 2004. Such increase was mainly attributable to the revenue from the piped gas business of the Target Group. Such revenue in 2005 increased by RMB817 million from that in 2004.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

The growth in turnover of the Target Group from piped gas business was mainly attributable to the increase in natural gas users, which resulted in the growth of natural gas business. Total number of natural gas users increased from approximately 2.55 million in 2004 to approximately 2.89 million in 2005. Sales of natural gas in 2005 was approximately 2,826 million cubic metres, which increased by 21.0% from approximately 2,335 million cubic metres in 2004.

Cost of sales

The cost of sales of the Target Group in 2005 was approximately RMB4,144 million, which increased from RMB3,434 million in 2004 by RMB710 million, representing an increase of 20.7%. The main reason for the growth in cost of sales was the increase in the costs of purchase from external gas source by RMB676 million in 2005. A reason for the increase in cost of purchase from external gas source was the additional cost from the growth in sales. On the other hand, the increase in price of external gas source in August 2005 also resulted in the increase in costs of purchase from external gas source. In August 2005, the purchase price of natural gas from Changqing Oil Field by the Target Group via No.1 and No.2 Shaanxi-Beijing increased from RMB1.13 per cubic metre to RMB1.28 per cubic metre (including value-added tax).

The gross profit of the Target Group in 2005 was RMB946 million, which increased by RMB122 million from RMB824 million in 2004. The overall gross profit margin was 18.6%, which was decreased from the gross profit margin of 19.4% in 2004. The main reason for the decrease in profit margin was the purchase price of natural gas by the Target Group increased after 1 August 2005 and the downstream price was not readjusted in 2005. This factor led to a decrease in the gross profit of 2005 by RMB160 million. Despite the fall in gross profit margin, with the increase in the sales volume of natural gas, overall gross profit still increased as compared with 2004.

Other income and gains, net

Other income and gains of the Target Group in 2005 was RMB158 million, which increased by RMB48 million or 43.2% from RMB110 million in 2004. It was mainly attributable to:

- Increase in cash dividend received from Hua You Company: the cash dividend received from Hua You Company by the Target Group in 2005 was RMB113 million, which increased by RMB20 million from that in 2004.
- Increase in foreign exchange gains: The Target Group has long term loans from the governments of Canada, Australia and France. As Renminbi appreciates, the gain from foreign exchange by the Target Group in 2005 was RMB16 million.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Selling and distribution costs

The selling and distribution costs of the Target Group in 2005 was approximately RMB57 million, which increased significantly by RMB11 million from RMB46 million in 2004. Of which, the main reason was the employee wages in 2005 increased by RMB6 million from that in 2004. The increase in wages for customer services employees was resulted from the achievement of operation indicators exceeding the pre-set level for the year, for which the salary of the customer services staff was increased according to the performance appraisal policy of the Target Group. In addition, the growth in sales volume contributed to the increase in other relevant selling and distribution costs by RMB5 million.

Administrative expenses

The administrative expenses of the Target Group in 2005 were RMB219 million, which increased by RMB35 million from RMB184 million in 2004. The main reason in the increase was the increase in employee wages and relevant expenses in insurance and benefits.

Other operating expenses, net

Other operating expenses of the Target Group increased from RMB27 million in 2004 to RMB90 million in 2005 by RMB63 million, which was mainly attributable to increase in loss on disposal of items of property, plant and equipment and impairment of trade receivables of approximately RMB32 million and RMB26 million, respectively, when compared to those in 2004.

Finance costs

Finance costs in 2005 decreased from approximately RMB66 million in 2004 by approximately RMB23 million to approximately RMB43 million. The main reason was the decrease in the balance of long term and short term loans.

Share of profit of a jointly-controlled entity

Share of profit of Hua You Company by the Target Group in 2005 amounted to RMB13 million, as compared to nil in 2004. The main reason was that profit of Hua You Company was accounted for using equity method since July 2005, while the profit prior to July 2005 including that of 2004 was accounted for using cost method.

Tax

Tax expenditure of the Target Group in 2005 increased from approximately RMB120 million in 2004 by approximately RMB23 million to approximately RMB143 million. The main reason was the increase in operating profit in 2005.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Profit for the year

Based on the factors above, the profit for the year of the Target Group in 2005 increased from RMB492 million in 2004 to RMB564 million in 2005, representing an increase of 14.7% or RMB72 million.

Cash flow and financial condition

The cash and cash equivalents balances of the Target Group decreased from RMB1,204 million as at 31 December 2004 to RMB639 million as at 31 December 2005. The decrease in balances of cash and cash equivalents was mainly due to further investment in Hua You Company during 2005 which was set-off by net cash inflow from operating activities. As at 31 December 2005, the net cash of the Target Group after deducting bank and other loans was RMB(97) million.

The non-current assets of the Target Group increased by RMB1,811 million in 2005. It was mainly attributable to the facilities such as gas transmission pipelines constructed by the Target Group being transferred to property, plant and equipment, and increase of investment in Hua You Company. Current assets decreased by approximately RMB201 million, which was mainly due to the repayment of certain bank loans in 2005, increase of equity investment in Hua You Company and increase in investment of property, plant and machinery that decreased cash and cash equivalents.

The non-current liabilities of the Target Group decreased by approximately RMB3,941 million in 2005. This was mainly attributable to the substantial decrease in government grants due to the substantial increase in government grants recognised as additional capital contribution. The current liabilities increased by approximately RMB1,353 million, which was mainly attributable to the wide application of IC cards since 2005, which resulted in the substantial increase in advance receipts in cash from IC card users for recharge, as well as the dividend payable to Beijing Enterprises Group.

Employees

As at 31 December 2006, the Target Group had 4,561 employees. The Target Group implements proactive and effective remuneration system, which adjusts the remuneration of the employees. The Target Group currently does not have bonus and share option plan. The Target Group provides a lot of job training to its employees, including State-mandatory training, safety training, production technology training and management training.

Working Capital

As at 31 December 2006, the Target Group had outstanding banks and other loans of RMB827 million. The temporary shortfall in working capital as at 31 December 2006 was mainly due to advance receipt of gas fee amounting to approximately RMB1,237 million and certain payable of RMB471 million related to capital expenditure. The management of the Target Group consider that, taking into account the proceeds from the cash flow generated internally and bank credit facilities of RMB2,343 million (consist of RMB1,343 million contracted amount and RMB1,000 million authorised by relevant banks but without contracts signed), not yet drawn, the Target Group has adequate working capital to satisfy its requirements at present.

Plans of substantial investment and acquisition of capital assets by the Target Group in future

The substantial investments of the Target Group in the coming two years are mainly focused in the construction of natural gas project at Sixth Ring Road, provision of gas in sub-urban counties and the improvement projects of pipeline network in the urban area. Of which the long term investment “authorised but not contracted” was already approved by the board of directors of the Target Group. But it is still pending the execution of contractual commitment to the investment arrangement in Hua You Company.

Financial risk factors

The operating activities of the Target Group are exposed to various types of financial risks: market risks (including exchange risk, cash flow risk, fair value interest rate risk and pricing risk), credit risks and liquidity risks.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Market risk

Exchange risk

The Target Group operates in Mainland China with Renminbi being its functional currency. Since future business transactions will also be settled in Renminbi, the Target Group's exposure to operational exchange risk is minimal.

The Target Group has long-term loans from the governments of Canada, Australia and France. According to the terms of the loan agreements, the loans and the related interests shall be repaid in the foreign currencies as agreed between the Target Group and the respective lenders. Owing to the appreciation in Renminbi, exchange gains were resulted from the translation of the Target Group's loans from foreign governments at the end of each of the Relevant Periods. Therefore, the Target Group's current exposure to exchange risk is minimal.

Cash flow risk and fair value interest rate risk

Almost all of the Target Group's income and operating cash flows are not affected by the changes in market interest rates. Moreover, apart from the bank deposits, cash and cash equivalents, the Target Group does not have any major interest-bearing assets. Therefore, the risk in respect of changes in market interest rates mainly arises from its long term borrowings.

The Target Group enters into borrowing obligations with an aim to support the corporate development, which are mainly utilised on capital expenditure. The borrowings that bear interests at floating interest rate expose the Target Group to cash flow interest rate risk, whilst the borrowings that bear interests at fixed interest rate expose the Target Group to the fair value interest rate risk.

The cash flow interest rate risk of the Target Group arises from a long-term borrowing that bears interest on a floating rate basis. The Target Group's loan from ADB bears interest at floating interest rate, which changes according to the international financial market. ADB usually adjusts the interest rate once every six months.

The Target Group's other long-term loans from foreign governments bear interests at relatively low fixed interest rates. The loan from the French government bears interests at a rate of 2% per annum, whilst the loans from the Canadian government and the Australian governments are interest-free. The Australian government loan will mature on 15 June 2007. As the interest rates of the foreign government loans are considerably lower than the market interest rate, the Target Group is not exposed to fair value interest rate risk. The management has yet to consider any measures to contain the loss arising from fair value interest rate risk.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Pricing risk

The Target Group holds certain equity interests in Hua You Company on a long-term basis, with an aim to achieve investment income. As the Target Group does not hold any other equity securities, its exposure to pricing risk is minimal.

Credit risk

There are no significant concentrations of credit risk within the Target Group. The Target Group does not excessively rely on individual customers. During the relevant period, there is no single customer that accounted for more than 2% in the total sales income of the Target Group.

In addition, as at the end of each year, the Target Group assess the recoverability of each individual accounts receivables so as to ensure that sufficient provision on impairment has been made for the amounts that are unable to be recovered. As such, the management considers the Target Group has a relatively low credit risk.

Liquidity risk

Management of the Target Group maintains prudent strategy to liquidity risk, which allows the preservation of sufficient cash and credit commitment to provide funds. The Target Group aims to maintain credit commitment at a certain level, so as to maintain the flexibility of funding.

As at 31 December 2006, the outstanding loans of the Group was approximately HK$1,901 million. Upon Completion and draw-down of the syndicated loans, the total outstanding loans of the Enlarged Group will be approximately HK$4,728 million. The gearing ratio (borrowings net of cash balance divided by total assets) is expected to be 4.3%. The HK$2 billion syndicated loan will carry interest expenses of approximately HK$45 million in the second half of 2007.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Profit Forecast of the Target Group

The Company believes that with the basis and assumptions as set out in Appendix IV and in the absence of unforeseen circumstances and in accordance with the Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards, the forecast combined profit attributable to the shareholders of the Target Company for the year ending 31 December 2007 will not be less than RMB780 million (equivalent to approximately HK$788 million).

IX. REASONS FOR AND BENEFITS OF THE ACQUISITION

The Company's vision is to become a comprehensive municipal infrastructure and utilities company. The Acquisition is a major strategic move to achieve this objective. Through the Acquisition, the positioning of the Company in the market will be further enhanced and the segmentation of its principal operating activities will be more distinct. Its utilities business will be noticeably strengthened. There will be a new driving force for growth, so that the Company may benefit more from the rapid development in Beijing. This will in turn improve its financial performance and enhance Shareholders' value.

- Strengthen focus on infrastructure and utilities business

Prior to Completion, the Group is principally engaged in infrastructure and utilities, consumer products and technology industries. Through the Acquisition, the piped gas business and the assets and personnel related to the piped gas business of Gas Group, which is the largest city gas provider in the PRC at present, will become part of the Group. Thus, infrastructure and utilities business will become predominant in the operating activities of the Company.

After Completion, the Group will engage in a number of municipal infrastructure and utilities projects such as gas supply, water treatment and expressways. The Acquisition will further enhance the Group's positioning and widen the influence of the Group in the municipal infrastructure and utilities market as a whole. The Acquisition will also allow the Group to absorb a professional team of management, which will strengthen the capabilities of the Group in the management of municipal utilities business and will facilitate its expansion to the utilities business in other cities.

- Add new driving force for growth

In recent years, the business of the Target Group has grown rapidly. Its total turnover increased from approximately RMB4,258 million in 2004 to approximately RMB6,010 million in 2006. The turnover increase rate amounted to 18.8% on average per annum. Due to the opportunities arising from the 2008 Olympics, there will be continuous development of municipal construction in Beijing for the coming few years. At the same time, in order to improve the quality of the environment in the capital, substantially reduce air pollution and provide strong assurance for the success of the 2008 Olympics, the Beijing Municipal Government has devoted much efforts to promote the use of clean energy. This has created favourable conditions for the development of the Gas

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Group's business. The Directors believe that the gas business in Beijing will maintain a steady growth rate. The Acquisition will allow the Company to benefit from the rapid development of Beijing, from which a new driving force for growth will be derived.

Moreover, city gas industry in the PRC is in the stage of rapid growth. Through the Acquisition and given the rich experience of Gas Group in the management of city gas business and its considerable influence in the industry, the Company will have the opportunity to tap into piped gas market in other cities and further its growth in gas businesses.

- Boost financial performance and enhance funding capability

The Board believes that the business of Gas Group has good profitability and prospects for growth. The Board also believes that the Acquisition will enhance the growth in profit and income of the Company which will in turn increase the level of earnings per Share, enhance Shareholders' value and bring greater return to Shareholders. The business of Gas Group has sound cash flows and relatively low gearing ratios. This will also improve the credit ratings of the Company, reduce its finance costs and consolidate the funding capability of the Company.

The Directors believe the terms of the Acquisition (including the issuance of the Consideration Shares) as set out in this circular are fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Company and the Shareholders as a whole.

X. FUTURE PLANS OF THE GROUP

The Group strives to become a leading infrastructure and utilities company in the PRC.

Through the Acquisition, the Group will treat gas business as one of its core business, and continue to develop its existing businesses.

On the principles of maximizing its Shareholders' benefits and specifically developing its principal operating activities, the Group has adopted new strategies for its existing businesses. Through further realignment of strategies, the Group will become principally engaged in infrastructure and utilities businesses. More specifically, the Group will:

- continuously stabilise the level of income from the expressway industry and further strengthening its position in it. The high level of income and the steady cash flow generated from the airport expressway of Beijing will continue to support the performance result of the Group. At the same time, the Group will carefully select more quality projects in its attempt to expand the expressway business. In terms of operation, the Group will capitalise on the investment and financing capabilities and management experiences of Capital Airport Expressway Corporation. While strengthening its position as a principal player in the utilities segment, the Group will endeavour to effectively reduce risks;

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

- proactively improve the position of the Group in the water treatment industry, so as to define the nature of the Group's business as an utilities company. Currently, the Group has the concession in Beijing No. 9 Water Treatment Plant Phase I, and is in the process of developing another water treatment plant project. Thus, the positioning of the Group in the water treatment industry will be enhanced; and
- provide further support to develop Yanjing Brewery. It is expected that as long as Yanjing Brewery's pace of growth is in line with the natural growth of the beer market in the PRC, Yanjing Brewery will become one of the top eight breweries of the world by 2010 in terms of the production and sales.

The Group is confident that, through optimisation of its current portfolio, it will gradually establish a business that is principally engaged in gas, water and road. By its scientific management skills, the Group will gradually become an integrated energy and related services provider. At the same time, the Group will proactively identify opportunities of acquisitions related to the principal activities of the Group with potential in growth. The Group will also fully make use of its distinct advantages in the utility businesses, so as to create value for the Shareholders.

XI. MAJOR RISK FACTORS OF THE ACQUISITION

The review by the government of the adjustment mechanism for the selling prices of piped gas

Although the relevant price administration authorities in Beijing has approved the natural gas price passthrough mechanism filed by Gas Group and the mechanism has already been established, the relevant government authorities will examine the costs of Gas Group once every three years, and adjust the relevant factors of the mechanism accordingly. Under the existing mechanism, Gas Group can maintain a steady and reasonable gross profit margin. However, the adjustments of the relevant factors in the mechanism three years later will still be subject to the approval of the government. The conditions for adjustments would create an uncertainty to Gas Group. This may cause adverse effects on the operating results and financial conditions of Gas Group.

The challenges arising from competition of alternative energy sources

The development of Gas Group in the future is dependent upon the popularity of natural gas. Natural gas may face challenges from other forms of energy. Major alternative forms of energy for natural gas are coal, electricity, petroleum, LPG and atomic energy. When selecting the fuel, the ultimate users will consider certain factors such as the selling price, reliability, convenience, safety and connection fee. In most of the places where Gas Group has established its business, users may select other forms of energy. Moreover, there are still certain areas in Beijing where piped gas service is not accessible. This situation will also affect the operating results or prospects of future growth of Gas Group.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

Details of the concession agreement have not yet been finalised

As the concession agreement has not yet been executed, the details of the concession agreement have not yet been finalised. For example, the Implementation Plan provides that the Beijing Municipal Government may impose a certain concession fee on Gas Group. Details such as the amount of, and the calculation method and specific payment methods for such concession fee are not specified in the Implementation Plan. Therefore, Gas Group still cannot determine the effect of such fee on its profit and cash flow positions. However, the Directors estimated that if the government were to collect a concession fee, the level would not have any material adverse effect on the costs and the operation result of Gas Group.

XII. EXTRAORDINARY SHAREHOLDERS' MEETING

The Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting will be convened by the Company, at which ordinary resolutions will be proposed to the Independent Shareholders to consider and, if thought fit, to approve the Sale and Purchase Agreement and the issuance of the Consideration Shares as set out in this circular. This circular has been sent to the Shareholders in accordance with the Listing Rules, and contains information in relation to the Acquisition, the recommendation from the Independent Board Committee to the Independent Shareholders, the recommendation from the Independent Financial Adviser to the Independent Board Committee and together with the notice of the Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting.

The voting in respect of the approval of the resolutions will be conducted by way of poll.

BEIL, whose interest is not in line with that of other Shareholders, has a material interest in the Acquisition and the connected transactions and continuing connected transactions as set out in this circular. Therefore, BEIL (and its associate(s)) will abstain from voting on resolutions approving the transactions.

A form of proxy for use at the Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting is enclosed with this circular. Whether or not you intend to attend the Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting, you are requested to complete and return the enclosed form of proxy in accordance with the instructions printed thereon and return it to the Company's share registrar, Tengis Limited at 26th Floor, Tesbury Centre, 28 Queen's Road East, Hong Kong as soon as possible and in any event not less than 48 hours before the time appointed for holding such meeting (or any adjournment thereof). Completion and return of the form of proxy will not preclude you from attending and voting in person at the Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting (or any adjourned meeting thereof) should you wish to do so.

An announcement will be made by the Company following the conclusion of the Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting to inform you of the results of the Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

XIII. RECOMMENDATION

The Directors believe the terms of the Acquisition (including the issuance of the Consideration Shares) as set out in this circular are fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Company and the Shareholders as a whole. Although the Target Group had net current liabilities of approximately RMB1,432 million as at 31 December 2006, RMB1,237 million out of the current liabilities referred to non-refundable advance sales receipt which will be recognised as sales later on. Disregarding such advance sales receipt, the net current liabilities of the Target Group would be significantly reduced to approximately RMB195 million. The Directors consider that, based on the Target Group's profit forecast, cash flow projection and unutilised banking facilities of RMB2,343 million and on the assumption that such facilities will continue to be available from the Target Group's principal bankers, the Target Group will have sufficient funds available to enable it to operate as a going concern. Accordingly, the Directors recommend the Shareholders eligible to vote in favour of the relevant resolutions set out in the notice of the Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting contained in this circular.

XIV. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

A letter from the Independent Financial Adviser providing its advice regarding the Acquisition (including the issuance of the Consideration Shares) is set out on page 82 to 104 of this circular.

We refer to our engagement pursuant to which CLSA Equity Capital Markets Limited (“CLSA”) has been appointed as the independent financial adviser to advise the Independent Board Committee and the Independent Shareholders as to whether or not the terms and conditions of the Acquisition, details of which are contained in the circular dated 30 April 2007 (the “Circular”) issued by the Company to its Shareholders, are on normal commercial terms, in the ordinary and usual course of the business of the Company and are fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Company and the shareholders as a whole.

This letter has been prepared for inclusion in the Circular issued by the Company to its shareholders. Capitalized terms used in this letter shall have the same meanings as defined in the Circular unless the context otherwise requires.

LETTER FROM THE INDEPENDENT FINANCIAL ADVISER

CLSA is licensed by the Hong Kong Securities and Futures Commission to undertake Types 4 (advising on securities) and 6 (advising on corporate finance) regulated activities under the SFO and we, together with our affiliates, provide a full range of investment banking and brokerage services, which, in the course of normal trading activities, may from time to time effect transactions and hold securities, including derivative securities, of the Company, its subsidiaries or its substantial shareholder (as defined in the Listing Rules) for our own account and the accounts of customers. CLSA will receive a fee from the Company for rendering this opinion. The Company has also agreed to indemnify CLSA and certain related persons against liabilities and expenses in connection with this engagement.

PRINCIPAL FACTORS CONSIDERED

In arriving at our opinion, we have taken into consideration, among others, each of the following principal factors and reasons set out below. Our conclusions are based on the results of all analyses taken as a whole.

1. The Sale and Purchase Agreement

On 10 April 2007, the Company, the Vendor and certain other parties entered into a Sale and Purchase Agreement, pursuant to which the Company agreed to purchase the entire issued share capital of the Target Company for a total consideration of HK$11,600,000,000 (the “Consideration”), which is payable as to HK$4,000,100,000 in cash and as to the remaining balance of HK$7,599,900,000, by way of issuance of 411,250,000 Consideration Shares at HK$18.48 per Share. As at the Latest Practicable Date, the Company had a total number of 622,500,000 Shares outstanding, and the Consideration Shares represent approximately 66.06% of the Company’s existing share capital and 39.78% of the Company’s enlarged share capital immediately following Completion.

The cash component of the Consideration will be paid in two installments with the first installment of HK$3,000,000,000 being payable upon Completion and the second installment of HK$1,000,100,000 being payable before 30 June 2008 (or such later date as the parties to the Sale and Purchase Agreement may agree in writing). Upon Completion, the Consideration Shares will be issued to the Vendor and the relevant share certificates will be delivered.

Under the Sale and Purchase Agreement, each of the Vendor and Beijing Holdings has also given certain non-competition undertakings to the Company (on behalf of itself or as the trustee of the members of the Target Group). Please refer to the section entitled “Connected transactions - non-competition undertakings” in the Letter from the Board for further details.

We are advised by the Directors that the Sale and Purchase Agreement was negotiated and entered into on an arm’s length basis between the parties thereto and the Directors believe that the terms and conditions of the Sale and Purchase Agreement are fair and reasonable and are in the interests of the Company and its Shareholders as a whole.

Except for conditions (4), (7) and (8), all conditions may be waived by the Company. Completion shall take place on 30 June 2007 or such later date as the parties to the Sale and Purchase Agreement may agree in writing.

Shareholders should note that the Acquisition will only become unconditional upon the fulfillment (or waiver, if applicable) of the above conditions, which may not be satisfied or waived (as the case may be). Therefore, Shareholders and the public should exercise caution when dealing in the securities of the Company.

2. Business of the Target Group

The Target Company is an investment holding company that holds the entire equity interest of the Gas Group. The Gas Group was established on 27 October 2006 upon the division of the Original Gas Group pursuant to the injection and division plan approved by relevant PRC government authorities. Pursuant to the Division, the piped gas business operated by the Original Gas Group as well as the assets, liabilities and personnel related to the piped gas business were succeeded by the Gas Group; while other businesses of the Original Gas Group as well as related assets, liabilities and personnel were succeeded by Beiran Enterprises Ltd.

The Gas Group currently operates an extensive gas distribution network with a total length of 7,295 km, including (i) the pipeline network invested and constructed by the Original Gas Group and allocated to the Gas Group pursuant to the Division; and (ii) the pipeline network taken over by the Original Gas Group from other parties (the “Assigned Pipeline Network”) and allocated to Beiran Enterprises Ltd. pursuant to the Division. Also pursuant to approvals granted by the Beijing Municipal Government and in accordance with relevant laws and regulations of the PRC, the Gas Group succeeded the integrated operation rights of all gas pipelines formerly operated by Original Gas Group and can continue to use and operate the Assigned Pipeline Network owned by Beiran Enterprises Ltd. at nil consideration.

The Gas Group is principally engaged in the distribution and sale of pipeline natural gas to residential, heating and cooling, commercial and industrial users, and heat-electricity co-generation users across Beijing. Pursuant to the Implementation Plan for Concessioned Gas Businesses in Beijing (北京管道天然氣特許經營項目實施方案) that was proposed by the Beijing Municipal Administration Commission in February 2006 and subsequently agreed to in-principle by the Beijing Municipal Government, the Gas Group obtained the exclusive right within the concession term and the concession area to construct gas pipelines, to supply natural gas to users, and to charge users accordingly. As disclosed in the Letter from the Board, the concession area of the Gas Group is the area within the Sixth Ring Road in Beijing, the eastern extension area of Changping and the group of Changping and the Machihou Nimtou group of Changping. The concession term is 25 years, which will commence from the date of the concession agreement, which is to be executed between the Gas Group and relevant authorities of the Beijing Municipal Government. The Gas Group may also apply for an extension of the term from the Beijing Municipal Government at any time during the period of one year prior to the expiration of the term of the concession.

We note that under prevailing PRC law and regulations, after being designated as the concessionaire to operate a pipeline natural gas business in the concession area in Beijing, the Gas Group shall also enter into a concession agreement with the relevant authorities of the Beijing Municipal Government. As at the Latest Practicable Date, the Gas Group was still negotiating the relevant terms of the concession agreement with the relevant authorities of the Beijing Municipal Government and the Directors have advised that they are not in a position to estimate when the concession agreement will be executed or to what extent certain provisions of the concession agreement (such as the relevant concession fees payable to the Beijing Municipal Government), once finalized, will affect the Target Company's financial position or results of operation. However, the Directors believe that the terms of the final concession agreement will not have any material adverse effect on the Target Company's financial performance or operations. We are also advised by Haiwen & Partners, the Company's PRC legal advisors, that there is no legal impediment to the execution of the concession agreement.

We also note that the pricing administration authorities organized and held a pricing hearing on 22 December 2006, at which the price pass-through mechanism proposed by the Gas Group was considered and approved, and it was determined that (1) the price pass-through mechanism will be adjusted once every three years; and (2) the selling prices of natural gas are to be adjusted at the same time and in the same direction as the rise or fall of the citygate prices, with the amount of adjustment substantially equivalent to the change in citygate price. The Directors are of the view that the recently adopted mechanism will mitigate the impact of upstream price increases on the Target Company's operations and financial performance. Whilst relevant factors of the price pass-through mechanism will be adjusted every three years subsequent to the examination of Gas Group's costs by the relevant government authorities which therefore subjects the Gas Group to future uncertainty as to the selling price of natural gas, considering the Gas Group's strategy and on-going efforts to improve its operating efficiency, the Directors are confident that the Gas Group will be able to achieve steady and reasonable profit margins going forward.

The Gas Group also holds a 40% equity interest in Hua You Company, which owns and operates natural gas transmission and dispatch facilities including Nos. 1 and 2 Shaanxi-Beijing Gas Transmission Pipeline (which have an aggregate designed maximum annual transmission capability of 15.3 billion cubic metres) and 4 underground storage reservoirs (which have an aggregate designed working volume of 2.357 billion cubic metres), and numerous gas supply stations, valve rooms, pressure compression stations and dispatch centres. Hua You Company mainly transmits natural gas from the upstream gas field and supplies gas to Beijing, Tianjin and Hebei Province. The Gas Group is the largest customer of Hua You Company. The Directors believe that the equity investment in Hua You Company not only brings the Gas Group attractive economic benefits but also ensures a stable and steady supply of gas from a strategic perspective.

We also note that the Gas Group is entrusted by Beijing Enterprises Group to hold a 49% equity interest in Tangshan Gas Group Limited (“Tangshan Gas”), which is yet to be established as at the Latest Practicable Date, pursuant to an entrustment investment agreement entered into between Beijing Enterprises Group and the Gas Group on 2 February 2007. The Gas Group will hold the 49% equity interest in Tangshan Gas and will exercise any rights and obligations associated therewith on behalf of Beijing Enterprises Group, and will not assume any liability or risk associated with the operation of and any loss that may be incurred by Tangshan Gas. In relation to such entrustment investment arrangement, we further note that:

- the Directors are of the opinion that Tangshan Gas will not be a competitor of the Group or the Target Group as the business of Tangshan Gas is conducted outside the operational territory of the Group and the Target Group;
- under the entrustment investment arrangement, the Gas Group has a pre-emptive right to acquire the 49% equity interest in Tangshan Gas if Beijing Enterprises Group wishes to transfer its entrustment interest in Tangshan Gas to any third party; and
- the Directors confirm that the Gas Group may seek to acquire the 49% interest in Tangshan Gas in the future once the potential profitability of Tangshan Gas and various risk factors can be fully evaluated, subject to compliance with the Listing Rules.

The Directors believe that the Target Company enjoys the following competitive advantages:

- a unique geographic advantage as the operations of the Target Group are strategically based in the capital city of the PRC and are expected to benefit from the significant economic development and urbanization trend of Beijing, the 2008 Olympics to be hosted by Beijing and the policy support by the PRC government to ensure the safe and stable supply of natural gas in Beijing;
- the leading position in the industry as the Target Company was ranked No. 1 as at the end of 2005 in China in terms of number of natural gas users, volume of purchases and sales of natural gas and length of its operating pipeline network system. The Directors believe that by leveraging this leading position, the Target Company is advantageously positioned to further expand its pipeline natural gas business to other PRC cities and regions;
- an extensive trunk pipeline network system which provides comprehensive coverage of all urban districts of Beijing as well as many sub-urban districts;

LETTER FROM THE INDEPENDENT FINANCIAL ADVISER

- stable and adequate supply of natural gas secured by the Target Company's investment in Hua You Company which owns Nos. 1 and 2 Shaanxi-Beijing Gas Transmission Pipelines and underground gas storage reservoirs;
- advanced operation management systems; and
- cutting edge technology in the industry.

Please refer to the Letter from the Board for further information relating to the businesses and operations of the Target Group.

3. Reason and Benefits of the Acquisition

We are advised by the Directors that the Company adopts a business development strategy focused on investing and operating infrastructure and public utilities with the aim of becoming a comprehensive municipal infrastructure and utilities company. We also understand that the Company has been seeking to streamline its business and to develop its infrastructure and utilities businesses into the major components of its asset portfolio. The Directors are of the view that the Acquisition represents a major strategic move towards implementing the Company's development strategy.

The Directors further believe that through the Acquisition, the positioning of the Company in the market will be further enhanced and the segmentation of the Group's principal operating activities will be more distinct. The Directors believe that the Acquisition will be a new driving force for the Company's growth and in turn to improve its financial performance and enhance Shareholder value.

We note that the Directors expect the Acquisition to:

- strengthen the Group's focus on infrastructure and utilities businesses: upon Completion, the infrastructure and utilities businesses will become predominant in the Group's operating activities. The Group will be engaged in a range of municipal infrastructure and utilities projects such as gas supply, water treatment and expressways, thus further enhancing the Group's positioning and extending its influence in the municipal infrastructure and utilities market as a whole. The Acquisition will also allow the Group to obtain a professional management team to further strengthen its management capabilities in relation to the municipal utilities business and to facilitate its expansion in the utilities businesses in other cities;
- provide new driving force for the Group's growth: the Target Group has achieved significant growth in recent years. Taking advantage of the opportunities arising from the 2008 Olympics and the expected continuous development of municipal construction projects in Beijing over the coming few years, and in light of the Beijing Municipal Government's effort to improve the quality of the environment in Beijing and to reduce air pollution by promoting the use of clean energy sources such as natural gas, the Directors expect that the gas business in Beijing will maintain a steady growth rate. Based on the above and considering that the municipal gas industry in PRC is in a stage of rapid growth, the Directors are of the opinion that the Acquisition will allow the Group to benefit from the rapid development of Beijing and provide a new driving force for the Group's growth, including the opportunity to expand into the piped gas market in other cities to further develop its gas businesses; and

- improve the Group's financial performance and enhance funding capability: the Directors believe that the Gas Group has good profitability and growth prospects, and the Acquisition will enhance the Company's financial performance. The Directors expect the Acquisition to enhance the growth in profit and income of the Company which will in turn increase the level of the Company's earnings per Share, enhance Shareholder value and bring greater returns to Shareholders. In addition, as the business of the Gas Group generates sound cash flows and has relatively low gearing ratios, the Directors expect the Acquisition will also improve the credit rating of the Company, reduce its finance costs and consolidate the funding capability of the Company.

Please also refer to the Letter from the Board contained in the Circular for further details.

4. Consideration and Valuation

a) Basis of Consideration

As disclosed in the Letter from the Board contained in the Circular, the Consideration was arrived at after arm's length negotiations between the parties taking into consideration the following factors:

- the prospects of the Target Company, including its competitiveness and its estimated profitability;
- the price-to-earnings ratio ("P/E"), price-to-book ratio ("P/B") and enterprise value over earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization ("EV/EBITDA") of other piped natural gas companies;
- synergies expected to arise from the Acquisition; and
- the expected enhancement to the Company's position in the market and competitiveness.

The Directors further confirmed that they believe the Consideration is fair and reasonable and in the best interests of the Shareholders as a whole.

As shown in the table above, the P/E represented by the Consideration is below the average and median of those of the Hong Kong Precedent Acquisitions and is within the range of those of the Hong Kong Precedent Acquisitions; while the P/B represented by the Consideration is below the average of those of the Hong Kong Precedent Acquisitions and is within the range of those of the Hong Kong Precedent Acquisitions.

As (i) the transaction values of the Hong Kong Precedent Acquisitions are significantly lower than the Consideration; and (ii) the operating scale of the target companies/assets of the Hong Kong Precedent Acquisitions are significantly smaller than that of the Target Group, we have further identified from publicly available sources³ all completed acquisitions of piped natural gas assets/businesses by companies listed overseas involving a consideration of over US$500 million between 1 January 2005 and 10 April 2007 (being the date of the Announcement) for which financial information on the target assets/businesses is available (“Overseas Precedent Acquisitions”), and have reviewed the key multiples of the Overseas Precedent Acquisitions. As shown in the table above, the implied P/E, EV/EBITDA and P/B represented by the Consideration are below the average of those of the Overseas Precedent Acquisitions and are within the range of those of the Overseas Precedent Acquisitions.

5. Potential financial impact of the Acquisition

We have considered the potential financial effects of the Acquisition on the Company based on the financial information of the Group as set out in Appendix I to the Circular and the unaudited pro forma financial information of the Enlarged Group as set out in Appendix III to the Circular. The unaudited pro forma financial information of the Enlarged Group is prepared by the Directors to illustrate how the Acquisition might have affected the results of operations, financial position and cash flows of the Company had the Acquisition been completed on 1 January 2006.

a) Net assets and net tangible assets

Based on the unaudited pro forma balance sheet of the Enlarged Group as set out in Appendix III to the Circular, had the Acquisition been completed on 1 January 2006, the unaudited pro forma adjusted net assets of the Enlarged Group attributable to the Shareholders would be approximately HK$16,470.6 million as at 31 December 2006, representing an increase of approximately HK$7,599.9 million compared to the net asset value of approximately HK$8,870.7 million as reported by the Company (without taking into consideration of the Acquisition) as at the same date. Meanwhile, the unaudited pro forma adjusted net tangible assets of the Enlarged Group attributable to the Shareholders would be approximately HK$11,991.5 million as at 31 December 2006, representing an increase of approximately HK$4,649.3 million compared to approximately HK$7,341.9 million as reported by the Company (without taking into consideration of the Acquisition) as at the same date. We note from the above that the Acquisition is expected to have a positive impact on the net assets and net tangible assets of the Company.

As a result of the Acquisition, the Enlarged Group will record a positive goodwill of approximately HK$2,936.8 million, which represents the excess of the cost of Acquisition of approximately HK$11,647.8 million (including the fair value of the Consideration of approximately HK$11,555.0 million and the estimated expenses of direct legal and professional costs related to the Acquisition of approximately HK$92.8 million) over the fair values of identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of the Target Group of approximately HK$8,711.0 million as at 31 December 2006.

LETTER FROM THE INDEPENDENT FINANCIAL ADVISER

b) Profits

Based on the unaudited pro forma income statement of the Enlarged Group for the year ended 31 December 2006 as set out in Appendix III to the Circular, we note that, had the Acquisition been completed on 1 January 2006:

- the unaudited pro-forma combined profit before taxation of the Enlarged Group from continuing operation for the year ended 31 December 2006 would be approximately HK$859.6 million, or approximately HK$435.4 million higher than the consolidated profit before taxation of the Group from continuing operation for the same period, being approximately HK$424.2 million as reported by the Company in its audited financial statements; and
- the unaudited pro-forma net profit generated from the Enlarged Group for the year ended 31 December 2006 would be approximately HK$641.7 million, or approximately HK$303.0 million higher than the consolidated net profit of HK$338.7 million reported by the Company in its audited financial statements for the same period.

We are advised by the Directors that they believe the Acquisition will enhance the growth in profit and income of the Company which will in turn increase the level of earnings per Share, enhance Shareholder value and bring greater returns to Shareholders. As such, the Acquisition is expected to have a positive impact on the profit of the Company.

c) Indebtness and gearing

Based on the unaudited pro forma balance sheet of the Enlarged Group as at 31 December 2006 as set out in Appendix III to the Circular, had the Acquisition been completed on 1 January 2006:

- the total debt (being the total interest bearing borrowings) of the Enlarged Group would be approximately HK$4,728.6 million as at 31 December 2006, representing an increase of approximately HK$2,827.1 million compared to the total debt of approximately HK$1,901.4 million reported by the Company as at the same date;
- the gross gearing ratio (being the total debt divided by total assets) of the Enlarged Group would be approximately 14.7% as at 31 December 2006, increased from that of approximately 11.0% of the Company as at the same date;
- the Enlarged Group would have a net debt of approximately HK$1,376.1 million as at 31 December 2006, compared to a net cash position of approximately HK$807.0 million reported by the Company as at the same date.

LETTER FROM THE INDEPENDENT FINANCIAL ADVISER

Based on the above, we note that the Acquisition would be expected to increase the gearing of the Enlarged Group. We have reviewed the gearing ratios of a number of Hong Kong listed conglomerate companies which have a focus on infrastructure and/or utilities investments, such as Shun Tak Holdings Limited, CITIC Pacific Limited, Guangdong Investment Limited and NWS Holdings Limited (“Hong Kong Infrastructure Conglomerates”). Based on the latest balance sheets of those Hong Kong Infrastructure Conglomerates that are publicly available as at the Latest Practicable Date and the unaudited pro forma balance sheet of the Enlarged Group as at 31 December 2006, we note that, had the Acquisition been completed on 1 January 2006 the gearing ratios of the Enlarged Group (as extracted from the unaudited pro forma financial information on the Enlarged Group as set out in Appendix III to the Circular) would have been in line with those of the Hong Kong Infrastructure Conglomerates.

d) Working capital

Based on the unaudited pro forma balance sheet of the Enlarged Group as at 31 December 2006 as set out in Appendix III to the Circular, had the Acquisition been completed on 1 January 2006, the net current asset of the Enlarged Group would be approximately HK$384.4 million, representing a decrease of approximately HK$2,525.1 million compared to the net current asset of the Group of approximately HK$2,909.5 million as at the same date. We note that the significant decrease in the Enlarged Group’s net current assets (a decrease of approximately HK$2,525.1 million or by approximately 86.8%) would have been mainly attributable to the net current liability position of the Target Company: based on the Accountant’s Report of the Target Company included as Appendix II to the Circular, we note that the Target Company has a net current liability of approximately RMB1,432.3 million.

We note that the net current liability of the Target Group was mainly attributable to advance receipt of gas fees (of approximately RMB1,237 million as at 31 December 2006) which are not refundable and certain payables related to capital expenditures (of approximately RMB471 million as at 31 December 2006). We understand from the Directors that the management of the Target Group considers that, taking into account the proceeds from internally generated cash flow and the bank credit facilities of RMB2,343 million not yet drawn by the Gas Group, the Target Group has adequate working capital to satisfy its requirements at present.

Also based on the Accountants’ Report of the Target Company included as Appendix II to the Circular, we note the Target Company generates significant and increasing cash flows from its operating activities, being RMB944.7 million, RMB1,341.6 million and RMB1,546.3 million respectively for each of three years ended 31 December 2006. Except for 2005, for which year we are advised by the Directors that the Target Company started to increase its capital expenditure on infrastructure development (e.g. capital expenditure in relation to the purchase of property, plant and equipment increased from approximately RMB723.4 million in 2004 by 48.8% to approximately RMB1,076.7 million in 2005), the Target

Company's operating cash flows had been sufficient to finance its investment activities for the past three years. We are of the opinion that, based on the above, the Directors' view that the Target Group's ability to generate sufficient cash flows ensures that the Acquisition will not result in undue liquidity risks for the Enlarged Group is reasonably held.

The Directors have also confirm their view that, after taking into account the internal resources, the necessary banking facilities in place and other sources of financing available to the Enlarged Group, the Enlarged Group has adequate working capital to satisfy its prevailing needs for at least twelve months from the date of the Circular.

6. Funding of the Acquisition

The Consideration of HK$11,600,000,000 will be payable by a combination of cash and the issuance of the Consideration Shares.

a) Cash consideration

The cash consideration of HK$4,000,100,000 (representing approximately 34.5% of the Consideration) will be payable in two installments, with the first installment of HK$3,000,000,000 being payable upon Completion and the second installment of HK$1,000,100,000 being payable on 30 June 2008 (or such other date as the parties to the Sale and Purchase Agreement may agree in writing). We are advised by the Directors that HK$2,000.0 million of the first installment of the cash consideration will be financed by a 5-year syndicated bank loan and the remaining balance of HK$1,000.0 million will be settled through the Group's current accounts with its holding companies and group companies of Beijing Enterprises Group.

b) Consideration Shares

The balance of the Consideration, being HK$7,599,900,000 which represents approximately 65.5% of the Consideration, will be payable upon Completion by the issuance of 411,250,000 Consideration Shares at HK$18.48 per Share to the Vendor. We are advised by the Directors that the Vendor has confirmed that it does not have any intention to transfer, mortgage or pledge the Consideration Shares to any person (except any wholly-owned subsidiary of Beijing Enterprises Group) within six months from the day on which the Consideration Shares are allotted to the Vendor (both days inclusive).

We have identified from publicly available sources⁴ all placements of new shares involving fund raisings of more than HK$500 million conducted by companies listed on the Main Board of the Stock Exchange between 1 January 2007 to 10 April 2007, being the date of the Announcement (“Hong Kong

As shown in the table above, the issue price of HK$18.48 per Consideration Share represents:

- (a) a discount of approximately 6.7% to the closing price of HK$19.80 per Share as quoted on the Stock Exchange on 3 April 2007, being the last full trading day immediately prior to the date of the Announcement (the “Last Trading Date”). Such discount is larger than the average and median discounts of the Hong Kong Placements, but is within the last trading date discount/premium range of the Hong Kong Placements;
- (b) a discount of approximately 6.6% to the average closing price of approximately HK$19.78 per Share as quoted on the Stock Exchange for the last five trading days up to and including the Last Trading Date. Such discount is larger than the average and median 5-day discounts of the Hong Kong Placements, but is within the 5-day discount/premium range of the Hong Kong Placements;

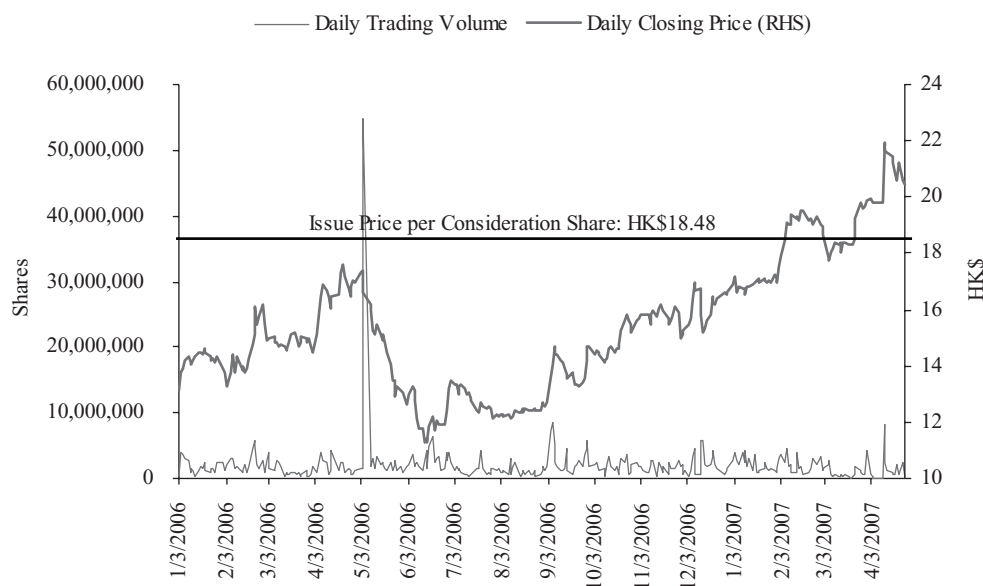

LETTER FROM THE INDEPENDENT FINANCIAL ADVISER

- (c) a discount of approximately 5.0% to the average closing price of approximately HK$19.46 per Share as quoted on the Stock Exchange for the last ten trading days up to and including the Last Trading Date. Such discount is larger than the average and median discounts of the Hong Kong Placements, but is within the 10-day discount/premium range of the Hong Kong Placements;
- (d) a discount of approximately 2.0% to the average closing price of approximately HK$18.85 per Share as quoted on the Stock Exchange for the last 30 trading days up to and including the Last Trading Date. Such discount is within the 30-day discount/premium range of the Hong Kong Placements, while the average and median 30-day premiums of the Hong Kong Placements represent premiums of 4.1% and 1.5% respectively;
- (e) a premium of approximately 5.3% to the average closing price of approximately HK$17.56 per Share as quoted on the Stock Exchange for the last 90 trading days up to and including the Last Trading Date. Such premium is smaller than the average and median 90-day premiums of the Hong Kong Placements, but is within the 90-day premium range of the Hong Kong Placements; and
- (f) a discount of approximately 9.6% to the closing price of HK$20.45 per Share as quoted on the Stock Exchange on the Latest Practicable Date.

Based on the above, we are of the opinion that the pricing of the Consideration Shares is in line with the discounts/premia of the Hong Kong Placements, which we believe are relevant for comparison purposes.

LETTER FROM THE INDEPENDENT FINANCIAL ADVISER

The following graph sets forth the historical daily closing market prices and the daily trading volume of the Shares for the period from 1 January 2006 up to the Latest Practicable Date.

We note that the issue price of HK$18.48 per Consideration Share is higher than the daily closing price of the Shares in 2006 and in the first month of 2007. We further note that the Share price increased by 10.9% to HK$21.95 per Share on 11 April 2007 (being the first date of resumption of trading in the Shares following the publication of the Announcement), compared to the closing price of the Shares of HK$19.80 on the Last Trading Date. As at the Latest Practicable Date, the closing price of the Shares was HK$20.45, representing an increase of 3.3% compared to the closing price of the Shares of HK$19.80 on the Last Trading Date.

As at the Latest Practicable Date, the Company had a total number of 622,500,000 Shares outstanding, and the Consideration Shares represent approximately 66.06% of the Company's existing share capital and 39.78% of the Company's enlarged share capital immediately following the Completion. Immediately after the Completion and the Transfer, the Independent Shareholders' equity interest in the Company will be diluted from approximately 47.95% to 28.88% as a result of the Acquisition. As the Consideration Shares will all be issued to the Vendor, there will be no change in the number of Shares held by the public, and therefore no change in the size of the public float of the Company. In addition, we note that while the Acquisition will result in a significant dilution (of approximately 60.3% compared to prior to the Acquisition) to the total shareholding of Independent Shareholders, Independent Shareholders would still be in a position to block special resolutions which, under the Company's articles of association, require the affirmative votes of at least 75% of all shares entitled to vote on a given special resolution. Based on the above, and considering the Directors' belief that the Acquisition is expected to enhance the Company's profit growth, increase the level of the Company's earnings per Share and subsequently to increase Shareholder value, we are of the view that the dilution to the equity interests of the Independent Shareholders that will result from the Acquisition is acceptable.

As at the Latest Practicable Date, approximately 52.05% of the Company's issued share capital was held by subsidiaries of Beijing Holdings, which is controlled by the Beijing Municipal Government. As a result of the Transfers, Beijing Holdings and BEIL will become subsidiaries of Beijing Enterprises Group. As the Vendor is also a subsidiary of Beijing Enterprises Group, approximately 71.12% of the issued Shares will be controlled by Beijing Municipal Government through Beijing Enterprises Group and its subsidiaries immediately after Completion. Therefore, the completion of the Acquisition will not result in a change of control of the Company. Please refer to the section entitled "Shareholding Structure of the Company and the Target Group" of the Letter from the Board for further details.

SUMMARY

Having considered the above principal factors and reasons, we draw your attention to the following in arriving at our conclusion:

- (i) the representation made by the Directors that the Sale and Purchase Agreement was negotiated and entered into on an arm's length basis between the parties thereto;
- (ii) the Directors' view that the Acquisition is consistent with the Company's strategy;
- (iii) the Directors' view that the Acquisition will strengthen the Company's focus on infrastructure and utilities businesses, provide a new driving force for the Company's growth, and improve the Company's financial performance and enhance its funding capability;
- (iv) the Directors' representation that the Consideration was determined after taking into consideration the prospects of the Target Company and the P/E, P/B and EV/EBITDA of other piped natural gas companies, the synergies expected to arise from the Acquisition, and the expected enhancement to the Company's position in the market and competitiveness;
- (v) the P/E, EV/EBITDA and P/B represented by the Consideration are lower than the average and median of those of the Comparable Companies;
- (vi) the P/E and P/B represented by the Consideration are lower than the average and median of those of the Hong Kong Precedent Acquisitions;
- (vii) the P/E, EV/EBITDA and P/B represented by the Consideration are lower than the average and median of the Overseas Precedent Acquisitions;

LETTER FROM THE INDEPENDENT FINANCIAL ADVISER

- (viii) the unaudited pro forma net assets and net tangible assets of the Enlarged Group as at 31 December 2006 are higher than the audited net assets and net tangible assets of the Company as at 31 December 2006;
- (ix) the unaudited pro forma profit before taxation and net profit for the Enlarged Group for the year ended 31 December 2006 are higher than the audited profit before taxation and net profit of the Company for the year ended 31 December 2006;
- (x) the fact that the Directors are satisfied that the Enlarged Group has adequate working capital to satisfy its prevailing needs for at least twelve months from the date of the circular;
- (xi) the fact that the Consideration will be payable by a combination of cash and the Consideration Shares, and the cash component of the Consideration will be satisfied as to HK$2,000.0 million by a syndicated bank loan and as to the remaining HK$1,000.0 million by offsetting the Group's current accounts with its holding companies and group companies of Beijing Enterprises Group; and
- (xii) the Consideration Shares are to be issued to the Vendor upon Completion at HK$18.48 per Share, which represents a discount of 6.7% to the closing price per Share on the Last Trading Date, a discount of 6.6% to the 5-day average closing price up to the Last Trading Date, a discount of 5.0% to the 10-day average closing price up to the Last Trading Date, a discount of 2.0% to the 30-day average closing price up to the Last Trading Date, and a premium of 5.3% to the 90-day average closing price up to the Last Trading Date. Such discounts and premia are within the range of those of the Hong Kong Placements.

RECOMMENDATION

Having considered all the above principal factors and reasons, we consider as the date hereof that:

- a) the terms of the Acquisition are on normal commercial terms;
- b) the Acquisition is entered into in the ordinary and usual course of the business of the Company; and
- c) the terms of the Acquisition are fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Company and its Shareholders as a whole.

Accordingly, we would advise the Independent Board Committee to recommend to the Independent Shareholders to vote in favour of the Acquisition at the Extraordinary General Meeting to be convened on 17 May 2007, at 3 p.m..

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

31 December 2006

1. CORPORATE INFORMATION

Beijing Enterprises Holdings Limited (the “Company”) is a limited liability company incorporated in Hong Kong.

During the year, the Company and its subsidiaries (collectively the “Group”) were involved in the following principal activities:

- production, distribution and sale of consumer products, including beer and wine in Beijing and other provinces in the People’s Republic of China (the “PRC”)
- investment in transportation infrastructure, including the Capital Airport Expressway, which connects the Capital Airport and the city centre of Beijing, and the Shenzhen Shiguan Road and Bridge, which is located in Shenzhen Municipality, the PRC
- operation of water purification and treatment plants in Beijing and another city in the PRC
- the provision of retail services in Beijing and certain other cities in the PRC (discontinued during the year – note 12)
- property construction and development (discontinued during the year – note 12)
- the provision of telecommunications and information technology (“IT”) related services
- the provision of tourism services in Longqingxia, a scenic area in Beijing
- restaurant operations in the PRC, Thailand, Indonesia, Singapore and Malaysia

As at 31 December 2006 and the date of approval of these financial statements, the immediate holding company of the Company is Beijing Enterprises Investments Limited, which is incorporated in the British Virgin Islands, and in the opinion of the directors, the ultimate holding company is Beijing Holdings Limited (“BHL”), which is incorporated in Hong Kong.

2.1 BASIS OF PREPARATION

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards (“HKFRSs”) (which also include Hong Kong Accounting Standards (“HKASs”) and Interpretations) issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants, accounting principles generally accepted in Hong Kong and the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. They have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except for (i) investment properties and certain financial assets which have been measured at fair value; and (ii) non-current assets held for sale, which are stated at the lower of carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell, as further explained in note 2.4 to the financial statements. These financial statements are presented in Hong Kong dollars (“HK$”) and all values are rounded to the nearest thousand except when otherwise indicated.

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended 31 December 2006. Adjustments are made to bring into line any dissimilar accounting policies that may exist. The results of subsidiaries are consolidated from the date of acquisition, being the date on which the Group obtains control, and continue to be consolidated until the date that such control ceases. All significant intercompany transactions and balances within the Group are eliminated on consolidation.

The acquisition of subsidiaries during the year has been accounted for using the purchase method of accounting. This method involves allocating the cost of the business combinations to the fair value of the identifiable assets acquired, and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed at the date of acquisition. The cost of the acquisition is measured at the aggregate of the fair value of the assets given, equity instruments issued and liabilities incurred or assumed at the date of exchange, plus costs directly attributable to the acquisition.

Minority interests represent the interests of outside shareholders not held by the Group in the results and net assets of the Company's subsidiaries. For the acquisition of minority interests, the difference between the consideration and the book value of the share of the net assets acquired is recognised as goodwill or in the income statement as an excess over cost of acquisition, where appropriate.

2.2 IMPACT OF NEW AND REVISED HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS

The Group has adopted the following new and revised HKFRSs for the first time for the current year's financial statements. Except for, in certain cases, giving rise to new and revised accounting policies and additional disclosures, the adoption of these new and revised standards and interpretation has had no material effect on these financial statements.

- HKAS 21 Amendment "Net Investment in a Foreign Operation"
- HKAS 27 Amendment "Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements: Amendments as a consequence of the Companies (Amendment) Ordinance 2005"
- HKAS 39 & HKFRS 4 Amendments "Financial Guarantee Contracts"
- HKAS 39 Amendment "Cash Flow Hedge Accounting of Forecast Intragroup Transactions"
- HKAS 39 Amendment "The Fair Value Option"
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 4 "Determining whether an Arrangement contains a Lease"

(a) HKAS 21 "The Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates"

Upon the adoption of the HKAS 21 Amendment regarding a net investment in a foreign operation, all exchange differences arising from a monetary item that forms part of the Group's net investment in a foreign operation are recognised in a separate component of equity in the consolidated financial statements irrespective of the currency in which the monetary item is denominated. This change has had no material impact on these financial statements as at 31 December 2006 or 31 December 2005.

(b) HKAS27 "Consolidated and Separate Financial Statements"

The adoption of the revised HKAS 27 has resulted in a change in accounting policy relating to the definition of a subsidiary for the consolidated financial statements as described in note 2.4 "Summary of significant accounting policies" below. The adoption of this amendment has had no other effect on these financial statements.

31 December 2006

2.2 IMPACT OF NEW AND REVISED HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (continued)

(c) HKAS 39 “Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement”

(i) Amendment for financial guarantee contracts

This amendment has revised the scope of HKAS 39 to require financial guarantee contracts issued that are not considered insurance contracts, to be recognised initially at fair value and to be remeasured at the higher of the amount determined in accordance with HKAS 37 “Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets” and the amount initially recognised less, when appropriate, cumulative amortisation recognised in accordance with HKAS 18 “Revenue”. The adoption of this amendment has had no material impact on these financial statements.

(ii) Amendment for the fair value option

This amendment has changed the definition of a financial instrument classified as fair value through profit or loss and has restricted the use of the option to designate any financial asset or any financial liability to be measured at fair value through the income statement. The Group had not previously used this option, and hence the amendment has had no effect on these financial statements.

(iii) Amendment for cash flow hedge accounting of forecast intragroup transactions

This amendment has revised HKAS 39 to permit the foreign currency risk of a highly probable intragroup forecast transaction to qualify as a hedged item in a cash flow hedge, provided that the transaction is denominated in a currency other than the functional currency of the entity entering into that transaction and that the foreign currency risk will affect the consolidated income statement. As the Group currently has no such transactions, the amendment has had no effect on these financial statements.

(d) HK(IFRIC)-Int 4 “Determining whether an Arrangement contains a Lease”

The Group has adopted this interpretation as of 1 January 2006, which provides guidance in determining whether arrangements contain a lease to which lease accounting must be applied. This interpretation has had no material impact on these financial statements.

2.3 IMPACT OF ISSUED BUT NOT YET EFFECTIVE HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS

The Group has not applied the following new and revised HKFRSs, that have been issued but are not yet effective, in these financial statements.

- HKAS 1 Amendment “Capital Disclosures”
- HKFRS 7 “Financial Instruments: Disclosures”
- HKFRS 8 “Operating Segments”
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 7 “Applying the Restatement Approach under HKAS 29 Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies”
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 8 “Scope of HKFRS 2”
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 9 “Reassessment of Embedded Derivatives”
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 10 “Interim Financial Reporting and Impairment”
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 11 “HKFRS 2 – Group and Treasury Share Transactions”
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 12 “Service Concession Arrangements”

The HKAS 1 Amendment shall be applied for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2007. The revised standard will affect the disclosures about qualitative information about the Group's objective, policies and processes for managing capital; quantitative data about what the Company regards as capital; and compliance with any capital requirements and the consequences of any non-compliance.

HKFRS 7 shall be applied for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2007. The standard requires disclosures that enable users of the financial statements to evaluate the significance of the Group's financial instruments and the nature and extent of risks arising from those financial instruments.

HKFRS 8 shall be applied for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2009. The standard requires the disclosure of information about the operating segments of the Group, the products and services provided by the segments, the geographical areas in which the Group operates, and revenues from the Group's major customers. This standard will supersede HKAS 14 "Segment Reporting".

HK(IFRIC)-Int 7, HK(IFRIC)-Int 8, HK(IFRIC)-Int 9, HK(IFRIC)-Int 10, HK(IFRIC)-Int 11 and HK(IFRIC)-Int 12 shall be applied for annual periods beginning on or after 1 March 2006, 1 May 2006, 1 June 2006, 1 November 2006, 1 March 2007 and 1 January 2008, respectively.

The Group is in the process of making an assessment of the impact of these new and revised HKFRSs upon initial application. So far, it has concluded that while the adoption of the HKAS 1 Amendment, HKFRS 7, HKFRS 8 and HK(IFRIC)-Int 12 may result in new or amended disclosures and reclassification of certain assets, these new and revised HKFRSs are unlikely to have a significant impact on the Group's results of operations and financial position.

2.4 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIESSubsidiaries

A subsidiary is an entity in which the Company, directly or indirectly, controls more than half of its voting power or issued share capital or controls the composition of its board of directors; or over which the Company has a contractual right to exercise a dominant influence with respect to that entity's financial and operating policies.

The results of subsidiaries are included in the Company's income statement to the extent of dividends received and receivable. The Company's interests in subsidiaries are stated at cost less any accumulated impairment losses.

Joint ventures

A joint venture is an entity set up by contractual arrangement, whereby the Group and other parties undertake an economic activity. The joint venture operates as a separate entity in which the Group and the other parties have an interest.

The joint venture agreement between the venturers stipulates the capital contributions of the joint venture parties, the duration of the joint venture entity and the basis on which the assets are to be realised upon its dissolution. The profits and losses from the joint venture's operations and any distributions of surplus assets are shared by the venturers, either in proportion to their respective capital contributions, or in accordance with the terms of the joint venture agreement.

A joint venture is treated as:

- (a) a subsidiary, if the Group/Company, directly or indirectly, controls more than half of its voting power or issued share capital or controls the composition of its board of directors; or over which the Group/Company has a contractual right to exercise a dominant influence with respect to the joint venture's financial and operating policies;
- (b) a jointly-controlled entity, if the Group/Company does not have unilateral control, but has joint control, directly or indirectly, over the joint venture;
- (c) an associate, if the Group/Company does not have unilateral or joint control, but holds, directly or indirectly, generally not less than 20% of the joint venture's registered capital and is in a position to exercise significant influence over the joint venture; or
- (d) an equity investment accounted for in accordance with HKAS 39, if the Group/Company holds, directly or indirectly, less than 20% of the joint venture's registered capital and has neither joint control of, nor is in a position to exercise significant influence over, the joint venture.

Jointly-controlled entities

A jointly-controlled entity is a joint venture that is subject to joint control, resulting in none of the participating parties having unilateral control over the economic activity of the jointly-controlled entity.

The Group's share of the post-acquisition results and reserves of jointly-controlled entities is included in the consolidated income statement and consolidated reserves, respectively. Where the profit sharing ratio is different to the Group's equity interest, the share of post-acquisition results of the jointly-controlled entities is determined based on the agreed profit sharing ratio. The Group's interests in jointly-controlled entities are stated in the consolidated balance sheet at the Group's share of net assets under the equity method of accounting, less any accumulated impairment losses. Adjustments are made to bring into line any dissimilar accounting policies that may exist.

The results of jointly-controlled entities are included in the Company's income statement to the extent of dividends received and receivable. The Company's interests in jointly-controlled entities are treated as non-current assets and are stated at cost less any accumulated impairment losses.

Associates

An associate is an entity, not being a subsidiary or a jointly-controlled entity, in which the Group has a long term interest of generally not less than 20% of the equity voting rights and over which it is in a position to exercise significant influence.

The Group's share of the post-acquisition results and reserves of associates is included in the consolidated income statement and consolidated reserves, respectively. Where the profit sharing ratio is different to the Group's equity interest, the share of post-acquisition results of the associates is determined based on the agreed profit sharing ratio. The Group's interests in associates are stated in the consolidated balance sheet at the Group's share of net assets under the equity method of accounting, less any accumulated impairment losses. Goodwill arising on the acquisition of associates, which was not previously eliminated against the consolidated capital reserve, is included as part of the Group's interests in associates. Adjustments are made to bring into line any dissimilar accounting policies that may exist.

The results of associates are included in the Company's income statement to the extent of dividends received and receivable. The Company's interests in associates are treated as non-current assets and are stated at cost less any accumulated impairment losses.

Related parties

A party is considered to be related to the Group if:

- (a) the party, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, (i) controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, the Group; (ii) has an interest in the Group that gives it significant influence over the Group; or (iii) has joint control over the Group;
- (b) the party is a jointly-controlled entity;
- (c) the party is an associate;
- (d) the party is a member of the key management personnel of the Group or its parent;
- (e) the party is a close member of the family of any individual referred to in (a) or (d);
- (f) the party is an entity that is controlled, jointly controlled or significantly influenced by or for which significant voting power in such entity resides with, directly or indirectly, any individual referred to in (d) or (e); or
- (g) the party is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of the employees of the Group, or of any entity that is a related party of the Group.

Goodwill

Goodwill arising on the acquisition of subsidiaries, jointly-controlled entities and associates represents the excess of the cost of the business combination over the Group's interest in the net fair value of the acquirees' identifiable assets acquired, and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed as at the date of acquisition.

Goodwill on acquisitions for which the agreement date is on or after 1 January 2004

Goodwill arising on acquisition is recognised in the consolidated balance sheet as an asset, initially measured at cost and subsequently at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. In the case of jointly-controlled entities and associates, goodwill is included in the carrying amount thereof, rather than as a separately identified asset on the consolidated balance sheet.

The carrying amount of goodwill is reviewed for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired.

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units, or groups of cash-generating units, that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the Group are assigned to those units or groups of units. Each unit or group of units to which the goodwill is so allocated:

- represents the lowest level within the Group at which the goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes; and

Goodwill (continued)Goodwill on acquisitions for which the agreement date is on or after 1 January 2004 (continued)

- is not larger than a segment based on either the Group's primary or the Group's secondary reporting format determined in accordance with HKAS 14 "Segment Reporting".

Impairment is determined by assessing the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (group of cash-generating units) to which the goodwill relates. Where the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (group of cash-generating units) is less than the carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognised.

Where goodwill forms part of a cash-generating unit (group of cash-generating units) and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the operation disposed of is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on disposal of the operation. Goodwill disposed of in this circumstance is measured based on the relative values of the operation disposed of and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in a subsequent period.

Goodwill previously eliminated against the consolidated capital reserve

Prior to the adoption of the HKICPA's Statement of Standard Accounting Practice 30 "Business Combinations" ("SSAP 30") in 2001, goodwill arising on acquisition was eliminated against the consolidated capital reserve in the year of acquisition. On the adoption of HKFRS 3, such goodwill remains eliminated against the consolidated capital reserve and is not recognised in the consolidated income statement when all or part of the business to which the goodwill relates is disposed of or when a cash-generating unit to which the goodwill relates becomes impaired.

Excess over the cost of business combinations

Any excess of the Group's interest in the net fair value of the acquirees' identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities over the cost of acquisition of subsidiaries, jointly-controlled entities and associates, after reassessment, is recognised immediately in the consolidated income statement.

The excess for jointly-controlled entities and associates is included in the Group's share of the jointly-controlled entities' and associates' profits or losses in the period in which the investments are acquired.

Impairment of non-financial assets other than goodwill

Where an indication of impairment exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required (other than investment properties, goodwill, deferred tax assets, financial assets, properties under development, properties held for sale, inventories, amounts due from customers for contract work and non-current assets classified as held for sale), the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An asset's recoverable amount is calculated as the higher of the asset's or cash-generating unit's value in use and its fair value less costs to sell, and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets, in which case, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

An impairment loss is recognised only if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. An impairment loss is charged to the income statement in the period in which it arises.

An assessment is made at each reporting date as to whether there is any indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the recoverable amount is estimated. A previously recognised impairment loss of a non-financial asset other than goodwill is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount of that asset, however not to an amount higher than the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of any depreciation/amortisation), had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. A reversal of such impairment loss is credited to the income statement in the period in which it arises.

Property, plant and equipment and depreciation

Property, plant and equipment, other than construction in progress, are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. When an item of property, plant and equipment is classified as held for sale, it is not depreciated and is accounted for in accordance with HKFRS 5 “Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations”, as further explained in the accounting policy for “Non-current assets held for sale”.

The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to its working condition and location for its intended use. Expenditure incurred after items of property, plant and equipment have been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance, is normally charged to the income statement in the period in which it is incurred. In situations where it can be clearly demonstrated that the expenditure has resulted in an increase in the future economic benefits expected to be obtained from the use of an item of property, plant and equipment, and where the cost of the item can be measured reliably, the expenditure is capitalised as an additional cost of that asset or as a replacement.

Depreciation of the expressway and related structures is calculated on the unit of usage basis whereby the annual depreciation amount is determined based on the actual traffic volume for the year to the projected total traffic volume of the expressway over the remaining unexpired lease terms.

Depreciation of other property, plant and equipment is calculated on the straight-line basis to write off the cost of each item of property, plant and equipment to its estimated residual value over its estimated useful life. The estimated useful lives of different categories of property, plant and equipment are as follows:

Buildings	10 to 50 years
Leasehold improvements	Over the lease terms or 5 to 10 years, whichever is shorter
Plant and machinery	5 to 20 years
Furniture, fixtures and office equipment	5 to 10 years
Motor vehicles	5 to 10 years

Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, the cost of that item is allocated on a reasonable basis among the parts and each part is depreciated separately.

Residual values, useful lives and the depreciation method are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each balance sheet date.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss on disposal or retirement recognised in the income statement in the period the asset is derecognised is the difference between the net sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the relevant asset.

Construction in progress represents buildings, structures, plant and machinery and other property, plant and equipment under construction or installation and is stated at cost less any accumulated impairment losses, and is not depreciated. Cost comprises direct costs of construction, installation and testing as well as capitalised borrowing costs on related borrowed funds during the period of construction or installation. Construction in progress is reclassified to the appropriate category of property, plant and equipment or investment properties when completed and ready for use.

Investment properties

Investment properties are interests in land and buildings (including the leasehold interest under an operating lease for a property which would otherwise meet the definition of an investment property) held to earn rental income and/or for capital appreciation, rather than for use in the production or supply of goods or services or for administrative purposes; or for sale in the ordinary course of business. Such properties are measured initially at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at fair value, which reflects market conditions at the balance sheet date.

Gains or losses arising from changes in the fair values of investment properties are included in the income statement in the period in which they arise.

Any gains or losses on the retirement or disposal of an investment property are recognised in the income statement in the period of the retirement or disposal.

When a property occupied by the Group as an owner-occupied property becomes an investment property, any difference between the carrying amount and the fair value of the property at the date of change in use is accounted for as follows:

- (a) any resulting decrease in the carrying amount of the property is recognised in the income statement in the period the change in use took place.
- (b) any resulting increase in the carrying amount is credited to the income statement, to the extent the increase reverses a previous impairment loss for that property, or restores the carrying amount of the property to an amount that would have been determined (net of any depreciation) had no impairment loss been recognised for the property in prior years; and any remaining part of the increase in the carrying amount is credited directly to equity in the property revaluation reserve. On subsequent disposal of the property, the relevant portion of the property revaluation reserve realised is transferred to retained profits as a movement in reserves.

When the Group completes the construction or development of a self-constructed investment property, any difference between the fair value of the property at the completion date and its previous carrying amount is recognised in the income statement.

Non-current assets held for sale

Non-current assets are classified as held for sale if their carrying amounts will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use. For this to be the case, the asset must be available for immediate sale in its present condition, subject only to terms that are usual and customary for the sale of such assets and its sale must be highly probable.

Non-current assets (other than investment properties, deferred tax assets and financial assets) classified as held for sale are measured at the lower of their carrying amounts and fair values less costs to sell.

Leases where substantially all the rewards and risks of ownership of assets remain with the lessor are accounted for as operating leases. Where the Group is the lessor, assets leased by the Group under operating leases are included in non-current assets, and rentals receivable under the operating leases are credited to the income statement on the straight-line basis over the lease terms. Where the Group is the lessee, rentals payable under the operating leases, net of any incentives received from the lessor, are charged to the income statement on the straight-line basis over the lease terms.

Prepaid land premiums under operating leases are initially stated at cost and subsequently amortised on the straight-line basis over the lease terms. When the lease payments cannot be allocated reliably between the land and buildings elements, the entire lease payments are included in the cost of the buildings as a finance lease in property, plant and equipment.

Intangible assets (other than goodwill)

The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed to be either finite or indefinite. Intangible assets with finite lives are amortised over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at each balance sheet date.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are tested for impairment annually either individually or at the cash-generating unit level. Such intangible assets are not amortised. The useful life of an intangible asset with an indefinite life is reviewed annually to determine whether indefinite life assessment continues to be supportable. If not, the change in the useful life assessment from indefinite to finite is accounted for on a prospective basis.

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal or no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss on disposal or retirement recognised in the income statement in the period the intangible asset is derecognised is the difference between the net sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the relevant intangible asset.

Operating concessions

Operating concessions represent the rights to operate a water treatment plant and a toll road, and to sell entrance tickets in a scenic area, and are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation is provided on the straight-line basis over the respective periods of the operating concessions granted to the Group of 20 to 40 years.

Management information systems

Management information systems are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation is provided on the straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of 10 years.

Licences

Licences are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation is provided on the straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of 5 to 10 years.

2.4 SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

Intangible assets (other than goodwill) (continued)Research and development costs

All research costs are charged to the income statement as incurred.

Expenditure incurred on projects to develop new products is capitalised and deferred only when the Group can demonstrate the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset arising from the projects so that it will be available for use or sale, its intention to complete and its ability to use or sell the asset, how the asset will generate future economic benefits, the availability of resources to complete the project and the ability to measure reliably the expenditure during the development. Product development expenditure which does not meet these criteria is expensed when incurred.

Deferred development costs are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation is provided on the straight-line basis over the commercial lives of the underlying products, subject to a maximum of 20 years, commencing from the date when the products are put into commercial production.

Investments and other financial assets

Financial assets in the scope of HKAS 39 are classified as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, loans and receivables or available-for-sale investments, as appropriate. When financial assets are recognised initially, they are measured at fair value, plus, in the case of investments not at fair value through profit or loss, directly attributable transaction costs. The Group determines the classification of its financial assets after initial recognition and, where allowed and appropriate, re-evaluates this designation at the balance sheet date.

All regular way purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised on the trade date, that is, the date that the Group commits to purchase or sell the asset. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the period generally established by regulation or convention in the marketplace.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are financial assets held for trading. Financial assets are classified as held for trading if they are acquired for the purpose of sale in the near term. Gains or losses on investments held for trading are recognised in the income statement.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Such assets are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Amortised cost is calculated taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and includes fees that are an integral part of the effective interest rate and transaction costs. Gains and losses are recognised in the income statement when the loans and receivables are derecognised or impaired, as well as through the amortisation process.

Investments and other financial assets (continued)Available-for-sale investments

Available-for-sale investments are non-derivative financial assets in listed and unlisted equity securities that are designated as available for sale or are not classified in any of the other two categories. After initial recognition, available-for-sale investments are measured at fair value, with gains or losses recognised as movements in the investment revaluation reserve, until the investment is derecognised or until the investment is determined to be impaired, at which time the cumulative gain or loss previously reported in the investment revaluation reserve is included in the income statement.

When the fair value of unlisted equity securities cannot be reliably measured because (a) the variability in the range of reasonable fair value estimates is significant for those investments or (b) the probabilities of the various estimates within the range cannot be reasonably assessed and used in estimating fair value, such securities are stated at cost less any accumulated impairment losses.

Fair value

The fair value of investments that are actively traded in organised financial markets is determined by reference to quoted market bid prices at the close of business at the balance sheet date. For investments where there is no active market, fair value is determined using valuation techniques. Such techniques include using recent arm's length market transactions; reference to the current market value of another instrument which is substantially the same; a discounted cash flow analysis; and option pricing models.

Impairment of financial assets

The Group assesses at each balance sheet date whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired.

Assets carried at amortised cost

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on loans and receivables carried at amortised cost has been incurred, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have not been incurred) discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate (i.e., the effective interest rate computed at initial recognition). The carrying amount of the asset is reduced either directly or through the use of an allowance account. The amount of the impairment loss is recognised in the income statement.

The Group first assesses whether objective evidence of impairment exists individually for financial assets that are individually significant, and individually or collectively for financial assets that are not individually significant. If it is determined that no objective evidence of impairment exists for an individually assessed financial asset, whether significant or not, the asset is included in a group of financial assets with similar credit risk characteristics and that group is collectively assessed for impairment. Assets that are individually assessed for impairment and for which an impairment loss is or continues to be recognised are not included in a collective assessment of impairment.

If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed. Any subsequent reversal of an impairment loss is recognised in the income statement, to the extent that the carrying value of the asset does not exceed its amortised cost at the reversal date.

In relation to trade and bill receivables, a provision for impairment is made when there is objective evidence (such as the probability of insolvency or significant financial difficulties of the debtor) that the Group will not be able to collect all of the amounts due. The carrying amount of the receivables is reduced through the use of an allowance account. Impaired debts are derecognised when they are assessed as uncollectible.

Available-for-sale investments carried at cost

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on an unquoted equity instrument that is not carried at fair value because its fair value cannot be reliably measured has been incurred, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset. Impairment losses on these assets are recognised in the income statement and are not reversed.

Available-for-sale investments carried at fair value

If an available-for-sale investment is impaired, an amount comprising the difference between its cost (net of any principal payment and amortisation) and its current fair value, less any impairment loss previously recognised in the income statement, is transferred from the investment revaluation reserve to the income statement. Impairment losses on equity instruments classified as available for sale are not reversed through the income statement.

Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognised where:

- the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired;
- the Group retains the rights to receive cash flows from the asset, but has assumed an obligation to pay them in full without material delay to a third party under a "pass-through" arrangement; or
- the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset and either (a) has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

Where the Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset and has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset nor transferred control of the asset, the asset is recognised to the extent of the Group's continuing involvement in the asset. Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Group could be required to repay.

Where continuing involvement takes the form of a written and/or purchased option (including a cash-settled option or similar provision) on the transferred asset, the extent of the Group's continuing involvement is the amount of the transferred asset that the Group may repurchase, except in the case of a written put option (including a cash-settled option or similar provision) on an asset measured at fair value, where the extent of the Group's continuing involvement is limited to the lower of the fair value of the transferred asset and the option exercise price.

Financial liabilities including trade and bills payables, amounts due to customers for contract work, other payables and accruals, bank and other borrowings and other long term liabilities are initially stated at fair value less directly attributable transaction costs and are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method unless the effect of discounting would be immaterial, in which case they are stated at cost.

Gains and losses are recognised in the income statement when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the amortisation process.

Financial guarantee contracts

Financial guarantee contracts in the scope of HKAS 39 are accounted for as financial liabilities. A financial guarantee contract is recognised initially at its fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial guarantee contract, except when such contract is recognised at fair value through profit or loss. Subsequent to initial recognition, the Group measures the financial guarantee contract at the higher of: (i) the amount determined in accordance with HKAS 37 "Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets" and (ii) the amount initially recognised less, when appropriate, cumulative amortisation recognised in accordance with HKAS 18 "Revenue".

Convertible bonds

The component of convertible bonds that exhibits characteristics of a liability is recognised as a liability in the balance sheet, net of transaction costs. On issuance of convertible bonds, the fair value of the liability component is determined using a market rate for an equivalent non-convertible bond; and this amount is carried as a non-current liability on the amortised cost basis until extinguished on conversion or redemption. The remainder of the proceeds is allocated to the conversion option that is recognised and included in shareholders' equity, net of transaction costs. The carrying amount of the conversion option is not remeasured in subsequent years.

Transaction costs are apportioned between the liability and equity components of the convertible bonds based on the allocation of proceeds to the liability and equity components when the instruments are first recognised.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires.

When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and a recognition of a new liability, and the difference between the respective carrying amounts is recognised in income statement.

Properties under development

Properties under development represent properties under construction for future sale and are stated at cost less any accumulated impairment losses. Cost comprises the prepaid land premiums for land together with any other direct costs attributable to the development of the properties, borrowing costs and professional fees capitalised during the development period.

Properties under development which are expected to be completed within 12 months from the balance sheet date are classified as current assets.

Properties held for sale are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost includes all development expenditure, applicable borrowing costs and other direct costs attributable to such properties. Net realisable value is determined by reference to prevailing market prices on an individual property basis.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined on the first-in, first-out basis or weighted average basis, and in the case of work in progress and finished goods, comprises direct materials, direct labour and an appropriate proportion of overheads. Net realisable value is based on the estimated selling prices less any estimated costs to be incurred to completion and disposal.

Construction contracts

Contract revenue comprises the agreed contract amount and appropriate amounts from variation orders, claims and incentive payments. Contract costs incurred comprise direct materials, the costs of subcontracting, direct labour and an appropriate proportion of variable and fixed construction overheads.

Revenue from fixed price construction contracts is recognised on the percentage-of-completion method, measured by reference to the proportion of costs incurred to date to the estimated total cost of the relevant contract.

Revenue from cost plus construction contracts is recognised on the percentage-of-completion method, by reference to the recoverable costs incurred during the period plus the related fee earned, measured by the proportion of costs incurred to date to the estimate total cost of the relevant contract.

Provision is made for foreseeable losses as soon as they are anticipated by management.

Where contract costs incurred to date plus recognised profits less recognised losses exceed progress billings, the surplus is treated as an amount due from customers for contract work.

Where progress billings exceed contract costs incurred to date plus recognised profits less recognised losses, the surplus is treated as an amount due to customers for contract work.

Cash and cash equivalents

For the purpose of the consolidated cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and demand deposits, and short term highly liquid investments which are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, and have a short maturity of generally within three months when acquired, less bank overdrafts which are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Group's cash management.

For the purpose of the balance sheets, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and at banks, including term deposits, and assets similar in nature to cash, which are not restricted as to use.

Provisions

A provision is recognised when a present obligation (legal or constructive) has arisen as a result of a past event and it is probable that a future outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, provided that a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

Provisions (continued)

When the effect of discounting is material, the amount recognised for a provision is the present value at the balance sheet date of the future expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation. The increase in the discounted present value amount arising from the passage of time is included in finance costs in the income statement.

Income tax

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax is recognised in the income statement, or in equity if it relates to items that are recognised in the same or a different period directly in equity.

Current tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities.

Deferred tax is provided, using the liability method, on all temporary differences at the balance sheet date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- where the deferred tax liability arises from goodwill or the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss; and
- in respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates and interests in joint ventures, where the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, carryforward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses, to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carryforward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except:

- where the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary differences arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss; and
- in respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates and interests in joint ventures, deferred tax assets are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Conversely, previously unrecognised deferred tax assets are reassessed at each balance sheet date and are recognised to the extent that it is probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset, if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

Government grants

Government grants are recognised at their fair value where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and all attaching conditions will be complied with. When the grant relates to an expense item, it is recognised as income over the periods necessary to match the grant on a systematic basis to the costs that it is intended to compensate. Where the grant relates to an asset, the fair value is credited to a deferred income account and is released to the income statement over the expected useful life of the relevant asset by equal annual instalments or is deducted from the carrying amount of the asset and released to the income statement by way of a reduced depreciation/amortisation charge.

Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and when the revenue can be measured reliably, on the following bases:

- (a) from the sale of goods, when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the buyer, provided that the Group maintains neither managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership, nor effective control over the goods sold;
- (b) toll revenue, rental and hotel income, on an accrual basis;
- (c) from the sale of completed properties, upon execution of the sales agreements;

Employee benefits*Share-based payment transactions*

The Company, Beijing Development (Hong Kong) Limited (“Beijing Development”) and Xteam Software International Limited (“Xteam”), each operates a share option scheme for the granting of non-transferable options, for the purpose of providing incentives and rewards, to eligible participants who contribute to the success of the operations of the Group, the Beijing Development group and the Xteam group, respectively. Employees (including directors) of the respective groups receive remuneration in the form of share-based payment transactions, whereby employees render services as consideration for equity instruments (“equity-settled transactions”).

The cost of equity-settled transactions with employees is measured by reference to the fair value at the date at which they are granted. The fair values of the share options granted by the Company and Beijing Development during the year are determined by external valuers using the binomial lattice model and the Black-Scholes-Merton option pricing model, respectively, further details of which are given in note 36 to the financial statements. In valuing equity-settled transactions, no account is taken of any performance conditions, other than conditions linked to the price of the shares of the Company, Beijing Development and Xteam (“market conditions”), if applicable.

The cost of equity-settled transactions is recognised, together with a corresponding increase in equity, over the period in which the performance and/or service conditions are fulfilled, ending on the date on which the relevant employees become fully entitled to the award (the “vesting date”). The cumulative expense recognised for equity-settled transactions at each balance sheet date until the vesting date reflects the extent to which the vesting period has expired and the Group’s best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. The charge or credit to the income statement for a period represents the movement in the cumulative expense recognised as at the beginning and end of that period.

No expense is recognised for awards that do not ultimately vest, except for awards where vesting is conditional upon a market condition, which are treated as vesting irrespective of whether or not the market condition is satisfied, provided that all other performance conditions are satisfied.

Where the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, as a minimum an expense is recognised as if the terms had not been modified. In addition, an expense is recognised for any modification, which increases the total fair value of the share-based payment arrangement, or is otherwise beneficial to the employee as measured at the date of modification.

Where an equity-settled award is cancelled, it is treated as if it had vested on the date of cancellation, and any expense not yet recognised for the award is recognised immediately. However, if a new award is substituted for the cancelled award, and is designated as a replacement award on the date that it is granted, the cancelled and new awards are treated as if they were a modification of the original award, as described in the previous paragraph.

The dilutive effect of outstanding options, if any, reflected as additional share dilution in the computation of earnings per share.

The Group has adopted the transitional provisions of HKFRS 2 “Share-based Payment” in respect of equity-settled awards and has applied HKFRS 2 only to equity-settled awards granted after 7 November 2002 that had not vested on or before 31 December 2003 and to those granted on or after 1 January 2004.

Upon the exercise of share options, the resulting shares issued are recorded by the Company, Beijing Development or Xteam as additional share capital at the nominal value of the shares, and the excess of the exercise price per share over the nominal value of the shares is recorded by the Company, Beijing Development or Xteam in the respective share premium accounts. Options which are cancelled prior to their exercise date, or which lapse, are deleted from the register of outstanding options.

Employee benefits (continued)Pension costs

The Group has joined a number of defined contribution pension schemes organised by certain PRC provincial or municipal governments for certain of its employees, the assets of which are held separately from those of the Group. Contributions made are based on a percentage of the eligible employees' salaries and are charged to the income statement as they become payable, in accordance with the rules of the pension schemes. The employer contributions vest fully once made.

For those employees that have not yet joined a pension scheme, the Group has accrued for the estimated future pension costs based on a percentage of their salaries. The related assets for the purpose of discharging such liabilities are not separately held from those of the Group.

The Group also operates a defined contribution Mandatory Provident Fund retirement benefits scheme in Hong Kong (the "MPF Scheme") under the Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Ordinance, for those employees who are eligible to participate in the MPF Scheme. Contributions are made based on a percentage of the employees' basic salaries and are charged to the income statement as they become payable in accordance with the rules of the MPF Scheme. The assets of the MPF Scheme are held separately from those of the Group in an independently administered fund. The Group's employer contributions vest fully with the employees when contributed into the MPF Scheme.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, i.e., assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are capitalised as part of the cost of those assets. The capitalisation of such borrowing costs ceases when the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs capitalised.

Foreign currencies

These financial statements are presented in Hong Kong dollars, which is the Company's functional and presentation currency. Each entity in the Group determines its own functional currency and items included in the financial statements of each entity are measured using that functional currency. Foreign currency transactions are initially recorded using the functional currency rates ruling at the date of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the functional currency rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date. All differences are taken to the income statement. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined.

The functional currencies of certain overseas subsidiaries, jointly-controlled entities and associates are currencies other than the Hong Kong dollar. As at the balance sheet date, the assets and liabilities of these entities are translated into the presentation currency of the Company at the exchange rates ruling at the balance sheet date and, their income statements are translated into Hong Kong dollars at the weighted average exchange rates for the year. The resulting exchange differences are included in the exchange fluctuation reserve. On disposal of a foreign entity, the deferred cumulative amount recognised in the exchange fluctuation reserve relating to that particular foreign operation is recognised in the income statement.

For the purpose of the consolidated cash flow statement, the cash flows of overseas subsidiaries are translated into Hong Kong dollars at the exchange rates ruling at the dates of the cash flows. Frequently recurring cash flows of overseas subsidiaries which arise throughout the year are translated into Hong Kong dollars at the weighted average exchange rates for the year.

Dividends

Final dividends proposed by the directors are classified as a separate allocation of retained profits within the equity section of the balance sheet, until they have been approved by the shareholders in a general meeting. When these dividends have been approved by the shareholders and declared, they are recognised as a liability.

Interim dividends are simultaneously proposed and declared, because the Company's memorandum and articles of association grant the directors the authority to declare interim dividends. Consequently, interim dividends are recognised immediately as a liability when they are proposed and declared.

2.5 SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND ESTIMATES

In the process of applying the Group's accounting policies, management has made judgements and assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the balance sheet date. The major judgements and estimations that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the financial statements and have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are set out below:

Operating lease commitments – Group as lessor

The Group has entered into commercial property leases on its investment property portfolio. The Group has determined that it retains all the significant risks and rewards of ownership of these properties which are leased out on operating leases.

Classification between investment properties and owner-occupied properties

The Group determines whether a property qualifies as an investment property, and has developed criteria in making that judgement. Investment property is a property held to earn rentals or for capital appreciation or both. Therefore, the Group considers whether a property generates cash flows largely independently of the other assets held by the Group.

Some properties comprise a portion that is held to earn rentals or for capital appreciation and another portion that is held for use in the production or supply of goods or services or for administrative purposes. If these portions could be sold separately (or leased out separately under a finance lease), the Group accounts for the portions separately. If the portions could not be sold separately, the property is an investment property only if an insignificant portion is held for use in the production or supply of goods or services or for administrative purposes.

Judgement is made on an individual property basis to determine whether ancillary services are so significant that a property does not qualify as an investment property.

The Group determines whether goodwill is impaired at least on an annual basis. This requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash-generating units to which the goodwill is allocated. Estimating the value in use requires the Group to make an estimate of the expected future cash flows from the cash-generating unit and also to choose a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value of those cash flows. The carrying amount of goodwill in aggregate carried as an asset in the consolidated balance sheet as at 31 December 2006 was HK$78,172,000 (2005: HK$275,777,000), details of which are set out in notes 19 and 23 to the financial statements.

Useful lives and residual values of property, plant and equipment

The Group's management determines the residual values, useful lives and related depreciation charges for the Group's property, plant and equipment. This estimate is based on the historical experience of the actual residual values and useful lives of property, plant and equipment of similar nature and functions. It could change significantly as a result of technical innovations and competitor actions in response to severe industry cycles. Management will increase the depreciation charge where residual values or useful lives are less than previously estimated, or it will write off or write down technically obsolete or non-strategic assets that have been abandoned or sold. Actual economic lives may differ from estimated useful lives. Periodic review could result in a change in depreciable lives therefore depreciation in the future periods.

Impairment of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets (other than goodwill)

The carrying amounts of items of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets are reviewed for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying amounts may not be recoverable in accordance with the accounting policy as disclosed in note 2.4 to the financial statements. The recoverable amount is calculated as the higher of its fair value less costs to sell and value in use, and such calculations involve the use of estimates. In estimating the recoverable amounts of assets, various assumptions, including future cash flows to be associated with the non-current assets and discount rates, are made. If future events do not correspond to such assumptions, the recoverable amounts will need to be revised, and this may have an impact on the Group's results of operations or financial position.

Impairment of available-for-sale investments

The Group follows the guidance of HKAS 39 in determining when an investment is other-than-temporarily impaired. This determination requires significant judgement. In making this judgement, the Group evaluates, among other factors, the duration and the extent to which the fair value of an investment is less than its cost; and the financial health of and the near term business outlook for the investee, including factors such as industry and sector performance, changes in technology and operating and financing cash flows.

Current tax and deferred tax

The Group is subject to income taxes in Hong Kong, Mainland China and overseas. The Group carefully evaluates tax implications of its transactions in accordance with prevailing tax regulations and makes tax provision accordingly. However, judgement is required in determining the Group's provision for income taxes as there are many transactions and calculations of which the ultimate tax determination is uncertain during the ordinary course of business. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact on the income tax and deferred tax provision in the periods in which such determination is made.

Deferred tax assets relating to certain temporary differences and tax losses are recognised as management considers it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences or tax losses can be utilised. Where the expectations are different from the original estimates, such differences will impact on the recognition of deferred tax assets and tax in the periods in which such estimates have been changed.

Provision for impairment of trade and bills receivables

The Group's management determines the provision for impairment of trade and bills receivables. This estimate is based on the credit history of the customers and the current market condition and the provision is applied to receivables where events or changes in circumstances indicate that the balances may not be collectible. Management reassesses the adequacy of provision on a regular basis. The identification of impairment of receivables requires the use of judgements and estimates. Where the expectations are different from the original estimates, such differences will impact on the carrying values of receivables and the impairment of receivables recognised in the periods in which such estimates have been changed.

Provision against obsolete and slow-moving inventories

Management reviews the condition of inventories of the Group and makes provision against obsolete and slow-moving inventory items which are identified as no longer suitable for sale or use. Management estimates the net realisable value for such inventories based primarily on the latest invoice prices and current market conditions. The Group carries out an inventory review at each balance sheet date and makes provision against obsolete and slow-moving items. Management reassesses the estimation on each balance sheet date.

The identification of obsolete and slow-moving inventory items requires the use of judgements and estimates. Where the expectation is different from the original estimate, such difference will impact on the carrying values of inventories and the write-down of inventories recognised in the periods in which such estimates have been changed.

Segment information is presented by way of two segment formats: (i) on a primary segment reporting basis, by business segment; and (ii) on a secondary segment reporting basis, by geographical segment.

The Group's operating businesses are structured and managed separately according to the nature of their operations and the products and services they provide. Each of the Group's business segments represents a strategic business unit that offers products and services which are subject to risks and returns that are different from those of the other business segments. Particulars of the business segments are summarised as follows:

- (a) the brewery operation segment produces, distributes and sells brewery products;
- (b) the retail operation segment operates department stores in Beijing and certain other cities in the PRC (discontinued during the year ended 31 December 2006 – note 12);
- (c) the expressway and toll road operations segment engages in the operation of the Capital Airport Expressway, which connects the Capital Airport and the city centre of Beijing, and the Shenzhen Shiguan Road and Bridge, which is located at Shenzhen Municipality, the PRC;
- (d) the water treatment operation segment operates water treatment plants in Beijing and another city in the PRC and sells purified water; and
- (e) the corporate and others segment mainly comprises the construction of broadband infrastructure, sale of software, the provision of Internet services and IT technical support and consultation services, the construction of geothermal energy systems and provision of related installation services, tourism operation, production, distribution and sale of wine, restaurant operation, property construction and development (discontinued during the year ended 31 December 2006 – note 12), property investments and corporate income and expense items.

In determining the Group's geographical segments, revenues are attributed to the segments based on the location of the customers, and assets are attributed to the segments based on the location of the assets.

* The government grants represented government subsidies, corporate income tax and turnover tax refunds. Turnover tax includes value-added tax, city construction tax and education surcharge. The government grants are unconditional, except for certain grants which must be utilised for the development of the Company's subsidiaries.

The indemnification from related companies recognised as income during the year ended 31 December 2006 represented the indemnification given by 北京控股集團有限公司 (Beijing Enterprises Group Company Limited) (“Beijing Enterprises Group”, a state-owned enterprise established by The State-owned Assets Supervision and Administration Commission (the “SASAC”) of the People's Government of Beijing Municipality in January 2005) to the Group for the tax liability incurred by 北京市京聯發投資管理中心 (Beijing Jing Lian Fa Investment Management Centre) (“Jing Lian Fa”) on the disposal of its 49.52% equity interest in Beijing Wangfujing Department Store (Group) Co., Ltd. (“Wangfujing”). Further details of the disposal are set out in note 12 to the financial statements.

Ω The gain on disposal of interests in jointly-controlled entities recognised during the year ended 31 December 2005 arose from the disposal of all of the Group's equity interest in 北京秦昌玻璃有限公司 (Beijing Qin Chang Glass Company Limited) and Beijing Enterprises (Tourism) Limited (“BE Tourism”), which held a 75% equity interest in Beijing Badaling Tourism Co., Ltd. (“Badaling Tourism”) during that year.

*31 December 20065. GAINS ON DEEMED DISPOSAL OF INTERESTS IN SUBSIDIARIES

The gains on deemed disposal of interests in subsidiaries recognised during the year included the following:

- (i) a gain of HK$141,341,000 (2005: HK$14,498,000) arising from the dilution of the Group's effective equity interest in Beijing Yanjing Brewery Company Limited ("Yanjing Brewery"), an indirectly held subsidiary of the Company, from 54.46% (2005: 54.86%) to 50.47% (2005: 54.46%) upon the exercise of convertible bonds of Yanjing Brewery by certain bondholders in exchange for ordinary shares of Yanjing Brewery. Further details of the Group's convertible bonds are set out in note 39 to the financial statements; and
- (ii) a gain of HK$5,616,000 arising from the dilution of the Group's effective equity interest in Beijing Development, a then indirectly held subsidiary of the Company, from 55.81% to 46.57% upon the issuance of new shares by Beijing Development in December 2006. Beijing Development ceased to be a subsidiary and became an associate of the Group thereafter.

6. DILUTION LOSSES ON SHARE REFORMS OF SUBSIDIARIES

The dilution losses on share reforms of subsidiaries recognised during the year ended 31 December 2006 comprised the following:

- (i) a loss of approximately HK$436,881,000 arising from the dilution of interests in Yanjing Brewery, an indirectly held subsidiary of the Company with its shares listed on the Shenzhen Stock Exchange, as a result of the execution of a share reform plan by Yanjing Brewery in May 2006 under the requirements of the relevant PRC government authorities. Pursuant to the share reform plan of Yanjing Brewery, the Group was required to grant a certain portion of its shares in Yanjing Brewery to other shareholders who held the tradable shares in Yanjing Brewery for nil consideration to convert the non-tradable shares in Yanjing Brewery held by the Group into tradable shares. Accordingly, the equity interest in Yanjing Brewery held by its immediate holding company (owned as to 80% by the Company indirectly) was diluted from 63.09% to 54.10% and the loss resulted was accounted for as a dilution loss in the consolidated income statement for the year ended 31 December 2006; and
- (ii) a loss of approximately HK$48,946,000 arising from the dilution of interests in Fujian Yanjing Huiquan Brewery Co., Ltd. ("Yanjing Huiquan"), a directly held subsidiary of Yanjing Brewery with its shares listed on the Shanghai Stock Exchange, as a result of the execution of a share reform plan of Yanjing Huiquan in July 2006 under the requirements of the relevant PRC government authorities. Pursuant to the share reform plan of Yanjing Huiquan, Yanjing Brewery was required to grant a certain portion of its shares in Yanjing Huiquan to the other shareholders who held the tradable shares in Yanjing Huiquan for nil consideration to convert the non-tradable shares in Yanjing Huiquan held by Yanjing Brewery into tradable shares. Accordingly, the effective interest in Yanjing Huiquan held by Yanjing Brewery was diluted from 52.37% to 48.67% and the loss resulted was accounted for as a dilution loss in the consolidated income statement for the year ended 31 December 2006.

In addition, pursuant to the share reform plan, Yanjing Huiquan agreed to grant one additional share to shareholders of tradable shares for every 10 tradable shares held by each of them on the condition that (i) the growth rate of the audited profit for the year attributable to shareholders of Yanjing Huiquan for each of the year ended 31 December 2006 and years ending 31 December 2007 and 2008 is below 25%; or (ii) the audit opinion to be included in the auditors' report of Yanjing Huiquan for each of these years is a modified or qualified opinion.

Since the audited financial statements of Yanjing Huiquan are yet to be issued at the date of approval of these financial statements, in the opinion of the directors, the potential financial impact in respect of the above-mentioned arrangement cannot be reasonably estimated at this stage.

*31 December 200612. DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS

The Group's discontinued operations in the years ended 31 December 2006 and 2005 included the following:

- (i) The retail and property construction and development operations operated by Wangfujing.

Pursuant to a share transfer agreement and two supplementary agreements (collectively the "Wangfujing Disposal Agreements") thereto dated 31 March 2006, 1 June 2006 and 2 July 2006, respectively, entered into between two wholly-owned subsidiaries of the Company, namely Jing Lian Fa and Beijing Enterprises Holdings Investment Management Co., Ltd. ("Investment Management"), Beijing Enterprises Group and 北京北控商業投資有限責任公司 (Beijing Beikong Commercial Investment Limited Company) ("Beikong Commercial", a subsidiary of Beijing Enterprises Group), Jing Lian Fa and Investment Management sold their respective entire 49.52% and 0.61% equity interests in Wangfujing to Beikong Commercial for cash considerations of RMB978,000,000 and RMB22,000,000, respectively, during the year ended 31 December 2006.

The cash considerations of RMB1,000,000,000 in aggregate were originally to be settled in three instalments, which were due for settlement in 2006, 2007 and 2008 in accordance with the Wangfujing Disposal Agreements. However, the amounts were fully settled during the year ended 31 December 2006.

Approvals from the shareholders of the Company, the SASAC of the State Council and the China Securities Regulatory Commission regarding the transactions were obtained on 29 June 2006, 4 September 2006 and 16 October 2006, respectively. The share transfers were completed on 12 December 2006 and the Group no longer holds any interest in Wangfujing since then.

The Group's retail operation, being a major separate business segment of the Group, and the Group's property construction and development operation were solely undertaken by Wangfujing. Accordingly, the retail and property construction and development operations of the Group were discontinued upon the completion of the disposal transactions.

Pursuant to an undertaking letter dated 18 December 2006 given by Beijing Enterprises Group to the Company, Beijing Enterprises Group has undertaken to indemnify the Group for an amount equivalent to the tax liability of Jing Lian Fa arising from the disposal of its equity interest in Wangfujing. The indemnification, which would be executed if the relevant tax payment is required to be made by Jing Lian Fa, was recognised by the Group in the current year in an amount of HK$193,551,000 to match with the corresponding corporate income tax charge accrued by the Group in connection with the disposal of Wangfujing.

- (ii) The dairy operations operated by Sanyuan Foods. The Group's equity interest in Sanyuan Foods was disposed of in January 2005 (note 4).

(b) Impairment testing of goodwill

The carrying amount of the goodwill acquired through acquisitions has been allocated to the relevant business units of the following individual business operations of the Group for impairment testing, which is summarised as follows:

Group

	Notes	2006 HK$'000	2005 HK$'000
Retail operation	(i)	–	34,520
Expressway and toll road operations	(ii)	21,687	21,687
Telecommunications and IT related services and products operation	(iii)	–	132,230
Geothermal energy systems operation	(iv)	–	44,625
Others		22,490	42,715
		44,177	275,777

Notes:

- (i) The goodwill that has been allocated to the retail operation of the Group in the prior year was derecognised during the year upon the disposal of Wangfujing, details of which are set out in note 12 to the financial statements.
- (ii) The recoverable amount of the relevant business unit in the expressway and toll road operations has been determined based on a value-in-use calculation. To calculate this, cash flow projections are based on financial budgets approved by senior management covering a period of approximately 15 years, which represents the remaining period of the operating right of the relevant business unit. The discount rate applied to cash flow projections is 13.5%, which is the average discount rate for the toll road industry in Mainland China.
- (iii) The goodwill that has been allocated to the telecommunications and IT related services and products operation of the Group in the prior year comprised goodwill of HK$33,995,000 arising on the acquisition of Beijing Development by the Group in prior years and goodwill of HK$98,235,000 in aggregate arising on the acquisition of subsidiaries by the Beijing Development group itself. The goodwill was reallocated to interests in associates upon the dilution of the Group's equity interest in Beijing Development as a result of the issuance of new shares by Beijing Development in December 2006, further details of which are set out in note 46(b)(ii) to the financial statements.
- (iv) The recoverable amount of the geothermal energy systems operation has been determined by reference to a business valuation performed by DTZ Debenham Tie Leung Limited, independent professionally qualified valuers, on a value-in-use calculation using cash flow projections which are based on financial budgets approved by management covering a period of 5 years. The discount rate applied to the cash flow projections is 25%, which is determined by reference to the average discount rates for the relevant industries and the business risks of the relevant business units.

19. GOODWILL (continued)

During the year ended 31 December 2006, an impairment loss of HK$44,625,000 (2005: HK$59,658,000) has been recognised in the income statement for the goodwill attributable to the Group's geothermal energy systems operation as the senior management of the Group believes that the recoverable amount of the relevant business unit is less than the carrying amount with reference to the business valuation.

Based on the impairment testing of goodwill, in the opinion of the directors, no further impairment provision is considered necessary for the remaining balance of the Group's goodwill.

Key assumptions used in value-in-use calculations

The following describes each key assumption adopted by management in the preparation of the cash flow projections for the purpose of impairment testing of goodwill:

- Budgeted turnover

The budgeted turnover is based on the following assumptions:

- in respect of the relevant business unit in the expressway and toll road operations segment, based on the traffic and toll revenue forecast; and
- in respect of the business units in other business segments, with reference to (i) the expected growth rate of the market in which the assessed entity operates and (ii) the expected market share of the assessed entity.

- Budgeted gross margins

The basis used to determine the value assigned to the budgeted gross margins is the average gross margins achieved in the year immediately before the budgeted year, increased for expected efficiency improvements.

- Business environment

There have been no major changes in the existing political, legal and economic conditions in the PRC and other locations in which the assessed entity carried on its business.

The cash consideration paid by each director and employee for the options granted was HK$1 per grant of options. The options may be exercised in two portions, with the first portion (representing 80% of the total options granted for each grantee) being vested on 19 January 2007 and exercisable at any time from that date; and the second portion (representing the remaining 20% of the total options granted for each grantee) being vested and exercisable upon the Company's full satisfaction of performance appraisal at the end of the grantee's contracts with the Company, save that such date shall not be later than 18 July 2011. All the options, if not otherwise exercised, will lapse on 18 July 2011.

The estimated fair value of the share options granted during the year was HK$23,600,000, of which the Group recognised in the income statement employees share option benefits of HK$21,279,000 during the year ended 31 December 2006. The fair value of the options granted was estimated as at the date of grant using the binomial lattice model, taking into account the terms and conditions upon which the options were granted. The following table lists the inputs to the model used for the year ended 31 December 2006:

- Share price as at the grant date of HK$12.35 per share, which was the closing price of the Company's shares on the Stock Exchange at 19 July 2006;
- Risk-free rate of 4.45% per annum, which was the yield of the 5-year Hong Kong Monetary Authority Exchange Fund Note in July 2006;
- Expected annualised share price volatility of 38.08%, of which reference was made to the volatility of the historical share price of the Company from 19 July 2005 to 18 July 2006;
- Dividend yield of 2.44%;
- Expected life of the options of 5 years; and
- The factor regarding the second portion of the options which is associated with the Company's full satisfaction of performance appraisal at the end of the grantees' contracts with the Company has not been quantified and considered in this valuation.

The expected volatility reflects the assumption that the volatility for 12 months is indicative of future trends, which may not necessarily be the actual outcome.

No other feature of the options granted was incorporated into the measurement of fair value.

No share options were exercised during the year and up to the date of approval of these financial statements. At 31 December 2006, the Company had 5,900,000 share options outstanding under the Scheme, which represented approximately 0.9% of the Company's shares in issue at that date. The exercise in full of the remaining share options would, under the present capital structure of the Company, result in the issue of 5,900,000 additional ordinary shares of the Company and additional share capital of HK$590,000 and share premium of HK$73,455,000 (before any issue expenses).

Beijing Development

Beijing Development, previously a subsidiary of the Company whose shares are listed on the Main Board of the Stock Exchange and became an associate of the Company in December 2006 as detailed in notes 5 and 46(b)(ii) to the financial statements, operates a share option scheme (the "BDHK Scheme") to give executives and key employees of the Beijing Development group an interest in preserving and maximising its shareholders' value in the longer term, to enable Beijing Development and its relevant subsidiaries to attract and retain individuals with experience and ability and to reward individuals for future performance. Eligible participants of the BDHK Scheme include the executive directors and employees of Beijing Development or any of its subsidiaries. The BDHK Scheme became effective on 18 June 2001 and, unless otherwise cancelled or amended, will remain in force for 10 years from that date.

The maximum number of unexercised share options currently permitted to be granted under the BDHK Scheme is an amount equivalent, upon their exercise, to 10% of the shares of Beijing Development in issue at any time. The maximum number of shares issuable under share options to each eligible participant in the BDHK Scheme is limited to 25% of the aggregate number of shares for the time being issued and issuable under the BDHK Scheme.

The offer of a grant of share options may be accepted within 28 days from the date of the offer, upon payment of a nominal consideration of HK$1 in total by the grantee. The exercise period of the share options granted is determinable by the directors of Beijing Development, and commences after a certain vesting period and ends on a date which is not later than five years from the date on which the offer of the share options is accepted or on the expiry date of the BDHK Scheme, whichever is earlier.

The exercise price of the share options is determinable by the directors of Beijing Development, but may not be less than the highest of (i) the closing price of Beijing Development's ordinary shares on the Stock Exchange on the date of the offer of the share options; (ii) the average closing price of Beijing Development's ordinary shares on the Stock Exchange on the five trading days immediately preceding the date of the offer; and (iii) the nominal value of an ordinary share of Beijing Development. The exercise price of the share options is subject to adjustment in the case of rights or bonus issues, or other similar changes in Beijing Development's share capital.

Share options do not confer rights on the holders to dividends or to vote at shareholders' meetings.

The first portion is exercisable at any time commencing on 18 January 2002, and each further portion becomes exercisable on 1 January in each of the following years. Owing to the resignation of certain employees of Beijing Development during the year, the 6,300,000 share options granted to them were forfeited accordingly. All of the remaining options were subsequently exercised on 9 January 2007.
- (c) These options were granted and vested on 27 June 2006 at an exercise price of HK$1.00 per share. The fair value of the options as at the date of grant was estimated using the Black-Scholes-Merton option pricing model, taking into account the terms and conditions upon which the options were granted. The following table lists the inputs to the model used for the year ended 31 December 2006:

- Weighted average share price of HK$0.753 per share, which was the closing price of Beijing Development at 27 June 2006;
- Risk-free rate of 4.68% to 4.71%, of which reference was made to the Hong Kong Monetary Authority Exchange Fund Notes with maturity similar to the expected life of the options;
- Expected volatility of 48.27% to 48.44%, of which reference was made to the volatility of Beijing Development's shares in periods of 24 to 30 months periods before the grant date of the options;
- Nil dividend yield; and
- Expected life of the options of 24 to 30 months.

The expected life of the options is based on the historical data over the past three years and is not necessarily indicative of the exercise patterns that may occur. The expected volatility reflects the assumption that the volatility for 24 to 30 months is indicative of future trends, which may also not necessarily be the actual outcome.

No other feature of the options granted was incorporated into the measurement of fair value.

In addition, certain of the Group's secured bank loans as at 31 December 2005 were secured by mortgages over certain of the Group's bank balances at that date of HK$4,377,000 in aggregate (note 24(a)).

39. CONVERTIBLE BONDS

On 16 October 2002, Yanjing Brewery, a subsidiary held indirectly as to 43.28% by the Company as at 31 December 2006 (2005: 54.46%), issued at face value five year 1.2% convertible bonds (the "Convertible Bonds") in an aggregate principal amount of RMB700,000,000 with a face value of RMB100 each.

The Convertible Bonds are convertible, at the option of the bondholders, into fully-paid ordinary shares of Yanjing Brewery at an original conversion price of RMB10.59 per share, which was adjusted to RMB7.06 per share as a result of a bonus issue made by Yanjing Brewery during the year ended 31 December 2005 and is subject to further adjustments in certain events. The conversion period for the Convertible Bonds is from 16 October 2003 to 16 October 2007 (the "Conversion Period"), both dates inclusive. Unless previously redeemed, converted or purchased and cancelled, the Convertible Bonds are redeemable at face value at the end of the Conversion Period, together with any accrued interest.

Yanjing Brewery has the right to redeem the Convertible Bonds, in whole or in part, during the Conversion Period, at a redemption price of RMB102 each, subject to adjustments in certain events, when the closing price of the ordinary shares of Yanjing Brewery is higher than the then conversion price of the Convertible Bonds by more than 30% for 20 consecutive days. On the other hand, the bondholders have the right to have Yanjing Brewery redeem the Convertible Bonds at the redemption price, subject to adjustments in certain events, when the closing price of ordinary shares of Yanjing Brewery is lower than the then conversion price of the Convertible Bonds by more than 30% for 20 consecutive days.

The Convertible Bonds are guaranteed by the Company, which was approved by the shareholders of the Company in an extraordinary general meeting held on 11 April 2002. 北京燕京啤酒集團公司 (Beijing Yanjing Beer Group Company) ("Yanjing Beer Group"), which has beneficial interests in Yanjing Brewery, has undertaken to counter-indemnify the Company in respect of any contingencies arising from the portion of the guarantee exceeding the Company's effective proportional equity interest of 43.28% in Yanjing Brewery.

The fair value of the liability component of the Convertible Bonds was estimated at the issuance date using an equivalent market interest rate for a similar bond without a conversion option. The equity component of the Convertible Bonds is not material to the Group and accordingly, the whole amount of the Convertible Bonds is accounted for as a financial liability of the Group.

During the year ended 31 December 2006, 5,702,748 units (2005: 465,132 units and 63,020 units) of the Convertible Bonds issued by Yanjing Brewery with an aggregate principal amount of approximately HK$569,863,000 (2005: HK$50,079,000) were exercised by certain bondholders in exchange for ordinary shares of Yanjing Brewery at the conversion price of RMB7.06 per share (2005: respective conversion prices of RMB10.59 and RMB7.06 per share, (as adjusted to take into account the bonus issue made by Yanjing Brewery during the year ended 31 December 2005) and as a result of which, the Company's effective equity interest in Yanjing Brewery was diluted to 50.47% (2005: 54.46%) and a gain on deemed disposal of HK$141,341,000 (2005: HK$14,498,000) had been recognised in the consolidated income statement for the year (note 5).

The subsidiaries which were deconsolidated during the year ended 31 December 2006 comprised BEES and its subsidiaries (the “Eversource Group”) and Beijing Development and its subsidiaries. The reasons giving rise to the deconsolidation of these subsidiaries are set out as follows:

- (i) On 19 October 2006, Beijing Enterprises Treasury Company Limited (“BJ Treasury”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company and the immediate holding company of BEES, and Mr. Xu Shengheng (“Mr. Xu”), a director and substantial shareholder of BEES, entered into an entrusted operating agreement (the “Entrusted Operating Agreement”), pursuant to which, Mr. Xu was granted by BJ Treasury a right to operate and manage the geothermal energy system business undertaken by the Eversource Group for a period of three years from 1 January 2006 to 31 December 2008 (the “Entrusted Period”). During the Entrusted Period, the Group subordinated all its power over operating and financial policies and its entitlement to dividends, if any, of the Eversource Group to Mr. Xu whereas Mr. Xu shall be solely responsible for all profits and losses of the Eversource Group and pay a fixed fee of RMB12,516,000 (approximately HK$12,516,000) per annum to the Group. The Group lost its control over the Eversource Group upon the commencement of the entrusted operating arrangement on 1 January 2006 as it no longer has the power to govern the daily operating and financial policies of the Eversource Group from that date onwards. Accordingly, the Group deconsolidated the Eversource Group effective from 1 January 2006 and its then carrying amount of HK$82,794,000 was reclassified as an available-for-sale investment of the Group.
- (ii) As detailed in note 5 to the financial statements, the Group’s equity interest in Beijing Development was diluted from 55.81% to 46.57% and Beijing Development ceased to be a subsidiary of the Company and became an associate of the Company upon the completion of the issuance of new shares by Beijing Development in December 2006, at which time the Group deconsolidated Beijing Development and its subsidiaries.

47. NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED CASH FLOW STATEMENTMajor non-cash transactions

Apart from the transactions detailed in notes 5, 6, 39 and 46 to the financial statements, the Group had no major non-cash transactions of investing and financing activities during the year ended 31 December 2006.

In respect of the cash flows for the year ended 31 December 2005, on 7 December 2005, a wholly owned-subsubsidiary of Xteam acquired a 51% equity interest in Asren from independent third parties. The purchase consideration for the acquisition of Asren was in the form of 84,134,616 new shares of Xteam at the market price of HK$0.058 per share of Xteam on 7 December 2005 and a promissory note amounting to HK$9,615,000 issued by the wholly-owned subsidiary to Xteam to Asren. Apart from the foregoing and save as disclosed in note 5 and 39 to the financial statements, the Group had no major non-cash transactions of investing and financing activities during the year ended 31 December 2005.

48. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The Group’s principal financial instruments comprise bank loans, convertible bonds, cash and short-term deposits. The main purpose of these financial instruments is to raise finance for the Group’s operations. The Group has various other financial instruments such as trade and bills receivables and trade and bills payables, which arise directly from its operations.

The main risks arising from the Group's financial instruments are fair value and cash flow interest rate risks, foreign currency risk, commodity price risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Group does not have any written risk management policies and guidelines. However, the board of directors meets periodically to analyse and formulate measures to manage the Group's exposure to these risks. Generally, the Group introduces conservative strategies on its risk management. As the Group's exposure to these risks is kept to a minimum, the Group has not used any derivatives and other instruments for hedging purposes. The Group does not hold or issue derivative financial instruments for trading purposes. The directors review and agree policies for managing each of these risks and they are summarised as follows:

(i) Fair value and cash flow interest rate risks

Fair value interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. Cash flow interest rate risk is the risk that the future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Group is exposed to both fair value and cash flow interest rate risks. The Group's exposure to market risk for changes in interest rates relates primarily to the Group's long term debt obligations.

Bank loans, convertible bonds, cash and short term deposits are stated at amortised cost and not revalued on a periodic basis. Floating rate interest income and expenses are credited/charged to the income statement as earned/incurred.

(ii) Foreign currency risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. As a result of its significant investment operations in Mainland China, the PRC, the Group's balance sheet can be affected significantly by movements in the RMB/HK$ exchange rate.

The Group has minimal transactional currency exposure which arises from sales or purchases by an operating unit in currencies other than the unit's measurement currency.

(iii) Commodity price risk

The Group's exposure to commodity price risk is minimal.

(iv) Credit risk

The Group is predominately engaged in cash income businesses like the operations of toll roads, water treatment, brewery sales and retail. Accordingly, the Group has very high debtor turnover rate and low credit risk.

There are no significant concentrations of credit risk within the Group.

(v) Liquidity risk

The Group's objective is to maintain a balance between the continuity of funding and the flexibility through the use of bank overdrafts, bank loans and convertible bonds. In addition, banking facilities have been put in place for contingency purposes.

- (i) The carrying amounts of financial assets and liabilities which are due to be received or settled within one year are reasonable approximation of their respective fair values, and accordingly, no disclosure of the fair values of these financial instruments is made. In addition, as disclosed in note 25(b) to the financial statements, certain available-for-sale investments of the Group are not stated at fair value but at cost less any accumulated impairment losses because fair values of which cannot be reasonably assessed and therefore, no disclosure of the fair values of these financial instruments is made.
- (ii) The balance represented the non-current portion of an interest-free loan of HK$101,403,000 (2005: HK$99,384,000) obtained by the Group from a joint venture partner of a subsidiary and is repayable within 19 years (2005: 20 years).

- (iv) The Target Group owns a 40% equity interest in Hua You Company throughout each of the Relevant Periods and such interest was accounted for as an available-for-sale investment until the Target Group obtained joint control over Hua You Company in June 2005, and since then Hua You Company has been treated as a jointly-controlled entity. Further details of which are set out in note 18 of this section.

2. REORGANISATION

Pursuant to the Reorganisation, which was approved by The National Development and Reform Commission of the PRC (中國人民共和國國家發展和改革委員會) (the "NDRC") and the Beijing SASAC, the Target Group is formed following a series of reorganisation measures as set out below:

- (a) Prior to the Reorganisation, the operations of the Target Group were carried out by Original Gas Group and various companies owned or controlled by Original Gas Group.

Original Gas Group was established by the Beijing Municipal Government under the Company Law of the PRC on 26 June 1999 as a state-owned enterprise with limited liability pursuant to the approval document 京政函[1998] No. 87 issued by the Beijing Municipal Government on 29 December 1998, by contributing to it all assets and liabilities of 北京市天然氣公司 ("BJ Natural Gas") and 北京市煤氣公司 ("BJ Coal Gas"), and the entire equity interests in six other state-owned enterprises, which were then wholly owned by and under the supervision of the Beijing Municipal Government. Subsequent to the establishment of Original Gas Group, the Beijing Municipal Government further contributed the equity interests of a number of other state-owned enterprises to Original Gas Group as its further capital contributions.

Prior to the Reorganisation, Original Gas Group and its subsidiaries were principally engaged in the following activities:

- (i) the distribution and sale of piped natural gas and coal gas (discontinued in July 2006) to ultimate customers in Beijing, the PRC;
- (ii) the manufacture and sale of coal gas in Beijing, the PRC, which was discontinued in July 2006;
- (iii) the production and sale of coke;
- (iv) the manufacture, distribution and sale of liquefied petroleum gas in Beijing, the PRC;
- (v) the sale of compressed natural gas;
- (vi) the planning and design of municipal gas and heating projects; and
- (vii) the construction and installation of gas pipelines and related equipment, and the provision of repair and maintenance services.

Pursuant to the approval documents 京政函[2004] No. 114 dated 29 November 2004 and 京國資規劃字[2005] No. 6 dated 5 April 2005 issued by the Beijing Municipal Government and the Beijing SASAC, respectively, Original Gas Group became a wholly-owned subsidiary of Beijing Enterprises Group on 17 May 2005 as part of the Reorganisation.

- (b) Pursuant to the Reorganisation, Gas Group was incorporated with limited liability under the Company Law of the PRC on 27 October 2006 as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Beijing Enterprises Group to assume ownership and control (the "Original Gas Group Segregation") of the core operations and related assets and liabilities of Original Gas Group and the equity interests in certain entities previously owned by Original Gas Group (collectively referred to as the "Relevant Businesses"), which comprise:

- (i) all operating assets and liabilities relating to the operations of the distribution and sale of piped gas in Beijing;
- (ii) various equity interests in five entities which are engaged in the provision of gas technology consultation and development services and surveying and plotting of underground construction projects, the construction and installation of gas pipelines and related equipment, and the provision of repair and maintenance services; and
- (iii) a 40% equity interest in Hua You Company, which is the jointly-controlled entity of the Target Group and is engaged in the provision of natural gas transmission services.

The Original Gas Group Segregation was effected on 31 December 2006 and the Relevant Businesses were segregated from Original Gas Group and were assumed ownership and control by Gas Group on the same date.

The following assets and liabilities within Original Gas Group were not transferred to Gas Group and were retained by Original Gas Group (collectively referred to as the "Retained Businesses"):

- (i) equity interests in certain subsidiary companies of Original Gas Group not strategically complementary to the Relevant Businesses, which mainly represented companies engaged in the production and sale of coke, the manufacture, distribution and sale of liquefied petroleum gas, the sale of compressed natural gas, and the planning and design of municipal gas and heating projects;
- (ii) certain gas pipelines, metres, compressors and other plant and equipment in connection with piped gas distribution that were not built or acquired by Original Gas Group but contributed to it mainly by developers at nil consideration (collectively referred to as the "Contributed Facilities") in accordance with relevant legislation and regulations in the PRC (see note below);
- (iii) certain land use rights owned by Original Gas Group; and
- (iv) certain other assets and liabilities owned by Original Gas Group, including staff quarters, office buildings and certain available-for-sale investments.

Note: In accordance with relevant legislation and regulations in the PRC, all gas pipelines, metres, compressors and other plant and equipment in connection with piped gas distribution should be contributed to the relevant local operators of distribution and sale of piped gas, at nil consideration for operational and maintenance purposes after the completion of their construction, irrespective of the proprietorship of these assets. The relevant local operators are required to keep and maintain these assets for their proper and continuing usage. The Contributed Facilities which were not built or acquired by Original Gas Group were contributed to it at nil consideration, but were recorded by Original Gas Group as its property, plant and equipment at certain estimated values which are in general unascertainable. The Contributed Facilities stated at estimated values were depreciated according to the depreciation policy during the Relevant Periods and the depreciation charges of which were allowed for deduction purposes in arriving at the PRC corporate income tax liabilities of Original Gas Group for each of the Relevant Periods.

In the opinion of the directors of the Target Company, the Contributed Facilities did not qualify for recognition as assets because (i) proper ownership title transfers of the Contributed Facilities could not be obtained based on legal opinion; and (ii) individual values of which at the time of contribution cannot be reliably ascertained. Accordingly, the Contributed Facilities, including those that existed as at the effective date of the Original Gas Group Segregation of 31 December 2006 and those that would be contributed subsequent to that date, would not be transferred to the Target Group pursuant to a resolution of Beijing Enterprises Group in connection with the Reorganisation effective on 16 October 2006 and a supplementary resolution thereto dated 1 November 2006 (collectively the "Original Gas Group Segregation Resolutions") and will continue to be retained by Original Gas Group. Pursuant to the Original Gas Group Segregation Resolutions, the Target Group was granted the exclusive right to use the Contributed Facilities at nil consideration but is obliged to keep and maintain these Contributed Facilities for their proper and continuing usage. In addition, any tax liability and benefit, if any, associated with the Contributed Facilities will no longer be relevant to the Target Group upon the completion of the Original Gas Group Segregation.

Pursuant to the Original Gas Group Segregation Resolutions, Beijing Enterprises Group has agreed to indemnify Gas Group against any claims, including taxation relating to the Contributed Facilities, incurred in connection with or arising from assets, liabilities and interests with respect to the Retained Businesses of Original Gas Group, and assumed all obligations under guarantees given by Original Gas Group upon the completion of the Original Gas Group Segregation.

(c) Pursuant to the approval document 商合批 [2006] No. 892 dated 22 November 2006 issued by The Ministry of Commerce of the PRC (the "MOC"), the Target Company was incorporated in the British Virgin Islands with limited liability on 24 November 2006 for the purpose of acting as a holding company of the Target Group. Pursuant to a resolution of the board of the directors of Beijing Enterprises Group passed on 30 October 2006, Beijing Enterprises Group transferred its entire equity interest in Gas Group to the Target Company on 20 March 2007 at nil consideration as part of the Reorganisation.

Upon the completion of this reorganisation step, the Target Company became the holding company of the Target Group and Gas Group became a wholly-foreign-owned enterprise under PRC Law on 20 March 2007. Pursuant to the same approval document issued by the NDRC as mentioned above, Gas Group will not be entitled to the benefits that are normally available to foreign enterprises registered in the PRC, including, but not limited to, operating scope, tax concessions and human resources management.

3. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

As the Beijing SASAC and the Beijing Municipal Government ultimately controlled the Relevant Businesses before the Reorganisation and continues to have ultimate control over the Target Group after the Reorganisation, the Reorganisation has been accounted for as a reorganisation of entities under common control in a manner similar to pooling-of-interests. As a result, the Combined Financial Information has been prepared as if the Relevant Businesses had been transferred to the Target Group at the beginning of the Relevant Periods or when such businesses were acquired by Original Gas Group, whichever is later, and all assets and liabilities of the Target Group have been stated at historical carrying amounts.

In evaluating whether the Combined Financial Information prior to the Reorganisation fairly presents the track record of the Target Group's businesses, the directors of the Target Company consider, among others, the following:

- (i) whether the Retained Businesses were in dissimilar businesses;
- (ii) whether the Retained Businesses were and will be operated autonomously both before and after the Reorganisation; and
- (iii) whether the Retained Businesses have no more than incidental common facilities and costs.

Although the Retained Businesses were not transferred to the Target Group under the Original Gas Group Segregation, the Combined Financial Information includes certain operating assets and liabilities of the Retained Businesses, which were associated with the Relevant Businesses before the Original Gas Group Segregation and did not operate autonomously, and also certain associated operating expenses/results up to the effective date of the Original Gas Group Segregation of 31 December 2006, as the directors of the Target Company consider that the historical financial information should reflect all of the Target Group's costs of businesses, and should include all relevant associated activities that had been a part of or associated with the Target Group's businesses and operations. On the same basis, the financial information of the other assets and liabilities and their respective operating expenses/results of the Retained Businesses that are not strategically complementary to the Target Group's business, including equity interests in certain companies, is not included in the Combined Financial Information throughout the Relevant Periods as the related activities have distinct and separate management personnel, separate accounting records, have been financed historically as if they were autonomous and they are in dissimilar businesses and operations as compared with the Relevant Businesses, and hence, were not transferred to the Target Group pursuant to the Original Gas Group Segregation. In particular, as mentioned in note 2(b) of this section, the Contributed Facilities, which were not transferred to the Target Group pursuant to the Original Gas Group Segregation, did not qualify for recognition as assets and accordingly, the Contributed Facilities, together with the respective depreciation charges, have not been included in the Combined Financial Information throughout the Relevant Periods. However, the tax benefits of approximately RMB54 million, RMB49 million and RMB55 million for the years ended 31 December 2004, 2005 and 2006, respectively, arising from the depreciation charges of the Contributed Facilities, which were allowed for deduction in arriving at the PRC corporate income tax liabilities, were reflected in the Combined Financial Information for each of the Relevant Periods as, in the opinion of the directors of the Target Company, such tax benefits were directly related to the Relevant Businesses and had actually been obtained from relevant tax authority during the Relevant Periods and hence, inclusion of which in the Combined Financial Information reflects the actual tax charges and liabilities of the Target Group for each of the Relevant Periods. The tax benefits derived from the tax deductible depreciation charges of the Contributed Facilities would no longer be relevant to the Target Group upon the completion of the Original Gas Group Segregation.

In respect of those operating assets and liabilities of the Retained Businesses, which were associated with the Relevant Businesses before the Original Gas Group Segregation as mentioned above, in the opinion of the directors of the Target Company, such operating assets and liabilities and their related operating results were actually associated with the Relevant Businesses and the inclusion of such in the Combined Financial Information reflects the actual financial positions and results of the operations of the Relevant Businesses during the Relevant Periods. The tables below summarise the combined financial positions and operating results of those associated operating assets and liabilities forming part of the Retained Businesses pursuant to the Original Gas Group Segregation, which have been included in the Combined Financial Information during each of the Relevant Periods:

	2004	2005

Note: As a result of the Original Gas Group Segregation on 31 December 2006, the above associated operating assets and liabilities retained by Original Gas Group have been reflected as a distribution to Beijing Enterprises Group in the combined statement of changes in equity for the year ended 31 December 2006 and were not included in the combined balance sheet as at 31 December 2006.

APPENDIX II ACCOUNTANTS' REPORT OF THE TARGET COMPANY

(b) Results of operations

	2004	2005	2006
	RMB'000	RMB'000	RMB'000

	16,892	27,158	23,594

The Combined Financial Information set out in this report has been prepared under the going concern concept, notwithstanding that the Target Group had net current liabilities of approximately RMB1.4 billion as at 31 December 2006. The directors of the Company and the Target Company consider that, based on the Target Group's profit forecast, cash flow projection and unutilised banking facilities and on the assumption that such facilities will continue to be available from the Target Group's principal bankers, the Target Group will have sufficient funds available to enable it to operate as a going concern. Accordingly, the Combined Financial Information has been prepared on a going concern basis which assumes, among other things, the realisation of assets and satisfaction of liabilities in the normal course of business.

4. BASIS OF PREPARATION AND PRINCIPAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES4.1 Basis of preparation

The Combined Financial Information has been prepared in accordance with HKFRSs (which also include Hong Kong Accounting Standards ("HKASs") and Interpretations) issued by the HKICPA and accounting principles generally accepted in Hong Kong. HKFRS 1 "First-time Adoption of Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards" has been applied in preparing the Combined Financial Information. The Combined Financial Information is the first set of the Target Group's financial statements prepared in accordance with HKFRSs. As at the date of this report, no general purpose financial statements/information of the Target Group under PRC GAAP has been prepared by the Target Group during the Relevant Periods.

The Combined Financial Information has been prepared under the historical cost convention and is presented in Renminbi ("RMB") and all values are rounded to the nearest thousand except when otherwise indicated.

Basis of combination and consolidation

Except for the transactions in connection with the Reorganisation which have been accounted for as a combination of businesses under common control in a manner similar to pooling-of-interests as explained in note 3 of this section, the acquisition of subsidiaries during the Relevant Periods has been accounted for using the purchase method of accounting. This method involves allocating the cost of the business combination to the fair value of the identifiable assets acquired, and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed at the date of acquisition. The cost of the acquisition is measured at the aggregate of the fair value of the assets given, equity instruments issued and liabilities incurred or assumed at the date of exchange, plus costs directly attributable to the acquisition.

The results of subsidiaries are consolidated from the date of acquisition, being the date on which the Target Group obtains control, and continue to be consolidated until the date that such control ceases. All significant intercompany transactions and balances within the Target Group are eliminated on combination and consolidation. Adjustments are made to bring into line any dissimilar accounting policies that may exist.

Minority interests represent the interests of outside shareholders not held by the Target Group in the results and net assets of the Target Company's subsidiaries.

4.2 Impact of issued but not yet effective Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards

The Target Group has not applied the following new and revised HKFRSs, that have been issued but are not yet effective, for the preparation of the Combined Financial Information:

- HKAS 1 Amendment "Capital Disclosures"
- HKFRS 7 "Financial Instruments: Disclosures"
- HKFRS 8 "Operating Segments"
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 7 "Applying the Restatement Approach under HKAS 29 Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies"
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 8 "Scope of HKFRS 2"
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 9 "Reassessment of Embedded Derivatives"
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 10 "Interim Financial Reporting and Impairment"
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 11 "HKFRS 2 – Group and Treasury Share Transactions"
- HK(IFRIC)-Int 12 "Service Concession Arrangements"

The HKAS 1 Amendment shall be applied for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2007. The revised standard will affect the disclosures about qualitative information about the Target Group's objective, policies and processes for managing capital; quantitative data about what the Target Company regards as capital; and compliance with any capital requirements and the consequences of any non-compliance.

HKFRS 7 shall be applied for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2007. The standard requires disclosures that enable users of the financial statements to evaluate the significance of the Target Group's financial instruments and the nature and extent of risks arising from those financial instruments.

HKFRS 8 shall be applied for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2009. The standard requires the disclosure of information about the operating segments of the Target Group, the products and services provided by the segments, the geographical areas in which the Target Group operates, and revenues from the Target Group's major customers. This standard will supersede HKAS 14 "Segment Reporting".

HK(IFRIC)-Int 7, HK(IFRIC)-Int 8, HK(IFRIC)-Int 9, HK(IFRIC)-Int 10, HK(IFRIC)-Int 11 and HK(IFRIC)-Int 12 shall be applied for annual periods beginning on or after 1 March 2006, 1 May 2006, 1 June 2006, 1 November 2006, 1 March 2007 and 1 January 2008, respectively.

The Target Group is in the process of making an assessment of the impact of these new and revised HKFRSs upon initial application. So far, it has concluded that while the adoption of the HKAS 1 Amendment, HKFRS 7 and HKFRS 8 may result in new or amended disclosures, these new and revised HKFRSs are unlikely to have a significant impact on the Target Group's results of operations and financial position.

A subsidiary is an entity whose financial and operating policies the Target Company controls, directly or indirectly, so as to obtain benefits from its activities.

Joint ventures

A joint venture is an entity set up by contractual arrangement, whereby the Target Group and other parties undertake an economic activity. The joint venture operates as a separate entity in which the Target Group and the other parties have an interest.

The joint venture agreement between the venturers stipulates the capital contributions of the joint venture parties, the duration of the joint venture entity and the basis on which the assets are to be realised upon its dissolution. The profits and losses from the joint venture's operations and any distributions of surplus assets are shared by the venturers, either in proportion to their respective capital contributions, or in accordance with the terms of the joint venture agreement.

A joint venture is treated as:

- (a) a subsidiary, if the Target Group has unilateral control, directly or indirectly, over the joint venture;
- (b) a jointly-controlled entity, if the Target Group does not have unilateral control, but has joint control, directly or indirectly, over the joint venture;
- (c) an associate, if the Target Group does not have unilateral or joint control, but holds, directly or indirectly, generally not less than 20% of the joint venture's registered capital and is in a position to exercise significant influence over the joint venture; or
- (d) an equity investment accounted for in accordance with HKAS 39, if the Target Group holds, directly or indirectly, less than 20% of the joint venture's registered capital and has neither joint control of, nor is in a position to exercise significant influence over, the joint venture.

Jointly-controlled entity

A jointly-controlled entity is a joint venture that is subject to joint control, resulting in none of the participating parties having unilateral control over the economic activity of the jointly-controlled entity.

The Target Group's share of the post-acquisition results and reserves of the jointly-controlled entity is included in the combined results and combined equity, respectively. The Target Group's interest in a jointly-controlled entity is stated in the combined balance sheet at the Target Group's share of net assets under the equity method of accounting, less any impairment losses. Adjustments are made to bring into line any dissimilar accounting policies that may exist.

A party is considered to be related to the Target Group if:

- (a) the party, directly or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, (i) controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, the Target Group; (ii) has an interest in the Target Group that gives it significant influence over the Target Group; or (iii) has joint control over the Target Group;
- (b) the party is an associate;
- (c) the party is a jointly-controlled entity;
- (d) the party is a member of the key management personnel of the Target Group or its parent;
- (e) the party is a close member of the family of any individual referred to in (a) or (d); or
- (f) the party is an entity that is controlled, jointly controlled or significantly influenced by or for which significant voting power in such entity resides with, directly or indirectly, any individual referred to in (d) or (e).

Goodwill

Goodwill arising on the acquisition of subsidiaries represents the excess of the cost of the business combination over the Target Group's interest in the net fair value of the acquirees' identifiable assets acquired, and liabilities and contingent liabilities assumed as at the date of acquisition.

Goodwill arising on acquisition is recognised in the combined balance sheet as an asset, initially measured at cost and subsequently at cost less any accumulated impairment losses.

The carrying amount of goodwill is reviewed for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired.

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination is, from the acquisition date, allocated to each of the Target Group's cash-generating units, or groups of cash-generating units, that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, irrespective of whether other assets or liabilities of the Target Group are assigned to those units or groups of units. Each unit or group of units to which the goodwill is so allocated represents the lowest level within the Target Group at which the goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes.

Impairment is determined by assessing the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (group of cash-generating units) to which the goodwill relates. Where the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (group of cash-generating units) is less than the carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognised.

Where goodwill forms part of a cash-generating unit (group of cash-generating units) and part of the operation within that unit is disposed of, the goodwill associated with the operation disposed of is included in the carrying amount of the operation when determining the gain or loss on disposal of the operation. Goodwill disposed of in this circumstance is measured based on the relative values of the operation disposed of and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

An impairment loss recognised for goodwill is not reversed in a subsequent period.

Any excess of the Target Group's interest in the net fair value of the acquirees' identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities over the cost of acquisition of subsidiaries, after reassessment, is recognised immediately in the combined results.

Impairment of non-financial assets other than goodwill

Where an indication of impairment exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required (other than goodwill, deferred tax assets, inventories and amounts due from customers for contract work), the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An asset's recoverable amount is calculated as the higher of the asset's or cash-generating unit's value in use and its fair value less costs to sell, and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets, in which case, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

An impairment loss is recognised only if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. An impairment loss is charged to the combined results in the period in which it arises.

An assessment is made at each reporting date as to whether there is any indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the recoverable amount is estimated. A previously recognised impairment loss of a non-financial asset other than goodwill is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount of that asset, however not to an amount higher than the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of any depreciation/amortisation), had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. A reversal of such impairment loss is credited to the combined results in the period in which it arises.

Property, plant and equipment and depreciation

Property, plant and equipment, other than construction in progress, are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses. The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to its working condition and location for its intended use. Expenditure incurred after items of property, plant and equipment have been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance, is normally charged to the combined results in the period in which it is incurred. In situations where it can be clearly demonstrated that the expenditure has resulted in an increase in the future economic benefits expected to be obtained from the use of an item of property, plant and equipment, and where the cost of the item can be measured reliably, the expenditure is capitalised as an additional cost of that asset or as a replacement.

Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line basis to write off the cost of each item of property, plant and equipment to its residual value over its estimated useful life. The estimated useful lives of different categories of property, plant and equipment are as follows:

Buildings	20 to 40 years
Gas pipelines	25 years
Gas metres	8 years
Other plant and machinery	5 to 20 years
Furniture, fixtures and office equipment	5 to 12 years
Motor vehicles	5 to 15 years

Where parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, the cost of that item is allocated on a reasonable basis among the parts and each part is depreciated separately.

Residual values, useful lives and the depreciation method are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at each balance sheet date.

During the year ended 31 December 2005, the Target Group revised the estimated useful life of gas pipelines from 20 years to 25 years because the lifespan of the pipeline network of the Target Group have been improved through a series of measures, such as the adoption of new anti-corrosion protection methods, the enhancement of construction quality of pipelines and the use of polyethylene pipes, undertaken by the Target Group since 2000. In the opinion of the directors of the Target Company, the revised useful life of such assets reflects more fairly and accurately the current estimate of their useful lives and the expected patterns of economic benefits from these assets. This change in the accounting estimate resulted in the decreases in the Target Group's depreciation of approximately RMB64,135,000 and RMB73,499,000 for the two years ended 31 December 2005 and 2006, respectively.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss on disposal or retirement recognised in the combined results in the period the asset is derecognised is the difference between the net sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the relevant asset.

Construction in progress represents gas pipelines, buildings, structures, plant and machinery and other property, plant and equipment under construction or installation, construction materials which include preparation materials for construction projects, equipment that needs to be installed and prepayments for large-scale equipment. Construction in progress is stated at cost less any impairment losses, and is not depreciated. Cost comprises the direct costs of construction and capitalised borrowing costs on related borrowed funds during the period of construction. Construction in progress is reclassified to the appropriate category of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for use.

Intangible assets (other than goodwill)

The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed to be either finite or indefinite. Intangible assets with finite lives are amortised over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at each balance sheet date.

Computer software

Items of purchased computer software are stated at cost less any impairment losses and amortised on the straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives of 3 to 10 years.

Leases where substantially all the rewards and risks of ownership of assets remain with the lessor are accounted for as operating leases. Where the Target Group is the lessor, assets leased by the Target Group under operating leases are included in non-current assets, and rentals receivable under the operating leases are credited to the combined results on the straight-line basis over the lease terms. Where the Target Group is the lessee, rentals payable under the operating leases, net of any incentives received from the lessor, are charged to the combined results on the straight-line basis over the lease terms.

Prepaid land premiums under operating leases are initially stated at cost and subsequently amortised on the straight-line basis over the lease terms.

Investments and other financial assets

Financial assets in the scope of HKAS 39 are classified as loans and receivables or as an available-for-sale investment, as appropriate. When financial assets are recognised initially, they are measured at fair value, plus directly attributable transaction costs.

The Target Group determines the classification of its financial assets after initial recognition and, where allowed and appropriate, re-evaluates this designation at the balance sheet date.

All regular way purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised on the trade date, that is, the date that the Target Group commits to purchase or sell the asset. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the period generally established by regulation or convention in the marketplace.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Such assets are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Amortised cost is calculated taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and includes fees that are an integral part of the effective interest rate and transaction costs. Gains and losses are recognised in the combined results when the loans and receivables are derecognised or impaired, as well as through the amortisation process.

Available-for-sale investment

Available-for-sale investment is a non-derivative equity interest in an unlisted entity that is designated as available for sale. After initial recognition, the available-for-sale investment was stated at cost less any impairment losses as the fair value of the equity interest in the unlisted entity cannot be reliably measured because (a) the variability in the range of reasonable fair value estimates is significant for that investment or (b) the probabilities of the various estimates within the range cannot be reasonably assessed and used in estimating fair value.

The Target Group assesses at each balance sheet date whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired.

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on loans and receivables carried at amortised cost has been incurred, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have not been incurred) discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate (i.e., the effective interest rate computed at initial recognition). The carrying amount of the asset is reduced either directly or through the use of an allowance account. The amount of the impairment loss is recognised in the combined results.

The Target Group first assesses whether objective evidence of impairment exists individually for financial assets that are individually significant, and individually or collectively for financial assets that are not individually significant. If it is determined that no objective evidence of impairment exists for an individually assessed financial asset, whether significant or not, the asset is included in a group of financial assets with similar credit risk characteristics and that group is collectively assessed for impairment. Assets that are individually assessed for impairment and for which an impairment loss is or continues to be recognised are not included in a collective assessment of impairment.

If, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed. Any subsequent reversal of an impairment loss is recognised in the combined results, to the extent that the carrying value of the asset does not exceed its amortised cost at the reversal date.

In relation to trade receivables, a provision for impairment is made when there is objective evidence (such as the probability of insolvency or significant financial difficulties of the debtor) that the Target Group will not be able to collect all of the amounts due. The carrying amount of the receivables is reduced through the use of an allowance account. Impaired debts are derecognised when they are assessed as uncollectible.

Available-for-sale investment

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on the available-for-sale investment that is not carried at fair value because its fair value cannot be reliably measured has been incurred, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset. Impairment losses on the asset, if any, are not reversed.

Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognised where:

- the rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired;
- the Target Group retains the rights to receive cash flows from the asset, but has assumed an obligation to pay them in full without material delay to a third party under a "pass-through" arrangement; or
- the Target Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset and either (a) has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

Where the Target Group has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset and has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset nor transferred control of the asset, the asset is recognised to the extent of the Target Group's continuing involvement in the asset. Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Target Group could be required to repay.

Where continuing involvement takes the form of a written and/or purchased option (including a cash-settled option or similar provision) on the transferred asset, the extent of the Target Group's continuing involvement is the amount of the transferred asset that the Target Group may repurchase, except in the case of a written put option (including a cash-settled option or similar provision) on an asset measured at fair value, where the extent of the Target Group's continuing involvement is limited to the lower of the fair value of the transferred asset and the option exercise price.

Financial liabilities including trade and bills payables, amounts due to customers for contract work, other payables and accruals, and bank and other borrowings are initially stated at fair value less directly attributable transaction costs and are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method unless the effect of discounting would be immaterial, in which case they are stated at cost.

Gains and losses are recognised in the combined results when the liabilities are derecognised as well as through the amortisation process.

Financial guarantee contracts

Financial guarantee contracts in the scope of HKAS 39 are accounted for as financial liabilities. A financial guarantee contract is recognised initially at its fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial guarantee contract, except when such contract is recognised at fair value through profit or loss. Subsequent to initial recognition, the Target Group measures the financial guarantee contract at the higher of: (i) the amount determined in accordance with HKAS 37 "Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets" and (ii) the amount initially recognised less, when appropriate, cumulative amortisation recognised in accordance with HKAS 18 "Revenue".

Derecognition of financial liabilities

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires.

When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as a derecognition of the original liability and a recognition of a new liability, and the difference between the respective carrying amounts is recognised in the combined results.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined on the first-in, first-out basis. Net realisable value is based on estimated selling prices less any estimated costs to be incurred to completion and disposal.

Contract revenue comprises the agreed contract amount and appropriate amounts from variation orders, claims and incentive payments. Contract costs incurred comprise direct materials, the costs of subcontracting, direct labour and an appropriate proportion of variable and fixed construction overheads.

Revenue from fixed price construction contracts is recognised by the percentage-of-completion method, measured by reference to the proportion of costs incurred to date to the estimated total cost of the relevant contract.

Provision is made for foreseeable losses as soon as they are anticipated by management.

Where contract costs incurred to date plus recognised profits less recognised losses exceed progress billings, the surplus is treated as an amount due from customers for contract work.

Where progress billings exceed contract costs incurred to date plus recognised profits less recognised losses, the surplus is treated as an amount due to customers for contract work.

Cash and cash equivalents

For the purpose of the combined cash flow statements, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and demand deposits, and short term highly liquid investments which are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, and have a short maturity of generally within three months when acquired, less bank overdrafts which are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Target Group's cash management.

For the purpose of the balance sheets, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and at banks, including term deposits, and assets similar in nature to cash, which are not restricted as to use.

Provisions

A provision is recognised when a present obligation (legal or constructive) has arisen as a result of a past event and it is probable that a future outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation, provided that a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

When the effect of discounting is material, the amount recognised for a provision is the present value at the balance sheet date of the future expenditures expected to be required to settle the obligation. The increase in the discounted present value amount arising from the passage of time is included in finance costs in the combined results.

Income tax comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax is recognised in the combined results, or in equity if it relates to items that are recognised in the same or a different period directly in equity.

Current tax assets and liabilities for the current and prior periods are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities.

Deferred tax is provided, using the liability method, on all temporary differences at the balance sheet date between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- where the deferred tax liability arises from goodwill or the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss; and
- in respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and interests in joint ventures, where the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, carryforward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses, to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carryforward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised except:

- where the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary differences arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss; and
- in respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and interests in joint ventures, deferred tax assets are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Conversely, previously unrecognised deferred tax assets are reassessed at each balance sheet date and are recognised to the extent that it is probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the period when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset, if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

Government grants

Government grants are recognised at their fair values where there is reasonable assurance that the grants will be received and all attaching conditions will be complied with.

As the Target Group is beneficially owned by the Beijing Municipal Government, government grants that are granted exclusively to the Target Group by those government bodies under the direct control and supervision of the Beijing Municipal Government are initially recognised and continues to be recognised as non-current liabilities in the combined balance sheets until all attaching conditions related to the government grants have been complied with, by that time the related government grants are transferred to equity in the combined balance sheets as capital contributions.

In respect of other government grants, when the grant relates to an expense item, it is recognised as income over the periods necessary to match the grant on a systematic basis to the costs that it is intended to compensate. Where the grant relates to an asset, the fair value is credited to a deferred income account and is released to the combined results over the expected useful life of the relevant asset by equal annual instalments or deducted from the carrying amount of the asset and released to the combined results by way of a reduced depreciation charge.

Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Target Group and when the revenue can be measured reliably, on the following bases:

- (a) from the sale of goods, when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the buyer, provided that the Target Group maintains neither managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership, nor effective control over the goods sold;
- (b) from construction contracts, on the percentage-of-completion basis, as further explained in the accounting policy for "Construction contracts" above;
- (c) from the rendering of services, when the services have been rendered;
- (d) rental income, on a time proportion basis over the lease terms;
- (e) interest income, on an accrual basis using the effective interest method by applying the rate that discounts the estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial instrument to the net carrying amount of the financial asset; and
- (f) dividend income, when the shareholders' right to receive payment has been established.

Employee benefitsPension schemes

The Target Group has joined a number of defined contribution pension schemes organised by the Beijing Municipal Government for certain of its employees, the assets of which are held separately from those of the Target Group. Contributions made are based on a percentage of the eligible employees' salaries and are charged to the combined results as they become payable, in accordance with the rules of the pension schemes. The employer contributions vest fully once made.

Certain employees of the Target Group can enjoy other retirement benefits after retirement such as supplementary medical reimbursement, allowance and beneficiary benefits pursuant to certain defined benefits plans of the Target Group. These benefits are unfunded. The costs of providing benefits under these defined benefits plans are determined using the projected unit credit method and are charged to the combined results so as to spread the costs over the average service lives of the relevant employees, in accordance with the actuarial report which contained full valuation of the obligations for each of the Relevant Periods. These obligations are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows using the interest rates of the PRC government bonds which have terms to maturity similar to the terms of the related liabilities. Actuarial gains and losses are recognised as income or expense when the net cumulative unrecognised actuarial gains and losses for each individual plan at the end of the previous reporting period exceeded 10% of the higher of the value of defined benefits obligations and the fair value of plan assets, if any, at that date. These gains or losses are recognised over the expected average remaining working lives of the employees participating in the plans.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, i.e., assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are capitalised as part of the cost of those assets. The capitalisation of such borrowing costs ceases when the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs capitalised.

Dividends

Dividends are recognised as a liability in the period in which they are approved and declared by the respective equity owners of the relevant companies comprising the Target Group.

Foreign currency transactions

The Combined Financial Information is presented in Renminbi, which is the Target Company's functional and presentation currency. Each entity in the Target Group determines its own functional currency and items included in the financial statements and/or management accounts of each entity are measured using that functional currency. Foreign currency transactions are initially recorded using the functional currency rates ruling at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the functional currency rates of exchange ruling at the balance sheet date. All differences are taken to the combined results. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in foreign currencies are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined.

In the process of applying the Target Group's accounting policies, management has made judgements and assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the balance sheet date. The major judgements and estimations that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the Combined Financial Information and have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are set out below:

Estimate of gas consumption

Determination of the revenue for the distribution and sale of piped gas may include an estimation of the gas supplied to the customers of which the actual metre reading is not available. The estimation is done mainly based on the past consumption records and the recent consumption pattern of individual customers.

In addition, the Target Group recognises revenue from prepayments made by customers using IC cards ("IC card customers") upon consumption of gas by them. The Target Group's management estimates the consumption of gas by IC card customers with reference to the average consumption volume of the average metre-reading of customers with similar consumption patterns. The actual consumption could deviate from those estimates.

Useful lives, residual values and impairment of property, plant and equipment

The Target Group's management determines the residual values, useful lives and related depreciation charges for its property, plant and equipment. This estimate is based on the historical experience of the actual residual values and useful lives of property, plant and equipment of similar nature and functions. It could change significantly as a result of technical innovations and competitor actions in response to severe industry cycles. Management will increase the depreciation charge where residual values or useful lives are less than previously estimated, or it will write-off or write-down technically obsolete or non-strategic assets that have been abandoned or sold.

The carrying amounts of items of property, plant and equipment are reviewed for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate the carrying amounts may not be recoverable in accordance with the accounting policy as disclosed in note 4.3 of this section. The recoverable amount of an item of property, plant and equipment is calculated as the higher of its fair value less costs to sell and value in use, and such calculations involve the use of estimates. In estimating the recoverable amounts of assets, various assumptions, including future cash flows to be associated with the non-current assets and discount rates, are made. If future events do not correspond to such assumptions, the recoverable amounts will need to be revised, and this may have an impact on the Target Group's results of operations or financial position.

Impairment of the available-for-sale investment

The Target Group follows the guidance of HKAS 39 in determining when an investment is other-than-temporarily impaired. This determination requires significant judgement. In making this judgement, the Target Group evaluates, among other factors, the duration and the extent to which the fair value of an investment is less than its cost; and the financial health of and the near term business outlook for the investee, including factors such as industry and sector performance, changes in technology and operating and financing cash flows.

The Target Group is subject to income taxes in Mainland China. The Target Group carefully evaluates tax implications of transactions in accordance with prevailing tax regulations and makes tax provisions accordingly. However, judgement is required in determining the Target Group's provision for income taxes as there are many transactions and calculations of which the ultimate tax determination is uncertain during the ordinary course of business. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact on the income tax and deferred tax provision in the periods in which such determination is made.

Deferred tax assets relating to certain temporary differences and tax losses are recognised as management considers it is probable that future taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences or tax losses can be utilised. Where the expectations are different from the original estimates, such differences will impact the recognition of deferred tax assets and tax in the periods in which such estimates have been changed.

Provision for impairment of trade receivables

The Target Group's management determines the provision for impairment of trade receivables. This estimate is based on the credit history of the customers and the current market condition and the provision is applied to receivables where events or changes in circumstances indicate that the balances may not be collectible. Management reassesses the adequacy of provision on a regular basis. The identification of impairment of receivables requires the use of judgements and estimates. Where the expectations are different from the original estimates, such differences will impact on the carrying values of receivables and the impairment of receivables recognised in the periods in which such estimates have been changed.

Provision against obsolete and slow-moving inventories

Management reviews the condition of inventories of the Target Group and makes provision against obsolete and slow-moving inventory items which are identified as no longer suitable for sale or use. Management estimates the net realisable value for such inventories based primarily on the latest invoice prices and current market conditions. The Target Group carries out an inventory review at each balance sheet date and makes provision against obsolete and slow-moving items. Management reassesses the estimation on each of the balance sheet date.

The identification of obsolete and slow-moving inventory items requires the use of judgements and estimates. Where the expectation is different from the original estimate, such difference will impact on the carrying values of inventories and the write-down of inventories recognised in the periods in which such estimates have been changed.

Defined benefits plans

The present value of the retirement benefits obligations under the various defined benefits plans of the Target Group depends on a number of factors that are determined on an actuarial basis using a number of assumptions. Any changes in these assumptions will impact on the carrying amount of the retirement benefits obligations. Key assumptions for the obligations are based in part on the current market conditions. Additional information is disclosed in note 29 of this section.

6. SEGMENT INFORMATION

All the Target Group's operations are located and carried out in Beijing, the PRC, and over 90% of the revenue and operating results of the Target Group are derived from the operations of the distribution and sale of piped gas for each of the Relevant Periods. Accordingly, no segment information by business and geographical segments is presented.

11. TAX (continued)

The income tax provision of the Target Group in respect of operations in Mainland China has been calculated at the applicable tax rate on the estimated assessable profits for each of the Relevant Periods, based on the existing legislation, interpretations and practices in respect thereof. According to the relevant PRC income tax law, certain subsidiaries of the Target Group, being registered as high technology enterprises in Beijing, the PRC, are entitled to a concessionary income tax rate of 7.5% or 15%, where applicable, until they cease to be registered as high technology enterprises.

Subsequent to 31 December 2006, Gas Group, a subsidiary of the Target Company, was transformed into a wholly-foreign-owned enterprise under PRC Law pursuant to the Reorganisation. As mentioned in note 2(c) of this section, Gas Group will not be entitled to any tax benefits that are normally enjoyed by foreign enterprises registered in the PRC.

A reconciliation of the tax expense applicable to profit before tax using the applicable income tax rate to the tax expense at the Target Group's effective income tax rate for each of the Relevant Periods is as follows:

Notes:

- (a) All of the Target Group's buildings are located in Mainland China and held under medium term leases.
- (b) As part of the Reorganisation, the property, plant and equipment of Original Gas Group as at 31 December 2005 that were subsequently transferred to Gas Group pursuant to the Original Gas Group Segregation were revalued on a depreciated replacement cost basis by 北京德威評估有限公司, independent valuers registered in the PRC. The values of these property, plant and equipment, after adjusting for the depreciation for the period from 1 January 2006 to the effective date of the Original Gas Group Segregation of 31 December 2006, were recorded as the historical costs of these property, plant and equipment in the books and records of Gas Group in accordance with relevant PRC rules and regulations. This change in the carrying amounts of the property, plant and equipment in books and records may give rise to a change in the tax base in respect of these property, plant and equipment for the purpose of the determination of future corporate income tax liability of the Target Group. However, as at the date of this report, the tax base in respect of these property, plant and equipment has not yet been determined, and is pending for a notice or confirmation to that effect from the relevant tax bureau.

An analysis of the historical net carrying amounts of these property, plant and equipment as at the effective date of the Original Gas Group Segregation and the adjusted revalued amounts of these assets, by asset category, is as follows:

	Historical net carrying amount RMB'000	Revaluation surplus RMB'000 (note (i))	Revaluation deficit RMB'000 (notes (i) and (ii))	Adjusted revalued amount RMB'000

Notes:

- (i) The above surpluses and deficits on revaluation of such property, plant and equipment with a net deficit amount of approximately RMB464,433,000 have not been incorporated in the Combined Financial Information for consistency in application of the Target Group's accounting policy for property, plant and equipment throughout the Relevant Periods.
- (ii) In the opinion of the directors of the Target Company, no impairment loss provision is necessary to be made against those property, plant and equipment with deficits on revaluation, which were primarily the result of a current market decline in the replacement cost of such assets, as the recoverable amount of the piped gas distribution network of the Target Group, being the cash-generating unit to which these assets belong, was higher than the net carrying amount of the assets comprising the piped gas distribution network of the Target Group as at 31 December 2006.

(b) The investment deposits paid to the jointly-controlled entity as at 31 December 2005 represented various additional capital contributions made by the Target Group to Hua You Company pursuant to a resolution of the joint venture partners of Hua You Company passed on 1 December 2006. The process of capital verifications and related government approval procedures were only completed in 2006 and accordingly, the amounts were accounted for as investment deposits paid to the jointly-controlled entity as at 31 December 2005. The amounts were unsecured and interest-free.

(c) The Target Group's trade and bills payable balance with the jointly-controlled entity is disclosed in note 32 of this section.

18. AVAILABLE-FOR-SALE INVESTMENT

The Target Group's available-for-sale investment as at 31 December 2004 was a 40% equity interest in Hua You Company, which is an unlisted equity investment in Mainland China. Prior to June 2005, the directors of Hua You Company representing the Target Group were appointed by the Beijing Municipal Government directly and the Target Group had minimal involvement in making operating and financial decisions of Hua You Company, and hence, in the opinion of the directors of the Target Company, the Target Group did not have any joint control or significant influence over the operating and financial policies of Hua You Company prior to June 2005. Accordingly, the investment in Hua You Company was accounted for as an available-for-sale investment of the Target Group prior to June 2005. In June 2005, the Target Group appointed directors of Hua You Company on its own to replace those previously appointed by the Beijing Municipal Government and since then, in the opinion of the directors of the Target Company, the Target Group is able to have joint control over the operating and financial policies of Hua You Company. Accordingly, Hua You Company has been accounted for as a jointly-controlled entity of the Target Group thereafter.

The investment carried in the combined balance sheet as at 31 December 2004 was not stated at fair value but at cost less any impairment losses because the investment in Hua You Company did not have a quoted market price in an active market and hence, in the opinion of the directors of the Target Company, the range of reasonable fair value estimates was significant and the probabilities of the various estimates could not be reasonably assessed.

The difference between the carrying amount of the investment cost in Hua You Company and the net assets attributable to the Target Group at the date of its being accounted for as a jointly-controlled entity of the Target Group is credited directly to owner's equity of the Target Group on that date.

22. TRADE RECEIVABLES

The various group companies have different credit policies, depending on the requirements of their markets and the businesses which they operate. In respect of the operations of piped gas distribution, the credit period of the Target Group given to its non-IC card and non-CPU card customers is generally 10 days, whereas IC card customers and CPU card customers are required to pay in advance. Aged analyses of trade receivables are prepared and closely monitored in order to minimise any credit risk associated with receivables and an impairment provision is made when it is considered that the amounts due may not be recovered.

Movements of the Target Group's owner's equity during each of the Relevant Periods are presented in the combined statements of changes in equity set out in this section.

The net contributions from or distributions to Beijing Enterprises Group during each of the Relevant Periods represent the net assets or liabilities in connection with the Retained Businesses which have been segregated and retained in Beijing Enterprises Group or Original Gas Group pursuant to the Reorganisation as set out in note 2 of this section.

All obligations under these loans were assumed by Original Gas Group in 2000 after its formation in 1999. I. COMBINED FINANCIAL INFORMATION (continued)Notes to the Combined Financial Information (continued)*37. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT OBJECTIVES AND POLICIES

The Target Group's principal financial instruments comprise bank and other loans, cash and short-term deposits. The main purpose of these financial instruments is to raise finance for the Group's operations. The Target Group has various other financial instruments such as trade receivables and trade and bills payables, which arise directly from its operations.

The main risks arising from the Target Group's financial instruments are fair value and cash flow interest rate risks, currency risk, commodity price risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Target Group does not have any written risk management policies and guidelines. However, the directors of the Target Company and management of the Target Group meet periodically to analyse and formulate measures to manage the Target Group's exposure to these risks. Generally, the Target Group introduces conservative strategies on its risk management. As the Target Group's exposure to these risks is kept to a minimum, the Target Group has not used any derivatives and other instruments for hedging purposes. The Target Group does not hold or issue derivative financial instruments for trading purposes. The directors of the Target Company and management of the Target Group review and agree policies for managing each of these risks and they are summarised as follows:

(i) Market risk*Exchange risk*

The Target Group operates in Mainland China with Renminbi being its functional currency. Since future business transactions will also be settled in Renminbi, the Target Group's exposure to operational exchange risk is minimal.

The Target Group has long-term loans from the governments of Canada, Australia and France. According to the terms of the loan agreements, the loans and the related interests shall be repaid in the foreign currencies as agreed between the Target Group and the respective lenders. Owing to the appreciation in Renminbi, exchange gains were resulted from the translation of the Target Group's loans from foreign governments at the end of each of the Relevant Periods. Therefore, the Target Group's current exposure to exchange risk is minimal.

Fair value and cash flow interest rate risks

Almost all of the Target Group's income and operating cash flows are not affected by the changes in market interest rates. Moreover, apart from the bank deposits, cash and cash equivalents, the Target Group does not have any major interest-bearing assets. Therefore, the risk in respect of changes in market interest rates mainly arises from its long term borrowings.

The Target Group enters into borrowing obligations with an aim to support the corporate development, which are mainly utilised on capital expenditure. The borrowings that bear interests at floating interest rate expose the Target Group to cash flow interest rate risk, whilst the borrowings that bear interests at fixed interest rate expose the Target Group to the fair value interest rate risk.

The cash flow interest rate risk of the Target Group arises from a long-term borrowing that bears interest on a floating rate basis. The Target Group's loan from ADB bears interest at floating interest rate, which changes according to the international financial market. ADB usually adjusts the interest rate once every six months.

The Target Group's other long-term loans from foreign governments bear interests at relatively low fixed interest rates. The loan from the French government bears interests at a rate of 2% per annum, whilst the loans from the Canadian government and the Australian governments are interest-free. The Australian government loan will mature on 15 June 2007. As the interest rates of the foreign government loans are considerably lower than the market interest rate, the Target Group is not exposed to fair value interest rate risk. The management has yet to consider any measures to minimise the loss arising from fair value interest rate risk.

Pricing risk

The Target Group holds certain equity interests in Hua You Company on a long-term basis, with an aim to achieve investment income. As the Target Group does not hold any other equity securities, its exposure to pricing risk is minimal.

(ii) Credit risk

There are no significant concentrations of credit risk within the Target Group. The Target Group does not excessively rely on individual customers. During the relevant period, there is no single customer that accounted for more than 2% in the total sales income of the Target Group.

In addition, as at the end of each year, the Target Group assess the recoverability of each individual trade receivables so as to ensure that sufficient provision on impairment has been made for the amounts that are unable to be recovered. As such, the management considers the Target Group has a relatively low credit risk.

(iii) Liquidity risk

Management of the Target Group maintains prudent strategy to liquidity risk, which allows the preservation of sufficient cash and credit commitment to provide funds. The Target Group aims to maintain its credit commitment at a certain level so as to maintain the flexibility of funding.

- The balances are extracted from the audited financial information of the Group for the year ended 31 December 2006 as set out in Section B of Appendix I to this circular.
- The balances are extracted from the audited combined financial information of the Target Group for the year ended 31 December 2006 as set out in Appendix II to this circular and were translated to Hong Kong dollars at translation rates of HK$100 = RMB100 in respect of the unaudited pro forma balance sheet and HK$100 = RMB102.6 in respect of the unaudited pro forma income statement and cash flow statement.
- Being fair value adjustments for the Target Group's property, plant and equipment and prepaid land premiums of approximately HK$464,433,000 and HK$8,801,000, respectively, which represent the net deficit and surplus of the estimated fair values of the property, plant and equipment and prepaid land premiums of approximately HK$7,473,581,000 and HK$430,182,000, respectively, when compared to their respective aggregate net carrying amounts of approximately HK$7,938,014,000 and HK$421,381,000 in the combined financial information of the Target Group as at 31 December 2006, as set out in Appendix II to this circular.

The estimated fair values of the Target Group's buildings and prepaid land premiums are determined by reference to the valuation of these assets as at 28 February 2007 by DTZ Debenham Tie Leung Limited, independent professionally qualified valuers, as set out in Appendix V to this circular. The estimated fair values of the Target Group's remaining property, plant and equipment are determined by reference to the valuation of structures associated with the buildings as at 31 December 2006 and the valuation of other property, plant and equipment as at 31 December 2005, as adjusted for the depreciation for the period from 1 January 2006 to 31 December 2006, performed by 北京德威評估有限公司, independent valuers registered in the PRC.

- Being deferred tax effects of the fair value adjustments on property, plant and equipment and prepaid land premiums as detailed in note 3 above. The deferred tax has been calculated at a rate of 33%, being the applicable tax rate of the Target Group.

The relevant portion of the deferred tax assets will be reversed and charged to the income statement upon depreciation/amortisation of the property, plant and equipment and prepaid land premiums over their respective estimated remaining useful lives.

- Being adjustment for recognition of goodwill of approximately HK$2,936,810,000 arising on the Acquisition. Under Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standard 3 "Business Combinations" issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (the "HKICPA"), the Group will apply the purchase method to account for the acquisition of the Target Group in the consolidated financial statements of the Group. The amount of HK$2,936,810,000 represents the excess of the cost of the Acquisition of approximately HK$11,647,795,000 (note 6) over the fair values of identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities of the Target Group, amounting to approximately HK$8,710,985,000 (see below).

	HK$'000
Total cost of the Acquisition (note 6)	11,647,795
Net assets of the Target Group acquired as at 31 December 2006	9,016,258
Fair value adjustments on the Acquisition (note 3)	(455,632)
Deferred tax assets recognised in respect of fair value adjustments (note 4)	150,359
Fair value of net assets of the Target Group acquired	8,710,985
Goodwill arising on the Acquisition (note 6(a))	2,936,810

6. In accordance with the Sale and Purchase Agreement (as defined in this circular), the consideration for the Acquisition is HK$11,600,000,000, satisfied as to: (i) HK$7,599,900,000 by the issue of 411,250,000 ordinary shares of the Company at the Completion (as defined in this circular); and (ii) HK$4,000,100,000 in cash.

An analysis of the total cost of the Acquisition is set out as follows:

	Nominal value HK$'000	Fair value HK$'000
Consideration for the Acquisition:
– the portion satisfied by the issue of 411,250,000 ordinary shares of the Company (note (a))	7,599,900	7,599,900
– the portion satisfied in cash (note (b))	4,000,100	3,955,095
	11,600,000	11,554,995
Estimated expenses incurred directly on the Acquisition (note (c))		92,800
Total cost of the Acquisition		11,647,795

Notes:

- (a) The consideration for the Acquisition was based on the 411,250,000 ordinary shares of the Company issued at HK$18.48 per share. However, the fair value of the shares issued as consideration for the Acquisition so arrived as aforesaid and used for the purpose of the unaudited pro forma financial information set out above may be substantially different from the fair value of the shares issued as consideration for the Acquisition at the date of the Completion. Accordingly, the actual goodwill arising on the Acquisition may differ significantly from that shown in note 5 above.
- (b) In accordance with the Sale and Purchase Agreement, the HK$4,000,100,000 cash consideration payable for the Acquisition will be settled in two instalments of HK$3,000,000,000 and HK$1,000,100,000, which become payable upon the Completion and on or before 30 June 2008, respectively. Based on the current settlement plan stipulated by the Group, HK$2,000,000,000 of the first instalment of the cash consideration will be financed by a 5-year syndicated bank loan and the remaining balance of the first instalment of HK$1,000,000,000 will be settled through the Group's current accounts with holding companies and group companies of Beijing Enterprises Group.

The fair value of the cash consideration payable for the Acquisition, calculated in accordance with Hong Kong Accounting Standard 39 "Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement" issued by the HKICPA, is as follows:

	HK$'000
Fair value of the cash consideration payable for the Acquisition:
– the first instalment of HK$3,000,000,000	3,000,000
– the second instalment of HK$1,000,100,000	955,095
	3,955,095

- (c) The direct expenses of legal and professional services related to the Acquisition, among others, and for the purpose of the preparation of this circular are estimated to be approximately HK$92,800,000.

7. Upon the issuance of new shares by the Company in connection with the Acquisition at a value of HK$7,599,900,000, the share capital of the Company will be increased by HK$41,125,000 and the share premium arising from the issuance is approximately HK$7,558,775,000.
8. Being adjustment for the depreciation/amortisation of the property, plant and equipment and prepaid land premiums arising from the fair value adjustments as set out in note 3 and the related deferred tax calculated at a rate of 33% of the fair value adjustments in note 4. The property, plant and equipment and prepaid land premiums are depreciated on the straight-line basis to write off their respective costs to their respective residual values over their estimated useful lives.
9. Being adjustment for additional amortisation of prepaid land premiums, which were injected by Beijing Enterprises Group to the Target Group in November 2006, as if the capital injection had been made on 1 January 2006.
10. Being reversal of depreciation of RMB22,060,000 (approximately HK$21,501,000) charged to the combined income statement of the Target Group for the year ended 31 December 2006 of those operating assets that are associated with the Relevant Businesses (as defined in Appendix II to this circular) in the Target Group but are retained by Original Gas Group pursuant to the Original Gas Group Segregation (as defined in Appendix II to this circular) as part of the Reorganisation. Since these assets were not transferred to the Target Group as part of the Reorganisation, the depreciation charge of these assets included in the combined financial information of the Target Group for the year ended 31 December 2006 as set out in Appendix II to this circular is reversed as if the Original Gas Group Segregation (being part of the Reorganisation) had taken effect on 1 January 2006 (see note 11 below).
11. Being recognition of rental expenses of RMB38,814,600 (approximately HK$37,831,000) in respect of those operating assets that are retained by Original Gas Group but leased by the Target Group immediately after the completion of the Original Gas Group Segregation on 31 December 2006. In order for the Target Group to continue the Relevant Businesses, the operating assets as mentioned in note 10 above will be leased by the Target Group from Original Gas Group immediately after the completion of the Original Gas Group Segregation pursuant to the leasing contract entered into between the two parties on 10 April 2007, further details of the lease arrangement are set out in the section headed "Connected Transactions and Continuing Connected Transactions" in the "Letter from the Board" included in this circular. As this lease arrangement will have a continuing impact on the Target Group, a pro forma adjustment is made to recognise the rental expenses arising from the aforesaid lease arrangement.
12. Being reversal of the cost of defined benefits plans of RMB1,534,000 (approximately HK$1,495,000) charged to the combined income statement for the year ended 31 December 2006 of the Target Group in respect of those employees who had retired before the effective date of the Original Gas Group Segregation of 31 December 2006 as if the Original Gas Group Segregation (being part of the Reorganisation) had taken effect on 1 January 2006 because Original Gas Group agreed to assume all obligations to these employees who were covered by the relevant defined benefits plans pursuant to the Original Gas Group Segregation.
13. Being current tax effect calculated at the tax rate of 33% applicable to the Target Group as a result of the adjustments as set out in notes 9, 10, 11 and 12.

14. Being reversal of the tax benefit available to the Target Group prior to the effective date of the Original Gas Group Segregation in connection with the Contributed Facilities (as defined in Appendix II to this circular).

As detailed in note 3 of Section I in Appendix II to this circular, for the purpose of the preparation of the audited combined financial information of the Target Group set out in Appendix II to this circular, the Contributed Facilities, together with the related depreciation charges, have not been included in the audited combined financial information of the Target Group. However, the tax benefit of approximately RMB54,806,000 (approximately HK$53,417,000) for the year ended 31 December 2006 arising from the depreciation charges of the Contributed Facilities were reflected in the combined financial information for the year ended 31 December 2006 as, in the opinion of the directors of the Target Company, such tax benefit was directly related to the Relevant Businesses and had actually been obtained from relevant tax authority and hence, the inclusion of which in the combined financial information for the year ended 31 December 2006 reflects the actual tax charges and liabilities of the Target Group for that year.

However, the Contributed Facilities, including those that existed as at the effective date of the Original Gas Group Segregation of 31 December 2006 and those that would be contributed subsequent to that date, would not be transferred to the Target Group pursuant to the Reorganisation. Accordingly, any tax liability and benefit, if any, associated with the Contributed Facilities will no longer be relevant to the Target Group upon the completion of the Original Gas Group Segregation. In view of this, the tax benefit of approximately HK$53,417,000 arising from the depreciation charges of the Contributed Facilities that were reflected in the combined financial information of the Target Group for the year ended 31 December 2006 was reversed as if the Original Gas Segregation (being part of the Reorganisation) has taken effect on 1 January 2006 for the purpose of the preparation of the unaudited pro forma financial information of the Enlarged Group set out above.

15. Being adjustment for the increase in interest expenses incurred as a result of the borrowing of a syndicated bank loan in an amount of HK$2,000,000,000 for the settlement of a portion of the first instalment of the cash consideration for the Acquisition as detailed in note 6(b) above. The interest rate used for the purpose of this adjustment is 4.5%, being the interest rate prevailing at the date of this circular that is offered to the Group for such syndicated loan, and the date of borrowing is assumed to be 1 January 2006 for the purpose of the unaudited pro forma income statement and cash flow statement of the Enlarged Group, and 31 December 2006 for the purpose of the unaudited pro forma balance sheet of the Enlarged Group.
16. Being recognition of imputed interest expenses for the second instalment of the cash consideration for the Acquisition as detailed in note 6(b) above, based on the term of the Sale and Purchase Agreement that the second instalment is payable in one year after the Acquisition took place.
17. Being adjustment for the reclassification of government grants and deferred income of the Target Group to other long term liabilities to conform to the presentation of the Group.

We refer to your instructions for us to value the properties as set out in the attached Summary of Valuations in which Beijing Enterprises Holdings Limited (北京控股有限公司) (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries (hereinafter together referred to as the “Group”) or Beijing Gas Group Company Limited (北京市燃氣集團有限責任公司) (“Gas Group”) have certain interests in the People’s Republic of China (the “PRC”). We confirm that we have carried out inspections, made relevant enquiries and obtained such further information as we consider necessary for the purpose of providing you with our opinion of the market value of these property interests as at 28 February 2007 (the “date of valuation”).

Basis of Valuation

Our valuation of each of the properties is our opinion of the market value which in accordance with The HKIS Valuation Standard on Properties (First Edition 2005) of the Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors is defined as to mean the estimated amount for which a property should exchange on the date of valuation between a willing buyer and a willing seller in an arm’s-length transaction after proper marketing wherein the parties had each acted knowledgeably, prudently and without compulsion.

The property valuations comply with the requirements set out in Chapter 5 and Practice Note 12 of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and The HKIS Valuation Standards on Properties (First Edition 2005) of The Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors.

APPENDIX V PROPERTY VALUATION OF THE ENLARGED GROUP

Valuation Assumptions

Our valuation excludes an estimated price inflated or deflated by special terms or circumstances such as atypical financing, sale and leaseback arrangement, special considerations or concessions granted by anyone associated with the sale, or any element of special value.

We have relied on the information given by the Group and Gas Group and the opinion of the Group's PRC legal adviser, Haiwen and Partners, regarding the title to the properties and the interests of the Group and Gas Group in the properties. The status of titles and grant of major approvals and licences is in accordance with the information provided by the Group, Gas Group and the legal opinion of the Group legal adviser which is set out in the notes in the valuation certificate attached.

No allowance has been made in our valuations of the properties for any charges, mortgages or amounts owing on the properties nor for any expenses or taxation which may be incurred in effecting a sale. Unless otherwise stated, it is assumed that the properties are free from encumbrances, restrictions and outgoings of any onerous nature which could affect their values.

Authorized Land

In respect of the properties held by Gas Group in Group IV, Beijing Enterprises Group (北京控股集團) has obtained the land use rights by virtue of the Authorization for Operation and Management (經營管理授權書) issued by Beijing Land Resources Bureau on 8 November 2006, the salient terms and conditions stated in the aforesaid document are cited as follows:–

- (1) The lands under this authorization comprise a total of 274 lots with a total site area of 609,185.116 sq.m. (the "Authorized Land").

According to Announcement No. (2006) 68 dated 2 November 2006, issued by Beijing Enterprises Group, 59 plots of the 274 previously mentioned authorized lands and one plot of granted land are used as capital contribution to be injected into Gas Group.

APPENDIX V PROPERTY VALUATION OF THE ENLARGED GROUP

According to Letter of Issuing Certificate (發證函) dated 16 February 2007 issued by Beijing Land Use Affair Office (北京市土地利用事務中心), notice was given to the land administrative offices in various districts and counties of Beijing to process the change of land title to Gas Group.

According to the opinion of the Group's PRC legal adviser, Beijing Enterprises Group (北京控股集團) contributed 59 plots of land as its capital into Gas Group. Such capital contribution complied with the Authorization for Operation and Management (經營管理授權書) and the relevant PRC laws. The titles of 32 out of 59 plots of land have been properly transferred to Gas Group. Gas Group has already obtained Certificates for the Use of State-owned Land for 32 out of 59 plots of land. The remaining 27 plots of land is currently held by the original Beijing Gas Group Company Limited, (北京市燃氣集團有限責任公司), which was subsequently divided into Gas Group and Beiran Enterprises Ltd. pursuant to the Division. Gas Group is currently applying for the change of name under its name and the nature of land use rights into "authorized" for the remaining 27 plots of land. There should be no material legal impediment for such application and to obtain Certificate for the Use of State-owned Land. The land use term is 50 years for public facilities use. Gas Group is entitled to transfer, lease or mortgage the property within the land use term according to PRC laws and regulations.

Method of Valuation

In valuing the properties Nos. 10, 14, 15, 18, 19, 32, 33, 34, 36, 38, 39, 47, 49, 50, 51, 52 and 53 in Group I, No. 55 in Group III and Nos. 102, 105, 109, 110, 112 and 113 in Group IV, we have valued each of these properties by the Direct Comparison Approach Assuming sale of each of these properties in their existing state by making reference to comparable sales transactions as available in the relevant market, or where appropriate by Investment Approach by capitalizing the net rental income derived from the existing tenancies with due allowance for the reversionary potential of the respective properties.

In valuing the remaining properties in Groups I and Group IV, we have valued adopted Depreciated Replacement Cost approach ("DRC Approach"). The DRC Approach requires an estimate of the market value of the land in its existing use and an estimate of the new replacement cost of the buildings and structures, from which deductions are made to allow for the age, condition and functional obsolescence. This value is subject to adequate potential profitability of the undertaking.

The properties in Group II and VI which are leased by the Group and Gas Group respectively, and Group V without title documents have no commercial value mainly due to the prohibitions against assignment and subletting or otherwise to the lack of substantial profit rents.

Source of Information

In the course of our valuation, we have relied to a very considerable extent on the information given by the Group, Gas Group and the Group's legal adviser on PRC law and have accepted advice given to us on such matters as planning approvals or statutory notices, easements, tenure, identification of properties, development schemes, construction costs, site and floor areas, particulars of occupancy and all other relevant matters.

APPENDIX V PROPERTY VALUATION OF THE ENLARGED GROUP

Dimensions, measurements and areas included in the valuation certificate are based on information provided to us and are therefore only approximations. We have no reason to doubt the truth and accuracy of the information provided to us by the Group and Gas Group which is material to the valuations. We were also advised by the Group and Gas Group that no material facts have been omitted from the information provided.

Title Investigation

We have been provided with extracts of documents in relation to the title to the properties. However, we have not inspected the original documents to ascertain any amendments which may not appear on the copies handed to us.

Site Inspection

We have inspected the exterior and, where possible, the interior of each of the properties. However, no structural survey has been made, but in the course of our inspection, we did not note any serious defects. We are not, however, able to report whether the properties are free from rot, infestation or any other structural defects nor were any tests carried out to any of the services. Moreover, we have not carried out investigations on site to determine the suitability of the soil conditions and the services etc. for any development. Our valuations are prepared on the assumption that these aspects are satisfactory and that no extraordinary expenses or delays will be incurred during the construction period. Unless otherwise stated, we have not been able to carry out detailed on-site measurements to verify the site and floor areas of the properties and we have assumed that the areas shown on the documents handed to us are correct.

Currency

Unless otherwise stated, all sums stated in our valuation certificates are in Renminbi which is the lawful currency of the PRC.

We enclose herewith a summary of valuations and the valuation certificates.

Yours faithfully,
