About the Awards

The “Billion Dollar Club” is an award series launched annually by The Edge Singapore, an influential financial magazine in Singapore. It aims to recognise the best and most valuable companies listed on the Singapore Exchange, and offers valuable insights and credible testaments of companies for investors to make better investment decisions. As an important component of this award series, the Centurion Club is devoted to recognising excellence in companies listed on the Singapore Exchange, with a market capitalisation of between USD100 million and USD999 million, with a coverage of various sectors such as REITs, property development, services, manufacturing, finance and commerce. The Centurion Club evaluates candidate companies mainly in three metrics, namely three-year annualised return, three-year weighted return on equity and three-year annualised net profit growth. Then, each eligible company will be given an overall score based on the respective weightage to the above-mentioned three metrics.

The 2019 China Corporate Elites Award Ceremony is jointly organised by multiple institutions including the Hong Kong-Mainland International Investment Society, with an aim of commending the contributions and achievements by Chinese corporate elites that have supported China’s internationalisation, and also facilitating Chinese companies to achieve progress in innovation and internationalisation.
