

China Comservice was awarded "2009 The Most Faithful Enterprises in China"

In the recent contest of "2009 Faithful Enterprises in China" by the China Faithful Enterprise Election Committee, China Comservice was awarded "2009 The Most Faithful Enterprises in China", the only awarded enterprise in the telecommunications service industry in the year. In the Forum of 2010 China Corporate and Commercial Ethics Construction and the Annual Dinner gathering of China Enterprise held by China Faithful Enterprise Election Committee on 9 January 2010, President of China Comservice, Zhang Zhiyong, made a speech at the event on behalf of all awarded enterprises.

The purpose of the election of faithful enterprises in China is to honor the efforts in innovating the practice in the construction of corporate faithfulness and commercial ethics, achieving outstanding results and demonstrating leadership role. The awarded enterprises are model enterprises contributing to the promotion of faithful, trustworthy and fair competition market environment and progressing the construction of the social credit system. Since its establishment and listing, China Comservice adhered to the principle of good faith, strictly complied with various national laws and regulations, perfected the system of a faithful enterprise, innovated the practice of faithfulness management and actively performed our social responsibility. In response to the global financial crisis, we aggressively explored opportunities and handled difficulties, thereby making positive contributions to "sustain growth, simulate demand and optimize structure" of the society and winning recognition. The award is a recognition and reward of our years of efforts in faithful operation. At the same time, it encourages our future operation development.

In his speech at the event, our President Zhang Zhiyong stated that the construction of corporate faithfulness and commercial ethics enhanced the soft power of China Comservice, progressed the sustainable development of the enterprise, raised our brand name awareness and assisted better development in domestic and overseas markets. On behalf of all awarded enterprises, our President Zhang Zhiyong proposed to play model role in complying national laws and regulations and commercial ethics, adhering to good faith and leading by example. Through the influence of the awarded enterprises, we can lead more enterprises to become faithful enterprises, thereby contributing to the satisfactory and fast development of the social and national economy and enhancing the international competitiveness of the Chinese enterprises.
