

Mr. He Xi Meets with Ms. Lv Suqing

On October 20, 2021, Mr. He Xi, Chairman of CPID and Chief Engineer (New Energy) of SPIC, met with Ms. Lv Suqing, Party Committee Secretary of Luannan County, and Mr. Du Jia, Director of Tangshan International Tourism Island Management Committee, at the headquarters of CPID.

Mr. He extended a warm welcome to Ms. Lv, Mr. Du and their delegation. Mr. He said that CPID was speeding up its strategic transition and vigorously developing the "three new" industries such as integrated smart energy, energy storage and rural revitalization, and could provide a package of industrial solutions and financial services for local governments, including Luannan County, to promote the transformation and upgrading of local industries. Luannan County has obvious location advantages and great development potential. CPID will work with upstream enterprises in the industry chain to strengthen cooperation with Luannan County and Tangshan International Tourism Island in clean energy, integrated smart energy and rural revitalization, accelerate the implementation of projects, and contribute to local economic development.

Ms. Lv introduced the investment and industrial situation in Luannan County. She pointed out that Luannan County had unique location advantages, rich resources and a good business environment, and that CPID, as a listed enterprise directly under the Chinese Central Government, had obvious advantages in fund, management and technology. Mr. Du introduced the basic situation of Tangshan International Tourism Island and expressed his hope that CPID would strengthen cooperation and support for the island in cultural tourism, industry and finance, so as to drive the industrial upgrading of the island.

Mr. Zhao Yonggang, Vice President of CPID, Mr. Niu Guiyu, Deputy Director of CPID, and the heads of CPID's Development Department and Administration Department attended the meeting.
