

CPID Signs Strategic Cooperation Agreement with Zhuhui District of Hengyang City

On December 14, 2021, CPID signed a strategic cooperation agreement with Zhuhui District People's Government in Hunan Province. Mr. Fu Jinsong, Vice President and Acting Chairman of Labor Union of CPID, Mr. Wei Zhongfa, CPC Secretary of Zhuhui District, and Ms. Zhang Hanying, Standing Committee Member of Zhuhui District Party Committee and Deputy Governor of Zhuhui District, attended the signing ceremony.

Both sides had a friendly talk before the signing ceremony. Mr. Fu introduced the business development of CPID in clean energy and green energy, and said that CPID would closely focus on the 14th Five-Year Plan of Hengyang City, actively adapt to and serve the development strategy of Zhuhui District, and promote cooperation on green low-carbon smart energy and new energy, so as to cultivate new green industry clusters, help Zhuhui District achieve the "3060" target, and contribute to the local society and people's livelihood.

Mr. Wei expressed his gratitude to CPID for attaching great importance to the development of Zhuhui District. He pointed out that, as the flagship subsidiary of SPIC, CPID had obvious brand and strength advantages in clean low-carbon energy, integrated smart energy, energy storage, green electric transportation and rural revitalization, etc., and Zhuhui District was the area with the widest territory, the greatest development potential and the most vigorous development in Hengyang City. He was looking forward to this cooperation, and the district government would strive to promote the all-round, multi-level and wide-field cooperation between both sides, so as to make this cooperation a model of CPID's investment in the south-central region and achieve win-win results while contributing to the "3060" target.

The leaders of the Government Office, Development and Reform Bureau, Finance Bureau, Commerce Bureau and other government departments of Zhuhui District, the leaders of CPID, Qiyuan Core Power and China Power New Life Town, and the representatives of local enterprises attended the meeting and signing ceremony.
