

CPID's Financial Sharing Center Wins CGMA Annual Award

Recently, CGMA Annual Awards & CFO Forum 2021 was held in Shanghai. After winning the awards of "CGMA Best Practice of Shared Service Center of 2019" and the "CGMA Best Practice of RPA of 2020", CPID's Financial Sharing Center won the award of "CGMA Good Practice of Management Accounting of 2021".

By continuously exploring the application path of management accounting in energy enterprises directly under the Chinese Central Government, CPID's Financial Sharing Center has achieved breakthroughs in promoting the change of financial organization structure, improving the digitalization and intelligence level of enterprises, and increasing the value of management reports, implemented projects such as robotic process automation (RPA) and comprehensive data analysis platform, connected data islands in various information systems, and laid the foundation for enterprise data governance, utilization and value creation.

This award is a recognition of the achievements of CPID's Financial Sharing Center and an appreciation of the achievements of management accounting applications based on digital and smart systems by industry experts.
