

CPID Hong Kong Participates in Epidemic Prevention Volunteer Work

Recently, CPID Hong Kong assigned six employees to participate in the epidemic prevention volunteer work organized by the local community.

After Easter, the Hong Kong government's epidemic prevention policy was relaxed in phases, and all elementary schools in Hong Kong resumed face-to-face classroom teaching in phases, however, the epidemic prevention work is still in intense progress. The relevant work has received strong support from the Hong Kong Chinese Enterprises Association and various Chinese enterprises in Hong Kong, which have actively responded to the call of the Hong Kong government and organized volunteers to reinforce the community's anti-epidemic work.

The CPID volunteer team recently went to Fung Tak Community Center, Wong Tai Sin District, and participated in the packing of COVID-19 test kits, packing a total of 31,800 sets, which will be distributed by the Hong Kong government to the public in need.

The volunteer work was recognized and praised by the Wong Tai Sin District Office and the Hong Kong Chinese Enterprises Association.
