

CPID and Mori Government Sign Investment Agreement for Wind and Solar Power Projects

On February 4, 2023, the Government of Mori Kazakh Autonomous County, CPID, and Zhengzhou Innovation Energy Technology Co., Ltd. ("Innovation") signed an investment agreement for wind and solar power projects in Mori, Xinjiang. Mr. Yao Zhanbo, Deputy General Manager of Yaomeng Power Generation Company, signed the agreement on behalf of CPID.

Mr. Yao expressed his gratitude for the support and help from the Government of Mori, and introduced CPID's development strategy and advantages of new energy and "three new" industries. He said that while developing new energy, CPID, together with Innovation, would work closely with the Mori to boost the development of green and low-carbon economy and build a new energy demonstration county in the western region.

Mr. Zhu Yongsheng, General Manager of Innovation, introduced Innovation's situation and advantages in energy storage, and said that Innovation would spare no effort to cooperate with CPID and the Government of Mori in the development of new energy and accelerate the wind and solar projects.

Mr. Zhang Hui, Secretary of Mori Party Committee, extended a warm welcome to the visit and investment of CPID and Innovation, and proposed to jump at the chance and take immediate actions to develop the industries and new energy.

All the sides involved in the meeting said that they would immediately set up a joint task force to speed up the projects and strive to obtain approval and start construction within the year.
