

TD Counselors of the State Council Visited China Wireless

Headquarters

Recently, the Counselors of the State Council, Mr. Lang Zhizheng, Mr. Wu Boming, Mr. Huang Dangshi, etc., accompanied by Mr. Guo Deying, the CEO of China Wireless, came to China Wireless's headquarters, located at Shenzhen Coolpad Information Park where an expert symposium is held. On the symposium, the attendance had an instructive and extensive communication on the industrial development of TD-SCDMA in China.

Counselor Lang, mainly introduced the TD-SCDMA's current situation in Mainland China, and particularly inquired of the R&D of Yulong Coolpad (the subsidiary company of China Wireless) and its Coolpad products. Then Mr. Guo presented the Company's new development of the research and development on the TD-SCDMA and some problems in the recent TD trials. In the end, Mr. Guo also emphasized the company would take real actions to support China's owned TD-SCMA development, and endeavored to build up a strong national high-end brand of Coolpad in the TD field.

Last, Counselor Lang wrote an inscription as a happy conclusion for the symposium. The inscription is, “Technological innovations are the core comparative strength for a company for ever, and (he) hope Yulong Coolpad continually pursue excellence”.
