CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

The world today is undergoing unprecedented changes, and our businesses in Hong Kong suffered from the double blow of social unrest and the outbreak of COVID-19 which particularly hit our hotel business. Fortunately, the Group has diversified its asset class and geographical business, which successfully balanced the impact of these incidents. I am pleased to announce to our Shareholders that the Group continued to be profitable in FY2020.

Our hotel business has suffered from a significant decline in both business and leisure travelers and the situation remains uncertain. Despite the uncertainty on the changes in the global travel trends, we see potential demand from short-haul travel tourists. Hong Kong remains Mainland China's perfect choice. Consumer sentiment for outbound tours is building up and this potential demand stands to benefit our hotel in Hong Kong. Further, I believe that the promulgation of National Security Law in Hong Kong helps strengthen the social stability of Hong Kong. Upon re-open of border after pandemic, we are of the view that the Mainland tourists will travel to Hong Kong again.

Property development and investment remain the core businesses of the Group. With the Group's prudent investment strategy, we have built up a high quality property development and investment portfolio to maintain future growth and liquidity. The Group's Joint Venture project - the West Kowloon waterfront residential project "Grand Victoria", launched pre-sale in March 2021 and provides visibility to the Group's future profit. The Group is also well diversified geographically and therefore able to take advantage of different territory cycles. We continue to focus on reputable tenants under long leases with investment grade covenants for contribution of stable rental income to the Group. With the Group's robust financial position, we are ready to take advantage of opportunities as they arise.

Making profits and achieving sustainable development are both important to the Group. To maintain success of the Group, we have established an excellent management team and good corporate governance practices. In FY2020, the Group won a number of international awards and I am very proud of the widespread recognition for our efforts in this regard.

CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

On the ESG front, global trends, such as growing customers' and shareholders' interest in sustainability, are re-shaping the business environment. Investors are emphasizing ESG factors when evaluating companies. Therefore, we are actively establishing a sound sustainability governance model and integrating it into our business operations. We believe that is what our Shareholders expect of us.

The general economy remains challenging with the double-strike of social unrest and COVID-19. We keep cautious about land acquisition and exploration of investment opportunities. The healthy gearing level and strong cashflow of the Group provide room for the Group to grasp opportunities when available. Looking ahead, the economy of the world and Hong Kong still face difficulties and challenges. However, China is tackling the problems effectively by putting more resources in maintaining employment as well as fostering social stability. We expect the global economy will recover gradually and are confident that the economic growth of China and Hong Kong will still be stronger than the rest of the world.

I am confident that the Group will be able to cope with the current global economic headwinds and provide stable dividends to its Shareholders. I would also like to take the opportunity to thank our Shareholders, partners and colleagues for their concerted effort, which underpins the steady growth of our business. They are the key elements for the Group's success.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S REPORT

FY2020 HIGHLIGHTS

For the Group, 2020 is a year full of challenge and uncertainty. The global economy was impacted by outbreak of COVID-19 and the US-China trade tensions. Despite the significant slowdown in the global economy, I am pleased to report that the Group recorded a profit of HK$151 million this year.

Property Development

We continue our effort in the residential development project in West Kowloon Waterfront “Grand Victoria”¹. The project is progressed well with construction entering the superstructure work. Pre-sale of the project has been launched in March 2021 and over 270 units of the residential project have been sold with approximately HK$4 billion of sale proceeds.

Hotel Operations and Management

- COVID-19 hit our hotel operations significantly but immediate measures were taken to mitigate the impact. We streamlined our manpower resources, cut costs and reviewed thoroughly all our expenses. Moreover, we are introducing marketing and sales recovery strategies, rebranding our existing restaurant outlets and introducing a new Italian restaurant for having an all-new dining experience to the guests. All-in-all, whilst it has been a difficult period for the hotel industry, we have taken actions to deal with this period of uncertainty.

Balance Sheet and Management

- We fully repaid USD200 million guaranteed note which matured in January 2020 by cash and we continue to keep a large balance of cash and highly liquid investments.

Furthermore, we have access to approximately HK$9.1 billion of available fund² to maintain maximum financial flexibility.

- Cost control initiatives were implemented to navigate the unforeseen challenge of COVID-19.

¹ The Group is being a part of the consortium comprised of well-known property developers.

² It includes cash, undrawn facilities and highly liquid marketable securities, net of leverage.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S REPORT

RESULTS HIGHLIGHTS

In FY2020, the Group recorded revenue of HK$602.9 million (FY2019: HK$816.4 million), a 26.2% decrease as compared to FY2019. This decrease in revenue was mainly due to the significant drop in hotel operating results due to COVID-19 outbreak.

Net profit attributable to the Shareholders for the year amounted to HK$151.0 million (FY2019: HK$173.1 million), a 12.8% decrease as compared to last year, mainly due to the sharp decline in hotel performance caused by COVID-19 outbreak, which was offset by surplus in the fair value of investment properties and increase in return from financial investment, net of finance cost, in FY2020.

The Group remains resilient and continues to generate sustainable value for its Shareholders. As a result, the Board recommended a final dividend of HK3 cents per share. Together with an interim dividend of HK2 cents per share, the total dividend for the year will amount to HK5 cents per share. The Group is committed to maintaining a stable dividend policy in the long run.

For more details on our financial results, please refer to the section entitled "Management Discussion and Analysis".

STRENGTHENING OUR BUSINESS RESILIENCE

The Group adheres to prudent investment strategy. Our performance in FY2020 has been slightly affected by the outbreak of COVID-19 and the general uncertainty in the global economy except for hotel business. The Group has worked very hard to position itself to weather the global economic headwinds and to get itself ready to take advantage of a rebound in business activity during the recovery phase. We have taken the following specific measures:

- Reducing overheads in the hotel operations through trimming down operating workforce as well as cutting fixed costs; and
- Streamlining of operations including reducing workforce in other operations.

20 Moorgate, London

Rendering, Grand Victoria, Hong Kong

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S REPORT

Furthermore, the Group also benefited from government incentives and compensation programs such as the Employment Support Scheme under the Anti-epidemic Fund in which the HKSAR government will provide a wage subsidy to eligible employers. With incentives offered, the Group received approximately HK$7.7 million, the financial impacts of COVID-19 in FY2020 had been, to some extent, mitigated.

The Group remains much disciplined in reviewing investment opportunities. The current market environment is starting to force certain owners of assets or businesses to consider selling or introducing a partner. The Group will seek to take advantage of the environment to expand its business.

We will also seek partnerships with companies that own land in good locations to jointly develop their sites for regeneration or repositioning which provides us with an attractive strategy to property development.

We will continue with our prudent approach in allocating capital across the different divisions and regions to allow us to generate higher returns on equity as compared with our peer groups in Hong Kong. We firmly believe this approach should drive share price outperformance.

CAPITAL STRUCTURE AND LIQUIDITY

Adhering to prudent management of our capital, the Group continued to optimize its capital structure to ensure sufficient liquidity.

As at 31 December 2020, the Group's cash position amounted to HK$3,384.2 million (2019: HK$5,526.1 million). Together with the Group's undrawn banking facilities stood at HK$3,332.1 million (2019: HK$2,412.4 million), total available fund to the Group amounts to HK$6,716.3 million (2019: HK$7,938.5 million).

Our net gearing ratio (adjusting for hotel revaluation surplus of HK$5,033.8 million, which is not recognized on the balance sheet) stood at 17.6% as at 31 December 2020. Although hotel valuations were affected by COVID-19, the Group's credit standing remains healthy.

For equity, we repurchased approximately 20 million shares during the year for a total consideration of approximately HK$194.2 million. We believe this is an effective way to increase earnings per share and capital gain to our Shareholders along with the declared dividends.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S REPORT

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

We believe a high standard of corporate governance is an essential element to enhance sustainable development and provide a high degree of transparency to our investors. During the year, the Group received a number of international awards that recognized our efforts in its corporate governance and corporate social responsibility.

Examples of awards include:

Hong Kong – S E A Holdings Limited

- Caring Company 2020
- Happy Company 2020
- Good Employer Charter 2020
- Good MPF Employer 2020:
“Good MPF Employer”
“MPF Support Award”

Hong Kong – Crowne Plaza Hong Kong Causeway Bay

- Booking.com: Traveler Review Awards 2020
- Caring Company: 10 Year Plus Caring Company (2010 – 2020 Award)
- Hotels.com: Loved by Guests Award 2020
- TripAdvisor: Travelers' Choice 2020

Australia – Lizard Island Resort

- Travel + Leisure World's Best Awards 2020

The Group is committed to continuing its efforts to strengthen corporate social responsibility in all aspects and will continue to provide investors with a high degree of transparency in information disclosures.

OUTLOOK

Since the recovery of COVID-19 is still uncertain, it is difficult to predict the short-term and long-term effects on the economy. The economic outlook has become more challenging. The Group has adopted a series of mitigation and control measures to overcome this challenging period and will continue to closely monitor the economic recovery condition. We are ready to take more measures to tackle different situation. If the economy can rebound in rapid succession, we can react quickly and actively seek more opportunities.

Revenue from property investment in the coming years is expected to remain good given that we have reputable tenants under long leases. The rental income generated from these investment properties amounted to HK$212.9 million as at 31 December 2020. These provide clear visibility of revenue recognition of our business in the coming years.

Revenue from our hotel operations was impacted by COVID-19 and we do not expect a quick return to normality. Under the current environment, we will continue to review and control operating costs to ensure that the business can endure a long period of adverse conditions.

It is our target to improve return on equity by optimizing capital structure. The Group will continue to adopt a prudent approach to manage its balance sheet in order to maintain its good credit standing.

In conclusion, our strategic direction remains unchanged. Our core strategy is to seek sustainable growth through our strong financial position, quality corporate governance and adherence to its philosophy of "Building with the Times". The Group's prudent financial management policy aims to optimize its capital structure through active capital reallocation in order to increase return on equity.

I am optimistic about the Group's future and I very much believe that we are well-positioned for the recovery of the global economy. We have a number of existing projects on the way that will provide very strong cash flows to the Group in the years to come.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Rendering, Grand Victoria, Hong Kong

Financial Summary

Revenue for the year ended 31 December 2020 amounted to HK$602.9 million (2019: HK$816.4 million). The revenue was principally attributable to the recognition of rental income from investment properties, revenue from hotel operation and income from financial investment.

Profit attributable to the Shareholders for the year amounted to HK$151.0 million (2019: HK$173.1 million), equivalent to a basic earnings per share of HK23.0 cents (2019: HK26.1 cents). The decrease in profit attributable to the Shareholders in current year was mainly because of the significant drop in hotel operating results due to COVID-19 outbreak, but largely offset by fair value surplus in investment properties and increase in return from financial investment, net of finance cost.

The reported profit attributable to the Shareholders included a revaluation surplus on investment properties net of deferred taxation of HK$37.7 million (2019: HK$38.5 million). By excluding the effect of such surplus, the Group's net profit attributable to the Shareholders was HK$113.3 million (2019: HK$134.6 million), equivalent to HK17.2 cents (2019: HK20.3 cents) per share.

As at 31 December 2020, the Group's equity attributable to the Shareholders amounted to HK$6,240.6 million (2019: HK$6,250.4 million). The net asset value per share attributable to the Shareholders as at 31 December 2020 was HK$9.7 as compared with HK$9.4 as at 31 December 2019.

Property Investment and Development

The Group continues to focus on property development and property investment projects, but has not committed to limit its sphere of activities solely to outside the PRC or to property related development and investments. The strategy of the Group will be determined by the Board taking into consideration market opportunities, the Group's financial resources and its core competence. It is the Group's approach to review and optimize the project portfolios from time to time. Currently, the Group's core projects mainly consist of a residential project (No. 1 Shouson Hill Road East), an investment property in Hong Kong (a portion of Winway Building) and a joint venture residential development project "Grand Victoria" at West Kowloon Waterfront in Hong Kong, two investment properties in London, the United Kingdom (20 Moorgate and 33 Old Broad Street) and an investment property in Australia (Lizard Island).

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Outlook

After hard hit by the COVID-19 pandemic, the Mainland economy contracted by 6.8% in the first quarter of 2020. However, through effective measures against COVID-19, the COVID-19 pandemic has been rapidly controlled and the economy has swiftly recovered since the second quarter of 2020. The Mainland becomes the only major economy with positive annual growth for 2020. Despite the evolving US-China relations, the Mainland economy is likely to sustain robust growth in 2021.

For Hong Kong, the already weak economy has been hammered by the COVID-19 pandemic. In 2020, the economy contracted by 6.1%, which is the biggest annual contraction on record, and registered a contraction for the second consecutive years. Although the vaccination programmes have been launched in Hong Kong since February 2021, the pace of recovery will be slow.

Trading and office rental for property dropped in the first quarter of 2020 due to the rising unemployment rate and vacancy rate. Nevertheless, after adjusting upward the loan-to-value ratio caps for mortgage loans from 40% to 50% in August 2020 and abolishment of the Doubled Ad Valorem Stamp Duty in late November 2020 on non-residential property transactions, the market has slightly revived. Looking ahead, as the business environment remains tough and the local epidemic situation remains volatile, the property market will face pressure in the near term. Nonetheless, taking into account the tight demand-supply balance of private flats and the sustained low interest rate environment, we expect the residential property market to stay resilient in the long run, especially if border re-opening and economy recovery help to release demand from Mainland China. Demand for luxury home continues to show resilience amid limited new supply. Luxury home market may see stronger rebound.

The hospitality industry in Hong Kong has gone through an extremely tough year. Following the social unrest a year ago, the COVID-19 pandemic and the resultant stringent travel restrictions imposed by governments across the globe further hard hit the industry in 2020. Even if availability of vaccines across the world and more stable local epidemic situation have raised hopes for lifting of border controls and social distancing measures, the road ahead for hospitality still looks challenging. Having said that, we see potential demand from tourists, especially the Mainland Chinese, who consider Hong Kong their preferred leisure travel and shopping destination. After pandemic, we are of the view that the Mainland tourists will come and visit Hong Kong again. As such, our Group has proactively renovated our guest rooms, rebranded our restaurant outlets, improved our efficiency and cost management to sustain our business while prepared to restore our performance once tourism industry recovers its momentum.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

The United Kingdom is one of the countries which were seriously suffered from the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020. Since March 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic outbreak and the resultant disruption of market activities by the ongoing lockdown have taken a heavy toll to the United Kingdom. Supported by the speedy rollout of vaccines, as well as a significant decrease in recent infection rates, the lockdown restrictions have been gradually lifting. In spite of the prospect that life may be back to normal soon, the United Kingdom, as one of the countries hardest hit by the coronavirus pandemic, is predicted to have a weak economic growth prospects in 2021. Nonetheless, having reputable tenants under long leases with high grade covenants, the Group's property portfolio in the United Kingdom is expected to continue to contribute stable rental income to the Group. After Brexit, London continues to be a key global financial center. The Group remains confident in London to maintain this status and will continue to look for investment opportunities in London.

2021 will be a challenging year. Over its long history, SEA Group has witnessed the economic turbulence and social upheavals in Hong Kong and the world. Throughout the years, the Group had weathered these storms with equanimity. Our Group has been monitoring the global and local economy development and performed prudent risk and crisis management over the Group's financial liquidity and investment and property portfolio. With the Group's professional management team, robust financial capabilities, quality corporate governance practice and adherence to its philosophy of "Building with the Times", we are confident that our Group will withstand the current market instability and grow as opportunities arise.

To the Shareholders of S E A Holdings Limited
(incorporated in Bermuda with limited liability)

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of S E A Holdings Limited (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as “the Group”) set out on pages 73 to 166, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2020, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss, consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2020, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards (“HKFRSs”) issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (“HKICPA”) and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing (“HKSA”) issued by the HKICPA. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor’s Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA’s Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the “Code”), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter

How our audit addressed the key audit matter

Valuation of investment properties

We identified the valuation of investment properties as a key audit matter as the valuation is subject to management estimate and has a significant impact on the financial result and financial position of the Group.

As disclosed in note 19 to the consolidated financial statements, the carrying value of the investment properties amounted to HK$7,338,649,000 as at 31 December 2020 and the increase in fair value of the investment properties recorded in the profit for the year was HK$39,067,000. In estimating the fair value of investment properties, it is the Group's policy to engage independent qualified professional valuers (the "Valuers") to perform the valuation.

The Valuers have determined the fair value of the Group's investment properties by the use of different valuation methodologies, and key inputs such as: (i) capitalisation rate under income capitalisation approach; (ii) discount rate under discounted cash flow analysis; and (iii) adjusting factors such as location, size, age and maintenance under direct comparison approach.

Our procedures in relation to the valuation of investment properties included:

- Evaluating the competence, capabilities and objectivity of the Valuers;
- Obtaining an understanding of the valuation process and significant assumptions to assess if the methodologies meet relevant accounting requirements and industry norms;
- Obtaining the valuation reports and interviewing with the Valuers to assess the reasonableness of the key inputs used by the Valuers by comparing them to comparable market transactions and other publicly available information of the property market; and
- Assessing the completeness and accuracy of information provided by the Group to the Valuers.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSA's, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in the independent auditor's report is Tan Wei Ming.

1. GENERAL

S E A Holdings Limited (the “Company”) is an exempted company incorporated in Bermuda with limited liability and its shares are listed on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Stock Exchange”). Nan Luen International Limited, an exempted company incorporated in Bermuda with limited liability, is the immediate and ultimate holding company of the Company. The addresses of the registered office and principal place of business of the Company are disclosed in the directory of the annual report.

The Company acts as an investment holding company. The principal activities of its subsidiaries and a joint venture are set out in notes 45 and 22 respectively.

The consolidated financial statements are presented in Hong Kong dollars (“HK$”), which is also the functional currency of the Company.

2. APPLICATION OF AMENDMENTS TO HONG KONG FINANCIAL REPORTING STANDARDS (“HKFRSs”)

Amendments to HKFRSs that are mandatorily effective for the current year

In the current year, the Group has applied the Amendments to References to the Conceptual Framework in HKFRS Standards and the following amendments to HKFRSs issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants (“HKICPA”) for the first time, which are mandatorily effective for the annual period beginning on or after 1 January 2020 for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements:

Amendments to HKAS 1 and HKAS 8	Definition of Material
Amendments to HKFRS 3	Definition of a Business
Amendments to HKFRS 9, HKAS 39 and HKFRS 7	Interest Rate Benchmark Reform

Except as described below, the application of the Amendments to References to the Conceptual Framework in HKFRS Standards and the amendments to HKFRSs in the current year had no material impact on the Group’s financial positions and performance for the current and prior years and/or on the disclosures set out in these consolidated financial statements.

Impacts on application of Amendments to HKAS 1 and HKAS 8 Definition of Material

The Group has applied the Amendments to HKAS 1 and HKAS 8 for the first time in the current year. The amendments provide a new definition of material that states “information is material if omitting, misstating or obscuring it could reasonably be expected to influence decisions that the primary users of general purpose financial statements make on the basis of those financial statements, which provide financial information about a specific reporting entity.” The amendments also clarify that materiality depends on the nature or magnitude of information, either individually or in combination with other information, in the context of the financial statements taken as a whole.

The application of the amendments in the current year had no impact on the consolidated financial statements.

NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

² Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2022.

³ Effective for annual periods beginning on or after a date to be determined.

⁴ Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 June 2020.

⁵ Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2021.

Except for the new and amendments to HKFRSs mentioned below, the Directors anticipate that the application of all other new and amendments to HKFRSs will have no material impact on the consolidated financial statements in the foreseeable future.

Amendment to HKFRS 16 COVID-19-Related Rent Concessions

The amendment is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 June 2020.

The amendment introduces a new practical expedient for lessees to elect not to assess whether a COVID-19-related rent concession is a lease modification. The practical expedient only applies to rent concessions occurring as a direct consequence of the COVID-19 that meets all of the following conditions:

- the change in lease payments results in revised consideration for the lease that is substantially the same as, or less than, the consideration for the lease immediately preceding the change;
- any reduction in lease payments affects only payments originally due on or before 30 June 2021; and
- there is no substantive change to other terms and conditions of the lease.

Amendment to HKFRS 16 COVID-19-Related Rent Concessions — continued

A lessee applying the practical expedient accounts for changes in lease payments resulting from rent concessions the same way it would account for the changes applying HKFRS 16 Leases if the changes are not a lease modification. Forgiveness or waiver of lease payments are accounted for as variable lease payments. The related lease liabilities are adjusted to reflect the amounts forgiven or waived with a corresponding adjustment recognised in the profit or loss in the period in which the event occurs.

The application is not expected to have impact on the Group’s financial position and performance as the Group does not intend to apply the practical expedient.

Amendments to HKAS 1 Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-current and related amendments to Hong Kong Interpretation 5 (2020)

The amendments provide clarification and additional guidance on the assessment of right to defer settlement for at least twelve months from reporting date for classification of liabilities as current or non-current, which:

- specify that the classification of liabilities as current or non-current should be based on rights that are in existence at the end of the reporting period. Specifically, the amendments clarify that:
 - (i) the classification should not be affected by management intentions or expectations to settle the liability within 12 months; and
 - (ii) if the right is conditional on the compliance with covenants, the right exists if the conditions are met at the end of the reporting period, even if the lender does not test compliance until a later date; and
- clarify that if a liability has terms that could, at the option of the counterparty, result in its settlement by the transfer of the entity’s own equity instruments, these terms do not affect its classification as current or non-current only if the entity recognises the option separately as an equity instrument applying HKAS 32 Financial Instruments: Presentation.

In addition, Hong Kong Interpretation 5 was revised as a consequence of the Amendments to HKAS 1 to align the corresponding wordings with no change in conclusion.

Based on the Group’s outstanding liabilities as at 31 December 2020, the application of the amendments will not result in reclassification of the Group’s liabilities.

3. BASIS OF PREPARATION OF CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

3.1 Basis of preparation of consolidated financial statements

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with HKFRSs issued by the HKICPA. In addition, the consolidated financial statements include applicable disclosures required by the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on the Stock Exchange and by the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain properties and financial instruments that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period, as explained in the accounting policies set out below.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these consolidated financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of HKFRS 2 Share-based Payment, leasing transactions that are accounted for in accordance with HKFRS 16, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in HKAS 2 Inventories or value in use in HKAS 36 Impairment of Assets.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

For financial instruments and investment properties which are transacted at fair value and a valuation technique that unobservable inputs is to be used to measure fair value in subsequent periods, the valuation technique is calibrated so that at initial recognition the results of the valuation technique equals the transaction price.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

3.2 Significant accounting policies

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and entities controlled by the Company and its subsidiaries. Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss from the date the Group gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each item of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies in line with the Group's accounting policies.

All intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Changes in the Group's interests in existing subsidiaries

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, the assets and liabilities of that subsidiary and non-controlling interests (if any) are derecognised. A gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss and is calculated as the difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), and liabilities of the subsidiary attributable to the owners of the Company. All amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that subsidiary are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities of the subsidiary (i.e. reclassified to profit or loss or transferred to another category of equity as specified/permitted by applicable HKFRSs).

Investment in a joint venture

A joint venture is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint arrangement. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The results and assets and liabilities of the joint venture are incorporated in these consolidated financial statements using the equity method of accounting. The financial statements of the joint venture used for equity accounting purposes are prepared using uniform accounting policies as those of the Group for like transactions and events in similar circumstances. Under the equity method, an investment in a joint venture is initially recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the joint venture. Changes in net assets of the joint venture other than profit or loss and other comprehensive income are not accounted for unless such changes resulted in changes in ownership interest held by the Group. When the Group's share of losses of a joint venture exceeds the Group's interest in that joint venture (which includes any long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the joint venture), the Group discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the joint venture.

An investment in a joint venture is accounted for using the equity method from the date on which the investee becomes a joint venture. On acquisition of the investment in a joint venture, any excess of the cost of the investment over the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the investee is recognised as goodwill, which is included within the carrying amount of the investment. Any excess of the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities over the cost of the investment, after reassessment, is recognised immediately in profit or loss in the period in which the investment is acquired.

The Group assesses whether there is an objective evidence that the interest in a joint venture may be impaired. When any objective evidence exists, the entire carrying amount of the investment (including goodwill) is tested for impairment in accordance with HKAS 36 as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount (higher of value in use and fair value less costs of disposal) with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognised is not allocated to any asset, including goodwill, that forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognised in accordance with HKAS 36 to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

When a group entity transacts with a joint venture of the Group, profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the joint venture are recognised in the Group's consolidated financial statements only to the extent of interest in the joint venture that are not related to the Group.

Revenue from contracts with customers

The Group recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when “control” of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer.

A performance obligation represents a good or service (or a bundle of goods or services) that is distinct or a series of distinct goods or services that are substantially the same.

Control is transferred over time and revenue is recognised over time by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of the relevant performance obligation if one of the following criteria is met:

- the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group’s performance as the Group performs;
- the Group’s performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the Group performs; or
- the Group’s performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

Otherwise, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the distinct good or service.

Hotel room revenue is recognised over time by using output method; while revenue from food and beverage sales and ancillary services are recognised at point in time.

Over time revenue recognition: measurement of progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation

Output method

The progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured based on output method, which is to recognise revenue on the basis of direct measurements of the value of the goods or services transferred to the customer to date relative to the remaining goods or services promised under the contract, that best depict the Group’s performance in transferring control of goods or services.

As a practical expedient, if the Group has a right to consideration in an amount that corresponds directly with the value of the Group’s performance completed to date (i.e. hotel room revenue in which the Group bills a fixed amount for each day of the room provided), the Group recognises revenue in the amount to which the Group has the right to invoice.

Investment properties

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation.

Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including any directly attributable expenditure. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are measured at their fair values, adjusted to exclude any prepaid or accrued operating lease income.

Gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of investment properties are included in profit or loss for the period in which they arise.

Construction costs incurred for investment properties under construction are capitalised as part of the carrying amount of the investment properties under construction.

An investment property is derecognised upon disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use or no future economic benefits are expected from its disposal. A leasehold land under head lease which is recognised as a right-of-use asset is derecognised if the Group as intermediate lessor classifies the sublease as a finance lease. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the property (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in profit or loss in the period in which the property is derecognised.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are tangible assets that held for use in the supply of services, or for administrative purpose. Property, plant and equipment other than crockery, utensils and linen are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less subsequent accumulated depreciation and subsequent accumulated impairment losses, if any.

When the Group makes payments for ownership interests of properties which includes both leasehold land and building elements, the entire consideration is allocated between the leasehold land and the building elements in proportion to the relative fair values at initial recognition. To the extent the allocation of the relevant payments can be made reliably, interest in leasehold land that is accounted for as an operating lease is presented as “right-of-use assets” in the consolidated statement of financial position except for those that are classified and accounted for as investment properties under the fair value model. When the consideration cannot be allocated reliably between non-lease building element and undivided interest in the underlying leasehold land, the entire properties are classified as property, plant and equipment.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of assets, other than crockery, utensils and linen, less their residual values over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in profit or loss.

Intangible asset — club membership

Intangible asset — club membership acquired separately

The club membership with finite useful lives that are acquired separately are carried at costs less accumulated amortisation and any accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation for intangible assets-club membership with finite useful lives is recognised on a straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful life and amortisation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate being accounted for on a prospective basis.

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains and losses arising from derecognition of a club membership measured at the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, are recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss when the asset is derecognised.

Impairment on property, plant and equipment and intangible assets

At the end of the reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its property, plant and equipment, and intangible assets with finite useful lives to determine whether there is any indication that these assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the relevant asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any).

The recoverable amount of property, plant and equipment, and intangible assets are estimated individually. When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount individually, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

In testing a cash-generating unit for impairment, corporate assets are allocated to individual cash generating units when a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be established, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be established. The Group assesses whether there is indication that corporate assets may be impaired. If such indication exists, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit or group of cash-generating units to which the corporate asset belongs, and is compared with the carrying amount of the relevant cash-generating unit or group of cash-generating units.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset (or a cash-generating unit) for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or a cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. For corporate assets or portion of corporate assets which cannot be allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis to a cash-generating unit, the Group compares the carrying amount of a group of cash-generating units, including the carrying amounts of the corporate assets or portion of corporate assets allocated to that group of cash-generating units, with the recoverable amount of the group of cash-generating units. In allocating the impairment loss, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill (if applicable) and then to the other assets on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit or the group of cash-generating units. The carrying amount of an asset is not reduced below the highest of its fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable), its value in use (if determinable) and zero. The amount of the impairment loss that would otherwise have been allocated to the asset is allocated pro rata to the other assets of the unit or the group of cash-generating units. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit or a group of cash-generating units) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or a cash-generating unit or a group of cash-generating units) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Inventories

Inventories comprising food and beverage are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost of inventories are determined on a weighted average method. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale.

Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value except for trade receivables arising from contracts with customers which are measured in accordance with HKFRS 15. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (“FVTPL”)) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets at FVTPL are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or financial liability and of allocating interest income and interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts and payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial asset or financial liability, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Interest income which is derived from the Group’s ordinary course of business is presented as revenue.

Financial assets

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortised cost:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (“FVTOCI”):

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both selling and collecting contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets — continued

All other financial assets are subsequently measured at FVTPL, except that at initial recognition of a financial asset the Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in fair value of an equity investment in other comprehensive income (“OCI”) if that equity investment is neither held for trading nor contingent consideration recognised by an acquirer in a business combination to which HKFRS 3 Business Combinations applies.

In addition, the Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that are required to be measured at the amortised cost or FVTOCI as measured at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch.

(i) Amortised cost and interest income

Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method for financial assets measured subsequently at amortised cost and debt instruments subsequently measured at FVTOCI. Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset, except for financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired (see below). For financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset from the next reporting period. If the credit risk on the credit-impaired financial instrument improves so that the financial asset is no longer credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset from the beginning of the reporting period following the determination that the asset is no longer credit-impaired.

(ii) Debt instruments classified as FVTOCI

Subsequent changes in the carrying amounts for debt instruments classified as FVTOCI as a result of interest income calculated using the effective interest method, and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in profit or loss. All other changes in the carrying amount of these debt instruments are recognised in OCI and accumulated under the heading of investment revaluation reserve. Impairment allowances are recognised in profit or loss with corresponding adjustment to OCI without reducing the carrying amounts of these debt instruments. When these debt instruments are derecognised, the cumulative gains or losses previously recognised in OCI are reclassified to profit or loss.

(iii) Equity instruments designated as at FVTOCI

Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI are subsequently measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the investment revaluation reserve; and are not subject to impairment assessment. The cumulative gain or loss will not be reclassified to profit or loss on disposal of the equity investments, and will be transferred to retained profits.

Dividend from these investments in equity instruments are recognised in profit or loss when the Group's right to receive the dividends is established, unless the dividend clearly represent a recovery of a part of the cost of the investment. Dividends are included in the "revenue" line item in profit or loss.

(iv) Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets that do not meet the criteria for being measured at amortised cost or FVTOCI or designated as FVTOCI are measured at FVTPL.

Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any fair value gains or losses recognised in profit or loss. The net gain or loss recognised in profit or loss excludes any dividend or interest earned on the financial asset and is included in the "other gains and losses" line item.

Impairment allowance in respect of financial assets and financial guarantee contract

The Group performs impairment assessment under expected credit loss model (“ECL”) on financial assets (including trade receivables, other receivables, pledged bank deposits, bank balances, debt instruments at FVTOCI), loan to a joint venture and financial guarantee contract which are subject to impairment assessment under HKFRS 9. The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL represents the ECL that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of the relevant instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECL (“12m ECL”) represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date. Assessment are done based on the Group’s historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current conditions at the reporting date as well as the forecast of future conditions.

The Group always recognises lifetime ECL for trade receivables. The ECL on these assets are assessed individually.

For all other instruments, the Group measures the loss allowance equal to 12m ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, in which case the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increases in the likelihood or risk of a default occurring since initial recognition.

(i) Significant increase in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition. In making this assessment, the Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

— continued

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly:

- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the financial instrument's external (if available) or internal credit rating;
- significant deterioration in external market indicators of credit risk, e.g. a significant increase in the credit spread, the credit default swap prices for the debtor;
- existing or forecast adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations;
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor;
- an actual or expected significant adverse change in the regulatory, economic, or technological environment of the debtor that results in a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations.

Irrespective of the outcome of the above assessment, the Group presumes that the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due, unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information that demonstrates otherwise.

Despite the foregoing, the Group assumes that the credit risk on a debt instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition if the debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk at the reporting date. A debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk if i) it has a low risk of default, ii) the borrower has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term and iii) adverse changes in economic and business conditions in the longer term may, but will not necessarily, reduce the ability of the borrower to fulfil its contractual cash flow obligations. The Group considers a debt instrument to have low credit risk which has either investment grades or issued by a large institution.

For financial guarantee contracts, the date that the Group becomes a party to the irrevocable commitment is considered to be the date of initial recognition for the purposes of assessing impairment. In assessing whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition of financial guarantee contracts, the Group considers the changes in the risk that the specified debtor will default on the contract.

The Group regularly monitors the effectiveness of the criteria used to identify whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk and revises them as appropriate to ensure that the criteria are capable of identifying significant increase in credit risk before the amount becomes past due.

(ii) Definition of default

For internal credit risk management, the Group considers an event of default occurs when information developed internally or obtained from external sources indicates that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors, including the Group, in full (without taking into account any collaterals held by the Group).

Irrespective of the above, the Group considers that default has occurred when a financial asset is more than 90 days past due unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information to demonstrate that a more lagging default criterion is more appropriate.

(iii) Credit-impaired financial assets

A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit-impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- (a) significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;
- (b) a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;
- (c) the lender(s) of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider;
- (d) it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation; or
- (e) the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties.

(iv) Write-off policy

The Group writes off a financial asset when there is information indicating that the counterparty is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery, for example, when the counterparty has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings, or in the case of trade receivables, when the amounts are over one year past due, whichever occurs sooner. Financial assets written off may still be subject to enforcement activities under the Group's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event. Any subsequent recoveries are recognised in profit or loss.

(v) Measurement and recognition of ECL

The measurement of ECL is a function of the probability of default, loss given default (i.e. the magnitude of the loss if there is a default) and the exposure at default. The assessment of the probability of default and loss given default is based on historical data adjusted by forward-looking information. Estimation of ECL reflects an unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights.

Generally, the ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at the effective interest rate determined at initial recognition.

For a financial guarantee contract, the Group is required to make payments only in the event of a default by the debtor in accordance with the terms of the instrument that is guaranteed. Accordingly, the ECL is the present value of the expected payments to reimburse the holder for a credit loss that it incurs less any amounts that the Group expects to receive from the holder, the debtor or any other party.

For ECL on financial guarantee contract for which the effective interest rate cannot be determined, the Group will apply a discount rate that reflects the current market assessment of the time value of money and the risks that are specific to the cash flows but only if, and to the extent that, the risks are taken into account by adjusting the discount rate instead of adjusting the cash shortfalls being discounted.

Interest income is calculated based on the gross carrying amount of the financial asset unless the financial asset is credit-impaired, in which case interest income is calculated based on amortised cost of the financial asset.

Except for investments in debt instruments that are measured at FVTOCI and the financial guarantee contract, the Group recognises an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss for all financial instruments by adjusting their carrying amount, with the exception of trade receivables where the corresponding adjustment is recognised through a loss allowance account. For investments in debt instruments that are measured at FVTOCI, the loss allowance is recognised in OCI and accumulated in the investment revaluation reserve without reducing the carrying amount of these debt instruments. Such amount represents the changes in the investment revaluation reserve in relation to accumulated loss allowance.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity.

On derecognition of a financial asset measured at amortised cost, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognised in profit or loss.

On derecognition of an investment in a debt instrument classified as at FVTOCI, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the investment revaluation reserve is reclassified to profit or loss.

On derecognition of an investment in equity instrument which the Group has elected on initial recognition to measure at FVTOCI, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the investment revaluation reserve is not reclassified to profit or loss, but is transferred to retained profits.

Financial liabilities and equity

Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Company are recorded at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Repurchase of the Company's own equity instruments is recognised and deducted directly in equity.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost

Financial liabilities including trade and other payables, bank borrowings, and guaranteed notes are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method.

Financial guarantee contract

A financial guarantee contract is a contract that requires the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payments when due in accordance with the terms of a debt instrument. Financial guarantee contract liabilities are measured initially at their fair values. It is subsequently measured at the higher of:

- the amount of the loss allowance determined in accordance with HKFRS 9; and
- the amount initially recognised less, where appropriate, cumulative amortisation recognised over the guarantee period.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Group derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Group's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.

Offsetting a financial asset and a financial liability

A financial asset and a financial liability are offset and the net amount presented in the consolidated statement of financial position when, and only when, the Group currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognised amounts; and intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Leases

Definition of a lease

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

For contracts entered into or modified on or after the date of initial application or arising from business combinations, the Group assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease based on the definition under HKFRS 16 at inception, modification date or acquisition date, as appropriate. Such contract will not be reassessed unless the terms and conditions of the contract are subsequently changed.

The Group as a lessee

Right-of-use assets

The cost of right-of-use asset includes:

- the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability; and
- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, less any lease incentives received.

Except for those that are classified as investment properties and measured under fair value model, right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any remeasurement of lease liabilities.

Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of its estimated useful life and the lease term.

The Group presents right-of-use assets that do not meet the definition of investment property in “property, plant and equipment”, the same line item within which the corresponding underlying assets would be presented if they were owned. Right-of-use assets that meet the definition of investment property are presented within “investment properties”.

Refundable rental deposits

Refundable rental deposits paid are accounted under HKFRS 9 and initially measured at fair value.

Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of a lease, the Group recognises and measures the lease liability at the present value of lease payments that are unpaid at that date. In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses the incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date if the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable.

The lease payments include fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable.

Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are not included in the measurement of lease liabilities and right-of-use assets, and are recognised as expense in the period in which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

After the commencement date, lease liabilities are adjusted by changes in interest and lease payments.

The Group remeasures lease liabilities (and makes a corresponding adjustment to the related right-of-use assets) whenever:

- the lease term has changed in which case the related lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the date of reassessment.
- the lease payments change due to changes in market rental rates following a market rent review in which cases the related lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using the initial discount rate.

The Group presents lease liabilities as a separate line item on the consolidated statement of financial position.

Lease modifications

The Group accounts for a lease modification as a separate lease if:

- the modification increases the scope of the lease by adding the right to use one or more underlying assets; and
- the consideration for the leases increases by an amount commensurate with the stand-alone price for the increase in scope and any appropriate adjustments to that stand-alone price to reflect the circumstances of the particular contract.

For a lease modification that is not accounted for as a separate lease, the Group remeasures the lease liability based on the lease term of the modified lease by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the effective date of the modification.

The Group accounts for the remeasurement of lease liabilities by making corresponding adjustments to the relevant right-of-use asset. When the modified contract contains a lease component and one or more additional lease or non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the modified contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative stand-alone price of the lease component and the aggregate stand-alone price of the non-lease components.

The Group as lessor

Classification and measurement of leases

Leases for which the Group is a lessor are classified as finance or operating leases. Whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an underlying asset to the lessee, the contract is classified as a finance lease. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

Rental income from operating leases is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset, such costs are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term except for investment properties measured under fair value method. Variable lease payments for operating leases that depend on an index or a rate are based on the market or rate at commencement date of the lease and included in the total lease payments to be recognised on a straight-line basis over the lease term. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are recognised as income when they arise.

Rental income which is derived from the Group's ordinary course of business is presented as revenue.

Sublease

When the Group is an intermediate lessor, it accounts for the head lease and the sublease as two separate contracts. The sublease is classified as a finance or operating lease by reference to the right-of-use asset arising from the head lease, not with reference to the underlying asset.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred.

Government grants

Government grants are not recognised until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognises as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate.

Government grants related to income that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they become receivable. Such grants are presented under “other income”.

Foreign currencies

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recognised at the rates of exchanges prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At the end of the reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the retranslation of monetary items are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

For the purpose of presenting the consolidated financial statements, the assets and liabilities of the Group’s operations are translated into the presentation currency of the Group (i.e. Hong Kong dollars) using exchange rates prevailing at the end of each reporting period. Income and expenses items are translated at the average exchange rates for the period, unless exchange rates fluctuate significantly during the period, in which case, the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of transactions are used. Exchange differences arising, if any, are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity under the heading of translation reserve (attributed to non-controlling interests as appropriate).

On the disposal of a foreign operation (that is, a disposal of the Group’s entire interest in a foreign operation, or a disposal involving loss of control over a subsidiary that includes a foreign operation, or a partial disposal of an interest in a joint arrangement that includes a foreign operation of which the retained interest becomes a financial asset), all of the exchange differences accumulated in equity in respect of that operation attributable to the owners of the Company are reclassified to profit or loss.

Share-based payment

Equity-settled share-based payment transactions

Share options/share awards granted to employees

Equity-settled share-based payments to employees are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments at the grant date.

The fair value of the equity-settled share-based payments determined at the grant date without taking into consideration all non-market vesting conditions is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, based on the Group's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest, with a corresponding increase in equity (share option reserve/share award reserve). At the end of each reporting period, the Group revises its estimate of the number of equity instruments expected to vest based on assessment of all relevant non-market vesting conditions. The impact of the revision of the original estimates, if any, is recognised in profit or loss such that the cumulative expense reflects the revised estimate, with a corresponding adjustment to the share option reserve/share award reserve. For share options/share awards that vest immediately at the date of grant, the fair value of the share options/share awards granted is expensed immediately to profit or loss.

When share options are exercised, the amount previously recognised in share option reserve will be transferred to share premium. When the share options are forfeited after the vesting date or are still not exercised at the expiry date, the amount previously recognised in share option reserve will be transferred to retained profits.

Retirement benefit costs

Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit plans are recognised as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are recognised at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid as and when employees rendered the services. All short-term employee benefits are recognised as an expense unless another HKFRS requires or permits the inclusion of the benefit in the cost of an asset.

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees (such as wages and salaries, annual leave and sick leave) after deducting any amount already paid.

Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from profit before taxation because of income or expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and interest in a joint venture, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments and interest are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilise the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset is realised, based on tax rate (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

Taxation — continued

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax for investment properties that are measured using the fair value model, the carrying amounts of such properties are presumed to be recovered entirely through sale, unless the presumption is rebutted. The presumption is rebutted when the investment property is depreciable and is held within a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment property over time, rather than through sale.

For the purpose of measuring deferred tax for leasing transactions in which the Group recognises the right-of-use assets and the related lease liabilities, the Group first determines whether the tax deductions are attributable to the right-of-use assets or the lease liabilities.

For leasing transactions in which the tax deductions are attributable to the lease liabilities, the Group applies HKAS 12 Income Taxes requirements to the leasing transaction as a whole. Temporary differences relating to right-of-use assets and lease liabilities are assessed on a net basis. Excess of depreciation on right-of-use assets over the lease payments for the principal portion of lease liabilities results in net deductible temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied to the same taxable entity by the same taxation authority.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in profit or loss, except when they relate to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY

In the application of the Group's accounting policies, which are described in note 3, the Directors are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and underlying assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING JUDGEMENTS AND KEY SOURCES OF ESTIMATION UNCERTAINTY — continued

Critical judgements in applying accounting policies

The following are the critical judgements, apart from those involving estimations (see below), that the management has made in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies and that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements.

Deferred taxation on investment properties

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax arising from investment properties that are measured using the fair value model, the Directors have determined that the Group's investment properties situated in Hong Kong and in the United Kingdom (the "UK") are not held under a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment properties over time, whereas those situated in Australia are held under a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment properties over time. Therefore, the presumption that the carrying amounts of investment properties are recovered entirely through sale is not rebutted for properties situated in Hong Kong and the UK. For the Group's investment properties situated in Hong Kong, the Group has not recognised any deferred taxes on changes in fair value of these investment properties as the Group is not subject to any income taxes on disposal of these investment properties. For the Group's investment properties situated in the UK, the Group has recognised deferred tax on changes in fair value of these investment properties due to changes of tax regulation in April 2019. The presumption that the carrying amounts of the Group's investment properties situated in Australia are recovered entirely through sale has been rebutted and the deferred tax on the changes in fair value of those investment properties is recognised according to the relevant tax rules.

Key sources of estimation uncertainty

The following are the key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period that may have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year.

Deferred tax asset

As at 31 December 2020, a deferred tax asset of HK$26,276,000 (2019: HK$21,427,000) in relation to unused tax losses of HK$153,634,000 (2019: HK$124,737,000) has been recognised to offset with the deferred tax liabilities arisen from same entities. No deferred tax asset has been recognised on the remaining tax losses of HK$352,776,000 (2019: HK$239,229,000) due to the unpredictability of future profit streams. The realisability of the deferred tax asset mainly depends on whether sufficient future profits or taxable temporary differences will be available in the future, which is a key source of estimation uncertainty especially in the current year given the significant uncertainty on the potential disruption of Group's hotel operations due to the COVID-19 pandemic. In cases where the actual future taxable profits generated are less or more than expected, or change in facts and circumstances which result in revision of future taxable profits estimation, a material reversal or further recognition of deferred tax assets may arise, which would be recognised in profit or loss for the period in which such a reversal or further recognition takes place.

Fair value of investment properties

Investment properties with a carrying amount of HK$7,338,649,000 in aggregate (2019: HK$7,313,892,000) are stated at fair value based on the valuation performed by independent qualified professional valuers. In determining the fair values, the valuers have used different methods of valuation which involve certain assumptions of market conditions. In relying on the valuation reports, the Directors have exercised their judgment and are satisfied that the methods of valuation are reflective of the current market conditions. Changes in assumption relating to these factors could affect the reported fair values of the investment properties. See note 19 for further disclosures.

Fair value measurement of financial assets at FVTPL

The Group's financial assets at FVTPL as disclosed in note 25 are measured at fair values with fair values being determined based on unobservable inputs using valuation techniques. Judgement and estimation are required in establishing the relevant valuation techniques and the relevant inputs thereof. Changes in assumptions relating to these factors could result in material adjustments to the fair values of these instruments. See note 35(c) for further disclosures.

5. CAPITAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Group manages its capital to ensure that entities in the Group will be able to continue as a going concern while maximising the return to the Shareholders through the optimisation of the debt and equity balances. The Group's overall strategy remains unchanged from the prior year.

The capital structure of the Group consists of net debt (see below) and equity attributable to the owners of the Company, comprising issued share capital, retained profits and reserves.

6. SEGMENT INFORMATION

Information reported to the Executive Directors, being the chief operating decision makers ("CODM"), for the purposes of resource allocation and assessment of segment performance is mainly focused on property development, property investment, hotel operation and financial investment.

The property investment segment includes a number of various property locations, each location is considered as a separate operating segment by the CODM. For segment reporting, these individual operating segments have been aggregated into a single reportable segment as property investment provide the same nature of income with the same recognition criteria.

The financial investment segment includes interest income from time deposits and investment income from listed and unlisted investments.

It is the Group's strategy to make financial investment, particularly fixed income debt securities, from time to time in order to generate stable financial investment income for the Group.

On 21 March 2018, the Hong Kong Legislative Council passed The Inland Revenue (Amendment) (No. 7) Bill 2017 (the "Bill") which introduced the two-tiered profits tax rates regime. The Bill was signed into law on 28 March 2018 and was gazetted on the following day. For the year ended 31 December 2020, the total cash outflows for leases is HK$10,826,000 (2019: HK$10,537,000).

For both years, the Group leases office premises for its operations. Lease contracts are entered into for fixed term of 3 years with extension options. In determining the lease term and assessing the length of the non-cancellable period, the Group applies the definition of a contract and determines the period for which the contract is enforceable.

The Group has extension options for lease of office premises. These are used to maximise operational flexibility in terms of managing the assets used in the Group's operation. The majority of extension and termination options held are exercisable only by the Group and not by the respective lessors.

The Group assesses, at lease commencement date, whether it is reasonably certain to exercise the extension options. The potential exposures to these future undiscounted lease payments for extension options in which the Group is not reasonably certain to exercise of the lease liabilities as at 31 December 2020 are HK$32,478,000 (2019: HK$32,478,000) of which such amount has not been recognised in consolidated financial statements.

In addition, the Group assesses whether it is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option upon the occurrence of either a significant event or a significant change in circumstances that is within the control of the lessee. During the year, there is no such triggering event (2019: nil).

Impairment assessment

The management of the Group concluded there was indication for impairment and conducted impairment assessment on recoverable amounts of certain property, plant and equipment related to hotel operation with carrying amounts of approximately HK$566,174,000. The management of the Group estimated the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit (“CGU”) to which the assets belong based on fair value less costs of disposal. The relevant properties were measured at fair value based on Level 3 hierarchy using residual approach on a redevelopment basis. In determining the fair value of the relevant properties, the Group engaged an independent qualified professional valuer to perform the valuation. The key unobservable inputs used in valuing the relevant properties included the gross development value on completion status and estimated project redevelopment cost.

Based on the result of the assessment, management of the Group determined that the recoverable amount of the CGU based on the fair value less cost of disposal was higher than its carrying amount. No impairment is recognised during the year ended 31 December 2020.

Market risk

(i) Currency risk

Certain subsidiaries of the Company have foreign currency denominated monetary assets/(liabilities) which expose the Group to foreign currency risk. The Group currently does not have a foreign currency hedging policy. However, the management monitors the foreign currency exposure and will consider hedging significant foreign exchange exposure should the need arises.

The carrying amounts of the Group's foreign currency, except US$, denominated net monetary assets (liabilities) at the end of the reporting period in the respective group entities are as follows:

	2020 HK$'000	2019 HK$'000
Renminbi	1,195	1,236
Australian dollars	9,736	949
Great Britain pounds	794	2,879

Sensitivity analysis

The following table details the Group's sensitivity to a 5% (2019: 5%) increase and decrease in the functional currencies of the relevant subsidiaries (i.e. Renminbi, Australian dollars and Great Britain pounds) against the relevant foreign currencies of the relevant subsidiaries (i.e. Renminbi, Australian dollars and Great Britain pounds). 5% (2019: 5%) is the sensitivity rate used when reporting foreign currency risk internally to key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rates. A positive number below indicates an increase in profit for the year where the relevant functional currencies of the subsidiaries strengthen 5% (2019: 5%) against relevant foreign currencies. There would be an equal and opposite impact where functional currencies of the relevant subsidiaries weaken by 5% (2019: 5%) against the relevant foreign currencies.

	(Increase) decrease in profit for the year
	2020 HK$'000	2019 HK$'000
Renminbi	60	62
Australian dollars	487	47
Great Britain pounds	40	144

In management's opinion, the sensitivity analysis is unrepresentative of the inherent foreign currency risk as the year end exposure does not reflect the exposure during the relevant years.

Since the HK$ is pegged to the US$ under the Linked Exchange Rate System, the management does not expect any significant foreign currency exposure in relation to the exchange rate fluctuations between the Hong Kong dollar and the United States dollar.

(ii) Interest rate risk

The Group is exposed to fair value interest rate risk in relation to guaranteed notes, listed and unlisted debt securities, and pledged bank deposits. The Group is also exposed to cash flow interest rate risk in relation to variable-rate borrowings and bank balances. The Directors consider that the interest rate risk on bank balances are insignificant as they are subject to minimal interest rate fluctuation, accordingly, no sensitivity analysis is presented. The Group's cash flow interest rate risk is mainly concentrated on the fluctuation of the Hong Kong Interbank Offered Rate ("HIBOR"), the British Pound Sterling London Interbank Offered Rate and Australian Bank Bill Swap Bid Rate on the bank borrowings. The Group aims at keeping borrowings at variable rates. The Group manages its interest rate exposures by assessing the potential impact arising from any interest rate movements based on interest rate level and outlook. The management will review the proportion of borrowings in fixed and floating rates and ensure they are within reasonable range.

Total interest income in revenue and other income from financial assets that are measured at amortised cost or at FVTOCI is as follows:

	2020 HK$'000	2019 HK$'000
Revenue
Financial assets
— at amortised cost	39,879	150,824

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analysis below has been determined based on the exposure to interest rates at the end of the reporting period. The analysis is prepared assuming the financial instruments outstanding at the end of the reporting period was outstanding for the whole year. A 50 basis points (2019: 50 basis points) increase or decrease in variable-rate bank borrowings and are used when reporting interest rate risk internally to key management personnel and represents the management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If interest rates had been 50 basis points (2019: 50 basis points) higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's:

- profit for the year ended 31 December 2020 would decrease/increase by HK$45,769,000 (2019: HK$55,469,000) in respect to its variable-rate bank borrowings; and
- investment revaluation reserve would decrease/increase by HK$19,398,000 (2019: HK$28,002,000) in respect to the changes in the fair value of fixed rate instruments classified as debt instruments at FVTOCI.

(iii) Price risk

The Group is exposed to equity price risk through its investments in equity securities measured at FVTOCI. For listed equity securities measured at FVTOCI, the management of the Group manages this exposure by maintaining a portfolio of investments with different risks.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses have been determined based on the exposure to equity price risk at the reporting date.

If the prices of the respective equity instruments had been 5% higher/lower, the Group's investment revaluation reserve for the year ended 31 December 2020 would increase/decrease by HK$21,574,000 as a result of changes in fair value of listed equity securities measured at FVTOCI.

No prior year sensitivity analysis is presented as the Group had no equity instruments at FVTOCI at 31 December 2019.

(b) Financial risk management objectives and policies — continued

Credit risk and impairment assessment

Credit risk refers to the risk that the Group's counterparties default on their contractual obligations resulting in financial losses to the Group. The Group's credit risk exposures are primarily attributable to trade receivables, other receivables, pledged bank deposits, bank balances, debt instruments at FVTOCI, loan to a joint venture and contingent liability in relation to the financial guarantee contract to its joint venture (see note 22). The Group does not hold any collateral or other credit enhancements to cover its credit risks associated with its financial assets and financial guarantee contracts.

Trade receivables arising from contracts with customers

In order to minimise the credit risk, the management of the Group has delegated a team responsible for determination of credit limits and credit approvals. Before granting credit to any corporate customers and travel agents, the Group uses an internal credit assessment policy to assess the potential customer's credit quality and defines credit limit by corporate customer and travel agents. Limits attributed to customers are reviewed regularly. Other monitoring procedures are in place to ensure that follow-up action is taken to recover overdue debts. In this regard, the Directors consider that the Group's credit risk is mitigated. In addition, the Group performs impairment assessment under ECL model on trade balances individually. For the years ended 31 December 2020 and 2019, the Group assessed the ECL for trade receivables were insignificant and thus no loss allowance was recognised.

Other receivables and deposits

For other receivables and deposits, the Directors make periodic individual assessment on the recoverability of other receivables and deposits based on historical settlement records, past experience, and also quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportive forward-looking information. The Directors believe that there are no significant increase in credit risk of these amounts since initial recognition and the Group provided impairment based on 12m ECL. For the years ended 31 December 2020 and 2019, the Group assessed the ECL for other receivables and deposits were insignificant and thus no loss allowance was recognised.

Pledged bank deposits and bank balances

Credit risk on pledged bank deposits and bank balances is limited because the counterparties are reputable banks with high credit ratings assigned by international credit agencies. The Group assessed 12m ECL for pledged bank deposits and bank balances by reference to information relating to probability of default and loss given default of the respective credit rating grades published by external credit rating agencies. For the years ended 31 December 2020 and 2019, the Group assessed the ECL for pledged bank deposits and bank balances were insignificant and thus no loss allowance was recognised.

35. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS — continued

Credit risk and impairment assessment — continued

Debt instruments at FVTOCI

The Group only invests in debt securities with low credit risk. The Group's debt instruments at FVTOCI comprise listed and unlisted securities that are either (i) in investment grades or (ii) issued by large PRC state-owned institutions or (iii) issued by large listed companies with secured financial capability and where no default occurred in the past years and therefore are considered to be low credit risk investments.

The Group has established an expected credit losses calculation methodology that is based on the probability of default assigned to each issuer according to their external credit ratings, financial performance and financial positions and the related historical credit losses experience, adjusted for forward-looking information, including the economic development that the issuers are operated in, such as forecast property market development, forecast changes in default rate of the respective credit rating published by the external credit rating agencies, etc.

As mentioned in note 20, there was an indication that there was significant increase in credit risk of one of the debt instruments at FVTOCI, and therefore, lifetime ECL has been adopted for assessing the impairment loss on that debt security and the Group provided impairment loss allowance of HK$10,033,000 for the year ended 31 December 2019. Other than that, the Directors believe that there are no significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition and the Group provided impairment based on 12m ECL.

Loan to a joint venture

The Group's exposure to credit risk arising from default of the counterparty is limited as the counterparty engages in property development in Hong Kong and the underlying properties under development are of high quality. For the years ended 31 December 2020 and 2019, the Group assessed the ECL for loan to a joint venture was insignificant and thus no loss allowance was recognised.

Financial guarantee contract

For financial guarantee contracts provided to the banking facilities granted to a joint venture, the maximum amount that the Group has guaranteed under the respective contracts was HK$691,620,000 as at 31 December 2020 (2019: HK$691,620,000). At the end of the reporting period, the Directors have performed impairment assessment, and concluded that there has been no significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition of the financial guarantee contracts as the guarantee is secured by the properties of the joint venture for both years. In addition, the Directors make periodic assessment on the ECL based on financial position and financial performance of the joint venture, and also quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportive forward-looking information, including the macroeconomic conditions that the counterparties operated in, such as forecast unemployment rate and property market development, etc. Accordingly, the loss allowance for financial guarantee contracts issued by the Group is measured at an amount equal to 12m ECL. For the years ended 31 December 2020 and 2019, the Group assessed the ECL for financial guarantee contracts were insignificant and thus no loss allowance was recognised.

Other than concentration of credit risk on liquid funds which are deposited with several banks with high credit ratings, the Group does not have any other significant concentration of credit risk. Trade receivables consist of a large number of customers.

The Group's internal credit risk grading assessment comprises the following categories:

Internal credit rating	Description	Trade receivables	Other financial assets

Notes:

- i. For the purposes of internal credit risk management, the Group uses past due information to assess whether credit risk has increased significant since initial recognition.

For investment in unlisted securities, the issuer has either investment grades or issued by a large institution, therefore, no significant increase in credit risk is noted.

The loan to a joint venture has no fixed terms of repayment and has not past due. Thus, no significant increase in credit risk is noted for the year ended 31 December 2020.

All other receivables are repayable on demand with no fixed term of repayment. The balance are settled within 30 days after debit notes issued, thus, no significant increase in credit risk is noted for the year ended 31 December 2020.

- ii. For trade receivables, the Group has applied the simplified approach in HKFRS 9 to measure the loss allowance at lifetime ECL. The Group determine the expected credit losses on these items individually. The balances are settled within 30 days after the credit period granted, thus, no significant increase in credit risk noted for the year ended 31 December 2020.

- iii. For financial guarantee contracts, the gross carrying amount represents the maximum amount the Group has guaranteed under the respective contracts.

Liquidity risk

Ultimate responsibility for liquidity risk management rests with the Directors, who have built an appropriate liquidity risk management framework for the management of the Group's short, medium and long-term funding and liquidity requirements. The Group manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate reserves, banking facilities, and by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows. As at 31 December 2020, the Group has bank balances and cash of HK$3,354,456,000 (2019: HK$5,027,037,000) and available unutilised bank borrowings facilities of approximately HK$3,332,105,000 (2019: HK$2,412,407,000).

The following table details the Group's remaining contractual maturity for its financial liabilities based on the agreed repayment terms. The table has been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Group can be required to pay. Specially, bank borrowings with a repayment on demand clause are included in the earliest time band regardless of the probability of the banks choosing to exercise their rights. The maturity for other financial liabilities are based on the agreed repayment dates.

Notes:

- i. The amounts included above for variable rate bank borrowings are subject to change if changes in variable interest rates differ to those estimates of interest rates determined at the end of the reporting period.

Bank borrowings with a repayment on demand clause are included in the “within 3 months” time band in the above maturity analysis. As at 31 December 2020, the aggregate carrying amounts of these bank borrowings amounted to HK$3,147,672,000 (2019: HK$5,697,421,000). Those bank borrowings are revolving loan in nature, and with repayment period of less than three months. Taking into account the Group’s financial position, the Directors do not believe that it is probable that the banks will exercise their discretionary rights to demand immediate repayment.

- ii. The amounts included above for financial guarantee contracts are the maximum amounts the Group could be required to settle under the arrangement for the full guaranteed amount if that amount is claimed by the counterparty to the guarantee. Based on expectations at the end of the reporting period, the Group considers that it is more likely than not that no amount will be payable under the arrangement. However, this estimate is subject to change depending on the probability of the counterparty claiming under the guarantee which is a function of the likelihood that the financial receivables held by the counterparty which are guaranteed suffer credit losses.

(c) Fair value measurement of financial instruments

Certain of the Group’s financial instruments are measured at fair value for financial reporting purposes. The management determines the appropriate valuation techniques and inputs for fair value measurements.

In estimating the fair value, the Group uses market-observable data to the extent it is available. Where Level 1 inputs are not available, the Group engages independent qualified professional valuers to perform the valuation if the investment is material. The management works closely with the independent qualified professional valuers to establish the appropriate valuation techniques and inputs to the model. The management reports the findings to the Directors regularly to explain the cause of fluctuations in the fair value.

Unlisted debt securities classified as debt instruments at FVTOCI (note 24)	—	709,000	Level 2	The fair value of the note is determined by the discounted cash flow model. It is estimated by computing the sum of the present values of all expected future cash flows for an appropriate period, each discounted by their prevailing market rates of interest for a similar instrument with a similar credit rating. This discount rate should consider the time value of money, inflation and the risk inherent in ownership of the asset or security interest being valued. The discount rate is determined with reference to a credit spread derived from comparable bonds with similar credit rating and maturity.

On 22 January 2018, 5,775,000 share options under the 2015 Option Scheme were granted to the employees of the Company and the closing price of the Company's shares immediately preceding the date of grant was HK$12.64. The estimated fair value of the share options granted to employees of the Company on that date was HK$4,339,000. The Directors determined the fair values of share options with reference to the calculation of the fair value of the share options granted made by an independent professional valuer.

The fair values were calculated using The Binominal Option Pricing model. The inputs into the model were as follows:

	Share Option Granted on
	2 July 2015	22 January 2018
Share price as at grant date:	HK$6.200	HK$12.80
Exercise price:	HK$6.302	HK$12.80
Expected volatility:	21.58% – 24.24%	25.31% – 34.27%
Expected dividend yield:	1.75%	0.62%
Risk-free rate:	0.385% – 1.188%	1.53% – 1.82%

Expected volatility was determined by using the historical volatility of the Company's share price over the previous five years. The expected life used in the model has been adjusted, based on management's best estimate, for the effects of non-transferability, exercise restrictions and behavioural considerations.

The variables and assumptions used in computing the fair value of the share options were based on the Director's best estimate. The value of an option varied with different variables of certain subjective assumptions.

The Group recognised the total expense of HK$464,000 for the year ended 31 December 2020 (2019: HK$565,000) in relation to share options granted by the Company.
