No securities will be allotted or issued under this Prospectus later than 13 months after the date of this Prospectus. An application will be made to ASX within 7 days after the date of this Prospectus for the quotation of the securities the subject of this Prospectus.

Exposure Period

This Prospectus is subject to an exposure period of 7 days from the date of lodgement with ASIC. The exposure period may be extended by ASIC by a further period of up to 7 days.

The purpose of the exposure period is to enable the Prospectus to be examined by market participants prior to the raising of funds. The examination may result in the identification of deficiencies in the Prospectus. If deficiencies are detected, any application that has been received may need to be dealt with in accordance with Section 724 of the Corporations Act. During the exposure period, the Prospectus may be viewed online at the Company's website or a hard copy of the Prospectus will be made available upon request to the Company. Applications received during the exposure period will not be processed until after expiration of the exposure period. In preparing this Prospectus, regard has been had to the fact that the Company is a disclosing entity for the purposes of the Corporations Act and that certain matters may reasonably be expected to be known to investors and their professional advisers. This Prospectus is issued pursuant to Section 713 of the Corporations Act. Section 713 allows the issue of a more concise prospectus in relation to an offer of continuously quoted securities or options to acquire continuously quoted securities. This Prospectus is intended to be read in conjunction with the publicly available information in relation to the Company which has been notified to ASX and does not include all information that would be included in a prospectus for an initial public offering.

This is because the Company has determined that it would be unreasonable to make the Offer under this Prospectus to such Shareholders having regard to the number of Shareholders in the places where the Offer would be made, the number and value of the New Options that would be offered and the costs of complying with the legal requirements of those places.

The distribution of this Prospectus in jurisdictions outside of Australia and New Zealand may be restricted by law and therefore persons who come into possession of this Prospectus should seek advice on and observe any such restrictions. Any failure to comply with any such restrictions may constitute a violation of the applicable securities law.

This Prospectus does not, and is not intended to, constitute an offer of securities in any jurisdiction where, or to any person to whom, it would be unlawful to make such an offer or issue. This Prospectus has not been, nor will it be lodged, filed or registered with any regulatory authority under the securities laws of any other country outside of Australia.

1.5 Minimum Subscription

There is no minimum amount to be raised under this Offer.

1.6 Shortfall

If you do not wish to take up any part of your Entitlement under the Offer, you are not required to take any action. That part of your Entitlement not taken up will form part of the Shortfall which may be placed by the Company.

The offer of the Shortfall is a separate offer pursuant to this Prospectus ("Shortfall Offer"). The issue price of any New Options offered pursuant to the Shortfall Offer will be $0.01, being the price at which the Entitlement has been offered to Shareholders pursuant to this Prospectus.

The Shortfall Offer will remain open for up to 3 months following the Closing Date. Shareholders who wish to apply for Shares above their Entitlement can complete the Shortfall application section in the Entitlement and Acceptance Form attached to this Prospectus and return it, together with a cheque for the value of the Shortfall Options (at $0.01 per New Option) to the Company.

The Shortfall shall be placed at the discretion of the Board and accordingly there can be no guarantee that any application for Shortfall Options will be successful. As such, the Company reserves the right to allot to an applicant a lesser number of Shortfall Options than the number for which the applicant applies, or to reject an application, or to not proceed with placing any or all of Shortfall.

Allotment of Shortfall Options under the Shortfall Offer may occur on a progressive basis at any time on or after the date of allotment of New Options under the Offer.

1.7 Quotation

The Company will apply to ASX for quotation of the New Options offered pursuant to this Prospectus together with the Placement Options within 7 days after the date of this Prospectus. The Company intends to seek quotation of the New Options issued under this Prospectus and the Placement Options, which are issued on identical terms and condition to the New Options, as a single class of quoted securities on ASX.

If an application for quotation of the New Options is not made within 7 days after the date of this Prospectus, or ASX does not grant permission for official quotation of the New Options within 3 months after the date of this Prospectus, the Company will not issue any New Options and will repay all application monies for the New Options within the time prescribed under the Corporations Act, without interest.

The fact that ASX may grant official quotation to the New Options is not to be taken in any way as an indication of the merits of the Company or the New Options now offered under this Prospectus.

1.8 Allotment of Securities

New Options issued pursuant to the Offer will be allotted in accordance with the Timetable and otherwise in accordance with the Listing Rules. Where the number of New Options issued is less than the number applied for, or where no allotment is made under the Shortfall Offer, surplus Application Monies will be refunded without any interest to the Applicant as soon as practicable after the Closing Date.

Pending the allotment and issue of the New Options or payment of refunds pursuant to this Prospectus, all Application Monies will be held by the Company in trust for the Applicants in a separate bank account as required by the Corporations Act. The Company, however, will be entitled to retain all interest that accrues on the bank account and each Applicant waives the right to claim interest.

1.9 CHESS and Issuer Sponsorship

The Company operates an electronic CHESS sub-register and an electronic issuer sponsored sub-register. These two sub-registers make up the Company's register of securities. The Company will not issue certificates to investors. Rather, holding statements (similar to bank statements) will be dispatched to investors as soon as practicable after allotment.

Holding statements will be sent either by CHESS (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the CHESS sub-register) or by the Company's Share Registry (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the Issuer sponsored sub-register). The statements will set out the number of New Options allotted under the Prospectus and provide details of a Holder Identification Number (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the Chess sub-register) or Security Reference Number (for new investors who elect to hold their securities on the issuer sponsored sub-register). Updated holding statements will also be sent to each new investor following the month in which the balance of their holding of New Options changes, and also as required by the Listing Rules or the Corporations Act.

1.10 Timetable

The Offer will open for receipt of Applications on the Opening Date and will close at 5.00pm (WST) on the Closing Date. The full timetable of the Offer is set out in the Timetable and Important Dates section of this Prospectus.

1.11 Taxation

It is the responsibility of all persons to satisfy themselves of the particular taxation treatment that applies to them by consulting their own professional tax advisers. Taxation consequences will depend on particular circumstances. Neither the Company nor any of its officers accept any liability or responsibility in respect of the taxation consequences of the matters referred to above or any other taxation consequences connected with an investment in New Options in the Company.

1.12 Privacy Disclosure

Persons who apply for New Options pursuant to this Prospectus are asked to provide personal information to the Company, either directly or through the Share Registry. The Company and the Share Registry collect, hold and use that personal information to assess applications for securities to provide facilities and services to Shareholders and Optionholders, and to carry out various administrative functions.

Access to the information collected may be provided to the Company's agents and service providers and to ASX, ASIC and other regulatory bodies on the basis that they deal with such information in accordance with the relevant privacy laws. If the information requested is not supplied, applications for New Options will not be processed.

3. RISK FACTORS

Prospective Applicants should be aware that the market price of the New Options following official quotation may be influenced by many unpredictable factors and that subscribing for New Options involves various risks. The value of the Company's securities on the ASX may rise and fall depending on a range of factors, some of which are beyond the control of the Company.

The Company is in its early development stage, with no pre-tax profit. Any profitability in the future from the Company's business will be dependent upon the successful development, production and marketing of nickel, copper and other minerals from the Company's leases and licenses.

The New Options being offered under this Prospectus are considered speculative due to the present stage of development of the Company. This Prospectus carries no guarantee with respect to the return of capital or price at which the Options will trade.

The factors detailed below should be considered by any potential investors.

3.1 Specific Risks

A number of specific risk factors that may impact the future performance of the Company are described below. Shareholders should note that this list is not exhaustive.

(a) Operational Risks

The business of mineral exploration, project development and production, by its nature, contains elements of significant risk with no guarantee of success. Ultimate and continuous success of these activities is dependent on, amongst other things:

- the discovery and-or acquisition of economically recoverable reserves;
- access to adequate capital for project development;
- design and construction of efficient development and production infrastructure within capital expenditure budgets;
- securing and maintaining title to interests;
- obtaining consents and approvals necessary for the conduct of mineral exploration, development and production; and
- access to competent operational management and prudent financial administration, including the availability and reliability of appropriately skilled and experienced employees, contractors and consultants.

Whether or not income will result from projects undergoing exploration and development programs depends on successful exploration and establishment of production facilities.

There is no assurance that any exploration on current or future interests will result in the discovery of an economic mineral deposit. Even if an apparently viable deposit is identified, there is no guarantee that it can be economically developed.

(b) Uranium Exploration and Mining

Amongst other minerals, the Company intends to continue exploration activities for uranium. Uranium mining is subject to extensive regulation by Commonwealth, State and Territory Governments in relation to exploration, development, production and export. As such, the Company's uranium operations are subject to more stringent approvals regimes than other minerals and this will increase the costs of the Company's operations.

Uranium export is only permitted by the Australian Government in accordance with strict international agreements intended to prevent proliferation of nuclear materials. The licensing regime around uranium export is tightly controlled.

Accordingly, the Company's development of its uranium products will be subject to strict conditions and future change in government regulation and policies may have an adverse impact upon the Company.

(c) Exploration and Mining Risk

The business of mineral exploration and mining involves risks and hazards. For example, in an exploration context no assurance can be given that ore bodies will be detected with preferred or desirable tonnages or grades. High risk and substantial expense can be incurred without the requisite or expected degree of reward. Even if commercial quantities of ore are discovered unforeseen risks can arise in the development and production phase including mining or processing issues, environmental hazards, industrial accidents, labour forced disruption, the unavailability of materials and equipment, unusual or unexpected geological formation, pit failures, changes in the regulatory environment and weather conditions. Such occurrences could result in damage to, or destruction of, mineral properties or production facilities, personal injury or death, environmental damage, delays in mining, monetary losses and possible legal liability.

(d) Uncertainty of Exploration and Development Programs

Exploration for minerals is highly speculative in nature, involves many risks and is frequently unsuccessful. Among the many uncertainties inherent in any exploration and development program are the location of ore bodies, the development of appropriate metallurgical processes, the receipt of necessary governmental permits, access to permits and the construction of mining and processing facilities. Assuming the discovery of an economic deposit, several years may lapse from the initial phases of drilling until commercial operations commence and, during such time, the economic feasibility of production may change. Accordingly, the Company's exploration and development program may not result in any new economically viable mining operations.

(e) Resource Estimates

Resource estimates are expressions of judgment based on knowledge, experience and industry practice. Estimates that were valid when made may change significantly when new information or techniques becomes available. In addition, resource estimates are necessarily imprecise and depend to some extent on interpretations, which may prove to be inaccurate. Even if the Company identifies a resource or reserve, actual ore reserves and resources (including grade and quantity) may differ from those estimated at an earlier time which may result in alterations to development and mining plans which may, in turn, adversely affect the Company's operations.

(f) Ability to Exploit Successful Discoveries

It may not always be possible for the Company to participate in the exploitation of successful discoveries made in areas in which the Company has an interest. Such exploitation will involve the need to obtain the necessary licences or clearances from the relevant authorities, which may require conditions to be satisfied and/or the exercise of discretions by such authorities. It may or may not be possible for such conditions to be satisfied. The infrastructure requirements around a successful discovery may also impact on the exploitation of a discovery. Further the decision to proceed to further exploitation may require the participation of other companies whose interests and objectives may not be the same as the Company. As described above, such work may require the Company to meet or commit to financing obligations for which it may have not planned.

(g) Compliance Risk

The Company holds an interest in various mining tenements. Title to these tenements is subject to the Company, as tenement holder, complying with the terms and conditions of each tenement, including the minimum annual expenditure commitments. There is a risk that if the Company does not comply with the terms and conditions of each tenement, it may lose its interest in the relevant tenement.

The Company has implemented appropriate policies and practices to mitigate the risk that the terms and conditions attaching to each of the tenements it has an interest in are not complied with.

(h) Joint Venture Parties, Agents and Contractors

The Company is currently party to joint venture arrangements with Canadian entity Pancontinental Uranium Corp in respect of the Company's exploration projects.

The Directors are unable to predict the risk of financial failure or default by a participant (including Pancontinental Uranium Corp) in any joint venture to which the Company is or may become a party or the insolvency or managerial failure by any of the contractors used by the Company in any of its activities or the insolvency or other managerial failure by any of the other service providers used by the Company for any activity.

(i) Environmental

The Company's activities are subject to the environmental risks inherent in the mining industry. The Company is subject to environmental laws and regulations in connection with operations it may pursue in the mining industry. The Company intends to conduct its activities in an environmentally responsible manner and in accordance with all applicable laws. However, the Company may be the subject of accidents or unforeseen circumstances that could subject the Company to extensive liability.

Further, the Company may require approval from the relevant authorities before it can undertake activities likely to impact the environment. Failure to obtain such approvals will prevent the Company from undertaking its desired activities. The Company is unable to predict the effect of additional environmental laws and regulations that may be adopted in the future, including whether any such laws or regulations would materially increase the Company's cost of doing business or affect its operations on any area.

(j) Negotiation Risk

Various aspects of the Company's future performance and profitability are dependent on the outcome of future negotiations with third parties. Specifically, negotiations regarding native title issues in respect of the Charley Creek Project and security for environmental rehabilitation of areas of operation are anticipated.

Whilst the Directors will look to apply their experience in negotiation, there can be no guarantee that these negotiations will be successful or that these negotiations will be completed within the time frames anticipated by the Company.

(k) Future capital needs and additional funding

The funding of any further ongoing capital requirements beyond the requirements as set out in this Prospectus will depend upon a number of factors including the extent of the Company's ability to generate income from activities which the company cannot forecast with any certainty.

Any additional equity financing will be dilutive to shareholders, and debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities. If the Company is unable to obtain additional funding as needed, it may not be able to take advantage of opportunities or develop projects. Further, the Company may be required to reduce the scope of its operations or anticipated expansion and it may affect the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

(l) Insurance

Insurance against all risks associated with mineral exploration is not always available or affordable. The Company will maintain insurance where it is considered appropriate for its needs however it will not be insured against all risks either because appropriate cover is not available or because the Directors consider the required premiums to be excessive having regard to the benefits that would accrue.

The occurrence of an event that is not covered or fully covered by insurance could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition and results of the operations of the Company. There is no assurance that the Company will be able to maintain adequate insurance in the future at rates that it considers is reasonable.

3.2 General Risks

The future prospects of the Company's business may be affected by circumstances and external factors beyond the Company's control. Financial performance of the Company may be affected by a number of business risks that apply to companies generally and may include economic, financial, market or regulatory conditions. These include the following:

(a) General Economic Climate

Factors such as inflation, currency fluctuation, interest rates and supply and demand have an impact on operating costs, commodity prices and stock market prices. The Company's future revenues and Share price may be affected by these factors, as well as by fluctuations in the price of commodities, which are beyond the Company's control.

(b) Changes in Legislation and Government Regulation

Government legislation in Australia or any other relevant jurisdiction, including changes to the taxation system, may affect future earnings and relative attractiveness of investing in the Company. Changes in government policy or statutory changes may affect the Company and the attractiveness of an investment in it.

(c) Competition for Projects

The Company competes with other companies, including mineral exploration and production companies. Some of these companies have greater financial and other resources than the Company. As a result, such companies may be in a better position to compete for future business opportunities and there can be no assurance that the Company can effectively compete with these companies. In the event that the Company is not able to secure a new project or business opportunity this may have an adverse effect on the operations of the Company, its possible future profitability and the trading price of its securities, including the New Shares and the Attaching Options offered under this Prospectus.

(d) Commodity Price Volatility and Exchange Rate Risk

If the Company achieves success leading to mineral production, the revenue it will derive through the sale exposes the potential income of the Company to commodity price and exchange rate risks. Commodity prices fluctuate and are affected by many factors beyond the control of the Company. Such factors include supply and demand fluctuations for precious and base metals, technological advancements, forward selling activities and other macro-economic factors.

Furthermore, international prices of various commodities are denominated in United States dollars, whereas the income and expenditure of the Company are and will be taken into account in Australian currency, exposing the Company to the fluctuations and volatility of the rate of exchange between the United States dollar and the Australian dollar as determined in international markets.

(e) Reliance on Key Personnel

The Company's success depends largely on the core competencies of its Directors and management, and their familiarisation with, and ability to operate, in the mining industry and the Company's ability to find and retain key executives. The continued involvement of certain key employees and Directors is not assured, and the loss of their services to the Company may have a material adverse effect on the performance of the Company.

(f) Securities Market

The market price of the Company's Shares may be subject to varied and unpredictable influences on the market for equities in general and resources stocks in particular.

3.3 Speculative Nature of Investment

The above list of risk factors ought not to be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by investors in the Company. The above factors, and others not specifically referred to above, may in the future materially affect the financial performance of the Company and the value of the New Options offered under this Prospectus and any Shares issued on exercise of those New Options. Therefore, the Shares issued on exercise of the New Options offered pursuant to this Prospectus carry no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, returns of capital or the market value of either of those securities.

Potential investors should consider that the investment in the Company is speculative and should consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for New Options.

4. RIGHTS ATTACHING TO SECURITIES

4.1 Rights Attaching to New Options

The New Options will entitle the holders to subscribe for Shares in the Company on the following terms:

- (a) each New Option entitles the holder, when exercised, to one (1) Share in the Company;
- (b) the New Options are exercisable at any time on or prior to 5.00pm (Eastern Standard Time) on 30 November 2014 (“Expiry Date”) by completing an Option exercise form and delivering it together with the payment for the number of Shares in respect of which the New Options are exercised to the registered office of the Company;
- (c) each New Option may be exercised by notice in writing to the Company during the period referred to in condition (a), accompanied by payment of 15 cents per Share;
- (d) a New Option does not confer the right to a change in exercise price or a change in the number of underlying Shares over which the New Option can be exercised;
- (e) the New Options will be unlisted initially but condition may change;
- (f) the New Options are not transferable until the earlier of 12 months after issue or listing on the ASX;
- (g) all Shares issued upon exercise of the New Options will rank pari passu in all respects with the Company’s then issued Shares. The Company will apply for the quotation on ASX of the New Options and all Shares issued upon exercise of the New Options;
- (h) there are no participating rights or entitlements inherent in the New Options and holders will not be entitled to participate in new issues of capital offered to Shareholders during the currency of the New Options. However, the Company will ensure that for the purposes of determining entitlements to and such issue, the record date will be at least 7 Business Days after the Entitlement Issue is announced. This will give New Option holders the opportunity to exercise their New Options prior to the date for determining entitlements to participate in any such issue; and
- (i) if at any time the issued capital of the Company is reorganised, the rights of a New Option holder are to be changed to the extent necessary to comply with the Listing Rules applying to the reorganisation of capital at the time of the reorganisation.

4.2 Rights Attaching to Shares

Upon exercise of a New Option, the holder will be entitled to subscribe for Shares. The following is a general description of the more significant rights and liabilities attaching to the Shares. This summary is not exhaustive. Full details of provisions relating to rights attaching to the Shares are contained in the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules and the Company’s Constitution, a copy of which is available for inspection at the Company’s registered office during normal business hours.

(a) Ranking of Shares

The Shares will rank equally in all respects with the Company’s existing Shares.

(b) Voting Rights

At a general meeting each Shareholder present in person or by proxy, company representative or attorney is entitled to one vote on a show of hands. Upon a poll, every Shareholder present in person or by proxy, company representative or attorney is entitled to vote for each fully paid Share that the Shareholder holds, except in respect of each partly paid share held by the Shareholder, where the Shareholder has a fraction of a vote for each partly paid Share they hold. This is subject to any rights or restrictions attached to any Shares.

A Shareholder is only entitled to vote in respect of Shares on which, at the time the vote is cast, no moneys are due and payable to the company.

A Shareholder is not entitled to vote on a resolution if under the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules the notice specifies that the member must not vote or abstain from voting or its vote must be disregarded. This may occur, for example, where there is a breach of the Listing Rules or if a restriction agreement is in place. The Shareholder is not entitled to any votes in respect of the Shares while that breach continues.

(c) Dividend Rights

Subject to any special rights or restrictions attached to a Share, the holder of a fully paid Share is entitled to the full dividend on the Shares (whether the issue price was paid or credited or both) and the holder of a partly paid Share is entitled to a proportion of the dividend that corresponds to the proportion paid up on the Share.

The Directors may deduct from any dividend payable to or for a Shareholder any money presently payable by the Shareholder to the Company for calls or otherwise in respect of any Shares held by the Shareholder.

If Shares are classified as restricted securities in relation to which there is a breach of the Listing Rules or of a restriction agreement, the Shareholder will not be entitled to receive any dividends in respect of the restricted securities while that breach continues.

(d) Variation of Rights

The Company may only modify or vary the rights attaching to any class of Shares with the consent in writing of the holders of at least 75% of the issued Shares of the class or the sanction of a special resolution passed at a meeting of the holders of the issued Shares of that class.

(e) Transfer of Shares

Subject to the Constitution of the Company, the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules, Shares in the Company are freely transferable. Shares may only be transferred by a proper instrument in writing delivered to the Company or in compliance with the CHES rules if a CHES Approved Security is transferred. Subject to the CHES Rules, the transferor is deemed to remain the holder of the Shares until the name of the transferee is entered into the Company's register of members.

The Directors may refuse to register a transfer of Shares only in limited circumstances, such as where the Company has a lien on those Shares.

(f) General Meetings

Each Shareholder is entitled to receive notice of and to be present, to vote and to speak at a general meeting of the Company. Further, each Shareholder is entitled to receive all notice, accounts and other documents required to be furnished to Shareholders under the Constitution of the Company, the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules.

(g) Rights on Winding Up

Subject to any special rights or restrictions attached to Shares, if on the winding up of the Company there is not enough assets to repay all capital to Shareholders, the available assets must be distributed among the Shareholders in proportion to the number of Shares held by them irrespective of the amounts paid on their respective Shares before the winding up began (without the necessity of a call up).

Subject to any special rights or restriction attached to Shares, on the winding up of the Company the liquidator may, with the sanction of a special resolution of Shareholders, distribute among Shareholders the whole or any part of the property of the Company or decide how to distribute the property of the Company or decide how to distribute the property as between the Shareholder or different classes of Shareholders.

5. PROJECT OVERVIEW

5.1 Overview

The main activity of the is the exploration and development of major deposits earths, uranium or associated using the extensive experience and the use of modern and exploration techniques.

The Charley Creek Project in Australia has emerged as a Rare Earth Elements (REE) opportunity with potential for 2of REE production sourced shallow, easily mined alluvium project is currently the major the Company.

It is at a relatively advanced following an extensive program commenced in 2009 of radiometric surveys, soil auger and aircore drilling, metallurgical testwork, sample processing, assaying and metallurgical testwork.

The potential for granite-related uranium (Rossing-type) and redox-related palaeo-drainage uranium mineralisation has not diminished in the Charley Creek tenements; however the necessity to focus all resources on REE has sidelined these targets for the time-being.

5.2 Charley Creek Project Outline

With the discovery of very large deposits of alluvium REE at Charley Creek, the emphasis has shifted uranium exploration to the assessment of the REE their advancement through resource development to mining.

Early work showed that streams and unconsolidated sediments in the area contained heavy minerals with values. It became evident that both the Teapot the gneissic rocks it intrudes are the sources of minerals containing REEs that have been by erosion and outwash from the hills onto the alluvial plains to the north.

An extensive program of stream sediment sampling, sampling, auger and aircore drilling, has now been within the 6,700 square kilometre Charley Creek package.

5.3 Key Features of Project

- Advantages compared to competitor projects: Obstacles and difficulties faced by the majority of competitor projects, such as the high-cost of hard-rock mining, complex mineralogy requiring high-cost processing, and some of the unpredictable regulatory constraints on mining and handling radioactive material are reduced with this project. This gives the Charley Creek Project unique advantages.

➤ Alluvial Nature of Deposit: Unlike many REE deposits where the REE minerals are contained within hard rock, the REE minerals at Charley Creek are contained as separate grains in unconsolidated alluvium, starting from the land surface. They are readily mined and upgraded with gravity concentration of the heavy REE-containing minerals using known and existing technology developed for the mineral sand industry, which is much less risky than unproven cutting edge technologies.

Picture shows a view parts of the Charley Creek alluvial plains with a rough outline of the area of interest

➤ Low mining and processing costs:

Comparison of the Charley Creek Alluvial REE Project's average grade of REE with the grades of hard rock deposits is misleading. This is because the lower in-place average grade of the alluvial deposits is offset by the lower costs of extraction and concentration. The Charley Creek Alluvial REE Project will produce heavy mineral concentrates grading 2-12% TREO (Total Rare Earth Oxides) at the Mine Gate following very low-cost mining and wet plant processing. A hard-rock project will require high-cost mining to produce similar ore grades at its mine gate, followed by a more complex and expensive processing route to produce saleable product. See chart below.

➤ Current Stage of Investigation: Following an intensive work program which has cost A$12 million to date, the project is currently engaged in a scoping study of project capital and operating costs scheduled for completion by December 2012.

➤ REE mineralogy: The rare earth minerals in the concentrate produced from the alluvium are monazite and xenotime. These minerals are regarded as preferred feedstock for REE production, with few of the problems that may confront more complex silicate REE mineralogy contained in many other REE deposits.

➤ Proportion of Heavy REE, about 17% of TREO: The proportion of the critical heavy REO in concentrates produced from Charley Creek alluvium is substantially higher than most other known advanced REE resource projects. Charley Creek contains a mixture of all of the Rare Earth Elements, but more than half of the contained value is in the critical Heavy REO.

➤ Production Method: This alluvium is easily treatable to produce a high grade concentrate, using low-cost methods familiar to the mineral sands industry.

- Addressing the issue of radiation. All REE deposits contain radioactive minerals and this issue must be addressed in production and marketing. The Northern Territory has produced uranium almost continuously since the 1950s. The Northern Territory government regulators are familiar with radiation issues that are also common to REE processing. Crossland believes a complete processing facility including chemical separation of thorium and onsite storage of radioactive substances can be permitted within the Northern Territory.

5.4 Project Status

- An initial JORC Code compliant Resource estimate was released on 15 May 2012, based on alluvial deposits that represent less than 1% of the total alluvial resource potential. This estimate is tabulated below.

CHARLEY CREEK ALLUVIAL RESOURCE SUMMARY	Mass (tonnes)	Average Grade TREO (ppm)	Contained TREO (tonnes)	Contained XENOTIME (tonnes)	Contained MONAZITE (tonnes)	Contained ZIRCON (tonnes)
TOTAL INDICATED RESOURCES	386,860,000	295	114,050	27,275	160,900	195,580
TOTAL INFERRED RESOURCES	418,442,000	289	121,100	30,690	167,235	219,980

- Metallurgical testwork to develop a process route to a saleable product is in progress. This work will determine how to recover the various components of the heavy mineral concentrate into saleable products. Results so far indicate that it will be possible to produce a xenotime/monazite concentrate grading approximately 40% TREO, using simple and low-cost mineral sands processing methods. Metallurgical testwork is being conducted in Perth by Allied Mineral Laboratories. Allied Mineral Laboratories have already produced high grade (40% TREO) xenotime/monazite concentrate for marketing and hydrometallurgical test work.
- Using hydrometallurgical treatment of this concentrate, the company aims to produce a range of oxide and hydroxide REE products plus zircon on site. Leaching demonstration tests on xenotime- monazite concentrates is about to commence.
- A work program that will advance the project to a Scoping Study stage commenced in April 2012. The study includes investigation of all stages of the processing flowsheet, with an emphasis on production of first saleable product, mining concepts, infrastructure and availability of groundwater and commencement of base-line EIS studies.

5.5 Exploration Programme

The Charley Creek project tenements, covering 6700 square kilometres, consist of:

- the following Exploration Licenses located in the Northern Territory – 24281, 25230, 25657, 27283, 27284, 27338, 27358, 27359, 28154, 28155, 28224, 28225, 28226, 28795, 28796, 28866, 28875, 28964 and 28965; and
- Exploration Licence application 28500 located in the Northern Territory.

Crossland's interest in these tenements is 55%, while Pancontinental Uranium Corp (TSXV:PUC) holds 45%, save for EL 25657 in which Crossland and Pancon are earning a 60% interest under a farm-in and joint venture arrangement with Western Desert Resources. Crossland is operator and manager of these Joint Ventures.

Crossland's main focus is on completion of the Scoping Study based around the Resource defined so far; however there is vast potential for further resource in the broader Charley Creek Project and also in the Mount Stafford tenements to the north of Charley Creek. This potential will be addressed in time by further exploration and drilling.

5.6 Financial Prospects and Production Risks

The Company is at an early development stage. Revenue, profits and cash flows for the Company are dependent on, among other factors, exploration and development success, the availability of debt and/or equity funding, commercial arrangements that may be secured with customers and other third parties, and the regulatory environment in which the Company operates.

ASIC, in Regulatory Guide 170 “Prospective Financial Information”, has stated that:

“A disclosure document should only include prospective financial information if there are reasonable grounds for its inclusion. This applies even if the information has been used to estimate future performance for internal planning purposes”.

In view of these factors, the Directors consider that at this stage of the Company’s development, they are unable to provide potential investors with reliable revenue, profit or cash flow projections or forecasts in this Prospectus. Funds generated by the accompanying issue of options will contribute to the completion of a Scoping Study that will enable an initial estimate of these parameters.
