

Yaomeng Power Company Named Advanced Unit for Statistics and Regulation of Electricity in Henan Province

On 6 January, encouraging news came in from the Henan Energy Regulatory Office of National Energy Administration that Yaomeng Power Company had been awarded the title of Advanced Unit for Statistics and Regulation of Electricity in Henan Province for 2019.

Over the past year, in complying with the regulatory requirements of the provincial office, the company carried out accurate statistical analysis of and reported basic and professional power generation information on companies – such as their electricity generation indices and volumes and use of water resources, information about the power market and corporate safety production indexes, offered regulatory power institutes reliable first-hand corporate information, and bolstered electricity regulation efficiency with real actions, providing reliable guarantee for corresponding information.