

New Record High! Power Generation Volume of Changshu Power Generation Recorded Remarkable Results.

In August 2020, Changshu Power Generation Co., Ltd. reached the best record in its monthly power generation volume since the Company's units were put into operation.

In August, Jiangsu continued to record high temperature, and social power consumption kept at a high point for a long time. The concurrent operation time of the six units of Changshu Power Generation reached 28 days, resulting in considerable pressure on power supply assurance and safety production of the Company in the peak season to get through summer. Relevant authorities organized accident prediction and operation analysis and enhanced equipment maintenance and management, while operation employees strengthened power units inspection and examination and improved the operation pattern to ensure operation of the six units in a safe, economical and stable manner.
