

Gao Ping Met with Qi Dalengtai, Mayor of Tongliao City and His Delegation

On January 11th, Gao Ping, President and Executive Director of China Power, met with Qi Dalengtai, Mayor of Tongliao City in Inner Mongolia Autonomous Region, and his delegation at the headquarter of the company. The two sides held exchanges and negotiations on the in-depth promotion of green power conversion projects, the development of new energy collaborative industries, and cooperation with local enterprises.

Gao Ping welcomed the visit of Qi Dalengtai and his delegation, and expressed gratitude for the support provided by Tongliao City for its green power conversion project. Gao Ping emphasized the good practices of China Power's green and low-carbon transformation, as well as the prominent advantages and industrial planning of emerging industries such as new energy storage, green power transportation and consumption, color solar cell industry, and rural revitalization. Gao Ping stated that cooperation and communication of the two sides should be further strengthened, and the Tongliao Green Power Conversion Project should be launched and put into operation as soon as possible by adhering to the principles of "good preparation, strict managed construction, precise development, and optimal production".

Qi Dalengtai expressed gratitude to China Power for its long-term support for the economic development of Tongliao City. He stated that the governments at all levels in Tongliao City will strictly follow procedures and simplify steps to fully promote the commencement and operation of the Tongliao Green Power Conversion Project. He hoped that both sides can further strengthen communications, expand the scope of cooperation, and create a win-win situation.
