

China Wireless Win “Deloitte Technology Fast 50 China 2008” Ranking

Being Selected for 4th Time in a Row

China Wireless Technologies Limited won “Deloitte Technology Fast 50 China 2008” ranking for the 4th time after the consecutive success in the selections of 2005, 2006 and 2007. The “Deloitte Technology Fast 50 China” program has been successfully held since 2005 and become influential and famous in technology, media, telecommunications and other related industries in China, attracting great attention from high-tech enterprises, risk investors and media. China Wireless has been listed for the 4th time in a row due to its steady and continuous development.

The Deloitte ranking program has been evaluated with high criteria. First of all, the selected enterprise should own proprietary technologies which contribute to a significant portion of its operating revenue; secondly, it must be a company that manufactures a technology-related product and devotes a high percentage of revenue to the research and development of technology; the company should also have been in business for a minimum of 3 years and recorded a huge increase in its revenue in the past 3 years. The Famous companies such as Baidu(Nasdaq: BIDU), Alibaba (1688.HK), and Tencent (0700.HK) have won the ranking before or after their IPOs.

The Company’s Representative (Right 2) on the Stage for Receiving the Prize.

Talking about being winner for the 4th time in a row, Mr. Guo Deying, Chairman of the company said, “It is the best award for the great effort that China Wireless has made in technology research and development. It is also a great driving force for us to continue exploring technology R & D.”