Greentown China Holdings Limited (綠城中國控股有限公司) (the “Company”), incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability, proposes to issue the U.S.$400,000,000 2.3 per cent. credit enhanced bonds due 2025 (the “Bonds”). The Bonds will have the benefit of an irrevocable standby letter of credit (the “Standby Letter of Credit”) denominated in the U.S. dollars and issued by China Zheshang Bank Co., Ltd. Hangzhou Branch (the “LC Bank”). See “Appendix I—Form of Irrevocable Standby Letter of Credit” for the form of the Standby Letter of Credit. The Bonds will constitute direct, unconditional, unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Company and shall at all times rank pari passu and without any preference or priority among themselves. The payment obligations of the Company under the Bonds shall, save for such exceptions as may be provided by applicable law, at all times rank at least equally with all the Company’s other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated obligations.

The Bonds will bear interest on their outstanding principal amount from and including 27 January 2022 (the “Issue Date”) at the rate of 2.3 per cent. per annum and such interest will be payable semi-annually in arrear in equal instalments on 27 January and 27 July in each year (each an “Interest Payment Date”), commencing on 27 July 2022. All payments of principal, premium (if any) and interest by or on behalf of the Company in respect of the Bonds shall be made free and clear of, and without withholding or deduction for or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature imposed, levied, collected, withheld or assessed by or within any jurisdiction in which the Company is organized or resident for tax purposes (or any political subdivision or taxing authority thereof or therein), including, without limitation, if applicable, the PRC, or any jurisdiction through which payments are made, to the extent described under “Terms and Conditions of the Bonds—Taxation”.

Unless previously redeemed, or purchased and cancelled, the Company will redeem each Bond at its principal amount on 27 January 2025 (the “Maturity Date”). The Bonds may be redeemed at the option of the Company in whole, but not in part, at any time, on giving not less than 30 nor more than 60 days’ notice to the Bondholders (which notice shall be irrevocable) and in writing to the Trustee and the Principal Paying Agent, at their principal amount together with any interest accrued to but excluding the date fixed for redemption, if (i) the Company satisfies the Trustee immediately prior to the giving of such notice that the Company has or will become obliged to pay Additional Amounts (as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds) as provided or referred to in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds as a result of any change in, or amendment to, the laws or regulations of any Relevant Jurisdiction (as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds) or any change in the general application or official interpretation of such laws or regulations (including a decision by a court of competent jurisdiction), which change or amendment becomes effective on or after 20 January 2022, and (ii) such obligation cannot be avoided by the Company taking reasonable measures available to it. In addition, following the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event (as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds), the holder of each Bond will have the right at such holder’s option, to require the Company to redeem all, or some only, of such holder’s Bonds on the Change of Control Put Date (as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds) at 100 per cent. of their principal amount, together with interest accrued but unpaid up to but excluding such date (if any). See “Terms and Conditions of the Bonds—Redemption and Purchase”.

For a more detailed description of the Bonds, see “Terms and Conditions of the Bonds” beginning on page 69.

The Bonds will be issued in denominations of US$200,000 and integral multiples of US$1,000 in excess thereof.

The Bonds are being issued as “Green Bonds” under our Green Financing Framework. See the section entitled “Bonds Being Issued as Green Bonds.”

Investing in the Bonds involves risks. See the section entitled “Risk Factors” beginning on page 20.

The Bonds are expected to be rated “BBB-” by Standard & Poor’s Rating Services (“S&P”). A rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold the Bonds and may be subject to suspension, reduction or withdrawal at any time by S&P. A suspension, reduction or withdrawal of the rating assigned to the Bonds may adversely affect the market price of the Bonds.

Application will be made to The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “SEHK”) for the listing of the Bonds by way of debt issues to professional investors (as defined in Chapter 37 of the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (“Professional Investors”)) only.

Notice to Hong Kong investors: The Company confirms that the Bonds are intended for purchase by Professional Investors only and will be listed on the SEHK on that basis. Accordingly, the Company confirms that the Bonds are not appropriate as an investment for retail investors in Hong Kong. Investors should carefully consider the risks involved.

The SEHK has not reviewed the contents of this offering circular, other than to ensure that the prescribed form disclaimer and responsibility statements, and a statement limiting distribution of this offering circular to Professional Investors only have been reproduced in this offering circular. Listing of the Bonds on the SEHK is not to be taken as an indication of the commercial merits or credit quality of the Bonds or the Company or the Group or quality of disclosure in this offering circular. Hong Kong Exchanges and Clearing Limited and the SEHK take no responsibility for the contents of this offering circular, make no representation as to its accuracy or completeness and expressly disclaim any liability whatsoever for any loss howsoever arising from or in reliance upon the whole or any part of the contents of this offering circular.

The Company accepts full responsibility for the accuracy of the information contained in this offering circular and confirms, having made all reasonable enquiries, that to the best of its knowledge and belief there are no other facts the omission of which would make any statement herein misleading.

The Bonds have not been, and will not be, registered under the United States Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”). The Bonds may not be offered, sold, pledged or otherwise transferred in the United States (as such terms are defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act), except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act. The Bonds are being offered and sold outside the United States in offshore transactions in reliance on Regulation S under the Securities Act. For a description of these and certain further restrictions on offers and sales of the Bonds and the Standby Letter of Credit and the distribution of this offering circular, see “Subscription and Sale”.

The Bonds will be evidenced by a global certificate (the “Global Certificate”) in registered form, which will be registered in the name of a nominee of, and deposited with, a common depositary for Euroclear Bank SA/NV (“Euroclear”) and Clearstream Banking S.A. (“Clearstream”). PRIIPs Regulation/Prohibitions of Sales to EEA Retail Investors — The Bonds are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area (“EEA”). For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, “MiFID II”); or (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97 (as amended, the “Insurance Distribution Directive”), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II. Consequently no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended, the “PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling the Bonds or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Bonds or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

PRIIPs Regulation/ Prohibition of Sales to UK Retail Investors — the Bonds are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the United Kingdom (“UK”). For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (8) of Article 2 of Regulation (EU) No. 2017/565 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 (the “EUWA”) or (ii) a customer within the meaning of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (“FSMA”) to implement Directive (EU) 2016/97, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No. 600/2014 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA. Consequently, no key information document required by the PRIIPs Regulation as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (the “UK PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling the Bonds or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the UK has been prepared and, therefore, offering or selling the Bonds or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the UK may be unlawful under the UK PRIIPs Regulation.

Singapore Securities and Futures Act Product Classification — Solely for the purposes of its obligations pursuant to sections 309B(1)(a) and 309B(1)(c) of the Securities and Futures Act (Chapter 289 of Singapore) (the “SFA”), the Company has determined, and hereby notifies all relevant persons (as defined in Section 309A of the SFA) that the Bonds are “prescribed capital markets products” (as defined in the Securities and Futures (Capital Markets Products) Regulations 2018).

This offering circular summarizes certain material documents and other information, and we refer you to them for a more complete understanding of what we discuss in this offering circular. In making an investment decision, you must rely on your own examination of us and the terms of the offering, including the merits and risks involved. We are not making any representation to you regarding the legality of an investment in the Bonds by you under any legal, investment, taxation or similar laws or regulations. You should not consider any information in this offering circular to be legal, business or tax advice. You should consult your own professional advisers for legal, business, tax and other advice regarding an investment in the Bonds.

We reserve the right to withdraw the offering of the Bonds at any time, and the Managers reserve the right to reject any commitment to subscribe for the Bonds in whole or in part and to allot to any prospective purchaser less than the full amount of the Bonds sought by such purchaser. The Managers and certain related entities may acquire for their own account a portion of the Bonds.

Overview

We are one of the leading property developers in the PRC. We offer a wide range of high quality housing such as villas, low-rise, multi-story and high-rise residential apartments, urban complexes, integrated communities, as well as hotels and commercial property. Since our establishment in 1995 as a private real-estate developer in Hangzhou, we have been based in Zhejiang Province, one of the most economically vibrant provinces in the PRC. With property projects covering most of the economically prosperous cities such as Hangzhou, Ningbo, Taizhou, Shaoxing and other cities in Zhejiang Province, we have achieved significant scale and built a strong reputation. We have successfully set foot in other important cities in the PRC, including Shanghai, Anhui and Jiangsu in the Yangtze River Delta Area, Shandong, Beijing, Hebei, Liaoning and Tianjin in the Bohai Rim Area, Guangdong in the Greater Bay Area, Hunan, Hubei and Jiangxi in the middle reaches of the Yangtze River Area, Chongqing and Sichuan in the Chengdu-Chongqing Area, as well as other provincial cities and areas such as Hainan, Shaanxi, Heilongjiang, Henan, Xinjiang, Fujian and Yunnan. We also recently expanded our presence overseas to Jakarta, Indonesia, Coquitlam, Canada and Seattle, Washington, USA. For 17 consecutive years, from 2005 to 2021, we were recognized as one of the top 10 Chinese real estate enterprises by comprehensive strength and one of the top 10 largest Chinese real estate enterprises by three authoritative institutions, namely the Development Research Center of the State Council, The Institute of Real Estate Studies at Tsinghua University and The China Index Academy. As at 30 June 2021, these three authoritative institutions have also recognized us as a leading brand among Chinese real estate enterprises based on customer satisfaction for nine consecutive years. In 2020, we received a number of other awards and recognitions, including “China’s Real Estate Industry Competitiveness Benchmark Enterprises,” and “China’s Real Estate Branded Enterprises by Contribution”. In 2021, we were ranked as No.1 among top “Chinese Real Estate Enterprises with Excellent Product Strength” and ranked among “Top 10 Among 100 China Real Estate By Brand Value 2021” and the “Top 10 Brands of Chinese Real Estate Companies (Mixed Ownership),” an award we have received for 18 consecutive years from 2004 to 2021. We believe our quality properties, unique architectural aesthetics and customer-focused residential services have enabled us to establish and maintain a leading position in the real estate industry in the PRC.

Our focus is on first-tier and second-tier cities as well as quality third-tier and fourth-tier cities, with an emphasis on creating and developing unique projects such as featured towns, sports projects and transit-oriented development (“TOD”) projects. As at 30 June 2021, we had a total of 251 projects at various stages of development in various provinces, autonomous regions and direct-controlled municipalities, including the Yangtze River Delta Area, the Bohai Rim Area, the Greater Bay Area, the middle reaches of the Yangtze River Area, the Chengdu-Chongqing Area, other areas in China and overseas (including Jakarta, Indonesia, Coquitlam, Canada and Seattle, Washington, USA). As at 30 June 2021, our 251 projects comprise a total GFA of 60.34 million sq.m., of which 34.95 million sq.m. was attributable to the Group. See “Business—Overview of Our Property Developments and Land Bank” for further details.

We are a mixed ownership enterprise and in addition to our property development business, we engage in light asset businesses including project management, living services and architecture technology businesses. We have constructed more than 800 property communities and the scope of our business covers more than 20 provinces, autonomous regions and direct-controlled municipalities. We believe we can leverage on our experience in developing high quality projects and accumulated operational capabilities for further expansion.

We commenced our project management business in September 2010, comprising commercial project management, government project management and capital project management. Since then, we have taken steps to expand this business with the acquisition of Greentown Dingyi Real Estate Investment Management Company Limited and Greentown Shidai City Construction & Development Company Limited in September 2015 to establish Greentown Project Management Group (“Greentown Project Management”). In June 2016, we undertook a restructuring of Bluetown Property Construction Management Group Co., Ltd. (“Bluetown”), which included the integration of the project management business of Bluetown with Greentown Project Management, further expanding its scale. We believe we are one of the leading companies in the project management industry in the PRC based on size, including the total GFA of projects under management, revenue and sales, and that the resources of the Group’s network has helped us to deliver brand value and management expertise that have been well received in the real estate market. For example, the Group has been named “Leading Enterprise in Real Estate Project Management Operation in China” (中國房地產代建運營優秀企業) for five consecutive years (as of 2021), has won an “Annual CSR Contribution Award” (年度CSR貢獻獎) for three consecutive years (as of 2019) and was awarded “Annual Influential Business Model Award” (年度影響力商業模式大獎) for two consecutive years (as of 2019). Leveraging our construction capabilities and high quality products and through implementing standardized operations, the scale of our project management business expanded consistently. As at 30 June 2021, Greentown Project Management had a total of 334 projects under management, with a planned total GFA of approximately 84.00 million sq.m. On 10 July 2020, we successfully spun off and listed Greentown Project Management on SEHK. Since its listing, Greentown Project Management consolidated its marketing leading position in the project management industry, continued to implement our asset-light strategy and enhanced the business synergy between our heavy asset and light asset businesses.

In January 2019, in line with the Group’s plan to transition from a traditional property developer to a comprehensive, integrated services provider, and to further optimize our organizational structure, promote hierarchical and systematic management and improve management efficiency, we consolidated the businesses of our subsidiaries by reducing the number of our subsidiaries from 16 to 11 to form an “8+3” structure, which encompasses light assets and heavy assets. Light assets include project management, asset management, housing 4S and quality living services, and heavy assets include property investment and development, and unique town development. In 2019, we also established four new divisions, namely, real estate, town development, financial and commerce management divisions to coordinate resources at all levels and enhance operational efficiency, in addition to the seven functional divisions at the group level (which we collectively referred to as a “7+4” internal structure). Using a three-tier management structure of “Group-region-project,” we appointed senior executives to also take on the role as Chairman of our regional companies, which we plan to use to manage projects in designated regions to promote business integration and optimize work allocation. To improve the efficiency of our human resources, in 2020, we formed 29 project groups under a management and control system that facilitates business integration, which we believe has enhanced our operational efficiency and promoted internal resource coordination. We believe these changes led to improvements in our turnover efficiency, helping to streamline our management structure while minimizing operating costs. In 2020, to optimize our organizational structure, we established ten business committees to stream-line decision-making mechanism and improve management efficiencies. Furthermore, as an incentive to our employees, we implemented a co-investment scheme, which enables the project team to co-invest in projects and subsequently share the risk and return with us to further improve project investment quality, operational efficiency and profitability, as well as a share aware scheme. See “Management—Share Award Scheme” for further details.

Our Competitive Strengths

Leading high-end property developer in China with strong brand recognition

We are a leading property developer in China with a nationwide footprint and market leadership in Zhejiang province, one of the most prosperous and developed provinces in the PRC and Hangzhou. In addition to Zhejiang, we have developed high quality projects in major cities including Shanghai, Jiangsu and Anhui in the Yangtze River Delta Area, Shandong, Beijing, Hebei, Liaoning and Tianjin in the Bohai Rim Area, Guangdong in the Greater Bay Area, Hunan, Hubei and Jiangxi in the middle reaches of the Yangtze River Area, Chongqing and Sichuan in the Chengdu-Chongqing Area, as well as other provincial cities and areas such as Hainan, Shaanxi, Heilongjiang, Henan, Xinjiang, Fujian and Yunnan. From 2005 to 2021, we have been ranked as one of the Top 10 Among 100 Chinese Real Estate Enterprises by Comprehensive Strength in China for 17 consecutive years, jointly by the Development Research Center of the State Council, the Institute of Real Estate Studies at Tsinghua University and The China Index Academy.

Our long-standing leading position has been maintained as a result of our strong brand recognition and successful track record of consistently providing customers with top quality products and services. We have received numerous awards from both institutions and customer surveys, including the Influential Enterprise in the Real Estate Industry 2020 from the 2020 Gold Brick Award “2020 China Green Real Estate Top 10”, “2020 China Full Renovation Enterprises Top 10,” “2020 China Green Real Estate Operation Index Top 10,” “2020 China Prefabricated Construction Enterprises Top 10,” and the “Top 10 Brands of Chinese Real Estate Companies (Mixed Ownership),” an award we have received for 18 consecutive years from 2004 to 2021, and “Top 10 Among 100 China Real Estate By Brand Value 2020.” In 2020, we also received honors such as “Blue Chip Enterprises,” “Comprehensive Brand Power Enterprises” and “Zhejiang Brand Benchmark Enterprise.” In 2021, we were ranked as No.1 among top “Chinese Real Estate Enterprises with Excellent Product Capability.” In 2021, the China Index Academy issued the “Report of Housing Satisfaction of Urban Residents in China 2021,” which indicated that our overall satisfaction among urban residents was steady, loyalty remained high, and our performance was positive. In the survey, we scored 88.7 points, which is higher than the industry average by 12.1 points. Of the 14 cities whose survey we participated in, we ranked first in all 14 cities based on customer satisfaction. In terms of overall loyalty in 2021, we maintained a high of 85.2%, which was higher than the industry average of 60.4%. In 2021, we were also named as one of “Top 10 among 100 China Real Estate By Brand Value 2021” with a comprehensive brand value of approximately RMB86.3 billion. We were awarded the “Chinese Leading Real Estate Companies by Customers Satisfaction” for nine consecutive years through 2020 for our quality products and services as well as received awards such as “Enterprises with social responsibilities” for several years. We believe our quality properties, unique architectural aesthetics and customer-focused residential services have enabled us establish and maintain a leading position in the real estate industry in China. In addition, we believe our superior operational capabilities, long-term commitment to excellent quality and customer service and widely-recognized brand will continue to reinforce our brand and market leadership, which would in turn increase the sell-through of our property products and the expansion of our non-property business.

Diversified product offering with a focus on residential properties

We have continually improved and enhanced our product mix to respond to the demands of customers and maintain our competitiveness in the market. We currently offer a diverse range of product types, including villas, flat mansions, low-rise and high-rise apartments, urban complexes and integrated community developments. We have devised a replication module, wherein we build a branded product series based on successful existing projects, and replicate new projects in other regions with additional features incorporating local elements. Many of our branded product series have received positive feedback from our customers and we believe our branded product series has strengthened our customer loyalty and solidified our brand name.

We are also actively entering into the “themed estate” market to further broaden our space for development, including urban complexes in second and third tier cities, housing estates for retired communities and tourist-oriented estates. As a result of detailed market analysis and research, we ensure that we develop projects which are suited to the demographics and market demand of each project location. Though our focus is on residential property development, we have diversified into mixed-use developments and commercial property as well as the development of unique projects such as featured towns, sports competition projects and TOD projects, being projects that are often strategically designed to maximize access to public transportation. We also generate additional recurring revenue from rental income from investment properties, property management and hotel operations. See “Business—Our Business Strategies—Increased focus on scalability of the business.”

Sizeable quality land bank ensuring sustainable future development and growth

Our breadth of experience and in-depth understanding of the market have enabled us to identify prime locations and land acquisition opportunities, allowing us to build a strong project development pipeline. We have successfully accumulated a sizeable, quality land bank, which, as at 30 June 2021, consisted of 251 projects at various stages of development in various provinces, autonomous regions and direct-controlled municipalities, including the Yangtze River Delta Area (including Zhejiang, Hangzhou, Jiangsu, Anhui and Shanghai area), the Bohai Rim Area, the Greater Bay Area, the middle reaches of the Yangtze River Area, the Chengdu-Chongqing Area, other areas in China and overseas in Indonesia, Canada and the United States. As at 30 June 2021, our 251 projects comprise a total GFA of 60.34 million sq.m., of which 34.95 million sq.m. was attributable to the Group, and total saleable area amounted to 40.48 million sq.m. of which 23.36 million sq.m. was attributable to the Group. We believe that our existing land reserves are sufficient for the coming three years of development.

Prudent financial management reinforced by disciplined cost controls and acquisition strategy

We adopt a prudent financial management approach and implement disciplined cost controls with respect to project development in order to maximize profitability. We closely monitor our capital position and carefully manage our land acquisitions, construction costs and operating expenses. We believe that through centralizing the procurement of building materials and standardizing construction and decoration costs for projects in different price segments, we are able to effectively control our construction costs. For example, in 2018, we effectively carried out measures to make our products more “standardized, industrialized, technology-based, and environmentally friendly,” shorten the construction period of our projects and reduce construction costs while ensuring product quality. In 2019, through centralized strategic procurement, we procured 70 product categories (representing a year-on-year increase of 16 categories), and reduced prices by 6% to 20%, generating cost savings of RMB126 million. In the first half of 2021, through a number of cost optimization measures, as well as strategic cooperation initiatives and centralized supply chain procurement, we utilized 97% of materials procured through centralized procurement, and our overall construction cost was 1.5% lower than our target.

Experienced management team backed by top quality partners

Our senior management team members have extensive experience in the PRC real estate industry and expertise in project development and business management. We believe that our highly experienced senior management members will enable us to maintain the growth of our business. We continually seek to attract and retain management talent in accordance with our aim to further expand our business operations.

Our strong brand name and consistent track record has enabled us to form partnerships with top quality corporations, including strategic partners such as CCCG, Wharf and Xihu Zhongbao and other established JV partners. Our strategic partnerships bring and will continue to bring synergies to our operations by strengthening our financial position and providing joint development opportunities. For example, in the past three years, with the support of our substantial shareholders, including our strategic partners, we have continuously optimized our corporate governance structure and management structure, which we believe has improved our results of operations. In particular, we believe the directors and management assigned to us by CCCG have integrated well with us, and contribute to maintaining our corporate characteristics, improving our corporate and promoting strategic development, among other things. We have also successfully co-established a joint venture platform with Wharf (the “Green-Wharf Platform”) and co-developed multiple projects with Wharf. We believe the strategic partnership with Xihu Zhongbao could benefit both parties in terms of land acquisition and project development, which facilitates the consolidation of our leading position as a national real estate developer. See “Business—Strategic Partnerships.”

Our Business Strategies

We aim to be an “ideal life” integrated service provider in China by focusing on qualities such as attention to detail, exquisiteness of products, and sincerity in service to continuously improve customers’ satisfaction. The quality of our products is our key guiding principle. At the same time, we will continue to focus on being customer-oriented.

In late 2020, in response to the changes in regulations and industry dynamics, we formulated the Strategic 2025 plan. Pursuant to our Strategic 2025 plan, our core strategic objective is to thrive through expansion in scale and grow through improvement in quality. We aim to focus on building ourselves as the “quality benchmark among the Top 10,” and maintaining our leading position in product innovation, product quality customer satisfaction and overall performance.

Continuously promote our brand image through improving the quality of products and services

Through meticulous project design and management and quality control, we will continue to improve the quality of the Company's products. At the same time, we will continue to promote the "estate community life services system" by improving the range of our services and the living quality of the residents in order to maintain our brand image and market leading position in terms of residents' satisfaction. In 2018, our brand building efforts included the roll-out of our first "Greentown Life Developers Conference," which we used as a model for comprehensive brand building in 11 newly developed cities and the implementation of four community living service systems. In 2019, we systematically sorted out our product families and completed a comprehensive product categorization covering eight product series, 22 product categories and 22 product styles with an aim to standardize the design, development and quality of our products. In the first half of 2021, we jointly published the Greentown China Technical Guidance Manual for Prefabricated Interior Decoration with China Institute of Building Standard Design and Research, which we believe will help establish our standards as the benchmark for the industry.

Customer and community support is a valuable asset and driver of the Company. Continuous improvement of service quality is one of our long-term development strategies. In relation to our service strategy, we plan to continue increasing our investments in projects with a high level of return attributable to services, transform our service model from a traditional property management developer to a comprehensive and ideal living services provider, and explore and implement both a service model and a commerce model within the living services industry in China. In 2019, through the second "Greentown Life Developers Conference" we launched a second version of our living service system (living service system 2.0), which aims to optimize service content through customization, improve service efficiency through commoditization, combine the online-offline experience through digitalization, and ensure continuous service throughout our commercial operations. We believe these changes will enhance our overall customer service system.

Product diversification to expand customer base and optimization of land bank

We will continue to invest a large portion of our time and efforts in strengthening our research and development, including analyzing market demand and geographical characteristics, in order to further enrich our product lines to serve different segment of customers. Under the premise of maintaining excellent quality, we will further optimize our designs and diversify our product mix to cater to the high-end, mid to high-end and mainstream market, in order to enhance the competitiveness of our products. At the same time, we also plan to expand the scale of featured projects such as ideal towns, TOD, public landmarks and resettlement housing, and gradually establish competitive barriers to gain more opportunities to obtain projects with low land prices.

We plan to continue to adopt city-specific strategies, including conducting research on target cities, and seize opportunities to strategically replenish our land bank, and form a combination of general development projects and strategic projects. We expect to evaluate potential investments and optimize our land reserves by deepening our footprint in the five major urban agglomerations (Yangtze River Delta, Greater Bay, Bohai Rim, the middle reaches of the Yangtze River and Chengdu-Chongqing), while further expanding around core first-tier and second-tier cities. We may also seek to replenish land resources in selected third-tier and fourth-tier cities.

In addition to leveraging the resources of our major shareholders like CCCG, Wharf and Xinhua Zhongbao and strengthening our cooperation relationship with strategic partners to form a wider range of strategic collaborations to expand our land bank, we also plan to widen our investment channels. In addition to considering investment opportunities including regional comprehensive development projects, urban renewal, industrial property projects, rural land projects, TOD projects and the execution of pilot programs for integrated development models such as industry and city integration, we plan to enhance our investment efforts and quality of our investment projects through auctions, listings and tendering as well as strengthening our capabilities for mergers and acquisitions. As of the date of this offering circular, our TOD model has been recognized by several local governments and we are focusing on TOD projects in cities such as Hangzhou, Fuzhou, Dalian, Harbin, Ningbo and Foshan.

Increased focus on scalability of the business

To further increase the scalability of our business, we plan to continue developing our existing strengths as well as widen the scope of our capabilities by placing a strong emphasis on our three main business lines, namely heavy assets, light assets and “Greentown+.” For heavy assets, we remain focused on real estate investment and development, including deepening our foothold in core cities, increasing turnover rates without sacrificing product quality, and replenishing quality land parcels in a timely manner. See “—Product diversification to expand customer base and optimization of land bank.” We have developed eight categories of products, namely, residential properties, commercial properties, urban complexes, public properties (such as hospitals and schools), social security properties, ideal towns, sports series (games villages) and Young City series (TOD projects such as Ningbo Young City), all of which are designed to stand out across different market segments. In particular, we are focused on the development of town projects and featured projects. As at 30 June 2021, we have extended our town business to 21 cities and secured 11.92 million sq.m. of planned GFA. We have accelerated the promotion of featured projects, and increased the proportion of land acquisition using an application mechanism to help us capture opportunities brought by the rapid development of railway transportation in the PRC. As at 30 June 2021, we have launched nearly 20 TOD projects featuring multi-regions, multi-categories and multi-types of businesses in various cities, such as Hangzhou, Ningbo, Fuzhou and Foshan. Furthermore, as at 30 June 2021, we have successfully won the tender for four reconstruction projects of old communities in Hangzhou, signed contract for one project in Shenzhen and launched two community projects in Quzhou and Ningbo. We seek to be a driving force for new urbanization and rural revitalization, and turn these initiatives into our new growth points.

For light assets, our focus is on real estate project management, which includes the provision of commercial and government project management services to our customers, and we seek to maintain our leading position and further achieve economies of scale and improve profitability. In addition, we aim to establish a project management sub-brand, upgrade our current project management model and improve management mechanisms to enhance the quality of our project management products and help us retain our competitive advantage in the project management industry.

For “Greentown+,” our focus is to leverage technology to strengthen the connection and integration of different segments along the real estate industry chain as well as to expand the business scale of our living services. To support our strategic plan and explore additional growth opportunities in ideal life services, we are undertaking seven emerging businesses, namely urban renewal, healthcare services, housing 4S services, living service platform, housing-decoration-and-engineering principal contracting services and prefabricated interior decoration services. In 2020, we and Greentown Service Group Co. Ltd. (“Greentown Service”) jointly established the “Greentown Living Services Committee (綠城生活服務委員會),” to achieve strategic synergy, and deepen management and business integration in the living services sector.

Cost controls, financial discipline and prudent land acquisition strategy to improve profitability

We plan to continue exerting stringent controls over construction costs and land acquisition which will improve our profitability. Regarding acquisition of land, we will work together with external market consultants to assess the risks and returns associated with new projects. We have also set price limits for our land acquisitions to avoid the purchase of overpriced projects, minimizing the negative impact on our overall cash flow and financial position and aimed at improving the gross profit of our development projects. In terms of construction costs, we have established an e-commerce procurement center to centralize the procurement of building materials, which will effectively lower the relevant costs. We aim to standardize construction and decoration costs for products under different price ranges through our use of the ‘Greentown Product Catalog,’ which we believe enables us to control costs more systematically. We also continue to refine our financial management and control and leverage CCCG’s financial discipline and internal control process to achieve a balance between quality and profit. We believe the optimization of cost control mechanisms, bidding and tender mechanisms and procedure supervision systems will help to improve our cost control for the whole production process and our profitability.

Optimization of the debt structure and decreasing inventory to reduce financial costs

In addition to the continuous effort to lower our gearing ratio, we are also focusing on optimizing our debt structure. We seek to reduce the level of short-term borrowings so as to balance the debt maturity profile. We will carefully explore available means of financing, and adjust the debt portfolio to lower the average cost of borrowing. Examples of offshore financing we obtained in 2020 include the issuance of two series of three-year U.S. dollar senior notes, being the 2020 July Notes and the 2020 October Notes. For our onshore financing, we issued public bonds in an aggregate principal amount of RMB22.295 billion with an average interest rate of 3.63% in 2020, including corporate bonds, medium-term notes, perpetual medium-term notes and balance payment asset back securities (“ABS”). We issued public bonds in an aggregate amount of RMB12.462 billion with an average interest rate of 3.73% in the first half of 2021, including corporate bonds and project revenue notes and supply chain ABS. We also aim to further improve our financing innovation capability, liquidate dormant assets, explore new financing channels and innovatively promote securitization. For example, in 2020, we issued hotel real estate investment trust (“REIT”) and supply chain ABS. Our subsidiary, Greentown Decoration Project Group, also issued a private placement bonds as a debut of our “Greentown +” business in the onshore capital markets. In the first half of 2021, we issued our first project revenue notes. See “Description of Material Indebtedness and Other Obligations” for further details. We will continue to explore new financing channels and opportunities to dispose projects or part of projects that have a relatively longer payback cycle in order to improve cash flow and optimize the structure of our land bank.

We will also continue to focus on decreasing the level of our inventory to improve cash flow by implementing specific and effective measures to address the characteristics of different regions and projects. Such measures include adopting flexible pricing strategies to increase turnover rate and improve cash flow with respect to regions with higher inventory and longer turnover time. For further details of our inventory reduction in 2020, see “Business—Sales and Marketing.”

(2) EBITDA for any period consists of profit for the year before financial derivatives, interest income, interest expenses (including capitalized interest under cost of sales), income tax expenses, depreciation and amortization expenses and other non-operating items. EBITDA is not a standard measure under IFRS. EBITDA is a widely used financial indicator of a company's ability to service and incur debt. EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to cash flows, net income or any other measure of financial performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or cash flows generated by operating, investing or financing activities. EBITDA does not account for taxes, interest expense or other non-operating cash expenses. In evaluating EBITDA, we believe that investors should consider, among other things, the components of EBITDA such as sales and operating expenses and the amount by which EBITDA exceeds capital expenditures and other charges. We have included EBITDA because we believe it is a useful supplement to cash flow data as a measure of our performance and our ability to generate cash flow from operations to cover debt service and taxes. EBITDA presented herein may not be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies. Investors should not compare our EBITDA to EBITDA presented by other companies because not all companies use the same definition.

(3) EBITDA margin is calculated by dividing EBITDA by revenue.

Set forth below is a reconciliation of EBITDA to the most directly comparable IFRS measure, profit for the year:

Risks Relating to the Business

We may not always be able to obtain land reserves that are suitable for development

We derive our revenue principally from the sale of properties that we have developed. Therefore, we must maintain or increase our land reserves in strategic locations at an appropriate pace in order to ensure sustainable business growth. Based on our current rate of property development, we believe we have sufficient land reserves for approximately the next three years of development. Our ability to identify and acquire suitable development sites is subject to a number of factors, some of which are beyond our control. The supply of substantially all of the land in China is controlled by the PRC government. The land supply policies adopted by the PRC government directly impact our ability to acquire land use rights for development and our costs of such acquisitions. The PRC central and local governments have implemented various measures to regulate the means by which property developers may obtain land. The PRC government also controls land supply through zoning, land usage regulations and other means. All these measures further intensify competition for land in China among property developers.

In 2002, the PRC government introduced a nationwide system of mandatory public tender, auction or listing-for-sale for the grant of land use rights for commercial use, tourism, entertainment and commodity property development. On 28 September 2007, the Ministry of Land and Resources of the PRC (the “Ministry of Land and Resources”) issued revised Rules on the Grant of State-owned Construction Land Use Rights through Public Tender, Auction and Listing-for-sale (招標拍賣掛牌出讓國有建設用地使用權規定), which further stipulate legal and procedural requirements on public tender, auction or listing-for-sale, the only means by which state-owned land use rights can be granted by the PRC government for industrial purposes, commercial purposes, tourism, entertainment and commodity property development, and require that the land premium must be paid in full to local land administration bureau pursuant to the underlying land grant contract before the land use rights certificate can be issued to the land user. The PRC government’s policy to grant state-owned land use rights at competitive market prices has substantially increased and is likely to continue to increase the acquisition cost of land reserves generally in the PRC.

On 8 March 2010, the Ministry of Land and Resources of the PRC issued the Notice on Strengthening Real Estate Land Supply and Supervision (關於加強房地產用地供應和監管有關問題的通知), under which the minimum price for a given land transfer is required to be equal to at least 70% of the benchmark price for land in the surrounding locality and the bidding deposit for such land transfer is required to be equal to at least 20% of the applicable minimum transfer price. Property developers are also required to pay 50% of the land premium (including any deposit previously paid) as a down payment within one month of signing a land grant contract and pay the remaining land premium according to the terms and conditions of the land grant contract within a period of no more than one year from the date of the land grant contract. In addition, on 21 September 2010, the Ministry of Land and Resources and the Ministry of Housing and Urban-rural Development of the PRC (the “MOHURD”) jointly issued the Notice on Further Strengthening the Administration and Control of Real Estate Land and Construction (關於進一步加強房地產用地和建設管理調控的通知), which stipulates, among other things, that the planning and construction conditions and land use standards should be specified when a parcel of land is to be granted, and the restrictions on the area of any parcel of land granted for commodity properties should be strictly implemented. The development and construction of large low-density residential properties should be strictly restricted, and the plot ratio for residential land is required to be more than 1:1. In addition, a property developer and its shareholders will be prohibited from participating in any bidding to acquire additional land until any illegal behavior in which it has engaged, such as leaving its land idle for more than one year, has been completely rectified.

On 15 February 2012, the Ministry of Land and Resources promulgated the Notice on the Key Tasks for Accomplishing Effective Real Estate Land Administration and Control in 2012 (關於做好 2012 年房地產用地管理和調控重點工作的通知) which stipulates the following:

- real estate control policy shall be strictly implemented and key tasks clarified;
- real estate land supply shall be properly managed to promote social welfare;
- land supply for social security housing projects shall be guaranteed;
- unlawful acts relating to land use shall be strictly punished;
- development and construction shall be vigorously encouraged; and
- supervisory analysis and media coverage shall be strengthened to provide positive guidance towards the market.

On 1 June 2012, the Ministry of Land and Resources promulgated the revised Measures on the Disposal of Idle Land (閒置土地處置辦法), which became effective on 1 July 2012. Under these measures, if any land parcel constitutes “idle land” due to government-related action, the holder of the relevant land use rights is required to explain to the relevant municipality or county-level land administrative department(s) the reasons for the land becoming idle, consult the relevant governmental authorities and rectify the situation accordingly.

The means of rectification include, but are not limited to, the extension of the period permitted for commencing development, the adjustment of the land use and planning conditions or the substitution of the relevant idle land parcels with other land parcels.

On 5 November 2012, the Ministry of Land and Resources, the Ministry of Finance of the PRC (the “Ministry of Finance” or “MOF”), the People’s Bank of China (the “PBOC”) and the China Bank Regulatory Commission (the “CBRC”) jointly promulgated the Notice on Strengthening Land Reserves and Financing Administration (Guotuzi Fa [2012] No. 162) (關於加強土地儲備與融資管理的通知(國土資發[2012]162號)) in order to strengthen land bank institutions administration, determine the reasonable scale and structure of land bank, strengthen the administration of land pre-development, reservation and protection, and regulate the financing to land reservation and the use of land reservation funds.

On 2 February 2016, the Ministry of Land and Resources, the MOF, the PBOC and the CBRC jointly promulgated the Circular on Issues Concerning the Standardization of Land Reserve and Fund Management (關於規範土地儲備和資金管理等相關問題的通知) in order to further standardize land reserve behaviors and adjust financing methods for land reservation.

On 1 April 2017, the MOHURD and the Ministry of Land and Resources jointly promulgated the Notice on Strengthening the Recent Housing and Land Supply Administration and Adjustment Work (Jianfang[2017]No.80) (關於加強近期住房及用地供應管理和調控有關工作的通知(建房[2017]80號)) in order to practice national dynamic control of land supply for the first time. This notice stipulated, among others, (i) the scale, structure and time sequence of residential land supply will be adjusted in due time according to the commodity housing digestion cycle, and (a) land supply shall be suspended if the digestion cycle is 36 months or more, (b) land supply shall be reduced if the digestion cycle is 18 to 36 months, (c) land supply shall be increased if the digestion cycle is six to 12 months, and (d) land supply shall be increased and accelerated if the digestion cycle is less than six months; (ii) the local authority will build a fund inspection system to ensure that the real estate developers use their own legal funds to acquire land use rights; and (iii) according to the local actual status and specific conditions of grant of land, the means of bidding shall be determined in a flexible manner including “restrict housing price and bid for land,” “restrict land price and bid for housing,” and “sell existing houses or bid for self-holding areas after the premium rate is exceeded for a certain percentage.”

On 19 May 2018, the MOHURD promulgated the Notice of the Ministry of Housing and Urban Rural Development on Further Improving the Regulation and Control of the Real Estate Market (Jian Fang [2018] No. 49) (《住房城鄉建設部關於進一步做好房地產市場調控工作有關問題的通知》(建房[2018] 49號)). This notice stipulated, among others, (i) to improve the supply mode of commodity housing land, establish the linkage mechanism of house price and land price, and prevent the land price from pushing up the house price; (2) the proportion of housing land should be increased in hot spot cities, and the suggested proportion of housing land to urban construction land should be no less than 25%; and (3) to substantially increase the supply of land for rental housing and shared property housing, ensure the supply of land for public rental housing, and strive for three to five years to increase the proportion of public rental housing, rental housing and shared property housing in the supply of new housing land to more than 50%.

On 20 November 2019, the State Council promulgated the Notice of the State Council on Strengthening the Administration of Capital of Fixed Asset Investment Projects (Guo Fa [2019] No.26) (《國務院關於加強固定資產投資項目資本金管理的通知》(國發 [2019] 26號)). This notice stipulated, among others, (i) the capital requirement for investment projects shall be applicable to enterprise investment projects and government-invested business projects in the PRC; (ii) the capital for an investment project, as the amount of capital contributions to be subscribed for by investors in the total investment for the project, must be non-debt capital; and (iii) project loan funds, shareholders’ loans that do not comply with the provisions of the State, funds such as “shares but debts in fact,” shall not be used as capital of investment projects.

The implementation of these regulations may increase land transfer prices and require property developers to maintain a higher level of working capital. See “Regulations—Land for Property Development.”

If we fail to acquire sufficient land reserves in a timely manner and on acceptable terms, or at all, our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

We may not have adequate financing to fund our land acquisitions and property projects

Property development is capital intensive. We finance our property projects primarily through a combination of internal funds, construction loans, proceeds from pre-sales and other methods of financing. As at 30 June 2021, our total borrowings, which included bank and other borrowings, Senior Notes, corporate debt instruments and receipts under securitization arrangements, equaled RMB127,918 million (U.S.$19,812 million). Our ability to procure adequate and suitable financing for acquisitions of land and/or companies and for property developments depends on a number of factors that are beyond our control, including general economic conditions, our financial strength and performance, credit availability from financial institutions, cost of borrowing and monetary policies in China.

Various PRC regulations restrict our ability to raise capital through external financing and other methods, including without limitation, the following:

- pre-sale proceeds may only be used to fund the property development costs of the relevant projects to which they relate;
- we cannot pre-sell uncompleted units in a project prior to achieving certain development milestones;
- PRC banks are prohibited from extending loans to real estate companies for the purpose of funding the purchase of land use rights;
- we cannot borrow from a PRC bank for a particular project unless we obtain the land use rights certificate, construction land planning permit, construction works planning permit and construction works commencement permit for that project;

- PRC banks are restricted from granting loans for the development of luxury residential properties;
- PRC banks are restricted from granting revolving credit facilities to property developers that hold idle land and a large amount of vacant commodity properties;
- in principle, property developers are prohibited from using the proceeds from a loan obtained from a local PRC bank to fund property developments outside the region where that bank is located; and
- PRC banks are prohibited from accepting the construction land use rights of properties that have been regarded as idle for more than two years by the departments of land and resources as collateral for loans.

Specific measures implemented by the PRC government include the following examples:

- The PBOC has prohibited commercial banks from granting loans to property developers to pay land premiums since June 2003;
- MOHURD and other PRC governmental authorities jointly issued the Opinions on Adjusting the Housing Supply Structure and Stabilizing the Housing Prices (關於調整住房供應結構穩定住房價格的意見) in May 2006, which, among other things,
 - restrict the grant or extension of revolving credit facilities to property developers that hold a large amount of idle land and vacant commodity properties; and
 - prohibit commercial banks from taking commodity properties that have been vacant for more than three years as security for their loans.
- The PBOC and CBRC jointly issued the Circular on Strengthening the Administration of Commercial Real Estate Credit Loans (關於加強商業性房地產信貸管理的通知) in September 2007, which, among other things,
 - prohibits commercial banks from granting loans to property projects if the developer's own capital is less than 35% of the total investment amount;
 - prohibits commercial banks from granting loans to property projects that have not obtained land use rights certificates, construction land planning permits, construction works planning permits and construction works commencement permits;
 - requires that commercial bank loans to property developers be classified as real estate development loans and not as general working capital loans; and
 - requires that in principle real estate development loan proceeds may only be used for developments in the local city where the loan is originated.
- The PBOC and CBRC jointly issued the Circular on Finance to Promote the Economical and Intensive Use of Land (關於金融促進節約集約用地的通知) in July 2008, which, among other things,
 - prohibits commercial banks from extending loans to real estate companies for the purpose of funding the purchase of land use rights;
 - prohibits commercial banks from granting loans to property projects where the construction land use rights have been regarded as idle for more than two years by the departments of land and resources;

- prohibits commercial banks from accepting the construction land use rights properties that have been regarded as idle for more than two years by the departments of land and resources as collateral for loans.
- In November 2009, the PRC government raised the minimum down payment requirement for land purchases to 50% of the land premium and now requires the land premium to be fully paid within one year after the signing of a land grant contract, subject to limited exceptions; and
- In March 2010, the Ministry of Land and Resources stipulated that the minimum down payment of land premium of 50% should be paid within one month after the signing of a land grant contract and the rest of the land premium should be fully paid within one year after the signing of a land grant contract.

On 3 January 2008, the State Council of the PRC (the “State Council”) issued the Notice on Promoting the Economic Use of Land (關於促進節約集約用地的通知) with respect to the collection of additional land premium, establishment of a land utilization priority planning scheme and the formulation of a system for assessing the optimal use of land and other measures. The notice calls for the full and effective use of existing construction land and the preservation of farm land. The notice also emphasizes the enforcement of the current rules on assessing idle land fees at a rate equal to 20% of the land premium for any land left idle for over one year but less than two years. The notice also urges financial institutions to exercise caution when they review loan applications from property developers that have failed to complete development of at least one-third of the land area or to invest at least 25% of the total investment within one year of the construction date provided in the land grant contract. The notice states that a value-added land premium will be levied on the idle land, especially on those used for property development, and the relevant rules will be formulated jointly by the Ministry of Land and Resources and other authorities. The notice indicates that the relevant governmental authorities will formulate and issue additional rules and regulations on these matters.

In addition, the PBOC regulates the reserve requirement ratio for commercial banks in the PRC, which affects the availability and cost of financing from PRC commercial banks. For example, the PBOC in 2012, five times in 2015, once in 2016, three times in 2018, three times in 2019, two times in 2020 and two times in 2021. As of the date of this offering memorandum, the ratio currently ranges from 9.5% to 11.5% (except for the lower deposit reserve ratio applicable to certain commercial banks). The PBOC may further adjust the reserve requirement ratio or revise its calculation basis in the future. Any increase in the reserve requirement or expansion of the calculation basis of the reserve requirement may negatively impact the amount of funds available to lend to businesses, including us, by commercial banks in China. The PRC government could also introduce other initiatives that may further limit our access to capital, and/or consequently reduce our flexibility and ability to use bank loans or other forms of financing to finance our acquisitions and property developments. For example, on 17 April 2010 the State Council issued the Notice on Resolutely Curbing the Excessive Hike of Property Prices in Some Cities (國務院關於堅決遏制部分城市房價過快上漲的通知), which mandates that developers who hold idle land or speculate in land will not be granted bank loans for the development of new property projects. In September 2010, the PBOC and CBRC jointly issued a notice to prohibit banks from lending to any property developer for its new projects or renewal of its existing loans if such developer has a track record of maintaining idle land, changing the use and nature of land without proper approval, delaying the construction, commencement or completion date, hoarding properties or other non-compliance. These governmental actions and policy initiatives limit our ability to use bank loans to finance our acquisitions and property development projects. In the PRC, real estate financing has been restricted since the second half of 2016, and real estate financing supervision has been strengthened since 2017. On 28 December 2020, PBOC and China Banking and Insurance Regulatory Commission (“CBIRC, the successor of CRBC) jointly promulgated the Notice of PBOC and CBIRC on Establishing a Centralization Management System for Real Estate Loans of Banking Financial Institutions (《中國人民銀行、中國銀行保險監督管理委員會關於建立銀行業金融機構房地產貸款集中度管理制度的通知》) (the “December 2020 PBOC-CBIRC Notice”), which requires a PRC financial institution (excluding its overseas branches), starting from 1 January 2021, to limit the ratio of its real estate loans and personal housing mortgage loans portfolio to its total RMB loan portfolio to a pre-determined ratio.

The government regulatory agencies frequently issue documents to regulate real estate enterprise financing, and strictly supervise the standardized and non-standardized financing of the real estate industry. In the first half of 2020, the PBOC emphasized adhering to the principle that “houses are used for living, not for speculation” and the requirements of “not using real estate as a short-term means to stimulate the economy,” so as to maintain the continuity, consistency and stability of real estate financial policies. In August 2020, the PBOC and the MOHURD jointly held a meeting which emphasized the importance of market-oriented, regular and transparent financing rules applicable to real estate developers in cultivating a sustainable, stable and healthy development of real estate market. The PBOC and the MOHURD formulated the “Three Red Lines” policy to monitor the leverage ratio and regulate the ability of the real estate enterprises to incur additional debt. The “Three Red Lines” refer to certain financial metrics of a real estate enterprise: (i) the liabilities to assets ratio after excluding advances received from customers shall not exceed 70%; (ii) the net gearing ratio shall not exceed 100%; and (iii) cash to short term borrowing ratio shall not be less than 1. The real estate enterprises that fail to meet three targets shall not increase the amount of interest-bearing borrowings; the real estate enterprises that fail to meet two targets may increase the amount of interest-bearing borrowings by 5% each year; the real estate enterprise that fail to meet one target may increase the amount of interest-bearing borrowings by 10% each year; and the real estate enterprises that meet all three targets may increase the amount of interest-bearing borrowings by 15% each year. All real estate enterprises will have to meet all three requirements by the end of 2023. There is no assurance that the PRC government will not further restrict the ability of the real estate enterprises to obtain additional financings, and our business, financial condition and results of operation would not be adversely affected as a result of these adjustment. As of 30 June 2021, our liabilities to assets ratio excluding advances received from customers exceeded 70%. As of the date of this offering circular, we believe that our business, results of operations and results of operations have not been materially and adversely affected by the limitation on our abilities to incur additional financings. There is no assurance that we will continue to meet the “Three Red Lines” targets and our ability to incur additional financings will not be further restricted.

If we fail to secure adequate financing or renew our existing credit facilities prior to their expiration, or if the PRC government adopts further restrictive credit policies in the future, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

We depend heavily on the performance of the property market in the PRC

We engage in property development in various cities in the PRC. Our success depends largely on the performance of the property market in the PRC. Due to a strong increase in prices starting in early 2016, local governments and developers in certain cities (including Hangzhou and Shanghai where we have operations) have implemented measures including restriction policies on sales and loans of commodity housing to suppress the level of increase in property prices. Since the third quarter of 2021, there has been a downturn of the PRC real estate market. Property developers and home buyers in China have experienced more restrictions in accessing onshore bank lending for real estate development and mortgage financing, respectively, which, combined with home buyers’ concerns about the ability of property developers to complete real estate development projects and other factors, have resulted in a decrease in property sales in China. In addition, negative reaction to the foregoing and other credit events by onshore and offshore financing markets has also adversely affected PRC real estate developers’ ability to refinance their indebtedness. Our property sales as well as our business operations and financial performance may also be adversely affected by the foregoing, and there is no absolute assurance that we will be able to continue to service our indebtedness and manage liquidity and cash positions through external financing due to the foregoing market risks and uncertainties. We cannot assure you that the PRC government will not adopt additional and more stringent industry policies, regulations and measures in the future. If we fail to adapt our operations to such new policies, regulations and measures that may come into effect from time to time, our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. You should read the various risk factors under the section entitled “—Risks Relating to the Real Estate Industry in China” below for more risks and uncertainties relating to the extensive PRC regulations, especially relating to regulations in the PRC property sector.

In addition, the PRC property market will continue to be affected by economic, monetary, fiscal or other policies and measures of the PRC government. If economic conditions in the PRC deteriorate as a result of a prolonged global economic downturn or otherwise, if the PRC government implements macro-economic control or other measures that aim to curtail, or have the effect of curtailing, property demand or property development in China and particularly in the regions where we operate, or if we fail to respond to changes in market conditions and government policies, in particular those related to our target markets, in a timely manner, our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations would be materially and adversely affected. Any decreased property demand is likely to affect the selling prices of our properties as well as the time it will take us to pre-sell or sell our properties. Lower selling prices, without a corresponding decrease in costs, will adversely affect our gross profit and reduce cash flows generated from the sale of our properties, which may increase our reliance on external financing and adversely impact our ability to finance the growth of our business. Delays in selling properties will increase our selling and distribution costs as well as reduce the cash flows generated from the sale of our properties, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

We experienced net cash outflows from operating activities in the past and maintain a significant amount of indebtedness, which may materially and adversely affect our liquidity and our ability to service our indebtedness

We have had net cash outflows from operating activities in the past. For example, in 2018, 2019, 2020 and the first half of 2020 and 2021, our net cash used in operating activities was RMB16,555 million, RMB8,176 million, RMB3,104 million (U.S.$480.6 million), RMB7,345 million (U.S.$1,137.6 million) and RMB7,003 million (U.S.$1,085 million), respectively. We maintain a significant amount of indebtedness to finance our operations. As at 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and 30 June 2021, our total borrowings were RMB81,458 million, RMB95,577 million, RMB110,315 million (US$17,086 million) and RMB127,918 million (U.S.$19,812 million), respectively. Our net gearing ratio (total borrowings less bank balances and cash divided by total equity) was approximately 55.3%, 63.2%, 63.8% and 75.2% as at 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and 30 June 2021, respectively. Of our total outstanding bank and other borrowings of RMB96,161 million (U.S.$14,893 million) as at 30 June 2021, RMB20,901 million (U.S.$3,237 million) was repayable within one year and RMB75,260 million (U.S.$11,656 million) was repayable in more than one year.

Our cash flows and results of operations of our operating subsidiaries will affect our liquidity and our ability to service our indebtedness. We cannot assure you that we will be able to continue to generate and maintain sufficient cash flows to service our indebtedness. If we are unable to make scheduled payments in connection with our debts and other fixed payment obligations as they become due, we may need to refinance such obligations or obtain additional financing. Furthermore, some of our indebtedness, including the Senior Notes, the corporate bonds and some of our domestic or offshore bank loans contain cross-acceleration or cross-default provisions. As a result, our default under one indebtedness may cause the acceleration of repayment or trigger a default of not only such indebtedness but also other outstanding indebtedness and/or restrictions under the Senior Notes as well. We cannot assure you that our refinancing efforts would be successful or timely or that we could secure additional financing on acceptable terms, or at all. If we fail to maintain sufficient cash flows to service our indebtedness or our refinancing efforts are unsuccessful, our liquidity, business, and financial condition will be materially and adversely affected.

In addition to bank borrowings, we rely on proceeds from the pre-sale of residential properties as a major source of funding for our property development activities. If our pre-sales are limited or reduced for any reason, including policy or regulatory changes, a reduction in demand for or in the prices of our properties, or an increase in the time required to complete sales, we could experience cash flow shortfalls and difficulties in funding our property development activities and servicing our indebtedness.

Our operations are restricted by the terms of our other debt arrangements, which could limit our ability to plan for or to react to market conditions or meet our capital needs, which could increase your credit risk

Our debt documents include a number of significant restrictive covenants. These covenants restrict, among other things, our ability and the ability of our Restricted Subsidiaries to:

- incur or guarantee additional indebtedness and issue disqualified or preferred stock;
- declare dividends on capital stock or purchase or redeem capital stock;
- make investments or other specified restricted payments;
- issue or sell capital stock of certain of our subsidiaries or Restricted Subsidiaries;
- guarantee indebtedness of certain of our subsidiaries or Restricted Subsidiaries;
- sell assets;
- create liens;
- enter into sale and leaseback transactions;
- engage in any business other than permitted business;
- enter into agreements that restrict certain of our subsidiaries' or Restricted Subsidiaries' ability to pay dividends;
- transfer assets or make intercompany loans;
- enter into transactions with shareholders or affiliates; and
- effect a consolidation or merger.

These covenants could limit our ability to plan for or react to market conditions or to meet our capital needs. Our ability to comply with these covenants may be affected by events beyond our control, and we may have to curtail some of our operations and growth plans to maintain compliance.

Our controlling shareholder, and its subsidiary CCCC are subject to uncertainties due to global economic and political conditions

The global economy and financial markets have experienced significant disruptions in recent years. Economic growth in many countries continues to be adversely affected. There is considerable uncertainty over the long-term effects of the expansionary monetary and fiscal policies adopted by the central banks and financial authorities of the world's leading economies.

In addition, ongoing international trade disputes, including tariff actions announced by the United States, the PRC and certain other countries, and the uncertainties created by such disputes may adversely affect the economies in jurisdictions in which we operate as well as global markets and economic conditions. Such and other similar international trade disputes may also cause disruptions in the international flow of goods and services, which may in turn affect the sale of our products and/or the procurement of raw materials required for our business operations.

The accelerated spread of a novel strain of coronavirus (2019-nCov, referred to as "COVID-19") globally has also caused extreme volatility in the global financial market. There has been rapid and widespread increase in new confirmed cases in the United States, India, Brazil, Europe and other parts of the world and fatality rates in many countries. Citizens in many affected countries and regions are advised or required to stay at home subject to limited exceptions. In Hong Kong SAR, Europe and other parts of the world, there have been resurgence of new confirmed COVID-19 cases after a period of few or no confirmed cases. There is also no assurance that the pandemic will be under control in the near future, in particular due to the emergence of new variants of COVID-19, such as the Delta variant and the Omicron variant, and the unsynchronized progression in the vaccination drive around the world. In 2021, various regions in the PRC imposed renewed lockdown orders and other restrictive measures due to a new wave of infections. The construction of our property projects in Yangzhou was suspended in July and August 2021 due to quarantine and lockdown orders issued by the local government. We have since resumed full operation. Starting from the end of 2021 and up to the date of this offering circular, China has experienced another wave of COVID-19 outbreaks, which has affected a number of provinces, especially Shaanxi and Henan, and led to renewed lockdown orders and other restrictive measures in the affected regions. The reduced consumption, commercial activities and industrial production will severely disrupt their economies and the global supply chain and may result in recessions in these economies. Governments and central banks around the globe have introduced or are planning fiscal and monetary stimulus measures including tax cuts, direct subsidies, rates cuts, bond repurchase programs and suspension or relaxation of prudential bank capital requirements. These measures aim to contain the economic impact of the pandemic, stabilize the markets and provide liquidity easing to the markets. There is no assurance that such measures may be introduced in time or will be sufficient or effective in delivering their policy objectives. There is also no assurance that these measures will be successful in containing the economic impact of the epidemic or stabilizing the markets. COVID-19 and other recent events have led to additional geopolitical tension, which may further impact the global movement of human resources, capital, goods or services. Any prolonged slowdown in the global or the PRC economy or significant disruption to the global markets would have a negative impact on our business, financial condition, results of operations.

We, CCCG and CCCC are subject to uncertainties due to global economic and political conditions. Although nations around the world have adopted various economic policies to mitigate the adverse influences caused by factors such as the slowdown of the world economy, trade conflicts and the COVID-19 outbreak, it is uncertain how quickly the world economy will grow going forward. Furthermore, since 2018, the U.S.-China trade conflict has brought uncertainty to global markets and to a certain extent, impacted businesses and financial market sentiment, influenced financial market volatility, and slowed investment and trade. Starting in April 2018, the United States imposed tariffs on various categories of imports from China, and China responded with tariffs on products from the United States. Subsequently, additional rounds of tariffs have been imposed by both countries. While the two nations have reached a phase one trade agreement in January 2020, the progress of future trade talks between China and the United States are subject to uncertainties. China and the United States have not initiated the phase two negotiation, and it remains unclear whether the trade disputes between China and the United States will be fully resolved. Further, it remains unclear the impact of the foreign policies of the Biden-Harris administration on the Sino-U.S. relationship.

Against the backdrop of the trade conflict between the U.S. and China, the U.S. government has also taken actions beyond tariffs, some of which affect CCCC. In August 2020, the U.S. Commerce Department's Bureau of Industry and Security placed five subsidiaries of CCCC on its Entity List, which imposes additional export license requirements on, and limits the availability of most license exceptions for, exports, reexports, and transfers (in-country) of items subject to the U.S. Export Administration Regulations to listed entities. In December 2020, CCCC itself was also placed on the Entity List. CCCC, through its subsidiaries, mainly conducts the business of waterway dredging, land reclamation and environmental dredging within the PRC. The overseas dredging business revenue accounts for a relative small portion of CCCC's total revenues and no dredging business is conducted in the U.S. In addition, the core equipment for the dredging business of CCCC did not use any technology supplied by or imported from U.S. enterprises. As such, CCCC is continuing to conduct an assessment of the potential impact of the Entity List restrictions on its business and operations.

Furthermore, in August 2020, the U.S. Department of Defense (“DOD”) placed CCCC on a list of Communist Chinese Military Companies (“CCMCs”) that DOD determined to have relevant ties to the Chinese military under Section 1237 of the 1999 National Defense Authorization Act, which provides the U.S. President with additional authority to impose sanctions on the companies on such list without requiring the use of that authority or the imposition of any sanctions. In November 2020, the U.S. President signed an executive order to prohibit any purchase for value or sale by any U.S. person of publicly traded securities (or securities that are derivative thereof or designed to provide investment exposure to such securities) of any company identified as a CCMC. On 3 June 2021, the current U.S. President issued an executive order that amended and superseded these restrictions and replaced the list of CCMCs with an initial list of 59 so-called “Chinese Military-Industrial Complex Companies” ("CMICs"), which include CCCG and CCCC. The amended executive order prohibits U.S. persons from the purchase or sale of any publicly traded securities, or any publicly traded securities that are derivative of such securities or are designed to provide investment exposure to such securities, of companies listed as CMICs as of 60 days from the date of such company's inclusion in the CMIC list. The CMIC sanctions do not apply to securities issued by affiliates of the CMIC unless and until the affiliate is added to the CMIC list. There is no assurance that the business, results of operations and financial condition of CCCC or CCCG will not be adversely affected by these events. There remains substantial uncertainty as to how these measures will affect CCCG and CCCC and whether the U.S. government will take further actions in relation to China-based companies, including us, CCCG and CCCC, and the impact of such actions.

We may be adversely affected by the performance of third-party contractors

We engage third-party contractors to provide various services, including design, pile setting, foundation digging, construction, equipment installation, interior decoration, electromechanical engineering, pipeline engineering and elevator installation. During the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the six months ended 30 June 2021, payments to third-party contractors accounted for substantially all of our total construction costs. During the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the six months ended 30 June 2021, we have engaged various principal independent third-party contractors, who carried out property construction and subcontracted various works to independent third-party subcontractors. The cost of construction materials, such as steel and cement, and labor costs, are subject to a high degree of volatility. The risk of fluctuations in construction material and labor costs during the terms of the contracts are absorbed by our construction contractors to a large extent as we outsource our construction work to them as they are responsible for purchasing most of the construction materials and bear relevant labor costs during the terms of the relevant contracts. If there is any significant increase in the cost of construction materials and labor costs, our construction contractors may require renegotiation of construction fees or we may be subject to higher construction fees when our existing construction contracts expire. If any of these occur, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected.

We endeavor to employ construction contractors with good reputations, strong track records, and adequate financial resources. We also adopt and follow our own quality control procedures and routinely monitor works performed by third-party contractors. However, we cannot assure you that any third-party contractor will provide services that satisfy our required standard of quality. If the performance of any third-party contractor is not satisfactory, we may need to replace that contractor or take other remedial actions, which could increase the cost and lengthen the time required to complete the work and the whole project. In addition, we are expanding our business into other regional markets in China, and there may be a shortage of contractors that meet our quality requirements in such markets. Moreover, contractors may undertake projects for other developers, engage in risky or unsound practices or encounter financial or other difficulties, which may affect their ability to complete their work for us on time or within budget. Any of the above factors could have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

We may not be able to effectively manage our expansion and growth

We have historically focused on developing properties in Zhejiang Province. We have expanded into other regions and plan to further explore other promising markets in China and abroad. For example, as of 30 June 2021, we had a high-rise apartment and commercial building in Jakarta, a high-rise apartment in Canada and a high-rise apartment in the U.S. under development. Our expansion is based on our forward-looking assessment of market prospects. We cannot assure you that our assessments will turn out to be accurate. In addition, to succeed with our business expansion, we will need to recruit and train new managers and other employees and build our operations and reputation in our target regional markets within a relatively short period of time. We have limited knowledge of the conditions of these local property markets and little or no experience in property development in these regions. As we enter new markets, we may not have the same level of familiarity with contractors, business practices and customs and customer tastes, behavior and preferences as compared with the cities where we are an established property developer. In addition, when we enter new geographical areas, we may face intense competition from developers with an established presence and market share in those areas. Therefore, we cannot assure you that we can execute successfully our contemplated expansion plan or that we will succeed in effectively integrating our expanded operations, or that our expanded operations will generate adequate returns on our investments or positive operating cash flows. We may also develop, invest in or acquire new businesses ancillary to or related to our existing businesses and such diversification may place significant demands on our management and resources as we may not have the experience or expertise necessary for the successful development of such new businesses. Our business expansion in real estate and/or new industries may place a substantial strain on our managerial and financial resources and any failure in effectively managing our expanded operations may materially and adversely affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations.

The fair value of our investment properties is likely to fluctuate from time to time and may decrease significantly in the future, which may materially and adversely impact our profitability

We are required to reassess the fair value of our investment properties as at the date of our balance sheet. In accordance with IFRS, gains or losses (as applicable) arising from changes in the fair value of our investment properties should be accounted for in our income statements in the period in which they arise. Our investment properties were revalued by an independent property valuer as at 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and 30 June 2021, respectively, on an open market for existing use basis which reflected market conditions at those dates. Based on such valuation, we recognized the aggregate fair market value of our investment properties on our consolidated balance sheets, and recognized changes in fair values of investment properties and the relevant deferred tax on our consolidated statements of comprehensive income. In 2020, the fair value loss from our investment properties was RMB14.6 million (U.S.$2.3 million). In the first half of 2021, the fair value loss from our investment properties was RMB0.4 million (U.S.$0.06 million).

Fair value gains or losses do not, however, change our cash position as long as the relevant investment properties are held by us, and accordingly do not increase our liquidity in spite of the increased profit represented by any fair value gains. The amount of revaluation adjustments has been, and will continue to be, subject to market fluctuations. Macroeconomic factors, including economic growth rate, interest rate, inflation rate, urbanization rate and disposable income level, in addition to any governmental regulations, can substantially affect the fair value of our investment properties and affect the supply and demand in the PRC property market. All these factors are beyond our control. If the fair value of our investment properties declines, our profitability would be materially and adversely affected.

We have in the past made provisions for impairment losses for certain assets. For example, in 2020, in light of the rapid changes of market environment, we conducted impairment tests on certain properties based on the principle of prudence during such period. According to the test results, we provided for impairment loss of certain subsidiaries for their completed properties for sale amounting to an aggregate of RMB1.2 million (U.S.$0.2 million). For example, in the first half of 2020 and 2021, in light of the rapid changes of market environment, we conducted impairment tests on certain properties based on the principle of prudence during such period. According to the test results, we provided for impairment loss of certain subsidiaries for their completed properties for sale amounting to an aggregate of RMB155 million (U.S.$24 million) in the first half of 2021, and we reversed for impairment loss of certain subsidiaries for their completed properties for sale amounting to an aggregate of RMB94 million (U.S.$15 million) in the first half of 2020. We cannot assure you that we will not make any such or other impairment provisions in the future. If we make such or other impairment provisions, our results of operations, financial condition and prospects may be adversely affected.

We guarantee mortgage loans of our customers and may be liable to the mortgagee banks if our customers default on their mortgage payments

We pre-sell properties before construction is completed. The purchasers of our properties may need mortgage loans to purchase our properties, and we typically arrange for various banks to provide these mortgage loans. In accordance with market practice, the mortgagee banks require us to guarantee our customers' mortgage loans. Typically, our guarantee obligations for such customers' mortgage loans are released upon the earlier of (i) the satisfaction of the mortgage loan by the purchaser of the property; and (ii) the issuance of the property ownership certificate for the mortgaged property and the completion of the registration of the mortgage. It generally takes three to six months after we deliver possession of the relevant property to the purchaser for our guarantee to be released. If a purchaser defaults on a mortgage loan guaranteed by us we may have to repay the mortgage loan. If we fail to do so, the mortgagee bank may foreclose the underlying property and recover any balance from us as the guarantor of the defaulted mortgage loan. In line with industry practice, we rely on the credit analysis performed by the mortgagee banks in respect of individual customers and we do not conduct any independent credit checks on them.

As at 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and 30 June 2021, our outstanding financial guarantees for the mortgage loans of our customers amounted to RMB33,938 million, RMB35,651 million, RMB37,066 million (U.S.$5,741 million) and RMB44,187 million (U.S.$6,844 million), respectively. In 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the first half of 2021, we did not experience any instances where we had to honor our guarantee obligations as a result of a failure by our customers to repay their mortgage loans which could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations and financial position. However, if we are required to honor our guarantees, our results of operations and financial position may be materially and adversely affected.

We may suffer certain losses not covered by insurance

In line with industry practice, we do not carry comprehensive insurance against all potential losses or damages with respect to our properties before their delivery to customers nor do we maintain insurance coverage against liability from tortious acts, property damage or personal injury relating to the construction and maintenance of our properties. Although we expect our third-party construction companies to maintain appropriate insurance coverage, we cannot assure you that their insurance would cover or be sufficient to satisfy all claims, or that we would not be sued or held liable for damages notwithstanding their insurance coverage. Moreover, there are certain losses for which insurance is not available on commercially practicable terms in China, such as losses suffered due to earthquake, typhoon, flooding, war and civil disorder. If we suffer from any losses, damages or liabilities in the course of our business, we may not have sufficient financial resources to cover such losses, damages or liabilities or to satisfy our related obligations. Any payment we make to cover any losses, damages or liabilities may have a material and adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our results of operations may vary significantly from period to period

Our results of operations may vary significantly due to a number of factors, including the timetables of our property development projects, the timing of the sale of properties that we have developed, our revenue recognition policies and any volatility in expenses such as raw material costs. The overall schedules of our property development and the number of properties that we can develop or complete during any particular period are limited as a result of the substantial capital required for the acquisition of land, demolition and resettlement and construction. The sale of properties we develop is subject to general market or economic conditions in the areas where we conduct our business and the level of acceptance of our properties by prospective customers. According to our accounting policy, we recognize revenue upon delivery of the properties to purchasers, which may typically take six to 24 months after the commencement of the pre-sale. Therefore, in periods in which we pre-sell a large aggregate GFA, we may not generate a correspondingly high level of revenue if the properties pre-sold are not delivered within the same period. In addition, our business depends on obtaining adequate supplies of raw materials and is subject to fluctuation in the market prices of raw materials. The prices that we pay for raw materials may increase due to increased industry demand, inflation, higher fuel and transportation costs and other factors. We will continue to experience significant fluctuations in revenue and profit subsequent to the issuance of the Bonds. We therefore believe that period-to-period comparisons of our results of operations may not be as meaningful as they would be for a company with recurring revenue.

We may not be able to complete our projects according to schedule or on budget

A property development project requires substantial capital expenditures prior to and during the construction period, and it may take over a year before a development generates positive cash flow through pre-sales or sales. The progress of, and costs for, a development project can be adversely affected by many factors, including:

- changes in market conditions, an economic downturn or a decline in consumer confidence;
- delays in obtaining necessary licenses, permits or approvals from governmental agencies or authorities;
- relocation of existing residents and demolition of existing structures;
- increases in the market prices of raw materials if we cannot pass on the increased costs to customers;
- shortages of materials, equipment, contractors and skilled labor;
- latent soil or subsurface conditions and latent environmental damage requiring remediation;
- unforeseen engineering, design, environmental or geographic problems;
- labor disputes;
- construction accidents;
- natural disasters;
- adverse weather conditions;
- outbreak of communicable diseases, including, but not limited to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, see “—The national and regional economies in China and our prospects may be adversely affected by natural disasters, acts of God, or occurrence of epidemics”;
- changes in governmental practices and policies, including reclamation of land for public works or facilities; and
- other unforeseen problems or circumstances.

The rising cost of construction in the PRC may also have a material and adverse effect on our business, results of operation and financial condition.

Our property projects are at risk from earthquakes, floods and other natural disasters in the regions where we operate. Damage to any of our properties or impact on the markets, whether by natural disasters or otherwise, may either delay or preclude our ability to develop and sell our properties or adversely affect our budget for the projects. During the three years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the six month ended 30 June 2021, we did not experience any delays in completion or delivery of our projects, which could have a material adverse effect on our business operations. See “—We may be adversely affected by fluctuations in the global economy and financial markets” and “—The national and regional economies in China and our prospects may be adversely affected by natural disasters, acts of God, or occurrence of epidemics.” We may also experience additional or significant delays in completion or delivery of our projects or we may be subject to liability for any such delays. Construction delays or failure to complete construction of a project according to its planned specifications, schedule or budget may materially and adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our profitability and results of operations are affected by changes in interest rates

Changes in interest rates have affected and will continue to affect our financing costs and, ultimately, our results of operations. On 20 July 2013, the PBOC ceased regulating the benchmark lending rate, allowing commercial banks to adopt differentiated lending rates. The benchmark one-year bank lending rates published by the PBOC for the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 were 4.35%, 4.15% and 3.85%, respectively. On 20 July 2013, pursuant to the Notice on Further Promoting the Market-oriented Interest Rate Reform (中國人民銀行關於進一步推進利率市場化改革的通知), the PBOC abolished the regulation on the benchmark lending rates for financial institutions and began allowing lending rates to be determined by financial institutions pursuant to market principles. On 16 August 2019, pursuant to the Announcement [2019] No.15 of the People's Bank of China on the Reform and Improvement of the Formation Mechanism of Loan Prime Rate (LPR 《中國人民銀行公告[2019]第15號—改革完善貸款市場報價利率(LPR)形成機制的公告》), the PBOC decided to reform and improve the formation mechanism of loan prime rate ("LPR") and provided that the banks shall mainly refer to the LPR for interest rates pricing in newly issued loans and adopt the LPR as the pricing benchmark in floating rate loan contracts. Any increases in benchmark lending rates and/or LPR will increase the interest costs for our property developments. For the six months ended on 30 June 2021, our weighted average interest rate was 4.6%, which decreased by 0.6% as compared to the corresponding period in 2020. For the year ended 31 December 2020, our weighted average interest rate was 4.9%, which decreased by 0.4% as compared to 2019. Our total interest expense was RMB5,417 million, RMB6,009 million and RMB7,798 million (U.S.$1,208 million) and RMB3,978 million (U.S.$616 million) for the years ended December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the six months ended on 30 June 2021, respectively. A substantial portion of the interest expense has been capitalized as properties under development, which will then be recognized in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income as cost of sales upon the sale of properties. As a result, such capitalized interest expense may adversely affect our gross profit margin upon the sales of properties in future. In addition, increases in interest rates may affect our customers' ability to secure mortgages on acceptable terms, which in turn may affect their ability to purchase our properties.

We are exposed to foreign exchange risks

The principal place of our operation is in the PRC and the majority of our income and expenditure is settled in RMB. For the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the six months ended 30 June 2021, we had deposits in foreign currencies, amounts due from and to related parties and third parties denominated in foreign currencies, as well as bank borrowings in foreign currencies and overseas senior notes, and were exposed to foreign exchange risks. We did not enter into any foreign exchange hedging arrangements during these years and periods. As at 30 June 2021, the carrying amounts of our foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities totaled approximately RMB0.25 billion (U.S.$0.04 billion) and RMB18.9 billion (U.S.$2.93 billion), respectively. If the Renminbi depreciates against such foreign currencies, our financial condition could be adversely affected because of our foreign currency exposure.

Our business, financial condition, results of operation and prospects may be adversely affected by the COVID-19 pandemic

At the end of December 2019, COVID-19 emerged and continued to spread around the world. In March 2020, the World Health Organization categorized the global outbreak of COVID-19 as a pandemic. Governmental authorities, including in the PRC, have implemented measures to contain the spread of COVID-19 such as extended holidays, travel restrictions, border controls and other measures to discourage or prohibit the movement of people, causing commercial disruption in a number of countries. Market regulations and COVID-19 have put certain pressures on real estate development. For example, affected by the outbreak of COVID-19 since the beginning of 2020, the sales centers of commercial and residential properties have been temporarily closed down and project construction has also been suspended in most cities in the PRC. In January 2020, due to mandatory government quarantine measures in an effort to contain the spread of COVID-19, we suspended property development. In July and August 2021, the local government in certain regions of the PRC, including Jiangsu, where we have operations, imposed quarantine and other restrictive measures to contain the spread of the Delta variant of COVID-19, and the construction of our property projects in Yangzhou was suspended in July and August to comply with the quarantine and lockdown orders issued by the local government. We have, however, resumed full operation since then. As at the date of this offering circular, the foregoing incidents of temporary suspension of our property development pursuant to government quarantine or lockdown measures do not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Should there be further disruptions to our operations, we may experience delays in completion and delivery of our projects. In addition, any further disruption or suspension of our sales activities may negatively affect our liquidity and access to capital. As at the date of this offering circular, the COVID-19 pandemic is ongoing and the responses thereto continue to develop globally. It is difficult to ascertain how long such pandemic may last, the effect and/or duration of governmental measures taken to curb the spread of COVID-19, and the full impact that COVID-19 may have globally, in the PRC, and on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. If the COVID-19 outbreak continues for a prolonged period, the economic condition of the PRC may be further worsened and the PRC economy may experience a slowdown in its growth rate or experience a recession. The prolonged spread of COVID-19 may also trigger economic recessions in countries around the world, including those where we have operations. Any of the foregoing may have a material and adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The national and regional economies in China and our prospects may be adversely affected by natural disasters, acts of God, or occurrence of epidemics

Our business is subject to general economic and social conditions in China. Natural disasters, epidemics and other acts of God which are beyond our control may adversely affect the economy, infrastructure and livelihood of the people in China. Some regions in China, including the cities where we operate, are under the threat of and/or affected by flood, earthquake, sandstorm, snowstorm, fire, drought, or epidemics such as Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome, or SARS, H5N1 avian flu and the human swine flu, also known as Influenza A (H1N1), or pandemics such as COVID-19. See “—Our business, financial condition, results of operation and prospects may be adversely affected by the COVID-19 pandemic.” A recurrence of SARS or an outbreak or resurgence of any other epidemics and/or pandemics in China, such as the H5N1 avian flu, Ebola, the human swine flu or COVID-19, especially in the cities where we have operations, may result in material disruptions to our property development and our sales and marketing, which in turn may materially and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

We may have to compensate our customers if we fail to meet all requirements for the delivery of completed properties and the issuance of property ownership certificates

According to the relevant PRC law, property developers must meet various requirements within 90 days after the delivery of property or such other time period that may be provided in the relevant sales and purchase agreement to assist a purchaser in obtaining the individual property ownership certificate. We generally elect to specify the deadline to apply for an individual property ownership certificate in the sales and purchase agreement to allow sufficient time for the application and approval process. Within three months of the date of the completion certificate for a development, we must apply for a general property ownership certificate for the entire development. This involves, among other things, the submission of a number of documents, including land use rights documents, planning approvals and construction permits. Following the effective date of a sales and purchase agreement for one or more units in a development, we then assist the purchaser to apply for an individual property ownership certificate for each unit. This involves submission of other documents, including the sales and purchase agreement, identification documentation for the purchaser, evidence of payment of deed tax and a copy of the general property ownership certificate issued to us. Delay by a purchaser in providing the documents relating to the purchaser, or delay by the various administrative authorities in reviewing the relevant application document, as well as other factors beyond our control, may affect timely delivery of the relevant individual property ownership certificate. Under current PRC laws and regulations and under our sales and purchase agreements, we are required to compensate our customers for delays in delivery of individual property ownership certificates caused by us. During the three years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the six months ended 30 June 2021, we did not pay any compensation for delays in delivery of individual property ownership certificates which could have a material adverse effect on our business operations. However, we cannot assure you that delays in delivery of the required property ownership certificates caused by us will not occur. Significant delays with respect to one or more of our developments may materially and adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

The PRC government may impose fines on us or take back our land if we fail to develop a property according to the terms of the land grant contract

Under PRC laws and regulations, if we fail to develop a property according to the terms of the land grant contract, including those relating to the payment of land premium, demolition and resettlement costs and other fees, the specified use of the land and the time for commencement and completion of the development, the PRC government may issue a warning, impose a penalty and/or liquidated damages, and/or order us to forfeit our land. Under PRC laws and regulations, if we fail to pay any outstanding land grant premium on time, we may be subject to a late payment penalty of 0.1% of the outstanding balance for every day of delay in payment. In addition, the PRC government requires that a land grant contract must be entered into within 10 working days after the closing of the land grant, and the down payment of 50% of the land premium must be paid within one month of signing the land grant contract, with the remaining to be paid in full within one year of the date of the land grant contract. Such policies may materially and adversely affect our ability to make timely payment of land premiums.

In addition, the PRC government may serve a warning notice on us and impose an idle land fee up to 20% of the land premium or allocation fees if (i) we do not commence construction for more than one year after the date specified in the relevant land grant contract without the approval from the relevant PRC land authorities, unless such failure is caused by a force majeure event, a government action or preliminary work necessary for the commencement of construction, (ii) total constructed GFA is less than one-third of the total proposed GFA for the development, or (iii) the capital invested in the development is less than one-fourth of the total investment approved for the development and the development is suspended for more than one year without governmental approval. Furthermore, the PRC government has the authority to take back the land without compensation to us, if we do not commence construction for more than two years after the date specified in the land grant contract, unless the delay is caused by force majeure, governmental or preliminary work necessary for the commencement of construction.

We cannot assure you that there will be no significant delays in the commencement of construction or the development of our properties in the future, or that our developments will not be subject to idle land penalties or be taken back by the government as a result of such delays. The imposition of substantial idle land penalties could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. If any of our land is taken back by the government, we would not only lose the opportunity to develop the property, but also lose our prior investments in the development, including land premiums paid and costs incurred in connection with such land.

Our acquisition of companies holding land use rights may be unsuccessful

We intend to continue to acquire controlling equity interests in companies holding land use rights as a means of expanding our business and land bank. However, we may face strong competition during the acquisition process and we may not be successful in selecting or valuing target companies or their land accurately. As a result, we may be unable to complete such acquisitions at reasonable costs, or at all. In addition, we may have to allocate additional capital and human resources to integrate the acquired business into our operations. We also cannot assure you that the integration of any acquired company will be successfully completed within a reasonable period of time, or at all, or that it will generate the economic benefit that we expected.

We may be required to relocate existing residents and pay demolition and resettlement costs associated with our future property developments and such costs may increase

We may be required to undertake and pay for demolition of existing buildings and resettlement of existing residents with respect to some of our property developments in accordance with the relevant PRC laws and regulations. We have also entered into certain contractual arrangements involving demolition and resettlement works. In particular, we have entered into certain contractual arrangements relating to redevelopment and primary land development with a view to facilitating potential acquisitions of land use rights or enhancing our future expansion into the relevant markets. See the section entitled “Business—Contractual Arrangements.” The compensation we pay for resettlement is calculated in accordance with certain formulas published by the relevant local authorities. These formulas take into account the location, GFA and the type of building to be demolished, local income levels and many other factors. There can be no assurance that local authorities will not change or adjust their formulas without prior notice. Existing owners or residents may disagree with the compensation arrangements or refuse to relocate. The administrative process to settle the amount of compensation, together with any appeals, or a refusal to relocate may significantly delay the timetable for the affected development. Although we take into consideration the difficulties in resettlement compensation negotiations before we enter into such contractual arrangements, the protracted resettlement process may cause delays in the redevelopment projects, and adversely affect our plans to obtain the relevant land use rights or enter into the new markets. In addition, there is no assurance that we will be able to reach agreements for compensation and resettlement for such redevelopment projects on terms satisfactory to us or at all. Moreover, an unfavorable final determination or settlement regarding the amount of compensation payable by us may increase the cost of the development and materially and adversely affect our cash flow, business, financial condition and results of operations.

A third party's inappropriate use of the trademarks and service marks “綠城” (Greentown) and “綠城房產” (Greentown Real Estate) may damage our reputation and negatively affect our financial condition and results of operations

Most of the trademarks and service marks relating to “綠城” (Greentown) and “綠城房產” (Greentown Real Estate) were previously licensed from Greentown Holdings Group Limited (綠城控股集團有限公司) (“Greentown Holdings Group”) and are currently under licenses and assignments from Greentown Holdings Group. Greentown Holdings Group is engaged in various businesses in addition to property development, such as hotel management and sports. The Greentown trademarks have been registered under Greentown Holdings Group’s name and certain of our member(s) for various classes and categories of services and products in accordance with PRC law. Pursuant to a trademark licensing agreement entered into between Greentown Holdings Group and us dated 22 June 2006, we have been licensed to use the trademarks on an exclusive and royalty-free basis within the valid registration period of such trademarks. The term of the trademark licensing agreement is ten years subject to an automatic extension for a further ten years if so requested by us one month before the expiry date. The trademark licensing agreement was extended on 30 November 2015 and is valid until 31 December 2025. On 25 June 2016, we entered into a trademark assignment framework agreement with Greentown Holdings Group pursuant to which Greentown Holdings Group agreed to assign certain “Greentown” trademarks, including the “綠城” (Greentown) and “綠城房產” (Greentown Real Estate) trademarks, to us. On 13 July 2017, the transfer of the 12 trademarks registered with the State Trademark Bureau of the PRC was completed. The division and transfer of two trademarks registered in Hong Kong has not been completed. See “Related Party Transactions” and “Business—Intellectual Property” for further details.

If the trademarks are not transferred to us, we cannot assure you that the trademark licensing agreement will be extended or renewed at the end of its current ten year term in 2026. If for any reason, we need to continue licensing such trademarks from Greentown Holdings Group but such license is not extended or renewed in the future, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. Greentown Holdings Group continues to use such trademarks in its other categories of business except for the property development business. In addition, Greentown Holdings Group allows several third parties to use the “Greentown” mark in their business operations. Such third parties are engaged in interior decoration, media, hospital investment, education businesses and other categories of business except for the property development business. If such entities use such trademarks and service marks in ways that negatively affect the “Greentown” and “Greentown Real Estate” brand names, our reputation and the reputation of our products could be damaged, which in turn may have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Deterioration in our brand image could adversely affect our business

We rely to a significant extent on our brand name and brand image, “Greentown.” Any negative incident or negative publicity concerning us or our property developments could adversely affect our reputation and business. One of our affiliates owns our brand and therefore has the right to use the brand for non-real estate related purposes. Brand value is based largely on subjective consumer perceptions and can be damaged by isolated incidents that reduce consumer trust. Consumer demand for our products and our brand value could diminish significantly if we fail to preserve the quality of our products, or fail to deliver a consistently positive consumer experience in each of our complexes, or if we are perceived to act in an unethical or socially irresponsible manner.

In addition, our efforts to protect our brand name may not be adequate, and we may be unable to identify any unauthorized use of our brand name or to take appropriate steps to enforce our rights on a timely basis. Our brand could be misappropriated or misused in the future. If the registration of our brand name “Greentown” and the relevant trademarks in the PRC or elsewhere cannot be completed, we will not be able to have adequate protection against unauthorized use or infringement of our brand name committed by any third parties. Any unauthorized use or infringement of our brand name may impair the value we have built in our brand name, damage our reputation and materially and adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Our success depends on the continued services of our senior management team and qualified employees

Our success and growth depend on the continued services of our executive directors and other members of our senior management team. They have extensive experience in the PRC real estate industry, and in-depth knowledge of various aspects of property development, strategic planning and business management. We cannot assure you that any executive director or member of senior management is willing or able to continue in his or her present position or that we will be able to find and hire a suitable replacement if he or she is recruited by a competitor or departs to start a competing business. Any negative news regarding our senior management team may also adversely affect our reputation or business. Moreover, along with our steady growth and expansion into other regional markets in China, we will need to employ, train and retain additional suitable skilled and qualified management and employees from a wider geographical area. If we cannot attract and retain suitable personnel, our business and future growth may be materially and adversely affected.

We may be involved from time to time in disputes, administrative, legal and other proceedings arising out of our operations or subject to fines and sanctions in relation to our non-compliance with certain PRC laws and regulations, and may face significant liabilities or damage to our reputation as a result

We may be involved in disputes with various parties involved in the construction, development and the sale of our properties, including contractors, suppliers, construction workers, original owners and residents, partners and purchasers. These disputes may lead to protests, legal or other proceedings and may result in damage to our reputation, incurrence of substantial costs and the diversion of resources and management’s attention. As most of our projects are comprised of multiple phases, purchasers of our properties in earlier phases may file legal actions against us if our subsequent planning and development of the relevant project is perceived to be inconsistent with our representations and warranties made to such earlier purchasers. These disputes and legal and other proceedings may materially and adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations. The judicial process of releasing the seizure of properties may decrease the time we devote to normal and customary operating functions. In addition, we may have compliance issues with regulatory bodies in the course of our operations, which may subject us to administrative proceedings and unfavorable decrees that result in liabilities, fines or sanctions and cause damage to our reputation and delays to our property developments. We may also be involved in disputes or legal proceedings in relation to delays in the completion and delivery of our projects. The occurrence of any of the above events, and failure to comply with any applicable PRC laws or regulations, may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. Finally, any failure or alleged failure by us or any of our directors, officers or other agents to fully adhere to the PRC or other applicable bribery or anti-corruption laws, or any investigation in relation to such failure or alleged failure by any regulatory body, could also materially and adversely affect our reputation and our business, financial condition and results of operations. For more information, see “Business—Legal Proceedings and Material Claims.”

Actions of our joint ventures or disputes with our project development partners may adversely affect our business

We carry out a substantial portion of our business through joint ventures with our project development partners and intend to increasingly use joint ventures to develop future projects. Our associates and joint ventures, including those established pursuant to joint ventures with Xinhua Zhongbao, Wharf and CCCG, are not and will not be our subsidiaries and will not be subject to any restrictive covenants in the Indenture. As a non-controlling shareholder in these entities, we do not consolidate the financial results and assets and liabilities of such entities in our consolidated financial statements (but instead incorporate them into our consolidated financial statements using the equity method of accounting), and will not control the actions of these entities including acquisitions and financings. Under the terms of the Senior Notes Indentures, in certain circumstances, we are permitted to invest in certain joint ventures including through contingent obligations such as direct and indirect capital contributions and also to pledge the shares we own in these joint ventures. We may not be able to recover the value of our investments in these joint ventures or may lose our shareholding in these joint ventures in certain circumstances including if these joint ventures become insolvent or fail to pay their debts. Such joint venture arrangements involve a number of risks, including but not limited to:

- disputes may arise with project development partners in connection with the performance of their obligations under the relevant project or joint venture agreements;
- disputes may also arise as to the scope of each party's responsibilities under these arrangements;
- financial difficulties encountered by a project development partner may affect its ability to perform its obligations under the relevant project or joint venture agreements;
- dispute may arise over whether to develop, maintain, enter into or discontinue certain projects;
- the Company may not have the resources to invest in the joint venture at a time required under the joint venture agreements; and
- conflicts may exist between the policies or objectives adopted by the project development partners and those adopted by us.

Any of the above and other factors may adversely affect our ability to comply with our obligations under joint venture agreements or complete jointly developed projects on a timely basis or within budget, which would adversely affect our reputation, financial position and business operations.

We are subject to legal and business risks and our business may be adversely affected if we fail to obtain or maintain the required qualification certificates and other requisite governmental approvals

A PRC property developer must hold a valid qualification certificate to develop property and renew it on an annual basis unless the relevant rules and regulations permit a longer renewal period. In addition, at various stages of project development, the PRC property developer must obtain various licenses, certificates, permits, and approvals from the relevant PRC administrative authorities, including land use rights certificates, planning permits, construction permits, pre-sale permits and certificates or confirmation of completion.

According to the Provisions on Administration of Qualifications of Real Estate Developers (房地產開發企業資質管理規定) issued by the Ministry of Construction of the PRC (the “Ministry of Construction”) (now MOHURD), a newly established property developer must first apply for a provisional qualification certificate with a one-year validity, which can be renewed annually for not more than two consecutive years. If, however, the newly established property developer fails to commence a property development project within the one-year period following the provisional qualification certificate, it will not be allowed to renew the term of its provisional qualification certificate. Developers with longer operating histories must submit their qualification certificates to relevant construction administration authorities for renewal once every two to three years in most cities, subject to an annual verification by the relevant governmental authorities. Governmental regulations require developers to fulfill all statutory requirements before they may obtain or renew their qualification certificates.

We conduct our property developments through project companies. These project companies must hold valid qualification certificates to be able to conduct their businesses. Some of our project companies are in the process of obtaining or renewing their qualification certificates. We cannot assure you that our project companies will be able to obtain or renew the necessary qualification certificates in a timely manner, or at all. If any of our project companies does not obtain or renew the necessary qualification certificate in a timely manner, or at all, our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

In addition to the above, we cannot assure you that we will not encounter significant problems in satisfying the conditions to, or delays in, the issuance or renewal of other necessary licenses, certificates, permits or approvals. There may also be delays on the part of the administrative bodies in reviewing and processing our applications and granting licenses, certificates, permits or approvals. If we fail to obtain the necessary governmental licenses, certificates, permits or approvals for any of our major property projects, or a delay occurs in the government's examination and review process, our development schedule and our sales could be substantially delayed, resulting in a material and adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We are subject to legal and business risks for the non-registration of our leases

Most of the lease agreements for the properties that we rented from third parties and the properties that we leased to third parties have not been registered. Our PRC legal adviser has advised us that the requirement for the leases to be registered is an administrative measure, the non-compliance with which may result in an administrative penalty if we fail to complete registration within a specified timeframe required by the relevant construction (real estate) authorities but does not affect the validity of the leases, however, we may face the risk of being determined by the relevant court of not being able to challenge any bona fide third party. We cannot assure you that the relevant administrative authorities will not impose a fine on us and bona fide third parties will not challenge our leases.

Our strategic shareholders have the ability to exercise influence over our business and may take actions that are not in, or may conflict with, our or our creditors', including the holders of the Bonds, best interests

As at 30 June 2021, CCCG, Wharf and Xinhua Zhongbao (our "Strategic Shareholders") held approximately 25.051%, 22.353% and 12.949%, respectively, of our outstanding shares. Accordingly, our Strategic Shareholders have the ability to exercise influence over our business, including certain matters relating to our management and policies, our investment decisions, our annual budgets, mergers, acquisitions and disposals and amendments of our articles of association. For more information, see "Business—Strategic Partnerships."

Our LAT provisions and prepayments may not be sufficient to meet our LAT obligations

In accordance with the provisions of the Provisional Regulations of the People's Republic of China on Land Appreciation Tax (《中華人民共和國土地增值稅暫行條例》) and the related implementation rules, all entities and individuals that receive income from the sale or transfer of land use rights, buildings and ancillary facilities are subject to LAT at progressive rates ranging from 30% to 60% of the appreciated value of such properties. There is an exemption for the sale of ordinary residential properties if the appreciated value does not exceed 20% of the total deductible expense items allowed under the relevant LAT regulations. This exemption is not available for sales of luxury residential properties, villas and commercial properties. It is not clear whether the residential portion of our mixed residential and commercial developments will be eligible for the exemption available to ordinary residential properties. The State Taxation Bureau clarified LAT settlement to some extent in its Notice on the Administration of the Settlement of Land Appreciation Tax of Property Development Enterprises (關於房地產開發企業土地增值稅清算管理有關問題的通知) ("LAT Settlement Notice (2007)") effective 1 February 2007 and Notice of State Administration of Taxation on Issues Relating to Settlement of Land Appreciation Tax (《國家稅務總局關於土地增值稅清算有關問題的通知》) effective on 19 May 2010. The LAT Settlement Notice (2007) clarifies that all provincial tax authorities shall formulate specific administrative measures for settlement subject to the provisions of the LAT Settlement Notice (2007) and upon the actual situation of each province. The State Taxation Bureau has issued regulations in the past to set minimum prepayment rates as applicable in different regions in the PRC and may raise the prepayment rates from time to time.

We have been prepaying LAT with reference to our pre-sale proceeds since the PRC government imposed such prepayment obligation in 2004 in areas where we have operations. In addition, we make provisions for the estimated amount of LAT that may be payable in respect of our other sales. We made LAT provisions of RMB3,889 million, RMB4,025 million and RMB3,345 million (U.S.$518 million) for each of the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020, respectively. LAT provisions are recorded as a part of “income taxes payable” on our balance sheets. We cannot assure you that the relevant tax authorities will agree with our calculation of LAT liabilities nor can we assure you that the LAT provisions will be sufficient to cover our LAT obligations in respect of our past LAT liabilities. If the relevant tax authorities determine that our LAT liabilities exceed our LAT prepayments and provisions, and seek to collect that excess amount, our cash flow, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

The full-fledged levy of value added tax on revenues from a comprehensive list of service sectors may subject our revenues to an average higher tax rate

Pursuant to the Notice on Overall Implementation of the Pilot Program of Replacing Business Tax with Value-added (關於全面推開營業稅改徵增值稅試點的通知) (Cai Shui [2016] No. 36) issued on 23 March 2016 (“Circular 36”) by the Ministry of Finance and PRC State Administration of Taxation (“SAT”), effective from 1 May 2016 and recently amended in 2019, PRC tax authorities have started imposing value added tax (“VAT”) on revenues from various service sectors, including real estate, construction, financial services and insurance, as well as other lifestyle service sectors, replacing the business tax that co-existed with VAT for over 20 years. Since the issuance of Circular 36, the MOF and SAT have subsequently issued a series of tax circulars in March and April 2016 to implement the collection of VAT on revenues from construction, real estate, financial services and lifestyle services. The VAT rates applicable to us may be generally higher than the business tax rate we were subject to prior to the implementation of Circular 36. For example, the VAT rate for sale of self-developed real estate projects had been increased from 5% (past business tax rate) to 11%, then adjusted to 10% since 1 May 2018, according to the Notice of the MOF and the SAT on Adjusting the Value-added Tax Rate (《財政部、國家稅務總局關於調整增值稅稅率的通知》), and has been adjusted to 9% since 1 April 2019, according to the Announcements on Policies for Deepening Value-added Tax Reform (《關於深化增值稅改革有關政策的公告》). Unlike the business tax, however, the VAT will only be imposed on added value, which means the input tax incurred from our construction and real estate will be able to be offset in the output tax. However, details of concrete measures are still being formulated in accordance with Circular 36, and as such, we are still in the process of assessing the comprehensive impact of the new VAT regime on our tax burden, our revenues and results of operations, which remains uncertain.

We breached certain financial covenants under our indebtedness in the past and received waivers from noteholders for these breaches. Any additional breaches in the future under our indebtedness could materially affect our financial condition and results of operations

We breached certain financial covenants under certain of our indebtedness in the past, for which we received waivers from the relevant noteholders. Such noteholders also did not exercise their right to accelerate the maturity of the notes they were holding. Any additional breaches of financial covenants under our indebtedness in the future could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations.

We have incurred significant indebtedness and may incur substantial additional indebtedness in the future, which could materially and adversely affect our financial condition and could further intensify the risks associated with our leverage

We have significant indebtedness outstanding. As at 30 June 2021, our consolidated capital commitments were approximately RMB62,546 million (U.S.$9,687 million). In addition, as at 30 June 2021, our consolidated current bank loans and other borrowings (including the Senior Notes and our corporate debt instruments) amounted to RMB30,106 million (U.S.$4,663 million), and our consolidated non-current bank loans and other borrowings (including the Senior Notes and our corporate debt instruments) amounted to RMB95,913 million (U.S.$14,855 million).

In addition, we and our subsidiaries may from time to time incur substantial additional indebtedness including bank borrowings, onshore or offshore bond offerings with or without credit enhancement, and other debt products. See “Description of Material Indebtedness and Other Obligations.” Although the Senior Notes Indentures limit us and our subsidiaries from incurring additional debt, these limitations are subject to important exceptions and qualifications.

For example, under the Senior Notes, we may incur additional indebtedness if we can, among other things, satisfy the Fixed Charge Coverage Ratio. The Fixed Charge Coverage Ratio is derived by dividing Consolidated EBITDA by Consolidated Fixed Charges. Consolidated Fixed Charges comprises of Consolidated Interest Expense and dividends paid on any Disqualified Stock or Preferred Stock of the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary. Because our definition of Consolidated Interest Expense excludes the distributions under the Perpetual Bond Obligations, only includes interest that has become due and payable by the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary, and also subtracts the interest income from the gross interest expense, our Consolidated Fixed Charges would be substantially lower, and therefore our ability to incur additional debt under such covenant could be substantially larger, when compared to other similarly situated PRC high yield issuers whose covenant typically includes such interest regardless of whether it has become due and payable by the Company or any Restricted Subsidiary or not. If we or our subsidiaries incur additional debt, the risks that we face as a result of our already substantial indebtedness and leverage could intensify.

If we or our subsidiaries incur additional debt, the risks that we face as a result of such indebtedness and leverage could intensify. The amount of our indebtedness could have important consequences to the holders of the Bonds. For example, it could:

- limit our ability to satisfy our obligations under the Bonds and other debt;
- increase our vulnerability to adverse general economic and industry conditions;
- require us to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to servicing and repaying our indebtedness, thereby reducing the availability of cash flow to fund working capital, capital expenditures and other general corporate purposes;
- limit our flexibility in planning for or reacting to changes in the businesses and the industry in which we operate;
- place us at a competitive disadvantage compared with our competitors who have less debt;
- limit, along with the financial and other restrictive covenants of our indebtedness, our ability to borrow additional funds; and
- increase the cost of additional financing.

Our ability to generate sufficient cash to satisfy our outstanding and future debt obligations will depend on our future operating performance, which will be affected by prevailing economic conditions and financial, business and other factors, many of which are beyond our control. If we are unable to service our indebtedness, we will be forced to adopt an alternative strategy that may include actions such as reducing or delaying capital expenditures, selling assets, restructuring or refinancing existing indebtedness or seeking equity capital. These strategies may not be instituted on satisfactory terms.

Our perpetual capital securities are not considered indebtedness under the Senior Notes. Therefore, we are able to incur perpetual capital securities without any limitation under the Senior Notes. In addition, neither the distributions under the perpetual capital securities are considered when calculating the Consolidated Interest Expense as abovementioned nor are the repayments and distributions under the perpetual capital securities considered Restricted Payments under our bank facilities and senior notes, including the Senior Notes. We might therefore in certain circumstances be able to make repayments or distributions that we would not otherwise be entitled to under the covenants governing our bank facilities and senior notes, including the Senior Notes, if the distributions were counted in calculating the Consolidated Interest Expense or treated as a Restricted Payment.

We have issued and may continue to issue perpetual capital securities, see “Description of Material Indebtedness and Other Obligations.” Although there is no fixed due date for perpetual capital securities, the distribution rates for the perpetual capital securities may increase after a certain period of time or upon the occurrence of certain events as set out in the perpetual capital securities. In the event that we are unable to redeem the perpetual capital securities prior to the respective increases of the distribution rates, our costs relating to the distributions may rise. In addition, if there is close temporal proximity between the respective increases of the distribution rates, we will face additional risks relating to our indebtedness.

Any of these factors could materially and adversely affect our ability to satisfy our obligations under the Senior Notes and other indebtedness.

If we are unable to comply with the restrictions and covenants in our debt agreements, or the Senior Notes Indentures, there could be a default under the terms of these agreements, or the Senior Notes Indentures, which could cause repayment of our debt to be accelerated

If we are unable to comply with the restrictions and covenants in our debt agreements and our Senior Notes Indentures or our current or future debt obligations and other agreements, there could be a default under the terms of these agreements. In the event of a default under these agreements, the holders of the debt could terminate their commitments to lend to us, accelerate repayment of the debt and declare all outstanding amounts due and payable or terminate the agreements, as the case may be. Furthermore, some of our debt agreements, including the Senior Notes Indentures, contain cross-acceleration or cross-default provisions. As a result, our default under one debt agreement may cause the acceleration of repayment of not only such debt but also other debts, including the Senior Notes, or result in a default under our other debt agreements, including the Senior Notes Indentures. If any of these events occur, we cannot assure you that our assets and cash flow would be sufficient to repay in full all of our indebtedness, or that we would be able to find alternative financing. Even if we could obtain alternative financing, we cannot assure you that it would be on terms that are favorable or acceptable to us.

Our past revenue may not be indicative of future revenue due to deconsolidation of subsidiaries or change in our equity interests in joint ventures

We are directly or through our subsidiaries a party to several joint ventures, some of which are a significant part of the Company’s current and prospective revenue source. We may from time to time, deconsolidate our subsidiaries or dispose of our equity interests in our joint ventures. Investors should be aware that there is no guarantee that our revenue for any financial period after a deconsolidation or disposal will not further decrease as a result of such deconsolidation or disposal. We may in the future enter into additional joint ventures as a means of conducting our business. New joint ventures may need time to generate profits and to the extent that we are unable to generate sufficient profits from our existing business to cover our operating costs, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. We also may not fully control the operations or the assets of our joint ventures, nor can we unilaterally make major decisions with respect to such joint ventures. This constrains our ability to cause such joint ventures to take an action that would be in our best interests or refrain from taking an action that would be adverse to our interests. The loss of any joint venture or a change in the nature or terms of one or more of our joint ventures may have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Risks Relating to the Real Estate Industry in China

The PRC government may adopt further measures to balance growth in the property sector

Along with economic growth in China, investments in the property sectors have increased significantly in the past few years. In response to concerns over the increase in property investments, since 2004, the PRC government introduced various policies and measures to curtail property developments, including:

- requiring real estate developers to finance, with their internal resources, at least 30% of the total investment (excluding affordable housing projects and common commodity housing projects where the relevant threshold shall be 20%);
- limiting the monthly mortgage payment to 50% of an individual borrower's monthly income and limiting all monthly debt service payments of an individual borrower to 55% of his or her monthly income;
- suspending land supply for villa construction and restricting land supply for high-end residential property construction;
- requiring that at least 70% of the land supply approved by any local government for residential property development during any given year must be used for developing low- to medium-cost and small- to medium-size units for sale or as low-cost rental properties;
- requiring that at least 70% of the total development and construction area of residential projects approved or constructed on or after 1 June 2006 in any administrative jurisdiction must consist of units with a unit floor area of less than 90 sq.m. and that projects which have received project approvals prior to this date but have not obtained construction permits must adjust their planning in order to comply with this new requirement, with the exception that municipalities under direct administration of the PRC government and provincial capitals and certain cities may deviate from such ratio under special circumstances upon approval from the MOHURD;
- requiring any first-time home owner using housing reserves (住房公積金) to pay the minimum amount of down-payment at 20% of the purchase price of the underlying property if the underlying property has a unit floor area of less than 90 sq.m. and the purchaser is buying the property as a primary residence, or 30% of the purchase price if the underlying property has a unit floor area of larger than 90 sq.m.;
- requiring any second-time home buyer to pay an increased minimum amount of down payment of 60% of the purchase price of the underlying property and an increased minimum mortgage loan interest rate of no less than 110% of the relevant PBOC benchmark interest rate;
- for a commercial property buyer, (i) requiring banks not to finance any purchase of pre-sold properties, (ii) increasing the minimum amount of down payment to 50% of the purchase price of the underlying property, (iii) increasing the minimum mortgage loan interest rate to 110% of the relevant PBOC benchmark interest rate, and (iv) limiting the terms of such bank borrowings to no more than 10 years, with commercial banks allowed flexibility based on their risk assessment;
- for a buyer of commercial/residential dual-purpose properties, increasing the minimum amount of down payment to 45% of the purchase price of the underlying property, with the other terms similar to those for commercial properties;
- limiting the grant or extension of revolving credit facilities to property developers that hold a large amount of idle land and vacant commodity properties;

- imposing more restrictions on the types of property developments that foreign investments may engage in;
- imposing or increasing taxes on short-term gains from second-hand property sales;
- restricting foreign investment in the property sector by, among other things, increasing registered capital and other requirements for establishing foreign-invested real estate enterprises (FIREEs), tightening foreign exchange control and imposing restrictions on purchases of properties in China by foreigners;
- requiring commercial banks to suspend mortgage loans to customers for purchase of a third or further residential property, or to non-residents who cannot provide proof of local tax or social security insurance payments for more than a one-year period;
- regulating the benchmark one-year lending rate published by the PBOC, with the lending rate for the year ended 31 December 2020 being 3.85%;
- adjusting the PBOC Renminbi deposit reserve requirement ratio for all PRC deposit-taking financial institutions several times, with the ratio currently ranging from 9.5% to 11.5%;
- further increasing down payment ratios and interest rates for loans to purchase second properties in accordance with the price control policies and targets of the corresponding local governments for those cities with excessive growth in housing prices; and
- imposing individual income tax payable on the sales of owner-occupied houses at 20% of the transfer income.

Beginning in the second half of 2008, in order to mitigate the impact of the global economic slowdown, the PRC government adopted measures to encourage domestic consumption in the residential property market and support property development. However, in December 2009 and January 2010, the PRC government adjusted some policies in order to enhance the regulation of the property market, restrain property purchases for investment or speculation purposes and keep property prices from rising too quickly in certain regions and cities. At the same time, the PRC government abolished certain preferential treatments relating to business taxes payable upon transfers of residential properties by property owners and imposed more stringent requirements on the payment of land premiums by property developers. In addition, in April 2010 the PRC government identified certain policy measures to increase down payment for properties purchased with mortgage loans. In January 2011, the PRC government adopted certain new policies to cool down the real estate property market, including increasing the minimum down-payment to at least 60% of the total purchase price for second-house purchases with a minimum mortgage lending interest rate at least 1.1 times the benchmark rate, in certain targeted cities restricting purchasers from acquiring second (or further) residential properties and restricting non-residents that cannot provide any proof of local tax or social security payments for more than a specified time period from purchasing any residential properties, imposing property tax in certain cities and levying business tax on the full amount of transfer price if an individual owner transfers a residential property within five years of purchase. In addition, certain cities, including Guangzhou, Tianjin, Beijing, Shanghai, Suzhou, Qingdao, Chengdu, Foshan and Jinan, promulgated measures further limiting the number of residential properties one family is allowed to purchase. On 26 February 2013, the PRC government further adopted stricter policies for properties purchase, including increasing down payment ratios and interest rates for loans to purchase second properties for those cities with excessive growth in housing prices and imposing individual income tax at a rate of 20% from the sale of a self-owned property. In the third quarter of 2013, the minimum down payment was raised to 70% in several cities.

On 28 December 2020, PBOC and CBIRC jointly promulgated the December 2020 PBOC-CBIRC Notice, which requires a PRC financial institution (excluding its overseas branches), starting from 1 January 2021, to limit the ratio of its real estate loans and personal housing mortgage loans portfolio to its total RMB loan portfolio to a pre-determined ratio (the “Housing Loan Concentration Management” policy).

In late 2020, the PBOC and the MOHURD formulated the “Three Red Lines” policy to monitor the leverage ratio and regulate the abilities of the real estate enterprises to incur additional debt, with reference to certain modified liabilities to asset ratio, net gearing ratio and cash to short-term borrowing ratio. For more information, please see “—We may not always be able to obtain land reserves that are suitable for development.”

In February 2021, the Ministry of Natural Resources required 22 cities in a pilot program to implement the two-pronged policy on concentrating the housing land supply (the “Centralized Land Supply” policy). The cities are required to issue land assignment announcements no more than three times a year, in principle, and to organize land assignment activities in accordance with the relevant announcements. The 22 pilot cities include four first tier cities, Beijing, Shanghai, Guangzhou and Shenzhen, and 18 second tier cities, such as Hangzhou, Nanjing, Xiamen, Suzhou, Chongqing and Wuhan.

On 26 March 2021, the CBIRC, the MOHURD and the PBOC jointly promulgated the Notice on Preventing Loans for Business Purposes from Illegally flowing into the Real Estate Sector (《關於防止經營用途貸款違規流入房地產領域的通知》), which aims to prevent the proceeds of business loans to flow into the real estate sector through increasing the level of the supervision of the banks over business loans and strengthening the risk management capabilities of the originating banks in pre-loan client screening, post-loan monitoring, internal infrastructure and vetting of third-party vendors.

On 21 May 2021, the MOF, the Ministry of Natural Resources, the STA and the PBOC jointly issued the “Notice on Relevant Issues to Allocate the Tax Administrations to Collect Four Non-tax Governmental Revenues including State-owned Land Use Rights Grant Premiums, Mineral Resources Special Revenues, Sea Area Use Premiums and Uninhabited Islands Use Premiums” (關於將國有土地使用權出讓收入、礦產資源專項收入、海域使用金、無居民海島使用金四項政府非稅收入劃轉稅務部門徵收有關問題的通知) under which, the local branch of STA will be responsible for the collection of, among others, state-owned land use rights premiums. The pilot scheme has taken effect from 1 July 2021 in certain selected provinces and will be carried out nationwide from 1 January 2022.

More recently, on 13 July 2021, the MHURD, the NDRC, the Ministry of Natural Resources and other five departments jointly issued “the Notice on Continuous Rectification and Regulation of the Order of the Real Estate Market” (關於持續整治規範房地產市場秩序的通知), which requires all relevant governmental agencies to focus on, among others, the issues in real estate development, sales, leasing and property management, with an aim to significantly improve the market dynamics of the real estate market within three years.

We cannot assure you that the PRC government will not change or modify these temporary measures in the future. In addition, provincial, municipal and regional or local governments within the PRC may from time to time impose more stringent and/or permanent measures to slow growth in the property sector. Since 2016, the local governments of several cities in the PRC have implemented a series of measures designed to stabilize the growth of the property market on a more sustainable level. For more information on the various restrictive measures taken by the PRC government, see the section entitled “Regulations.” These measures may limit our access to capital resources, reduce market demand for our products and increase our operating costs in complying with these measures. We cannot assure you that the PRC government will not adopt additional and more stringent measures, including but not limited to rules that may restrict the annual increase of interest-bearing indebtedness, which could further slowdown property development in China and adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. The PRC government has implemented regulations replacing the current business tax regime, which is levied on the total revenue of a company, with a value-added tax system, which assesses increments of new value created by a company, for the real estate sector as part of China’s major overhaul of its tax structure. See “Risks Relating to the Business—The full-fledged levy of value added tax on revenues from a comprehensive list of service sectors, may subject our revenues to an average higher tax rate.” In addition, the PRC government may impose a countywide real estate tax in the future. We are not sure when or whether such tax reforms will be imposed and neither can we assess the adverse impact of such new tax policies on our business operations and financial results. If we fail to adapt our operations to such new policies, regulations and measures that may come into effect from time to time with respect to the real property industry, or such policy changes disrupt our business or cause us to incur additional costs, our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

The property industry in China is still at a relatively early stage of development, and there is a significant degree of uncertainty in the market as a whole

Private ownership of property in China is still at a relatively early stage of development. While demand for private residential property has been increasing rapidly, such increased demand has often been coupled with volatile market conditions and fluctuations in prices. Numerous factors may affect the development of the market and accordingly, it is very difficult to predict when and how much demand will develop. Limited availability of accurate financial and market information and the general low level of transparency in China contribute to overall uncertainty. Investors may be discouraged from acquiring new properties due to the lack of a liquid secondary market for residential properties. In addition, the limited amounts and types of mortgage financing available to individuals, together with the lack of long-term security of legal title and enforceability of property rights, may also inhibit demand for residential property. Finally, the risk of over-supply is increasing in parts of China where property investment, trading and speculation have become more active. If as a result of any one or more of these or similar factors, demand for residential property or market prices decline significantly, our business, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

Increasing competition in the PRC may adversely affect our business and financial condition

A large number of property developers undertake property development and investment projects. The intensity of competition among property developers for land, financing, raw materials and skilled management and labor resources may result in increased costs of land acquisition, construction or labor, a decrease in property prices and delays in the governmental approval process. An oversupply of properties available for sale could also depress the prices of the properties we sell and may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

In addition, the property markets in the PRC are rapidly changing. Macro-economic measures have been adopted by the PRC government in an attempt to slow the rapid growth of the PRC’s economy and deter investment in fixed assets, including real estate assets. If we cannot respond to changes in market conditions or customer preferences more swiftly or more effectively than our competitors, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be adversely affected.

We are exposed to contractual, legal and regulatory risks related to pre-sales

We depend on cash flows from pre-sales of properties as an important source of funding for our property developments. We face risks relating to the pre-sale of properties. For example, we may find ourselves liable to the purchasers for their losses if we pre-sell units in a property development and fail to complete that development. If we fail to complete a pre-sold property on time, our purchasers may claim compensation for late delivery pursuant to either their contracts with us or relevant PRC laws and regulations. If our delay extends beyond a specified period, our purchasers may terminate their pre-sale contracts and claim for compensation. A purchaser may also request that the contract be rescinded and that the money already paid to purchase the property be refunded, along with interest thereon, if the GFA of the relevant unit, as set out in the individual property ownership certificate, deviates by more than 3% from the GFA of that unit set out in his or her contract. We cannot assure you that we will not experience delays in the completion and delivery of our projects, or that the GFA for a delivered unit will not deviate by more than 3% from the GFA set out in the relevant contract in every instance. Any termination of the purchase contract as a result of our late delivery of properties or deviation from the GFA set out in such contract will have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Under current PRC laws and regulations, property developers must fulfill certain conditions before they can commence pre-sales of the relevant properties and pre-sales proceeds may only be used to finance the related development. Various PRC authorities and regulators have publicly called for the discontinuance or abolishment of pre-sales, or to impose tighter regulations on such practice. We cannot assure you that the PRC governmental authority will not ban the practice of pre-selling uncompleted properties or implement further restrictions on the pre-sale of properties, such as imposing additional conditions for a pre-sale permit or further restrictions on the use of pre-sale proceeds. Proceeds from the pre-sale of our properties are an important source of financing for our property developments. Consequently, any restriction on our ability to pre-sell our properties, including any increase in the amount of up-front expenditure we must incur prior to obtaining the pre-sale permit, would extend the time period required for recovery of our capital outlay and would result in our needing to seek alternative means to finance the various stages of our property developments. This, in turn, could have an adverse effect on our business, cash flow, financial condition and results of operations.

The total GFA of some of our developments may exceed the original permitted GFA and the excess GFA is subject to governmental approval and payment of additional land premium

The permitted total GFA for a particular development is set out in various governmental documents issued at various stages. In many cases, the underlying land grant contract will specify permitted total GFA. Total GFA is also set out in the relevant urban planning approvals and various construction permits. If constructed total GFA exceeds the permitted total GFA, or if the completed development contains built-up areas that the authorities believe do not conform to the approved plans as set out in relevant construction works planning permit, we may not be able to obtain the acceptance and compliance form of construction completion (竣工驗收備案表) for the development, and as a consequence, we would not be in a position to deliver individual units to purchasers or to recognize the related pre-sale proceeds as revenue. Moreover, excess GFA requires governmental approval and the payment of additional land premium.

We cannot assure you that constructed total GFA for each of our existing projects under development or any future property developments will not exceed permitted total GFA for that development, or that the authorities will not determine that all built-up areas conform to the plans approved as set out in the construction permit. Moreover, we cannot assure you that we would have sufficient funding to pay any required additional land premium or to pay for any corrective action that may be required in a timely manner, or at all. Any of these circumstances may materially and adversely affect our reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

Potential liability for environmental damages could result in substantial cost increases

We are subject to a variety of laws and regulations concerning the protection of health and the environment. The particular environmental laws and regulations that apply to any given project development site vary according to the site's location, the site's environmental condition, the present and former uses of the site and the nature and former uses of adjoining properties. Compliance with environmental laws and regulations may result in delays in development, substantial costs and may prohibit or severely restrict project development activity in environmentally sensitive regions or areas.

Under PRC laws and regulations, according to classified administration of environmental impact assessment for construction projects, we are required to submit an environmental impact assessment report or an environmental impact assessment statement or an environmental impact registration form to the relevant governmental authorities for approval or record-filing before commencing construction of any project. According to the Environmental Impact Assessment Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國環境影響評價法》) as amended on 2 July 2016 and 29 December 2018, the intensity of environmental supervision and law enforcement has increased. If a real estate developer required to submit an environmental impact assessment report or an environmental impact statement has not obtained the approval before commencement of the construction, severe punishment will be imposed on the developer, including a fine equal to 1% to 5% of the total investment amount of the project, and an order to restore the original conditions before the construction. In addition, the relevant environmental authorities have the right to conduct environmental inspections on any projects. Although the environmental inspections conducted by the relevant PRC environmental protection agencies to date have not revealed any environmental violations that we believe would have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations or financial condition, there may be potential material environmental liabilities of which we are unaware. In addition, our operations could result in environmental liabilities or our contractors could violate environmental laws and regulations in their operations that may be attributed to us. For more information, see the section entitled “Business—Environmental and Safety Matters.”

The construction business and the property development business are subject to claims under statutory quality warranties

Under Regulations on the Administration of Quality of Construction Works (建設工程質量管理條例), all property development companies in the PRC must provide certain quality warranties for the properties they construct or sell. We are required to provide these warranties to our customers. Generally, we receive quality warranties from our third-party contractors with respect to our development projects. If a significant number of claims are brought against us under our warranties and if we are unable to obtain reimbursement for such claims from third-party contractors in a timely manner or at all, or if the money retained by us to cover our payment obligations under the quality warranties is not sufficient, we could incur significant expenses to resolve such claims or face delays in correcting the related defects, which could in turn harm our reputation and have a material and adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Certain lenders under our PRC loan agreements are not licensed financial institutions Certain of our PRC subsidiaries have entered into loan agreements with lenders that are not licensed financial institutions. It is unclear under the PRC laws whether the lack of qualification of the lenders will render the loan agreements void or unenforceable. If such loan agreements are challenged by third parties and as a result rendered void and unenforceable, we may be forced to repay the relevant loans immediately and our liquidity may be materially and adversely affected. Our business and operations may be negatively impacted if we cannot obtain alternative financings at suitable costs or at all. Our reputation may also be adversely affected.

Risks Relating to China

Our business is subject to extensive governmental regulation and, in particular, we are susceptible to policy changes in the PRC property sector

Our business is subject to extensive governmental regulation and the macroeconomic control measures implemented by the PRC government from time to time. As with other PRC property developers, we must comply with various requirements mandated by the PRC laws and regulations, including the policies and procedures established by local authorities designated to implement such laws and regulations. In particular, the PRC government exerts considerable direct and indirect influence on the development of the PRC property sector by imposing industry policies and other economic measures, such as control over the supply of land for property development, control of foreign exchange, property financing, taxation and foreign investment. Through these policies and measures, the PRC government may restrict or reduce land available for property development, raise benchmark interest rates of commercial banks, place additional limitations on the ability of commercial banks to make loans to property developers and property purchasers, impose additional taxes and levies on property sales and restrict foreign investment in the PRC property sector. In November 2010, the PRC Ministry of Commerce (“MOFCOM”) promulgated the Notice on Strengthening Administration of the Approval and Registration of Foreign Investment into Real Estate Industry (關於加強外商投資房地產業審批備案管理的通知), which provides that, among other things, in the case that a real estate enterprise is established in China with overseas capital, it is prohibited to purchase and/or sell real estate properties completed or under construction for arbitrage purposes. The local MOFCOM authorities are not permitted to approve investment companies to engage in the real estate development and management. Restrictions imposed by the PRC government on foreign investment in the property sector may affect our ability to make further investments in our PRC subsidiaries and, as a result, may limit our business growth and have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The PRC government has announced a series of other measures designed to stabilize the growth of the PRC economy and to stabilize the growth of specific sectors in the past several years, including the property market, to a more sustainable level.

- On 17 April 2010, the State Council issued the Notice on Resolutely Curbing the Rapid Rising of the House Price in Certain Cities (Guofa (2010) No. 10) (國務院關於堅決遏制部分城市房價過快上漲的通知), which stipulated that the down payment for the first property bought with mortgage loans that is larger than 90 sq.m. shall be not less than 30% of the purchase price, down payment for the second property bought with mortgage loans shall be not less than 50% of the purchase price and the loan interest rate shall be not lower than 110% of the benchmark lending rate published by the PBOC. In certain areas where commodity residential properties are in short supply and prices rise too quickly, the banks may suspend mortgage loans for the third or further properties bought by mortgage applicants or to non-residents who cannot provide any proof of tax or social insurance payment for more than one year.
- On 30 April 2010, the Beijing Municipal Government issued the Circular on Implementation of the Notice on Resolutely Curbing the Rapid Rising of Property Prices in Some Cities by the State Council (北京市人民政府貫徹落實國務院關於堅決遏制部分城市房價上漲文件的通知), under which one household is allowed to purchase only one new residential unit in Beijing.
- On 18 May 2010, the Guangzhou Municipal Government issued the Opinion on the Implementation of the Notice on Resolutely Curbing the Rapid Rising of the House Price in Certain Cities by the State Council (關於貫徹落實國務院關於堅決遏制部分城市房價過快上漲的通知精神努力實現住有所居的意見), which reiterates and specifies the above regulations by the State Council.
- On 19 May 2010, SAT issued the Circular on Settlement of Land Appreciation Tax (關於土地增值稅清算有關問題的通知) to clarify and strengthen the settlement of LAT. Furthermore, on 25 May 2010, SAT issued the Notice on Strengthening the Collection of Land Appreciation Tax (關於加強土地增值稅徵管工作的通知), which requires that the minimum prepayment rate shall be 2% for provinces in the eastern region, 1.5% for provinces in the central and northeastern regions, and 1% for provinces in the western region. If the LAT is calculated based on the authorized taxation method (核定徵收), the minimum taxation rate shall be 5% in principle. For more details, see “Regulations—Land Appreciation Tax.”
- On 26 May 2010, MOHURD, the PBOC, and CBRC jointly issued the Circular on Standardizing the Assessing Criteria of the Second Home for Personal Mortgage Loans (關於規範商業性個人住房貸款中第二套住房認定標準的通知), under which a stricter standard will be adopted in assessing whether a house to be bought is a second home when granting mortgage loans. The new standard will be based on property ownership, not mortgage history, and the unit for the number of the houses will be determined in terms of family (including the borrower, his spouse and minor children), rather than individuals. Home buyers are required to provide a registration record from the local housing registration system when applying for mortgage loans. If it is impossible to check the purchasing record, loan applicants are required to submit a certification listing the number of homes owed by the applicant’s family. The banks will examine both the number of the homes owned by the applicant’s family and the applicant’s previous mortgage and purchasing record in order to counter speculative activities. The banks will define a loan applicant as a second-home buyer as long as the applicant has taken out a mortgage loan previously, or his family has a home ownership record in the housing registration system, or it is confirmed that his family has owned a property based on due diligence.

- On 21 September 2010, the Ministry of Land and Resources and MOHURD jointly promulgated the Notice on Further Strengthening the Administration and Control of the Lands for Real Estates and the Construction of Real Estates (關於進一步加強房地產用地和建設管理調控的通知) to tighten the examination of qualifications of land bidders.
- On 29 September 2010, the PBOC and CBRC jointly issued the Circular on Issues Concerning Improving Differentiated Housing Loan Policies (關於完善差別化住房信貸政策有關問題的通知), which raised the minimum down payment to 30% for all first home purchase with mortgage loans, and stipulates that for any family that uses loans to buy a second home, the down payment ratio shall not be lower than 50% and loan interest rate shall not be lower than 1.1 times the benchmark loan interest rate, and all commercial banks shall suspend issuing housing loans to home buyers whose family members already own two or more housing properties and to non-local residents who cannot provide evidence showing that they have paid taxes or social insurance contributions for more than one year.
- On 2 November 2010, the Ministry of Finance, MOHURD, CBRC and the PBOC jointly issued the Circular on Issues Concerning Policies on Regulation of Personal Housing Provident Fund Loan (關於規範住房公積金個人住房貸款政策有關問題的通知), which provides that where personal housing provident fund loan is used to buy the first ordinary self-use house and the floor area of the house is no more than 90 sq.m., the down payment proportion shall not be lower than 20%; where the floor area of the house is more than 90, the down payment proportion shall not be lower than 30%. Only the housing provident fund-paying families whose floor area per capita is less than local average shall have access to personal housing provident fund loan which is used to buy the second house, and the loan shall be used to buy ordinary self-use house so as to improve dwelling conditions. Where the personal housing provident fund loan is used to buy the second house, the down payment proportion shall not be lower than 50%, and the interest rate of such loan shall not be less than 1.1 times of the interest rate of the personal housing provident fund loan for the purchase of the first house. Personal housing provident fund loan for the purchase of a third or more houses by housing provident fund-paying families shall be suspended.
- On 26 January 2011, the General Office of the State Council issued the Notice concerning Further Strengthening the Macroeconomic Control of the Real Property Market (進一步做好房地產市場調控工作有關問題的通知), which, among other things, raised the minimum down payment for second house purchases from 50% to 60%, with the minimum lending interest rate at 110% of the benchmark rate. Furthermore, many cities have promulgated measures to restrict the number of houses one family is allowed to newly purchase in order to implement the aforesaid notice, such as Guangzhou, Tianjin, Beijing, Shanghai, Suzhou, Qingdao, Jinan, Chengdu and Foshan. In order to implement the PRC government's requirement, other cities in China where our property projects are located may also issue similar restrictive measures in the near future, which may impose adverse effects on our business.
- The State Council also approved, on a trial basis, the launch of a new property tax scheme in selected cities. The detailed measures will be formulated by the governments of the pilot provinces, autonomous regions or municipalities directly under the PRC government. On 27 January 2011, the governments of Shanghai and Chongqing issued their respective measures for implementing pilot property tax schemes, which became effective on 28 January 2011. These two governments may issue additional measures to tighten the levy of property tax. It is also expected that more local governments will follow Shanghai and Chongqing in imposing property tax on commodity properties. The imposition of property tax on commodity properties will increase the purchasing cost of properties and is expected to have a negative impact on demand for properties in China, which in turn could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. We cannot assure you that property development and investment activities will continue at past levels or that there will not be an economic downturn in the property markets in the regions and cities where we operate.

- On 8 March 2011, the General Office of CBRC issued the Notice on Promoting Housing Financial Services and Strengthening Risk Management (中國銀監會辦公廳關於做好住房金融服務加強風險管理的通知), which stipulates that in handling the individual housing loan business, financial institutions must strictly implement the provision that, with respect to families that purchase second residential properties through a loan, the down payment may not be less than 60%, and the loan interest rate may not be less than 1.1 times the benchmark rate.
- On 12 July 2011, the State Council announced the PRC government's intention to impose austerity measures on second and third-tier cities. The State Council ordered the Ministry of Construction to compile a list of the specific second and third-tier cities that will be affected by the austerity measures. If austerity measures on second and third-tier cities are implemented, particularly in second and third-tier cities where we have property projects or plan to have property projects, our business, financial condition and operating results may be materially and adversely affected.
- On 19 July 2012, the Ministry of Land and Resources and the MOHURD jointly issued the Urgent Notice to Further Tighten Real Property Land Administration and Consolidate the Regulation of the Real Property Market (關於進一步嚴格房地產用地管理鞏固房地產市場調控成果的緊急通知) to strengthen the enforcement of macroeconomic policy in the real property market. In accordance with the notice, local governments must strictly implement the macroeconomic control policies for the real property market and must secure the supply of residential land, especially land used for development of government-subsidized residential units. Residential construction projects must commence within one year of the delivery date of the land title, which is stipulated in the land allocation decision or land grant contract, and must be completed within three years of the date of commencement of the project.
- On 6 September 2012, the Ministry of Land and Resources promulgated the Notice on Strictly Implementing Land Use Standard and Vigorously Promoting Economical Intensive Land Use (關於嚴格執行土地使用標準大力促進節約集約用地的通知) which became invalid on 29 November 2017 and stipulated that land use standards shall be strictly implemented and continuously improved in accordance with the principle of economical intensive land use.
- On 26 February 2013, the General Office of the State Council issued the Notice on Continuing to Effectively Regulate the Real Estate Market (繼續做好房地產市場調控工作的通知), requiring certain related cities to fine-tune the existing house purchase restrictions on the basis of strict compliance with the Notice of the General Office of the State Council on Further Improving the Regulation of the Real Estate Market (Guo Ban Fa [2011] No. 1) (國務院辦公廳關於進一步做好房地產市場調控工作有關問題的通知) 國辦發[2011] 1號), which includes, among others: (i) all administrative regions of a city subject to purchase restrictions shall be covered under such restrictions, while the types of houses subject to purchase restrictions shall include all newly-constructed commercial housing and second-hand housing. The house purchase eligibility shall be examined before the conclusion of a house purchase contract (or a letter of purchase intent). For the time being, houses within the administrative regions of a city shall not be sold to a family without local household register that already owns one or more houses, and a family without local household register that is unable to provide proofs for a certain number of consecutive years of local tax payment or social insurance contribution; (ii) with regard to cities with soaring housing prices, the local branches of the People's Bank of China, may further raise the enforcing percentage of the minimum down payment (which shall not be lower than 60%) and loan interest rates which shall not be lower than 1.1 times of the benchmark interest rate for the second-home purchases, according to policy requirements and the price control targets determined by the local people's governments for newly-constructed commercial housing; and (iii) tax authorities shall levy individual income tax payable on the sales of owner-occupied houses at 20% of the transfer income in strict compliance with the law if the original value of the houses sold can be verified through historical information such as tax collection and administration, house registration, etc.

- In addition, since late 2010 certain local governments, including those in Shenzhen, Foshan, Guangzhou, Hangzhou, Shanghai, Shenyang and Wuhan, have also implemented local regulatory and austerity measures affecting our industry. If local regulatory and austerity measures continue and/or are expanded in scope or to more localities where we have property projects or plan to have property projects, our business, financial condition and operating results may be materially and adversely affected.

While there was a time from 2014 to 2015 when the PRC government had previously loosened control over the real property market in the PRC by implementing various real estate easing policies, it has pivoted to tightening policies such as housing purchase restrictions since September 2016.

- On 5 March 2014, the annual report published by the PRC government's State Council stated that different cities should have different housing policies, the government will promote supply of small- and medium-sized commercial residential buildings, control speculative demands, and promote healthy development of the real estate market in the PRC. After several years of referring to controlling policies and suppressing the rising housing prices, this was the first year that such language was not included in the report.
- On 27 June 2014, the purchasing limit policy for Hohhot was officially cancelled. On 28 August 2014, the purchasing limit policy for Hangzhou was also cancelled. Other cities in China gradually followed and cancelled such policies.
- On 29 September 2014, the PBOC and CBRC jointly issued the Notice on Further Improving Housing Financial Services (關於進一步做好住房金融服務工作的通知). According to such Notice, if a household that owns an existing property for which the property purchase loan has been paid off applies for a new loan to purchase another ordinary commodity housing, policies applicable will be those which were applicable to the first owner-occupied property. In addition, if a household borrows a loan to purchase the first ordinary owner-occupied residential property, the minimum down payment ratio of the loan shall be 30% of the total price, and the interest rate of the loan shall be at least 0.7 times the benchmark lending rate.
- On 9 October 2014, the MOHURD, the Ministry of Finance and the PBOC jointly issued the Notice on Promoting the Personal Housing Accumulation Fund Loans (關於發展住房公積金個人住房貸款業務的通知). The Notice requires financial institutions to loosen the conditions for applying for personal housing accumulation fund loans and employees who have been paying such accumulation for a period of six consecutive months may apply for such loans. Also, accumulation payment in one location can be acknowledged in another location and employees may continue accumulation payment after moving to a new location. Furthermore, some banking fees are no longer applicable for such loans. The Notice also enhances support for households purchasing property for the first time.
- On 25 March 2015, the Ministry of Land and Resources and the MOHURD jointly issued the "Notice on Optimizing Housing and Land Supply Structure and Promoting the Steady and Healthy Development of Real Estate Market" (關於優化2015年住房及用地供應結構促進房地產市場平穩健康發展的通知), designed to ensure the balance between market supply and demand and to require that the size of housing land be determined according to the specific local conditions. For cities and counties that obviously have a much larger supply, housing land supply should be reduced and controlled to optimize its size and structure and accelerate de-stocking.

- On 30 March 2015, the Notice of the People’s Bank of China, the MOHURD and the China Banking Regulatory Commission on Matters concerning Individual Housing Loan Policies (中國人民銀行、住房城鄉建設部、中國銀行業監督管理委員會關於個人住房貸款政策有關問題的通知) was promulgated, according to which, when a household, which has already owned a home and has not paid off the relevant housing loan, applies for another commercial personal housing loan to purchase another ordinary housing property for the purpose of improving living conditions, the minimum down payment is adjusted to 40%. For working households that have contributed to the Housing Provident Fund (“HPT”), when they use the HPT loans to purchase an ordinary residential house as their first home, the minimum down payment shall be 20% of the house price; for working households that have contributed to the HPT and that have already owned a home and have paid off the corresponding home loans, when they apply, for the second time, for the HPT loans for the purchase of an ordinary residential house as their second home in the interest of improving their housing conditions, the minimum down payment shall be 30% of the house price. After the promulgation, banks of various provinces have lowered the minimum down payment accordingly for households that apply for loans to purchase a second ordinary residential house as their second home.
- On 30 March 2015, the Notice of the Ministry of Finance and the State Administration of Taxation on Adjusting the Business Tax Policies Concerning Transfer of Individual Housing (財政部、國家稅務總局關於調整個人住房轉讓營業稅政策的通知) was promulgated, which became effective on 31 March 2015. According to this notice, the sale of an ordinary residential house by an individual who purchased the same house more than two years (inclusive) ago shall be exempted from business tax. The exemption period is shortened from five years to two years to further stimulate the circulation of second-hand housing and stimulate the market.
- On 1 February 2016, the PBOC and CBRC jointly issued the Notice on the Adjustment of Individual Housing Loans Policies (關於調整個人住房貸款政策有關問題的通知) which provides that in cities where property purchase control measures are not being implemented, the minimum down payment ratio for a personal housing commercial loan obtained by a household for purchasing its first ordinary residential property is, in principle, 25% of the property price, which can be adjusted downward by 5% by local authorities. For existing residential property household owners which have not fully repaid the previous loan and are obtaining further personal housing commercial loan to purchase an additional ordinary residential property for the purpose of improving living conditions, the minimum down payment ratio shall be not less than 30% which is lower than the previous requirement of not less than 40%.
- Since September 2016, certain local governments issued notices to resume implementing housing purchase restriction measures for the purpose of the sustainable development of the local real estate market.
- On 5 March 2017, the annual report published by the PRC government’s State Council proposed that the state should better regulate the real estate market to keep property prices from rising too quickly in popular cities. The measures to be taken should be in accordance with local conditions. For example, cities that are under greater pressure from rising property prices need to increase as appropriate the supply of land for residential use. In addition, policies such as housing purchase restrictions, loans restrictions and price restrictions which are frequently used by local governments, including those in the first, second and third tier cities, have been implemented to promote the steady and healthy development of the real estate market.

In May 2018, the MOHURD issued the Notice on Further Improving the Relevant Issues Concerning the Regulation and Control of the Real Estate Market (《關於進一步做好房地產市場調控工作有關問題的通知》). In order to promote the stable and healthy development of the real estate market, the provincial departments of housing and urban-rural development are required to: (1) adhere to the goal of regulation and control without wavering and do not loosen; (2) accelerate the formulation and implementation of housing development plans; (3) adjust the housing and land supply structure; (4) strengthen management and control of funds; (5) vigorously rectify and regulate the order of the real estate market; (6) strengthen the guidance of public opinion and the management of expectation; and (7) further implement the responsibility of local regulation subjects.

In order to stabilize the real estate market and control housing prices, in addition to the previously adopted restriction policies on housing purchase quantity and loans, the Chinese government also implemented regulatory restriction policies on purchase price and signing commercial housing contracts of sales in some cities from the second half of 2017 to 2019, such as Beijing, Shanghai, Hangzhou and Guangzhou.

Since 2020, the central government has adopted and implement additional regulations targeting the real estate sector for the purpose of stabilizing land price, housing price and market expectation, which includes, among others: (i) the “Three Red Lines” policy to restrain the ability of real estate enterprises to aggressively expand using leverage, (ii) the “Housing Loan Concentration Management” policy to restrict the availability of real estate mortgage loans, and (iii) the “Centralized Land Supply” policy to increase competition in the land supply market. Many of the property industry policies carried out by the PRC government are unprecedented and are expected to be amended and revised over time. Other political, economic and social factors may also lead to further adjustments and changes of such policies. We cannot assure you that the PRC government will not adopt additional and more stringent industry policies, regulations and measures in the future, nor can we assure you when or whether the existing policies will be eased or reversed. If we fail to adapt our operations to new policies, regulations and measures that may come into effect from time to time with respect to the real property industry, or such policy changes disrupt our business, reduce our sales or average selling prices, or cause us to incur additional costs, our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected. The PRC government may further introduce initiatives which may affect our access to capital and the means in which we may finance our property development. In particular, negative reports or incidents relating to developers running into difficulties on repayment and operations could prompt the PRC government to further tighten restrictions on PRC property developers, which could have a material adverse impact on our business and operations.

See “—Risks Relating to the Real Estate Industry in China—The PRC government may adopt further measures to slow down growth in the property sector” for more risks and uncertainties relating to the extensive PRC regulations.

Changes in PRC economic, political and social conditions, as well as governmental policies, could have a material adverse effect on our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations

Substantially all of our business and operations are conducted in China. Accordingly, our business, prospects, financial conditions and results of operation are, to a significant degree, subject to economic, political and social developments in China. The PRC economy differs from the economies of most of the developed countries in many aspects, including:

- the amount and degree of the PRC government involvement;
- growth rate and degree of development;
- uniformity in the implementation and enforcement of laws;
- content of and control over capital investment;
- control of foreign exchange; and
- allocation of resources.

The PRC economy has been transitioning from a centrally planned economy to a more market-oriented economy. For approximately three decades, the PRC government has implemented economic reform measures to utilize market forces in the development of the PRC economy. However, a substantial portion of productive assets in China is still owned by the PRC government. In addition, the PRC government continues to play a significant role in regulating industries and the economy by imposing industrial policies. We cannot predict whether changes in PRC economic, political or social conditions and in PRC laws, regulations and policies will have any adverse effect on our current or future business, financial condition or results of operations.

In May 2017, Moody's Investors Service downgraded China's sovereign credit rating for the first time since 1989 and changed its outlook from stable to negative, citing concerns on the country's rising levels of debt and expectations of slower economic growth. In September 2017, S&P Global Ratings downgraded China's sovereign credit rating for the first time since 1999, citing similar concerns. The full impact of such actions by international rating agencies remains to be seen, but the perceived weaknesses in China's economic development model, if proven and left unchecked, would have profound implications. If China's economic conditions worsen, or if the banking and financial systems experience difficulties from over-indebtedness, businesses in China may face a more challenging operating environment.

In addition, many of the economic reforms carried out by the PRC government are unprecedented or experimental and are expected to be refined and improved over time. Other political, economic and social factors may also lead to further adjustments of the reform measures. The PRC government exercises significant control over China's economic growth through allocation of resources, controlling payment of foreign currency denominated obligations, setting monetary policy and providing preferential treatment to particular industries or companies. Certain measures taken by the PRC government to guide the allocation of resources may benefit the overall economy of China but may, however, also have a negative effect on us. For example, our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operations may be adversely affected by government control over capital investments, changes in tax regulations that are applicable to us, change in interest rates and statutory reserve rates for banks or government control in bank lending activities. Also, the PRC government has in the past implemented a number of measures intended to slow down certain segments of the economy that the government believed to be overheating, including the real estate industry. These measures have included restricting foreign investment in certain sectors of the real estate industry, raising benchmark interest rates of commercial banks, reducing currency supply and placing additional limitations on the ability of commercial banks to make loans by raising bank reserves against deposits and raising the thresholds and minimum loan interest rates for residential mortgages. These actions, as well as future actions and policies of the PRC government, could cause a decrease in the overall level of economic activity, and in turn have a material and adverse impact on our business and financial condition.

Any failure to complete the relevant filings with NDRC within the prescribed time frame following the completion of the issue of the Bonds may have adverse consequences for us and/or the investors of the Bonds

NDRC issued the NDRC Notice on 14 September 2015, which came into effect on the same day. According to the NDRC Notice, domestic enterprises and their overseas controlled entities are required to procure the filing and registration of any debt securities issued outside of the PRC with NDRC prior to the issue of the securities and to submit issuance information to the NDRC within 10 working days after each issue is completed. We have completed the registration with the NDRC and obtained a registration certificate on 7 April 2021. The NDRC Notice is silent on the legal consequences of non-compliance with the post-issue notification requirement under the NDRC Notice. If we do not report the post issuance information with respect to the Bonds within the timeframe as provided under the NDRC Notice, the NDRC may impose sanctions or other administrative procedures on us, which may have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition or results of operations. In addition, such non-compliance with the post issuance notification requirement under the NDRC Notice could result in our failure to comply with any of our obligations under the Bonds and the Bonds might be subject to enforcement as provided in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds, if we fail to remedy in time in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds.

Changes in governmental control of currency conversion and in PRC foreign exchange regulations may adversely affect our business operations

The PRC government imposes controls on the convertibility between Renminbi and foreign currencies and the remittance of foreign currencies out of China. A substantial portion of our revenue is denominated in Renminbi. Under our current corporate structure, our income is primarily derived from dividend payments from our PRC subsidiaries. Our PRC subsidiaries must convert their Renminbi earnings into foreign currency before they may pay cash dividends to us or service their foreign currency denominated obligations. Under existing PRC foreign exchange regulations, payments of current-account items may be made in foreign currencies without prior approval from the State Administration of Foreign Exchange (“SAFE”) by complying with certain procedural requirements.

However, approval from appropriate governmental authorities is required when Renminbi is converted into foreign currencies and remitted out of China for capital-account transactions, such as the repatriation of equity investment in China and the repayment of the principal of loans denominated in foreign currencies. Such restrictions on foreign exchange transactions under capital accounts also affect our ability to finance our PRC subsidiaries. Subsequent to the issuance of Bonds, we have the choice, as permitted by the PRC foreign investment regulations, to invest our net proceeds (if any) from the issuance of Bonds in the form of registered capital or a shareholder loan into our PRC subsidiaries to finance our operations in China. Our choice of investment is affected by the relevant PRC regulations with respect to capital-account and current-account foreign exchange transactions in China. Our investment decisions are additionally affected by various other measures taken by the PRC government relating to the PRC property market. In addition, our transfer of funds to our subsidiaries in China is subject to approval by PRC governmental authorities in the case of an increase in registered capital as long as the special market entry management measures prescribed by the State (國家規定實施准入特別管理措施) are involved or the projects are listed in the Catalog of Investment Projects Subject to Government Verification and Approval (2016 Version) (項目列入(政府核准的投資項目目錄(2016年本))), and subject to approval by and registration with PRC governmental authorities in case of shareholder loans to the extent that the existing foreign investment approvals or record-filings received by our PRC subsidiaries permit any such shareholder loans at all. The Foreign Investment Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國外商投資法》) (“Foreign Investment Law”), which became effective on 1 January 2020, has changed the regulatory requirements with respect to transferring funds to our PRC subsidiaries or financing their operations through shareholders’ loans or capital contributions. Even though foreign investment and financing in the PRC have become more convenient and liberalized under the Foreign Investment Law, there is no guarantee that we will be able to obtain any government permits as requested by the relevant authorities on a timely basis, or at all. If we fail to receive such approvals, our ability to provide loans or capital contributions to our PRC operating subsidiaries may be negatively affected. These limitations on the flow of funds between us and our PRC subsidiaries could restrict our ability to act in response to changing market conditions.

Our income tax obligations have increased, dividends from our PRC subsidiaries are currently subject to withholding tax under PRC tax laws and we may be subject to PRC tax under the Enterprise Income Tax Law

In March 2007, the National People’s Congress of the PRC and its Standing Committee (the “NPC” or the “National People’s Congress”) enacted the Enterprise Income Tax Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國企業所得稅法》) (the “Enterprise Tax Law”), which was amended on 24 February 2017 and 29 December 2018. The Enterprise Tax Law imposes a unified income tax rate of 25% on all domestic and foreign-invested enterprises unless they qualify under certain limited exceptions. According to the Enterprise Tax Law, enterprises that were previously subject to an enterprise income tax (the “EIT”) rate lower than 25% may continue to enjoy the lower rate and gradually transition to the new tax rate within five years after 1 January 2008. For example, companies established in Shenzhen Special Economic Zone were subject to PRC enterprise income tax at a rate of 15% before 1 January 2008 and allowed an extension period of five years to phase into the new tax regime until the end of 2013, after which the unified 25% tax rate has been imposed. For the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020, and six months ended 30 June 2021, we made provisions for enterprise income tax of RMB1,640 million, RMB1,993 million, RMB1,646 million (U.S.$255 million) and RMB1,247 million (U.S.$193 million), respectively.

We are a holding company that is financially dependent on distributions from our subsidiaries and our business operations are principally conducted through our PRC subsidiaries. Prior to 31 December 2007, dividend payments to foreign investors made by foreign-invested enterprises, such as dividends paid to us by our PRC subsidiaries, were exempt from PRC withholding tax. The Enterprise Tax Law and the Regulations for Implementation of Enterprise Income Tax Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國企業所得稅法實施條例》) (together with the Enterprise Tax Law, the “Enterprise Tax Laws”), effective on 1 January 2008 and amended on 23 April 2019, provide that any dividend payment to foreign investors is subject to a withholding tax at a rate of 10%. Pursuant to the Arrangement between mainland China and Hong Kong for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with respect to Taxes on Income (《內地和香港特別行政區關於對所得避免雙重徵稅和防止偷漏稅的安排》) signed on 21 August 2006, a company incorporated in Hong Kong may be subject to withholding income tax at a rate of 5% on dividends it receives from its PRC subsidiaries if it holds a 25% or more interest in that particular PRC subsidiary at the time of the distribution, or 10% if it holds less than a 25% interest in that subsidiary, although there is uncertainty under a SAT circular regarding whether intermediate Hong Kong holding companies will be eligible for benefits under this arrangement. According to the Announcement of the State Administration of Taxation on Issues Relating to “Beneficial Owner” in Tax Treaties (《國家稅務總局關於稅收協定中「受益所有人」有關問題的公告》) promulgated by SAT on 3 February 2018 and became effective on 1 April 2018, it made a definition on “beneficial owners,” and introduced various factors to adversely impact the recognition of such “beneficial owners.”

In addition, under the Enterprise Tax Laws, enterprises established under the laws of jurisdictions outside China with their “de facto management bodies” located within China may be considered PRC resident enterprises and therefore subject to the Enterprise Tax Law at the rate of 25% on their worldwide income. The Enterprise Tax Laws provide that the “de facto management body” of an enterprise is the organization that exercises substantial and overall management and control over the production, employees, books of accounts and properties of the enterprise. If a majority of the members of our management team continue to be located in China, we may be considered a PRC resident enterprise and therefore subject to the Enterprise Tax Law at the rate of 25% on our worldwide taxable income. It is not entirely clear whether the worldwide taxable income of a non-PRC enterprise that is treated as a resident enterprise will include dividends from PRC subsidiaries. If we or any of our non-PRC subsidiaries are or become a PRC resident enterprise under the Enterprise Tax Laws, our profitability and cash flow may be materially and adversely affected.

Interest and other amounts paid by us to our foreign investors may be subject to withholding taxes and gain on the sale or exchange of our Bonds may be subject to tax under PRC tax laws

Under the Enterprise Tax Laws, if our Company is deemed a PRC resident enterprise, interest and other amounts paid on the Bonds may be considered to be sourced within China. In that case, PRC income tax at the rate of 10% will be withheld from income paid by us to investors that are “non-resident enterprises” so long as such “non-resident enterprise” investors do not have an establishment or place of business in China or, if despite the existence of such establishment or place of business in China, the relevant income is not effectively connected with such establishment or place of business in China. Any gain realized on the transfer of the Bonds by such investors may be subject to a 10% PRC income tax if we are treated as a PRC resident enterprise and such gain is regarded as income derived from sources within China. In the case of individual holders of Bonds the taxes described above may be imposed at a rate of 20%. It is uncertain whether we will be considered a PRC “resident enterprise”. We currently do not believe we are a PRC resident enterprise. However, if we are required under the Enterprise Tax Laws to withhold PRC income tax on our interest or principal paid to our foreign holders of Bonds, we will be required (subject to certain exceptions) to pay such additional amounts as will result in receipt by the holders of such amounts as would have been received by them had no such withholding been required. The requirement to pay additional amounts will increase the cost of servicing payments on the Bonds, and could have a material adverse effect on our ability to pay interest, and repay the principal amount of the Bonds, as well as our profitability and cash flow. In addition, if you are required to pay PRC income tax on the transfer of our Bonds, the value of your investment may be materially and adversely affected. It is unclear whether, if we are considered a PRC “resident enterprise,” holders of our Bonds might be able to claim the benefit of income tax treaties or agreements entered into between China and other countries or areas.

PRC regulations relating to the establishment of offshore special purpose companies by PRC residents may adversely affect our business operations

On 4 July 2014, the SAFE promulgated the Notice of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on the Administration of Foreign Exchange Involved in Overseas Investment, Financing and Return on Investment Conducted by Residents in China via Special-Purpose Companies (國家外匯管理局關於境內居民通過特殊目的公司境外投融資及返程投資外匯管理有關問題的通知), which stipulates that, among other measures: (i) prior to making a contribution to special purpose companies (“SPC,” referring to the overseas enterprises that are directly established or indirectly controlled for the purpose of investment and financing by PRC residents (including PRC institutions and resident individuals) with their legitimate holdings of the assets or interests in PRC enterprises, or their legitimate holdings of overseas assets or interests) with legitimate holdings of domestic or overseas assets or interests, a PRC resident shall apply to the relevant Foreign Exchange Bureau for foreign exchange registration of overseas investment; (ii) where a registered overseas SPC experiences changes of its PRC resident individual shareholder, its name, operating period or other basic information, or experiences changes of material matters, such as the increase or reduction of contribution by the PRC resident individual, the transfer or replacement of equity, or merger or division, the PRC resident shall promptly change the foreign exchange registration of overseas investment with the Foreign Exchange Bureau concerned. The PRC resident may proceed with subsequent business (including the repatriation of profits and bonuses) only after completing the change of the foreign exchange registration of overseas investment; (iii) after a SPC has completed overseas financing, if the funds raised are repatriated to the PRC for use, relevant Chinese provisions on foreign investment and external debt management shall be complied with. The foreign-invested enterprise established as a result of round-trip investment shall go through relevant foreign exchange registration pursuant to the prevailing provisions on the foreign exchange administration of foreign direct investment, and truthfully disclose the actual controllers of its shareholders and other relevant information; (iv) cross-border receipts and payments between a PRC resident and an overseas SPC shall be subject to the declaration of balance of payments statistics pursuant to prevailing provisions; and (v) any acts in violation of the provisions hereof shall be subject to the punishment imposed by the SAFE according to relevant provisions of the Regulations of the People’s Republic of China on foreign exchange control.

If the SAFE promulgates clarifications or regulations in the future requiring our beneficial owners who are Hong Kong permanent residents to comply with the registration procedures and update requirements described above and if our beneficial owners are unable or fail to comply with such procedures, our beneficial owners may be subject to fines and legal sanctions and our business operations may also be materially and adversely affected, particularly with respect to the ability of our Chinese subsidiaries to remit foreign currency payments out of China.

Our operations and financial performance could be adversely affected by labor shortages, increase in labor costs, changes to the PRC labor-related laws and regulations or labor disputes

The PRC Labor Contract Law, which became effective on 1 January 2008 and amended on 28 December 2012, imposes greater liabilities on employers and significantly affects the cost of an employer’s decision to reduce its workforce. Further, it requires certain terminations to be based upon seniority and not merit. In the event we decide to significantly change or decrease our workforce, the PRC Labor Contract Law could adversely affect our ability to effect such changes in the most cost-effective or timely manner to our business, hence may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. In addition, the PRC government has continued to introduce various new labor-related regulations after the promulgation of the PRC Labor Contract Law. Among other things, the paid annual leave provisions require that paid annual leaves ranging from five to fifteen days be available to nearly all employees and further require that employers compensate an employee for any annual leave days the employee is unable to take in the amount of three times of such employee’s daily salary, subject to certain exceptions.

On 28 October 2010, the Standing Committee of the NPC promulgated the Social Insurance Law, which became effective on 1 July 2011 and amended on 29 December 2018, to clarify the contents of the social insurance system in China. According to the Social Insurance Law, employees will participate in pension insurance, work-related injury insurance, medical insurance, unemployment insurance and maternity insurance and the employers must, together with their employees or separately, pay for the social insurance premiums for such employees.

As a result of the implementation of these and any future rules and regulations designed to enhance the standard for labor protection, our labor costs may continue to increase. Furthermore, as the interpretation and implementation of these new laws and regulations are still evolving, we cannot assure you that our employment practice will at all times be deemed fully in compliance, which may cause us to face labor disputes or governmental investigations. If we are deemed to be in violation of such labor laws and regulations, we could be subject to penalties, compensations to the employees and loss of reputation, and as a result our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected.

Further, labor disputes, work stoppages or slowdowns at our operating subsidiaries or project sites or affecting the operations of our business partners could disrupt our daily operation or our expansion plans, which could have a material adverse effect on our business and results of operations.

We face uncertainty with respect to indirect transfers of equity interests in PRC resident enterprises by their non-PRC holding companies

Pursuant to The Announcement on Matters Concerning Withholding of Income Tax of Nonresident Enterprises at Source (《國家稅務總局關於非居民企業所得稅源泉扣繳有關問題的公告》) (the “SAT Circular 37”), which was issued by the SAT on 17 October 2017, which was made effective from 1 December 2017 and amended on 15 June 2018, gains derived from indirect transfer of equity interests in PRC resident enterprises may be subject to PRC withholding tax. SAT Circular 37 also provides that, where a non-PRC resident enterprise transfers its equity interests in a PRC resident enterprise to its related parties at a price lower than the fair market value, the relevant PRC tax authorities have the power to make a reasonable adjustment with respect to the taxable income of the transaction.

On 3 February 2015, the SAT promulgated the Announcement of Certain Issues on Enterprise Income Tax Regarding Indirect Transfer of Properties by Non-resident Enterprises (《關於非居民企業間接轉讓財產企業所得稅若干問題的公告》), or the Announcement 7, which clarifies certain issues under the SAT Circular 37 but has been partially invalid. For example, the Announcement 7 (1) defines what “indirect transfer of taxable properties of China” is; (2) clarifies how to tax gains derived from indirect transfer of taxable properties of China; (3) clarifies how to determine reasonable commercial purposes; and (4) provides procedures and required documents for reporting indirect transfer of taxable properties of China to competent tax authorities. In order to implement the Announcement 7, the SAT promulgated the Circular on Issuing the Work Procedures concerning the Enterprise Income Tax on the Indirect Transfer of Properties by Non-resident Enterprises (Trial) (《非居民企業間接轉讓財產企業所得稅工作規程(試行)》) on 13 May 2015 which specifies tax authorities’ corresponding responsibilities and operating procedures concerning the collection of enterprise income tax on the indirect transfer of properties by non-resident enterprises. As a result, we may become at risk of being taxed under SAT Circular 37 and Announcement 7 due to any future indirect transfer of equity interests in our PRC subsidiaries. We may be required to allocate significant resources to comply with SAT Circular 37 and Announcement 7 or to establish that we should not be taxed under SAT Circular 37, and Announcement 7, which may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

We may incur additional cost to comply with the new policy of collecting social insurance and may be required to make additional social insurance contributions

On 20 July 2018, China’s Central Committee and the State Council released the Reform Plan on the National and Local Taxation Collection and Management System (《國稅地稅徵管體制改革方案》) (the “Taxation Collection Reform Plan”). Effective from 1 January 2019, the plan places the responsibility of calculating and collecting social insurance premiums solely with the PRC tax bureau, which is expected to improve social insurance compliance since the PRC tax bureau is better resourced to monitor and collect contributions. The impact of the newly adopted Taxation Collection Reform Plan remains uncertain. We may incur additional cost to comply with this new plan and may be required by the PRC tax bureau to make additional social insurance contributions, which may have a material adverse impact on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Interpretation of the PRC laws and regulations involves uncertainty and the current legal environment in China could limit the legal protections available to you

Our core business is conducted in China and is governed by PRC laws and regulations. Our principal operating subsidiaries are located in China and are subject to the PRC laws and regulations. The PRC legal system is a civil law system based on written statutes, and prior court decisions have limited precedential value and can only be used as a reference. Additionally, PRC written laws are often principle-oriented and require detailed interpretations by the enforcement bodies to further apply and enforce such laws. Since 1979, the PRC legislature has promulgated laws and regulations in relation to economic matters such as foreign investment, corporate organization and governance, commercial transactions, taxation and trade, with a view to developing a comprehensive system of commercial law, including laws relating to property ownership and development. However, because these laws and regulations have not been fully developed, and because of the limited volume of published cases and the non-binding nature of prior court decisions, interpretation of PRC laws and regulations involves a degree of uncertainty and the legal protection available to you may be limited. Depending on the governmental agency or the presentation of an application or case to such agency, we may receive less favorable interpretations of laws and regulations than our competitors. In addition, any litigation in China may be protracted and result in substantial costs and diversion of resources and management attention. All these uncertainties may cause difficulties in the enforcement of our land use rights, entitlements under our permits, and other statutory and contractual rights and interests.

It may be difficult to effect service of process upon us or our directors or senior officers who reside in China or to enforce against us or them in China any judgments obtained from non-PRC courts

A significant portion of our assets and our subsidiaries are located in the PRC. In addition, most of our directors and officers reside in the PRC, and the assets of our directors and officers may also be located in the PRC. As a result, it may be difficult or impossible to effect service of process outside the PRC upon us or our directors and officers, including with respect to matters arising under applicable securities laws. A judgment of a court of another jurisdiction may be reciprocally recognized or enforced in the PRC if that jurisdiction has a treaty with the PRC or if judgments of the PRC courts have been recognized before in that jurisdiction, subject to the satisfaction of some other requirements. Our PRC legal adviser has advised us that the PRC does not have treaties providing for the reciprocal acknowledgement and enforcement of judgments of courts with Japan, the United Kingdom, the United States or most other western countries. As a result, the prospects for the recognition and enforcement in the PRC or Hong Kong of judgments of a court in non-PRC jurisdictions are uncertain.

Risks Relating to the Bonds and the Standby Letter of Credit

The insolvency laws of the Cayman Islands and other local insolvency laws may differ from those of another jurisdiction with which the holders of the Bonds are familiar.

As the Company is incorporated under the laws of the Cayman Islands, any insolvency proceeding relating to the Company would likely involve insolvency laws of the Cayman Islands, as applicable, the procedural and substantive provisions of which may differ from comparable provisions of the local insolvency laws of jurisdictions with which the holders of the Bonds are familiar.

A trading market for the Bonds may not develop.

The Bonds are a new issue of securities for which there is currently no trading market. There can be no assurance as to the liquidity of the Bonds or that an active trading market will develop. If such a market were to develop, the Bonds could trade at prices that may be higher or lower than the initial issue price depending on many factors, including prevailing interest rates, the Group's operations and the market for similar securities. Although application will be made for the listing of the Bonds on the SEHK, such listing can give no assurance as to the liquidity of, or trading market for, the Bonds. None of the Managers are obligated to make a market in the Bonds, and if any Manager does so it may discontinue such market-making activity at any time without notice. Further, the Bonds may be allocated to a limited number of investors, in which case liquidity may be limited. Given holders of a significant percentage of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds will have certain rights under the Trust Deed and the Bonds, if a few investors purchase significant percentage of the Bonds, even if less than a majority, they will be able to exercise such rights on behalf of all holders of the Bonds and significantly influence the outcome of the voting on matters related to the Bonds. In addition, the Bonds are being offered pursuant to exemptions from registration under the Securities Act and, as a result, the holders of the Bonds will only be able to resell the Bonds in transactions that have been registered under the Securities Act or in transactions not subject to or exempt from registration under the Securities Act. It is the obligation of investors to ensure that offers and sales of the Bonds within relevant countries comply with applicable securities laws. Please see "Subscription and Sale". Neither the Company can predict whether an active trading market for the Bonds will develop or be sustained.

Investors in the Bonds may be subject to foreign exchange risks.

The Bonds are denominated and payable in U.S. dollars. An investor who measures investment returns by reference to a currency other than U.S. dollars would be subject to foreign exchange risks by virtue of an investment in the Bonds, due to, among other things, economic, political and other factors over which the Company has no control. Depreciation of the U.S. dollars against such currency could cause a decrease in the effective yield of the Bonds below their stated coupon rates and could result in a loss when the return on the Bonds is translated into such currency. In addition, there may be tax consequences for investors as a result of any foreign currency gains resulting from any investment in the Bonds.

International financial markets and world economic conditions may adversely affect the market price of the Bonds.

The market price of the Bonds may be adversely affected by declines in the international financial markets and world economic conditions. The market for Bonds is, to varying degrees, influenced by economic and market conditions in other markets, especially those in Asia. Although economic conditions are different in each country, investors' reactions to developments in one country can affect the securities markets and the securities of issuers in other countries, including the PRC. Since the sub-prime mortgage crisis in 2008, the international financial markets have experienced significant volatility. If similar developments occur in the international financial markets in the future, the market price of the Bonds could be adversely affected.

The liquidity and price of the Bonds following the offering may be volatile.

The price and trading volume of the Bonds may be highly volatile. Factors such as variations in each of the Group's revenue, earnings and cash flows and proposals of new investments, strategic alliances and/or acquisitions, interest rates and fluctuations in prices for comparable companies or any adverse change in the credit rating, revenues, earnings or results of operations could cause the price of the Bonds to change. Any such developments may result in large and sudden changes in the volume and price at which the Bonds will trade. There can be no assurance that these developments will not occur in the future.

Modifications and waivers may be made in respect of the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds, the Agency Agreement, the Trust Deed and the Standby Letter of Credit by the Trustee or less than all of the holders of the Bonds that may be adverse to the interests of individual holders of the Bonds.

The Terms and Conditions of the Bonds contain provisions for calling meetings of Bondholders to consider matters affecting their interests generally. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Bondholders, including those Bondholders who do not attend and vote at the relevant meeting and those Bondholders who vote in a manner contrary to the majority. There is a risk that the decision of the majority of holders of the Bonds may be adverse to the interests of the individual holders of the Bonds.

The Terms and Conditions of the Bonds provide that the Trustee may, without the consent of Bondholders, agree to any modification (except as mentioned in the Trust Deed and the Agency Agreement) of the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement, the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds and/or the Standby Letter of Credit which in the opinion of the Trustee will not be materially prejudicial to the interests of Bondholders and to any modification of the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement, the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds and/or the Standby Letter of Credit which is of a formal, minor or technical nature or is made to correct a manifest error or to comply with any mandatory provision of law.

In addition, the Trustee may, without the consent of the Bondholders, authorise or waive any proposed breach or actual breach of, or any failure to comply with, any of the provisions of the Bonds, the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement, the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds or the Standby Letter of Credit (other than a proposed breach, or a breach relating to the subject of certain reserved matters) if the interests of the Bondholders will not be materially prejudiced thereby.

The Trustee may request the Bondholders to provide an indemnity and/or security and/or prefunding to its satisfaction.

In certain circumstances (including, without limitation, giving of notice pursuant to Condition 8 of the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds and taking action pursuant to Condition 13 (Enforcement) of the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds), the Trustee may (at its sole discretion) request Bondholders to provide an indemnity and/or security and/or prefunding to its satisfaction before it takes actions on behalf of the Bondholders. The Trustee shall not be obliged to take any such actions if not first indemnified and/or secured and/or prefunded to its satisfaction. Negotiating and agreeing to an indemnity and/or security and/or prefunding can be a lengthy process and may impact on when such actions can be taken. The Trustee may not be able to take actions, notwithstanding the provision of an indemnity or security or prefunding to it, in breach of the terms of the Trust Deed constituting the Bonds and in such circumstances, or where there is uncertainty or dispute as to the applicable laws or regulations, to the extent permitted by the agreements and the applicable laws and regulations, it will be for the Bondholders to take such actions directly.

If the Company is unable to comply with the restrictions and covenants in its debt agreements (if any), or the Bonds, there could be a default under the terms of these agreements, or the Bonds, which could cause repayment of the Company's debt to be accelerated.

If the Company is unable to comply with the restrictions and covenants in the Bonds, or current or future debt obligations and other agreements (if any), there could be a default under the terms of these agreements. In the event of a default under these agreements, the holders of the debt could terminate their commitments to lend to the Company, accelerate repayment of the debt, declare all amounts borrowed due and payable or terminate the agreements, as the case may be. Furthermore, some of the debt agreements of the Company contain cross-acceleration or cross-default provisions. As a result, the default by the Company under one debt agreement may cause the acceleration of repayment of not only such debt but also other debt, including the Bonds, or result in a default under its other debt agreements, including the Bonds. If any of these events occur, there can be no assurance that the Company's assets and cash flows would be sufficient to repay all of the Company's indebtedness in full, or that it would be able to find alternative financing. Even if the Company could obtain alternative financing, there can be no assurance that it would be on terms that are favourable or acceptable to the Company.

Gains on the transfer of the Bonds may be subject to income tax or VAT under PRC tax laws.

Under the EIT law and its implementation rules, any gains realised on the transfer of the Bonds by holders who are deemed under the EIT law as non-resident enterprises may be subject to PRC EIT if such gains are regarded as income derived from sources within the PRC. Under the EIT law, a "non-resident enterprise" means an enterprise established under the laws of a jurisdiction other than the PRC and whose actual administrative organisation is not in the PRC, which has established offices or premises in the PRC, or which has not established any offices or premises in the PRC but has obtained income derived from sources within the PRC. In the event the Company is deemed to be a PRC tax resident enterprise by the PRC tax authorities, capital gain realised by a non-resident enterprise from the transfer of the Bonds may be regarded as being derived from sources within the PRC and, accordingly, may be subject to a PRC tax of up to 10 per cent., provided that there are no tax treaties between the PRC and those countries or regions which exempt or reduce such withholding tax. Similarly, in the event the Company is deemed to be a PRC tax resident enterprise by the PRC tax authorities, any capital gain realised by a non-resident individual holder from transfer of the Bonds may also be regarded as being derived from sources within the PRC and be subject to PRC tax of up to 20 per cent. pursuant to the IIT Law, provided that there are no tax treaties between the PRC and those countries or regions which exempt or reduce such withholding tax. There remains uncertainty as to whether the gains realised from the transfer of the Bonds between entities or individuals located outside of the PRC would be treated as incomes derived from sources within the PRC and be subject to PRC tax. This will depend on how the PRC tax authorities interpret, apply or enforce the EIT Law and its implementation rules. If such gains are subject to PRC income tax, the 10 per cent. EIT rate and 20 per cent. individual income tax rate will apply respectively unless there is an applicable tax treaty or arrangement that reduces or exempts such income tax. The taxable income will be the balance of the total income obtained from the transfer of the Bonds minus all costs and expenses that are permitted under PRC tax laws to be deducted from the income.

Under the Circular on Comprehensively Promoting the Pilot Program of the Collection of Value added Tax in Lieu of Business Tax (《關於全面推開營業稅改徵增值稅試點的通知》), or the Circular 36, issued on 23 March 2016 and implemented on 1 May 2016, VAT is applicable where the entities or individuals provide services within the PRC. VAT is unlikely to apply to any transfer of Bonds between entities or individuals located outside of the PRC and therefore unlikely to apply to gains realised upon such transfers, but there is uncertainty as to the applicability of VAT if either the seller or buyer of Bonds is located inside the PRC. Circular 36 and laws and regulations pertaining to VAT are relatively new, and there is uncertainty as to the applicability of Circular 36 as this will depend on how the PRC tax authorities interpret, apply or enforce the Circular 36 and its implementation rules.

If a Bondholder, being a non-resident enterprise or non-resident individual, is required to pay any PRC income tax or VAT or related surcharges on VAT on gains on the transfer of the Bonds, the value of the relevant Bondholder's investment in the Bonds may be materially and adversely affected.

The Bonds may not be a suitable investment for all investors.

Each potential investor in any Bond must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor should:

- have sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the relevant Bonds, the merits and risks of investing in the relevant Bonds and the information contained in this offering circular;
- have access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the relevant Bonds and the impact such investment will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the relevant Bonds;
- understand thoroughly the terms of the relevant Bonds and be familiar with the behaviour of any relevant indices and financial markets; and
- be able to evaluate (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

A potential investor should not invest in Bonds which are complex financial instruments unless it has the expertise (either alone or with the help of a financial adviser) to evaluate how the Bonds will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of such Bonds and the impact this investment will have on the potential investor's overall investment portfolio.

Additionally, the investment activities of certain investors are subject to legal investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent (a) Bonds are legal investments for it, (b) Bonds can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing and (c) other restrictions apply to its purchase of any Bonds. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of Bonds under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules.

Additional procedures may be required to be taken to bring English law governed matters or disputes to the Hong Kong courts and the Bondholders would need to be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Hong Kong courts. There is also no assurance that the PRC courts will recognise and enforce judgements of the Hong Kong courts in respect of English law governed matters or disputes.

The Terms and Conditions of the Bonds and the transaction documents are governed by English law, whereas parties to these documents have submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Hong Kong courts. In order to hear English law governed matters or disputes, Hong Kong courts may require certain additional procedures to be taken. Hong Kong and the PRC have entered into certain arrangements on the reciprocal recognition and enforcement of judgements in civil and commercial matters (the “Reciprocal Arrangements”) which allow for a final court judgement (relating to the payment of money or other civil or commercial proceeding) rendered by a Hong Kong court or PRC court (as the case may be) to be recognised and enforced in the PRC or Hong Kong (as the case may be), provided certain conditions are met. However, certain matters may be excluded under the Reciprocal Arrangements and a judgement may be refused to be recognised and enforced by the requested place in certain circumstances such as for public policy reasons or where the judgement was obtained by fraud. While it is expected that the PRC courts will recognise and enforce a judgement given by Hong Kong courts governed by English law, there can be no assurance that the PRC courts will do so for all such judgements as there is no established practice in this area.

Compared to other similar debt securities issuances in the international capital markets where the relevant holders of the debt securities would not typically be required to submit to an exclusive jurisdiction, the Bondholders will be deemed to have submitted to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Hong Kong courts, and thus the Bondholders' ability to initiate a claim outside of Hong Kong will be limited.

A change in English law which governs the Bonds may adversely affect holders of the Bonds.

The Terms and Conditions of the Bonds are governed by English law. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change to English law or administrative practice after the date of issue of the Bonds.

The Bonds will initially be represented by a Global Certificate and holders of a beneficial interest in a Global Certificate must rely on the procedures of the relevant Clearing System.

The Bonds will initially be represented by a Global Certificate. Such Global Certificate will be deposited with a common depository for Euroclear and Clearstream. Except in the circumstances described in the Global Certificate, investors will not be entitled to receive definitive bonds. The relevant clearing system will maintain records of the beneficial interests in the Global Certificate. While the Bonds are represented by the Global Certificate, investors will be able to trade their beneficial interests only through the clearing systems.

While the Bonds are represented by the Global Certificate, the Company will discharge its payment obligations under the Bonds by making payments to the common depository for Euroclear and Clearstream for distribution to their account holders. A holder of a beneficial interest in the Global Certificate must rely on the procedures of the relevant clearing system to receive payments under the Bonds. The Company has no responsibility or liability for the records relating to, or payments made in respect of, beneficial interests in the Global Certificate.

Holders of beneficial interests in the Global Certificate will not have a direct right to vote in respect of the Bonds. Instead, such holders will be permitted to act only to the extent that they are enabled by the relevant clearing system to appoint appropriate proxies.

Bondholders should be aware that a definitive Certificate which has a principal amount that is not an integral multiple of the minimum specified denomination may be illiquid and difficult to trade.

In relation to any Bond which has a principal amount consisting of a minimum specified denomination plus a higher integral multiple of another smaller amount, it is possible that the Bonds may be traded in amounts in excess of the minimum specified denomination that are not integral multiples of such minimum specified denomination. In such a case a Bondholder who, as a result of trading such amounts, holds a principal amount of less than the minimum specified denomination will not receive a definitive certificate in respect of such holding (should definitive Bonds be printed) and would need to purchase a principal amount of Bonds such that it holds an amount equal to one or more specified denominations. If definitive Bonds are issued, holders should be aware that a definitive certificate which has a principal amount that is not an integral multiple of the minimum specified denomination may be illiquid and difficult to trade.

The Bonds are unsecured obligations.

The Bonds are unsecured obligations of the Company. The repayment of the Bonds may be adversely affected if:

- the Company enters into bankruptcy, liquidation, reorganisation or other winding-up proceedings;
- there is a default in payment under the Company's future secured indebtedness or other unsecured indebtedness; or
- there is an acceleration of any of the Company's indebtedness.

If any of these events were to occur, the Company's assets may not be sufficient to pay amounts due on the Bonds.

The Bonds may be redeemed by the Company prior to maturity.

The Company may redeem the Bonds at its option, in whole but not in part, at a redemption price equal to 100 per cent. of their principal amount, together with any interest accrued to (but not including) the date fixed for redemption if, subject to certain conditions, as a result of a change in tax law, the Company has or will become obliged to pay Additional Tax Amounts (as defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds), as further described in Condition 5(b) (Redemption for Tax Reasons) of the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds.

If the Company redeems the Bonds prior to their maturity date, investors may not receive the same economic benefits they would have received had they held the Bonds to maturity, and they may not be able to reinvest the proceeds they receive in a redemption in similar securities. In addition, the Company's ability to redeem the Bonds may reduce the market price of the Bonds.

The Bonds will be mandatorily redeemed upon a pre-funding failure.

The Terms and Conditions of the Bonds provide for a demand to be made under the Standby Letter of Credit in the event the Issuer fails to pre-fund the principal and interest due on any Bonds or upon the occurrence of an Event of Default under the Bonds by the expiration date of the Standby Letter of Credit. Such demand will be made in respect of the full amount of the outstanding principal due and interest accrued on the Bonds and thereafter the Bonds will be mandatorily redeemed in accordance with Condition 5(d) (Mandatory redemption upon Pre-funding Failure) of the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds. Bondholders will not be able to hold their Bonds to maturity should maturity should such mandatory redemption occur.

The Company may issue additional Bonds in the future.

The Company may, from time to time, and without prior consultation with the Bondholders create and issue further bonds (see "Terms and Conditions of the Bonds—Further Issues") or otherwise raise additional capital through such means and in such manner as the Group may consider necessary. Any such further bonds shall be supported by a further or supplemental standby letter of credit issued by the LC Bank (or an amendment is made to the Standby Letter of Credit) on terms that are substantially similar to the Standby Letter of Credit (including that the stated amount of such further or supplemental standby letter of credit is at least equal to the sum of the principal of and an amount equal to one interest payment due on such further securities up to the maturity date of such securities plus 30 days) and any fees, costs, expenses, indemnity payments and all other amounts in connection with such issue (subject to a cap (if any) as agreed between the Issuer and the Trustee), and such supplemental documents are executed and further opinions are obtained as the Trustee may require, as further set out in the Trust Deed. See Condition 14 (Further issues) of Terms and Conditions of the Bonds. There can be no assurance that such future issuance or capital raising activity will not adversely affect the market price of the Bonds. If the Company incurs future liabilities (including additional secured and unsecured indebtedness) that are structurally senior to the Bonds, S&P may review the ratings they have assigned to the Bonds, and it is possible that they may downgrade the ratings of the Bonds to account for the increased credit risk of the Company. Any downgrade of the ratings of the Bonds could in turn materially and adversely affect the liquidity or market price of the Bonds. See "—The ratings assigned to the Bonds and our credit ratings may be lowered or withdrawn in the future."

The ratings assigned to the Bonds and our credit ratings may be lowered or withdrawn in the future.

The Bonds are expected to be rated "BBB-" by S&P. This rating is provisional and subject to S&P's review of the final terms and conditions of the Bonds. Any ratings represent the opinions of the rating agencies and their assessments of the ability of the Company and the LC Bank to perform their respective obligations under the Bonds and the Standby Letter of Credit and credit risks in determining the likelihood that payments will be made when due under the Bonds. As at the date of this offering circular, the long-term corporate credit rating of the Company by Standard & Poor's Ratings Services was BB- with a stable outlook, and the corporate family rating of the Company by Moody's Investors Service was Ba3 with a stable outlook. A rating or a rating outlook is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to revision, suspension or withdrawal at any time. A rating and a rating outlook may not remain for any given period of time and a rating and a rating outlook may be lowered or withdrawn entirely by the relevant rating agency if in its judgment circumstances in the future so warrant. Each such rating should be evaluated independently of any other rating on the Bonds, other securities of the Company, the Company or the LC Bank. The Company has no obligation to inform the Bondholders of any such revision, downgrade or withdrawal. A suspension, reduction or withdrawal at any time of the rating assigned to the Bonds may materially and adversely affect the market price of the Bonds.

Decisions that may be made on behalf of all holders of the Bonds may be adverse to the interests of individual holders of the Bonds.

The Terms and Conditions of the Bonds contain provisions for calling meetings of holders of the Bonds to consider matters affecting their interests generally. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all holders of the Bonds including holders who did not attend and vote at the meeting and holders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority. Furthermore, there is a risk that the decision of the majority of holders of the Bonds may be adverse to the interests of individual Bondholders.

The NDRC Circular is a recent regulation and its interpretation may involve significant uncertainty, which may adversely affect the Bonds and/or the investor of the Bonds.

On 14 September 2015, the NDRC promulgated the NDRC Circular. According to the NDRC Circular, if a PRC enterprise or an offshore enterprise controlled by a PRC enterprise wishes to issue bonds outside of the PRC with a maturity of more than one year, the enterprise must, prior to issuing such bonds, file certain prescribed documents with the NDRC and procure a registration certificate from the NDRC in respect of such issue (the "Pre-issuance Registration"). Such enterprise must also notify certain details of the bonds to the NDRC within 10 business days of the completion of the bond issuance (the "Post-issuance Notification"). As at the date of the offering circular, we have received a registration certificate from the NDRC in respect of the issuance of the Bonds on 7 April 2021, and we intend to comply with the post-issuance notification requirements of the NDRC Circular.

As the NDRC Circular is a relatively new regulation, it is still uncertain how the NDRC will interpret, implement and enforce the NDRC Circular. The Post-issuance Notification is generally regarded as a procedural process which involves the reporting of certain post-issuance information in respect of the Bonds by the Company to the NDRC, rather than a substantive approval or consent process. There is a risk that such Post-issuance Notification cannot be completed in time or at all. The NDRC Circular does not set forth the legal consequences of non-compliance with the Pre-issuance Registration and Post-issuance Notification. Additional guidance has been issued by the NDRC (the "NDRC Circular Guidelines") in December 2015, which states that companies, investment banks, law firms and other intermediaries involved in debt securities issuance which do not comply with the registration requirement under the NDRC Circular will be subject to blacklist and sanctions. The NDRC Circular does not set forth as to how such blacklist will be implemented or the exact sanctions that will be enacted by the NDRC. There is no assurance that the Company will not be subject to any penalties if it fails to (including for reasons outside of the Company's control) complete the Post-issuance Notification within the required timeframe. In the worst-case scenario, such non-compliance with the Post-issuance Notification requirement under the NDRC Circular may result in it being unlawful for the Group to perform or comply with any of its obligations under the Bonds and the Bonds might be subject to enforcement as provided in Condition 10 (Events of Default) of the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds.

In addition, the administration of the NDRC Circular may be subject to a certain degree of executive and policy discretion by the NDRC. There is also a risk that the registration approval with the NDRC may be revoked or amended in the future or that future changes in PRC laws and regulations may have a negative impact on the Bonds in the PRC. Potential investors of the Bonds are advised to exercise due caution when making their investment decisions.

Changes in market interest rates may adversely affect the value of the Bonds and the Standby Letter of Credit.

The Bonds will carry fixed interest rates. Consequently, investment in the Bonds involves the risk that subsequent changes in market interest rates may adversely affect the value of the Bonds and the Standby Letter of Credit. If Bondholders sell the Bonds they hold before the maturity of such Bonds, they may receive an offer less than their investment.

The Standby Letter of Credit expires a month after the Maturity Date.

The Standby Letter of Credit will expire one month after the Maturity Date. In the event that the Trustee does not make a Demand under the Standby Letter of Credit by this expiration date, Bondholders will not be able to benefit from the credit protection provided by the LC Bank.

The LC Bank's ability to perform its obligations under the Standby Letter of Credit is subject to its financial condition.

The ability of the LC Bank to make payments under the Standby Letter of Credit will depend on its financial condition, which could be materially and adversely affected by a number of factors, including, but not limited to, the following:

- Impaired loans and advances: The LC Bank's financial condition will be affected by its impaired loans. If the LC Bank is unable to control effectively and reduce the level of impaired loans and advances in its current loan portfolio and in new loans it extends in the future, or its allowance for impairment losses on loans and advances is insufficient to cover actual loan losses, its financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.
- Collateral and guarantees: A certain portion of the LC Bank's loans is secured by collateral and backed by guarantees. If it is unable to realise the collateral or guarantees securing its loans to cover the outstanding principal and interest balance of such loans due to various factors, its financial condition could be materially and adversely affected.

The Pre-funding Account Bank shall notify the Trustee as soon as reasonably practicable upon the failure by the Issuer to pay the Relevant Amount into the Pre-funding Account in accordance with these Conditions.

So long as any Bond is outstanding, save with the approval of the Trustee or any Extraordinary Resolution (as defined in the Trust Deed) of the Bondholders, the Issuer shall not make (or cause to be made on its behalf) any withdrawal from the Pre-funding Account under any circumstances (other than in accordance with the Required Confirmations or in accordance with the Conditions), and the Pre-funding Account Bank shall be entitled to disregard any instruction to effect any such withdrawal from the Issuer (or any person acting on its behalf).

If the Relevant Amount has not been paid into the Pre-funding Account in full, or the Trustee does not receive the Required Confirmations, in each case by 10:00 a.m. (Hong Kong time) on the Business Day immediately following the Pre-funding Date (a “Pre-funding Failure”), the Trustee shall (i) as soon as practicable notify the LC Bank and the LC Proceeds Account Bank by facsimile or by SWIFT of the occurrence of the Pre-funding Failure; and (ii) by no later than 6:00 p.m. (Hong Kong time) on the second Business Day following the Pre-funding Date (x) give notice substantially in the form set out in the Trust Deed (the “Pre-funding Failure Notice”) to the Bondholders (as defined in Condition 2(a) (Register)) of (I) the Pre-funding Failure and (II) the redemption of the Bonds in accordance with Condition 5(d) (Mandatory redemption upon Pre-funding Failure) to occur as a result of the Pre-funding Failure and (y) issue a Demand to the LC Bank for the Mandatory Redemption Amount in respect of all of the Bonds which will be due and payable on the Mandatory Redemption Date, together with interest accrued to, but excluding, the Mandatory Redemption Date (as defined in Condition 5(d) (Mandatory redemption upon Pre-funding Failure)) together with any fees, costs, expenses, indemnity payments and all other amounts payable by the Issuer under or in connection with the Bonds, the Trust Deed and the Agency Agreement and/or any other transaction document relating to the Bonds then outstanding, being an amount not exceeding the Maximum Limit, provided that, in accordance with the terms of the Standby Letter of Credit, the Trustee need not physically present the Demand to the LC Bank and shall be entitled to submit the Demand by authenticated SWIFT to the LC Bank or, in the event that the SWIFT system is unavailable for any reason, by way of such other means as permitted under the Standby Letter of Credit.

If the LC Bank receives such Demand on or before 6:00 p.m. (Hong Kong time) on a Business Day, the LC Bank shall on or before 10:00 a.m. (Hong Kong time) on the fourth Business Day immediately following the Business Day on which such Demand was received (or, if such Demand is received by the LC Bank after 6:00 p.m. (Hong Kong time) on a Business Day, the fifth Business Day immediately following the Business Day on which such Demand was received), pay to or to the order of the Trustee the amount in U.S. dollars specified in the Demand in immediately available funds to the LC Proceeds Account.

Each Bond Certificate will be numbered serially with an identifying number which will be recorded in the Register.
- (b) Title: The Holder of each Bond shall (except as ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction or as otherwise required by law) be treated as the absolute owner of such Bond for all purposes (whether or not it is overdue and regardless of any notice of ownership, trust or any other interest therein, any writing on the Bond Certificate relating thereto (other than the endorsed form of transfer) or any notice of any previous loss or theft of such Bond Certificate) and no person shall be liable for so treating such Holder. No person shall have any right to enforce any term or condition of the Bonds or the Trust Deed under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999.

principal amount of the balance of Bonds not transferred are Authorised Denominations. Where not all the Bonds represented by the surrendered Bond Certificate are the subject of the transfer, a new Bond Certificate in respect of the balance of the Bonds will be issued to the transferor.

Transfers of interests in the Bonds evidenced by the Global Bond Certificate will be effected in accordance with the rules of the relevant clearing systems.

- (d) Registration and delivery of Bond Certificates: Within five business days of the surrender of a Bond Certificate and the provision of such evidence in accordance with paragraph (c) (Transfers) above, the Registrar will register the transfer in question and deliver a new Bond Certificate of a like principal amount to the Bonds transferred to each relevant Holder at its Specified Office or (as the case may be) the Specified Office of any Transfer Agent or (at the request and risk of any such relevant Holder) by uninsured first class mail (airmail if overseas) to the address specified for the purpose by such relevant Holder. In this paragraph, “business day” means a day on which commercial banks are open for general business (including dealings in foreign currencies) in the city where the Registrar or (as the case may be) the relevant Transfer Agent has its Specified Office.

- (g) Regulations concerning transfers and registration: All transfers of Bonds and entries on the Register are subject to the detailed regulations concerning the transfer of Bonds, the initial form of which is scheduled to the Agency Agreement. The regulations may be changed by the Issuer with the prior written approval of the Trustee and the Registrar, or by the Registrar, with the prior written approval of the Trustee. A copy of the current regulations will be made available for inspection by the Registrar to any Bondholder upon prior written request and satisfactory proof of holding.

3. COVENANTS

- (c) Compliance Certificate: So long as any Bond remains outstanding, the Issuer shall furnish the Trustee with a Compliance Certificate (i) within 150 calendar days of the last day of the Issuer's financial year (being 31 December of that financial year) and (ii) within 14 days of any request therefor in writing from the Trustee, and the Trustee may rely conclusively on any Compliance Certificate provided as contemplated in this Condition 3(c) and shall not be liable to any Bondholder or any other person for doing so.

In these Conditions:

4. INTEREST

The Bonds bear interest from 27 January 2022 (the “Issue Date”) at the rate of 2.3 per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually in arrear on 27 January and 27 July in each year (each, an “Interest Payment Date”), subject as provided in Condition 6 (Payments).

Each Bond will cease to bear interest from the due date for redemption unless, upon due presentation, payment of principal is improperly withheld or refused, in which case it will continue to bear interest at such rate (both before and after judgment) until whichever is the earlier of (a) the day on which all sums due in respect of such Bond up to that day are received by or on behalf of the relevant Bondholder and (b) the day which is seven days after the Principal Paying Agent or the Trustee has notified the Bondholders that it has received all sums due in respect of the Bonds up to such seventh day (except to the extent that there is any subsequent default in payment).

The amount of interest payable on each Interest Payment Date shall be U.S.$11.5 in respect of each Bond of U.S.$1,000 denomination. If interest is required to be calculated for a period of less than a complete Interest Period (as defined below), the relevant day-count fraction will be determined on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of 12 months of 30 days each and, in the case of an incomplete month, the number of days elapsed.

In these Conditions, the period beginning on and including the Issue Date and ending on but excluding the first Interest Payment Date and each successive period beginning on and including an Interest Payment Date and ending on but excluding the next succeeding Interest Payment Date is called an “Interest Period”.

5. REDEMPTION AND PURCHASE

- (a) Scheduled redemption: Unless previously redeemed, or purchased and cancelled, the Bonds will be redeemed at their principal amount on 27 January 2025, subject as provided in Condition 6 (Payments).
- (b) Redemption for tax reasons: The Bonds may be redeemed at the option of the Issuer in whole, but not in part, at any time, on giving not less than 30 nor more than 60 days’ notice to the Bondholders (which notice shall be irrevocable) and in writing to the Trustee and the Principal Paying Agent at their principal amount, together with interest accrued to (but not including) the date fixed for redemption, if, immediately before giving such notice, the Issuer satisfies the Trustee that: (i) the Issuer satisfies the Trustee immediately prior to the giving of such notice that it has or will become obliged to pay Additional Amounts as provided or referred to in Condition 7 (Taxation) as a result of any change in, or amendment to, the laws or regulations of a Relevant Jurisdiction (as defined in Condition 7 (Taxation)), or any change in the application or official interpretation of such laws or regulations, which change or amendment becomes effective on or after 20 January 2022, and (ii) such obligation cannot be avoided by the Issuer taking reasonable measures available to it, provided, however, that no such notice of redemption shall be given earlier than 90 days prior to the earliest date on which the Issuer would be obliged to pay such Additional Amounts if a payment in respect of the Bonds were then due.

Prior to the publication of any notice of redemption pursuant to this Condition 5(b), the Issuer shall deliver or procure that there is delivered to the Trustee:

- (A) a certificate signed by any one Authorised Signatory of the Issuer, stating that the Issuer is entitled to effect such redemption and setting forth a statement of facts showing that the conditions precedent to the right of the Issuer so to redeem have occurred; and
- (B) an opinion in form and substance satisfactory to the Trustee of independent legal or tax advisers of recognized standing to the effect that the Issuer has or will become obliged to pay such Additional Amounts as a result of such change or amendment.

The Trustee shall be entitled to accept and rely upon such certificate and opinion (without further investigation or enquiry) as sufficient evidence of the satisfaction of the circumstances set out in (A) and (B) above, in which event they shall be conclusive and binding on the Bondholders, and the Trustee shall be protected and shall have no liability to any Bondholder or any person for so accepting and relying on such certificate or opinion.

Upon the expiry of any such notice period as is referred to in this Condition 5(b), the Issuer shall be bound to redeem the Bonds in accordance with this Condition 5(b).

- (c) Redemption for Change of Control Triggering Event: At any time following the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event, the holder of any Bond will have the right, at such holder's option, to require the Issuer to redeem all but not some only of that holder's Bonds on the Change of Control Put Date at 100 per cent. of their principal amount, together with interest accrued to, but excluding, such Change of Control Put Date. To exercise such right, the holder of the relevant Bond must deposit at the Specified Office of any Paying Agent a duly completed and signed notice of redemption, in the form for the time being current, obtainable from the Specified Office of any Paying Agent (a "Change of Control Put Exercise Notice"), together with the Bond Certificates evidencing the Bonds to be redeemed by not later than 30 days following a Change of Control Triggering Event, or, if later, 30 days following the date upon which notice thereof is given to Bondholders by the Issuer in accordance with Condition 15 (Notices). The "Change of Control Put Date" shall, subject to Condition 5(d) (Mandatory redemption upon Pre-funding Failure), be the 14th day after the expiry of such period of 30 days as referred to above.

A Change of Control Put Exercise Notice, once delivered, shall be irrevocable and the Issuer shall redeem the Bonds subject to the Change of Control Put Exercise Notices delivered as aforesaid.

Within 14 days of the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event, the Issuer shall give notice thereof to the Trustee and the Principal Paying Agent and to the Bondholders in accordance with Condition 15 (Notices), which notice shall specify (i) the procedure for exercise by holders of their rights to require redemption of the Bonds pursuant to this Condition 5(c) and (ii) the following:

- (B) the Change of Control Put Date;
- (C) the last date by which a Change of Control Put Exercise Notice must be given;
- (D) the procedures that Bondholders must follow and the requirements that Bondholders must satisfy in order to exercise such put; and

- (E) a statement that a Change of Control Put Exercise Notice, once validly given, may not be withdrawn.

So long as the Bonds are represented by the Global Bond Certificate, the right of Bondholders to redemption of the Bonds following the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event will be effected in accordance with the rules of the relevant clearing systems.

- (d) Mandatory redemption upon Pre-funding Failure: The Bonds shall be redeemed in whole, but not in part, at their principal amount (the “Mandatory Redemption Amount”) on the Interest Payment Date falling immediately after the date the Pre-funding Failure Notice is given to the Bondholders in accordance with Condition 1(d) (Pre-funding) (the “Mandatory Redemption Date”), together with interest accrued to, but excluding, the Mandatory Redemption Date.

If the holder of any Bond shall have exercised its right to require the Issuer to redeem its Bond under Condition 5(c) (Redemption for Change of Control Triggering Event) and a Pre-funding Failure Notice is given to the Bondholders in accordance with Condition 1(d) (Pre-funding) as a result of the Pre-funding Failure relating to the amount payable pursuant to such redemption, all but not some only of the Bonds then outstanding shall be redeemed at the Mandatory Redemption Amount in accordance with this Condition 5(d) on the Mandatory Redemption Date, together with interest accrued to but excluding such Mandatory Redemption Date, provided that if such Pre-funding Failure occurs and concurrently a Pre-funding Failure Notice has been given or is given to the Bondholders in respect of a scheduled payment of principal or interest payable under Condition 4 (Interest) or Condition 5(a) (Scheduled redemption), the Mandatory Redemption Date shall be the Mandatory Redemption Date.

- (e) Mandatory redemption upon Standby Letter of Credit ceasing to be enforceable: The Bonds shall be redeemed at their principal amount, together with interest accrued up to, but excluding, the date of redemption, immediately upon the Standby Letter of Credit ceasing to be enforceable, valid or in full force and effect or upon the Standby Letter of Credit being modified, amended or terminated without the Trustee’s consent.
- (f) No other redemption: The Issuer shall not be entitled to redeem the Bonds otherwise than as provided in paragraphs (a) (Scheduled redemption) to (e) (Mandatory redemption upon Standby Letter of Credit ceasing to be enforceable) above.
- (g) Purchase: The Issuer, the LC Bank (including its branches) or any of their respective Subsidiaries may at any time purchase Bonds in the open market or otherwise and at any price.
- (h) Cancellation: All Bonds so redeemed or purchased by the LC Bank (including its branches), the Issuer or any of their respective Subsidiaries shall be cancelled and may not be reissued or resold.
- (i) Calculations: Neither the Trustee nor any of the Agents shall be responsible for calculating or verifying the calculations of any amount payable under any notice of redemption or have a duty to verify the accuracy, validity and/or genuineness of any documents in relation to or in connection thereto, and shall not be liable to the Bondholders or any other person for not doing so.
- (j) Notices of Redemption: Subject to Condition 5(d) (Mandatory redemption upon Pre-funding failure) and Condition 5(e) (Mandatory redemption upon Standby Letter of Credit ceasing to be enforceable), all Bonds in respect of which any notice of redemption is given under this Condition 5 shall be redeemed on the date specified in such notice in accordance with this Condition 5. If there is more than one notice of redemption given in respect of any Bond (which shall include any notice given by the Issuer pursuant to Condition 5(b) (Redemption for tax reasons) and any Change of Control Put Exercise Notice given by a Bondholder pursuant to Condition 5(c) (Redemption for Change of Control Triggering Event)), the notice given first in time shall prevail and in the event of two notices being given on the same date, the first to be given shall prevail.

Where such withholding or deduction is made by the Issuer by or within the PRC at the rate applicable on 20 January 2022 (the “Applicable Rate”), the Issuer will increase the amounts paid by it to the extent required, so that the net amount received by the Bondholders equals the amounts which would otherwise have been receivable by them had no such withholding or deduction been required.

If the Issuer is required to make (i) such deduction or withholding by or within the PRC in excess of the Applicable Rate or (ii) any deduction or withholding by or within a Relevant Jurisdiction other than the PRC, the Issuer shall pay such additional amounts (the “Additional Amounts”) as will result in receipt by the Bondholders of such amounts after such withholding or deduction as would have been received by them had no such withholding or deduction been required, except that no such Additional Amounts shall be payable in respect of any Bond:

- (a) for or on account of:
 - (i) any tax, duty, assessment or other governmental charge that would not have been imposed but for:

 - (B) the presentation of such Bond (in cases in which presentation is required) more than 30 days after the later of the date on which the payment of the principal of, premium, if any, or interest on, such Bond became due and payable pursuant to the terms thereof or was made or duly provided for, except to the extent that the holder thereof would have been entitled to such Additional Amounts if it had presented such Bond for payment on any date within such 30-day period;
 - (C) the failure of the holder or beneficial owner to comply with a timely request of the Issuer, addressed to the holder, to provide information concerning such holder’s or its beneficial owner’s nationality, residence, identity or connection with any Relevant Jurisdiction, if and to the extent that due and timely compliance with such request is required under the tax laws of such jurisdiction in order to reduce or eliminate any withholding or deduction as to which Additional Amounts would have otherwise been payable to such holder; or
 - (D) the presentation of such Bond (in cases in which presentation is required) for payment in the Relevant Jurisdiction, unless such Bond could not have been presented for payment elsewhere;
 - (ii) any estate, inheritance, gift, sale, transfer, personal property or similar tax, assessment or other governmental charge;
 - (iii) any tax, assessment, withholding or deduction required by sections 1471 through 1474 of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (“FATCA”), any current or future Treasury Regulations or rulings promulgated thereunder, any intergovernmental agreement between the United States and any other jurisdiction to implement FATCA, any law, regulation or other official guidance enacted in any jurisdiction implementing such an intergovernmental agreement or FATCA, or any agreement with the U.S. Internal Revenue Service under FATCA; or
 - (iv) any combination of taxes, duties, assessments or other governmental charges referred to in the preceding clauses (i), (ii) and (iii); or

- (b) to a holder that is a fiduciary, partnership or person other than the sole beneficial owner of any payment to the extent that such payment would be required to be included in the income under the laws of a Relevant Jurisdiction, for tax purposes, of a beneficiary or settlor with respect to the fiduciary, or a member of that partnership or a beneficial owner who would not have been entitled to such Additional Amounts had that beneficiary, settlor, partner or beneficial owner been the holder thereof.

Any reference in these Conditions to principal or interest shall be deemed to include any Additional Amounts in respect of principal or interest (as the case may be) which may be payable under this Condition 7 or any undertaking given in addition to or in substitution of this Condition 7 pursuant to the Trust Deed.

If the Issuer becomes subject at any time to any taxing jurisdiction other than a Relevant Jurisdiction, references in these Conditions to a Relevant Jurisdiction shall be construed to include such other jurisdiction.

Neither the Trustee nor the Agents shall be responsible for paying any tax, duty, charge, withholding or other payment referred to in this Condition 7 or for determining whether such amounts are payable or the amount thereof, and shall not be responsible or liable for any failure by the Issuer, the Bondholders or any other person to pay such tax, duty, charge, withholding or other payment in any jurisdiction or to provide any notice or information to the Trustee or any Agent that would permit, enable or facilitate the payment of any principal, premium (if any), interest or other amount under or in respect of the Bonds without deduction or withholding for or on account of any tax, duty, charge, withholding or other payment imposed by or in any jurisdiction.

Upon a declaration of acceleration, such principal of, premium on, and interest (if any) in respect of the Bonds shall be immediately due and payable. If an Event of Default specified in Condition 8(A)(f), Condition 8(A)(g), Condition 8(B)(b) or Condition 8(B)(c) occurs, the principal of, premium on, and interest (if any) in respect of the Bonds then outstanding shall automatically become and be immediately due and payable without any declaration or any act on the part of the Trustee or any holder.

Claims for principal and interest on redemption shall become void unless the relevant Bond Certificates are surrendered for payment within ten years of the appropriate Relevant Date.

“Relevant Date” means whichever is the later of (1) the date on which the payment in question first becomes due and (2) if the full amount payable has not been received by the Principal Paying Agent or the Trustee on or prior to such due date, the date on which (the full amount having been so received) notice to that effect has been given to the Bondholders.

10. REPLACEMENT OF BOND CERTIFICATES

If any Bond Certificate is lost, stolen, mutilated, defaced or destroyed, it may be replaced at the Specified Office of the Registrar, subject to all applicable laws and stock exchange requirements, upon payment by the claimant of the expenses incurred in connection with such replacement and on such terms as to evidence, security, indemnity and otherwise as the Issuer, the Registrar or the Transfer Agent may reasonably require. Mutilated or defaced Bond Certificates must be surrendered before replacements will be issued.

11. TRUSTEE AND AGENTS

Under the Trust Deed, the Trustee is entitled to be indemnified and/or pre-funded and/or provided with security and relieved from responsibility in certain circumstances and to be paid its fees, costs and expenses in priority to the claims of the Bondholders. The Trustee, the Agents and their respective affiliates are entitled (i) to enter into business transactions with the Issuer and/or any related entity and to act as trustee for the holders of any other securities issued by, or relating to, the Issuer or any entity related to the Issuer, (ii) to exercise and enforce its rights, comply with its obligations and perform its duties under or in relation to any such transactions or, as the case may be, any such trusteeship without regard to the interests of, or consequences for, the Bondholders and (iii) to retain and not be liable to account for any profit made or any other amount or benefit received thereby or in connection therewith.

In the exercise of its powers and discretions under these Conditions and the Trust Deed, the Trustee will have regard to the interests of the Bondholders as a class and will not be responsible for any consequence for individual Bondholders as a result of such Bondholders being connected in any way with a particular territory or taxing jurisdiction.

None of the Trustee or any of the Agents shall be responsible for the performance by the Issuer and any other person appointed by the Issuer in relation to the Bonds of the duties and obligations on their part expressed in respect of the same and, unless it has written notice from the Issuer to the contrary, the Trustee and each Agent shall be entitled to assume that the same are being duly performed. None of the Trustee or any Agent shall be liable to any Bondholder, the Issuer or any other person for any action taken by the Trustee or such Agent in accordance with the instructions of the Bondholders. The Trustee shall be entitled to rely on any direction, request or resolution of Bondholders given by Bondholders holding the requisite principal amount of Bonds outstanding or passed at a meeting of Bondholders convened and held in accordance with the Trust Deed.

In acting under the Agency Agreement and in connection with the Bonds, the Agents act solely as agents of the Issuer and (to the extent provided therein) the Trustee and do not assume any obligations towards, or relationship of agency or trust for or with, any of the Bondholders.

The Bondholders shall be solely responsible for making and continuing to make their own independent appraisal of and investigation into the financial condition, creditworthiness, condition, affairs, status and nature of the Issuer, and the Trustee shall not at any time have any responsibility for the same and none of the Bondholders shall rely on the Trustee in respect thereof.

The initial Agents and their initial Specified Offices are listed below. The Issuer reserves the right (with the prior approval of the Trustee) at any time to vary or terminate the appointment of any Agent and to appoint a successor registrar or principal paying agent and additional or successor paying agents and transfer agents; provided, however, that the Issuer shall at all times maintain a principal paying agent and a registrar.

Notice of any change in any of the Agents or in their Specified Offices shall promptly be given to the Bondholders by the Issuer.

12. MEETINGS OF BONDHOLDERS; MODIFICATION AND WAIVER

- (a) Meetings of Bondholders: The Trust Deed contains provisions for convening meetings of Bondholders to consider matters relating to the Bonds, including the modification of any provision of these Conditions, the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement or the Standby Letter of Credit. Any such modification may be made if sanctioned by an Extraordinary Resolution. Such a meeting may be convened by the Issuer or the Trustee and shall be convened by the Trustee upon the request in writing of Bondholders holding not less than one-tenth of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Bonds, and subject to the Trustee being indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction. The quorum at any meeting convened to vote on an Extraordinary Resolution will be two or more persons holding or representing more than half of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Bonds or, at any adjourned meeting, two or more persons being or representing Bondholders whatever the principal amount of the Bonds held or represented; provided, however, that certain proposals (including any proposal to change any date fixed for payment of principal or interest in respect of the Bonds, to reduce the amount of principal or interest payable on any date in respect of the Bonds, to alter the method of calculating the amount of any payment in respect of the Bonds or the date for any such payment, to modify any of Condition 1(c) (Standby Letter of Credit), Condition 1(d) (Pre-funding) or Condition 3 (Covenants), to change the currency of payments under the Bonds, to effect the exchange, conversion or substitution of the Bonds for other obligations or securities, to modify or release the Standby Letter of Credit or to change the governing law of the Standby Letter of Credit (except as necessary to provide for the issuance of further Bonds in accordance with Condition 14 (Further Issues)) or to change the quorum requirements relating to meetings or the majority required to pass an Extraordinary Resolution (each, a “Reserved Matter”)) may only be sanctioned by an Extraordinary Resolution passed at a meeting of Bondholders at which two or more persons holding or representing not less than three-quarters or, at any adjourned meeting, one quarter of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Bonds form a quorum. Any Extraordinary Resolution duly passed at any such meeting shall be binding on all the Bondholders, whether present or not.

In addition, a resolution in writing signed by or on behalf of Bondholders holding not less than 90 per cent. of the aggregate principal amount of the Bonds outstanding who for the time being are entitled to receive notice of a meeting of Bondholders under the Trust Deed will take effect as if it were an Extraordinary Resolution. Such a resolution in writing may be contained in one document or several documents in the same form, each signed by or on behalf of one or more Bondholders or by way of electronic consents communicated through the electronic communications systems of the relevant clearing system(s) in accordance with their operating rules and procedures by or on behalf of the Bondholders.

So long as the Bonds are represented by the Global Bond Certificate, Extraordinary Resolution includes a consent given by way of electronic consents through the relevant clearing system(s) (in a form satisfactory to the Trustee) by or on behalf of all the Bondholders of not less than 90 per cent. in aggregate principal amount of the Bonds for the time being outstanding.

- (b) Modification and waiver: The Trustee may, without the consent of the Bondholders, agree to any modification of these Conditions, the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement or the Standby Letter of Credit (other than in respect of a Reserved Matter) which is, in the opinion of the Trustee, not materially prejudicial to the interests of Bondholders and to any modification of the Bonds, the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement or the Standby Letter of Credit which is of a formal, minor or technical nature or is to correct a manifest error.

In addition, the Trustee may, without the consent of the Bondholders, authorise or waive any proposed breach or breach of the Bonds, the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement or the Standby Letter of Credit (other than a proposed breach or breach relating to the subject of a Reserved Matter) if, in the opinion of the Trustee, the interests of the Bondholders will not be materially prejudiced thereby.

Any such authorisation, waiver or modification shall be binding on the Bondholders and, unless the Trustee agrees otherwise, shall be notified by the Issuer to the Bondholders and the Rating Agency as soon as practicable thereafter.

- (c) Directions from Bondholders: Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these Conditions or the Trust Deed, whenever the Trustee is required or entitled by the terms of these Conditions, the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement or the Standby Letter of Credit to exercise any discretion or power, take any action, make any decision or give any direction or certification, the Trustee is entitled, prior to exercising any such discretion or power, taking any such action, making any such decision, or giving any such direction or certification, to seek directions or clarifications from the Bondholders by way of an Extraordinary Resolution and shall have been indemnified and/or secured and/or pre-funded to its satisfaction against all action, proceedings, claims and demands to which it may be or become liable and all costs, charges, damages, expenses (including legal expenses) and liabilities which may be incurred by it in connection therewith, and the Trustee is not responsible for any loss or liability incurred by any person as a result of any delay in it exercising such discretion or power, taking such action, making such decision, or giving such direction or certification where the Trustee is seeking such directions or clarifications, or in the event that no such directions or clarifications are received by the Trustee.
- (d) Certificates and Reports: The Trustee may rely without liability to Bondholders on a report, advice, an opinion, a confirmation or a certificate from any lawyers, valuers, accountants (including auditors and surveyors), financial advisers, financial institution or any other expert, whether or not addressed to it and whether their liability in relation thereto is limited (by its terms or by any engagement letter relating thereto or in any other manner) by reference to a monetary cap, methodology or otherwise. The Trustee may accept and shall be entitled to rely on any such report, confirmation, opinion or certificate or advice and, in such event, such report, confirmation, certificate, opinion or advice shall be binding on the Issuer and the Bondholders.

13. ENFORCEMENT

The Trustee may at any time, at its discretion and without notice, institute such actions, steps or proceedings as it thinks fit to enforce its rights under the Trust Deed and the Standby Letter of Credit in respect of the Bonds, but it shall not be bound to do so unless:

- (a) it has been so requested in writing by the Holders of at least one-quarter of the aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Bonds or has been so directed by an Extraordinary Resolution; and
- (b) it has been indemnified and/or pre-funded and/or provided with security to its satisfaction.

No Bondholder may proceed directly against the Issuer or the LC Bank unless the Trustee, having become bound to do so, fails to do so within a reasonable time and such failure is continuing.

14. FURTHER ISSUES

The Issuer may from time to time, without the consent of the Bondholders and in accordance with the Trust Deed, create and issue further bonds having the same terms and conditions as the Bonds in all respects (or in all respects except for the Issue Date, the issue price, the first payment of interest, and the timing of the NDRC Post-Issuance Filing, respectively) so as to form a single series with the Bonds. However, such further securities may only be issued if (i) a further or supplemental standby letter of credit is issued by the LC Bank (or an amendment is made to the Standby Letter of Credit) on terms that are substantially similar to the Standby Letter of Credit (including that the stated amount of such further or supplemental standby letter of credit is at least equal to the sum of the principal of and an amount equal to one interest payment due on such further securities up to the maturity date of such securities plus 30 days) and any fees, costs, expenses, indemnity payments and all other amounts in connection with such issue (subject to a cap (if any) as agreed between the Issuer and the Trustee) and (ii) such supplemental documents are executed and further opinions are obtained as the Trustee may require, as further set out in the Trust Deed. References to the Standby Letter of Credit shall thereafter include such further standby letter of credit. The Issuer may from time to time create and issue other series of bonds having the benefit of the Trust Deed.

15. NOTICES

Notices to the Bondholders will be sent to them by uninsured mail at their respective addresses on the Register. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the fourth day after the date of mailing.

Until such time as any individual Bond Certificates are issued and so long as the Global Bond Certificate is held in its entirety on behalf of Euroclear and Clearstream, any notice to the Bondholders shall be validly given by the delivery of the relevant notice to Euroclear and Clearstream for communication by the relevant clearing system to entitled accountholders in substitution for notification as required by the Conditions and shall be deemed to have been given on the date of delivery to such clearing system.

16. CURRENCY INDEMNITY

If any sum due from the Issuer in respect of the Bonds or any order or judgment given or made in relation thereto has to be converted from the currency (the “first currency”) in which the same is payable under these Conditions or such order or judgment into another currency (the “second currency”) for the purpose of (a) making or filing a claim or proof against the Issuer, (b) obtaining an order or judgment in any court or other tribunal or (c) enforcing any order or judgment given or made in relation to the Bonds, the Issuer shall indemnify the Trustee and each Bondholder, on the written demand of the Trustee or such Bondholder addressed to the Issuer and delivered to the Issuer or to the Specified Office of the Principal Paying Agent, against any loss suffered as a result of any discrepancy between (i) the rate of exchange used for such purpose to convert the sum in question from the first currency into the second currency and (ii) the rate or rates of exchange at which the Trustee or such Bondholder may in the ordinary course of business purchase the first currency with the second currency upon receipt of a sum paid to it in satisfaction, in whole or in part, of any such order, judgment, claim or proof.

This indemnity constitutes a separate and independent obligation of the Issuer and shall give rise to a separate and independent cause of action.

17. GOVERNING LAW AND JURISDICTION

- (a) Governing law: The Bonds, the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement and the Standby Letter of Credit and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection therewith shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, English law.
- (b) Jurisdiction: The Issuer has in the Trust Deed (i) agreed that the courts of Hong Kong shall have exclusive jurisdiction to settle any dispute (a “Dispute”) arising out of or in connection with the Bonds (including any non-contractual obligation arising out of or in connection with the Bonds); (ii) agreed that those courts are the most appropriate and convenient courts to settle any Dispute and, accordingly, that it will not argue that any other courts are more appropriate or convenient; (iii) agreed to receive service of process in Hong Kong in relation to this Agreement at the Issuer’s principal place of business in Hong Kong, currently at Suite 1406-8, 14th Floor, New World Tower, Queen’s Road Central, Central, Hong Kong, and such service shall be deemed completed on delivery to such agent (whether or not it is forwarded to and received by the Issuer); (iv) consented to the enforcement of any judgment; and (v) to the extent that it may in any jurisdiction claim for itself or its assets or revenues immunity from suit, execution, attachment (whether in aid of execution, before judgment or otherwise) or other legal process, and to the extent that in any such jurisdiction there may be attributed to itself or its assets or revenues such immunity (whether or not claimed), agreed not to claim and irrevocably waived such immunity to the full extent permitted by the laws of such jurisdiction.

SUMMARY OF PROVISIONS RELATING TO THE BONDS IN GLOBAL FORM

The Global Certificate contains provisions which apply to the Bonds while they are in global form, some of which modify the effect of the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds set out in this offering circular. The following is a summary of certain of those provisions.

Terms defined in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds set out in this offering circular have the meaning in the paragraphs below.

The Bonds will be represented by a Global Certificate which will be registered in the name of a nominee of, and deposited with, a common depository on behalf of Euroclear and Clearstream.

Under the Global Certificate, the Issuer, for value received, will promise to pay such principal, interest and premium (if any) on the Bonds to the holder of the Bonds on such date or dates as the same may become payable in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds.

Owners of interests in the Bonds in respect of which the Global Certificate is issued will be entitled to have title to the Bonds registered in their names and to receive individual definitive Certificates if either Euroclear or Clearstream or any other clearing system (an “Alternative Clearing System”) through which the Bonds are held is closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of holidays, statutory or otherwise) or announces an intention permanently to cease business or does in fact do so.

The individual definitive Certificates will be issued in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of the Global Certificate. Such exchange will be effected in accordance with the provisions of the Trust Deed, the Agency Agreement and the regulations concerning the transfer and registration of the Bonds scheduled thereto and, in particular, shall be effected without charge to any holder of the Bonds or the Trustee, but against such indemnity and/or security and/or pre-funding as the Registrar or the relevant Agent may require in respect of any tax or other duty of whatsoever nature which may be levied or imposed in connection with such exchange.

The Issuer will cause sufficient individual definitive Certificates to be executed and delivered to the Registrar for completion, authentication and despatch to the relevant holders of the Bonds. A person with an interest in the Bonds in respect of which the Global Certificate is issued must provide the Registrar not less than 30 days’ notice at its specified office of such holder’s intention to effect such exchange and a written order containing instructions and such other information as the Issuer and the Registrar may require to complete, execute and deliver such individual definitive Certificates.

In addition, the Global Certificate will contain provisions which modify the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds as they apply to the Bonds evidenced by the Global Certificate. The following is a summary of certain of those provisions:

PAYMENT

So long as the Bonds are represented by the Global Certificate, each payment in respect of the Global Certificate will be made to, or to the order of, the person shown as the holder of the Bonds in the Register at the close of business (of the relevant clearing system) on the Clearing System Business Day immediately prior to the due date for such payments, where “Clearing System Business Day” means Monday to Friday, inclusive, except 25 December and 1 January.

CALCULATION OF INTEREST

So long as the Bonds are represented by a Global Certificate and such Global Certificate is held on behalf of a clearing system, the Issuer has promised, inter alia, to pay interest in respect of such Bonds from the Issue Date in arrear at the rates, on the dates for payment, and in accordance with the method of calculation provided for in the Conditions, save that the calculation is made in respect of the total aggregate amount of the Bonds represented by such Global Certificate.

NOTICES

So long as the Bonds are represented by the Global Certificate and the Global Certificate is held on behalf of Euroclear or Clearstream or any Alternative Clearing System, notices to holders of the Bonds shall be given by delivery of the relevant notice to Euroclear or Clearstream or such Alternative Clearing System, for communication by it to accountholders entitled to an interest in the Bonds in substitution for notification as required by the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds.

MEETINGS

For the purposes of any meeting of Bondholders, holders of the Bonds represented by the Global Certificate shall (unless the Global Certificate represents only one Bond) be treated as two persons for the purposes of any quorum requirements of a meeting of Bondholders and as being entitled to one vote in respect of each US$1,000 in principal amount of Bonds for which the Global Certificate is issued. The Global Certificate shall not become valid for any purpose until authenticated by or on behalf of the Registrar.

BONDHOLDER'S REDEMPTION

The Bondholder's redemption option in Condition 5(c) (Redemption for Change of Control Triggering Event) of the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds may be exercised by holders of the Bonds represented by the Global Certificate giving notice to the Principal Paying Agent of the principal amount of Bonds in respect of which the option is exercised within the time limits specified in the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds.

ISSUER'S REDEMPTION

The option of the Issuer provided for in Condition 5(b) (Redemption for Tax Reasons) of the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds shall be exercised by the Issuer giving notice to the Bondholders within the time limits set out in and containing the information required by the Terms and Conditions of the Bonds.

TRANSFERS

Transfers of interests in the Bonds will be effected through the records of Euroclear and Clearstream (or any Alternative Clearing System) and their respective participants in accordance with the rules and procedures of Euroclear and Clearstream (or any Alternative Clearing System) and their respective direct and indirect participants.

CANCELLATION

Cancellation of any Bond by the Issuer following its redemption or purchase by the Issuer or its respective Subsidiaries will be effected by a reduction in the principal amount of the Bonds in the register of Bondholders.

TRUSTEE'S POWERS

In considering the interests of Bondholders while the Global Certificate is registered in the name of a nominee for a clearing system, the Trustee may, to the extent it considers it appropriate to do so in the circumstances, but without being obligated to do so, (a) have regard to any information as may have been made available to it by or on behalf of the relevant clearing system or its operator as to the identity of its accountholders (either individually or by way of category) with entitlements in respect of the Bonds and (b) consider such interests on the basis that such accountholders were the holders of the Bonds in respect of which the Global Certificate is issued.

The Global Certificate shall not become valid for any purpose until authenticated by or on behalf of the Registrar.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The gross proceeds from this offering without deducting the subscription discounts and commissions and other estimated expenses payable in connection with this offering, will be U.S.$400 million. We intend to use the net proceeds to refinance existing indebtedness in accordance with our Green Financing Framework as described under this offering circular titled “Bonds Being Issued as Green Bonds.”

We may adjust the foregoing stated use of proceeds in response to changing market conditions, circumstances such as failure to obtain requisite approvals, changes in governmental policies which would render any of the above property developments commercially unviable, and force majeure. In these situations, we will carefully evaluate the situation and may reallocate the use of proceeds. The use of proceeds of the Bonds will be in compliance with the description under this offering circular titled “Bonds Being Issued as Green Bonds.”

BONDS BEING ISSUED AS GREEN BONDS

PURPOSE

Our Green Financing Framework (the “GFF”) has been developed to demonstrate how we will enter into Green Financing Transactions (the “GFTs”) to fund new and existing projects and businesses with environmental and social benefits in alignment with the ICMA principles: we will align the bonds issued under our GFF with the 2021 Green Bond Principles (“GBP”); we will align the loans entered into under our GFF with the 2021 Green Loan Principles including Guidance Notes (“GLP”); and we aim to align with other applicable principles for other Green Financing Transactions. Green Financing Transactions include the issuance of bonds, loans and other forms of debt financing with structure tailored to sustainable development. Our GFF has been made public on our website.

ASSERTIONS FROM MANAGEMENT

For each Green Financing Transaction issued, we assert that it will adopt: (1) use of proceeds; (2) project evaluation and selection; (3) management of proceeds, and (4) reporting, as set out in our Green Financing Framework.

(1) USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds of each Green Financing Transaction will be used to fund or refinance, in whole or in part, new or existing “Eligible Green Projects.”

“Eligible Green Projects” refers to projects that meet one or more of the following categories of eligibility as recognized in the GBP:

- (a) Green Buildings: new construction and/or renovation/refurbishment of existing buildings that have or will receive the applicable certification in accordance with any one of the following selected certification systems:
 - U.S. Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (“LEED”): minimum certification of ‘Gold’; or
 - Building Environmental Assessment Method (“BEAM Plus”): minimum certification of ‘Gold’; or
 - Building Research Establishment Environmental Assessment Method (“BREEAM”): minimum level of ‘Excellent’; or
 - Chinese Green Building Evaluation Label: minimum certification level of ‘2-Star’; or
 - Any other appropriate green building label that is an equivalent standard as the above.
- (b) Sustainable Water Management: water saving features projects to reduce domestic and commercial water consumption (e.g. rainwater harvester and irrigation system with water-saving features) that shall result in certain improvement against the development’s original water consumption.
- (c) Renewable Energy: design, construction, installation and operation of renewable energy systems, including solar (photovoltaic) for rooftop.
- (d) Clean Transportation: infrastructure for clean energy vehicles such as electric vehicles and hydrogen vehicles.
- (e) Climate Change Adaption: support climate change adaptation through building/landscape design and asset-level enhancements, such as “sponge city” water management design concept, hardware installation and upgrades of enhanced flood protection systems and additional insulation.

(2) PROJECT EVALUATION AND SELECTION

Eligible Green Projects will be selected by the ESG Working Group formed by representatives from the Board of Directors Office, Human Resources Center, Marketing and Services Center, Product Management Center, Research & Development and Design Center, Operation Management Center and Finance and Treasury Center in accordance to the criteria defined in the Green Financing Framework. Selected Eligible Projects will be reviewed on an annual basis.

(3) MANAGEMENT OF PROCEEDS

We will track the net proceeds using an internal register to keep track of the use of proceeds for each Green Financing Transaction and will record the following information:

- (a) Type of funding transaction, including details such as the issuer/borrower entity, the transaction date, number of transactions, principal amount of proceeds, repayment or amortization profile, maturity date, interest or coupon and ISIN number (in case of a bond transaction).
- (b) Allocation of use of proceeds, including the name and description of each Eligible Project to which the proceeds of GFT have been allocated to in accordance with our GFF, amount of proceeds allocated to each Eligible Project, the balance of unallocated proceeds and information of temporary investments for the unallocated proceeds.

We will use our best efforts to allocate the proceeds from the GFT to Eligible Projects exclusively within one year of the GFT transaction date. Pending allocation to Eligible Projects, the net proceeds from each Green Finance Transaction issued may be invested in cash or cash equivalents, or used to repay existing borrowings under our general credit facilities. If a project ceases to be an Eligible Project while a GFT is outstanding, we will relocate the net proceeds previously allocated to such project to one or more replacement Eligible Projects as soon as reasonably practicable.

(4) REPORTING

We will provide information on the allocation of the net proceeds from outstanding GFTs on our website and/or our annual report, ESG or sustainability report. Such information will be provided on an annual basis until all the net proceeds have been fully allocated.

- (a) Allocation Reporting: We will provide below information for the net proceeds of GFTs during the period:
 - The aggregate amount allocated to various Eligible Projects;
 - The remaining balance of funds which have not yet been allocated and type of temporary investment;
 - Share of financing vs. refinancing; and
 - Examples of Eligible Projects (subject to confidentiality disclosures).
- (b) Impact Reporting: Where possible, we will report on the environmental and social impacts resulting from Eligible Projects. Subject to the nature of Eligible Projects and availability of information, we aim to include, but not limited to, the following impact indicators:
 - Green Buildings: level of certification; energy efficiency gains in megawatt-hours or percentage vs. baseline; estimated avoided greenhouse gas (“GHG”) emissions (tonnes of CO₂ equivalent); annual energy savings (megawatt-hours per annum); annual reduction in water consumption (liters).

- Sustainable Water Management: amount of water recycled (liters); and amount of water reused (liters).

- Clean Transportation: number of charging points for electric vehicles.
- Climate Change Adaptation: number and type of adaptation and resilience measures installed; and number of adaptation facilities adopted, such as the number of flood prevention facilities built.

We have engaged Vigeo Eiris, an independent firm that specializes in rating environmental and corporate governance performance, to provide an external review in form of a Second Party Opinion (“SPO”) on our Green Financing Framework and to confirm the alignment with the GBP/GLP. The SPO is available on our website.

EXCHANGE RATE INFORMATION

China

The PBOC sets and publishes daily a central parity exchange rate with reference primarily to the supply and demand of Renminbi against a basket of currencies in the market during the previous day. The PBOC also takes into account other factors, such as the general conditions existing in the international foreign exchange markets. Since 1994, the conversion of Renminbi into foreign currencies, including Hong Kong dollars and U.S. dollars, has been based on rates set by the PBOC, which are set daily based on the previous day's interbank foreign exchange market rates and current exchange rates in the world financial markets. From 1994 to 20 July 2005, the official exchange rate for the conversion of Renminbi to U.S. dollars was generally stable. Although the PRC government introduced policies in 1996 to reduce restrictions on the convertibility of Renminbi into foreign currencies for current account items, conversion of Renminbi into foreign exchange for capital items, such as foreign direct investment, loan principals and securities trading, still requires the approval of SAFE and other relevant authorities. On 21 July 2005, the PRC government introduced a managed floating exchange rate system to allow the value of the Renminbi to fluctuate within a regulated band based on market supply and demand and by reference to a basket of currencies. The PBOC has enlarged the floating band several times since then to increase the Chinese currency's exchange rate flexibility. The PRC government may, in the future, may make further adjustments to the exchange rate system. The PBOC authorized the China Foreign Exchange Trading Centre, effective since 4 January 2006, to announce the central parity exchange rate of certain foreign currencies against the Renminbi on each business day. This rate is set as the central parity for the trading against the Renminbi in the inter-bank foreign exchange spot market and the over-the-counter exchange rate for the following business day. On 11 August 2015, the PBOC announced an adjustment to the central parity mechanism of quoting Renminbi RMB against the U.S. dollar, as a step towards allowing a more market-based determination of the Renminbi exchange rate. In May 2017, in order to moderately hedge the cyclical fluctuations in market sentiment, the core members of the foreign exchange market self-regulatory mechanism adjusted the RMB-to-US dollar exchange rate quotation model from the original "closing price + a basket of currency exchange rate changes" to "closing price + a basket of currency exchange rate changes + counter-cyclic factor" based on the principle of marketization. In January 2018, as China's cross-border capital flows and foreign exchange supply and demand became more balanced, the banks which quote the central parity rate of RMB-to-US dollar exchange rate successively adjusted the "counter-cyclic factor" to neutral based on their own judgments on economic fundamentals and market conditions. The PRC government may make further adjustments to the exchange rate system in the future.

Hong Kong

The Hong Kong dollar is freely convertible into other currencies, including the U.S. dollar. Since 17 October 1983, the Hong Kong dollar has been linked to the U.S. dollar at the rate of HK$7.80 to U.S.$1.00. The Basic Law of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China (the “Basic Law”), which came into effect on 1 July 1997, provides that no foreign exchange control policies shall be applied in Hong Kong.

The market exchange rate of the Hong Kong dollar against the U.S. dollar continues to be determined by the forces of supply and demand in the foreign exchange market. However, against the background of the fixed rate system which applies to the issuance and withdrawal of Hong Kong currency in circulation, the market exchange rate has not deviated significantly from the level of HK$7.80 to U.S.$1.00. In May 2005, the Hong Kong Monetary Authority broadened the 22-year-old trading band from the original rate of HK$7.80 per U.S. dollar to a rate range of HK$7.75 to HK$7.85 per U.S. dollar. The Hong Kong government has indicated its intention to maintain the link within that rate range. Under the Basic Law, the Hong Kong dollar will continue to circulate and remain freely convertible. The Hong Kong government has also stated that it has no intention of imposing exchange controls in Hong Kong and that the Hong Kong dollar will remain freely convertible into other currencies, including the U.S. dollar. However, no assurance can be given that the Hong Kong government will maintain the link with the current rate range or at all.

- (2) EBITDA for any period consists of profit for the year before financial derivatives, interest income, interest expenses (including capitalized interest under cost of sales), income tax expenses, depreciation and amortization expenses and other non-operating items. EBITDA is not a standard measure under IFRS. EBITDA is a widely used financial indicator of a company's ability to service and incur debt. EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or construed as an alternative to cash flows, net income or any other measure of financial performance or as an indicator of our operating performance, liquidity, profitability or cash flows generated by operating, investing or financing activities. EBITDA does not account for taxes, interest expense or other non-operating cash expenses. In evaluating EBITDA, we believe that investors should consider, among other things, the components of EBITDA such as sales and operating expenses and the amount by which EBITDA exceeds capital expenditures and other charges. We have included EBITDA because we believe it is a useful supplement to cash flow data as a measure of our performance and our ability to generate cash flow from operations to cover debt service and taxes. EBITDA presented herein may not be comparable to similarly titled measures presented by other companies. Investors should not compare our EBITDA to EBITDA presented by other companies because not all companies use the same definition.
- (3) EBITDA margin is calculated by dividing EBITDA by revenue.

BUSINESS

Overview

We are one of the leading property developers in the PRC. We offer a wide range of high quality housing such as villas, low-rise, multi-story and high-rise residential apartments, urban complexes, integrated communities, as well as hotels and commercial property. Since our establishment in 1995 as a private real-estate developer in Hangzhou, we have been based in Zhejiang Province, one of the most economically vibrant provinces in the PRC. With property projects covering most of the economically prosperous cities such as Hangzhou, Ningbo, Taizhou, Shaoxing and other cities in Zhejiang Province, we have achieved significant scale and built a strong reputation. We have successfully set foot in other important cities in the PRC, including Shanghai, Anhui and Jiangsu in the Yangtze River Delta Area, Shandong, Beijing, Hebei, Liaoning and Tianjin in the Bohai Rim Area, Guangdong in the Greater Bay Area, Hunan, Hubei and Jiangxi in the middle reaches of the Yangtze River Area, Chongqing and Sichuan in the Chengdu-Chongqing Area, as well as other provincial cities and areas such as Hainan, Shaanxi, Heilongjiang, Henan, Xinjiang, Fujian and Yunnan. We also recently expanded our presence overseas to Jakarta, Indonesia, Coquitlam Canada and Seattle, Washington, USA. For 17 consecutive years, from 2005 to 2021, we were recognized as one of the top 10 Chinese real estate enterprises by comprehensive strength and one of the top 10 largest Chinese real estate enterprises by three authoritative institutions, namely the Development Research Center of the State Council, The Institute of Real Estate Studies at Tsinghua University and The China Index Academy. As at 30 June 2021, these three authoritative institutions have also recognized us as a leading brand among Chinese real estate enterprises based on customer satisfaction for nine consecutive years. In 2020, we received a number of other awards and recognitions, including “China’s Real Estate Industry Competitiveness Benchmark Enterprises”, and “China’s Real Estate Branded Enterprises by Contribution”. In 2021, we were ranked as No.1 among top “Chinese Real Estate Enterprises with Excellent Product Strength” and ranked among “Top 10 Among 100 China Real Estate By Brand Value 2021” and the “Top 10 Brands of Chinese Real Estate Companies (Mixed Ownership),” an award we have received for 18 consecutive years from 2004 to 2021. We believe our quality properties, unique architectural aesthetics and customer-focused residential services have enabled us to establish and maintain a leading position in the real estate industry in the PRC.

Our focus is on first-tier and second-tier cities as well as quality third-tier and fourth-tier cities, with an emphasis on creating and developing unique projects such as featured towns, sports projects and transit-oriented development (“TOD”) projects. As at 30 June 2021, we had a total of 251 projects at various stages of development in various provinces, autonomous regions and direct-controlled municipalities, including the Yangtze River Delta Area, the Bohai Rim Area, the Greater Bay Area, the middle reaches of the Yangtze River Area, the Chengdu-Chongqing Area, other areas in China and overseas (including Jakarta, Indonesia, Coquitlam, Canada and Seattle, Washington, USA). As at 30 June 2021, our 251 projects comprise a total GFA of 60.34 million sq.m., of which 34.95 million sq.m. was attributable to the Group. See “—Overview of Our Property Developments and Land Bank” for further details.

We are a mixed ownership enterprise and in addition to our property development business, we engage in light asset businesses including project management, living services and architecture technology businesses. We have constructed more than 800 property communities and the scope of our business covers more than 20 provinces, autonomous regions and direct-controlled municipalities. We believe we can leverage on our experience in developing high quality projects and accumulated operational capabilities for further expansion.

We commenced our project management business in September 2010, comprising commercial project management, government project management and capital project management. Since then, we have taken steps to expand this business with the acquisition of Greentown Dingyi Real Estate Investment Management Company Limited and Greentown Shidai City Construction & Development Company Limited in September 2015 to establish Greentown Project Management Group (“Greentown Project Management”). In June 2016, we undertook a restructuring of Bluetown Property Construction Management Group Co., Ltd. (“Bluetown”), which included the integration of the project management business of Bluetown with Greentown Project Management, further expanding its scale. We believe we are one of the leading companies in the project management industry in the PRC based on size, including the total GFA of projects under management, revenue and sales, and that the resources of the Group's network has helped us to deliver brand value and management expertise that have been well received in the real estate market. For example, the Group has been named "Leading Enterprise in Real Estate Project Management Operation in China" (中國房地產代建運營優秀企業) for five consecutive years (as of 2021), has won an "Annual CSR Contribution Award" (年度CSR貢獻獎) for three consecutive years (as of 2019) and was awarded "Annual Influential Business Model Award" (年度影響力商業模式大獎) for two consecutive years (as of 2019). Leveraging our construction capabilities and high quality products and through implementing standardized operations, the scale of our project management business expanded consistently. As at 30 June 2021, Greentown Project Management had a total of 334 projects under management, with a planned total GFA of approximately 84.00 million sq.m. On 10 July 2020, we successfully spun off and listed Greentown Project Management on SEHK. Since its listing, Greentown Project Management consolidated its marketing leading position in the project management industry, continued to implement our asset-light strategy and enhanced the business synergy between our heavy asset and light asset businesses.

In January 2019, in line with the Group's plan to transition from a traditional property developer to a comprehensive, integrated services provider, and to further optimize our organizational structure, promote hierarchical and systematic management and improve management efficiency, we consolidated the businesses of our subsidiaries by reducing the number of our subsidiaries from 16 to 11 to form an "8+3" structure, which encompasses light assets and heavy assets. Light assets include project management, asset management, housing 4S and quality living services, and heavy assets include property investment and development, and unique town development. In 2019, we also established four new divisions, namely, real estate, town development, financial and commerce management divisions to coordinate resources at all levels and enhance operational efficiency, in addition to the seven functional divisions at the group level (which we collectively referred to as a "7+4" internal structure). Using a three-tier management structure of "Group-region-project," we appointed senior executives to also take on the role as Chairman of our regional companies, which we plan to use to manage projects in designated regions to promote business integration and optimize work allocation. To improve the efficiency of our human resources, in 2020, we formed 30 project groups under a management and control system that facilitates business integration, which we believe has enhanced our operational efficiency and promoted internal resource coordination. We believe these changes led to improvements in our turnover efficiency, helping to streamline our management structure while minimizing operating costs. In 2020, to optimize our organizational structure, we established ten business committees to streamline decision-making mechanism and improve management efficiencies. Furthermore, as an incentive to our employees, we implemented a co-investment scheme, which enables the project team to co-invest in projects and subsequently share the risk and return with us to further improve project investment quality, operational efficiency and profitability, as well as a share aware scheme. See "Management—Share Award Scheme" for further details.

Strategic Partnerships

Our founding shareholders, Wharf, CCCG and Xinhua Zhongbao collectively provide us with a strong substantial shareholder structure, typical of a mixed ownership enterprise in China’s real estate industry.

Wharf

As a result of these investments, Wharf had an interest in approximately 24.6% of the share capital of the Company. As at 30 June 2021, Wharf holds an interest in approximately 22.4% of the share capital of the Company.

Wharf, a property developer, is a Hong Kong blue-chip company with over 130 years of history. The principal business activities of Wharf and its subsidiaries are ownership of properties for development and letting, investment holding, container terminals as well as communications, media and entertainment. It is experienced in dealing with industry risk and market changes and its influence in the overseas capital market has facilitated the broadening of our financing channels and improvement of our internal financial and risk management since it became one of our largest shareholders. See “—Our Competitive Strengths—Experienced management team backed by top quality partners” and “Related Party Transactions—Framework Agreements.”

CCCG

On 23 December 2014, CCCG entered into a sale and purchase agreement with, among others, Mr. Song Weiping, Ms. Xia Yibo (the spouse of Mr. Song) and Mr. Shou Bainian (our former executive director), pursuant to which CCCG agreed to acquire an aggregate of 524,851,793 shares of the Company, representing approximately 24.3% of the share capital of the Company, from the respective companies wholly owned by Mr. Song, Ms. Xia and Mr. Shou at HK$11.46 per share and a total cash consideration of HK$6,014,801,547.78. Its strengths complements our brand value, management experience and customer recognition and we believe we will be able to benefit from various aspects with the strategic support from CCCG, such as enhancing business expansion and growth and exploring new financial channels. As at 30 June 2021, we were the sole property platform of CCCG in the overseas listing arena, and we believe we will benefit from the background of CCCG as a state-owned enterprise in terms of land acquisition, development and financing, while CCCG will be able to expand its overall real estate segment rapidly, given our market leading position and brand equity. In addition, we believe our superior operational capabilities, long-term commitment to excellent quality and customer service and widely-recognized brand will continue to reinforce our brand and market leadership, which would in turn increase the sell-through of our property products and the expansion of our non-property business.

Diversified product offering with a focus on residential properties

We have continually improved and enhanced our product mix to respond to the demands of customers and maintain our competitiveness in the market. We currently offer a diverse range of product types, including villas, flat mansions, low-rise and high-rise apartments, urban complexes and integrated community developments. We have devised a replication module, wherein we build a branded product series based on successful existing projects, and replicate new projects in other regions with additional features incorporating local elements. Many of our branded product series have received positive feedback from our customers and we believe our branded product series has strengthened our customer loyalty and solidified our brand name.

We are also actively entering into the “themed estate” market to further broaden our space for development, including urban complexes in second and third tier cities, housing estates for retired communities and tourist-oriented estates. As a result of detailed market analysis and research, we ensure that we develop projects which are suited to the demographics and market demand of each project location. Though our focus is on residential property development, we have diversified into mixed-use developments and commercial property as well as the development of unique projects such as featured towns, sports competition projects and TOD projects, being projects that are often strategically designed to maximize access to public transportation. We also generate additional recurring revenue from rental income from investment properties, property management and hotel operations. Our breadth of experience and in-depth understanding of the market have enabled us to identify prime locations and land acquisition opportunities, allowing us to build a strong project development pipeline. We have successfully accumulated a sizeable, quality land bank, which, as at 30 June 2021, consisted of 251 projects at various stages of development in various provinces, autonomous regions and direct-controlled municipalities, including the Yangtze River Delta Area (including Zhejiang, Hangzhou, Jiangsu, Anhui and Shanghai area), the Bohai Rim Area, the Greater Bay Area, the middle reaches of the Yangtze River Area, the Chengdu-Chongqing Area, other areas in China and overseas in Indonesia, Canada and the United States. As at 30 June 2021, our 251 projects comprise a total GFA of 60.34 million sq.m., of which 34.95 million sq.m. was attributable to the Group, and total saleable area amounted to 40.48 million sq.m. of which 23.36 million sq.m. was attributable to the Group. We believe that our existing land reserves are sufficient for the coming three years of development.

Prudent financial management reinforced by disciplined cost controls and acquisition strategy

We adopt a prudent financial management approach and implement disciplined cost controls with respect to project development in order to maximize profitability. We closely monitor our capital position and carefully manage our land acquisitions, construction costs and operating expenses. We believe that through centralizing the procurement of building materials and standardizing construction and decoration costs for projects in different price segments, we are able to effectively control our construction costs. For example, in 2018, we effectively carried out measures to make our products more “standardized, industrialized, technology-based, and environmentally friendly,” shorten the construction period of our projects and reduce construction costs while ensuring product quality. In 2019, through centralized strategic procurement, we procured 70 product categories (representing a year-on-year increase of 16 categories), and reduced prices by 6% to 20%, generating cost savings of RMB126 million. In the first half of 2021, through a number of cost optimization measures, as well as strategic cooperation initiatives and centralized supply chain procurement, we utilized 97% of materials procured through centralized procurement, and our overall construction cost was 1.5% lower than our target.

Experienced management team backed by top quality partners

Our senior management team members have extensive experience in the PRC real estate industry and expertise in project development and business management. We believe that our highly experienced senior management members will enable us to maintain the growth of our business. We continually seek to attract and retain management talent in accordance with our aim to further expand our business operations.

Our strong brand name and consistent track record has enabled us to form partnerships with top quality corporations, including strategic partners such as CCCG, Wharf and Xinhua Zhongbao and other established JV partners. Our strategic partnerships bring and will continue to bring synergies to our operations by strengthening our financial position and providing joint development opportunities. For example, in the past three years, with the support of our substantial shareholders, including our strategic partners, we have continuously optimized our corporate governance structure and management structure, which we believe has improved our results of operations. In particular, we believe the directors and management assigned to us by CCCG have integrated well with us, and contribute to maintaining our corporate characteristics, improving our corporate and promoting strategic development, among other things. We have also successfully co-established a joint venture platform with Wharf (the “Green-Wharf Platform”) and co-developed multiple projects with Wharf. We believe the strategic partnership with Xinhua Zhongbao could benefit both parties in terms of land acquisition and project development, which facilitates the consolidation of our leading position as a national real estate developer. See “—Strategic Partnerships.”

Our Business Strategies

We aim to be an “ideal life” integrated service provider in China by focusing on qualities such as attention to detail, exquisiteness of products, and sincerity in service to continuously improve customers’ satisfaction. The quality of our products is our key guiding principle. At the same time, we will continue to focus on being customer-oriented.

In late 2020, in response to the changes in regulations and industry dynamics, we formulated the Strategic 2025 plan. Pursuant to our Strategic 2025 plan, our core strategic objective is to thrive through expansion in scale and grow through improvement in quality. We aim to focus on building ourselves as the “quality benchmark among the Top 10,” and maintaining our leading position in product innovation, product quality customer satisfaction and overall performance.

Continuously promote our brand image through improving the quality of products and services

Through meticulous project design and management and quality control, we will continue to improve the quality of the Company’s products. At the same time, we will continue to promote the “estate community life services system” by improving the range of our services and the living quality of the residents in order to maintain our brand image and market leading position in terms of residents’ satisfaction. In 2018, our brand building efforts included the roll-out of our first “Greentown Life Developers Conference,” which we used as a model for comprehensive brand building in 11 newly developed cities and the implementation of four community living service systems. In 2019, we systematically sorted out our product families and completed a comprehensive product categorization covering eight product series, 22 product categories and 22 product styles with an aim to standardize the design, development and quality of our products. In the first half of 2021, we jointly published the Greentown China Technical Guidance Manual for Prefabricated Interior Decoration with China Institute of Building Standard Design and Research, which we believe will help establish our standards as the benchmark for the industry.

Customer and community support is a valuable asset and driver of the Company. Continuous improvement of service quality is one of our long-term development strategies. In relation to our service strategy, we plan to continue increasing our investments in projects with a high level of return attributable to services, transform our service model from a traditional property management developer to a comprehensive and ideal living services provider, and explore and implement both a service model and a commerce model within the living services industry in China. In 2019, through the second “Greentown Life Developers Conference” we launched a second version of our living service system (living service system 2.0), which aims to optimize service content through customization, improve service efficiency through commoditization, combine the online-offline experience through digitalization, and ensure continuous service throughout our commercial operations. We believe these changes will enhance our overall customer service system.

Product diversification to expand customer base and optimization of land bank

We will continue to invest a large portion of our time and efforts in strengthening our research and development, including analyzing market demand and geographical characteristics, in order to further enrich our product lines to serve different segment of customers. Under the premise of maintaining excellent quality, we will further optimize our designs and diversify our product mix to cater to the high-end, mid to high-end and mainstream market, in order to enhance the competitiveness of our products. At the same time, we also plan to expand the scale of featured projects such as ideal towns, TOD, public landmarks and resettlement housing, and gradually establish competitive barriers to gain more opportunities to obtain projects with low land prices.

We plan to continue to adopt city-specific strategies, including conducting research on target cities, and seize opportunities to strategically replenish our land bank, and form a combination of general development projects and strategic projects. We expect to evaluate potential investments and optimize our land reserves by deepening our footprint in the five major urban agglomerations (Yangtze River Delta, Greater Bay, Bohai Rim, middle reaches of Yangtze River, Chengdu-Chongqing and Central China), while further expanding around core first-tier and second-tier cities. We may also seek to replenish land resources in selected third-tier and fourth-tier cities.

In addition to leveraging the resources of our major shareholders like CCCG, Wharf and Xinhua Zhongbao and strengthening our cooperation relationship with strategic partners to form a wider range of strategic collaborations to expand our land bank, we also plan to widen our investment channels. In addition to considering investment opportunities including regional comprehensive development projects, urban renewal, industrial property projects, rural land projects, TOD projects and the execution of pilot programs for integrated development models such as industry and city integration, we plan to enhance our investment efforts and quality of our investment projects through auctions, listings and tendering as well as strengthening our capabilities for mergers and acquisitions. As of the date of this offering circular, our TOD model has been recognized by several local governments and we are focusing on TOD projects in cities such as Hangzhou, Fuzhou, Dalian, Harbin, Ningbo and Foshan.

Increased focus on scalability of the business

To further increase the scalability of our business, we plan to continue developing our existing strengths as well as widen the scope of our capabilities by placing a strong emphasis on our three main business lines, namely heavy assets, light assets and “Greentown+.” For heavy assets, we remain focused on real estate investment and development, including deepening our foothold in core cities, increasing turnover rates without sacrificing product quality, and replenishing quality land parcels in a timely manner. See “—Product diversification to expand customer base and optimization of land bank.” We have developed eight categories of products, namely, residential properties, commercial properties, urban complexes, public properties (such as hospitals and schools), social security properties, ideal towns, sports series (games villages) and Young City series (TOD projects such as Ningbo Young City), all of which are designed to stand out across different market segments. In particular, we are focused on the development of town projects and featured projects. As at 30 June 2021, we have extended our town business to 21 cities and secured 11.92 million sq.m. of planned GFA. We have accelerated the promotion of featured projects, and increased the proportion of land acquisition using an application mechanism to help us capture opportunities brought by the rapid development of railway transportation in the PRC. As at 30 June 2021, we have launched nearly 20 TOD projects featuring multi-regions, multi-categories and multi-types of businesses in various cities, such as Hangzhou, Ningbo, Fuzhou and Foshan. Furthermore, in the first half of 2021, we have successfully won the tender for four reconstruction projects of old communities in Hangzhou, signed contract for one project in Shenzhen and launched two future community projects in Quzhou and Ningbo. We seek to be a driving force for new urbanization and rural revitalization, and turn these initiatives into our new growth points.

For light assets, our focus is on real estate project management, which includes the provision of commercial and government project management services to our customers, and we seek to maintain our leading position and further achieve economies of scale and improve profitability. In addition, we aim to establish a project management sub-brand, upgrade our current project management model and improve management mechanisms to enhance the quality of our project management products and help us retain our competitive advantage in the project management industry.

For “Greentown+,” our focus is to leverage technology to strengthen the connection and integration of different segments along the real estate industry chain as well as to expand the business scale of our living services. To support our strategic plan and explore additional growth opportunities in ideal life services, we are undertaking seven emerging businesses, namely urban renewal, healthcare services, housing 4S services, living service platform, housing decoration and engineering principal contracting services and, prefabricated interior decoration services. In 2020, we and Greentown Service jointly established the “Greentown Living Services Committee (綠城生活服務委員會)”, to achieve strategic synergy, and deepen management and business integration in the living services sector.

Cost controls, financial discipline and prudent land acquisition strategy to improve profitability

We plan to continue exerting stringent controls over construction costs and land acquisition which we believe will improve our profitability. Regarding acquisition of land, we will work together with external market consultants to assess the risks and returns associated with new projects. We have also set price limits for our land acquisitions to avoid the purchase of overpriced projects, minimizing the negative impact on our overall cash flow and financial position and aimed at improving the gross profit of our development projects. In terms of construction costs, we have established an e-commerce procurement center to centralize the procurement of building materials, which will effectively lower the relevant costs. We aim to standardize construction and decoration costs for products under different price ranges through our use of the ‘Greentown Product Catalog,’ which we believe enables us to control costs more systematically. We also continue to refine our financial management and control and leverage CCCG’s financial discipline and internal control process to achieve a balance between quality and profit. We believe the optimization of cost control mechanisms, bidding and tender mechanisms and procedure supervision systems will help to improve our cost control for the whole production process and our profitability.

Optimization of the debt structure and decreasing inventory to reduce financial costs

In addition to the continuous effort to lower our gearing ratio, we are also focusing on optimizing our debt structure. We seek to reduce the level of short-term borrowings so as to balance the debt maturity profile. We will carefully explore available means of financing, and adjust the debt portfolio to lower the average cost of borrowing. Examples of offshore financing we obtained in 2020 include the issuance of two series of three-year U.S. dollar senior notes, being the 2020 July Notes and the 2020 October Notes. For our onshore financing, we issued public bonds in an aggregate amount of RMB22.295 billion with an average interest rate of 3.63% in 2020, including corporate bonds, medium-term notes, perpetual medium-term notes and balance payment asset back securities (“ABS”). We issued public bonds in an aggregate amount of RMB12.462 billion with an average interest rate of 3.73% in the first half of 2021, including corporate bonds and project revenue notes and supply chain ABS. We also aim to further improve our financing innovation capability, liquidate dormant assets, explore new financing channels and innovatively promote securitization. For example, in 2020, we issued hotel real estate investment trust (“REIT”) and supply chain ABS. Our subsidiary, Greentown Decoration Project Group also issued a private placement bonds as a debut of our “Greentown +” business in the onshore capital markets. In the first half of 2021, we issued our first project revenue notes. See “Description of Material Indebtedness and Other Obligations” for further details. We will continue to explore new financing channels and opportunities to dispose projects or part of projects that have a relatively longer payback cycle in order to improve cash flow and optimize the structure of our land bank.

We will also continue to focus on decreasing the level of our inventory to improve cash flow by implementing specific and effective measures to address the characteristics of different regions and projects. Such measures include adopting flexible pricing strategies to increase turnover rate and improve cash flow with respect to regions with higher inventory and longer turnover time. For further details of our inventory reduction in 2020, see “—Sales and Marketing.”

Contractual Arrangements

In China, land use rights can be obtained in the primary market or the secondary market. See “—Contractual Arrangements—Land Acquisition.” Land acquisitions in the secondary market are usually not subjected to the public tender, auction and listing-for-sale requirements and can be completed by agreements among the relevant parties through private negotiation. From time to time, we may enter into contractual arrangements to participate in land acquisitions or development in the secondary market. In most cases, we are required to prepay deposits, advances or other consideration under these contractual arrangements. These deposits, down payments or other consideration are unsecured obligations and have been accounted for as prepayment for proposed development projects in our consolidated financial statements.

Land Acquisition

Under current PRC laws and regulations, land use rights for the purposes of industrial use, commercial use, tourism, entertainment and commodity housing development must be granted by the government through public tender, auction or listing-for-sale. When deciding to whom to grant the land use rights, the relevant authorities will consider not only the tender price, but also the credit history and qualifications of the tenderer and its development proposal. When land use rights are granted by way of a tender, an evaluation committee consisting of no fewer than five members (including a representative of the grantor and other experts) evaluates and selects the tenders that have been submitted. If land use rights are granted by way of an auction, a public auction is held by the relevant local land bureau and the land use rights are granted to the highest bidder.

Under current PRC laws and regulations, original grantees of land use rights may sell, assign or transfer the land use rights granted to them in the secondary markets. The “primary market” commonly refers to the grant of state-owned land use rights by relevant governmental authorities, and the “secondary market” commonly refers to the acquisition of land use rights from entities or persons which hold granted land use rights. PRC laws allow grantees of land use rights to dispose of the land use rights granted to them through secondary market sales, subject to the terms and conditions of the land use rights grant contracts and relevant laws and regulations. Unless otherwise required by relevant PRC laws and regulations, land acquisition in the secondary market is not subject to mandatory public tender, auction or listing-for-sale and can be accomplished by agreement among the relevant parties.

During the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the six months ended 30 June 2021, we have successfully acquired land through the following means:

- public tender, auction and listing-for-sale organized by the relevant governmental authorities;
- acquisition of controlling equity interests in companies that possess the land use; and
- rights for targeted land.

We intend to continue to expand our land reserves for new property developments through public tender, auction, listing-for-sale as well as mergers and acquisitions.

Financing of Property Development

Historically, our main sources of funding for our property developments are internal funds, proceeds from pre-sales and sales of properties and borrowings from banks and other financial institutions. During the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the six months ended 30 June 2021, all of our payments of land premiums have been funded by internal funds and proceeds from the pre-sales of properties and debt financing. We typically use internal funds, proceeds from pre-sales and loans from PRC commercial banks to finance the construction costs for our property developments. We plan to use bank borrowings, internal funds, proceeds from the pre-sales and sales of our properties, and other cash generated from our operation to finance our future payments of property developments. From time to time, we also seek to obtain further funding to finance our project developments and may seek to obtain further funding to finance our future payments of property developments by accessing the international capital markets. During the six months ended 30 June 2021, our weighted average interest rate was 4.6% per annum, which decreased by 0.6% as compared to the corresponding period in 2020. During the year ended 31 December 2020, our weighted average interest rate was 4.9% per annum, which decreased by 0.4% as compared to 2019.

Our financing methods vary from project to project and are subject to limitations imposed by PRC regulations and monetary policies.

Project Planning and Design Work

We have an engineering and procurement division and a design management division which work with our project managers as well as external designers and architects in project planning and design phases. Our senior management is regularly involved in our land acquisition and development process, especially in the master planning and architectural design of our projects. We have established written procedures to manage our planning and design process. By implementing these procedures, we can unify planning and overall coordination. We also implement a series of review and design guidelines for our planned projects.

We engage external design firms to carry out design work for our projects according to our design standards and guidelines. We select the design firm based on an evaluation of their proposed concept designs, technical capacities and track record in developing similar projects. Our design management division coordinates and works with the selected design firms in major aspects of the design process, including product positioning, master planning, concept design, layout and architectural design, landscape design and interior design.

Our design contracts generally include a price list and basis for calculating the design fees such as price per sq.m. of GFA and dispute resolution provisions. We generally make payments in instalments according to the progress of a project and settle the balance of the contract amounts after the project has passed the requisite governmental inspections and acceptances. We adopt procedures for project monitoring and quality control during the construction process to ensure that the project construction complies with design drawings, regulations, technical standards and contract requirements.

In order to standardize our decision-making procedures, we established the Greentown China Planning and Design Committee and Engineering Quality Committee with an aim to implement a regulated and systematic decision-making process. Our founder, Mr. Song Weiping serves as the Honorary Chairman of the Planning and Design Committee. The Planning and Design Committee engages professional design companies as external experts, to jointly make decisions in relation to project planning and design and supervises product quality.

Project Management

We maintain a systematic development approach even though each project is specifically designed to cater to the target market. We have established various centralized divisions to oversee and control the major steps of our developments. These centralized divisions include the investment and development division, the engineering and procurement division, the design management division, the cost management division, the finance division and the customer services and sales division. Our investment and project development division is responsible for performing market and site analysis on the feasibility of potential projects and preparing the preliminary budget for each new project. Our engineering and procurement management division manages our material procurement and project construction. Our design management division is responsible for ensuring that construction is conducted in accordance with our planning, project design and construction drawings. Our cost management division focuses on cost control in our project development process, particularly land acquisition, project planning and design, construction and finance. Our finance division is responsible for providing senior management with the relevant cost and other financial information in relation to our operations. Our customer service and sales division works with our other centralized divisions throughout the development process to ensure that our products meet market trends and regional preferences. The involvement of these centralized divisions in the process of a project development enables us to achieve consistency in project management and synergies across our various projects.

In order to effectively carry out daily development functions in projects in various cities and regions, we have established project companies in the respective cities or regions to implement the significant strategic decisions by our centralized divisions. Our engineering and procurement division is principally responsible for managing these project companies and coordinating among the centralized divisions and regional project companies at each stage of a development project.

We plan to focus on the following areas to promote product management and strengthen cost control while maintaining the quality of our products:

- Industrialization—improve the degree of industrialization, production efficiency and quality, and foster upstream and downstream integration within the industry chain.
- Standardization—promote standardization of products and processes, and adopt a Japanese-style approach to construction management aimed at ensuring development efficiency and product quality.
- Digitalization—introduce smart home and smart community applications to new projects to improve product performance and operational efficient, and enhance customer service experience.
- Eco-friendliness—enhance eco-friendliness in the design, materials, construction, testing and other aspects of new projects.

We also plan to establish a product IP management system aimed at ensuring product innovation, as we believe the creation of a strong portfolio of product IPs will help to accelerate project turnover as well as the commercialization of our brand, products and standards and maximize the benefits of our intangible assets.

Procurement

We directly purchase certain major building materials and equipment such as aluminum alloys and elevators from suppliers and engage them for the installation of such materials and equipment. The amount paid for materials directly procured by us constitutes only a small portion of our total costs of materials because most construction materials are procured through our construction contractors. We have established a screening and bidding process to select material suppliers. We make decisions in selecting suppliers based on a set of factors including product quality, production capacity, management and implementation capability, track record and after-sales services. Our construction contractors are responsible for procuring most construction materials. For procurement of key construction materials, we typically designate a few brands which our construction contractors are required to procure.

Project Construction

We have historically contracted all of our construction work to independent construction companies. These construction companies carry out various work including foundation leveling, civil engineering construction, equipment installation, internal decoration, landscaping and various engineering work. Under relevant PRC laws and regulations, a construction company is required to hold the relevant construction qualification certificate for the type of construction it undertakes. We have guidelines for selecting construction companies and typically invite at least three qualified construction companies to bid through a tender process. We limit our selection of construction contractors to those which have obtained the relevant construction certificates and necessary licenses, including construction enterprise qualification certificates, safety permits and permits for production of industrial products. When selecting construction contractors, we consider various factors including quality and safety, reputation, track record in similar-size projects, technical and construction capabilities and proposed construction schedule and price.

The construction contracts we enter into with construction companies typically provide for the completion date of the construction projects, quality and safety requirements mandated by relevant PRC laws and regulations and our quality standards and other specifications. Our construction contracts generally provide progressive payment arrangements according to construction phases for additional quality assurance. We typically withhold 5.0% of the contract sum for one to two years after the completion of construction as the additional quality warranty retention, although in some cases up to 20.0% of the contract sum is retained. During the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the six months ended 30 June 2021, we did not experience any material problems with services provided by our third-party construction contractors.

Quality Control and Construction Supervision

We emphasize quality control and adopt our quality control procedures to ensure that our properties and services comply with relevant rules and regulations relating to quality, safety and total permitted GFA and meet market standards. We adopt written selection and specification requirements for procurement of each type of material and equipment, including brand requirements, quality, technical standards, sample inspection and random quality inspection. We impose ingredient specifications for certain important construction materials such as cement. In addition, construction materials must go through the procedures of submission, sampling and testing before they are used in our projects.

We have adopted a construction plan design manual, which sets out the general classifications and illustrative guidelines for the quality specifications and parameters of our construction projects. It contains various aspects of design requirements, including construction and decoration, structural design, power supply, drainage and air conditioning systems, as well as environmental protection matters. In addition, we have adopted a manual for the general design of residential projects, which sets out the guidelines and requirements for our residential developments by classes and standards in terms of applications, environmental and economic functions, safety, and durability.

We have formulated internal control standards and procedures to regulate all major processes and procedures in our construction works. We require external contractors to adhere to the guidelines in respect of our standards and procedures, comply with relevant PRC laws and regulations in carrying out their work, and report any deviations and instances of non-compliance. Our project engineers perform on-site supervision during our construction process and conduct progressive inspections at each construction phase. We assign evaluation teams to perform on-site evaluation reviews of our existing contractors periodically with respect to construction quality, safety control and their compliance with the relevant PRC regulations and standards relating to building materials and workmanship. We also prepare detailed quality evaluation reports for each unit of our projects after construction is completed.

In addition, we engage independent third-party supervisory companies to monitor, control and manage the construction progress of our projects, including quality, cost control, safety, quality control of construction materials and equipment, and to conduct on-site inspection. Our contracts with supervisory companies generally set out payment terms, fee calculation methods and dispute resolution provisions. The supervisory fees are generally determined either at a negotiated percentage of the total construction cost of the construction project, or according to the number of supervisory personnel deployed. We generally make progressive payments to our supervisory companies according to construction phases until they complete the relevant services.

We are not responsible for any labor problems in respect of workers employed by our contractors or accidents and injuries that may be incurred by those workers on our construction sites if such accidents or injuries were not caused by us. These risks are borne by our contractors as provided for in our contracts with them. During the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the six months ended 30 June 2021, we were not aware of any non-compliance by the construction contractors with the PRC laws and regulations relating to environmental protection, health and safety or labor disputes raised by our contractors or subcontractors.

We provide our customers with a warranty for the quality of the structure of the construction pursuant to the Measures on the Sales of Commodity Housing (商品房銷售管理辦法) and Regulations for the Operations of Urban Property Development (城市房地產開發經營管理條例). In addition, we provide a quality warranty on certain fittings and fixtures, if applicable, usually for a period of two years according to the published national standards.

To enhance the awareness of responsibility at each level and promote a systematic management and control standard, in 2019, we conducted a systematic inspection on our subsidiaries and more than 30 key projects or those with development difficulties, as well as in-depth analysis on issues regarding internal systems, mechanisms and team building. In 2020, we established a design-sharing center, which collaborates with our construction research center to help implement our design across our operations. We plan to use the results of such inspection as a basis to implement further improvements, which we expect to form a solid foundation for subsequent quality developments.

Sales and Marketing

Our sales team in our sales and customer service division is responsible for executing our overall marketing strategy and sales and product promotion plans. We provide training programs and courses to our sales staff with different levels of experience. Our sales team conducts markets analysis, prepares promotional designs and project brochures, organizes on site promotions, arranges advertising campaigns, recommends pricing, sets sales related policies and manages our customer relationships.

In the first half of 2021, we applied the marketing strategy of “all staff, all people, all aspects”, and responded actively to the unexpected epidemic and market changes with flexible marketing strategies. This included carrying out special promotion campaigns such as “Spring Plan (春天計劃)”, “Refreshing Seasons in Spring and Summer (春夏煥新季)”, and facilitating marketing promotion through online brand activities on three major online platforms. In 2020, we achieved an overall sell-through rate of 71%. We initiated various marketing campaigns to reduce inventories that are difficult to sell. We also implemented project group management in marketing to reduce costs and improve efficiency. The average sales amount per capita increased to RMB93.4 million in 2020, representing an increase of 11% from 2019. In the first half of 2021, our expenses to sales amount ratio decreased 22.2% as compared to the same period in 2020. Our average sales amount per capita is calculated by dividing the sales amount of our self-invested projects by the number of sale service system personnel, and our marketing expenses rate is calculated by dividing the annual marketing expenses of projects under management by the annual sales amount of projects under management.

Pre-Sale

In line with market practice, we pre-sell properties prior to the completion of their construction. Under applicable PRC laws and regulations, the following conditions must be met prior to commencing any pre-sale of any particular property development:

- the land premium has been fully paid and the relevant land use rights certificate has been duly issued;
- the construction land planning permit, construction works planning permit and the construction works commencement permit have been duly issued;
- the funds contributed to the property development may not be less than 25% of the total amount required to be invested in the project;
- the progress and the expected completion date and delivery date of the construction work have been ascertained; and
- a pre-sale permit has been duly issued by the relevant construction bureau or real estate administration authority.

In addition, our pre-sale activities are subject to the relevant regulations of the cities where our property projects are located. We complied with the relevant regulations in relation to the pre-sale of properties in the cities where we have undertaken pre-sale activities during the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and six months ended 30 June 2021, respectively. During the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the six months ended 30 June 2021, we did not encounter any defaults committed by our customers in pre-sales or sales contracts that had a material adverse effect on our business operations or financial condition. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Real Estate Industry in China—We are exposed to contractual, legal and regulatory risks related to pre-sales.”

Delivery and After-Sales Services

We endeavor to deliver our products to our customers in a timely manner. We closely monitor the progress of construction of our property projects and conduct pre-delivery property inspections to ensure the quality of our properties. The time frame for delivery is set out in the sale and purchase agreements entered into with our customers. Once a property project or project phase has passed the requisite inspections and is ready for delivery, our sales and customer service division will notify our customers, and together with representatives of the construction contractors and third-party supervisory companies, inspect the properties prior to delivery to ensure quality. Furthermore, our customer services and sales division generally assists the purchasers of our properties with mortgage financing applications, title registrations and obtaining their property ownership certificates.

Our after-sales services are customer-oriented. Our objective is to ensure continued customer satisfaction. Our sales and customer service division is responsible for our after-sale services for each of our various projects. We offer multiple communication channels for our customers to provide feedback and complaints about our products or services, including a customer service hotline. We also study customer satisfaction through third-party research. We also cooperate with our property management companies to handle customer complaints. We seek to make timely adjustments to products and services to meet our customers’ needs.

Payment Arrangements

Purchasers of our residential properties, including those purchasing pre-sale properties, may pay us using mortgage loans from banks. We typically require our purchasers to pay a nominal non-refundable deposit upon entering into provisional purchase contracts. If the purchasers later decide not to enter into formal sale and purchase agreements, they will forfeit such deposits. Upon executing the formal sale and purchase agreements, the purchasers are typically required to pay not less than 30% of the total purchase price of the property within five days, and the mortgagee banks will pay the remaining balance once the customers have completed the mortgage application procedures. If the purchasers choose to fund their purchases with mortgage loans provided by banks, it is their responsibility to apply for and obtain the mortgage approvals although we will assist them on an as needed basis. The payment terms of sales and pre-sales of properties are substantially identical.

Most of our customers purchase our properties with the assistance of mortgage financing. In accordance with industry practice in China, we provide guarantees to mortgagee banks in respect of the mortgage loans provided to the purchasers of our pre-sold properties. Under the guarantees, we are required to guarantee the timely repayment of the principal and interest amount of the loans by the purchasers. As a guarantor, we are jointly responsible for the payment of the mortgage loan. These guarantees are released upon the earlier of (i) the relevant property ownership certificates being delivered to the purchasers; and (ii) the settlement of mortgage loans between the mortgagee banks and the purchasers of our properties.

In line with industry practice, we do not conduct independent credit checks on our customers but rely on the credit checks conducted by the mortgagee banks. As at 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and 30 June 2021, our outstanding guarantees on mortgage loans of the purchasers of our properties amounted to RMB33,938 million, RMB35,651 million, RMB37,066 million (U.S.$5,741 million) and RMB44,187 million (U.S.$6,844 million), respectively. During the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020 and the six months ended on 30 June 2021, we did not encounter any material mortgage loan default with respect to which we were required by mortgagee banks to honor our obligations. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Business—We guarantee mortgage loans of our customers and may be liable to the mortgagee banks if our customers default on their mortgage payments.”

Hotel Operations

We have a number of hotel operations including ones which we consider to have mature operations as a result of their growing customer base. See “—Property Portfolio.” In the first half of 2021, we recorded revenue of RMB353 million (U.S.$54.7 million) from hotel operations, representing an increase of 65.7% from RMB213 million in the corresponding period, mainly due to the impact of the outbreak of COVID-19 on hotel operations. In 2020, we recorded revenue of RMB720 million (U.S.$111.5 million) from hotel operations, representing a decrease of 18.0% from RMB878 million in 2019, mainly due to the impact of the outbreak of COVID-19 on hotel operations. In 2019, we recorded revenue of RMB878 million from hotel operations, representing an increase of 13.1% from RMB776 million in 2018, mainly because Banyan Tree Anji and InterContinental Ningbo commences operations in the second half of 2018.

Investment Properties

Investment properties are properties (including the leasehold interest under an operating lease for a property which would otherwise meet the definition of an investment property) held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation. We lease out various offices and retail stores under operating leases with rentals receivable monthly. The leases typically run for an initial period of one to 20 years, with unilateral rights to extend the lease beyond the initial period held by lessees only. All our lease arrangements are denominated in the respective functional currencies of our group entities. The lease contracts do not contain residual value guarantee and/or lessee’s option to purchase the property at the end of lease term.

In the first half of 2021, our rental income from investment properties amounted to RMB91 million (U.S.$14 million), representing an increase of 35.8% from RMB67 million in the corresponding period in 2020, mainly due to some impact on the hotels and commercial operations resulted from the outbreak of COVID-19 in the corresponding period of 2020, and daily operations had resumed during the same period in 2021. In 2020, our rental income from investment properties amounted to RMB162 million (US$25.1 million), representing a decrease of 1.2% from RMB164 million in 2019, which was mainly due to some impact on the hotels and commercial operations resulted from the outbreak of COVID-19, and daily operations had gradually resumed. In 2019, our rental income from investment properties amounted to RMB164 million (U.S.$23 million), representing an increase of 92.9% from RMB85 million in 2018, which was mainly attributable to an increase in rental income of the Jinan Financial Centre (濟南金融中心) offices which commenced operation in the second half of 2018.

Competition

We believe that the property markets in Zhejiang Province and other parts of China are highly fragmented. We compete with other real estate developers based on a number of factors including product quality, service quality, price, financial resources, brand recognition and ability to acquire proper land reserves. Our existing and potential competitors include private and public developers in the PRC and Hong Kong. Our competitors may have more experience and resources than we do. We believe we maintain a competitive position with our well-known “Greentown” brand in Zhejiang Province, property projects covering most of the economically prosperous cities such as Hangzhou, Ningbo, Taizhou, Shaoxing and other cities in Zhejiang Province. Since the commencement of our national expansion strategy in 2000, we have extended our business to other important cities in the PRC, including Shanghai and Jiangsu in the Yangtze River Delta Area, Shandong, Beijing, Hebei, Liaoning and Tianjin in the Bohai Rim Area, Guangdong in the Pearl River Delta Area, Chongqing and Sichuan in the Chengdu-Chongqing Area, as well as other provincial cities and areas such as Hainan, Shaanxi, Heilongjiang, Henan, Xinjiang, Hunan, Hubei, Fujian and Anhui. We believe major barriers to enter into these markets include a potential new entrant's limited knowledge of local property market conditions and limited brand recognition in these markets. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Real Estate Industry in China—Increasing competition in the PRC may adversely affect our business and financial condition.”

The term of the trademark licensing agreement is ten years subject to an automatic extension for a further ten years if so requested by us one month before the expiry date. The trademark licensing agreement was extended on 30 November 2015 and is valid until 31 December 2025. On 25 June 2016, we entered into a trademark assignment framework agreement with Greentown Holdings Group pursuant to which Greentown Holdings Group agreed to assign certain “Greentown” trademarks, including the “綠城” (Greentown) and “綠城房產” (Greentown Real Estate) trademarks, to us. On 13 July 2017, the transfer of the 12 trademarks registered with the State Trademark Bureau of the PRC was completed. The division and transfer of two trademarks registered in Hong Kong has not been completed. See “Related Party Transactions” and “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to Our Business—A third party's inappropriate use of the trademarks and service marks “綠城” (Greentown) and “綠城房產” (Greentown Real Estate) may damage our reputation and negatively affect our financial condition and results of operations” for further details.

Insurance

We maintain group accident insurance for our employees. The insurance primarily insures our employees for personal injuries in our workplace or on our construction sites. We do not, however, maintain property damage or third-party liability insurance for our workplace, construction sites or property developments. Under PRC law, these types of insurance are not mandatory and may be purchased on a voluntary basis. We and our construction contractors monitor the quality and safety measures adopted at our construction sites to lower the risks of damage to our property and liabilities that may be attributable to us. We re-evaluate the risk profile of the property development business and adjust our insurance practices from time to time. We believe we have sufficient insurance coverage in place and that our insurance practice is in line with the customary practice in the PRC real estate industry.

However, there are risks that are not covered, and we are self-insured for money losses, damages and liabilities that may arise in our business operations. See the section entitled “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Business—We may suffer certain losses not covered by insurance.”

Employees

As at 30 June 2021, we have a total of 8,917 employees. Employees are remunerated on the basis of their performance, experience and prevailing industry practices. The Group's remuneration policies and packages are reviewed by our remuneration committee and the Board on a regular basis. As an incentive for employees, bonuses, cash awards and share options may also be given to employees based on individual performance evaluation.

In 2018, we established “Greentown University,” an internal training program, which is in line with our strategy to train talent and groom outstanding employees. We plan to help our employees grow with the Company, focusing on corporate culture inheritance, core talent training, professional capabilities improvement and knowledge application and management.

Environmental and Safety Matters

We are subject to PRC environmental laws and regulations as well as environmental regulations promulgated by local governments. We are required to engage qualified agencies to conduct an environmental assessment and submit an environmental impact assessment report to the relevant governmental authorities for approval before construction begins. Under relevant PRC laws and regulations, when there is a material change in respect of the construction site, or the scale or nature of a project, a property developer must submit a new environmental impact assessment report for approval. During the course of construction, the property developer and the construction companies must take measures to minimize air pollution, noise pollution and water and waste discharge. Upon completion of each property development, the relevant governmental authorities will inspect the site to ensure that applicable environmental standards have been met. The inspection report is then submitted together with other specified documents to the local construction administration authorities for the record. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Real Estate Industry in China—Potential liability for environmental damages could result in substantial cost increases.”

During the course of property development, our construction may result in the creation of dust, noise, waste water and solid construction waste. Our construction contractors, under the construction contracts, are responsible for performing all necessary measures to prevent pollution and enhance environmental control of the construction sites and to comply with relevant laws and regulations. We endeavor to comply with relevant PRC laws and regulations on environmental protection and safety by (i) engaging qualified construction contractors and requiring the construction contractors to take steps to minimize adverse environmental impact during construction and to be responsible for the final cleanup of the construction site, (ii) monitoring the project at every stage to ensure the construction process is in compliance with the environmental protection and safety laws and regulations, and (iii) requiring the construction contractors to immediately remedy any default or non-compliance.

Inspections of each of our completed property projects by the relevant PRC governmental authorities to date have not revealed any environmental liability which we believe would have a material adverse effect on our business operations or financial condition. During the years ended 31 December 2018, 2019 and 2020, and the six months ended 30 June 2021 we did not experience any material environmental pollution incidents and we incurred insignificant costs in connection with our compliance with environmental and safety laws and regulations. As at 30 June 2021, all of our completed property projects and properties under construction had received the requisite environmental approvals.

We monitor the safety measures adopted by our construction contractors and safety aspects of the construction process through engaging independent third-party supervisory companies to oversee compliance with environmental and health and safety laws and regulations. See “—Quality Control and Construction Supervision” for further details. In relation to workplace safety on our construction sites, our construction contractors are generally responsible for any accidents or injuries not caused by us. We also require our construction contractors to purchase accident insurance to cover their workers and to adopt appropriate safety measures, including providing workers with safety training.

We believe that our operations are in compliance with currently applicable national and local environmental and health and safety laws and regulations in all material respects. We intend to continue to comply with relevant PRC environmental and health and safety laws and regulations, to engage only qualified construction contractors with good environmental protection and safety track records and to require the construction contractors to strictly comply with relevant laws and regulations relating to environment and health and safety and to maintain appropriate insurance. We will also continue to educate our employees in relation to the importance of environmental and safety and health issues and to keep abreast of developments in PRC environmental laws and regulations.

Legal Proceedings and Material Claims

We may be subject to legal proceedings from time to time. We are not currently involved in any legal or administrative proceedings that we expect, individually or in the aggregate, to have a material adverse effect on our financial condition, results of operations or liquidity.

REGULATIONS

The following discussion summarizes the principal laws, regulations, policies and administrative directives to which we are subject.

The PRC Legal System

The PRC legal system is based on the PRC Constitution and is made up of written laws, regulations, directives and local laws, laws of Special Administrative Regions and laws resulting from international treaties entered into by the PRC government. Court verdicts do not constitute binding precedents. However, they are used for the purposes of judicial reference and guidance.

The NPC is empowered by the PRC Constitution to exercise the legislative power of the State. The NPC has the power to amend the PRC Constitution and enact and amend basic laws governing State agencies and civil and criminal matters. The Standing Committee of the NPC is empowered to enact and amend all laws except for the laws that are required to be enacted and amended by the NPC.

The State Council is the highest organ of the State administration and has the power to enact administrative rules and regulations. The ministries and commissions under the State Council are also vested with the power to issue orders, directives and regulations within the jurisdiction of their respective departments. All administrative rules, regulations, directives and orders promulgated by the State Council and its ministries and commissions must be consistent with the PRC Constitution and the national laws enacted by the NPC. In the event that a conflict arises, the Standing Committee of the NPC has the power to annul administrative rules, regulations, directives and orders.

At the regional level, the provincial and municipal congresses and their respective standing committees may enact local rules and regulations and the people's governments may promulgate administrative rules and directives applicable to their own administrative areas. These local laws and regulations must be consistent with the PRC Constitution, the national laws and the administrative rules and regulations promulgated by the State Council.

The State Council, provincial and municipal governments may also enact or issue rules, regulations or directives in new areas of the law for experimental purposes. After gaining sufficient experience with experimental measures, the State Council may submit legislative proposals to be considered by the NPC or the Standing Committee of the NPC for enactment at the national level.

The PRC Constitution vests the power to interpret laws in the Standing Committee of the NPC. According to the Decision of the Standing Committee of the NPC Regarding the Strengthening of Interpretation of Laws passed in June 1981, the Supreme People's Court, the State Council and its ministries and commissions are also vested with the power to interpret rules and regulations that they have promulgated. At the regional level, the power to interpret regional laws is vested in the regional legislative and administrative bodies which promulgate such laws.

The PRC Judicial System

Under the PRC Constitution and the Law of Organization of the People's Courts, the judicial system is made up of the Supreme People's Court, the local courts, military courts and other special courts. The local courts are comprised of the basic courts, the intermediate courts and the higher courts. The basic courts are organized into civil, criminal, economic and administrative divisions. The intermediate courts are organized into divisions similar to those of the basic courts, and are further organized into other special divisions, such as the intellectual property division. The higher level courts supervise the basic and intermediate courts. The people's procuratorates also have the right to exercise legal supervision over the civil proceedings of courts of the same level and lower levels. The Supreme People's Court is the highest judicial body in China. It supervises the administration of justice by all other courts.

The courts employ a two-tier appellate system. A party may appeal against a judgment or order of a local court to the court at the next higher level. First judgments or orders of the Supreme People's Court are also final. If, however, the Supreme People's Court or a court at a higher level finds an error in a judgment which has been given in any court at a lower level, or the presiding judge of a court finds an error in a judgment which has been given in the court over which he presides, the case may then be retried according to the judicial supervision procedures.

The Civil Procedure Law of the PRC adopted in April 1991, amended in October 2007 and in August 2012 and June 2017, sets forth the criteria for instituting a civil action, the jurisdiction of the courts, the procedures to be followed for conducting a civil action and the procedures for enforcement of a civil judgment or order. All parties to a civil action conducted within the PRC must comply with the Civil Procedure Law. Generally, a civil case is initially heard by a local court of the municipality or province in which the defendant resides. The parties to a contract may, by express agreement, select a jurisdiction where civil actions may be brought, provided that the jurisdiction is either the plaintiff's or the defendant's place of residence, the place of execution or implementation of the contract or the object of the action. However, such selection cannot violate the stipulations of grade jurisdiction and exclusive jurisdiction in any case.

A foreign individual or enterprise generally has the same litigation rights and obligations as a citizen or legal person of the PRC. If a foreign country's judicial system limits the litigation rights of PRC citizens and enterprises, the PRC courts may apply the same limitations to the citizens and enterprises of that foreign country within the PRC. If any party to a civil action refuses to comply with a judgment or order made by a court or an award granted by an arbitration panel in the PRC, the aggrieved party may apply to the court to request for enforcement of the judgment, order or award. There are time limits imposed on the right to apply for such enforcement. If a party fails to satisfy a judgment made by the court within the stipulated time, the court will, upon application by either party, mandatorily enforce the judgment.

A party seeking to enforce a judgment or order of a court against a party who is not located within the PRC and does not own any property in the PRC may apply to a foreign court with proper jurisdiction for recognition and enforcement of the judgment or order. A foreign judgment or ruling may also be recognized and enforced by the court according to the PRC enforcement procedures if the PRC has entered into, or acceded to, an international treaty with the relevant foreign country, which provides for such recognition and enforcement, or if the judgment or ruling satisfies the court's examination according to the principal of reciprocity, unless the court finds that the recognition or enforcement of such judgment or ruling will result in a violation of the basic legal principles of the PRC, its sovereignty or security, or for reasons of social and public interests.

Establishment of a Real Estate Development Enterprise

According to the PRC Law on Administration of Urban Real Estate (《中華人民共和國城市房地產管理法》) promulgated by the NPC, effective in January 1995, amended in August 2007, August 2009, and most recently amended in August 2019, a real estate developer is defined as an enterprise that engages in the development and operation of real estate for the purpose of making profits. Under the Regulations on Administration of Development of Urban Real Estate (《城市房地產開發經營管理條例》) promulgated by the State Council in July 1998, and amended on 8 January 2011, 19 March 2018, 24 March 2019, 27 March 2020 and 29 November 2020, an enterprise that is to engage in development of real estate must satisfy the following requirements:

- its registered capital must be RMB1 million or more; and
- it must have four or more full-time professional real estate/construction technicians and two or more full-time accounting officers, each of whom must hold the relevant qualification certificate.

The local government of a province, autonomous region or municipality directly under the PRC government may, based on local circumstances, impose more stringent requirements on the registered capital and the professional personnel of a real estate developer.

To establish a real estate development enterprise, the developer must apply for registration with the administration for market regulation. The developer must also report its establishment to the real estate development authority in the location of its registration, within 30 days of the receipt of its business license. Where a foreign-invested enterprise is to be established to engage in the development and operation of real estate, it must also comply with the relevant requirements under the PRC laws and administrative regulations relating to foreign investments in China.

Under the Catalog of Industries for Encouraged Foreign Investment (2019 Edition) (《鼓勵外商投資產業目錄》(2020年版)) promulgated by MOFCOM and NDRC on 27 December 2021, and effective on 27 January 2020, and the Special Administrative Measures for Access of Foreign Investment (Negative List) (2020 Edition) (《外商投資准入特別管理措施(負面清單)(2020年版)》) promulgated by MOFCOM and NDRC on 30 June 2020 and effective on 23 July 2020, real estate development falls within the category of industries in which foreign investment is permitted.

A foreign investor intending to engage in the development and sale of real estate in China may establish a foreign-funded enterprise which is wholly or partly invested by the foreign investor in accordance with the PRC laws and administrative regulations governing foreign-invested enterprises.

Pursuant to the Notice on Adjusting the Percentage of Capital Fund for Investment Projects in Fixed Assets (《關於調整固定資產投資項目資本金比例的通知》) issued by the State Council in May 2009, the minimum portion of the capital funding for ordinary commodity housing projects and affordable housing projects is 20%, while that for other real estate projects is 30%. Pursuant to the Notice of the State Council on Adjusting and Improving the Capital System of Fixed Asset Investment Projects (《國務院關於調整和完善固定資產投資項目資本金制度的通知》) issued by the State Council in September 2015, the minimum portion of the capital funding for housing and ordinary commodity housing projects that receive government subsidies shall remain at 20%, and that of other real estate projects shall be lowered from 30% to 25%. Further, according to the Notice of the State Council on Strengthening the Administration of Capital of Fixed Asset Investment Projects (《國務院關於加強固定資產投資項目資本金管理的通知》) issued by the State Council in November 2019, an investor's capital contribution to any real estate projects must be in the form of equity. Pursuant to the provisions of the State, a legal representative of such projects is not to be held liable for paying any debts and interest related to capital raised by way of debt.

The Ministry of Construction, MOFCOM, NDRC, the PBOC, SAIC and SAFE jointly issued an Opinion on Standardizing the Admittance and Administration of Foreign Capital in the Real Estate Market (《關於規範房地產市場外資准入和管理的意見》) in July 2006, and jointly issued the Notice on Amending the Policies Concerning the Admittance and Administration of Foreign Capital in the Real Estate Market (《關於調整房地產市場外資准入和管理有關政策的通知》) in August 2015, which provides, among other things, that an overseas entity or individual investing in real estate in China other than for self-use must apply for the establishment of a FIREE in accordance with applicable PRC laws and may only conduct operations within the authorized business scope. The joint opinion attempts to impose additional restrictions on the establishment and operation of FIREE by limiting the validity of approval certificates and business licenses to one year, restricting the ability to transfer equity interests of a FIREE or its projects and prohibiting the borrowing of money from domestic and foreign lenders where the land use rights are not obtained. In addition, the joint opinion also limits the ability of foreign individuals to purchase commodity residential properties in China.

MOFCOM and SAFE issued the Circular on Strengthening and Regulating the Examination and Approval and Supervision of Foreign Direct Investment in the Real Estate Sector (《關於進一步加強、規範外商直接投資房地產業審批和監管的通知》) (“Circular 50”) in May 2007, and amended in October 2015. Under Circular 50 and its amendment, prior to applying for establishment of real estate companies, foreign investors must first obtain land use rights and building ownership, or must have entered into pre-sale or pre-grant agreements with respect to the land use rights or building ownership. If foreign-invested enterprises in China engage in real estate development or operations or if FIREEs in China engage in new real estate project developments, they must first apply to the relevant PRC governmental authorities to expand their scope of business or scale of operations in accordance with the PRC laws and regulations related to foreign investments. In addition, the local PRC governmental authorities must file with MOFCOM for record their approvals of establishment of FIREEs, and must exercise due control over foreign investments in high-end properties. Foreign exchange authorities may not allow capital-account foreign exchange sales and settlements by FIREEs that have been established in contravention of these requirements. Moreover, in November 2010, MOFCOM promulgated the Notice on Strengthening Administration of the Approval and Registration of Foreign Investment into Real Estate Industry (《關於加強外商投資房地產業審批備案管理的通知》), which provides that, among other things, in the case that a real estate enterprise is established within the PRC with overseas capital, it is prohibited to purchase and/or sell real estate properties completed or under construction within the PRC for arbitrage purposes. The local MOFCOM authorities are not permitted to approve foreign-invested investment companies to engage in the real estate development and management.

According to the Notice of the State Council on Promulgating the Catalog of Investments Projects Subject to Government Verification and Approval (2016 Version) (《國務院關於發佈政府核准的投資項目目錄(2016年本)的通知》), promulgated by the State Council on 12 December 2016, and the Circular of the NDRC on Effectively Implementing Foreign Capital-related Work in the Catalog of Investment Projects Subject to Government Approval (2016 Version) (《國家發展改革委關於做好貫徹落實〈政府核准的投資項目目錄(2016年本)〉有關外資工作的通知》) promulgated by the NDRC on 14 January 2017, the following projects shall be verified and approved by relevant department of the State Council: (i) restricted projects with a total investment (including additional investment) of U.S.$300 million or more as listed in the Catalog for the Guidance of Foreign Investment Industries shall be subject to the verification and approval by the competent investment department of the State Council; and (ii) of which the projects with a total investment (including additional investment) of U.S.$2 billion shall be reported to the State Council for record-filing. Restricted projects with a total investment (including additional investment) of less than U.S.$300 million as listed in the Catalog for the Guidance of Foreign Investment Industries shall be subject to the verification and approval by provincial governments.

In March 2019, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress promulgated the Foreign Investment Law of the People's Republic of China (《中華人民共和國外商投資法》) (the "Foreign Investment Law"), which became effective on 1 January 2020. The Foreign Investment Law stipulates, among others, that: (i) the State implements policies of high-level investment liberalization and convenience, establishes and improves a foreign investment promotion mechanism, and creates a stable, transparent and predictable market environment featuring fair competition; (ii) the State adopts the management system of pre-establishment national treatment and negative list for foreign investment; (iii) the State does not expropriate the investment of foreign investors; and (iv) foreign investors may, according to the present law, freely remit into or out of China, in Renminbi or any other foreign currency, their capital contributions, profits, capital gains, income from asset disposal, intellectual property royalties, lawfully acquired compensation, indemnities, liquidation compensation or other income earned in China. Under special circumstances, the State may, for the need of the public interest, expropriate or requisition the investment of foreign investors according to law. In case of such expropriation or requisition, statutory procedures shall be followed, and fair and reasonable compensation shall be made in a timely manner. The State Council promulgated the Implementation Regulations for the Foreign Investment Law of the People's Republic of China (《中華人民共和國外商投資法實施條例》) in December 2019, which further specifies and clarifies the legal and regulatory framework under the Foreign Investment Law.

In October 2019, the State Council promulgated the Regulation on the Optimization of Business Environment (《優化營商環境條例》), which further emphasized the promotion of foreign investment, and the equal treatment of domestic-funded enterprises, foreign-invested enterprises and other market players. The State continues to relax restrictions on market access, and will implement a national negative list system for market access. All types of market players may enter industries not included in the negative list on an equal basis in accordance with the law.

Qualifications of a Real Estate Developer

Under the Provisions on Administration of Qualifications, a real estate developer must apply for registration of its qualifications according to such Provisions on Administration of Qualifications. An enterprise may not engage in property development without a qualification classification certificate for real estate development. The Ministry of Construction oversees the qualifications of real estate developers with national operations, and local real estate development authorities at or above the county level oversee the qualifications of local real estate developers.

In accordance with the Provisions on Administration of Qualifications, real estate developers are classified into four classes.

- Class 1 qualifications are subject to preliminary examination by the construction authorities at the provincial level and final approval of the Ministry of Construction. A class 1 real estate developer is not restricted as to the scale of its real estate projects and may undertake a real estate development anywhere in the country.
- Class 2 or lower qualifications are regulated by the construction authorities at the provincial level subject to delegation to lower level governmental agencies. A real estate developer of class 2 or lower may undertake a project with a GFA of less than 250,000 sq.m. subject to confirmation by the construction authorities at the provincial level.

Under the relevant PRC laws and regulations, the real estate development authorities will examine applications for registration of qualifications submitted by real estate developers by considering the professional personnel in their employ, financial condition and operating results. A real estate developer that passes the qualification examination will be issued a qualification certificate of the relevant class by the qualification examination authority. A developer of any qualification classification may only engage in the development and sale of real estate within its approved scope of business and may not engage in business which is limited to another classification.

For a newly established real estate developer, the real estate development authority will issue a provisional qualification certificate, if it is an eligible developer, within 30 days of receipt by the authority of the application. The provisional qualification certificate will be effective for one year from its date of issue and may be extended for not more than two additional years with the approval of the real estate development authority. The real estate developer must apply for qualification classification to the real estate development authority within one month before expiration of the provisional qualification certificate.

Development of a Real Estate Project

Foreign investments used to be restricted in the development of a whole land lot and the construction and operation of high-end hotels, premium office buildings and international conference centers in China, and prohibited in the construction and operation of villas and golf course, according to the Catalog for Guidance on Industries for Foreign Investment promulgated by NDRC and MOFCOM in December 2011, and the restrictions have been gradually cancelled through the Catalog promulgated in March 2015 and June 2017. Since July 2017, real estate development falls within the category of industries in which foreign investment is permitted.

Pursuant to the Administrative Measures for the Verification and Approval and the Record-filing of Foreign Investment Projects (《外商投資項目核准和備案管理辦法》) promulgated by NDRC on 17 May 2014 and amended on 27 December 2014, the verification and approval authorization and scope will follow the Verification and Approval Catalog. Restricted projects with a total investment (including additional investment) of U.S.$300 million or more as listed in the Catalogue for the Guidance of Foreign Investment Industries shall be subject to the verification and approval by the competent investment department of the State Council, of which projects with a total investment (including additional investment) of U.S.$2 billion shall be reported to the State Council for record-filing. Restricted projects with a total investment (including additional investment) of less than U.S.$300 million as listed in the Catalogue for the Guidance of Foreign Investment Industries shall be subject to the verification and approval by provincial governments.

Under the Interim Regulations of the People's Republic of China on Grant and Assignment of the Use Right of State-owned Urban Land (《中華人民共和國城鎮國有土地使用權出讓和轉讓暫行條例》) promulgated by the State Council in May 1990 and amended in November 2020, China adopted a system to grant and assign the right to use state-owned land. A land user must pay a land premium to the state as consideration for the grant of the right to use a land site within a specified period of time, and the land user may assign, lease out, mortgage or otherwise commercially exploit the land use rights within the term of use. Under the relevant PRC laws and regulations, the land administration authority at the city or county level may enter into a land grant contract with the land user to provide for the grant of land use rights. The land user must pay the land premium as provided by the land use rights grant contract. After payment in full of the land premium, the land user may register with the land administration authority and obtain a land use rights certificate which evidences the acquisition of land use rights. The relevant PRC laws and regulations provide that land use rights for a site intended for real estate development must be obtained through grant except for land use rights which may be obtained through premium-free allocation by the PRC government pursuant to the PRC laws or the stipulations of the State Council. Government-allocated land is not allowed to be transferred unless the transfer is approved by the relevant PRC governmental authorities and the land premium as determined by the relevant PRC governmental authorities has been paid.

When carrying out the feasibility study for a construction project, the construction or the developer entity must make a preliminary application for construction on the relevant site to the relevant land administration authority in accordance with the Measures for Administration of Examination and Approval for Construction Sites (《建設用地審查報批管理辦法》) promulgated by the Ministry of Land and Resources in March 1999, as amended in November 2010 and November 2016, respectively, and the Measures for Administration of Preliminary Examination of Construction Project Sites (《建設項目用地預審管理辦法》) promulgated by the Ministry of Land and Resources in July 2001, as amended in October 2004, November 2008 and November 2016, respectively. After receiving the preliminary application, the land administration authority will carry out preliminary examinations of various aspects of the construction project in compliance with the overall zoning plans and land supply policy of the government, and will issue a preliminary approval in respect of the project site if its examination proves satisfactory. The land administration authority at the relevant city or county will sign a land use rights grant contract with the land user and issue an approval for the construction site to the construction entity or the developer.

Under the Measures for Control and Administration of Grant and Assignment of Right to Use Urban State-owned Land (《城市國有土地使用權出讓轉讓規劃管理辦法》) promulgated by the Ministry of Construction in December 1992 and amended in January 2011, the grantee under a land grant contract, i.e. a real estate developer, must further apply for a permit for construction site planning from the relevant municipal planning authority. After obtaining such permit, a real estate developer will organize the necessary planning and design work. Planning and design proposals in respect of a real estate development project are again subject to relevant reporting and approval procedures required under the Law of the People's Republic of China on Urban and Rural Planning (《中華人民共和國城鄉規劃法》) promulgated by the National People's Congress in October 2007, amended in January 2008, April 2015 and April 2019 and local statutes on municipal planning. Upon approval by the authorities, a permit for construction works planning will be issued by the relevant municipal planning authority.

In accordance with the Regulations for the Expropriation of Compensation for Housing on State-owned Land (《國有土地上房屋徵收與補償條例》) promulgated by the State Council and implemented in January 2011, with regard to the expropriation of the housing of entities and individuals on the State-owned land for the need of public interest, the owners of the housing being expropriated shall be offered a fair compensation.

Compensation offered by governments at municipal and county levels that make housing expropriation decisions regarding parties with housing being expropriated includes: (i) compensation for the value of the housing being expropriated; (ii) compensation for relocation and temporary settlement caused by expropriation of housing; and (iii) compensation for the loss arising from the suspension of production and operation caused by expropriation of housing.

The amount of compensation for the value of housing being expropriated may not be less than the market price of the real estate similar to it on the announcement date of the housing expropriation decision. The value of housing being expropriated must be appraised and determined by a real estate price appraisal institution with corresponding qualifications according to the housing expropriation appraisal measures. A party that objects to the appraised value of the housing being expropriated may apply to the real estate price appraisal institution for review of the appraisal. A party that objects to the review result may apply to the real estate price appraisal expert committee for authentication.

The parties whose housing is being expropriated may choose monetary compensation, or may choose to exchange the property rights of the housing. If the parties whose housing is being expropriated choose to exchange the property rights of the housing, governments at municipal and county levels must provide housing used for the exchange of property rights, and calculate and settle the difference between the value of housing being expropriated and the value of housing used for the exchange of property rights. If residential housing of an individual is expropriated due to renovation of an old urban district and the individual chooses to exchange for the property rights of the housing in the area being renovated, governments at municipal and county levels that make housing expropriation decisions must provide the housing in the area being renovated or the nearby area.

When the site has been properly prepared and is ready for the commencement of construction works, the developer must apply for a permit for commencement of works from the construction authorities at or above the county level according to the Measures for Administration of Granting.

Permission for Commencement of Construction Works (《建築工程施工許可管理辦法》) promulgated by the Ministry of Construction in October 1999, as amended in July 2001 and replaced by the Measures for Administration of Granting Permission for Commencement of Construction Works (《建築工程施工許可管理辦法》) promulgated by the MOHURD in June 2014 and amended in September 2018 and March 2021.

According to the Notice Regarding Strengthening and Regulating the Administration of Newly-commenced Projects (《國務院辦公廳關於加強和規範新開工項目管理的通知》) issued by the General Office of the State Council on 17 November 2007, before commencement of construction, all kinds of projects shall fulfill certain conditions, including, among other things, compliance with national industrial policy, development plan, land supply policy and market access standard, completion of all approval and filing procedures, compliance with zoning plan in terms of site and planning, completion of proper land use procedures and obtaining proper environmental valuation approvals and construction permit or report.

The development of a real estate project must comply with various laws and legal requirements on construction quality, safety standards and technical guidance on architecture, design and construction work, as well as provisions of the relevant contracts. The Regulations on the Quality Management of Construction Projects (《建設工程質量管理條例》), promulgated and implemented by the State Council on 30 January 2000 and amended on 7 October 2017 and 23 April 2019, which sets the respective quality responsibilities and liabilities for developers, construction companies, reconnaissance companies, design companies and construction supervision companies. In August 2008, the State Council issued the Regulations on Energy Efficiency for Civil Buildings (《民用建築節能條例》), which reduces the energy consumption of civil buildings and improves the efficiency of the energy utilization. According to this regulation, the design and construction of new buildings must meet the mandatory criteria on energy efficiency for buildings, and failure to meet such criteria will result in no commencement of construction or acceptance upon completion.

Among other things, this regulation sets forth additional requirements for property developers in the sale of commodity buildings in this respect. After completion of construction works for a project, the real estate developer must organize an acceptance examination by relevant governmental authorities and experts according to the Provisions on Inspection Upon Completion of Buildings and Municipal Infrastructure promulgated by the MOHURD (《房屋建築和市政基礎設施工程竣工驗收規定》) in December 2013, and report details of the acceptance examination and file with the construction authority at or above the county level where the project is located within 15 days after the construction is qualified for the acceptance examination according to the Measures for Reporting Details Regarding Acceptance Examination Upon Completion of Buildings and Municipal Infrastructure (《房屋建築和市政基礎設施工 程竣工驗收備案管理辦法》) promulgated by the MOHURD in October 2009. A real estate development project may not be delivered until and unless it has satisfactorily passed the necessary acceptance examination. Where a property project is developed in phases, an acceptance examination may be carried out for each phase upon completion.

In China, there used to be two registers of property interests. Land registration is effected by the issue of land use right certificates by the relevant authorities to the land users. Land use rights may be assigned, mortgaged or leased. The building registration is effected by the issue of property ownership certificates to the property owners. Property or building ownership rights are only related to the building or improvements erected on the land. Under the PRC laws and regulations, all land use rights and property ownership rights that are duly registered are protected by law. However, after the promulgation of the Interim Regulations on Real Estate Registration (《不動產登記暫行條例》) by the State Council in November 2014 and amended in March 2019, the two registers have been gradually replaced by real estate registration which is a consolidated registry for both land use rights and property ownership interests for the building erected on the relevant land in many cities.

Land for Property Development

In April 1988, the National People's Congress amended the PRC Constitution to permit the transfer of land use rights in accordance with the laws and regulations. In December 1988, the National People's Congress amended the Land Administration Law (《中華人民共和國土地管理法》) to permit the transfer of land use rights in accordance with the laws and regulations. The Land Administration Law was subsequently amended in August 1998, August 2004 and August 2019, and the most recent amended version will take effect on 1 January 2020. According to the recent amendment, where collectively-operated development land (集體建設用地) registered according to the law is specified to be for industrial use, commercial use or other business purposes in the overall land utilization plan or urban and rural plan, a landowner may transfer the land use to an entity or individual user by way of assignment, leasing, etc., and shall conclude a written contract, which includes the land boundary, area, time period of use, land use, planning conditions and other rights and obligations of the parties.

Pursuant to the Measures on Disposal of Idle Land (《閒置土地處置辦法》) promulgated by the Ministry of Land and Resources in April 1999, and amended in June 2012, idle land fees may be imposed on land that has not been developed for one year from the contractual construction commencement date. Land use rights may be forfeited to the government without compensation to the developer if the land has not been developed for two years as required by the laws and regulations, and allotted for other purposes. Under current PRC laws and regulations on land administration, land for property development may be obtained only by grant except for land use rights obtained through allocation. Under the Regulations on the Grant of State-owned Land Use Rights Through Public Tender, Auction and Listing-for-Sale promulgated by the Ministry of Land and Resources (《招標拍賣掛牌出讓國有土地使用權規定》) in May 2002 and amended in September 2007, land for commercial use, tourism, entertainment and commodity housing development must be granted by public tender, auction or listing-for-sale. Under these regulations, the relevant land administration authority at city or county level, or the grantor, is responsible for preparing the public tender or auction documents and must make an announcement 20 days prior to the day of public tender or auction with respect to the particulars of the land parcel and the time and venue of the public tender or auction. The grantor must also verify the qualification of the bidding and auction applicants, accept an open public auction to determine the winning tender or hold an auction to ascertain a winning bidder. The grantor and the winning tender or bidder will then enter into a confirmation followed by the execution of a contract for assignment of state-owned land use rights. Over the years, the Ministry of Land and Resources has promulgated further rules and regulations to define the various circumstances under which the state-owned land use rights may be granted by means of public tender, auction and listing-for-sale or by agreement. Under the Regulation on Grant of State-owned Land Use Rights by Agreements (《協議出讓國有土地使用權規定》) promulgated by the Ministry of Land and Resources on 11 June 2003, except for a project that must be granted through tender, auction and listing as required by the relevant laws and regulations, land use right may be granted through transfer by agreement and the land premium for the transfer by agreement of the state-owned land use right shall not be lower than the benchmark land price.

The Urgent Notice on Further Governing and Rectifying Land Market and Strengthening Administration of Land (《關於深入開展土地市場治理整頓嚴格土地管理的緊急通知》) issued by the General Office of the State Council on 29 April 2004 restated the principle of strict administration of the approval process for the construction land and protection of the basic farmland.

The Notice on Issues Relating to Strengthening the Land Control (《關於加強土地調控有關問題的通知》) promulgated by the State Council on 31 August 2006 sets forth the administration of the receipt and disbursement of the land premium, modifies the tax policies relating to the construction land, and builds up the system of publicity for the standards of the lowest price with respect to the granted state-owned land use right for industrial purposes.

In September 2007, the Ministry of Land and Resources further promulgated the Regulations on the Grant of State-owned Construction Land Use Rights Through Public Tender, Auction and Listing-for-Sale (《招標拍賣掛牌出讓國有建設用地使用權規定》) to require that land for industrial use, except land for mining, must also be granted by public tender, auction and listing-for-sale. Only after the grantee has paid the land premium in full under the land grant contract, can the grantee apply for the land registration and obtain the land use right certificates. Furthermore, land use rights certificates may not be issued in proportion to the land premium paid under the land grant contract.

Pursuant to the Law of the People's Republic of China Urban and Planning (《中華人民共和國城鄉規劃法》) promulgated by the Standing Committee of National People's Congress in October 2007 and amended in April 2015 and April 2019, a construction planning permit must be obtained from the relevant urban and rural planning governmental authorities for building any structure, fixture, road, pipeline or other engineering project within an urban or rural planning area.

In November 2007, the Ministry of Land and Resources, the Ministry of Finance and the PBOC jointly promulgated the Administration Measures on Land Reserves (《土地儲備管理辦法》), pursuant to which, local authorities should reasonably decide the scale of land reserves in accordance with the macro-control of the land market. Idle, unoccupied, and low-efficient state-owned construction land inventory shall be used as land reserves in priority. In January 2018, the Ministry of Land and Resources, the Ministry of Finance, the People's Bank of China, and the CBRC jointly revised the Measures for the Administration of Land Reserves (2018 Revision) (《土地儲備管理辦法(2018修訂)》), emphasizing that the requirements of the 19th National Congress of the Communist Party of China on strengthening the management of natural resources assets and preventing and resolving major risks shall be implemented, the management of land reserves shall be further standardized, the government's ability to regulate and support the urban-rural construction land market shall be enhanced, and the efficient allocation and the rational utilization of land resources shall be promoted.

In May 2012, the Ministry of Land and Resources issued a Circular on the Distribution of the Catalog for Restricted Land Use Projects (2012 Version) and the Catalog for Prohibited Land Use Projects (2012 Version) (《國土資源部、國家發展和改革委員會關於發佈實施《限制用地項目目錄》(2012年本)和《禁止用地項目目錄》(2012年本)的通知》), as a supplement to its 2012 version. In this Circular, the Ministry of Land and Resources has set forth a ceiling for the land granted by local governments for development of commodity housing as follows: seven hectares for small cities and towns, 14 hectares for medium-sized cities; and 20 hectares for large cities.

In November 2009, the Ministry of Finance, the Ministry of Land and Resources, the PBOC, the PRC Ministry of Supervision and the PRC National Audit Office jointly promulgated the Notice on Further Enhancing the Revenue and Expenditure Control over Land Grant (《關於進一步加強土地出讓收支管理的通知》). The Notice raises the minimum down payment for land premiums to 50% and requires the land premium to be fully paid within one year after the signing of a land grant contract, subject to limited exceptions. Any developer defaulting on any such payment may not participate in any new transactions of land grant.

In November 2009, the MOHURD and the Office of the Leading Group for Addressing Problems Regarding Unauthorized Change of Planning and Adjustment of the Floor Ratio in Real Estate Development under the Ministry of Supervision jointly promulgated the Notification on Further Unfolding of the Special Project to Address Problems Regarding Unauthorized Change of Planning and Adjustment of the Floor Area Ratio (《關於深入推進房地產開發領域違規變更規劃調整容積率問題專項治理的通知》) which re-emphasized the need to rectify, investigate and punish real estate developing companies committing any unauthorized adjustment of the floor area ratio.

In March 2010, the Ministry of Land and Resources promulgated the Notification on Issues Relating to Strengthening the Supply and Regulation of the Land for Real Estate Development (《關於加強房地產用地供應和監管的有關問題的通知》) which adopted measures to improve the regulation of land for real estate development. These include, among others, measures to improve the preparation and implementation of the plan of land supply, guarantee the supply of land for supportive housing development, improve the regime of public tender, auction and list-for-sale of land use right, enhance the supervision on the use of land, disclose information on the supply and grant of land and the status of the construction project on the land to the public, and conduct special inspection on outstanding problems in the field of land use.

Pursuant to the notification, the administration of land and resources of cities and counties shall establish a regime for developers to report the commencement and completion of construction projects. Under such regime, the developer shall report in writing to the respective administration of land and resources at the commencement and completion of the construction project. The commencement and completion date of construction set forth in the agreements may be postponed by reporting the reasons of delay to the respective administration of land and resources no later than 15 days prior to the expiration. The developer who fails to report accordingly shall be announced to the public and prohibited from participating in any new transactions of land grant for at least one year. Additionally, the land used for developing supportive housing, small-to-medium-size self-used residential commodity housing and reconstructing shantytown shall not be less than 70% of the total land supply for residential property development. The lowest land premium for the grant of land use right shall not be lower than 70% of the benchmark price for the land grade the granted land locates, and the deposit for the participation of tender shall not be lower than 20% of the lowest land premium. The land grant agreement shall be executed in writing within 10 days after the deal is reached, the down payment of the land grant price which shall not be less than 50% of the full land grant price shall be paid within one month after the land grant agreement is executed, and the land grant price shall be paid in full no later than one year after the land grant agreement is executed. A developer who defaults on the payment of the land premium, holds idle land, hoards or speculates in land, develops property on the land exceeding its actual development capacity or defaults on the performance of land grant agreement shall be banned from participating in any transactions of land grant for a certain period.

On 21 September 2010, the Ministry of Land and Resources and the MOHURD jointly promulgated the Notice of Further Strengthening Control and Regulation of Land and Construction of Property Development (《關於進一步加強房地產用地和建設管理調控的通知》), which stipulated, among other things, that: (i) at least 70% of land designated for construction of urban housing must be used for economically affordable housing, housing for resettlement of shanty towns and small to medium-sized ordinary commercial housing; in areas with high housing prices, the supply of land designated for small to medium-sized, price-capped housing must be increased; (ii) developers and their controlling shareholders (as defined under PRC laws) are prohibited from participating in land biddings before the rectification of certain misconduct, including (1) illegal transfer of land use rights; (2) failure to commence required construction within one year from the delivery of land under land grant contracts due to such developers' own reasons; (3) non-compliance with the land development requirements specified in land grant contracts; and (4) crimes such as swindling land by forging official documents and illegal land speculation; (iii) developers are required to commence construction within one year from the date of delivery of land under the relevant land grant contract and complete construction within three years since commencement of the construction; (iv) development and construction of projects of low-density and large-sized housing must be strictly limited and the plot ratio of the planned GFA to the total site area of residential projects must be more than 1:1; and (v) the grant of two or more bundled parcels of lands and undeveloped land is prohibited.

In December 2010, the Ministry of Land and Resources promulgated the Notice on Strict Implementation of Policies Regarding Regulation and Control of Real Property Land and Promotion of the Healthy Development of Land Markets (《關於嚴格落實房地產用地調控政策促進土地市場健康發展有關問題的通知》), which provides, among other things, that: (i) cities and counties that have less than 70% of their land supply designated for social security housing projects, housing for redevelopment of shanty towns or small/medium residential units must not provide land for large-sized and high-end housing before the end of 2010; (ii) land and resource authorities in local cities and counties will report to the Ministry of Land and Resources and provincial land and resource authorities, respectively regarding land with a premium rate of more than 50%; and (iii) land designated for affordable housing which is used for commodity property development against relevant policies or involved illegal income will be confiscated and the relevant land use rights will be withdrawn. Moreover, changing the plot ratio without approval is strictly prohibited.

On 15 February 2012, the Ministry of Land and Resources promulgated the Notice on Accomplishment of Real Estate Land Administration and Control in 2012 (《國土資源部關於做好2012年房地產用地管理和調控重點工作的通知》). The notice provides that:

- The real estate control policy shall be firmly performed and the key tasks shall be clarified. The real estate land administration and control is confronting fundamental requirements and key tasks that the control policy by the PRC government shall be strictly implemented, the supervision and control shall be strengthened, while the price of real estate and land shall be stable and reasonable.
- The real estate land supply shall be properly managed for the purpose of the welfare of the masses. Relevant authorities shall compile the annual supply plan of land for residential purposes of year 2012 from a scientific and reasonable perspective. The planned land supply quantity shall be no smaller than the average quantity of the recent five years, no less than 70% among which shall be designated for social security housing projects, housing for redevelopment of shanty towns and small/medium residential units. The supply of land for social security housing projects shall be guaranteed. The supply of high-end housing land shall be strictly controlled and no land shall be permitted for the development of villas.
- The land supply for social security housing projects shall be guaranteed. The construction land permission procedure for social security housing projects shall be accelerated.

A reporting system shall be implemented according to which, when concluding a land grant contract, a provision providing land users report to land and resources authorities in a written form before or at the commencement and completion of a project.
- Supervision analysis and media propaganda shall be strengthened to provide a positive guidance towards the market. Relevant local departments shall strengthen the supervision over land price. A record filing system of abnormal land purchases shall be implemented and improved.

- On 22 May 2012, the Ministry of Land and Resources amended the Measures on Disposal of Idle Land (《閒置土地處置辦法》), which were originally published in April 1999. This amendment includes the following significant changes or new provisions:
- Emphasizing the key purposes of regulating idle land. The current version of Measures on Disposal of Idle Land re-emphasizes the importance of suppressing intentional reservations of land for the purpose of resale. For example, it provides that if the real estate developer intentionally delays the commencement of construction and development for the purpose of reserving the land for resale with bad faith, and before the condition of such land is reviewed and disposed of by the government, the government should neither accept new applications for land use by the same holder of land use rights, nor register the status of transfer, lease, mortgage or information change of the land considered to be idle.
- Readdressing the disposal method of idle land. Consistent with the April 1999 version, the amended Measures on Disposal of Idle Land once again addressed the method of disposal of idle land. If the real estate developer fails to commence the construction and development of the land for one year, the government should issue the Notice on Imposition of Land Idleness Penalty Fees to the holder of land use right. The penalty fees should be 20% of the price that the holder paid for obtaining the land use right. If the holder of land use rights failed to commence the construction and development of the land for two years, the government should issue the Notice on Decision of Withdrawal of Land Use Right to the holder, thereby withdrawing the holder's right to use land for free. However, compared with the 1999 version, the amended Measures on Disposal of Idle Land specify the procedure for determining and disposing of idle land, including:
 1. Once relevant governmental authority suspects that a tract of land has become idle, it should initiate investigation within 30 days therefrom and issue a "notice on investigation of idle land" to the holder of land use right. The holder of land use right should submit explanatory materials about the development condition and reason for land idleness to the government within 30 days upon the receipt of such notice.
 2. After investigation, if the government decides that the investigated land has become idle, it should issue a "notice on confirmation of idle land" to the investigated holder of land use rights, which will specify the facts and grounds for determining that the land concerned has become idle. Relevant information of the idle land will also be published on the governmental authority's official website after issuance of such notice.
 3. If the idleness of land was caused by the real estate developer rather than the government, the governmental authority is entitled to impose penalty fees for the idleness or even withdraw the decision for granting the land use right. However, before such penalty decisions are made, the government should notify the holder of the land use rights that the holder has the right to request a hearing.
 4. Once the government decides to impose penalty fees for land idleness, it should issue a "notice on imposition of land idleness penalty fees" to the holder of the land use rights, and the owner should pay the penalty fees within 30 days upon the receipt of the notice. If the government decides to withdraw the decision for granting land use right, the government should issue a "notice on decision of withdrawal of land use rights" to the holder, and the holder should cancel the registration of its land use rights from government's record within 30 days upon its receipt of such notice.
- Specifying the circumstances where the delay of commencement of construction and development was caused by the government. If the delay of commencement of construction and development was caused by the government, the real estate developer will not be directly subject to penalties for delays caused by the developer itself. The amended Measures on Disposal of Idle Land specify the following circumstances where the delay of commencement of construction and development is considered to be caused by the government:

1. Where the land fails to be delivered to the holder of the land use rights in accordance with the time limit and conditions as prescribed in the land transfer contract or the land allocation decision, with the result that the conditions for commencing the construction and development of the project are not met;
2. Where relevant land-use planning is modified, with the result that the owner of the land use rights cannot commence construction and development;
3. Where the land-use planning and construction conditions need to be modified in light of new policies issued by the government;
4. Where the construction and development of the land cannot be commenced due to complaints lodged by the general public in connection with the land;
5. Where the construction and development of the land cannot be commenced due to military control or protection of historic and cultural relics; and
6. Where other acts of any government or governmental agency cause the delay.

On 22 May 2014, the Ministry of Land and Resources issued Rules on Economical and Intensive Utilization of Land (《節約集約利用土地規定》), which came into effect on 1 September 2014 and amended on 24 July 2019. The main content of the Rules includes: (i) restriction on expansion of megalopolis boundary; (ii) expand the scope of paid use for land, in order to reduce the allotted land; (iii) allowing new methods for transferring land, including “lease before transfer” transaction; (iv) prohibit any reduction in land-transferring fees in any form; (v) increase the utilization efficiency of industrial land; and (vi) urban construction land should adopt group-type, tandem-type, satellite-city layout according to local conditions, avoiding occupation of high-quality cultivated land, especially permanent basic farmland.

On 12 September 2014, the Ministry of Land and Resources issued Guiding Opinions on Promoting the Economical and Intensive Utilization of Land (Guo Tu Zi Fa (2014)119) (《國土資源部關於推進土地節約集約利用的指導意見》) (the “Opinions”). The Opinions shall be in force for eight years and consists of eight sections, including general requirement, limitation on land utilization approval area, optimizing the overall arrangement of land utilization, establishing the standard for land utilization control, introducing market mechanism in land utilization control, comprehensive treatment of land utilization, promotion of technology in land utilization, and enhancing the supervisory and promotion mechanism. The Opinions stipulate that the existing problem of extensive and over-reaching use of land shall be effectively addressed, the transformation of the economic development pattern shall be facilitated through the transformation of the land use pattern, ecologically sound construction and urbanization shall be promoted.

On 2 February 2016, the Ministry of Finance, the Ministry of Land and Resources, the PBOC and the CBRC promulgated the Notice on Regulating Land Reserve and Financing Management and Other Related Issues (《關於規範土地儲備和資金管理等相關問題的通知》), which provides, among others, that the overall scale of land reserves around China should be determined based on the local economic development level, the local financial status, the annual land supply, the annual debt limits of the local government, the repayment capacity of the local government and other factors, in order to prevent the insufficient utilization of land resources and the debt pressure of the local government resulting from an oversized scale of land reserve. Since 1 January 2016, the local governments shall not borrow land reserve loans from banking and financial institutions.

On 25 March 2016, the Ministry of Finance and the MOHURD promulgated the Notice on Further Improving the Related Work of the Transformation of Shantytowns (《關於進一步做好棚戶區改造相關工作的通知》), with a view to promote the transformation of shantytowns and to guide the residents of shantytowns to choose monetized resettlement in the first instance. Especially for areas with a large inventory of commercial housing and sufficient housing resources in the market, the proportion of the monetized settlement for the transformation of the shantytowns is further improved.

On 1 April 2017, the MOHURD and the Ministry of Land and Resources promulgated the Notice on Matters Relating to Strengthening the Administration and Regulation of Recent Housing and Land Supply (《關於加強近期住房及用地供應管理和調控有關工作的通知》), which stipulates that, among others, in order to ensure the stable and orderly supply of residential land, local authorities must consider the local realities and specific situations to regulate land supply. For example, auctions of new land should be ceased if a city has an overflow of existing housing supply equivalent to 36 months or more of recent monthly sales, reduced if the existing housing supply is equal to 18 to 30 months of sales and increased if such city has unsold housing inventory of six to 12 months. The aim of such regulation is to prevent increases in total bid price, land price or housing price per unit, which could disrupt market expectations. Many cities have taken measures such as restricting housing price, competing for self-holding areas, and competing for security-housing areas in land bidding.

In April 2019, the MOHURD promulgated the Notice on the Relevant Issues Concerning the Examination and Approval of the Construction of Villa Projects (《關於別墅項目建設審批有關事項的通知》), requiring that the illegal villas should be inspected and rectified, and all the provincial-level housing and urban-rural construction departments should immediately suspend the approval procedures for the construction of villa projects in their respective administrative areas and should sort out the villa projects that have been built, under construction, approved, and approved at the same time.

In May 2020, the National People's Congress adopted the PRC Civil Code (《中華人民共和國民法典》), which became effective on 1 January 2021. According to the PRC Civil Code, when the term of the right-to-use construction land for residential (but not other) purposes expires, it will be renewed automatically, while the payment, reduction of or exemption from the renewal fee shall be handled in accordance with the provisions of laws and administrative regulations. Unless it is otherwise prescribed by any law, the owner of construction land use rights has the right to transfer, exchange, and use such land use rights as equity contributions or collateral for financing. If the state takes the premises owned by entities or individuals, it must compensate the property owners in accordance with law and protect the lawful rights and interests of the property owners.

On 30 August 2021, the MOHURD promulgated the Notice on Preventing Mass Demolition and Construction Issues in the Implementation of Urban Renewal Actions (Jianke [2021] No. 63) (《關於在實施城市更新行動中防止大拆大建問題的通知》), which sets out four guidelines for urban renewal, namely: (i) in principle, the demolished floor area within the urban renewal units (districts) or the project should not be greater than 20% of the existing floor area; (ii) in principle, the ratio of demolition and construction within the urban renewal units (districts) or the project should not be greater than two; (iii) the resettlement rate of residents who used to live in the urban renewal area (districts) or projects should not be less than 50%; (iv) and the annual housing rent increase should not exceed 5%.

Sale of Commodity Houses

Under the Measures for Administration of Sale of Commodity Houses (《商品房銷售管理辦法》) promulgated by the Ministry of Construction in April 2001, sale of commodity houses can include both sales before the completion of the properties, or pre-sale, and sales after the completion of the properties.

Any pre-sale of commodity buildings must be conducted in accordance with the Measures for Administration of Pre-sale of Commodity Buildings in Urban Area promulgated by the Ministry of Construction in November 1994 (《城市商品房預售管理辦法》), as amended in August 2001 and July 2004, and other related regulations. The pre-sale regulations provide that any pre-sale of commodity properties is subject to specified procedures. According to the current PRC laws and regulations, a pre-sale permit must be in place before a commodity building may be put to pre-sale. Specifically, a developer intending to sell a commodity building before its completion must apply to the real estate development authorities for a pre-sale permit. A commodity building may be sold before completion only if:

- the purchase price has been paid in full for the grant of the land use rights involved and a land use rights certificate has been properly obtained;
- a construction planning permit and a construction permit have been properly obtained;
- funds invested in the development of the commodity buildings for pre-sale represent 25% or more of the total investment in the project and the construction progress as well as the completion and delivery dates have been properly ascertained; and
- a pre-sale permit has been obtained.

The pre-sale proceeds of commodity buildings must be used to develop the relevant project so pre-sold.

Commodity buildings may be put to post-completion sale and delivery after they have passed the acceptance examination and otherwise satisfy the various preconditions for such sale. Before the post-completion sale of a commodity building, the developer must, among other things, submit a real estate development project manual and other documents relating to the project evidencing the satisfaction of the preconditions for post-completion sale to the real estate development authority for its record.

On 13 April 2010, MOHURD issued the Notice on Further Enhancing the Supervision of the Real Estate Market and Perfecting the Pre-sale System of Commodity Houses (《關於進一步加強房地產市場監管完善商品住房預售制度有關問題的通知》). Pursuant to the notice, without the pre-sale approval, the commodity properties are not permitted to be pre-sold and the real estate developer are not allowed to charge the buyer any deposit or pre-payment or payment of the similar nature. In addition, the notice urges local governments to enact regulations on sale of completed commodity properties in light of the local conditions, and encourages property developers to sell completed commodity properties.

The Provisions on Sales of Commodity Properties at Clearly Marked Price (《商品房銷售明碼標價規定》) was promulgated by the NDRC on 16 March 2011 and became effective on 1 May 2011.

According to the provisions, a real estate developer or real estate agency (collectively, “real estate operators”) is required to mark the selling price explicitly and clearly for both newly-build and second-hand commodity properties. The provisions require real estate operators to clearly indicate the prices and relevant fees of commodity properties, as well as other factors affecting the prices of commodity properties to the public.

With respect to the real estate development projects that have received property pre-sale permit or have completed the filing procedures for the sales of constructed properties, real estate operators shall announce all the commodity properties available for sales on at once within the specified time limit. Furthermore, with regard to a property that has been sold out, real estate operators are obliged to disclose this information and to disclose the actual transaction price. Real estate operators cannot sell commodity properties beyond the explicit marked price or charge any other fees not explicitly marked. Moreover, real estate operators may neither mislead property purchasers with false or irregular price marking, nor engage in price fraud by using false or misleading price marking methods.

Transfer of Real Estate

According to the PRC laws and the Provisions on Administration of Transfer of Urban Real Estate (《城市房地產轉讓管理規定》) promulgated by the Ministry of Construction in August 1995, as amended in August 2001, a real estate owner may sell, gift or otherwise legally transfer the property to another natural person or legal entity. When transferring a building, the ownership of the building and the land use rights to the site on which the building is situated are transferred together. The parties to a transfer must enter into a written real estate transfer contract and register the transfer with the real estate administration authority having jurisdiction over the location of the real estate within 90 days of the execution of the transfer contract.

Where the land use rights are originally obtained by grant, the real property may only be transferred on the condition that:

- the land premium has been paid in full for the granted land use rights as required by the land grant contract and a land use rights certificate has been properly obtained; and
- in the case of a project in which buildings are being developed, development representing more than 25% of the total investment has been completed; or
- in case of a whole land lot development project, construction works have been carried out as planned, water supply, sewerage, electricity supply, heat supply, access roads, telecommunications and other infrastructure or utilities have been made available, and the site has been leveled and made ready for industrial or other construction purposes.
- If the land use rights are originally obtained by grant, the term of the land use rights after transfer of the real estate will be the remaining portion of the original term in the land grant contract. In the event that the assignee intends to change the use of the land provided in the land grant contract, consent must first be obtained from the original land use rights grantor and the planning administration authority at the relevant city or county and an agreement to amend the land grant contract or a new land grant contract must be signed in order to, inter alia, change the use of the land and adjust the land premium accordingly.

If the land use rights are originally obtained by allocation, such allocated land use right may be changed to granted land use rights upon approval by the government vested with the necessary approval power as required by the State Council. After the governmental authorities vested with the necessary approval power approve such change, the grantee must complete the formalities for the grant of the land use rights and pay the land premium according to the relevant statutes. Assignment of Land for commercial use, tourism, entertainment and commodity housing development must be conducted through public tender, auction or listing-for-sale under the current PRC laws and regulations.

Registration of Real Property

On 24 November 2014, the State Council published the Interim Regulations on Real Estate Registration (《不動產登記暫行條例》) by State Council Decree No. 656, which came into effect on 1 March 2015 and amended on 24 March 2019. Pursuant to the regulation, the following real estate rights shall be registered: (1) ownership of collectively-owned land; (2) ownership of houses and other buildings and structures; (3) ownership of forests and woods; (4) the rights for contracted business operations of arable land, woodland, grassland and other land parcels; (5) the rights to use construction land; (6) the rights to use rural homesteads; (7) the rights to use sea water; (8) easement; (9) mortgage rights; and (10) other real estate rights that shall be registered pursuant to the law.

Leases of Buildings

The Measures for Administration of Lease of Commodity Housing (《商品房屋租賃管理辦法》) promulgated by the MOHURD on 1 December 2010 and implemented on 1 February 2011, requires parties to a leasehold arrangement of a property shall register the leasing agreement with property administrative authorities within 30 days after entering into such leasing agreement under local government at the municipal or county level where the property is situated. In addition, enterprise may be imposed a fine of RMB1,000 to RMB10,000 and individuals of RMB1,000 or less if they do not register leasing agreement within time limit required by competent authorities.

On 17 May 2016, the General Office of the State Council promulgated the Opinions on Accelerating the Cultivation and Development of the Housing Rental Market (《關於加快培育和發展住 房租賃市場的若干意見》), to implement both the renting and buying markets and promote urban residence. The Opinions also allow the commercial real estate to be changed into rental housing, although no specific implementation rules have been published.

On 18 July 2017, the MOHURD, the NDRC, the Ministry of Public Security, the Ministry of Finance, the Ministry of Land and Resources, the PBOC, the SAT, the SAIC, and the CSRC jointly issued the Notice on Accelerating the Development of the Housing Rental Market in Large and Medium Cities with a Net Inflow of Population (《關於在人口淨流入的大中城市加快發展住房租賃市場的通知》), which aims to, among other things, increase financial support for housing rental enterprises, broaden direct financing channels, and support the issuance of corporate credit bonds and asset-backed securities (ABS) such as enterprise bonds, corporate bonds, and non-financial corporate debt financing instruments which are used exclusively to develop housing rental business.

In August 2017, the Ministry of Land and Resources and the MOHURD jointly issued the Pilot Program for the Construction of Rental Housing on Collective Construction Land (《利用集體建設用地建設租賃住房試點方案》), pursuant to which, among megalopolises, mega-cities and the pilot cities for the development of housing rental market approved by relevant ministries and commissions of the State Council, cities that meet the following criteria: (i) there exists high demands of rental housing; (ii) the collective economic organizations, such as villages or towns, are willing to build and have resources to participate in the pilot program; and (iii) local authorities have ample regulatory and service capabilities, shall be selected as pilot cities for the development of rental housing on collective construction land. In January 2019, the Department of Natural Resources and the MOHURD jointly selected another five cities, namely Fuzhou, Nanchang, Qingdao, Haikou and Guiyang, to join the pilot program and use collective construction land to develop rental housing.

In April 2018, the CSRC and the MOHURD issued the Notice on Promoting the Work Relevant to the Securitization of Housing Leasing Assets (《關於推進住房租賃資產證券化相關工作的通知》), encouraging specialized and institutionalized housing rental enterprises to carry out asset securitization, giving priority to supporting national policies, and encouraging rental projects to carry out asset securitization.

On 15 April 2021, the MOHURD and other five departments jointly issued the Opinions on Strengthening the Supervision of Asset-light Housing Leasing Enterprises (《關於加強輕資產住房租賃企業監管的意見》), which provides guidance to housing leasing enterprises to return to the origin of housing leasing services and promoting the healthy development of the housing leasing market. On 24 June 2021, the General Office of the State Council issued the Opinions on Accelerating the Development of Affordable Rental Housing (《關於加快發展保障性租賃住房的意見》), which clarifies the basic system and supporting policies of affordable rental housing from six aspects, including land, examination and approval, taxes and fees, and finance.

Shared Property

In September 2017, the MOHURD issued the Opinions on Supporting the Pilot Project of Shared Property Housing in Beijing and Shanghai (《關於支持北京市、上海市開展共有產權住房試點的意見》) which decides to develop the pilot project of shared property housing in Beijing and Shanghai. In order to support the pilot project of shared property housing in these two cities, the MOHURD puts forward eight opinions on overall requirements, basic principles, supply targets, management systems, operational management subjects, policy support, planning and construction, and organization and implementation.

Mortgages of Real Estate

Under the PRC Urban Real Estate Administration Law (《中華人民共和國城市房地產管理法》) promulgated by the NPC in July 1994, as amended in August 2007, August 2009 and August 2019, the Measures for Administration of Mortgages of Urban Real Estate (《城市房地產抵押管理辦法》) promulgated by the Ministry of Construction in May 1997 and amended in August 2001 and March 2021, and the PRC Civil Code (《中華人民共和國民法典》) promulgated by the NPC in May 2020, when mortgage is created on the ownership of a building legally obtained, such mortgage must be simultaneously created on the land use rights of the land on which the building is situated. The mortgagor and the mortgagee must sign a mortgage contract in writing. China has adopted a system to register mortgages of real estate. After a real estate mortgage contract has been signed, the parties to the mortgage must register the mortgage with the real estate administration authority at the location where the real estate is situated. A real estate mortgage contract will become effective on the date of signing, while the mortgage will be set up on the date of registration of the mortgage. If a mortgage is created on the real estate in respect of which a property ownership certificate has been obtained legally, the registration authority will, when registering the mortgage, make an entry under “third party rights” on the original property ownership certificate and then issue a certificate of third party rights to the mortgagee. If a mortgage is created on the commodity building put to pre-sale or on works in progress, the registration authority will, when registering the mortgage, record the details on the mortgage registration. If construction of a real property is completed during the term of a mortgage, the parties involved will re-register the mortgage of the real property after issue of the certificates evidencing the rights and ownership to the real estate. The mortgagor may assign the mortgaged property during the mortgage period, but if the mortgagor and the mortgagee agree otherwise, their agreement shall prevail. If the mortgaged property is assigned, the mortgage shall not be affected.

In addition, the PRC Civil Code Law further widens the scope of assets that can be mortgaged, allowing for any asset associated with property rights to be mortgaged as collateral unless a specific prohibition under another law or regulation applies.

The down payment requirement was subsequently increased to 30% of the property price for residential units with a unit floor area of 90 sq.m. or more in May 2006. You may refer to “—Measures on Stabilizing Housing Price” below. The initial capital outlay requirement was subsequently increased to 35% by the CBRC, in August 2004 pursuant to its Guidance on Risk Management of Property Loans Granted by Commercial Banks (《商業銀行房地產貸款風險管理指引》).

In a Circular on Facilitating the Continuously Healthy Development of Property Market (《關於促進房地產市場持續健康發展的通知》) issued by the State Council in August 2003, a series of measures were adopted by the government to control the property market. They included, among others, strengthening the construction and management of low-cost affordable houses, increasing the supply of ordinary commodity houses and controlling the construction of high-end commodity houses. Besides, the government also staged a series of measures on the lending for residential development, including, among others, improving the loan evaluation and lending process, improving the guarantee mechanism of individual home loans and strengthening the monitoring over property loans. It is expected that the circular will have a positive effect on the development of the PRC property market in the long run by facilitating a continuously healthy growth of the property market in China.

In September 2007, the PBOC and CBRC promulgated a Circular on Strengthening the Management of Commercial Real-estate Credit Loans (《關於加強商業性房地產信貸管理的通知》), with a supplement issued in December 2007. The circular aims to tighten the control over real-estate loans from commercial banks to prevent granting excessive credit. The measures include:

- for a first-time home owner, increasing the minimum amount of down payment to 30% of the purchase price of the underlying property if the underlying property has a unit floor area of 90 sq.m. or more and the purchaser is buying the property as its own residence;
- for a second-time home buyer, increasing (i) the minimum amount of down payment to 40% of the purchase price of the underlying property and (ii) the minimum mortgage loan interest rate to 1.1 times that of the corresponding benchmark interest rate over the same corresponding period released by the PBOC. If a family member (including the buyer, his/her spouse and their children under 18) has financed the purchase of a residential unit, any member of the family that buys another residential unit with bank loans will be regarded as a second-time home buyer;
- for a commercial property buyer, (i) requiring banks not to finance any purchase of pre-sold properties, (ii) increasing the minimum amount of down payment to 50% of the purchase price of the underlying property, (iii) increasing the minimum mortgage loan interest rate to 1.1 times that of the corresponding benchmark interest rate over the same corresponding period released by the PBOC, (iv) limiting the terms of such bank loans to no more than 10 years, although the commercial banks are given certain flexibility based on its risk assessment;

- for a buyer of commercial/residential dual-purpose properties, increasing the minimum amount of down payment to 45% of the purchase price of the underlying property, with the other terms to be decided by reference to commercial properties; and
- prohibiting commercial banks from providing loans to real-estate developers who have been found by relevant governmental authorities to be hoarding land and properties.

In addition, commercial banks are also banned from providing loans to the projects that have less than 35% of capital funds (proprietary interests), or fail to obtain land use right certificates, construction land planning permits, construction works planning permits or construction permits. Commercial banks are also prohibited from accepting commercial premises that have been vacant for more than three years as collateral for loans. In principle, real-estate development loans provided by commercial banks should only be used for the projects where the commercial banks are located. Commercial banks may not provide loans to property developers to finance the payment of land premium.

According to the Notice on Extending the Downward Range of the Interest Rate for Commercial Personal Home Loans and Supporting the Residents in First-time Purchase of Ordinary Residential Homes (《關於擴大商業性個人住房貸款利率下浮幅度等有關問題的通知》) issued by the PBOC on 22 October 2008, the minimum amount of down payment has been adjusted to 20% since 27 October 2008.

In November 2017, the CBRC issued the Notice on Regulating Banking and Credit Business (《關於規範銀信類業務的通知》), requiring that when carrying out banking and credit business, commercial banks and trust companies should implement state's macro-control policies and comply with relevant laws and regulations, and trust funds shall not be illegally invested into real estate or other restricted or prohibited areas.

In January 2018, the CBRC Shanghai Office issued the Notice on Regulating the M&A Loan Business (《關於規範開展並購貸款業務的通知》), clearly stipulating that if the M&A loan will be invested in the acquisition of the land for real estate development or the M&A of the equity of a real estate development project company, the M&A loan shall be managed according to the principle of penetration that the land project proposed to be acquired shall complete more than 25% of the total construction investment; the compliance of the M&A loan business shall be evaluated according to the principle of penetration; and the supervision requirements of large-scale loans for real estate development shall be strictly abide by.

In May 2018, the CBRC issued the Management Measures for Joint Credit Grants of Banking Financial Institutions (For Trial Implementation) (《銀行業金融機構聯合授信管理辦法(試行)》), stipulating that for enterprises which have financing balance in more than three banks and where the total financing balance is more than five billion yuan, the banking financial institutions should establish a joint credit mechanism. It is expected that with the spread of the pilot, the bank credit of real estate enterprises with large debts, high leverage and insufficient solvency will be limited, and long-term financing and over-funding will not be sustainable.

Insurance

There is no mandatory provision under the PRC laws, regulations and governmental rules which require a property developer to take out insurance policies for its real estate developments. According to the common practice of the property industry in China, construction companies are usually required to submit insurance proposals in the course of tendering and bidding for construction projects. Construction companies must pay for the insurance premium at their own costs and take out insurance to cover their liabilities, such as third party's liability risk, employer's liability risk, risk of non-performance of contract in the course of construction and other kinds of risks associated with the construction and installation works throughout the construction period. The insurance coverage for all these risks will cease immediately after the completion and acceptance upon inspection of construction.

Measures on Stabilizing Housing Price

The General Office of the State Council promulgated a Circular on Stabilizing Housing Price (《關於切實穩定住房價格的通知》) in March 2005, introducing measures to be taken to restrain the housing price from increasing too fast and to promote a stable development of the real estate market. In April 2005, the Ministry of Construction, NDRC, the Ministry of Finance, the Ministry of Land and Resources, the PBOC, SAT and CBRC jointly issued an Opinions on Stabilizing Housing Prices (《關於做好穩定住房價格工作的意見》) containing the following guidance:

- Where the housing price is growing too fast, while the supply of ordinary commodity houses at medium or low prices and low-cost affordable houses is insufficient, the housing construction should mainly involve projects of ordinary commodity houses at medium or low prices and low-cost affordable houses. The construction of low-density, high-end houses should be strictly controlled. The relevant local governmental authorities are authorized to impose conditions on planning and design such as the building height, plot ratio and green space and to impose such requirements as the selling price, type and GFA as preconditions on land assignment. The local governments are also required to strengthen their supervision of real estate developments in their jurisdictions.
- Where the price of land for residential use and the price for residential housing are growing too fast, the proportion of land supply for residential use to the total land supply should be appropriately raised, and the land supply for the construction of ordinary commodity houses at medium or low prices and low-cost affordable houses should be increased. Land supply for villa construction should continue to be suspended, and land supply for high-end housing property construction should be strictly restricted.
- Idle land fee must be imposed on land that has not been developed for one year from the contractual construction commencement date. Land use rights that have not been developed for two years must be forfeited without compensation.
- Commencing from 1 June 2005, a business tax upon transfer of a residential house by an individual within two years from his/her purchase will be levied on the entire sales proceeds from such sale. For an individual to transfer an ordinary residential house two years after his/her purchase, the business tax will be exempted. For an individual to transfer a property other than an ordinary residential house two years after his/her purchase, the business tax will be levied on the difference between the price of such sale and the original purchase price.
- Ordinary residential houses with medium or small GFA and at medium or low prices may be granted preferential treatment such as planning permits, land supply, credit and taxation. Houses enjoying these preferential policies must satisfy the following conditions in principle: the plot ratio is above 1.0, the GFA of one single unit is less than 120 sq.m., and the actual transfer price is lower than 120% of the average transfer price of comparable houses at comparable locations. The local governments at the provincial level may, based on their actual local circumstances, formulate specific standards for ordinary residential houses that may enjoy the preferential policies.
- Transfer of unfinished commodity properties by any pre-sale purchaser is forbidden. In addition, purchasers are required to buy properties in their real names. Any commodity property pre-sale contract must also be filed with the relevant governmental agencies electronically immediately after its execution.

The Notice on Adjustment of the Housing Loan Policy and Deposit Rate of Excess Reserve for Commercial Banks (《關於調整商業銀行住房信貸政策和超額準備金存款利率的通知》), promulgated by the PBOC in March 2005, has made adjustment to individual housing loan policies of commercial banks as well as individual housing fund loan rate. Pursuant to this notice, the preferential mortgage loan interest rate was replaced by the commercial loan interest rate subject to certain restrictions on the lower limit on such interest rates. In the urban areas or cities with rapidly increased real estate prices, minimum down payment ratio for individual housing loans was adjusted from 20% to 30%. In May 2006, the Ministry of Construction, NDRC, the PBOC and other relevant PRC governmental authorities jointly issued their Opinions on Housing Supply Structure and Stabilization of Property Prices (《關於調整住房供應結構穩定住房價格意見的通知》). These opinions reiterated the existing measures and ushered additional measures that aim to further curb rapid increases in property prices in large cities and to promote healthy development of the PRC property market. These measures include:

- requiring that at least 70% of the land supply approved by a local government for residential property development for any given year must be used for developing low-to medium-cost and small- to medium-size units and low-cost rental properties;
- requiring that at least 70% of residential projects approved or constructed on or after 1 June 2006 must consist of units with a unit floor area of less than 90 sq.m. per unit and that projects which have received approvals prior to this date but have not obtained construction permits must adjust their planning in order to be in conformity with this new requirement, with the exception that municipalities under direct administration of the PRC government, such as Beijing, Chongqing and Shanghai, provincial capitals and certain other cities may deviate from such ratio under special circumstances upon approval from the Ministry of Construction;
- increasing the minimum amount of down payment from 20% to 30% of the purchase price of the underlying property if the underlying property has a unit floor area of 90 sq.m. or more, effective from 1 June 2006;
- prohibiting commercial banks from lending to real estate developers with an internal capital ratio, calculated by dividing the internal funds by the total project capital required for the relevant projects, of less than 35%, restricting the grant or extension of revolving credit facilities to property developers holding a large amount of idle land and vacant commodity
- properties, and prohibiting commercial banks from accepting commodity properties which have been vacant for more than three years as security for their loans; and
- imposing a business tax levy on the entire sales proceeds from transfer of properties if the holding period is shorter than five years, effective from 1 June 2006, as opposed to two years when such levy was initially implemented in June 2005, and allowing such business price in the event that an individual transfers a property other than an ordinary residential property after five years from his/her date of purchase.

In July 2006, the Ministry of Construction, NDRC, MOFCOM, the PBOC, SAIC, and SAFE jointly issued an Opinion on Regulating the Access and Management of Foreign Capital in the Real Estate Market (《關於規範房地產市場外資准入和管理的意見》) (the “171 Opinion”) and amended in August 2015. The 171 Opinion aims to tighten access by foreign capital to the PRC real estate market and to restrict property purchases in China by foreign institutions or individuals. It provides, among others, that a foreign institution or individual must establish a foreign-invested enterprise in order to purchase real property in China if the property is not intended for self-use. The registered capital of such foreign-invested enterprise must amount to at least 50% of its total investments in PRC real properties if the amounts of such investments exceed U.S.$10 million. Branches and representative offices of foreign institutions in China, and foreign individuals who work or study in China, may purchase real property for their own use but not for any other purposes. In September 2006, SAFE and the Ministry of Construction jointly issued a Notice in Respect of Foreign Exchange Issues in the Real Estate Market (《關於規範房地產市場外匯管理有關問題的通知》) (the “47 Notice”) to implement the 171 Opinion and amended in May 2015. The 47 Notice provides specific procedures for purchasing real properties by foreign institutions and foreign individuals. The 47 Notice also forbids a FIREE to apply for overseas loans if it has failed to obtain the land use rights certificates, or its own capital funds do not reach 35% of the total investment for the project.

In September 2007, the Ministry of Land and Resources issued the Notice on Implementation of the State Council's Certain Opinions on Resolving Difficulties of Housing for Low-income Urban Families and Further Strengthening Macro-control of Land Supply (《關於認真貫徹國務院〈關於解決城市低收入家庭住房困難的若干意見〉進一步加強土地供應調控的通知》) as amended on 3 December 2010, pursuant to which, at least 70% of the land supply arranged by the relevant land administration authority at city or county level for residential property development for any given year must be used for developing low-to-medium-cost and small- to medium-size units, low-cost rental properties and affordable housing.

In November 2007, the PRC government revised its Catalog of Guidance on Industries for Foreign Investment by, among other things, removing the development of ordinary residences from the foreign-investment-encouraged category and adding the secondary market residential property trading and brokering into the foreign-investment-restricted category. In July 2008, the PBOC and CBRC jointly issued the Notice on Financially Promoting the Saving and Intensification of Use of Land (《關於金融促進節約集約用地的通知》), requiring that relevant financial institutions to strengthen the administration of construction land project loans, including the administration of commercial real estate credit loan.

In October 2008, the PBOC issued the Notice on Extending the Downward Range of the Interest Rate for Commercial Personal Home Loans and Supporting the Residents in First-time Purchase of Ordinary Residential Homes (《關於擴大商業性個人住房貸款利率下浮幅度等有關問題的通知》), pursuant to which, since 27 October 2008, the bottom limit of the interest rate applicable to the commercial personal home loans has been extended, the minimum amount of down payment has been adjusted to 20% and the interest rate applicable to personal home loans financed by provident fund has been also reduced.

In October 2008, the Ministry of Finance and SAT issued the Notice on the Adjustments to Taxation on Real Property Transactions (《關於調整房地產交易環節稅收政策的通知》) (as amended in September 2010), pursuant to which, since 1 November 2008, individuals who sell or purchase residential properties are temporarily exempted from stamp duty and who sell residential properties are temporarily exempted from land value-added tax.

In December 2008, the General Office of the State Council issued the Several Opinions on Facilitating the Healthy Development of the Real Estate Market (《關於促進房地產市場健康發展的若干意見》), which aims to, among other things, encourage the consumption of the ordinary residence and support the real estate developer to handle the market change. Pursuant to this opinion, in order to encourage the consumption of the ordinary residence, from 1 January 2009 to 31 December 2009, business tax is imposed on the full amount of the sale income upon the transfer a non-ordinary residence by an individual within two years from the purchase date. For the transfer of non-ordinary residence which is more than two years from the purchase date and ordinary residence which is within two years from the purchase date, the business tax is to be levied on the difference between the sale income and the purchase price. In the case of an ordinary residence, the business tax is exempted if that transfer occurs after two years from the purchase date. Furthermore, individuals with an existing ordinary residence that is smaller than the average size for their locality may buy a second ordinary residence under favorable loan terms similar to first-time buyers. In addition, support for real estate developers to deal with the changing market is to be provided by increasing credit financing services to “low-to-medium-level price” or “small-to-medium-sized” ordinary commercial housing projects, particularly those under construction, and providing financial support and other related services to real estate developers with good credit standing for merger and acquisition activities.

In January 2010, the General Office of the State Council issued a Circular on Facilitating the Stable and Healthy Development of Property Market (《關於促進房地產市場平穩健康發展的通知》), which adopted a series of measures to strengthen and improve the regulation of the property market, stabilize market expectation and facilitate the stable and healthy development of the property market. These include, among others, measures to increase the supply of affordable housing and ordinary commodity housing, provide guidance for the purchase of property, restrain speculation of properties, and strengthen risk prevention and market supervision. Additionally, it explicitly requires each family (including a borrower, his or her spouse and children under 18), that has already purchased a residence through mortgage financing and have applied to purchase a second or more residences through mortgage financing, to pay a minimum down payment of 40% of the purchase price on the second of more residences.

On 17 April 2010, the State Council announced a series of new measures in the Notice on Resolutely Curbing the Rapid Rising of the House Price in Certain Cities (《國務院關於堅決遏制部分城市房價過快上漲的通知》) to keep housing prices from rising too quickly in certain cities in conjunction with and subsequent to a meeting held on 14 April 2010. The new measures include, among other things:

- Higher minimum down payment requirements

- first-time home house buyers must make a down payment of at least 30% of the purchase price of the underlying property if the underlying property has a unit floor area of 90 sq.m. or more;
- second-time home buyers must make a down payment of at least 50% of the purchase price of the underlying property subject to a minimum mortgage loan interest rate at 110% of the relevant PBOC benchmark interest rate; and
- commercial banks should significantly increase the ratio of minimum down payment to the purchase price and the minimum mortgage loan interest rate, respectively, for buyers who purchase a third or additional houses by mortgage financing.

- Commercial banks' right to stop lending

- in regions where house prices have been increasing too quickly, commercial banks may stop granting mortgage loans to home buyers who purchase a third or any additional houses;
- commercial banks are required to stop granting mortgage loans to home buyers who are not local residents and cannot provide evidence of payment of tax or social insurance contribution in such local area for more than one year; and
- the local governments may adopt interim measures to impose limits on the maximum number of units that one family may own.

- Punishment of speculative developers

- commercial banks are not allowed to lend to developers who hold idle land or manipulate land reserve or price; and
- the CSRC may suspend review of applications from speculative developers for listing of shares, restructuring or refinancing.

- Disclosure of property ownership

- property developers who have filed with the local governmental information of the completed properties to be sold or who have obtained the pre-sale permits are required to disclose to the public the properties for sale all at once and within a specified period of time and sell the properties they develop exactly at the price provided to the local government.

On 29 September 2010, the PBOC and CBRC jointly issued the Notice on Relevant Issues Regarding the Improvement of Differential Mortgage Loan Policies (《關於完善差別化住房信貸政策有關問題的通知》), according to which, the minimum down payment has been raised to 30% of the purchase price of the commodity residential property, and commercial banks shall suspend granting mortgage loans to families that purchase a third or further residential property or non-local residents who fail to provide one-year or longer tax payment certificates or social insurance payment certificates. For a mortgage on the second residential property, the minimum down payment must be 50% of the purchase price and the interest rate must be no less than 1.1 times that of the corresponding benchmark interest rate over the same corresponding period released by the PBOC.

On 26 January 2011, the State Council issued the Notice on Further Adjustment and Control of Property Markets (《關於進一步做好房地產市場調控工作有關問題的通知》) which requires, among other restrictive measures: (i) a minimum down payment of 60% of the total purchase price with a minimum mortgage interest rate of 110% of the benchmark rate published by the PBOC for the purchase of a second residential property; and (ii) in municipalities directly under the PRC government, cities listed on state plans, provincial capitals, and cities where the housing prices are overly high or increasing at an excessively high rate, local residents with two or more residential properties, non-local residents with one or more residential properties and non-local residents that are unable to provide documentation certifying payment of local tax or social insurance payment for a specified time period, are not permitted to purchase any residential properties located in the local administrative area.

On 27 January 2011, the Ministry of Finance and SAT jointly issued the Notice on Adjusting the Business Tax Policies upon Transferring Residential Properties by Individuals (《關於調整個人住房轉讓營業稅政策的通知》). Pursuant to the notice, business tax will be levied upon the transfer of a residential property held by an individual for less than five years and the amount of business tax to be paid will be calculated based on the full amount of the sale proceeds. For an individual transferring a non-ordinary residential property held for five years or more, the business tax to be paid will be calculated based on the difference between the sale proceeds and the original purchase price. An individual transferring an ordinary residential property held for five years or more will be exempted from the business tax. The notice was abolished and replaced by the Notice on Adjusting the Business Tax Policies upon Transferring Residential Properties by Individuals promulgated by the Ministry of Finance and SAT in March 2015.

On 19 July 2012, Ministry of Land and Resources and MOHURD issued the Urgent Notice to Further Tighten Up Real Property Land Administration and Consolidate the Achievement of Macroeconomic Control of the Real Property Market (《國土資源部、住房城鄉建設部關於進一步嚴格房地產用地管理鞏固房地產市場調控成果的緊急通知》). According to this notice, the Ministry of Land and Resources, MOHURD and their respective local counterparts will continue to strictly regulate the market to prevent housing prices from rebounding. Local governments must ensure a supply of land for social security housing projects, and must try to increase the completion rate of such projects. Further, the governments will further improve the land price evaluation procedure, thereby allowing for the reasonable determination of base prices for land auction. For those auctions in which the land prices may be raised to a significantly higher level, the governments must adjust the bidding method in a timely manner. For those lands which are expected to reach unprecedentedly high prices and those lands whose final deal prices have a premium rate of more than 50%, the government should adjust the land transfer scheme in a timely manner, such as by limiting the final home prices or requiring the land purchaser to build additional social security housing projects. Further, the government will continue enforcing the system for reporting unusual transactions, which requires that governments at city-level and county-level should, within two business days upon the signing of purchase confirmation letter or the dispatch of the letter of acceptance, submit the unusual transaction data to the national land market monitoring and administration system, thereby reporting the unusual transaction to the Ministry of Land and Resources and its agencies at the provincial level.

Additionally, under this notice, the government emphasizes that the scope of land to be transferred should not exceed its scope limit, and some other acts will continue to be strictly prohibited, such as combining two or more separate tracts of land into one bidding subject, or transferring land without first completing the demolition and relocation work. The floor-area ratio of residential land should be no less than 1. Further, land allocation decision or land transfer contract should require real estate developer to commence the construction and development within one year after the land has been delivered to it and to complete the construction and development within three years. The government will strictly inspect the competence of bidders so as to prohibit any bank loan from being used for the payment of land price. The deposit for land auction or bidding should not be less than 20% of the base price. After the deal of land transfer has been reached, the land transfer agreement should be signed within 10 business days, 50% of the land price should be paid within one month after the signing of the land transfer agreement and the payment of remaining land price should be made within one year. Also, the government should prohibit the purchaser from purchasing land for a certain period if such a purchaser (a) failed to pay the land price in a timely manner; (b) intentionally left the land idle; (c) intentionally reserved land for the purpose of resale; (d) developed land beyond its development capability; or (e) failed to duly perform the land use contract.

On 6 September 2012, the Ministry of Land and Resources promulgated the Notice on Strictly Implementing Land Use Standards and Vigorously Promoting Economical and Intensive Land Use (《關於嚴格執行土地使用標準大力促進節約集約用地的通知》), which stipulates, among other things, that: (a) land use standards shall be strictly implemented and continuously improved. For industrial and commercial land transferred through lawful public tender, auction and listing-for-sale, the administration of land and resources of cities and counties shall establish the requirements related to land use standards for the schemes and announcement of land assignment, and include such requirements in assignment contracts and strictly enforce the requirements. Construction lands that are listed in the Catalog for Prohibited Land Use Projects, or that fail to conform to the prescribed conditions in the Catalog for Restricted Land Use Projects (《限制用地項目目錄》), or for which the intensity of investment, floor area ratio, construction coefficient, ratio of green land, or proportion of administrative offices and living facilities land fail to conform to relevant requirements for industrial projects or total area or each functional division area surpasses the required limits or the land area and floor area ratio fails to conform to the conditions of the residential land supply shall not pass the land supply and approval procedures; (b) the format and substantial content of land use standard shall be strictly examined; (c) the implementation of land use standard shall be further supervised and evaluated; and (d) the land use standard training program shall be given to the officials in land and resources authorities, and such the land use standards shall be widely publicized for the purpose of effectuation. On 26 February 2013, the General Office of the State Council issued the Notice on Continuing Adjustment and Control of Property Markets (《關於繼續做好房地產市場調控工作的通知》) which requires, among other restrictive measures:

- (i) Improving the responsibility system for stabilizing housing prices. Municipalities directly under the PRC government, cities listed on state plans and provincial capitals (excluding Lhasa) must set an annual objective for controlling housing prices and publish annual new commodity housing price control target in the first quarter of the year.
- (ii) Firmly restraining purchases of residential housing for investment and speculation purposes. Municipalities directly under the PRC government, cities listed on state plans and provincial capitals which have implemented restrictions on the real estate market are required to cover all administrative areas of the cities as restricted areas, and restricted housing shall include new commodity housing and second-hand housing. Non-local residents who possess one or more residential properties and fail to provide one-year or longer tax payment certificates or social insurance payment certificates are to be barred from purchasing any residential properties located in the administrative area. For cities where housing prices are increasing at an excessively high rate, local branches of the PBOC may further raise the down payment rate and mortgage interest rate for the purchase of a second residential property. In addition, the state will strictly enforce a 20% tax on home sale profits.
- (iii) Expanding ordinary commodity housing units and increasing the supply of land. The overall housing land supply in 2013 shall not be lower than the average actual land supply in the past five years. Financial institutions, subject to credit requirements, are to prioritize requests for loans for ordinary commodity housing construction projects in which medium and small housing units constitute 70% or more of the total units in such construction project.

On 5 March 2014, the annual report published by the PRC government's State Council stated that different cities should have different housing policies, the government will promote supply of small- and medium-sized commercial residential buildings, control speculative demands, and promote healthy development of the real estate market in the PRC. After several years of referring to controlling policies and suppressing the rising housing prices, this was the first year that such language was not included in the report.

On 29 September 2014, the PBOC and CBRC jointly issued the Notice on Further Improving Housing Financial Services (《關於進一步做好住房金融服務工作的通知》). According to such Notice, if a household that owns an existing property for which the property purchase loan has been paid off applies for a new loan to purchase another ordinary commodity housing, policies applicable will be those which were applicable to the first owner-occupied property. Also, accumulation payment in one location can be acknowledged in another location and employees may continue accumulation payment after moving to a new location. Furthermore, some banking fees are no longer applicable for such loans. The Notice also enhances support for households purchasing property for the first time.

and Healthy Development of Real Estate Market' (《關於優化2015年住房及用地供應結構促進房地產市場平穩健康發展的通知》), designed to ensure the balance between market supply and demand and to require that the size of housing land be determined according to the specific local conditions. For cities and counties that obviously have a much larger supply, housing land supply should be reduced and controlled to optimize its size and structure and accelerate de-stocking.

- On 30 March 2015, the Notice of the People's Bank of China, the MOHURD and the China Banking Regulatory Commission on Matters concerning Individual Housing Loan Policies (《中國人民銀行、住房城鄉建設部、中國銀行業監督管理委員會關於個人住房貸款政策有關問題的通知》) was promulgated, according to which, when a household, which has already owned a home and has not paid off the relevant housing loan, applies for another commercial personal housing loan to purchase another ordinary housing property for the purpose of improving living conditions, the minimum down payment is adjusted to 40%. For working households that have contributed to the HPT (Housing Provident Fund), when they use the HPT loans to purchase an ordinary residential house as their first home, the minimum down payment shall be 20% of the house price; for working households that have contributed to the HPT and that have already owned a home and have paid off the corresponding home loans, when they apply, for the second time, for the HPT loans for the purchase of an ordinary residential house as their second home in the interest of improving their housing conditions, the minimum down payment shall be 30% of the house price. After the promulgation, banks of various provinces have lowered the minimum down payment accordingly for households that apply for loans to purchase a second ordinary residential house as their second home.
- On 30 March 2015, the Notice of the Ministry of Finance and the State Administration of Taxation on Adjusting the Business Tax Policies Concerning Transfer of Individual Housing (《財政部、國家稅務總局關於調整個人住房轉讓營業稅政策的通知》) was promulgated, which came into effect on 31 March 2015. According to this notice, the sale of an ordinary residential house by an individual who purchased the same house more than two years (inclusive) ago shall be exempted from business tax. The exemption period is shortened from five years to two years to further stimulate the circulation of second-hand housing and stimulate the market. However, on 27 August 2015, MOHURD, MOF and the PBOC jointly issued the Circular on Adjusting the Minimum Down Payment for the Purchase of Houses by Individuals on the Housing Provident Fund Loans. The circular provides that home buyers who use the housing provident fund for their home purchase are only required to pay a minimum down payment of 20% for their purchase of a second house if all loans are settled on their first home.
- In the first half of 2016, the government promoted property transactions through the lowering of the RRR (i.e. reserve requirement ratio), bank interest, taxes, and down payment requirements. In the latter half of 2016, the government gave priority to regulation through restrictions on property purchase and land supply, in order to prevent a precipitous rise of housing prices and avoid a property bubble. The governments of Shanghai, Hangzhou, Suzhou, Nanjing and other major cities have issued related policies on restrictions of property purchase and bank loans one after another.
- On 1 February 2016, the PBOC and CBRC jointly issued a notice which provides that in cities where restrictions on purchase of residential property are not being implemented, the minimum down payment ratio for a personal housing commercial loan obtained by a household for purchasing its first ordinary residential property is, in principle, 25% of the property price, which can be adjusted down by 5% by local authorities. For existing residential property household owners who have not fully repaid previous loan and are obtaining further personal housing commercial loan to purchase an additional ordinary residential property for the purpose of improving living conditions, the minimum down payment ratio shall be not less than 30% which is lower than the previous requirement of not less than 40%.

On 17 February 2016, the Notice of the Ministry of Finance, the State Administration of Taxation and the MOHURD on Adjusting the Preferential Policies on Deed Tax and Business Tax during Real Estate Transactions (《財政部、國家稅務總局、住房城鄉建設部關於調整房地產交易環節契稅、營業稅優惠政策的通知》) was promulgated, which came into effect on 22 February 2016. According to this notice, (1) deed tax shall be levied at the reduced rate of 1% on an individual who purchases a house of 90 sq.m. or smaller that is the only housing belonging to the family (members include the purchaser, his/her spouse and their minor child/children, hereinafter the same). If such a house is larger than 90 sq.m., deed tax shall be levied at the reduced rate of 1.5%; (2) deed tax shall be levied at the reduced rate of 1% on an individual who purchases a second family home of 90 sq.m. or smaller for the purpose of improving living conditions for the family. If such a house is larger than 90 sq.m., deed tax shall be levied at the reduced rate of 2%; and (3) an individual who sells a property purchased less than two years ago shall be subject to the full amount of business tax. An individual who sells a property purchased two or more years ago shall be exempted from business tax.

On 12 April 2016, the General Office of the State Council issued the Notice on Issuing the Implementation Plan for Special Rectification on Risks in Internet Finance (《互聯網金融風險專項整治工作實施方案的通知》), which provides, among others, that without having obtained the relevant financial qualifications, the real estate development enterprises, the real estate intermediaries and the Internet financial institutions shall not use P2P network lending platforms and equity platforms to engage in any real estate financial business; and upon obtaining the relevant financial qualifications, the aforementioned institutions shall not illegally carry out businesses related to real estate finance. The enterprises engaged in real estate financial businesses should comply with the macro-control policies and the related regulations of management of real estate finance. In addition, the notice regulates conduct such as “purchasing a house through Internet crowdfunding,” and strictly prohibits all kinds of institutions from carrying out businesses of a “down payment” nature.”

On 10 October 2016, the MOHURD promulgated the Notice on Further Regulating the Operating Conduct of the Real Estate Development Enterprises and Maintaining the Order of the Real Estate Market (《關於進一步規範房地產開發企業經營行為維護房地產市場秩序的通知》). It is made clear that improper operating conduct of real estate development enterprises, resulting from the seeking for unjustified interests, shall be strictly investigated and dealt with. Specifically, the aforementioned improper operating conduct includes: (a) issuing false property resource information and advertisements; (b) malicious hyping and driving up property prices through fabricating or distributing price-rise information and other methods; (c) selling commercial housing without obtaining the pre-sale license; (d) the practice of real estate development enterprises charging the buyers fees under the name of “down payment” or “reservation money,” or under disguised forms of subscription, reservation, waiting for a number, or issuing cards, when such buyers do not meet the sales requirements of commercial housing, and taking the opportunity to drive up property prices; (e) hoarding properties, or hoarding properties in disguised forms; (f) selling the commercial housing without a clearly marked price, at a higher price than the marked price, or with an extra charge of unmarked fees; (g) forcing the buyers to accept the price of goods or services through bundling, adding additional conditions and other restrictive methods; (h) re-selling the commercial housing which has been turned into the subject matter of the commercial housing sales contract to a third party; and (i) other improper operating conduct. For real-estate developing enterprises that have carried out the aforementioned improper operation conduct, the relevant department for real estate at all levels shall take the following measures according to the circumstances: (a) sending a written warning; (b) interviewing the main person in charge of the enterprise; (c) publicly reporting the improper operating conduct of the enterprise; (d) enrolling the enterprise on the list of seriously illegal and unreliable real estate development enterprises; and (e) to be examined and approved by the qualification authority in the qualification examination. On 1 April 2017, the MOHURD and the Ministry of Land and Resources jointly promulgated the Notice on Strengthening the Work of Management and Regulation of Housing and Land Supply in the Near Future (《關於加強近期住房及用地供應管理和調控有關工作的通知》). Adhering to the value orientation that “houses are built for living, not for speculating,” this notice is promulgated to strengthen and improve housing and land supply management, improve the relationship of housing supply and demand, stabilize market expectations, and promote the development of a stable and healthy real estate market. The relevant matters include reasonable arrangements for residential land supply. Based on the commodity housing inventory digestion cycle, all local governments should adjust housing land supply scale, structure, and sequence in a timely manner. If the digestion cycle needs more than 36 months, no more new land should be provided; if the digestion cycle needs 18 to 36 months, the supply of the land should be reduced; if the digestion cycle needs six to 12 months, the supply of the land should be increased; if the digestion cycle needs less than six months, the supply of the land should not only be significantly increased, but also be sped up accordingly. All localities should establish a land purchase fund censorship system to ensure that the real estate development enterprises use their own funds to purchase land. If the sources of funds do not meet the requirements of the departments of land and resources and the related financial departments, the land bidding qualification of such enterprises will be canceled, and they will be prohibited from taking part in land bidding, auctions and listings for a period of time. In addition, based on the actual situation of the particular locality, all localities should flexibly determine their bidding systems, including “restricting housing price, bidding land price,” “restricting land price, bidding housing price,” selling existing houses when exceeding certain proportion of the land premium rate, and so on, so as to prohibit new higher prices of the regional total price and new higher unit prices of the land or the floor, and to prevent high prices from disrupting market expectations, (b) grasp of the rhythm of housing construction and market entering, (c) development of security housing, and (d) strengthen the responsibility of local government.

On 13 July 2021, the MHURD, the NDRC, the Ministry of Natural Resources and other five departments jointly issued “the Notice on Continuous Rectification and Regulation of the Order of the Real Estate Market” (關於持續整治規範房地產市場秩序的通知), which requires all relevant governmental agencies to focus on, among others, the issues in real estate development, sales, leasing and property management, with an aim to promote the stable and healthy development of the real estate market.

The national and regional authorities have adjusted regulation enforcement mechanisms to keep the housing price stable in response to changes in market economic conditions. Many cities currently impose restrictions such as real estate purchase restrictions, loan restrictions and price restrictions to prevent the housing market from overheating.

Overseas Listing

In August 2006, MOFCOM, the State Assets Supervision and Administration Commission, the SAT, the State Administration of Industry and Commerce, the China Securities Regulatory Commission, and SAFE jointly adopted the Regulations on Mergers and Acquisitions of Domestic Enterprises by Foreign Investors (《關於外國投資者並購境內企業的規定》), which became effective on 8 September 2006, and amended on 22 June 2009. The rule requires, among other things, that offshore special purpose vehicles, formed for overseas listing purposes through acquisitions of PRC domestic companies controlled by PRC companies or individuals, obtain the approval of the China Securities Regulatory Commission prior to publicly listing their securities on an overseas stock exchange.

In May 2018, the NDRC and the Ministry of Finance issued the Notice on Improving the Market Constraint Mechanism to Strictly Prevent Foreign Debt Risks and Local Debt Risks (《關於完善市場約束機制嚴格防範外債風險和地方債務風險的通知》) to regulate the investment direction of the funds raised from overseas bond issuance of real estate enterprises, which should be mainly used to repay debts due in order to avoid debt defaults, and to restrict the funds from being invested in domestic and foreign real estate projects, supplementing working capital and etc.

Environmental Protection

The laws and regulations governing the environmental protection requirements for real estate development in China include the PRC Environmental Protection Law (《中華人民共和國環境保護法》), the PRC Prevention and Control of Noise Pollution Law (《中華人民共和國環境噪聲污染防治法》), the PRC Environmental Impact Assessment Law (《中華人民共和國環境影響評價法》) and the PRC Administrative Regulations on Environmental Protection for Development Projects (《建設項目環境保護管理條例》) and the Category-based Administration Catalogue for the Environmental Impact Assessment of Construction Projects (《建設項目環境影響評價分類管理名錄》).

Under these laws and regulations, according to classified administration of environmental impact assessment for construction projects, an environmental impact assessment report or an environmental impact assessment statement or an environmental impact registration form must be submitted by a developer to the relevant governmental authorities for approval or record-filing before commencing construction of any project. In addition, upon completion of the property development, the relevant environmental authorities will also inspect the property to ensure compliance with the applicable environmental protection standards and regulations before the property can be delivered to the purchasers.

On 1 January 2013, the State Council issued the Notice on Green Building Action Plan (綠色建築行動方案) formulated by the Commission of Development and Reform and the MOHURD, which encourages residential house with decoration to improve resource utilization efficiency and promote energy saving and emission reduction.

On 25 May 2021, the MOHURD and other fourteen departments jointly issued the Opinions on Strengthening the County's Green and Low-Carbon Construction (《關於加強縣城綠色低碳建設的意見》), specifying the requirements for the development of green and low-carbon county town.

Labor Law and Labor Contract Law

Pursuant to the Labor Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國勞動法》) effective since 1 January 1995 and amended on 27 August 2009 and 29 December 2018, the PRC Labor Contract Law (《中華人民共和國勞動合同法》) effective since 1 January 2008 and amended on 28 December 2012, and the Implementing Regulations of the PRC Labor Contract Law (《中華人民共和國勞動合同法實施條例》) effective since 18 September 2008, an employment relationship is established from the date when an employee commences working for an employer, and a written employment contract must be entered into on this same date. If an employment relationship has already been established with an employee but no written employment contract has been entered into simultaneously, a written employment contract must be entered into within one month from the date on which the employee commences work. If an employer fails to enter into a written employment contract with an employee within one year from the date on which the employment relationship is established, it must pay the employee twice his/her salary for each month of the eleven months' period and rectify the situation by subsequently entering into a written employment contract with the employee.

Regulation on Social Insurance and Housing Fund

As required under Regulation of Insurance for Labor Injury, Provisional Insurance Measures for Maternity of Employees, Regulation of Unemployment Insurance, the Decision of the State Council on Setting up Basic Medical Insurance System for Staff Members and Workers in Cities and Towns and the Interim Regulations on the Collection and Payment of Social Insurance Premiums, business enterprises are obliged to provide their employees in China with welfare schemes covering pension insurance, unemployment insurance, maternity insurance, injury insurance and medical insurance. Any enterprise that fails to make social insurance contributions in accordance with the relevant regulations may be ordered to rectify the non-compliance and pay the required contributions within a stipulated deadline. If the enterprise fails to rectify the non-compliance by the stipulated deadline set out by the governmental authorities, it can be assessed a late fee by the relevant authority in the amount of 0.2% of the amount overdue per day from the original due date.

In addition, on 28 October 2010, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress promulgated the Social Insurance Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國社會保險法》) (the "Social Insurance Law"), which became effective on 1 July 2011 and was amended on 29 December 2018, to clarify the components of the social insurance system in China. According to the Social Insurance Law, employees will participate in pension insurance, work-related injury insurance, medical insurance, unemployment insurance and maternity insurance and the employers must, together with their employees or separately, pay the social insurance premiums for such employees. According to the Social Insurance Law, an employer that fails to make social insurance contributions may be ordered to pay the required contributions within a stipulated deadline and be subject to a late fee of 0.05% of the amount overdue per day from the original due date by the relevant authority. If the employer continues to fail to rectify the delinquent social insurance contribution payment within such stipulated deadline, it may be subject to a fine ranging from one to three times the amount overdue.

According to Regulations on Management of Housing Fund, enterprises must register at and be subject to review by housing fund administration centers with competent jurisdictions, and open accounts of housing fund for their employees with the designated banks. Enterprises are also obliged to pay and deposit housing fund in full amount in a timely manner. Any enterprise that fails to make housing fund contributions may be ordered to rectify the non-compliance and pay the required contributions within a stipulated deadline; otherwise, an application may be made to a local court for compulsory enforcement.

Foreign Exchange Controls

Under the PRC Foreign Currency Administration Rules (《中華人民共和國外匯管理條例》) promulgated in 1996 and revised in 1997 and as amended in 2008 and various regulations issued by SAFE and other relevant PRC governmental authorities, Renminbi is convertible into other currencies for the purpose of current account items, such as trade related receipts and payments and the payment interest and dividend. The conversion of Renminbi into other currencies and remittance of the converted foreign currency outside China for the purpose of capital account items, such as direct equity investments, loans and repatriation of investment, requires the prior approval from SAFE or its local office. Payments for transactions that take place within China must be made in Renminbi. Unless otherwise provided, PRC companies may repatriate foreign currency payments received from abroad or retain the same abroad under capital account items after obtaining the prior approval from SAFE or its local office. Foreign-invested enterprises may retain foreign exchange in accounts with designated foreign exchange banks subject to a cap set by SAFE or its local office. Foreign exchange proceeds under the current accounts may be either retained or sold to a financial institution engaging in settlement and sale of foreign exchange pursuant to relevant rules and regulations of the State. For foreign exchange proceeds under the capital accounts, approval from SAFE is required for its retention or sale to a financial institution engaging in settlement and sale of foreign exchange, except where such approval is not required under the rules and regulations of the State.

In July 2014, SAFE issued the Notice on Issues Relating to the Administration of Foreign Exchange in Overseas Investment, Fund-raising and Reverse Investment Activities of Domestic Residents Conducted via Special Purpose Companies (《關於境內居民通過特殊目的公司境外投融資及返程投資外匯管理有關問題的通知》). According to the notice, a special purpose company refers to an overseas enterprise that is directly established or indirectly controlled for the purpose of investment and financing by Mainland residents (including Mainland institutions and resident individuals) with their legitimate holdings of the assets or interests in Mainland enterprises, or their legitimate holdings of overseas assets or interests. Round-trip investments shall refer to the direct investment activities directly or indirectly carried out in the Mainland by Mainland residents through SPCs, namely the activities whereby Mainland residents establish foreign-invested. Prior to making contribution to a SPC with legitimate holdings of domestic or overseas assets or interests, a Mainland resident shall apply to the relevant Foreign Exchange Bureau for foreign exchange registration of overseas investment. A Mainland resident who makes contribution with legitimate holdings of domestic assets or interests shall apply for registration to the Foreign Exchange Bureau at its place of registration or the Foreign Exchange Bureau at the locus of the assets or interests of the relevant Mainland enterprise. A Mainland resident who makes contribution with legitimate holdings of overseas assets or interests shall apply for registration to the Foreign Exchange Bureau at its place of registration or household register.

The SAFE issued the Notice of Foreign Exchange on Reforming the Administrative Approach Regarding the Settlement of the Foreign Exchange Capitals of Foreign-invested Enterprises (《關於改革外商投資企業外匯資本金結匯管理方式的通知》) in March 2015, which was partially abolished in December 2019. Pursuant to the notice, among others, foreign-invested enterprises shall be allowed to settle their foreign exchange capital on a discretionary basis. The RMB funds obtained by foreign-invested enterprises from the discretionary settlement of their foreign exchange capital shall be managed under the accounts for foreign exchange settlement pending payment. A foreign-invested enterprise shall truthfully use its capital for its own operational purposes within the scope of business. A foreign-invested enterprise shall not use its capital and the RMB funds obtained from foreign exchange settlement for any of the following purposes: (1) it shall not, directly or indirectly, use the foregoing funds for expenditure beyond its business scope or expenditure prohibited by State laws and regulations; (2) it shall not, directly or indirectly, use the foregoing funds for investment in securities, unless otherwise prescribed by laws and regulations; (3) it shall not, directly or indirectly, use the foregoing funds for disbursing RMB entrusted loans (unless permitted under its business scope), repaying inter-corporate borrowings (including third-party advances) and repaying RMB bank loans that have been sub-lent to third parties; or (4) it shall not use the foregoing funds to pay for the expenses related to the purchase of real estate not for self-use, unless it is a foreign-invested real estate enterprise.

In October 2019, the SAFE issued the Notice of the State Administration of Foreign Exchange on Further Promoting the Facilitation of Cross-border Trade and Investment (《關於進一步促進跨境貿易投資便利化的通知》匯發[2019]28號). According to the notice, the SAFE expanded the pilot program to certain regions to facilitate foreign exchange receipts and payments for trade and reduce restrictions on the domestic equity investment by non-investment foreign-funded enterprises.

In April 2020, the SAFE issued the Notice of the SAFE on Optimizing Foreign Exchange Administration to Support the Development of Foreign-related Business (《關於優化外匯管理、支持涉外業務發展的通知》) to optimize the administration of foreign exchange services, improve foreign exchange mechanisms and facilitate cross-border trade and investments, among others. The SAFE has decided the following: (i) in accordance with the principle of ensuring true and compliant use of funds and compliance with the prevailing administrative provisions on the use of income under capital accounts, enterprises that satisfy the criteria are allowed to use income under capital accounts, such as capital funds and proceeds from foreign debt and overseas listing, for domestic payment, without prior provision of proof materials for verification to the banks for each transaction; (ii) cancel the registration requirement for special refunds of remittances; (iii) simplify the procedures of registration of capital accounts for certain businesses; and (iv) relax the requirements of purchasing foreign currencies with export background for repayments of domestic foreign exchange loans.

Mainland China Taxation

Because virtually all of our business operations are in mainland China and we carry out these business operations through operating subsidiaries and joint ventures organized under the PRC law, our PRC operations and our operating subsidiaries and joint ventures in mainland China are subject to PRC tax laws and regulations, which indirectly affect your investment in the Securities.

Dividends from our PRC Operations

Under the PRC tax laws effective prior to 1 January 2008, dividends paid by our PRC subsidiaries or joint ventures to us were exempt from PRC income tax. However, pursuant to the Enterprise Tax Laws of the PRC (《中華人民共和國企業所得稅法》) promulgated in March 2007 and implemented in January 2008, as amended in February 2017 and December 2018, dividends payable by foreign invested enterprises, such as subsidiaries and joint ventures in China, to their foreign investors are subject to a withholding tax at a rate of 10% unless any lower treaty rate is applicable.

Under the Enterprise Tax Laws, enterprises established under the laws of foreign jurisdictions but whose “de facto management body” is located in China are treated as “resident enterprises” for PRC tax purposes, and are subject to PRC income tax on their worldwide income. For such PRC tax purposes, dividends from PRC subsidiaries to their foreign shareholders are excluded from such taxable worldwide income. Under the implementation rules of the Enterprise Tax Law, “de facto management bodies” are defined as the bodies that have material and overall management control over the business, personnel, accounts and properties of an enterprise. There is uncertainty as to how this law and its implementation rules will be interpreted or implemented by relevant tax bureaus.

Our Operations in Mainland China

Our subsidiaries and joint ventures through which we conduct our business operations in mainland China are subject to PRC tax laws and regulations.

Deed Tax

Under the Deed Tax Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國契稅法》) promulgated by the Standing Committee of the NPC on 11 August 2020 and became effective on 1 September 2021, deed tax is chargeable to transferees of land use rights and/or ownership in real properties within the territory of mainland China. These taxable transfers include:

- (1) grant of use right of state-owned land;
- (2) sale, gift and exchange of land use rights, other than transfer of right to manage rural collective land; and
- (3) sale, gift and exchange of real properties.

Deed tax rate is between 3% to 5%. The specific applicable deed tax rate shall be proposed by local governments at the provincial level within the range stipulated above, submitted to the Standing Committee of the NPC at the same level for decision and filed with the Standing Committee of the NPC and the State Council for the record. Local governments at the provincial level may determine differential tax rates for transfer of the title to different types of housing by different subjects in different regions under the procedures stipulated above.

Corporate Income Tax

Prior to the implementation of the Enterprise Tax Laws, our PRC subsidiaries and joint ventures were generally subject to a 33% corporate income tax. Under the Enterprise Tax Law, effective from 1 January 2008, a unified EIT rate is set at 25% for both domestic enterprises and foreign-invested enterprises. The Enterprise Tax Laws provide certain relief to enterprises that were established prior to 16 March 2007, including (1) continuing to enjoy the previous preferential income tax rate during a five-year transition period if such enterprises are entitled to preferential income tax rates before the effectiveness of the Enterprise Tax Law; and (2) continuing to enjoy the preferential income tax rate until its expiry if such enterprises are entitled to tax holidays for a fixed period under the relevant laws and regulations. However, where the preferential tax treatment has not commenced due to losses or accumulated loss not being fully offset, such preferential tax treatment was deemed to commence from 1 January 2008. In addition, according to the implementation ruler of the Enterprise Tax Laws, dividends from PRC subsidiaries to their foreign corporate shareholders are subject to a withholding tax at a rate of 10% unless any lower treaty rate is applicable. However, under the Enterprise Tax Laws, enterprises established under the laws of foreign jurisdictions but whose “de facto management body” is located in China are treated as “resident enterprises” for PRC tax purposes, and are subject to PRC income tax at a rate of 25% on their worldwide income. Dividends from PRC subsidiaries to their foreign corporate shareholders that are treated as resident enterprises for the reason mentioned above may be excluded from such taxable worldwide income. Under the implementation rules of the Enterprise Tax Law, “de facto management bodies” are defined as the bodies that have material and overall management control over the business, personnel, accounts and properties of an enterprise. There is uncertainty as to how this law and its implementation rules will be interpreted or implemented by relevant tax bureaus.

In addition, pursuant to the Arrangement between mainland China and Hong Kong for the Avoidance of Double Taxation and Prevention of Fiscal Evasion with respect to Taxes on Income (《內地和香港特別行政區關於對所得避免雙重徵稅和防止偷漏稅的安排》) signed on 21 August 2006 and applicable in Hong Kong to income derived in any year of assessment commencing on or after 1 April 2007 and in mainland China to any year commencing on or after 1 January 2007, a company incorporated in Hong Kong is subject to withholding income tax at a rate of 5% on dividends it receives from its PRC subsidiaries if it holds a 25% or more equity interest in each such PRC subsidiary at the time of the distribution, or 10% if it holds less than a 25% equity interest in that subsidiary. The Notice Regarding the Publishing of the Administrative Measures for Non-residents Taxpayer to Enjoy the Treatment Under Taxation Treaties (《關於發佈〈非居民納稅人享受稅收協定待遇管理辦法〉的公告》) issued by SAT in August 2015, which was replaced by the Notice promulgated by SAT on 14 October 2019 and became effective on 1 January 2020, provides that a non-resident taxpayer meeting the conditions of the treatment of the agreement may enjoy the benefits under the relevant taxation treaties on the basis of the tax declaration by himself or the withholding agent, and accept the follow-up administration of the tax authority.

On 6 March 2009, SAT issued the Measures Dealing with Income Tax of Enterprise Engaged in Real Estate Development and Operation (《房地產開發經營業務企業所得稅處理辦法》) effective on 1 January 2008, amended on 16 June 2014 and 15 June 2018, which specifically stipulates the rules regarding tax treatment of income and deduction of cost and fees, verification of calculated tax cost and tax treatment on certain matters of the real estate development enterprise according to the Enterprise Tax Law and its implementation rules.

On 12 May 2010, SAT promulgated the Notice on the Confirmation of Completion Conditions for Development of Products by Real Estate Development Enterprises (《關於房地產開發企業開發產品完工條件確認問題的通知》), which provides that a property will be deemed as completed when its delivery procedures (including move-in procedures) have commenced or when the property is in fact put in use. Real estate developers must conduct the settlement of cost in time and calculate the amount of corporate income tax for the current year.

Value-added Tax

On 23 March 2016, the Notice on Overall Implementation of the Pilot Program of Replacing Business Tax with Value-added Tax (《關於全面推開營業稅改徵增值稅試點的通知》) was promulgated by the Ministry of Finance and the State Administration of Taxation, upon approval by the State Council, the pilot program of replacing business tax with value-added tax (hereinafter referred to as the “replacing business tax with value-added tax”) was implemented nationwide with effect from 1 May 2016 and all business tax payers in construction industry, real estate industry, finance industry and consumer service industry, etc. shall be included in the scope of the pilot program and pay value-added tax instead of business tax.

Under Measures for Implementation of the Pilot Program of Replacing Business Tax with Value-added Tax (《營業稅改徵增值稅試點實施辦法》) which was partially abolished on 1 July 2017 and 1 April 2019, entities and individuals engaging in the sale of services, intangible assets or real property within the territory of the PRC shall be the taxpayers of value-added tax and shall, instead of business tax, pay VAT in accordance with these measures. Taxpayers are divided into general taxpayers and small-scale taxpayers. For the provision of construction or real property lease, the sale of real property or the transfer or land use right, the tax rate shall be 11%. According to the Notice of the MOF and the SAT on Adjusting the Value-added Tax Rate (《財政部、國家稅務總局關於調整增值稅稅率的通知》), which was promulgated on 4 April 2018 and became effective on 1 May 2018, the VAT tax rates on sales or imported goods are adjusted from 17% and 11% to 16% and 10%, respectively. According to the Announcement on Relevant Policies for Deepening Value-Added Tax Reform (《財政部、稅務總局、海關總署關於深化增值稅改革有關政策的公告》) promulgated by MOF, SAT and General Administration of Customs on 20 March 2019, which became effective on 1 April 2019, with respect to VAT taxable sales or imported goods of a VAT general taxpayer, where the VAT rate of 16% and 10% applied, such VAT rate shall be adjusted to 13% and 9%, respectively.

According to the Provisions on Issues Related to the Pilot Program of Replacing Business Tax with Value-added Tax (《營業稅改徵增值稅試點有關事項的規定》), which was partially abolished on 1 April 2019, if the general taxpayers among the real estate development enterprises sell their self-developed old real estate projects, they may choose the simple taxation method to pay the tax at the levy rate of 5%. The old real estate projects refer to the real estate projects, the contract commencement date of which indicated in the Building Engineering Construction Permit is before 30 April 2016. The small-scale taxpayers among the real estate development enterprises sell their self-developed real estate projects, the tax shall be paid at the levy rate of 5%.

Land Appreciation Tax

Under the PRC Interim Regulation on Land Appreciation Tax (《中華人民共和國土地增值稅暫行條例》) of 1994, as amended in January 2011 and its implementation rules of 1995, LAT applies to both domestic and foreign investors in real properties in mainland China, irrespective of whether they are corporate entities or individuals. The tax is payable by a taxpayer on the appreciation value derived from the transfer of land use rights, buildings or other facilities on such land, after deducting the “deductible items” that include the following:

- payments made to acquire land use rights;
- costs and charges incurred in connection with the land development;
- construction costs and charges in the case of newly constructed buildings and facilities;
- assessed value in the case of old buildings and facilities;
- taxes paid or payable in connection with the transfer of the land use rights, buildings or other facilities on such land; and
- other items allowed by the Ministry of Finance.

The tax rate is progressive and ranges from 30% to 60% of the appreciation value as compared with the “deductible items” as follows:

Appreciation value	LAT rate
Portion not exceeding 50% of deductible items	30%
Portion over 50% but not more than 100% of deductible items	40%
Portion over 100% but not more than 200% of deductible items	50%
Portion over 200% of deductible items	60%

Exemptions from LAT are available in the following cases:

- Taxpayers constructing ordinary residential properties for sale (i.e. the residences built in accordance with the local standard for residential properties used by the general population, excluding deluxe apartments, villas, resorts and other high-end premises), where the appreciation amount does not exceed 20% of the sum of deductible items;
- Real estate taken over and repossessed according to laws due to the construction requirements of the state; and
- Due to redeployment of work or improvement of living standard, transfers by individuals of originally self-used residential properties, with five years or longer of self-used residence and with tax authorities’ approval.

According to a notice issued by the Ministry of Finance in January 1995, the LAT regulation does not apply to the following transfers of land use rights:

- real estate transfer contracts executed before 1 January 1994; and
- first time transfers of land use rights and/or premises and buildings during the five years commencing on 1 January 1994 if the land grant contracts were executed or the development projects were approved before 1 January 1994 and the capital has been injected for the development in compliance with the relevant regulations.

After the enactment of the LAT regulations and the implementation rules in 1994 and 1995, respectively, due to the long period of time typically required for real estate developments and their transfers, many jurisdictions, while implementing these regulations and rules, did not require real estate development enterprises to declare and pay the LAT as they did other taxes. Therefore, in order to assist the local tax authorities in the collection of LAT, the Ministry of Finance, SAT, Ministry of Construction and State Land Administration Bureau separately and jointly issued several notices to reiterate that, after the assignments are signed, the taxpayers should declare the tax to the local tax authorities where the real estate is located, and pay the LAT in accordance with the amount as calculated by the tax authority and within the time period as required. For those who fail to acquire proof as regards the tax paid or the tax exemption from the tax authorities, the real estate administration authority will not process the relevant title change procedures, and will not issue the property ownership certificates.

SAT issued the Notice on Serious Handling of Administration of the Collection of Land Appreciation Tax (《關於認真做好土地增值稅徵收管理工作的通知》) in July 2002 to require local tax authorities to require prepayment of LAT on basis of proceeds from pre-sale of real estate.

In December 2006, SAT issued the Notice on the Administration of the Settlement of Land Appreciation Tax of Property Development Enterprises (《關於房地產開發企業土地增值稅清算管理有關問題的通知》), which came into effect on 1 February 2007 and amended on 15 June 2018. The notice required settlement of LAT liabilities by real estate developers. Provincial tax authorities are given authority to formulate their implementation rules according to the notice and their local situation.

To further strengthen LAT collection, in May 2009, SAT released the Rules on the Administration of the Settlement of Land Appreciation Tax (《土地增值稅清算管理規程》), which came into force on 1 June 2009.

On 19 May 2010, SAT promulgated the Notice on Issues Regarding Land Appreciation Tax Settlement (《關於土地增值稅清算有關問題的通知》), which provides further clarifications and guidelines on LAT settlement, revenue recognition, deductible expenses, timing of assessment and other related issues.

On 25 May 2010, SAT issued the Notice on Strengthening the Collection of Land Appreciation (《關於加強土地增值稅徵管工作的通知》), which provides for a minimum LAT prepayment rate at 2% for provinces in eastern China region, 1.5% for provinces in the central and northeastern China regions, and 1% for provinces in the western China region. The notice also delegates to the local tax authorities the authority to determine the applicable LAT prepayment rates based on the types of the properties in their respective regions.

On 10 November 2016, SAT issued the Announcement on the Several Provisions on the Collection of Land Value-added Tax after the Replacement of Business Tax with Appreciation Tax (《關於營改增後土地增值稅若干徵管規定的公告》), which clarifies various issues relating to the determination of taxable income, deduction of tax and calculation of liquidation value in the context of LAT.

Urban Land Use Tax and Buildings Tax

Pursuant to the PRC Interim Regulations on Land Use Tax in respect of Urban Land (《中華人民共和國城鎮土地使用稅暫行條例》) promulgated by the State Council in September 1988, amended on 31 December 2006, 8 January 2011, 7 December 2013 and 2 March 2019, the land use tax in respect of urban land is levied according to the area of relevant land. The annual tax on urban land was between RMB0.6 and RMB30 per sq.m.

Buildings Tax

Under the PRC Interim Regulations on Buildings Tax (《中華人民共和國房產稅暫行條例》) promulgated by the State Council in September 1986, and amended on 8 January 2011, buildings tax applicable to domestic enterprises is 1.2% if it is calculated on the basis of the residual value of a building and 12% if it is calculated on the basis of the rental. On 27 January 2011, the governments of Shanghai and Chongqing respectively issued measures for implementing pilot individual property tax schemes which became effective on 28 January 2011.

According to the Notice on Issues Relating to Assessment of Buildings Tax against Foreign-invested Enterprises and Foreign Individuals (《關於對外資企業及外籍個人徵收房產稅有關問題的通知》) issued by the Ministry of Finance and SAT in January 2009, the foreign-invested enterprises, foreign enterprises and foreign individuals are to be levied at the same rate as domestic enterprise.

Stamp Duty

Under the PRC Interim Regulations on Stamp Duty (《中華人民共和國印花稅暫行條例》) promulgated by the State Council in August 1988, and amended on 8 January 2011, for property transfer instruments, including those in respect of property ownership transfers, the duty rate is 0.05% of the amount stated therein; for permits and certificates relating to rights, including property ownership certificates and land use rights certificates, stamp duty is levied on an item-by-item basis of RMB5 per item.

Municipal Maintenance Tax

Under the Municipal Maintenance Tax Law of the PRC (《中華人民共和國城市維護建設稅法》) promulgated by the Standing Committee of NPC on 11 August 2020 and became effective on 1 September 2021, any taxpayer, whether an individual or otherwise, of consumption duty or value-added tax is required to pay municipal maintenance tax calculated on the basis of consumption duty and value-added tax. The tax rate is 7% for a taxpayer whose domicile is in an urban area, 5% for a taxpayer whose domicile is in a county or a town, and 1% for a taxpayer whose domicile is not in any urban area or county or town.

According to the Circular Concerning Unification of Municipal Maintenance Tax and Education Surcharge for Foreign Investment and Domestic Enterprises and Individuals (《關於統一內外資企業和個人城市維護建設稅和教育費附加制度的通知》) issued by State Council on 18 October 2010, the municipal maintenance tax is applicable to foreign invested enterprises, foreign enterprises and foreign individuals from 1 December 2010.

Education Surcharge

Under the Interim Provisions on Imposition of Education Surcharge (《徵收教育費附加的暫行規定》) promulgated by the State Council in April 1986 and amended on 7 June 1990, 20 August 2005 and 8 January 2011, any taxpayer, whether an individual or otherwise, of value-added tax, business tax or consumption tax is liable for an education surcharge, unless such taxpayer is required to pay a rural area education surcharge as provided by the Notice of the State Council on Raising Funds for Schools in Rural Areas (《國務院關於籌措農村學校辦學經費的通知》). The Education Surcharge rate is 3% calculated on the basis of consumption tax, value-added tax and business tax. According to the Circular Concerning Unification of Municipal Maintenance Tax and Education Surcharge for Foreign Investment and Domestic Enterprises and Individuals (《關於統一內外資企業和個人城市維護建設稅和教育費附加制度的通知》) issued by State Council on 18 October 2010, the education surcharge will be applicable to foreign invested enterprises, foreign enterprises and foreign individuals since 1 December 2010.

PRC CURRENCY CONTROLS

The following is a general description of certain currency controls in the PRC and is based on the laws and relevant interpretations thereof in effect as at the date of this offering circular, all of which are subject to change, and does not constitute legal advice. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all applicable currency controls in the PRC relating to the Bonds. Prospective holders of Notes who are in any doubt as to PRC currency controls are advised to consult their own professional advisers.

Renminbi is not a freely convertible currency. The remittance of Renminbi into and outside the PRC is subject to control imposed under PRC law.

Current Account Items

Under PRC foreign exchange control regulations, current account items refer to any transaction for international receipts and payments involving goods, services, earnings and other frequent transfers.

Prior to July 2009, all current account items were required to be settled in foreign currencies with limited exceptions. In July 2009, the PRC commenced a pilot scheme pursuant to which Renminbi may be used for settlement of imports and exports of goods between approved pilot enterprises in five designated cities in the PRC including Shanghai, Guangzhou, Dongguan, Shenzhen and Zhuhai and enterprises in designated offshore jurisdictions including Hong Kong and Macau. On 17 June 2010, 11 July 2011, 3 February 2012 and 13 March 2014 respectively, the PRC government promulgated the Circular on Issues concerning the Expansion of the Scope of the Pilot Program of Renminbi Settlement of Cross-Border Trades (關於擴大跨境貿易人民幣結算試點有關問題的通知), the Circular on Expanding the Regions of Cross-border Trade Renminbi Settlement (關於擴大跨境貿易人民幣結算地區的通知), the Notice on Matters Relevant to the Administration of Enterprises Engaged in Renminbi Settlement of Export Trade in Goods (關於出口貨物貿易人民幣結算企業管理有關問題的通知) and the Notice on Simplifying the Management Relevant to the Administration of Enterprises Engaged in Renminbi Settlement of Export Trade in Goods (關於簡化出口貨物貿易人民幣結算企業管理有關事項的通知) (together as “Circulars”). Pursuant to these Circulars, (i) Renminbi settlement of imports and exports of goods and of services and other current account items became permissible, (ii) the list of designated pilot districts were expanded to cover all provinces and cities in the PRC, (iii) the restriction on designated offshore districts has been lifted and (iv) any enterprise qualified for the export and import business is permitted to use Renminbi as settlement currency for exports of goods without obtaining the approval as previously required, provided that the relevant local government and local PBOC branch have submitted to the PBOC a list of key enterprises subject to supervision and the PBOC and five other PRC authorities (the “Six Authorities”) have verified and signed off such list (the “Supervision List”).

On 5 July 2013, the PBOC promulgated the Circular on Policies related to Simplifying and Improving Cross-border Renminbi Business Procedures (關於簡化跨境人民幣業務流程和完善有關政策的通知) (the “2013 PBOC Circular”), which, in particular, simplifies the procedures for cross-border Renminbi trade settlement under current account. For example, PRC banks may conduct settlement for PRC enterprises (excluding those on the Supervision List) upon the PRC enterprises presenting the payment instruction. PRC banks may also allow PRC enterprises to make/receive payments under current account items prior to the relevant PRC bank’s verification of underlying transactions (noting that verification of underlying transactions is usually a precondition for cross-border remittance).

On 31 December 2020, the PBOC, the NDRC, the Ministry of Commerce, the SASAC, the CBIRC and the SAFE jointly issued the Notice on Further Optimizing Cross-border RMB Policies to Support the Stabilization of Foreign Trade and Foreign Investment (Yinfa (2020) No. 330) (《關於進一步優化跨境人民幣政策支持穩外貿穩外資的通知》) (“Cross-border RMB Policies”), which has been implemented since 4 February 2021. The Cross-border RMB Policies closely focused on the needs of the real economy, promoted a higher level of RMB settlement to facilitate trade and further simplified cross-border RMB settlement process.

Capital Account Items

Under PRC foreign exchange control regulations, capital account items include cross-border transfers of capital, direct investments, securities investments, derivative products and loans. Capital account payments are generally subject to approval of, and/or registration or filing with, the relevant PRC authorities.

Until recently, settlement for capital account items was generally required to be made in foreign currencies. For instance, foreign investors (including any Hong Kong investors) are required to make any capital contribution to foreign invested enterprises in a foreign currency in accordance with the terms set out in the relevant joint venture contracts and/or articles of association as approved by the relevant authorities. Foreign invested enterprises or relevant PRC parties were also generally required to make capital account payments including proceeds from liquidation, transfer of shares, reduction of capital, interest and principal repayment to foreign investors in a foreign currency.

On 10 May 2013, SAFE promulgated the Provisions on the Foreign Exchange Administration of Domestic Direct Investment by Foreign Investors (外國投資者境內直接投資外匯管理規定) (the “SAFE Provisions”), which became effective on 13 May 2013 and partially abolished in October 2018 and December 2019. According to the SAFE Provisions, foreign investors can use cross-border Renminbi (including Renminbi inside and outside the PRC held in the capital accounts of non-PRC residents) to make a contribution to an onshore enterprise or make a payment for the transfer of an equity interest of an onshore enterprise by a PRC resident within the total investment amount approved by the competent authorities (for example, MOFCOM and/or its local counterparts as well as financial regulators). Capital account transactions in Renminbi must generally follow the current foreign exchange control regime applicable to foreign currencies.

Under current rules promulgated by SAFE, foreign debts borrowed and the foreign security provided by an onshore entity (including a financial institution) in Renminbi shall, in principle, be regulated under the current PRC foreign debt and foreign security regime. Furthermore, according to the 2013 PBOC Circular, upon enforcement of foreign security in Renminbi provided by onshore non-financial enterprises, PRC banks may provide Renminbi settlement services (i.e. remittance of enforcement proceeds) directly, which seems to indicate that SAFE approval for enforcement is no longer required. However, SAFE has not amended its positions under the current applicable rules, nor has it issued any regulations to confirm the positions in the 2013 PBOC Circular. Therefore, there remain potential inconsistencies between the provisions of the SAFE rules and the provisions of the 2013 PBOC Circular and it is unclear how SAFE will deal with such inconsistencies in practice.

Approved onshore enterprises and enterprises that have filed with the competent authorities in the Shanghai free trade zone (the “Shanghai FTZ”) can extend loans in Renminbi to, or borrow loans in Renminbi from, offshore group entities within the same group under Renminbi cash pooling arrangements (through a bank in Shanghai) according to applicable rules and will no longer need to attend to normal procedures with the PBOC or SAFE for each sum under this arrangement. However, Renminbi funds obtained from financing activities may not be pooled under this arrangement.

According to the Circular on Supporting the Expanded Cross-border Utilization of Renminbi in the Shanghai FTZ (關於支持中國(上海)自由貿易試驗區擴大人民幣跨境使用的通知) (the “PBOC Shanghai FTZ Circular”) issued on 20 February 2014, banks in Shanghai can settle Renminbi funds under FDI for enterprises in the Shanghai FTZ upon the client’s instruction. In addition, enterprises in the Shanghai FTZ can borrow Renminbi from offshore lenders within the prescribed limit, while there is no numerical limit for banks in the Shanghai FTZ to borrow offshore Renminbi, although the utilization has geographic restriction, the interpretation of which is still unclear. The PBOC Shanghai FTZ Circular also allows, in principle, the China Foreign Exchange Trading System to offer trading facility relating to financial instrument denominated in Renminbi to offshore investors, and the Shanghai Gold Exchange to offer trading facility relating to precious metal transactions to offshore investors.

According to the Cross-border RMB Policies, the PBOC, the NDRC, the Ministry of Commerce, the SASAC, the CBIRC and the SAFE will further optimize the management of cross-border RMB investment and financing, including relaxing restrictions on the use of RMB income for some capital accounts, facilitating domestic reinvestment by foreign-invested enterprises, abolishing the management requirements on special accounts related to foreign direct investment business, optimizing the management of overseas RMB loan business of domestic enterprises, and simplifying the management of overseas RMB leading business of domestic enterprises.

The SAFE Provisions, the MOFCOM Circular, the PBOC FDI Measures, the PBOC Shanghai FTZ Circular and the Cross-border RMB Policies, have been promulgated to control the remittance of Renminbi for payment of transactions categorized as capital account items and such regulations will be subject to interpretation and application by the relevant PRC authorities. Further, if any new PRC regulations are promulgated in the future which have the effect of permitting or restricting (as the case may be) the remittance of Renminbi for payment of transactions categorized as capital account items, then such remittances will need to be made subject to the specific requirements or restrictions set out in such rules.

Interest on the Bonds will be subject to Hong Kong profits tax where such interest has a Hong Kong source, and is received by or accrues to:

- a financial institution (as defined in the Inland Revenue Ordinance) and arises through or from the carrying on by the financial institution of its business in Hong Kong; or
- a corporation carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong; or
- a person, other than a corporation, carrying on a trade, profession or business in Hong Kong and such interest is in respect of the funds of the trade, profession or business.

Although no tax is imposed in Hong Kong in respect of capital gains, Hong Kong profits tax may be chargeable on trading gains arising on the sale or disposal of the Bonds where such transactions are or form part of a trade, profession or business carried on in Hong Kong.

Stamp Duty

No Hong Kong stamp duty will be chargeable upon the issue or transfer (for so long as the register of holders of the Bonds is maintained outside Hong Kong, as is expected to be the case) of Bonds.

PRC Taxation

The following summary of certain PRC tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Notes is based upon applicable laws, rules and regulations in effect as of the date of this offering circular, all of which are subject to change (possibly with retroactive effect). This discussion does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all the tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to purchase, own or dispose of the Bonds and does not purport to deal with consequences applicable to all categories of investors, some of which may be subject to special rules. Prospective investors in the Bonds should consult their own tax advisers concerning the tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of Notes, including such possible consequences under the laws of their country of citizenship, residence or domicile.

We may be deemed a “resident enterprise” for PRC tax purposes. See “Risk Factors—Risks relating to China—Our income tax obligations have increased, dividends from our PRC subsidiaries are currently subject to withholding tax under PRC tax laws and we may be subject to PRC tax under the Enterprise Income Tax Law.” If we are deemed a “resident enterprise,” interest paid to the non-resident holders of the Bonds and any gains realized by the holders of the Bonds from the transfer of the Bonds may be treated as income derived from sources within China. In that case, non-resident enterprise holders of the Bonds may be subject to PRC withholding tax at a rate of 10% on their interest and other income paid by the Company and PRC tax at a rate of 10% on their capital gains from dispositions of the Bonds, if they do not have an establishment or place of business in China or, despite the existence of establishment or place of business in China, the relevant income or gain is not effectively connected with such establishment or place of business in China. If we are treated as a “resident enterprise” for PRC tax purposes, non-resident individual holders may be subject to PRC withholding tax at a rate of 20% on their PRC interest and other income paid by the Company and PRC tax at a rate of 20% on their capital gains from dispositions of the Bonds. Currently, we are of the view that we are not required to withhold such tax. However, there can be no assurance that our view will not be challenged in the future. If we are not deemed a “resident enterprise” for PRC tax purposes, non-resident enterprise and non-resident individual holders of the Bonds will not be subject to PRC tax on interest received or gains from the transfer of the Bonds. It is unclear whether the PRC tax authorities will treat us as a PRC “resident enterprise” and whether PRC tax on interest income or capital gains will apply to the holders of the Bonds. To the extent that China has entered into arrangements for the avoidance of double-taxation with any jurisdiction, such as Hong Kong, that provide for a lower tax rate, such lower rate may apply to the holders of the Bonds who are entitled to such treaty benefits.

Stamp duty

No PRC stamp tax will be chargeable upon the issue or transfer (for so long as the register of holders of the Bonds is maintained outside mainland China, as is expected to be the case) of a Note.

Value-added Tax

On 23 March 2016, the Ministry of Finance and the State Administration of Taxation issued the Circular of Full Implementation of Replacing Business Tax with Value-Added Tax Reform (Caishui [2016] No. 36) (“Circular 36”), which introduced a new value-added tax (“VAT”) from 1 May 2016. Under Circular 36, VAT is applicable where the entities or individuals provide services within the PRC. The operating revenues generated from the provision of taxable sale of services by entities and individuals, such as financial services, shall be subject to PRC VAT if the seller or buyer of the services is within the PRC. In the event that foreign entities or individuals which are involved in the taxable activities within the PRC do not have a business establishment in the PRC, the purchaser of services shall act as the withholding agent. According to the Explanatory Notes to Sale of Services, Intangible Assets and Real Property and Provisions on Transitional Policies for the Pilot Program of Replacing Business

Tax with Value-added Tax attached to Circular 36, financial services refer to the business activities of financial and insurance operations, including loan processing services, financial services of direct charges, insurance services and the transfer of financial instruments, for which the VAT rate is 6%. Individuals engaging in the transfer of financial products are exempt from VAT. Accordingly, if the interest and other interest like earnings received by a non-PRC resident holder of securities from the Company is deemed as the taxable sale of financial services within the PRC, it will be subject to PRC VAT at the rate of 6%, and the Company will be obligated to withhold VAT of 6% and certain surcharges on payments of interest and certain other amounts on the securities paid by the Company to holders of securities that are non-resident enterprises or individuals. VAT is unlikely to be applicable to the financial services provided outside the PRC and to any transfer of securities between entities or individuals located outside of the PRC and therefore unlikely to be applicable to gains realized upon such transfers of securities, but there is uncertainty as to the applicability of VAT if either the seller (only for entities) or buyer (for entities or individuals) of securities is located inside the PRC. Circular 36 together with other laws and regulations pertaining to VAT are relatively new, the interpretation and enforcement of such laws and regulations involve uncertainties.

However, we cannot assure you that the prices at which the Bonds will sell in the market after this offering will not be lower than the initial offering price or that an active trading market for the Bonds will develop and continue after this offering. The Managers have advised us that they currently intend to make a market in the Bonds. However, they are not obligated to do so and they may discontinue any market-making activities with respect to the Bonds at any time without notice. Accordingly, we cannot assure you as to the liquidity of, or the trading market for, the Bonds.

In connection with the issue of the Bonds, any of the Managers (or persons acting on behalf of any of the Managers) (the “Stabilizing Managers”) may over-allot Bonds or effect transactions with a view to supporting the price of the Bonds at a level higher than that which might otherwise prevail. However, stabilization may not necessarily occur. Any stabilization action may begin on or after the date on which adequate public disclosure of the terms of the offer of the securities is made and, if begun, may cease at any time, but it must end no later than the earlier of 30 days after the issue date of the securities and 60 days after the date of the allotment of the securities. Any stabilization action or over allotment must be conducted by the stabilization manager (or person(s) acting on behalf of the stabilization manager) in accordance with all applicable laws and rules.

We expect to deliver the Bonds against payment for the Bonds on or about the date specified in the last paragraph of the cover page of this offering circular, which will be the five business day following the date of the pricing of the Bonds.

The Managers and/or their affiliates have performed commercial banking, investment banking or advisory services for us from time to time for which they have received customary fees and reimbursement of expenses. The Managers and/or their affiliates may, from time to time, engage in transactions with and perform services for, us in the ordinary course of business for which they may receive customary fees and reimbursement of expenses. We may enter into hedging or other derivative transactions as part of our risk management strategy with one or more of the Managers, which may include transactions relating to our obligations under the Bonds. Our obligations under these transactions may be secured by cash or other collateral.

In connection with this offering of the Bonds, each Managers and/or its affiliate(s) may act as an investor for its own account and may take up the Bonds in the offering and in that capacity may retain, purchase or sell for its own account such securities and any securities of the Company or related investments and may offer or sell such securities or other investments otherwise than in connection with the offering of the Bonds. Accordingly, references herein to the Bonds being offered should be read as including any offering of the Bonds to the Managers and/or their affiliates acting in such capacity. Such persons do not intend to disclose the extent of any such investment or transactions otherwise than in accordance with any legal or regulatory obligation to do so.

We have agreed to indemnify the Managers against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the U.S. Securities Act, or to contribute to payments that the Managers may be required to make because of any of those liabilities.

Introduction

We have reviewed the interim financial information set out on pages 54 to 121, which comprises the condensed consolidated statement of financial position of Greentown China Holdings Limited (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (the "Group") as at 30 June 2021 and the related condensed consolidated statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the six-month period then ended, and explanatory notes. The Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited require the preparation of a report on interim financial information to be in compliance with the relevant provisions thereof and International Accounting Standard 34 Interim Financial Reporting ("IAS 34") issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB"). The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation and presentation of this interim financial information in accordance with IAS 34. Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on this interim financial information based on our review. Our report is made solely to you, as a body, in accordance with our agreed terms of engagement, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Scope of Review

We conducted our review in accordance with Hong Kong Standard on Review Engagements 2410 Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A review of interim financial information consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the interim financial information is not prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with IAS 34.

3. CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND DISCLOSURES (continued)

The nature and impact of the revised IFRSs are described below:

- (a) Amendments to IFRS 9, IAS 39, IFRS 7, IFRS 4 and IFRS 16 address issues not dealt with in the previous amendments which affect financial reporting when an existing interest rate benchmark is replaced with an alternative risk-free rate (“RFR”). The phase 2 amendments provide a practical expedient to allow the effective interest rate to be updated without adjusting the carrying amount of financial assets and liabilities when accounting for changes in the basis for determining the contractual cash flows of financial assets and liabilities, if the change is a direct consequence of the interest rate benchmark reform and the new basis for determining the contractual cash flows is economically equivalent to the previous basis immediately preceding the change. In addition, the amendments permit changes required by the interest rate benchmark reform to be made to hedge designations and hedge documentation without the hedging relationship being discontinued. Any gains or losses that could arise on transition are dealt with through the normal requirements of IFRS 9 to measure and recognise hedge ineffectiveness. The amendments also provide a temporary relief to entities from having to meet the separately identifiable requirement when an RFR is designated as a risk component. The relief allows an entity, upon designation of the hedge, to assume that the separately identifiable requirement is met, provided the entity reasonably expects the RFR risk component to become separately identifiable within the next 24 months. Furthermore, the amendments require an entity to disclose additional information to enable users of financial statements to understand the effect of interest rate benchmark reform on an entity’s financial instruments and risk management strategy.

3. 會計政策變動及披露(續)

經修訂國際財務報告準則的性質及影響如下：

- (a) 國際財務報告準則第9號、國際會計準則第39號、國際財務報告準則第7號、國際財務報告準則第4號及國際財務報告準則第16號的修訂旨在解決此前修訂中未涉及的問題，該等問題在以無風險利率（「無風險利率」）替代現行利率基準時會對財務報告產生影響。第二階段修訂提供可行權宜方法，於入賬釐定金融資產及負債合約現金流量的基準變動時，倘變動因利率基準改革直接引致，且釐定合約現金流量的新基準在經濟上相當於緊接變動前的先前基準，則可在不調整金融資產及負債賬面值的情況下更新實際利率。此外，該等修訂允許利率基準改革要求就對沖指定及對沖文件將予作出的變動，而不中斷對沖關係。過渡期間可能產生的任何損益均透過國際財務報告準則第9號的正常要求進行處理，以衡量及確認對沖無效性。當無風險利率被指定為風險組成部分時，該等修訂亦為符合可單獨識別規定的實體提供暫時寬免。寬免允許實體於指定對沖時假設符合可單獨識別的規定，前提是實體合理預期無風險利率風險組成部分於未來24個月內將可單獨識別。此外，該等修訂要求實體披露額外資料，以使財務報表使用者瞭解利率基準改革對實體金融工具及風險管理策略的影響。

The Group had certain bank and other borrowings denominated in Hong Kong dollars and foreign currencies based on the Hong Kong Interbank Offered Rate, London Interbank Offered Rate (“LIBOR”) as at 30 June 2021. Since the interest rates of these borrowings were not replaced by RFRs during the period, the amendments did not have any impact on the financial position and performance of the Group. If the interest rates of these borrowings are replaced by RFRs in a future period, the Group will apply this practical expedient upon the modification of these borrowings provided that the “economically equivalent” criterion is met.

(b) Amendment to IFRS 16 issued in March 2021 extends the availability of the practical expedient for lessees to elect not to apply lease modification accounting for rent concessions arising as a direct consequence of the covid-19 pandemic by 12 months. Accordingly, the practical expedient applies to rent concessions for which any reduction in lease payments affects only payments originally due on or before 30 June 2022, provided the other conditions for applying the practical expedient are met. The amendment is effective retrospectively for annual periods beginning on or after 1 April 2021 with any cumulative effect of initially applying the amendment recognised as an adjustment to the opening balance of retained profits at the beginning of the current accounting period. Earlier application is permitted.

The Group has early adopted the amendment on 1 January 2021. The amendment did not have any impact on the financial position and performance of the Group, as the Group does not have rent concessions arising as a direct consequence of the covid-19 pandemic for the period ended 30 June 2021.

3. 會計政策變動及披露(續)

本集團於2021年6月30日持有根據香港銀行同業拆息及倫敦銀行同業拆息(「倫敦銀行同業拆息」)以港元及外幣計值的若干銀行及其他借款。由於該等借款的利率於期內並無被無風險利率所取代，故該等修訂對本集團的財務狀況及表現並無任何影響。倘該等借款的利率於未來期間被無風險利率所取代，本集團將於修訂該等借款時應用此可行權宜方法，前提為滿足「經濟等效」的標準。

(b) 於2021年3月頒佈的國際財務報告準則第16號的修訂，將承租人選擇不應用租賃修訂的方法來核算因covid-19疫情直接導致的租金優惠的可行權宜方法的可用期限延長12個月。因此，在滿足應用可行權宜方法的其他條件下，可行權宜方法適用於任何租賃付款減免僅影響原到期日為2022年6月30日或之前的款項的租金優惠。該修訂就於2021年4月1日或之後開始的年度期間追溯生效，並將首次應用該修訂的任何累計影響確認為本會計期間開始時保留利潤的期初結餘調整。該修訂允許提早應用。

本集團已於2021年1月1日提早採用該修訂。由於本集團於截至2021年6月30日止期間並無covid-19疫情直接引致的租金優惠，故該修訂對本集團的財務狀況及表現並無任何影響。

In addition, the EIT Law provides that qualified dividend income between two resident enterprises that have a direct investment relationship is exempted from income tax. Otherwise, such dividends will be subject to a 5% or 10% withholding tax under the EIT Law. A 10% withholding tax rate is applicable to the Group.

The contract assets primarily relate to the Group's rights to consideration for work completed and not billed because the rights are conditioned on the Group's future performance in achieving specified milestones stipulated in the relevant contracts at the reporting date on design and decoration and project management services. The contract assets are transferred to trade receivables when the rights become unconditional. The Group typically transfers the contract assets to trade receivables when the relevant revenue is billed.

The 2020 First USD Notes contain a liability component and an issuer's early redemption option:

- (i) Liability component represents the present value of the contractually determined stream of future cash flows discounted at the prevailing market interest rate at that time applicable to instruments of comparable credit status and providing substantially the same cash flows, on the same terms, but without the embedded derivatives.

The interest charged for the period is calculated by applying an effective interest rate of approximately 5.76% per annum to the liability component since the senior notes were issued.

- (ii) Early redemption option is regarded as an embedded derivative not closely related to the host contract. The directors consider that the fair value of the early redemption options as at the date of issuance and 30 June 2021 was insignificant.

- (i) 負債部分指合同釐定的未來現金流量以可資比較信貸狀況及大致上可提供相同現金流量的工具當時所適用的市場利率按相同條款貼現的現值，惟並無內置衍生工具。

自發行優先票據起，期內利息費用按負債部分使用的實際年利率約5.76%計算。

- (ii) 提早贖回權視為與主合同並無密切關係的內置衍生工具。董事認為於發行日期及2021年6月30日提早贖回權的公平值並不重大。

The 2020 Second USD Notes contain a liability component and an issuer’s early redemption option:

- (i) Liability component represents the present value of the contractually determined stream of future cash flows discounted at the prevailing market interest rate at that time applicable to instruments of comparable credit status and providing substantially the same cash flows, on the same terms, but without the embedded derivatives.

The interest charged for the period is calculated by applying an effective interest rate of approximately 4.82% per annum to the liability component since the senior notes were issued.

- (ii) Early redemption option is regarded as an embedded derivative not closely related to the host contract. The directors consider that the fair value of the early redemption options as at the date of issuance and 30 June 2021 was insignificant.

- (ii) 提早贖回權視為與主合同並無密切關係的內置衍生工具。董事認為於發行日期及2021年6月30日提早贖回權的公平值並不重大。

Note:

2021 Corporate Bonds

On 13 January 2021, Greentown Real Estate Group Co., Ltd. ("Greentown Real Estate") (a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company) issued the first tranche of corporate bonds with an aggregate principal amount of RMB2,500,000,000 at 100% of face value (the "2021 First Bonds"). The 2021 First Bonds carry interest at the rate of 3.92% per annum payable annually in arrears. The net proceeds, after deduction of direct issuance costs, amounted to RMB2,487,308,000. The 2021 First Bonds will mature on 13 January 2026.

On 23 March 2021, Greentown Real Estate issued the second tranche of corporate bonds with an aggregate principal amount of RMB1,650,000,000 at 100% of face value (the "2021 Second Bonds"). The 2021 Second Bonds carry interest at the rate of 4.07% per annum payable annually in arrears. The net proceeds, after deduction of direct issuance costs, amounted to RMB1,644,875,000. The 2021 Second Bonds will mature on 23 March 2026.

The principal terms of the 2021 First Bonds and the 2021 Second Bonds, (collectively, the "2021 Corporate Bonds") are as follows:

- (i) the 2021 First Bonds and the 2021 Second Bonds have fixed interest rates in the first three years. At the end of the fixed interest rate period, Greentown Real Estate has the right to adjust the coupon rate of the remaining outstanding bonds. If Greentown Real Estate chooses to exercise the 2021 Coupon Rate Adjustment Right, the new fixed coupon rate for the remaining two years will be the coupon rate of the first three years plus adjusting basis points.
- (ii) the investors of the 2021 First Bonds and the 2021 Second Bonds have the option to sell back the bonds, in whole or in part, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the bonds plus unpaid interest, if any, accrued to (but not including) the redemption date when Greentown Real Estate issues the announcement concerning whether to adjust the coupon rate of the bonds at the end of the third year.

The 2021 Corporate Bonds contain a liability component and a written put option:

- (i) Liability component represents the present value of the contractually determined stream of future cash flows discounted at the prevailing market interest rate at that time applicable to instruments of comparable credit status and providing substantially the same cash flows, on the same terms.

The interest charged for the period is calculated by applying the weighted average effective interest rate of approximately 4.08% per annum to the liability component since the corporate bonds were issued.
- (ii) Written put option is regarded as an embedded derivative closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract, and therefore, the written put option is not separated from the liability component.

As at 30 June 2021, the Group had no plan nor intention to exercise the 2021 Coupon Rate Adjustment Right of the Corporate Bonds, and therefore the interest expense for the period was calculated using the original coupon rates of the 2021 Corporate Bonds.

32. FAIR VALUE AND FAIR VALUE HIERARCHY OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

Management has assessed that the fair values of bank balances and cash, pledged bank deposits, trade and other receivables, deposits and prepayments, amounts due from/to related parties, trade and other payables, the current portion of bank and other borrowings approximate to their carrying amounts largely due to the short term maturities of these instruments.

Management is responsible for determining the policies and procedures for the fair value measurement of financial instruments. At each reporting date, the management analyses the movements in the values of financial instruments and determines the major inputs applied in the valuation. The valuation process and results are discussed with the board of directors twice a year for interim and annual financial reporting.

The fair values of the financial assets and liabilities are included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale. The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

The fair values of the financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, which represent wealth management products issued by banks in Mainland China, have been calculated by discounting the expected future cash flows using rates currently available for instruments with similar terms, credit risk and remaining maturities. The Group's own non-performance risk for financial assets at fair value through profit or loss as at the end of the reporting period was assessed to be insignificant.

The fair values of listed equity investments are based on quoted market prices. The directors believe that the estimated fair values resulting from the valuation technique, which are recorded in the consolidated statement of financial position, and the related changes in fair values, which are recorded in other comprehensive income, are reasonable, and that they were the most appropriate values at the end of the reporting period.

32. 金融工具的公平值及公平值等級

管理層已評估，銀行結餘及現金、抵押銀行存款、貿易及其他應收款項、訂金及預付款項、應收／應付關聯人士款項、貿易及其他應付款項以及銀行及其他借款流動部分的公平值與其賬面值相若，主要由於該等工具於短期內到期。

管理層負責釐定金融工具公平值計量的政策及程序。於各報告日期，管理層分析金融工具價值的變動情況，並釐定估值中所用的主要輸入數據。估值過程及結果經董事會一年討論兩次，以進行中期及年度財務匯報。

金融資產及負債的公平值計入自願雙方可於當前交易(脅迫或清盤銷售除外)中交換該工具所需的金額。估計公平值使用以下方法及假設：

按公平值計入損益的金融資產(指中國內地銀行發行的理財產品)公平值按使用擁有類似條款、信貸風險及餘下到期期限的工具目前可得的利率折讓預期未來現金流量計算。於報告期末，本集團按公平值計入損益的金融資產的自身不履約風險獲評估為不重大。

上市權益投資的公平值基於已報市場價格。董事認為，估值方法產生的估計公平值(計入綜合財務狀況表)以及相關公平值變動(計入其他全面收益)均屬合理，且為報告期末的最恰當值。

32. FAIR VALUE AND FAIR VALUE HIERARCHY OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)

For the fair value of the unlisted equity investments at fair value through other comprehensive income, management has estimated the potential effect of using reasonably possible alternatives as inputs to the valuation model.

Management has assessed that the fair values of the non-current portion of bank and other borrowings approximate to their carrying amounts largely due to the fact that such borrowings were made between the Group and an independent third party financial institution based on prevailing market interest rates.

管理層已評估，銀行及其他借款非流動部分的公平值與其賬面值相若，主要由於該等借款由本集團與一家獨立第三方金融機構根據現行市場利率所作出。

(Incorporated in the Cayman Islands with limited liability)

Introduction

We have reviewed the condensed consolidated financial statements of Greentown China Holdings Limited (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries set out on pages 34 to 74, which comprise the condensed consolidated statement of financial position as of 30 June 2020 and the related condensed consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the six-month period then ended and certain explanatory notes. The Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited require the preparation of a report on interim financial information to be in compliance with the relevant provisions thereof and International Accounting Standard 34 “Interim Financial Reporting” (“IAS 34”) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board. The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation and presentation of these condensed consolidated financial statements in accordance with IAS 34. Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on these condensed consolidated financial statements based on our review, and to report our conclusion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with our agreed terms of engagement, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

Scope of review

We conducted our review in accordance with Hong Kong Standard on Review Engagements 2410 “Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity” issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A review of these condensed consolidated financial statements consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly we do not express an audit opinion.

Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the condensed consolidated financial statements are not prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with IAS 34.

TO THE MEMBERS OF GREENTOWN CHINA HOLDINGS LIMITED

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Greentown China Holdings Limited (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the "Group") set out on pages 129 to 286, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2020, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2020, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs") issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing ("HKSAs") issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the "Code"), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Net realisable value for properties under development and completed properties for sale We identified the net realisable value for properties under development and completed properties for sale as a key audit matter as a significant management estimate is required in assessing the net realisable value. Properties under development and completed properties for sale at the end of each reporting period are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Net realisable value for properties under development is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated costs to completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sales. Net realisable value for completed properties for sale is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs necessary to make the sales. As disclosed in the consolidated financial statements, as at 31 December 2020, the carrying amounts of properties under development and completed properties for sale are RMB194,209,030,000 and RMB18,341,794,000 respectively (net of accumulated provision of RMB401,092,000 and RMB460,983,000 respectively).	Our procedures in relation to the management's assessment of the net realisable value of properties under development and completed properties for sale included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtaining an understanding of, evaluate and test the key controls over cost budgeting for estimated costs to completion; • Assessing the reasonableness of estimated selling prices by comparing the management's estimated selling price to the recent average contracted selling price in the same project or the prevailing market price of comparable properties with similar type, size and location; and • Assessing the appropriateness of the estimated costs to completion by comparing the latest estimated costs to completion to the budget approved by management and examined the supporting document such as construction contracts, internal correspondences and approvals.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Valuation of investment properties stated at fair value We identified the valuation of investment properties stated at fair value as a key audit matter due to the involvement of management's judgement in determining the fair value. As disclosed in note 18 to the consolidated financial statements, investment properties are carried in the consolidated statement of financial position at 31 December 2020 at their fair value of approximately RMB4,364,620,000. The fair value was based on valuation on these properties conducted by the independent qualified professional valuer using property valuation techniques which adopt the income approach by capitalising the net rental income derived from the existing tenancies with due provision for the reversionary income potential of the property interests, or where appropriate, by market approach by making reference to comparable sales transactions as available in the relevant markets. Assumptions such as rental yield and estimation of future rentals would affect the fair value of the Group's investment properties and corresponding adjustments to the amount of gain or loss reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.	Our procedures in relation to the valuation of investment properties included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Evaluating the appropriateness of the third party valuer's scope and assessed whether the third party valuer had sufficient expertise; • Obtaining an understanding of the valuation processes and the significant assumptions used in the valuation, namely the reversionary yield and market unit rent, from the management of the Group and the valuer; • Checking the source information provided by the management to the third party valuer to see if the source information is consistent with the supporting documentation such as signed contracts; and • Evaluating the appropriateness of the valuer's key assumptions by comparing yields on a sample of properties to external benchmark indices and comparing market unit rent used in the valuation on a sample of properties to comparable market transactions that we independently sourced from market data.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Recognition of revenue from sales of properties over time As disclosed in note 5 to the consolidated financial statements, revenue from sales of properties is recognised over time when the Group's performance under a sales contract does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date; otherwise, the revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the completed property. For the year ended 31 December 2020, revenue of the Group from sales of properties was RMB57,334,390,000, of which RMB14,450,510,000 was recognised over time. As disclosed in note 4 to the consolidated financial statements, the Group may not change or substitute the property unit or redirect the property unit for another use due to the contractual restrictions with the customer and thus the property unit does not have an alternative use to the Group. However, whether there is an enforceable right to payment depends on the terms of sales contract and the interpretation of the applicable laws that apply to the contract. Such determination requires significant judgments. The Group has obtained legal counsel opinion regarding the enforceability of the right to payment for such sales contracts. Management uses judgments, based on legal counsel opinion, to classify sales contracts into those with right to payment and those without the right.	Our procedures in relation to the management's assessment of whether the Group has the enforceable right to payment in those sales contracts recognised over time included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtaining an understanding of and evaluating the management's procedures in identifying and classifying sales contracts with or without right to payment; • Reviewing the key terms of a sample of sales contracts to assess the presence of right to payment based on the contract terms; • Obtaining and reviewing the opinion of the Group's legal counsel, in particular, the legal counsel's interpretation of the applicable laws and their implication on the assessment of the enforceability of the right to payment; and • Assessing the competence, experience and objectivity of the legal counsel engaged by the management.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
For the revenue from sales of properties recognised over time, the Group recognises revenue by measuring the progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation at the reporting date. The progress is measured based on the Group's inputs to the satisfaction of the performance obligation, by reference to the contract costs incurred up to the end of reporting period as a percentage of total estimated costs for each property unit in the contract. The Group calculated the cost allocation based on phases of the projects and saleable floor areas. Significant judgments and estimations are required in determining the completeness of the estimated total costs and the accuracy of progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation at the reporting date.	Our procedures in relation to the management's assessment of the estimated total contract costs and the accuracy of progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtaining an understanding of, evaluate and test the key controls over cost budgeting for estimated costs to completion and key controls over monitoring of the calculation of the percentage of completion; • Assessing the reasonableness of the basis of percentage of completion calculation and checking the accuracy of the percentage of completion calculation; • Assessing the appropriateness of the estimated costs to completion by comparing the latest estimated costs to completion to the budget approved by management and examined the supporting document such as construction contracts, internal correspondences and approvals; and • Testing the development costs incurred by tracing to the supporting documents.

Other Information

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Directors and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs issued by the IASB and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors of the Company determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors of the Company are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors of the Company either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with our agreed terms of engagement, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSAAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors of the Company.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in the independent auditor's report is Kay Man Wo, Dick.

Notes:

- (i) Special reserve mainly represents changes in equity attributable to owners of the Company arisen from partial acquisition or disposal of subsidiaries. The changes are calculated based on the difference between the amount by which non-controlling interests are adjusted and the fair value of the consideration paid or received for the partial acquisition or disposal.
- (ii) The statutory reserve is non-distributable and the transfer to this reserve is determined by the board of directors of the relevant companies in accordance with the relevant laws and regulations of the People's Republic of China (the "PRC"). This reserve can be used to offset accumulated losses and increase capital upon approval from the relevant authorities.
- (iii) Partial disposal of interest in subsidiaries is mainly from the issuance of new shares through initial public offering of Greentown Management Holdings Company Limited ("Greentown Management"). Details are set out in note 48(iii)(c).

1. General Information

Greentown China Holdings Limited (the “Company”) was incorporated in the Cayman Islands on 31 August 2005 as an exempted company with limited liability under the Companies Law (2004 Revision) and its shares have been listed on the Main Board of The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the “Stock Exchange”) with effect from 13 July 2006. The address of the registered office of the Company is disclosed in the section headed “Corporate Information” of the annual report.

The consolidated financial statements are presented in Renminbi (“RMB”), which is also the functional currency of the Company.

The Company is an investment holding company. The principal activity of its subsidiaries (together with the Company referred to as the “Group”) is the development for sale of residential properties in the PRC.

2. Application of New and Amendments to International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”)

Amendments to IFRSs that are mandatorily effective for the current year

The Group has applied the Amendments to References to the Conceptual Framework in IFRS Standards and the following amendments to IFRSs issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) for the first time in the current year, which are mandatorily effective for the annual period beginning on or after 1 January 2020 for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements:

Amendments to IAS 1 and IAS 8	Definition of Material
Amendments to IFRS 3	Definition of a Business
Amendments to IFRS 9, IAS 39 and IFRS 7	Interest Rate Benchmark Reform

The application of the Amendments to References to the Conceptual Framework in IFRS Standards and the amendments to IFRSs in the current year had no material impact on the Group’s financial positions and performance for the current and prior years and/or on the disclosures set out in these consolidated financial statements.

2. Application of New and Amendments to International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”) (continued)

Amendments to IFRS 9, IAS 39, IFRS 7, IFRS 4 and IFRS 16 Interest Rate Benchmark Reform – Phase 2

Amendments to IFRS 9, IAS 39, IFRS 7, IFRS 4 and IFRS 16 Interest Rate Benchmark Reform – Phase 2 relate to the modification of financial assets, financial liabilities and lease liabilities, specific hedge accounting requirements and disclosure requirements applying IFRS 7 Financial Instruments: Disclosures to accompany the amendments regarding modifications and hedge accounting.

- Modification of financial assets, financial liabilities and lease liabilities. A practical expedient is introduced for modifications required by the reform (modifications required as a direct consequence of the interest rate benchmark reform and made on an economically equivalent basis). These modifications are accounted for by updating the effective interest rate. All other modifications are accounted for using the current IFRSs requirements. A similar practical expedient is proposed for lessee accounting applying IFRS 16 Lease (“IFRS 16”);
- Hedge accounting requirements. Under the amendments, hedge accounting is not discontinued solely because of the interest rate benchmark reform. Hedging relationships (and related documentation) are required to be amended to reflect modifications to the hedged item, hedging instrument and hedged risk. Amended hedging relationships should meet all qualifying criteria to apply hedge accounting, including effectiveness requirements; and
- Disclosures. The amendments require disclosures in order to allow users to understand the nature and extent of risks arising from the interest rate benchmark reform to which the Group is exposed to and how the entity manages those risks as well as the entity’s progress in transitioning from interbank offered rates to alternative benchmark rates, and how the entity is managing this transition.

As at 31 December 2020, the Group has several London Interbank Offered Rate (“LIBOR”)/Hong Kong Interbank Offered Rate (“HIBOR”) bank loans which may be subject to interest rate benchmark reform. The Group expects no significant gains or losses should the interest rate benchmark for these loans change resulting from the reform on application of the amendments.

3. Basis of Preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements and Significant Accounting Policies

3.1 Basis of preparation of consolidated financial statements

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRSs. In addition, the consolidated financial statements include applicable disclosures required by the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (“Listing Rules”) and by the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance (“CO”).

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments and investment properties which are measured at fair values, as explained in the accounting policies set out below.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these consolidated financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of IFRS 2 Share-based Payment, leasing transactions that are within the scope of IFRS 16, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in IAS 2 Inventories or value in use in IAS 36 Impairment of Assets.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

For financial instruments and investment properties which are transacted at fair value and a valuation technique that unobservable inputs is to be used to measure fair value in subsequent periods, the valuation technique is calibrated so that at initial recognition the results of the valuation technique equals the transaction price.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

3. Basis of Preparation of Consolidated Financial Statements and Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

3.2 Significant accounting policies

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and entities controlled by the Company (its subsidiaries). Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

When the Group has less than a majority of the voting rights of an investee, it has power over the investee when the voting rights are sufficient to give it the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee unilaterally. The Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether or not the Group's voting rights in an investee are sufficient to give it power, including:

- the size of the Group's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of holdings of the other vote holders;
- potential voting rights held by the Group, other vote holders or other parties;
- rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- any additional facts and circumstances that indicate that the Group has, or does not have, the current ability to direct the relevant activities at the time that decisions need to be made, including voting patterns at previous shareholders' meetings.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date the Group gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each item of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies in line with the Group's accounting policies.

All intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Non-controlling interests in subsidiaries are presented separately from the Group's equity therein, which represent present ownership interests entitling their holders to a proportionate share of net assets of the relevant subsidiaries upon liquidation.

Changes in the Group's ownership interests in existing subsidiaries

Changes in the Group's interests in subsidiaries that do not result in the Group losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Group's relevant components of equity and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries, including re-attribution of relevant reserves between the Group and the non-controlling interests according to the Group's and the non-controlling interests' proportionate interests.

Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted, and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity and attributed to owners of the Company.

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, the assets and liabilities of that subsidiary and non-controlling interests (if any) are derecognised. A gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss and is calculated as the difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), and liabilities of the subsidiary attributable to the owners of the Company. All amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that subsidiary are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities of the subsidiary (i.e. reclassified to profit or loss or transferred to another category of equity as specified/permitted by applicable IFRSs). The fair value of any investment retained in the former subsidiary at the date when control is lost is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition for subsequent accounting under IFRS 9 Financial Instruments ("IFRS 9") or, when applicable, the cost on initial recognition of an investment in an associate or a joint venture.

Business combinations or asset acquisitions

Asset acquisitions

When the Group acquires a group of assets and liabilities that do not constitute a business, the Group identifies and recognises the individual identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed by allocating the purchase price first to investment properties which are subsequently measured under fair value model and financial assets/financial liabilities at the respective fair values, the remaining balance of the purchase price is then allocated to the other identifiable assets and liabilities on the basis of their relative fair values at the date of purchase. Such a transaction does not give rise to goodwill or bargain purchase gain.

Business combinations

Acquisitions of businesses are accounted for using the acquisition method. The consideration transferred in a business combination is measured at fair value, which is calculated as the sum of the acquisition-date fair values of the assets transferred by the Group, liabilities incurred by the Group to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group in exchange for control of the acquiree. Acquisition-related costs are generally recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

Except for certain recognition exemptions, the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed must meet the definitions of an asset and a liability in the International Accounting Standards Committee's Framework for the Preparation and Presentation of Financial Statements (replaced by the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting issued in September 2010).

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognised at their fair value, except that:

- deferred tax assets or liabilities and liabilities or assets related to employee benefit arrangements are recognised and measured in accordance with IAS 12 Income Taxes and IAS 19 Employee Benefits respectively;
- liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share-based payment arrangements of the Group entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with IFRS 2 Share-based Payment at the acquisition date (see the accounting policy below);
- assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with IFRS 5 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations are measured in accordance with that Standard; and
- lease liabilities are recognised and measured at the present value of the remaining lease payments (as defined in IFRS 16) as if the acquired leases were new leases at the acquisition date, except for leases for which (a) the lease term ends within 12 months of the acquisition date; or (b) the underlying asset is of low value. Right-of-use assets are recognised and measured at the same amount as the relevant lease liabilities, adjusted to reflect favourable or unfavourable terms of the lease when compared with market terms.

Goodwill is measured as the excess of the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree, and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree (if any) over the net amount of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed as at acquisition date. If, after re-assessment, the net of the acquisition-date amounts of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed exceeds the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held interest in the acquiree (if any), the excess is recognised immediately in profit or loss as a bargain purchase gain.

Non-controlling interests that are present ownership interests and entitle their holders to a proportionate share of the relevant subsidiary's net assets in the event of liquidation are initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the recognised amounts of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement basis is made on a transaction-by-transaction basis. Other types of non-controlling interests are measured at their fair value.

When a business combination is achieved in stages, the Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to fair value at the acquisition date (i.e. the date when the Group obtains control), and the resulting gain or loss, if any, is recognised in profit or loss or other comprehensive income, as appropriate. Amounts arising from interests in the acquiree prior to the acquisition date that have previously been recognised in other comprehensive income and measured under IFRS 9 would be accounted for on the same basis as would be required if the Group had disposed directly of the previously held equity interest.

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the reporting period in which the combination occurs, the Group reports provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. Those provisional amounts are adjusted retrospectively during the measurement period (see above), or additional assets or liabilities are recognised, to reflect new information obtained about facts and circumstances that existed as of the acquisition date that, if known, would have affected the amounts recognised as of that date.

Goodwill

Goodwill arising on an acquisition of a business is carried at cost as established at the date of acquisition of the business (see the accounting policy above) less accumulated impairment losses, if any.

For the purposes of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units (or group of cash-generating units) that is expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, which represent the lowest level at which the goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes and not larger than an operating segment.

A cash-generating unit (or group of cash-generating units) to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually or more frequently when there is indication that the unit may be impaired. For goodwill arising on an acquisition in a reporting period, the cash-generating unit (or group of cash-generating units) to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment before the end of that reporting period. If the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill and then to the other assets of the unit (or group of cash-generating units) on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit (or group of cash-generating units).

On disposal of the relevant cash-generating unit or any of the cash-generating unit within the group of cash-generating units, the attributable amount of goodwill is included in the determination of the amount of profit or loss on disposal. When the Group disposes of an operation within the cash-generating unit (or a cash-generating unit within a group of cash-generating units), the amount of goodwill disposed of is measured on the basis of the relative values of the operation (or the cash-generating unit) disposed of and the portion of the cash-generating unit (or group of cash-generating units) retained.

The Group's policy for goodwill arising on the acquisition of an associate and a joint venture is described below.

Investments in associates and joint ventures

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

A joint venture is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint arrangement. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The results and assets and liabilities of associates and joint ventures are incorporated in these consolidated financial statements using the equity method of accounting. The financial statements of associates and joint ventures used for equity accounting purposes are prepared using uniform accounting policies as those of the Group for like transactions and events in similar circumstances. Under the equity method, an investment in an associate or a joint venture is initially recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the associate or joint venture. Changes in net assets of the associate or joint venture other than profit or loss and other comprehensive income are not accounted for unless such changes resulted in changes in ownership interest held by the Group. When the Group's share of losses of an associate or joint venture exceeds the Group's interest in that associate or joint venture (which includes any long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate or joint venture), the Group discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate or joint venture.

An investment in an associate or a joint venture is accounted for using the equity method from the date on which the investee becomes an associate or a joint venture. On acquisition of the investment in an associate or a joint venture, any excess of the cost of the investment over the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the investee is recognised as goodwill, which is included within the carrying amount of the investment. Any excess of the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities over the cost of the investment, after reassessment, is recognised immediately in profit or loss in the period in which the investment is acquired.

The Group assesses whether there is an objective evidence that the interest in an associate or a joint venture may be impaired. When any objective evidence exists, the entire carrying amount of the investment (including goodwill) is tested for impairment in accordance with IAS 36 Impairment of Assets as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount (higher of value in use and fair value less costs of disposal) with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognised is not allocated to any asset, including goodwill, that forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognised in accordance with IAS 36 to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

When the Group ceases to have significant influence over an associate or joint control over a joint venture, it is accounted for as a disposal of the entire interest in the investee with a resulting gain or loss being recognised in profit or loss. When the Group retains an interest in the former associate or joint venture and the retained interest is a financial asset within the scope of IFRS 9, the Group measures the retained interest at fair value at that date and the fair value is regarded as its fair value on initial recognition. The difference between the carrying amount of the associate or joint venture and the fair value of any retained interest and any proceeds from disposing of the relevant interest in the associate or joint venture is included in the determination of the gain or loss on disposal of the associate or joint venture. In addition, the Group accounts for all amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that associate or joint venture on the same basis as would be required if that associate or joint venture had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. Therefore, if a gain or loss previously recognised in other comprehensive income by that associate or joint venture would be reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities, the Group reclassifies the gain or loss from equity to profit or loss (as a reclassification adjustment) upon disposal or partial disposal of the relevant associate or joint venture.

The Group continues to use the equity method when an investment in an associate becomes an investment in a joint venture or an investment in a joint venture becomes an investment in an associate. There is no remeasurement to fair value upon such changes in ownership interests.

When the Group reduces its ownership interest in an associate or a joint venture but the Group continues to use the equity method, the Group reclassifies to profit or loss the proportion of the gain or loss that had previously been recognised in other comprehensive income relating to that reduction in ownership interest if that gain or loss would be reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities.

When a group entity transacts with an associate or a joint venture of the Group, profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the associate or joint venture are recognised in the Group's consolidated financial statements only to the extent of interests in the associate or joint venture that are not related to the Group.

Non-current assets held for sale

Non-current assets and disposal groups are classified as held for sale if their carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use. This condition is regarded as met only when the asset (or disposal group) is available for immediate sale in its present condition subject only to terms that are usual and customary for sales of such asset (or disposal group) and its sale is highly probable. Management must be committed to the sale, which should be expected to qualify for recognition as a completed sale within one year from the date of classification.

When the Group is committed to a sale plan involving loss of control of a subsidiary, all of the assets and liabilities of that subsidiary are classified as held for sale when the criteria described above are met, regardless of whether the Group will retain a non-controlling interest in the relevant subsidiary after the sale.

When the Group is committed to a sale plan involving disposal of an investment, or a portion of an investment, in an associate or joint venture, the investment or the portion of the investment that will be disposed of is classified as held for sale when the criteria described above are met, and the Group discontinues the use of the equity method in relation to the portion that is classified as held for sale from the time when the investment (or a portion of the investment) is classified as held for sale.

Non-current assets and disposal groups classified as held for sale are measured at the lower of their carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell, except for financial assets within the scope of IFRS 9 and investment properties which continue to be measured in accordance with the accounting policies as set out in respective sections.

Revenue from contracts with customers

The Group recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when “control” of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer.

A performance obligation represents a good or service (or a bundle of goods or services) that is distinct or a series of distinct goods or services that are substantially the same.

Control is transferred over time and revenue is recognised over time by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of the relevant performance obligation if one of the following criteria is met:

- the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group’s performance as the Group performs;
- the Group’s performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the Group performs; or
- the Group’s performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

Otherwise, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the distinct good or service.

A contract asset represents the Group's right to consideration in exchange for goods or services that the Group has transferred to a customer that is not yet unconditional. It is assessed for impairment in accordance with IFRS 9. In contrast, a receivable represents the Group's unconditional right to consideration, i.e. only the passage of time is required before payment of that consideration is due.

A contract liability represents the Group's obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer.

A contract asset and a contract liability relating to the same contract are accounted for and presented on a net basis.

Over time revenue recognition: measurement of progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation
Input method

The progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured based on input method, which is to recognise revenue on the basis of the Group's efforts or inputs to the satisfaction of a performance obligation relative to the total expected inputs to the satisfaction of that performance obligation, that best depict the Group's performance in transferring control of goods or services.

Variable consideration

For project management contracts that contain variable consideration based on the future pre-sales amount of the project (such as commission and share of profit for management service contracts), the Group estimates the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled using either (a) the expected value method or (b) the most likely amount, depending on which method better predicts the amount of consideration to which the Group will be entitled.

The estimated amount of variable consideration is included in the transaction price only to the extent that it is highly probable that such an inclusion will not result in a significant revenue reversal in the future when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved.

At the end of each reporting period, the Group updates the estimated transaction price (including updating its assessment of whether an estimate of variable consideration is constrained) to represent faithfully the circumstances present at the end of the reporting period and the changes in circumstances during the reporting period.

Existence of significant financing component

In determining the transaction price, the Group adjusts the promised amount of consideration for the effects of the time value of money if the timing of payments agreed (either explicitly or implicitly) provides the customer or the Group with a significant benefit of financing the transfer of goods or services to the customer. In those circumstances, the contract contains a significant financing component. A significant financing component may exist regardless of whether the promise of financing is explicitly stated in the contract or implied by the payment terms agreed to by the parties to the contract.

For contracts where the period between payment and transfer of the associated goods or services is less than one year, the Group applies the practical expedient of not adjusting the transaction price for any significant financing component.

For advance payments received from customers before the transfer of the associated goods or services in which the Group adjusts for the promised amount of consideration for a significant financing component, the Group applies a discount rate that would be reflected in a separate financing transaction between the Group and the customer at contract inception. The relevant interest expenses during the period between the advance payments were received and the transfer of the associated goods and services are accounted for on the same basis as other borrowing costs.

For contracts where the Group transferred the associated goods or services before payments from customers in which the Group adjusts for the promised amount of consideration for significant financing components, the Group applies a discount rate that would be reflected in a separate financing transaction between the Group and the customer at contract inception. The Group recognises interest income during the period between the payment from customers and the transfer of the associated goods or services.

Contract costs

Incremental costs of obtaining a contract

Incremental costs of obtaining a contract are those costs that the Group incurs to obtain a contract with a customer that it would not have incurred if the contract had not been obtained.

The Group recognises sales commissions for property sales as an asset if it expects to recover these costs. The asset so recognised is subsequently amortised to selling expenses on a systematic basis that is consistent with the transfer to the customer of the goods or services to which the assets relate.

Leases

Definition of a lease

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

For contracts entered into or modified on or after the date of initial application or arising from business combinations, the Group assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease based on the definition under IFRS 16 at inception, modification date or acquisition date, as appropriate. Such contract will not be reassessed unless the terms and conditions of the contract are subsequently changed.

As a practical expedient, leases with similar characteristics are accounted on a portfolio basis when the Group reasonably expects that the effects on the consolidated financial statements would not differ materially from individual leases within the portfolio.

The Group as a lessee

Allocation of consideration to components of a contract

For a contract that contains a lease component and one or more additional lease or non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative stand-alone price of the lease component and the aggregate stand-alone price of the non-lease components.

The Group applies practical expedient not to separate non-lease components from lease component, and instead account for the lease component and any associated non-lease components as a single lease component.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option. It also applies the recognition exemption for lease of low-value assets. Lease payments on short-term leases and leases of low-value assets are recognised as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

The cost of right-of-use asset includes:

- the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability;
- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, less any lease incentives received;
- any initial direct costs incurred by the Group; and
- an estimate of costs to be incurred by the Group in dismantling and removing the underlying assets, restoring the site on which it is located or restoring the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease, unless those costs are incurred to produce inventories.

Except for those that are classified as investment properties and measured under fair value model, right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any re-measurement of lease liabilities.

Right-of-use assets in which the Group is reasonably certain to obtain ownership of the underlying leased assets at the end of the lease term are depreciated from commencement date to the end of the useful life. Otherwise, right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of its estimated useful life and the lease term.

The Group presents right-of-use assets that do not meet the definition of investment property or inventory as a separate line item on the consolidated statement of financial position. The right-of-use assets that meet the definition of investment property and inventory are presented within "investment properties" and "properties for development"/"properties under development"/"completed properties for sale" respectively.

Refundable rental deposits

Refundable rental deposits paid are accounted under IFRS 9 and initially measured at fair value. Adjustments to fair value at initial recognition are considered as additional lease payments and included in the cost of right-of-use assets.

Leases (continued)

Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of a lease, the Group recognises and measures the lease liability at the present value of lease payments that are unpaid at that date. In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses the incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date if the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable.

The lease payments include:

- fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable;
- variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at the commencement date;
- amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees;
- the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group; and
- payments of penalties for terminating a lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate.

Variable lease payments that reflect changes in market rental rates are initially measured using the market rental rates as at the commencement date. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are not included in the measurement of lease liabilities and right-of-use assets, and are recognised as expense in the period on which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

After the commencement date, lease liabilities are adjusted by interest accretion and lease payments.

The Group remeasures lease liabilities (and makes a corresponding adjustment to the related right-of-use assets) whenever:

- the lease term has changed or there is a change in the assessment of exercise of a purchase option, in which case the related lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the date of reassessment.
- the lease payments change due to changes in market rental rates following a market rent review, in which cases the related lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using the initial discount rate.

The Group presents lease liabilities as a separate line item on the consolidated statement of financial position.

Lease modifications

The Group accounts for a lease modification as a separate lease if:

- the modification increases the scope of the lease by adding the right to use one or more underlying assets; and
- the consideration for the leases increases by an amount commensurate with the stand-alone price for the increase in scope and any appropriate adjustments to that stand-alone price to reflect the circumstances of the particular contract.

For a lease modification that is not accounted for as a separate lease, the Group remeasures the lease liability, less any lease incentives receivable, based on the lease term of the modified lease by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the effective date of the modification.

The Group accounts for the remeasurement of lease liabilities by making corresponding adjustments to the relevant right-of-use asset.

The Group as a lessor

Classification and measurement of leases

Leases for which the Group is a lessor are classified as finance or operating leases. Whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of an underlying asset to the lessee, the contract is classified as a finance lease. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

Rental income from operating leases is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset, and such costs are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term except for investment properties measured under fair value model.

Allocation of consideration to components of a contract

When a contract includes both leases and non-lease components, the Group applies IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("IFRS 15") to allocate consideration in a contract to lease and non-lease components. Non-lease components are separated from lease component on the basis of their relative stand-alone selling prices.

Refundable rental deposits

Refundable rental deposits received are accounted under IFRS 9 and initially measured at fair value. Adjustments to fair value at initial recognition are considered as additional lease payments from lessees.

Lease modification

The Group accounts for a modification to an operating lease as a new lease from the effective date of the modification, considering any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to the original lease as part of the lease payments for the new lease.

Foreign currencies

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recorded at the rates of exchange prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At the end of the reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the translation of monetary items, are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. For properties under development for which revenue is recognised over time, the Group ceases to capitalise borrowing costs as soon as the properties are ready for the Group's intended sale.

Any specific borrowing that remain outstanding after the related asset is ready for its intended use or sale is included in the general borrowing pool for calculation of capitalisation rate on general borrowings. Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the year in which they are incurred.

Government grants

Government grants are not recognised until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognises as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. Government grants related to income that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they become receivable. Such grants are presented under “other income”.

Retirement benefit costs

The Group participates in state-managed retirement benefit schemes, which are defined contribution schemes, pursuant to which the Group pays a fixed percentage of its qualifying staff’s wages as contributions to the plans. Payments to such retirement benefit schemes are charged as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are recognised at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid as and when employees rendered the services. All short-term employee benefits are recognised as an expense unless another IFRS requires or permits the inclusion of the benefit in the cost of an asset.

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees in respect of wages and salaries and annual leave in the period the related service is rendered at the undiscounted amount of the amount of benefits expected to be paid in exchange for that service.

Liabilities recognised in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related service.

Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from “profit before taxation” as reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income because it excludes items of income and expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and it further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group’s liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, and interests in joint ventures, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments and interests are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilise the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of the reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset is realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax liabilities or deferred tax assets for investment properties that are measured using the fair value model, the carrying amounts of such properties are presumed to be recovered entirely through sale, unless the presumption is rebutted. The presumption is rebutted when the investment property is depreciable and is held within a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment property over time, rather than through sale.

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax for leasing transactions in which the Group recognises the right-of-use assets and the related lease liabilities, the Group first determines whether the tax deductions are attributable to the right-of-use assets or the lease liabilities.

For leasing transactions in which the tax deductions are attributable to the lease liabilities, the Group applies IAS 12 Income Taxes requirements to the leasing transaction as a whole. Temporary differences relating to right-of-use assets and lease liabilities are assessed on a net basis. Excess of depreciation on right-of-use assets over the lease payments for the principal portion of lease liabilities resulting in net deductible temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied to the same taxable entity by the same taxation authority.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in profit or loss, except when it relates to items that are recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case the current and deferred tax is also recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively. Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment, are tangible assets that are held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes. Property, plant and equipment are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Property, plant and equipment in the course of construction for production, supply or administrative purposes are carried at cost less any recognised impairment loss. Costs include any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalised in accordance with the Group's accounting policy. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

When the Group makes payments for ownership interests of properties which includes both leasehold land and building elements, the entire consideration is allocated between the leasehold land and the building elements in proportion to the relative fair values at initial recognition. To the extent the allocation of the relevant payments can be made reliably, interest in leasehold land is presented as "right-of-use assets" in the consolidated statement of financial position except for those that are classified and accounted for as investment properties under the fair value model. When the consideration cannot be allocated reliably between non-lease building element and undivided interest in the underlying leasehold land, the entire properties are classified as property, plant and equipment.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of items of property, plant and equipment other than construction in progress less their residual values over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in profit or loss.

Investment properties

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation. Investment properties include land held for undetermined future use, which is regarded as held for capital appreciation purpose.

Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including any directly attributable expenditure. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are measured at their fair values, adjusted to exclude any prepaid or accrued operating lease income.

Gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of investment property are included in profit or loss for the period in which they arise.

Construction costs incurred for investment properties under construction are capitalised as part of the carrying amount of the investment properties under construction.

An investment property is derecognised upon disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use or no future economic benefits are expected from its disposals. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in profit or loss in the year in which the item is derecognised.

Impairment on property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets and contract costs other than goodwill

At the end of the reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets and contract costs to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any.

The recoverable amount of property, plant and equipment and right-of-use assets are estimated individually. When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount individually, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

In testing a cash-generating unit for impairment, corporate assets are allocated to the relevant cash-generating unit when a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be established, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be established. The recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit or group of cash-generating units to which the corporate asset belongs, and is compared with the carrying amount of the relevant cash-generating unit or group of cash-generating units.

Before the Group recognises an impairment loss for assets capitalised as contract costs under IFRS 15, the Group assesses and recognises any impairment loss on other assets related to the relevant contracts in accordance with applicable standards. Then, impairment loss, if any, for assets capitalised as contract costs is recognised to the extent the carrying amounts exceeds the remaining amount of consideration that the Group expects to receive in exchange for related goods or services less the costs which relate directly to providing those goods or services that have not been recognised as expenses. The assets capitalised as contract costs are then included in the carrying amount of the cash-generating unit to which they belong for the purpose of evaluating impairment of that cash-generating unit.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset (or a cash-generating unit) for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or a cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. For corporate assets or portion of corporate assets which cannot be allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis to a cash-generating unit, the Group compares the carrying amount of a group of cash-generating units, including the carrying amounts of the corporate assets or portion of corporate assets allocated to that group of cash-generating units, with the recoverable amount of the group of cash-generating units. In allocating the impairment loss, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill (if applicable) and then to the other assets on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit or the group of cash-generating units. The carrying amount of an asset is not reduced below the highest of its fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable), its value in use (if determinable) and zero. The amount of the impairment loss that would otherwise have been allocated to the asset is allocated pro rata to the other assets of the unit or the group of cash-generating units. An impairment loss is recognised as an expense immediately.

Properties for/under development/completed properties for sale

Properties for/under development which are intended to be sold upon completion of development and completed properties for sale are classified as current assets. Except for the leasehold land element which is measured at cost model in accordance with the accounting policies of right-of-use assets, properties for/under development/completed properties for sale are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined on a specific identification basis including allocation of the related development expenditure incurred and where appropriate, borrowing costs capitalised. Net realisable value for properties for/under development is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated cost to completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sales. Net realisable value for completed properties for sale is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated costs necessary to make the sales.

Properties for development are transferred to properties under development upon commencement of development. Properties under development are transferred to completed properties for sale upon completion of development.

The Group transfers a property from properties under development/completed properties for sale to investment property when there is a change in use to hold the property to earn rentals or/and for capital appreciation rather than for sale in the ordinary course of business, which is evidenced by the inception of an operating lease to another party. Any difference between the fair value of the property at the date of transfer and its previous carrying amount is recognised in profit or loss.

Inventories

Inventories other than properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is calculated using the weighted average method.

Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, and it is probable that the Group will be required to settle that obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Where a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (where the effect of the time value of money is material).

Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value except for trade receivables arising from contracts with customers which are initially measured in accordance with IFRS 15. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL")) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or financial liability and of allocating interest income and interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts and payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial asset or financial liability, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Financial assets

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortised cost:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI"):

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both selling and collecting contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All other financial assets are subsequently measured at financial assets at FVTPL, except that at initial recognition of a financial asset the Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in fair value of an equity investment in other comprehensive income if that equity investment is neither held for trading nor contingent consideration recognised by an acquirer in a business combination to which IFRS 3 Business Combinations applies.

A financial asset is held for trading if:

- it has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the near term; or
- on initial recognition it is a part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that the Group manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- it is a derivative that is not designated and effective as a hedging instrument.

In addition, the Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that is required to be measured at the amortised cost or FVTPL as measured at FVTOCI if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch.

- (i) Amortised cost and interest income
Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method for financial assets measured subsequently at amortised cost. Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset, except for financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired. For financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset from the next reporting period. If the credit risk on the credit impaired financial instrument improves so that the financial asset is no longer credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset from the beginning of the reporting period following the determination that the asset is no longer credit impaired.
- (ii) Equity instruments designated as at FVTOCI
Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI are subsequently measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve; and are not subject to impairment assessment. The cumulative gain or loss will not be reclassified to profit or loss on disposal of the equity investments, and will be transferred to retained earnings.

Dividends from these investments in equity instruments are recognised in profit or loss when the Group's right to receive the dividends is established, unless the dividends clearly represent a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Dividends are included in the "other income" line item in profit or loss.

Impairment of financial assets and other items subject to impairment assessment under IFRS 9

The Group performs impairment assessment under expected credit loss (“ECL”) model on financial assets (including trade receivables, other receivables, deposits, amounts due from related parties, pledged bank deposits, bank balances), contract assets and financial guarantee contracts which are subject to impairment assessment under IFRS 9. The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL represents the ECL that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of the relevant instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECL (“12m ECL”) represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date. Assessment are done based on the Group’s historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current conditions at the reporting date as well as the forecast of future conditions.

The Group always recognises lifetime ECL for trade receivables and contract assets. The ECL on these assets are assessed individually for debtors with significant balances and/or collectively using a provision matrix with appropriate groupings.

For all other instruments, the Group measures the loss allowance equal to 12m ECL, unless when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, in which case the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increases in the likelihood or risk of a default occurring since initial recognition.

(i) Significant increase in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition. In making this assessment, the Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly:

- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the financial instrument's external (if available) or internal credit rating;
- significant deterioration in external market indicators of credit risk, e.g. a significant increase in the credit spread, the credit default swap prices for the debtor;
- existing or forecast adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations;
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor;
- an actual or expected significant adverse change in the regulatory, economic, or technological environment of the debtor that results in a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations.

Irrespective of the outcome of the above assessment, the Group presumes that the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due, unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information that demonstrates otherwise.

Despite the foregoing, the Group assumes that the credit risk on a debt instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition if the debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk at the reporting date. A debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk if i) it has a low risk of default, ii) the borrower has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term and iii) adverse changes in economic and business conditions in the longer term may, but will not necessarily, reduce the ability of the borrower to fulfil its contractual cash flow obligations. The Group considers pledged bank deposits and bank balances to have low credit risk because the counterparties are banks with high credit ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies or with a good reputation.

For financial guarantee contracts, the date that the Group becomes a party to the irrevocable commitment is considered to be the date of initial recognition for the purposes of assessing the impairment. In assessing whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition of financial guarantee contracts, the Group considers the changes in the risk that the specified debtor will default on the contract.

The Group regularly monitors the effectiveness of the criteria used to identify whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk and revises them as appropriate to ensure that the criteria are capable of identifying significant increase in credit risk before the amount becomes past due.

(ii) Definition of default

For internal credit risk management, the Group considers an event of default occurs when information developed internally or obtained from external sources indicates that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors, including the Group, in full (without taking into account any collaterals held by the Group).

Irrespective of the above, the Group considers that default has occurred when a financial asset is more than 90 days past due unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information to demonstrate that a more lagging default criterion is more appropriate.

(iii) Credit-impaired financial assets

A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- (a) significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;
- (b) a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;
- (c) the lender(s) of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider; or
- (d) it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganization.

(iv) Write-off policy

The Group writes off a financial asset when there is information indicating that the counterparty is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery, for example, when the counterparty has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings. Financial assets written off may still be subject to enforcement activities under the Group's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event. Any subsequent recoveries are recognised in profit or loss.

(v) Measurement and recognition of ECL

The measurement of ECL is a function of the probability of default, loss given default (i.e. the magnitude of the loss if there is a default) and the exposure at default. The assessment of the probability of default and loss given default is based on historical data and forward-looking information. Estimation of ECL reflects an unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights. The Group uses a practical expedient in estimating ECL on trade receivables using a provision matrix taking into consideration historical credit loss experience and forward looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

Generally, the ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at the effective interest rate determined at initial recognition.

For a financial guarantee contract, the Group is required to make payments only in the event of a default by the debtor in accordance with the terms of the instrument that is guaranteed. Accordingly, the ECL is the present value of the expected payments to reimburse the holder for a credit loss that it incurs less any amounts that the Group expects to receive from the holder, the debtor or any other party.

Lifetime ECL for trade receivables/contract assets are considered on a collective basis taking into consideration past due information and relevant credit information such as forward looking macroeconomic information.

For collective assessment, the Group takes into consideration the following characteristics when formulating the grouping:

- Past-due status;
- Nature, size and industry of debtors; and
- External credit ratings where available.

The grouping is regularly reviewed by management to ensure the constituents of each group continue to share similar credit risk characteristics.

Interest income is calculated based on the gross carrying amount of the financial asset unless the financial asset is credit impaired, in which case interest income is calculated based on amortised cost of the financial asset.

Except for financial guarantee contracts, the Group recognises an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss for all financial instruments by adjusting their carrying amount, with the exception of trade receivables and contract assets where the corresponding adjustment is recognised through a loss allowance account.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. If the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Group recognises its retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay. If the Group retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Group continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralised borrowing for the proceeds received.

On derecognition of a financial asset measured at amortised cost, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognised in profit or loss.

On derecognition of an investment in equity instrument which the Group has elected on initial recognition to measure at FVTOCI, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve is not reclassified to profit or loss, but is transferred to retained earnings.

Financial liabilities and equity

Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments issued by a group entity are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Group after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Group are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Repurchase of the Company's own equity instruments is recognised and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost

Financial liabilities at amortised cost including bank and other borrowings, trade and other payables, amounts due to related parties, liability portion of senior notes, corporate debt instruments and receipts under securitisation arrangements are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method.

Senior notes

Senior notes issued by the Company that contain both liability and early redemption option (which is not closely related to the host contract) are classified separately into respective items on initial recognition. At the date of issue, both the liability and early redemption option components are recognised at fair value.

In subsequent periods, the liability component of the senior notes is carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The early redemption option is measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss.

Transaction costs that relate to the issue of the senior notes are allocated to the liability and early redemption option components in proportion to their relative fair values. Transaction costs relating to the early redemption option are charged to profit or loss immediately. Transaction costs relating to the liability component are included in the carrying amount of the liability portion and amortised over the period of the senior notes using the effective interest method.

Corporate bonds

Corporate bonds issued by a subsidiary of the Group that contain both liability and written put option (which is closely related to the host contract) are not separated from host contract and embedded derivatives on initial recognition. At the date of issue, the corporate bonds are recognised at fair value.

In subsequent periods, the corporate bonds are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Transaction costs that relate to the issue of the corporate bonds are included in the carrying amount of the corporate bonds and amortised over the period of the corporate bonds using the effective interest method.

Receipts under securitisation arrangements

Receipts under securitisation arrangements are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred and are subsequently stated at amortised cost.

Transaction costs are included in the carrying amount of the receipts under assets backed securitization and amortised over the period of the arrangements using the effective interest method.

Perpetual Securities

Perpetual Securities issued by the Group, which includes no contractual obligation for the Group to deliver cash or other financial assets or the Group has the sole discretion to defer payment of distribution and redemption of principal amount indefinitely are classified as equity instruments and are initially recorded at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Financial guarantee contracts

A financial guarantee contract is a contract that requires the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payments when due in accordance with the terms of a debt instrument. Financial guarantee contract liabilities are measured initially at their fair values. It is subsequently measured at the higher of:

- the amount of the loss allowance determined in accordance with IFRS 9; and
- the amount initially recognised less, where appropriate, cumulative amortisation recognised over the guarantee period.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Group derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Group's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.

Derivative financial instruments

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value at the date when derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of the reporting period. The resulting gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss.

Share-based payment transactions

Equity-settled share-based payment transactions

Shares/share options granted to employees

Equity-settled share-based payments to employees and others providing similar services are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments at the grant date.

The fair value of the equity-settled share-based payments determined at the grant date without taking into consideration all non-market vesting conditions is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, based on the Group's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest, with a corresponding increase in equity (share-based payments reserve). At the end of each reporting period, the Group revises its estimate of the number of equity instruments expected to vest based on assessment of all relevant non-market vesting conditions. The impact of the revision of the original estimates, if any, is recognised in profit or loss such that the cumulative expense reflects the revised estimate, with a corresponding adjustment to the share-based payments reserve. For shares/share options that vest immediately at the date of grant, the fair value of the shares/share options granted is expensed immediately to profit or loss.

At the time when the shares/share options are exercised, the amount previously recognised in share-based payments reserve will be transferred to share premium. When the shares/share options are forfeited after the vesting date or are still not exercised at the expiry date, the amount previously recognised in share-based payments reserve will continue to be held in share-based payments reserve.

4. Critical Accounting Judgements and Key Sources of Estimation Uncertainty

Critical judgements in applying accounting policies

The critical judgements, apart from those involving estimations (see below), that the directors have made in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies and that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements are disclosed below.

4. Critical Accounting Judgements and Key Sources of Estimation Uncertainty (continued)

Revenue from property sales is recognised over time when the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date; otherwise, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the completed property. The Group may not change or substitute the property unit or redirect the property unit for another use due to the contractual restrictions with the customer and thus the property unit does not have an alternative use to the Group. However, whether there is an enforceable right to payment depends on the terms of sales contract and the interpretation of the applicable laws that apply to the contract. Such determination requires significant judgments. The Group has obtained legal counsel opinion regarding the enforceability of the right to payment for sales contracts. Management uses judgments, based on legal counsel opinion, to classify sales contracts into those with right to payment and those without the right.

The Group recognises property sales revenue over time by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation at the reporting date. The progress is measured based on the Group's inputs to the satisfaction of the performance obligation, by reference to the contract costs incurred up to the end of reporting period as a percentage of total estimated costs for each property unit in the contract. The Group calculated the cost allocation based on phases of the projects and saleable floor areas. Significant judgments and estimations are required in determining the completeness of the estimated total costs and the accuracy of progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation at the reporting date. The Group has a standard cost budgeting and estimate completion process in which management reviews the development progress and execution of the performance obligations. As part of this process, management reviews information including but not limited to, the cost occurred and accrued to achieve the schedule. Changes in cost estimates in future periods can have effect on the Group's revenue recognised. In making the above estimations, the Group relies on past experience and work of contractors and, if appropriate, surveyors. The Group recognised property sales revenue over time and a point in time amounted to RMB14,450,510,000 and RMB42,883,880,000 respectively for the year ended 31 December 2020 (for the year ended 31 December 2019: RMB15,602,151,000 and RMB38,830,713,000 respectively).

Deferred taxation on investment properties

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax liabilities or deferred tax assets arising from investment properties that are measured using the fair value model, the directors have reviewed the Group's investment property portfolio and concluded that the Group's investment properties are not held under a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment properties over time, rather than through sale. Therefore, in measuring the Group's deferred taxation on investment properties, the directors have determined that the presumption that the carrying amounts of investment properties measured using the fair value model are recovered entirely through sale is not rebutted. As a result, the Group has recognised deferred taxes of both enterprise income tax and land appreciation tax on changes in fair value of investment properties.

Key sources of estimation uncertainty

The key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are disclosed below.

Net realisable value for properties under development and completed properties for sale

Properties under development and completed properties remaining unsold at the end of each reporting period are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Net realisable value for properties under development is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated costs to completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sales. Net realisable value for completed properties for sale is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs necessary to make the sales. During the course of their assessment, the management will also make reference to property valuations conducted by independent qualified professional valuers based on comparable market prices. The management are required to revise these estimates if there is a change in market condition or demand. If actual market conditions are less favourable than those projected by management, additional adjustments to the value of properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale may be required. As at 31 December 2020, the carrying amounts of properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale are RMB20,257,965,000 (2019: RMB30,907,247,000), RMB194,209,030,000 (2019: RMB136,615,966,000) and RMB18,341,794,000 (2019: RMB12,167,498,000) respectively (net of accumulated provision of RMB56,454,000 (2019: RMB56,454,000), RMB401,092,000 (2019: RMB184,805,000) and RMB460,983,000 (2019: RMB671,735,000) respectively).

Fair value of investment properties

Investment properties are stated at fair value based on the valuation performed by independent professional valuers. The determination of the fair value involves certain assumptions of market conditions which are set out in note 18.

In relying on the valuation report, the directors of the Company have exercised their judgement and are satisfied that the method of valuation is reflective of the current market conditions. Changes to these assumptions, including the potential risk of any market violation, policy, geopolitical and social changes or other unexpected incidents as a result of change in macroeconomic environment, policy direction and/or mortgage requirements, or other unexpected incidents would result in changes in the fair values of the Group's investment properties and the corresponding adjustments to the amount of gain or loss reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

The directors of the Company have performed internal assessment on the risks of change in macroeconomic environment through performing sensitivity analysis in relation to the Group's investment properties.

As at 31 December 2020, the carrying amount of the Group's investment properties is RMB4,364,620,000 (2019: RMB4,032,818,000).

Land Appreciation Tax

The provision for Land Appreciation Tax ("LAT") amounting to RMB8,408,340,000 (2019: RMB7,819,209,000) (included in income taxes payable) is estimated and made according to the requirements set forth in the relevant PRC tax laws and regulations. The actual LAT liabilities are subject to the determination by the tax authorities upon completion of the property development projects and the tax authorities might disagree with the basis on which the provision for LAT is calculated. Accordingly, significant judgment is required in determining the amount of land appreciation and its related income tax provisions. The Group recognises land appreciation tax based on management's best estimates. The final tax outcome could be different from the amounts that were initially recorded, and these differences will impact the income tax expense and the related income tax provisions in the periods in which such tax is finalised with the local tax authorities.

ECL allowance

The Group recognises a loss allowance for ECL on financial assets, including trade receivables, other receivables, amounts due from related parties, pledged bank deposits, bank balances, contract assets and financial guarantee contracts, which are subject to impairment under IFRS 9. The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition. Significant judgements and estimations are required in determining the impairment assessment including the judgements on grouping basis for the provision matrix and the estimations on the expected loss rates used to calculate the ECL allowance. As at 31 December 2020, the carrying amount of trade receivables, contract assets, and other receivables and amounts due from related parties are RMB1,210,644,000, RMB3,124,518,000 and RMB51,731,740,000 respectively (2019: RMB1,065,646,000, RMB2,815,007,000 and RMB53,299,898,000 respectively) (net of accumulated ECL impairment loss of RMB94,460,000, RMB51,647,000 and RMB3,398,344,000 respectively (2019: RMB75,566,000, RMB17,316,000 and RMB3,395,847,000 respectively)). Details of the determination of ECL allowance are set out in note 46(b).

Impairment of goodwill

Determining whether goodwill is impaired requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash-generating units to which goodwill has been allocated, which is the higher of the value in use or fair value less costs of disposal. The value in use calculation requires the Group to estimate the future cash flows expected to arise from the cash-generating unit (or a group of cash-generating units) and a suitable discount rate in order to calculate the present value. Where the actual future cash flows are less than expected, or change in facts and circumstances which results in downward revision of future cash flows or upward revision of discount rate, a material impairment loss or further impairment loss may arise. The carrying amount of goodwill at 31 December 2020 was RMB769,241,000 (2019: RMB769,241,000) (net of accumulated impairment loss of RMB nil (2019: RMB nil)). Details of the impairment loss calculation are set out in note 19.

Key sources of estimation uncertainty (continued)Coupon rate of the corporate bonds

The corporate bonds amounting to RMB14,196,830,000 (2019: RMB13,463,506,000) contain coupon rate adjustment right that allow the issuer of the corporate bonds to adjust the coupon rates of the remaining outstanding bonds under certain terms and conditions. The corporate bonds also contain written put options granting the investors of the corporate bonds right to sell back the bonds that will be triggered with the exercise of the Coupon Rate Adjustment Right as defined in note 33. As at the reporting date of the consolidated financial statements, the Group had no plan nor intention to exercise the Coupon Rate Adjustment Right of the corporate bonds, therefore the effective interest rate charged for the year on the corporate bonds was calculated according to the effective interest rates and maturity dates of the corporate bonds. If the Group decided to exercise the Coupon Rate Adjustment Right of the corporate bonds, the effective interest rate would be different because the coupon rates of any remaining outstanding corporate bonds would be adjusted and the corporate bonds would become immediately repayable. Details of the corporate bonds are set out in note 33.

(ii) Performance obligations for contracts with customers

Property sales

Revenue from property sales is recognised at a point in time in the ordinary course of business when the customers obtain control of the completed properties (ie. when the respective properties have been completed and delivered to the customers) except for revenue from certain properties which have no alternative use to the Group due to contractual reasons and the Group has an enforceable right to payment from the customer for performance completed to date is recognised over time in accordance with the input method for measuring progress.

The Group receives 20%-80% of the contract value as deposits from customers when they sign the sale and purchase agreement. However, depending on market conditions, the Group may offer customers a discount compared to the listed sales price, provided that the customers agree to pay the balance of the consideration early while construction is still ongoing. Such advance payment result in contract liabilities being recognised until the corresponding revenue is recognised.

The Group considers certain advance payment contain significant financing component and accordingly the amount of consideration is adjusted for the effects of the time value of money taking into consideration the credit characteristics of the Group. As this accrual increases the amount of the contract liability during the period of construction, it increases the amount of revenue recognised.

Design and decoration service and project management service

Revenue from design and decoration service and project management service is recognised over time on input method based on the proportion of contract costs incurred for work performed to date relative to the estimated total contract costs.

The design and decoration service and project management service fees are invoiced to the clients periodically on an agreed-upon payment schedule and/or milestone between the customers and the Group. The Group recognised a contract asset over the period in which the design and decoration service and project management service are performed representing the Group's right to consideration for the services performed because the rights are conditional on the Group's future performance in achieving specified milestones. Contract asset is transferred to trade receivables at the point at which the rights become unconditional. Payments received before the related service is performed are included in the consolidated statement of financial position as contract liabilities.

For project management contracts that contain variable consideration based on the future pre-sales amount of the project, the Group estimates the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled using either (a) the expected value method or (b) the most likely amount, depending on which method better predicts the amount of consideration to which the Group will be entitled.

The Group does not consider the advance payments pertain to design and decoration service and project management service to have contained significant financing component.

5. Revenue and Segment Information (continued)

(ii) Performance obligations for contracts with customers (continued)

Hotel operations

The Group's performance obligation from hotel operations is mainly to provide accommodation services to guests. Revenue from accommodation service is recognised over time during the period when the rooms for accommodates are occupied.

Sales of construction materials

Revenue from sales of construction materials is recognised when control of the goods has transferred to the customer, being at the point the goods are delivered to the customer. Payment of the transaction price is due immediately at the point the customer accept the materials.

(iii) Transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligation for contracts with customers

The transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations (unsatisfied or partially unsatisfied) as at 31 December 2020 and the expected timing of recognising revenue are as follows:

	Property sales RMB'000	Project management service RMB'000
Within one year	62,131,584	2,087,226
More than one year	79,737,573	6,977,127
	141,869,157	9,064,353

The transaction price allocated to the remaining performance obligations (unsatisfied or partially unsatisfied) as at 31 December 2019 and the expected timing of recognising revenue are as follows:

	Property sales RMB'000	Project management service RMB'000
Within one year	43,790,957	1,696,330
More than one year	50,066,347	9,826,758
	93,857,304	11,523,088

These amounts disclosed above do not include transaction price allocated to performance obligations which have been satisfied but not yet recognised due to variable consideration constraint.

All design and decoration service, hotel operations and sales of construction materials are for periods of one year or less. As permitted under IFRS 15, the transaction price allocated to these unsatisfied contracts is not disclosed.

(iv) Segment information

The chief operating decision-maker of the Group has been identified as the executive directors and certain senior management (collectively referred to as the "CODM"). Operating segments are determined based on the Group's internal reports which are submitted to the CODM for performance assessment and resources allocation. This is also the basis upon which the Group is organised and managed.

The Group's consolidated revenue and results are attributable to the market in the PRC (country of domicile) and almost all of the Group's consolidated non-current assets are located in the PRC.

The Group's reportable segments under IFRS 8 are as follows:

- 1 Property development
- 2 Hotel operations
- 3 Property investment
- 4 Project management

For the property development reportable segment, the CODM reviews the financial information of each property development project, hence each property development project constitutes a separate operating segment. However, the property development projects possess similar economic characteristics, and are with similar development and selling activities as well as similar customer bases. Therefore, all property development projects are aggregated into one reportable segment for segment reporting purposes.

For the hotel operations reportable segment, the CODM reviews the financial information of each hotel, hence each hotel constitutes a separate operating segment. However, the hotels possess similar economic characteristics, and are with similar development and selling activities as well as similar customer bases. Therefore, all hotels are aggregated into one reportable segment for segment reporting purposes.

For the property investment reportable segment, the CODM reviews the financial information of each investment property, hence each investment property constitutes a separate operating segment. However, the investment properties possess similar economic characteristics, and are with similar development and selling activities as well as similar customer bases. Therefore, all investment properties are aggregated into one reportable segment for segment reporting purposes.

For the project management reportable segment, the CODM reviews the financial information of each project management project, hence each project management project constitutes a separate operating segment. However, the project management projects possess similar economic characteristics, and are with similar development and selling activities as well as similar customer bases. Therefore, all project management projects are aggregated into one reportable segment for segment reporting purposes.

Other operating segments include sales of construction materials, design and decoration and other business. None of these segments meet the quantitative thresholds for the reportable segments in both current and prior year. Accordingly, these are grouped in "Others".

The CODM assesses the performance of the operating segments based on the post-tax profit of the group entities engaged in the respective segment activities, which includes share of results of joint ventures and associates and related finance costs, but excludes certain administrative expenses, other income, finance costs and taxation. Financial information provided to the CODM is measured in a manner consistent with the accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements as described in note 3.

No customers account for 10% or more of the Group's revenue.

13. Taxation (continued)

The deferred tax current year is mainly due to the unutilised tax losses and fair value adjustment which arises from the acquisition of subsidiaries.

No provision for income tax has been made for the Company and group entities incorporated in Hong Kong as they have no assessable profits derived from Hong Kong.

Under the Law of the People's Republic of China on Enterprise Income Tax (the "EIT Law") and Implementation Regulation of the EIT Law, the tax rate of the PRC subsidiaries is 25% or 15%. Greentown Decoration Project Group Co., Ltd. ("Greentown Decoration Project Group"), Zhejiang Greentown Lianhe Design Co., Ltd., Greentown Construction Management Group Co., Ltd. and Zhejiang Greentown Construction Project Management Co., Ltd. are new technology enterprises and the applicable income tax rate is 15% from year 2018 to 2020, year 2020 to 2022, year 2019 to 2021 and year 2020 to 2022 respectively.

In addition, the EIT Law provides that qualified dividend income between two "resident enterprises" that have a direct investment relationship is exempted from income tax. Otherwise, such dividends will be subject to a 5% or 10% withholding tax under the EIT Law. A 10% withholding tax rate is applicable to the Group.

The tax charge for the year can be reconciled to the profit per the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income as follows:

The Group leases out various offices and retail stores under operating leases with rentals receivable monthly. The leases typically run for an initial period of 1 to 20 years, with unilateral rights to extend the lease beyond initial period held by lessees only.

The Group is not exposed to foreign currency risk as a result of the lease arrangements, as all leases are denominated in the respective functional currencies of group entities. The lease contracts do not contain residual value guarantee and/or lessee's option to purchase the property at the end of lease term.

All of the Group's property interests held under operating leases to earn rentals or for capital appreciation purposes are measured using the fair value model and are classified and accounted for as investment properties.

The fair value of the Group's investment properties at 31 December 2020 and 2019 has been arrived at on the basis of a valuation carried out on that date by Cushman & Wakefield Limited.

In estimating the fair value of the properties, the highest and best use of the properties is their current use.

Carrying value of investment properties held by the Group in the consolidated statement of financial positions	Fair value hierarchy	Valuation technique(s) and key input(s)	Significant unobservable input(s)	Relationship of unobservable inputs to fair value
Commercial store units and carpark units in Cixi RMB6,005,000	Level 3	Market approach based on market observable transactions of similar properties and adjusted to reflect the locations and conditions of the subject property. Commercial property in Qingdao RMB nil (2019: RMB290,000,000)	Level 3	Income approach The Key inputs are: 1. Reversionary yield; and 2. Market unit rent. 19. Goodwill

Cost

	2020 RMB'000	2019 RMB'000
At 1 January and at 31 December	769,241	769,241

The goodwill held by the Group as at 31 December 2020 arose on the acquisition of two subsidiaries that engaged in project management service in 2015. The detailed information is disclosed in the Group's 2015 consolidated financial statements.

Goodwill arose in the acquisition because the consideration paid for the acquisition effectively included the benefit of expected synergies, revenue growth and future market development. These benefits are not recognised separately from goodwill because they do not meet the recognition criteria for identifiable intangible assets.

Impairment test on goodwill

For the purposes of impairment testing, goodwill set out above has been allocated to one cash generating unit ("CGU"). During the year ended 31 December 2020, the director considered that there is no impairment of CGU containing goodwill.

The recoverable amount of the CGU has been determined based on a value in use calculation. That calculation uses cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by management covering a five-year period, and pre-tax discount rate of 17.86% (2019: 17.87%). Other key assumptions for the value in use calculations relate to the estimation of cash inflows/outflows which include budgeted sales and gross margin, such estimation is based on the unit's past performance and director's expectations for the market development. The directors believe that any reasonably possible change in any of these assumptions would not cause the carrying amount to exceed its recoverable amount.

	2020	2019
Annual sale growth rate for first five years	3%-15%	N/A
Annual incremental sales contract rate for first five years	N/A	5%
Gross margin rate	22%-83%	20%-50%
Long-term growth rate	1%	1%

Deferred tax liability credited to the profit or loss for the year was mainly due to sales of properties under development acquired with fair value adjustment and recognition of revenue from sales of properties over time.

Others represent mainly deferred tax liabilities recognised in respect of temporary differences arising from capitalised interest expense.

The following is the analysis of the deferred tax balances for financial reporting purposes:

Deferred tax liabilities	(4,687,061)	(4,847,211)

At the end of the reporting period, the Group had deductible temporary differences of RMB637,221,000 (2019: RMB738,972,000). No deferred tax asset has been recognised in relation to such deductible temporary differences as it is not probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences can be utilised.

At the end of the reporting period, the Group had unutilised tax losses of RMB8,654,483,000 (2019: RMB7,315,654,000) available for offset against future profits. Deferred tax asset has been recognised in respect of RMB4,857,936,000 (2019: RMB3,404,381,000) of such losses.

Based on the latest budgets, the management believes that there will be sufficient future profits for the realisation of the deferred tax assets recognised in respect of these tax losses. No deferred tax asset has been recognised in respect of the remaining RMB3,796,547,000 (2019: RMB3,911,273,000) due to the unpredictability of future profit streams. Pursuant to the relevant laws and regulations in the PRC, the unrecognised tax losses at the end of the reporting period will expire in the following years:

2020	–	829,632
2021	961,908	1,119,399

2024	416,967	564,461
	3,796,547	3,911,273

Under the EIT Law of PRC, withholding tax is imposed on dividends declared in respect of profits earned by PRC subsidiaries from 1 January 2008 onwards. Deferred taxation has not been provided for in the consolidated financial statements in respect of certain temporary differences attributable to accumulated profits of the PRC subsidiaries amounting to RMB19,511,022,000 (31 December 2019: RMB17,088,517,000) as the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

The interest charged for the year is calculated by applying the weighted average effective interest rate of approximately 3.47% per annum to the liability component since the corporate bonds were issued.
- (ii) Written put option is regarded as an embedded derivative closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract, therefore, the written put option is not separated from the liability component.

As at 31 December 2020, the Group has had no plan nor intention to exercise the 2020 Coupon Rate Adjustment Right of the corporate bonds, therefore the interest expense for the year were calculated using the original coupon rates of the 2020 Corporate Bonds.

	The options granted on 27 December 2017	The options granted on 28 August 2018	The options granted on 29 December 2020
Share price at the date of grant	HK$9.1	HK$7.8	HK$10.88

Expected life	10 years	10 years	10 years
Expected volatility of the Company's share price	55.28%	54.81%	49.15%
Expected dividend yield	4.33%	3.1%	4.41%
Risk-free rates of interest	1.94%	2.201%	0.554%

Expected volatility was determined by using the historical volatility of the Company's share price over the previous 10 years. The expected dividend yield has taken into account the historical dividend yield of the Company. The risk-free interest rates are based on the yield curve fitted by market yields of the Hong Kong government bonds with similar duration to the expected life of the share option.

The Binomial model has been used to estimate the fair value of the options. The variables and assumptions used in computing the fair value of the share options are based on the Directors' best estimate. The value of an option varies with different variables of certain subjective assumptions.

Details of the financial instruments are disclosed in respective notes. The risks associated with these financial instruments include market risk (currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The policies on how to mitigate these risks are set out below. The management manages and monitors these exposures to ensure appropriate measures are implemented on a timely and effective manner. There has been no significant change in the Group's exposure to these risks or the manner in which it manages and measures risks.

(b) Financial risk management objectives and policies (continued)Market risk(i) Currency risk*

The Group has bank balances, equity instruments at FVTOCI, other receivables, amounts due from related parties, other payables, amounts due to related parties, bank and other borrowings and senior notes denominated in foreign currencies, which expose the Group to foreign currency risk.

The carrying amounts of the Group's foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities at the end of the reporting period are as follows:

	Assets		Liabilities
	2020 RMB'000	2019 RMB'000	2020 RMB'000	2019 RMB'000
Hong Kong dollars ("HKD")	1,773,417	1,090,893	3,267,044	2,714,028
United States dollars ("USD")	3,314,493	5,680,369	21,046,466	16,501,216

The Group does not use any derivative contracts to hedge against its exposure to currency risk. The management closely monitors foreign currency exposure and will consider hedging significant foreign currency exposure should the need arise.

Sensitivity analysis

The Group is mainly exposed to the fluctuations in exchange rates between RMB and HKD/USD. The exposure in HKD/USD arises mainly from the Group's bank balances and cash, equity instruments at FVTOCI, other receivables, other payables, bank and other borrowings, senior notes and amounts due from/to related parties.

The following table details the Group's sensitivity to a 5% (2019: 5%) increase and decrease in RMB against the relevant foreign currencies. 5% represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjusts their translation at the year end for a 5% change in foreign currency rates. A positive (negative) number below indicates an increase (decrease) in post-tax profit and other comprehensive income where RMB strengthens 5% against the relevant currency. For a 5% weakening of RMB against the relevant currency, there would be an equal and opposite impact on post-tax profit and other comprehensive income.

	HKD Impact		USD Impact

(ii) Interest rate risk

The Group is exposed to fair value interest rate risk in relation to fixed-rate bank deposits, amounts due from/to related parties, bank and other borrowings, senior notes, corporate debt instruments and receipts under securitisation arrangements (see notes 28, 31, 32, 33, 34 and 48 for details).

The Group is also exposed to cash flow interest rate risk in relation to variable-rate bank deposits, amounts due from/to related parties and bank and other borrowings (see notes 28, 31 and 48 for details).

The Group does not use any derivative contracts to hedge against its exposure to interest rate risk.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on the exposure to market deposit and lending interest rates for non-derivative instruments. For variable-rate bank deposits, bank and other borrowings and amounts due from/to related parties, the analysis is prepared assuming the balances outstanding at the end of the reporting period were outstanding for the whole year. A 5 basis point (2019: 5 basis point) increase or decrease in market deposit interest rates and a 50 basis point (2019: 50 basis point) increase or decrease in market lending interest rates represent management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If the market deposit interest rates had been 5 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's post-tax profit for the year ended 31 December 2020 would have increased/decreased by RMB24,451,000 (2019: increased/decreased by RMB19,460,000). This is mainly attributable to the Group's exposure to interest rates on its variable-rate bank deposits.

If the market lending interest rates had been 50 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's interest charged for the year ended 31 December 2020 (before considering the impact to interest capitalized) would have decreased/increased by RMB179,465,000 (2019: decreased/increased by RMB147,644,000). This is mainly attributable to the Group's exposure to interest rates on its variable-rate bank and other borrowings and amounts due from/to related parties.

(iii) Other price risk

The Group is exposed to equity price risk through its investments in listed equity securities in Hong Kong and unlisted equity securities. In addition, the Group has appointed a special team to monitor the price risk and will consider hedging the risk exposure should the need arise.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on the exposure to equity price risk at the reporting date.

If the prices of the equity instruments had been 10% (2019: 10%) higher/lower, investments revaluation reserve would increase/decrease by RMB203,732,000 (2019: increase/decrease by RMB151,199,000).

Credit risk and impairment assessment

As at 31 December 2020 and 2019, the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk which will cause a financial loss to the Group is arising from the carrying amount of the respective recognised financial assets as stated in the consolidated statement of financial position and the amount of contingent liabilities in relation to financial guarantee issued by the Group as disclosed in note 44.

The Group's credit risk is primarily attributable to its trade receivables, other receivables, amounts due from related parties, pledged bank deposits, bank balances, contract assets and financial guarantee contracts.

Trade receivables and contract assets arising from contracts with customers

In order to minimise the credit risk, The Group has policies in place to ensure that sales are made to purchasers with an appropriate financial strength and appropriate percentage of down payments. It also has other monitoring procedures to ensure that follow-up action is taken to recover overdue debts. In addition, the Group performs impairment assessment under ECL model on trade balances individually or based on provision matrix, as appropriate.

Other receivables

The credit risk of other receivables is managed through an internal process. The Group actively monitors the outstanding amounts owed by each debtor and uses past due information to assess whether credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition.

Amounts due from related parties

The credit risk of amounts due from related parties is managed through an internal process. The credit quality of each counterparty is investigated before an advance is made. The Group also actively monitors the outstanding amounts owed by each debtor and uses past due information to assess whether credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition.

Bank balances and cash and pledged bank deposit

Cash deposits are mainly placed with state-owned financial institutions and reputable banks which are all high-credit-quality financial institutions, therefore the Group's credit risk on liquid funds is limited.

Contingent liabilities in relation to the financial guarantees

For properties that are still under construction, the Group typically provides guarantees to banks in connection with the customers' borrowing of mortgage loans to finance their purchase of the properties. If a purchaser defaults on the payment of its mortgage during the term of the guarantee, the bank holding the mortgage may demand the Group to repay the outstanding amount under the loan and any accrued interest thereon. Under such circumstances, the Group is able to retain the customer's deposits and sell the property to recover any amounts paid by the Group to the bank. Unless the selling price drop significantly, which the probability is remote, the Group would not be in a loss position in selling those properties out. In this regard, the directors of the Company consider that the Group's credit risk in relation to financial guarantees from mortgage loans is largely mitigated.

The Group's concentration of credit risk by geographical locations is mainly in the PRC. Other than the concentration of credit risk on liquid funds which are deposited with several large state-owned banks and commercial banks in the PRC, the Group does not have any other significant concentration of credit risk, with exposure spread over a number of counterparties and customers.

Low risk	The counterparty has a low risk of default or counterparty frequently repays after due dates but usually settle in full after due date.	Lifetime ECL – not credit impaired

Notes:

- For trade receivables and contract assets, the Group has applied the simplified approach in IFRS 9 to measure the loss allowance at lifetime ECL. Except for debtors that are credit-impaired, the Group determines the expected credit losses on these items by using a provision matrix based on aged days.
- External credit rating disclosed by the counterparty financial institutions and banks, majority of which are located in the PRC.
- For financial guarantee contracts, the gross carrying amount represents the maximum amount the Group has guaranteed under the respective contracts. The maximum amount that the Group has guaranteed under the respective contracts was RMB66,782,379,000 as at 31 December 2020 (2019: RMB64,620,763,000). At the end of the reporting period, the directors of the Company have performed impairment assessment, and concluded that there has been no significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition of the financial guarantee contracts. Accordingly, the loss allowance for financial guarantee contracts issued by the Group is measured at an amount equal to 12m ECL. The directors of the Company considered that the 12m ECL allowance is insignificant at December 31, 2019 and December 31, 2020.

As part of the Group's credit risk management, the Group uses debtors' aging to assess the impairment for its customers in relation to its property sales, hotel operations, project management, design and decoration and sales of construction materials operating segments because these operating segments have large number of small customers with common risk characteristics that are representative of the customers' abilities to pay all amounts due in accordance with the contractual terms. The Group assessed the impairment for its customers from these operating segments separately, and the information about the exposure to credit risk for these trade receivables based on provision matrix within lifetime ECL (not credit impaired) are presented below. Debtors with gross carrying amounts of RMB62,156,000 that was defaulted as at 31 December 2020 (2019: RMB56,404,000) were assessed individually.

Liquidity risk

In the management of the liquidity risk, the Group monitors and maintains a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed adequate by the management to finance the Group's operations and mitigate the effects of fluctuations in cash flows. The management monitors the utilisation of borrowings and ensures compliance with loan covenants.

The Group relies on bank and other borrowings, senior notes, corporate debt instruments, receipts under securitisation arrangements and amounts due to related parties as a significant source of liquidity.

The following table details the Group's remaining contractual maturity for its non-derivative financial liabilities. The table has been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Group can be required to pay. The maturity dates for other non-derivative financial liabilities are based on the agreed repayment dates. The table includes both interest and principal cash flows.

The amounts included above for financial guarantee contracts are the maximum amounts the Group could be required to settle under the arrangement for the full guaranteed amount if that amount is claimed by the counterparty to the guarantee. Based on expectations at the end of the reporting period, the Group considers that it is more likely than not that no amount will be payable under the arrangement. However, this estimate is subject to change depending on the probability of the counterparty claiming under the guarantee which is a function of the likelihood that the financial receivables held by the counterparty which are guaranteed suffer credit losses.

The amounts included above for variable interest rate non-derivative financial liabilities is subject to change if changes in variable interest rate differ from those interest rate estimates determined at the end of the reporting period.

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Greentown China Holdings Limited (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the "Group") set out on pages 117 to 282, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2019, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2019, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs") issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing ("HKSAs") issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the "Code"), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Net realisable value for properties under development and completed properties for sale We identified the net realisable value for properties under development and completed properties for sale as a key audit matter as a significant management estimate is required in assessing the net realisable value. Properties under development and completed properties for sale at the end of each reporting period are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Net realisable value for properties under development is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated costs to completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sales. Net realisable value for completed properties for sale is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs necessary to make the sales. As disclosed in the consolidated financial statements, as at 31 December 2019, the carrying amounts of properties under development and completed properties for sale are RMB136,615,966,000 and RMB12,167,498,000 respectively (net of accumulated provision of RMB184,805,000 and RMB671,735,000 respectively).	Our procedures in relation to the management's assessment of the net realisable value of properties under development and completed properties for sale included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtaining an understanding of, evaluate and test the key controls over cost budgeting for estimated costs to completion; • Assessing the reasonableness of estimated selling prices by comparing, on a sample basis, the management's estimation with most recent average selling prices with contracted sales of the underlying properties made to date or from current market prices of properties of comparable standards and locations; and • Assessing, on a sample basis, the reasonableness of the management's estimated costs of completion by reviewing the terms and conditions of the construction contracts, inspecting the contract sum, budget information, and assessing the appropriateness of changes in the estimated cost of completion by inspecting the supporting documents including correspondence among the Group, subcontractors and suppliers; and • Assessing, on a sample basis, the appropriateness of the previous budgeted costs to actual development costs incurred, and checking to supporting documentation such as quantity surveyor reports and signed contracts.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Valuation of investment properties stated at fair value We identified the valuation of investment properties stated at fair value as a key audit matter due to the involvement of management's judgement in determining the fair value. As disclosed in note 19 to the consolidated financial statements, investment properties are carried in the consolidated statement of financial position at 31 December 2019 at their fair value of approximately RMB4,032,818,000. The fair value was based on valuation on these properties conducted by the independent qualified professional valuer using property valuation techniques which adopt the investment approach by capitalising the net rental income derived from the existing tenancies with due provision for the reversionary income potential of the property interests, or where appropriate, by direct comparison approach by making reference to comparable sales transactions as available in the relevant markets. Assumptions such as rental yield and estimation of future rentals would affect the fair value of the Group's investment properties and corresponding adjustments to the amount of gain or loss reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.	Our procedures in relation to the valuation of investment properties included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Evaluating the appropriateness of the third party valuer's scope and assessed whether the third party valuer had sufficient expertise; • Obtaining an understanding of the valuation processes and the significant assumptions used in the valuation, namely the reversionary yield and market unit rent, from the management of the Group and the valuer; • Checking the source information provided by the management to the third party valuer to see if the source information is consistent with the supporting documentation such as signed contracts; and • Evaluating the appropriateness of the valuer's key assumptions by comparing yields on a sample of properties to external benchmark indices and comparing market unit rent used in the valuation on a sample of properties to comparable market transactions that we independently sourced from market data.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Recognition of revenue from sales of properties over time As disclosed in note 5 to the consolidated financial statements, revenue from sales of properties is recognised over time when the Group's performance under a sales contract does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date; otherwise, the revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the completed property. For the year ended 31 December 2019, revenue of the Group from sales of properties was RMB54,432,864,000, of which RMB15,602,151,000 was recognised over time. As disclosed in note 4 to the consolidated financial statements, the Group may not change or substitute the property unit or redirect the property unit for another use due to the contractual restrictions with the customer and thus the property unit does not have an alternative use to the Group. However, whether there is an enforceable right to payment depends on the terms of sales contract and the interpretation of the applicable laws that apply to the contract. Such determination requires significant judgments. The Group has obtained legal counsel opinion regarding the enforceability of the right to payment for such sales contracts. Management uses judgments, based on legal counsel opinion, to classify sales contracts into those with right to payment and those without the right. For the revenue from sales of properties recognised over time, the Group recognises revenue by measuring the progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation at the reporting date. The progress is measured based on the Group's inputs to the satisfaction of the performance obligation, by reference to the contract costs incurred up to the end of reporting period as a percentage of total estimated costs for each property unit in the contract. The Group calculated the cost allocation based on phases of the projects and saleable floor areas. Significant judgments and estimations are required in determining the completeness of the estimated total costs and the accuracy of progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation at the reporting date.	Our procedures in relation to the management's assessment of whether the Group has the enforceable right to payment in those sales contracts recognised over time included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtaining an understanding of management's procedures in identifying and classifying sales contracts with or without right to payment; • Reviewing the key terms of a sample of sales contracts to assess the presence of right to payment based on the contract terms; • Obtaining and reviewing the opinion of the Group's legal counsel, in particular, the legal counsel's interpretation of the applicable laws and their implication on the assessment of the enforceability of the right to payment; and • Assessing the competence, experience and objectivity of the legal counsel engaged by the management. Our procedures in relation to the management's assessment of the estimated total contract costs and the accuracy of progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtaining an understanding of, evaluate and test the key controls over cost budgeting for estimated costs to completion; and • Assessing, on a sample basis, the reasonableness of the management's estimated costs of completion by reviewing the terms and conditions of the construction contracts, inspecting the contract sum, budget information, and assessing the appropriateness of changes in the estimated cost of completion by inspecting the supporting documents including correspondence among the Group, subcontractors and suppliers; and • Assessing, on a sample basis, the appropriateness of the previous budgeted costs to actual development costs incurred, and checking to supporting documentation such as quantity surveyor reports and signed contracts.

Other Information

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Directors and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs issued by the IASB and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors of the Company determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors of the Company are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors of the Company either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with our agreed terms of engagement, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSA's will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSA's, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors of the Company.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in the independent auditor's report is Kay Man Wo, Dick.

2. Application of New and Amendments to International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”)

New and Amendments to IFRSs that are mandatorily effective for the current year

The Group has applied the following new and amendments to IFRSs issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) for the first time in the current year:

IFRS 16	Leases
IFRIC 23	Uncertainty over Income Tax Treatments
Amendments to IFRS 9	Prepayment Features with Negative Compensation
Amendments to IAS 19	Plan Amendment, Curtailment or Settlement
Amendments to IAS 28	Long-term Interests in Associates and Joint Ventures
Amendments to IFRSs	Annual Improvements to IFRSs 2015-2017 Cycle

Except as described below, the application of the new and amendments to IFRSs in the current year has had no material impact on the Group’s financial performance and positions for the current and prior years and/or on the disclosures set out in these consolidated financial statements.

Impacts and changes in accounting policies of application on IFRS 16 Leases

The Group has applied IFRS 16 for the first time in the current year. IFRS 16 superseded IAS 17 Leases (“IAS 17”) and the related interpretations.

Definition of a lease

The Group has elected the practical expedient to apply IFRS 16 to contracts that were previously identified as leases applying IAS 17 and IFRIC 4 Determining whether an Arrangement contains a Lease and not apply this standard to contracts that were not previously identified as containing a lease. Therefore, the Group has not reassessed contracts which already existed prior to the date of initial application.

For contracts entered into or modified on or after 1 January 2019, the Group applies the definition of a lease in accordance with the requirements set out in IFRS 16 in assessing whether a contract contains a lease.

As a lessee

The Group has applied IFRS 16 retrospectively with the cumulative effect recognised at the date of initial application, 1 January 2019.

As 1 January 2019, the Group recognised additional lease liabilities and right-of-use assets at amounts equal to the related lease liabilities adjusted by any prepaid or accrued lease payments by applying IFRS 16.C8(b)(ii) transition. Any difference at the date of initial application is recognised in the opening retained earnings and comparative information has not been restated.

When applying the modified retrospective approach under IFRS 16 at transition, the Group applied the following practical expedients to leases previously classified as operating leases under IAS 17, on lease-by-lease basis, to the extent relevant to the respective lease contracts:

- i. relied on the assessment of whether leases are onerous by applying IAS 37 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets as an alternative of impairment review;
- ii. elected not to recognise right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for leases with lease term ends within 12 months of the date of initial application;
- iii. excluded initial direct costs from measuring the right-of-use assets at the date of initial application;
- iv. applied a single discount rate to a portfolio of leases with a similar remaining terms for similar class of underlying assets in similar economic environment. Specifically, discount rate for certain leases of office buildings in the PRC was determined on a portfolio basis; and
- v. used hindsight based on facts and circumstances as at date of initial application in determining the lease term for the Group’s leases with extension and termination options.

Impacts and changes in accounting policies of application on IFRS 16 Leases (continued)

When recognising the lease liabilities for leases previously classified as operating leases, the Group has applied incremental borrowing rates of the relevant group entities at the date of initial application. The weighted average incremental borrowing rate applied is 5.4%.

	At 1 January 2019 RMB'000
Operating lease commitments disclosed as at 31 December 2018	222,828
Less: Recognition exemption – short-term leases	(38,385)
Eliminating the impact of value added taxes	(16,735)
Lease liabilities discounted at relevant incremental borrowing rates	(18,411)
Lease liabilities as at 1 January 2019	149,297
Analysed as:
Current	56,717
Non-current	92,580
	149,297

The carrying amount of right-of-use assets as at 1 January 2019 comprises the following:

	Right-of-use assets RMB'000

Reclassified from rental paid in advance	18,332

Total	1,090,750
By class:
Leasehold lands	923,121
Buildings	167,629
	1,090,750

Effective from 1 January 2019, leasehold lands which were classified as properties for/under development/completed properties for sale are measured under IFRS 16 at cost less any accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses.

Impacts and changes in accounting policies of application on IFRS 16 Leases (continued)

As a lessor

No impact of transition to IFRS 16 on retained earnings at 1 January 2019.

The following adjustments were made to the amounts recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position at 1 January 2019. Line items that were not affected by the changes have not been included.

2. Application of New and Amendments to International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”) (continued)

New and amendments to IFRSs in issue but not yet effective:

The Group has not early applied the following new and amendments to IFRSs that have been issued but are not yet effective:

IFRS 17	Insurance Contracts ¹
Amendments to IFRS 3	Definition of a Business ²
Amendments to IFRS 10 and IAS 28	Sale or Contribution of Assets between an Investor and its Associate or Joint Venture ³
Amendments to IAS 1	Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-current ⁵
Amendments to IAS 1 and IAS 8	Definition of Material ⁴
Amendments to IAS 9, IAS 39 and IFRS 7	Interest Rate Benchmark Reform ⁴

² Effective for business combinations and asset acquisitions for which the acquisition date is on or after the beginning of the first annual period beginning on or after 1 January 2020.

³ Effective for annual periods beginning on or after a date to be determined.

⁵ Effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2022.

New and amendments to IFRSs in issue but not yet effective: (continued)

In addition to the above new and amendments to IFRSs, a revised Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting was issued in 2018. Its consequential amendments, the Amendments to References to the Conceptual Framework in IFRS Standards, will be effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2020.

Except for the new and amendments to IFRSs mentioned below, the directors of the Company anticipate that the application of all other new and amendments to IFRSs will have no material impact on the consolidated financial statements in the foreseeable future.

Amendments to IFRS 3 Definition of a Business

The amendments:

- add an optional concentration test that permits a simplified assessment of whether an acquired set of activities and assets is not a business. The election on whether to apply the optional concentration test is available on transaction-by-transaction basis;
- clarify that to be considered a business, an acquired set of activities and assets must include, at a minimum, an input and a substantive process that together significantly contribute to the ability to create outputs; and
- narrow the definitions of a business and of outputs by focusing on goods and services provided to customers and by removing the reference to an ability to reduce costs.

The amendments are applied prospectively to all business combinations and asset acquisitions for which the acquisition date is on or after the first annual reporting period beginning on or after 1 January 2020, with early application permitted. The optional concentration test and the amended definition of a business are not expected to have a significant impact to the Group.

3. Principal Accounting Policies

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRSs. In addition, the consolidated financial statements include applicable disclosures required by the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (“Listing Rules”) and by the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance (“CO”).

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments and investment properties which are measured at fair values, as explained in the accounting policies set out below.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these consolidated financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of IFRS 2 Share-based Payment, leasing transactions that are within the scope of IFRS 16 (since 1 January 2019) or IAS 17 Leases (before application of IFRS 16), and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in IAS 2 Inventories or value in use in IAS 36 Impairment of Assets.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

For financial instruments and investment properties which are transacted at fair value and a valuation technique that unobservable inputs is to be used to measure fair value in subsequent periods, the valuation technique is calibrated so that at initial recognition the results of the valuation technique equals the transaction price.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

The principal accounting policies are set out below.

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and entities controlled by the Company (its subsidiaries). Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

When the Group has less than a majority of the voting rights of an investee, it has power over the investee when the voting rights are sufficient to give it the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee unilaterally. The Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether or not the Group's voting rights in an investee are sufficient to give it power, including:

- the size of the Group's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of holdings of the other vote holders;
- potential voting rights held by the Group, other vote holders or other parties;
- rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- any additional facts and circumstances that indicate that the Group has, or does not have, the current ability to direct the relevant activities at the time that decisions need to be made, including voting patterns at previous shareholders' meetings.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date the Group gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each item of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies in line with the Group's accounting policies.

All intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Non-controlling interests in subsidiaries are presented separately from the Group's equity therein, which represent present ownership interests entitling their holders to a proportionate share of net assets of the relevant subsidiaries upon liquidation.

Changes in the Group's ownership interests in existing subsidiaries

Changes in the Group's interests in subsidiaries that do not result in the Group losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Group's relevant components of equity and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries, including re-attribution of relevant reserves between the Group and the non-controlling interests according to the Group's and the non-controlling interests' proportionate interests.

Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted, and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity and attributed to owners of the Company.

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, the assets and liabilities of that subsidiary and non-controlling interests (if any) are derecognised. A gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss and is calculated as the difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), and liabilities of the subsidiary attributable to the owners of the Company. All amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that subsidiary are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities of the subsidiary (i.e. reclassified to profit or loss or transferred to another category of equity as specified/ permitted by applicable IFRSs). The fair value of any investment retained in the former subsidiary at the date when control is lost is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition for subsequent accounting under IFRS 9 Financial Instruments ("IFRS 9") or, when applicable, the cost on initial recognition of an investment in an associate or a joint venture.

Business combinations

Acquisitions of businesses are accounted for using the acquisition method. The consideration transferred in a business combination is measured at fair value, which is calculated as the sum of the acquisition-date fair values of the assets transferred by the Group, liabilities incurred by the Group to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group in exchange for control of the acquiree. Acquisition-related costs are generally recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognised at their fair value, except that:

- deferred tax assets or liabilities and liabilities or assets related to employee benefit arrangements are recognised and measured in accordance with IAS 12 Income Taxes and IAS 19 Employee Benefits respectively;
- liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share-based payment arrangements of the Group entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with IFRS 2 Share-based Payment at the acquisition date (see the accounting policy below);
- assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with IFRS 5 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations are measured in accordance with that Standard; and
- lease liabilities are recognised and measured at the present value of the remaining lease payments (as defined in IFRS 16) as if the acquired leases were new leases at the acquisition date, except for leases for which (a) the lease term ends within 12 months of the acquisition date; or (b) the underlying asset is of low value. Right-of-use assets are recognised and measured at the same amount as the relevant lease liabilities, adjusted to reflect favourable or unfavourable terms of the lease when compared with market terms.

Goodwill is measured as the excess of the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree, and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree (if any) over the net amount of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed as at acquisition date. If, after re-assessment, the net of the acquisition-date amounts of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed exceeds the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held interest in the acquiree (if any), the excess is recognised immediately in profit or loss as a bargain purchase gain.

Non-controlling interests that are present ownership interests and entitle their holders to a proportionate share of the relevant subsidiary's net assets in the event of liquidation are initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the recognised amounts of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement basis is made on a transaction-by-transaction basis. Other types of non-controlling interests are measured at their fair value.

When a business combination is achieved in stages, the Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to fair value at the acquisition date (i.e. the date when the Group obtains control), and the resulting gain or loss, if any, is recognised in profit or loss or other comprehensive income, as appropriate. Amounts arising from interests in the acquiree prior to the acquisition date that have previously been recognised in other comprehensive income ("OCI") and measured under IFRS 9 would be accounted for on the same basis as would be required if the Group had disposed directly of the previously held equity interest.

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the reporting period in which the combination occurs, the Group reports provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. Those provisional amounts are adjusted retrospectively during the measurement period (see above), or additional assets or liabilities are recognised, to reflect new information obtained about facts and circumstances that existed as of the acquisition date that, if known, would have affected the amounts recognised as of that date.

Acquisition of a subsidiary or a group of assets and liabilities not constituting a business

When the Group acquires a subsidiary or a group of assets and liabilities that do not constitute a business, the Group identifies and recognises the individual identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed by allocating the purchase price first to investment properties which are subsequently measured under fair value model and financial assets/financial liabilities at the respective fair values, the remaining balance of the purchase price is then allocated to the other identifiable assets and liabilities on the basis of their relative fair values at the date of purchase. Such a transaction does not give rise to goodwill or bargain purchase gain.

Goodwill

Goodwill arising on an acquisition of a business is carried at cost as established at the date of acquisition of the business (see the accounting policy above) less accumulated impairment losses, if any.

For the purposes of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units that is expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, which represent the lowest level at which the goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes and not larger than an operating segment.

A cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually or more frequently when there is indication that the unit may be impaired. For goodwill arising on an acquisition in a reporting period, the cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment before the end of that reporting period. If the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill and then to the other assets of the unit on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit.

On disposal of the relevant cash-generating unit, the attributable amount of goodwill is included in the determination of the amount of profit or loss on disposal. When the Group disposes of an operation within the cash-generating unit, the amount of goodwill disposed of is measured on the basis of the relative values of the operation disposed of and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

The Group's policy for goodwill arising on the acquisition of an associate and a joint venture is described below.

Investments in associates and joint ventures

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

A joint venture is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint arrangement. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The results and assets and liabilities of associates and joint ventures are incorporated in these consolidated financial statements using the equity method of accounting. The financial statements of associates and joint ventures used for equity accounting purposes are prepared using uniform accounting policies as those of the Group for like transactions and events in similar circumstances. Under the equity method, an investment in an associate or a joint venture is initially recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the associate or joint venture. Changes in net assets of the associate or joint venture other than profit or loss and other comprehensive income are not accounted for unless such changes resulted in changes in ownership interest held by the Group. When the Group's share of losses of an associate or joint venture exceeds the Group's interest in that associate or joint venture (which includes any long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate or joint venture), the Group discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate or joint venture.

An investment in an associate or a joint venture is accounted for using the equity method from the date on which the investee becomes an associate or a joint venture. On acquisition of the investment in an associate or a joint venture, any excess of the cost of the investment over the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the investee is recognised as goodwill, which is included within the carrying amount of the investment. Any excess of the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities over the cost of the investment, after reassessment, is recognised immediately in profit or loss in the period in which the investment is acquired.

The Group assesses whether there is an objective evidence that the interest in an associate or a joint venture may be impaired. When any objective evidence exists, the entire carrying amount of the investment (including goodwill) is tested for impairment in accordance with IAS 36 Impairment of Assets as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount (higher of value in use and fair value less costs of disposal) with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognised is not allocated to any asset, including goodwill, that forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognised in accordance with IAS 36 to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

When the Group ceases to have significant influence over an associate or joint control over a joint venture, its accounted for as a disposal of the entire interest in the investee with a resulting gain or loss being recognised in profit or loss. When the Group retains an interest in the former associate or joint venture and the retained interest is a financial asset within the scope of IFRS 9, the Group measures the retained interest at fair value at that date and the fair value is regarded as its fair value on initial recognition. The difference between the carrying amount of the associate or joint venture and the fair value of any retained interest and any proceeds from disposing of a part interest in the associate or joint venture is included in the determination of the gain or loss on disposal of the associate or joint venture. In addition, the Group accounts for all amounts previously recognised in OCI in relation to that associate or joint venture on the same basis as would be required if that associate or joint venture had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. Therefore, if a gain or loss previously recognised in OCI by that associate or joint venture would be reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities, the Group reclassifies the gain or loss from equity to profit or loss (as a reclassification adjustment) upon disposal or partial disposal of the relevant associate or joint venture.

The Group continues to use the equity method when an investment in an associate becomes an investment in a joint venture or an investment in a joint venture becomes an investment in an associate. There is no remeasurement to fair value upon such changes in ownership interests.

When the Group reduces its ownership interest in an associate or a joint venture but the Group continues to use the equity method, the Group reclassifies to profit or loss the proportion of the gain or loss that had previously been recognised in OCI relating to that reduction in ownership interest if that gain or loss would be reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities.

When a group entity transacts with an associate or a joint venture of the Group, profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the associate or joint venture are recognised in the Group's consolidated financial statements only to the extent of interests in the associate or joint venture that are not related to the Group.

Non-current assets held for sale

Non-current assets and disposal groups are classified as held for sale if their carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use. This condition is regarded as met only when the asset (or disposal group) is available for immediate sale in its present condition subject only to terms that are usual and customary for sales of such asset (or disposal group) and its sale is highly probable. Management must be committed to the sale, which should be expected to qualify for recognition as a completed sale within one year from the date of classification.

When the Group is committed to a sale plan involving loss of control of a subsidiary, all of the assets and liabilities of that subsidiary are classified as held for sale when the criteria described above are met, regardless of whether the Group will retain a non-controlling interest in the relevant subsidiary after the sale.

When the Group is committed to a sale plan involving disposal of an investment, or a portion of an investment, in an associate or joint venture, the investment or the portion of the investment that will be disposed of is classified as held for sale when the criteria described above are met, and the Group discontinues the use of the equity method in relation to the portion that is classified as held for sale from the time when the investment (or a portion of the investment) is classified as held for sale.

Non-current assets and disposal groups classified as held for sale are measured at the lower of their carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell, except for financial assets within the scope of IFRS 9 and investment properties which continue to be measured in accordance with the accounting policies as set out in respective sections.

Revenue from contracts with customers

The Group recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when "control" of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer.

A performance obligation represents a good or service (or a bundle of goods or services) that is distinct or a series of distinct goods or services that are substantially the same.

Control is transferred over time and revenue is recognised over time by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of the relevant performance obligation if one of the following criteria is met:

- the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group's performance as the Group performs;
- the Group's performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the Group performs; or
- the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

Otherwise, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the distinct good or service.

A contract asset represents the Group's right to consideration in exchange for goods or services that the Group has transferred to a customer that is not yet unconditional. It is assessed for impairment in accordance with IFRS 9. In contrast, a receivable represents the Group's unconditional right to consideration, i.e. only the passage of time is required before payment of that consideration is due.

A contract liability represents the Group's obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer.

A contract asset and a contract liability relating to the same contract are accounted for and presented on a net basis.

Over time revenue recognition: measurement of progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation

Input method

The progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured based on input method, which is to recognise revenue on the basis of the Group's efforts or inputs to the satisfaction of a performance obligation relative to the total expected inputs to the satisfaction of that performance obligation, that best depict the Group's performance in transferring control of goods or services.

Variable consideration

For project management contracts that contain variable consideration based on the future pre-sales amount of the project (such as commission and share of profit for management service contracts), the Group estimates the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled using either (a) the expected value method or (b) the most likely amount, depending on which method better predicts the amount of consideration to which the Group will be entitled.

The estimated amount of variable consideration is included in the transaction price only to the extent that it is highly probable that such an inclusion will not result in a significant revenue reversal in the future when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved.

At the end of each reporting period, the Group updates the estimated transaction price (including updating its assessment of whether an estimate of variable consideration is constrained) to represent faithfully the circumstances present at the end of the reporting period and the changes in circumstances during the reporting period.

In determining the transaction price, the Group adjusts the promised amount of consideration for the effects of the time value of money if the timing of payments agreed (either explicitly or implicitly) provides the customer or the Group with a significant benefit of financing the transfer of goods or services to the customer. In those circumstances, the contract contains a significant financing component. A significant financing component may exist regardless of whether the promise of financing is explicitly stated in the contract or implied by the payment terms agreed to by the parties to the contract.

For contracts where the period between payment and transfer of the associated goods or services is less than one year, the Group applies the practical expedient of not adjusting the transaction price for any significant financing component.

For advance payments received from customers before the transfer of the associated goods or services in which the Group adjusts for the promised amount of consideration for a significant financing component, the Group applies a discount rate that would be reflected in a separate financing transaction between the Group and the customer at contract inception. The relevant interest expenses during the period between the advance payments were received and the transfer of the associated goods and services are accounted for on the same basis as other borrowing costs.

For contracts where the Group transferred the associated goods or services before payments from customers in which the Group adjusts for the promised amount of consideration for significant financing components, the Group applies a discount rate that would be reflected in a separate financing transaction between the Group and the customer at contract inception. The Group recognises interest income during the period between the transfer of the associated goods or services and the payment from customers.

Incremental costs of obtaining a contract

Incremental costs of obtaining a contract are those costs that the Group incurs to obtain a contract with a customer that it would not have incurred if the contract had not been obtained.

The Group recognises sales commissions for property sales as an asset if it expects to recover these costs. The asset so recognised is subsequently amortised to selling expenses on a systematic basis that is consistent with the transfer to the customer of the goods or services to which the assets relate.

Leases

Definition of a lease (upon application of IFRS 16 in accordance with transitions in note 2)

A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

For contracts entered into or modified or arising from business combinations on or after the date of initial application, the Group assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease based on the definition under IFRS 16 at inception, modification date or acquisition date, as appropriate. Such contract will not be reassessed unless the terms and conditions of the contract are subsequently changed.

The Group as a lessee (upon application of IFRS 16 in accordance with transitions in note 2)

Allocation of consideration to components of a contract

For a contract that contains a lease component and one or more additional lease or non-lease components, the Group allocates the consideration in the contract to each lease component on the basis of the relative stand-alone price of the lease component and the aggregate stand-alone price of the non-lease components.

The Group applies practical expedient not to separate non-lease components from lease component, and instead account for the lease component and any associated non-lease components as a single lease component.

As a practical expedient, leases with similar characteristics are accounted on a portfolio basis when the Group reasonably expects that the effects on the consolidated financial statements would not differ materially from individual leases within the portfolio.

Short-term leases and leases of low-value assets

The Group applies the short-term lease recognition exemption to leases that have a lease term of 12 months or less from the commencement date and do not contain a purchase option. It also applies the recognition exemption for lease of low-value assets. Lease payments on short-term leases and leases of low-value assets are recognised as expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Right-of-use assets

The cost of right-of-use asset includes:

- the amount of the initial measurement of the lease liability;
- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, less any lease incentives received;
- any initial direct costs incurred by the Group; and
- an estimate of costs to be incurred by the Group in dismantling and removing the underlying assets, restoring the site on which it is located or restoring the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease, unless those costs are incurred to produce inventories.

Except for those that are classified as investment properties and measured under fair value model, right-of-use assets are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, and adjusted for any re-measurement of lease liabilities.

Right-of-use assets in which the Group is reasonably certain to obtain ownership of the underlying leased assets at the end of the lease term are depreciated from commencement date to the end of the useful life. Otherwise, right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of its estimated useful life and the lease term.

The Group presents right-of-use assets that do not meet the definition of investment property or inventory as a separate line item on the consolidated statement of financial position. The right-of-use assets that meet the definition of investment property and inventory are presented within "investment properties" and "properties for development"/"properties under development"/"properties for sale"/"other (to specify)" respectively.

Refundable rental deposits

Refundable rental deposits paid are accounted under IFRS 9 and initially measured at fair value. Adjustments to fair value at initial recognition are considered as additional lease payments and included in the cost of right-of-use assets.

Lease liabilities

At the commencement date of a lease, the Group recognises and measures the lease liability at the present value of lease payments that are unpaid at that date. In calculating the present value of lease payments, the Group uses the incremental borrowing rate at the lease commencement date if the interest rate implicit in the lease is not readily determinable.

The lease payments include:

- fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments) less any lease incentives receivable;
- variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate;
- amounts expected to be paid under residual value guarantees;
- the exercise price of a purchase option reasonably certain to be exercised by the Group; and
- payments of penalties for terminating a lease, if the lease term reflects the Group exercising the option to terminate.

Variable lease payments that reflect changes in market rental rates are initially measured using the market rental rates as at the commencement date. Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are not included in the measurement of lease liabilities and right-of-use assets, and are recognised as expense in the period on which the event or condition that triggers the payment occurs.

After the commencement date, lease liabilities are adjusted by interest accretion and lease payments.

The Group remeasures lease liabilities (and makes a corresponding adjustment to the related right-of-use assets) whenever:

- the lease term has changed or there is a change in the assessment of exercise of a purchase option, in which case the related lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the date of reassessment.
- the lease payments change due to changes in market rental rates following a market rent review, in which cases the related lease liability is remeasured by discounting the revised lease payments using the initial discount rate.

The Group presents lease liabilities as a separate line item on the consolidated statement of financial position.

Lease modifications

The Group accounts for a lease modification as a separate lease if:

- the modification increases the scope of the lease by adding the right to use one or more underlying assets; and
- the consideration for the leases increases by an amount commensurate with the stand-alone price for the increase in scope and any appropriate adjustments to that stand-alone price to reflect the circumstances of the particular contract.

For a lease modification that is not accounted for as a separate lease, the Group remeasures the lease liability based on the lease term of the modified lease by discounting the revised lease payments using a revised discount rate at the effective date of the modification.

The Group accounts for the remeasurement of lease liabilities by making corresponding adjustments to the relevant right-of-use asset.

The Group as lessee (prior to 1 January 2019)

Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Benefits received and receivable as an incentive to enter into an operating lease are recognised as a reduction of rental expense over the lease term on a straight-line basis.

The Group as lessor

Rental income from operating leases is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset, and such costs are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term except for investment properties measured under fair value model.

The Group as a lessor (upon application of IFRS 16 in accordance with transitions in note 2)

Allocation of consideration to components of a contract

Effective on 1 January 2019, the Group applies IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers ("IFRS 15") to allocate consideration in a contract to lease and non-lease components. Non-lease components are separated from lease component on the basis of their relative stand-alone selling prices.

Refundable rental deposits

Refundable rental deposits received are accounted under IFRS 9 and initially measured at fair value. Adjustments to fair value at initial recognition are considered as additional lease payments from lessees.

Lease modification

The Group accounts for a modification to an operating lease as a new lease from the effective date of the modification, considering any prepaid or accrued lease payments relating to the original lease as part of the lease payments for the new lease.

Foreign currencies

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recorded in the respective functional currency (i.e. the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates) at the rates of exchange prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At the end of the reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the translation of monetary items, are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. For properties under development for which revenue is recognised over time, the Group ceases to capitalise borrowing costs as soon as the properties are ready for the Group's intended sale.

Any specific borrowing that remain outstanding after the related asset is ready for its intended use or sale is included in the general borrowing pool for calculation of capitalisation rate on general borrowings. Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the year in which they are incurred.

Government grants

Government grants are not recognised until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognises as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. Government grants that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they become receivable.

Retirement benefit costs

The Group participates in state-managed retirement benefit schemes, which are defined contribution schemes, pursuant to which the Group pays a fixed percentage of its qualifying staff's wages as contributions to the plans. Payments to such retirement benefit schemes are charged as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are recognised at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid as and when employees rendered the services. All short-term employee benefits are recognised as an expense unless another IFRS requires or permits the inclusion of the benefit in the cost of an asset.

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees in respect of wages and salaries and annual leave in the period the related service is rendered at the undiscounted amount of the amount of benefits expected to be paid in exchange for that service.

Liabilities recognised in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related service.

Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from “profit before taxation” as reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income because it excludes items of income and expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and it further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group’s liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, and interests in joint ventures, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments and interests are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilise the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of the reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset is realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax liabilities or deferred tax assets for investment properties that are measured using the fair value model, the carrying amounts of such properties are presumed to be recovered entirely through sale, unless the presumption is rebutted. The presumption is rebutted when the investment property is depreciable and is held within a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment property over time, rather than through sale.

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax for leasing transactions in which the Group recognises the right-of-use assets and the related lease liabilities, the Group first determines whether the tax deductions are attributable to the right-of-use assets or the lease liabilities. For leasing transactions in which the tax deductions are attributable to the lease liabilities, the Group applies IAS 12 Income Taxes requirements to the leasing transaction as a whole. Temporary differences relating to right-of-use assets and lease liabilities are assessed on a net basis. Excess of depreciation on right-of-use assets over the lease payments for the principal portion of lease liabilities resulting in net deductible temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied to the same taxable entity by the same taxation authority.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in profit or loss, except when it relates to items that are recognised in OCI or directly in equity, in which case the current and deferred tax is also recognised in OCI or directly in equity respectively. Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment, are tangible assets that are held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes. Property, plant and equipment are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any.

Property, plant and equipment in the course of construction for production, supply or administrative purposes are carried at cost less any recognised impairment loss. Costs include any costs directly attributable to bringing the asset to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalised in accordance with the Group's accounting policy. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

Ownership interests in leasehold land and building

When the Group makes payments for ownership interests of properties which includes both leasehold land and building elements, the entire consideration is allocated between the leasehold land and the building elements in proportion to the relative fair values at initial recognition.

To the extent the allocation of the relevant payments can be made reliably, interest in leasehold land is presented as “right-of-use assets” (upon application of IFRS 16) or “prepaid lease payments” (before application of IFRS 16) in the consolidated statement of financial position except for those that are classified and accounted for as investment properties under the fair value model. When the consideration cannot be allocated reliably between non-lease building element and undivided interest in the underlying leasehold land, the entire properties are classified as property, plant and equipment.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of items of property, plant and equipment other than construction in progress less their residual values over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in profit or loss.

Investment properties

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation. Investment properties include land held for undetermined future use, which is regarded as held for capital appreciation purpose.

Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including any directly attributable expenditure. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are measured at their fair values, adjusted to exclude any prepaid or accrued operating lease income.

Gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of investment property are included in profit or loss for the period in which they arise.

Construction costs incurred for investment properties under construction are capitalised as part of the carrying amount of the investment properties under construction.

An investment property is derecognised upon disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use or no future economic benefits are expected from its disposals. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in profit or loss in the year in which the item is derecognised.

Impairment on property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets and contract costs other than goodwill

At the end of the reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its property, plant and equipment, right-of-use assets and contract costs to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any.

The recoverable amount of property, plant and equipment and right-of-use assets are estimated individually. When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount individually, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

In addition, corporate assets are allocated to individual cash generating units when a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be established, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be established. The Group assesses whether there is indication that corporate assets may be impaired. If such indication exists, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit or group of cash-generating units to which the corporate asset belongs, and is compared with the carrying amount of the relevant cash-generating unit or group of cash-generating units.

Before the Group recognises an impairment loss for assets capitalised as contract costs under IFRS 15, the Group assesses and recognises any impairment loss on other assets related to the relevant contracts in accordance with applicable standards. Then, impairment loss, if any, for assets capitalised as contract costs is recognised to the extent the carrying amounts exceeds the remaining amount of consideration that the Group expects to receive in exchange for related goods or services less the costs which relate directly to providing those goods or services that have not been recognised as expenses. The assets capitalised as contract costs are then included in the carrying amount of the cash-generating unit to which they belong for the purpose of evaluating impairment of that cash-generating unit.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset (or a cash – generating unit) for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or a cash – generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. For corporate assets or portion of corporate assets which cannot be allocated on a reasonable and consistent basis to a cash-generating unit, the Group compares the carrying amount of a group of cash-generating units, including the carrying amounts of the corporate assets or portion of corporate assets allocated to that group of cash-generating units, with the recoverable amount of the group of cash-generating units. In allocating the impairment loss, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill (if applicable) and then to the other assets on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit or the group of cash-generating units. The carrying amount of an asset is not reduced below the highest of its fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable), its value in use (if determinable) and zero. The amount of the impairment loss that would otherwise have been allocated to the asset is allocated pro rata to the other assets of the unit or the group of cash-generating units. An impairment loss is recognised as an expense immediately.

Properties for/under development/completed properties for sale

Properties for/under development which are intended to be sold upon completion of development and completed properties for sale are classified as current assets. Except for the leasehold land element which is measured at cost model in accordance with the accounting policies of right-of-use assets upon the application of IFRS 16, properties for/under development/completed properties for sale are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined on a specific identification basis including allocation of the related development expenditure incurred and where appropriate, borrowing costs capitalised. Net realisable value for properties for/under development is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated cost to completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sales. Net realisable value for completed properties for sale is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated costs necessary to make the sales.

Properties for development are transferred to properties under development upon commencement of development. Properties under development are transferred to completed properties for sale upon completion of development.

The Group transfers a property from properties under development to investment property when there is a change in use to hold the property to earn rentals or/and for capital appreciation rather than for sale in the ordinary course of business, which is evidenced by the inception of an operating lease to another party. Any difference between the fair value of the property at the date of transfer and its previous carrying amount is recognised in profit or loss.

Inventories

Inventories other than properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is calculated using the weighted average method.

Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, and it is probable that the Group will be required to settle that obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognised as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Where a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (where the effect of the time value of money is material).

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value except for trade receivables arising from contracts with customers which are initially measured in accordance with IFRS 15. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or financial liability and of allocating interest income and interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts and payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial asset or financial liability, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Financial assets

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortised cost:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at FVTOCI:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both selling and collecting contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All other financial assets are subsequently measured at financial assets at FVTPL, except that at the date of initial application of IFRS 9/initial recognition of a financial asset the Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in fair value of an equity investment in OCI if that equity investment is neither held for trading nor contingent consideration recognised by an acquirer in a business combination to which IFRS 3 Business Combinations applies.

A financial asset is held for trading if:

- it has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the near term; or
- on initial recognition it is a part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that the Group manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- it is a derivative that is not designated and effective as a hedging instrument.

In addition, the Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that are required to be measured at the amortised cost or FVTOCI as measured at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch.

- (i) Amortised cost and interest income
Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method for financial assets measured subsequently at amortised cost. Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset, except for financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired. For financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset from the next reporting period. If the credit risk on the credit impaired financial instrument improves so that the financial asset is no longer credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset from the beginning of the reporting period following the determination that the asset is no longer credit impaired.
- (ii) Equity instruments designated as at FVTOCI
Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI are subsequently measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognised in OCI and accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve; and are not subject to impairment assessment. The cumulative gain or loss will not be reclassified to profit or loss on disposal of the equity investments, and will be transferred to retained earnings.

Dividends from these investments in equity instruments are recognised in profit or loss when the Group's right to receive the dividends is established, unless the dividends clearly represent a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Dividends are included in the "other income" line item in profit or loss.

(iii) Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets that do not meet the criteria for being measured at amortised cost or FVTOCI or designated as FVTOCI are measured at FVTPL.

Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any fair value gains or losses recognised in profit or loss. The net gain or loss recognised in profit or loss excludes any dividend or interest earned on the financial asset and is included in the "other gains and losses" line item.

Impairment of financial assets and other items subject to impairment assessment under IFRS 9

The Group performs impairment assessment under expected credit loss ("ECL") model on financial assets (including trade receivables, other receivables, amounts due from related parties, pledged bank deposits, bank balances), contract assets and financial guarantee contracts which are subject to impairment under IFRS 9. The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL represents the ECL that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of the relevant instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECL ("12m ECL") represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date. Assessment are done based on the Group's historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current conditions at the reporting date as well as the forecast of future conditions.

The Group always recognises lifetime ECL for trade receivables and contract assets. The ECL on these assets are assessed individually for debtors with significant balances and/or collectively using a provision matrix with appropriate groupings.

For all other instruments, the Group measures the loss allowance equal to 12m ECL, unless when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increases in the likelihood or risk of a default occurring since initial recognition.

(i) Significant increase in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition. In making this assessment, the Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly:

- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the financial instrument's external (if available) or internal credit rating;
- significant deterioration in external market indicators of credit risk, e.g. a significant increase in the credit spread, the credit default swap prices for the debtor;
- existing or forecast adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations;
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor;
- an actual or expected significant adverse change in the regulatory, economic, or technological environment of the debtor that results in a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations.

Irrespective of the outcome of the above assessment, the Group presumes that the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due, unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information that demonstrates otherwise.

Despite the foregoing, the Group assumes that the credit risk on a debt instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition if the debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk at the reporting date. A debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk if i) it has a low risk of default, ii) the borrower has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term and iii) adverse changes in economic and business conditions in the longer term may, but will not necessarily, reduce the ability of the borrower to fulfil its contractual cash flow obligations. The Group considers pledged bank deposits and bank balances to have low credit risk because the counterparties are banks with high credit ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies or with a good reputation.

For financial guarantee contracts, the date that the Group becomes a party to the irrevocable commitment is considered to be the date of initial recognition for the purposes of assessing the financial instrument for impairment. In assessing whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition of financial guarantee contracts, the Group considers the changes in the risk that the specified debtor will default on the contract.

The Group regularly monitors the effectiveness of the criteria used to identify whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk and revises them as appropriate to ensure that the criteria are capable of identifying significant increase in credit risk before the amount becomes past due.

(ii) Definition of default

For internal credit risk management, the Group considers an event of default occurs when information developed internally or obtained from external sources indicates that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors, including the Group, in full (without taking into account any collaterals held by the Group).

Irrespective of the above, the Group considers that default has occurred when a financial asset is more than 90 days past due unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information to demonstrate that a more lagging default criterion is more appropriate.

(iii) Credit-impaired financial assets

A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- (a) significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;
- (b) a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;
- (c) the lender(s) of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider; or
- (d) it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation.

(iv) Write-off policy

The Group writes off a financial asset when there is information indicating that the counterparty is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery, for example, when the counterparty has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings. Financial assets written off may still be subject to enforcement activities under the Group's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event. Any subsequent recoveries are recognised in profit or loss.

(v) Measurement and recognition of ECL

The measurement of ECL is a function of the probability of default, loss given default (i.e. the magnitude of the loss if there is a default) and the exposure at default. The assessment of the probability of default and loss given default is based on historical data adjusted by forward-looking information. Estimation of ECL reflects an unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights.

Generally, the ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at the effective interest rate determined at initial recognition.

For a financial guarantee contract, the Group is required to make payments only in the event of a default by the debtor in accordance with the terms of the instrument that is guaranteed. Accordingly, the expected losses is the present value of the expected payments to reimburse the holder for a credit loss that it incurs less any amounts that the Group expects to receive from the holder, the debtor or any other party.

Where ECL is measured on a collective basis or cater for cases where evidence at the individual instrument level may not yet be available, the financial instruments are grouped on the following basis:

- Nature of financial instruments (i.e. the Group's trade receivables, other receivables and amounts due from related parties are each assessed as a separate group);
- Past-due status;
- Nature, size and industry of debtors; and
- External credit ratings where available.

The grouping is regularly reviewed by management to ensure the constituents of each group continue to share similar credit risk characteristics.

Interest income is calculated based on the gross carrying amount of the financial asset unless the financial asset is credit impaired, in which case interest income is calculated based on amortised cost of the financial asset.

For financial guarantee contracts, the loss allowances are recognised at the higher of the amount of the loss allowance determined in accordance with IFRS 9; and the amount initially recognised less, where appropriate, cumulative amount of income recognised over the guarantee period.

Except for financial guarantee contracts, the Group recognises an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss for all financial instruments by adjusting their carrying amount, with the exception of trade receivables and contract assets where the corresponding adjustment is recognised through a loss allowance account.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. If the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Group recognises its retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay. If the Group retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Group continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralised borrowing for the proceeds received.

On derecognition of a financial asset measured at amortised cost, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognised in profit or loss.

On derecognition of an investment in equity instrument which the Group has elected on initial recognition to measure at FVTOCI upon application of IFRS 9, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve is not reclassified to profit or loss, but is transferred to retained earnings.

Financial liabilities and equity

Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments issued by a group entity are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Group after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Group are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Repurchase of the Company's own equity instruments is recognised and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost

Financial liabilities at amortised cost including bank and other borrowings, trade and other payables, amounts due to related parties, liability portion of senior notes, corporate debt instruments and receipts under securitisation arrangements are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method.

Senior notes

Senior notes issued by the Company that contain both liability and early redemption option (which is not closely related to the host contract) are classified separately into respective items on initial recognition. At the date of issue, both the liability and early redemption option components are recognised at fair value.

In subsequent periods, the liability component of the senior notes is carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The early redemption option is measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss.

Transaction costs that relate to the issue of the senior notes are allocated to the liability and early redemption option components in proportion to their relative fair values. Transaction costs relating to the early redemption option are charged to profit or loss immediately. Transaction costs relating to the liability component are included in the carrying amount of the liability portion and amortised over the period of the senior notes using the effective interest method.

Corporate bonds

Corporate bonds issued by a subsidiary of the Group that contain both liability and written put option (which is closely related to the host contract) are not separated from host contract and embedded derivatives on initial recognition. At the date of issue, the corporate bonds are recognised at fair value.

In subsequent periods, the corporate bonds are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Transaction costs that relate to the issue of the corporate bonds are included in the carrying amount of the corporate bonds and amortised over the period of the corporate bonds using the effective interest method.

Receipts under securitisation arrangements

Receipts under securitisation arrangements are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred and are subsequently stated at amortised cost, any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in profit or loss over the period using the effective interest method.

Transaction costs are included in the carrying amount of the receipts under assets backed securitization and amortised over the period of the arrangements using the effective interest method.

Perpetual Securities

Perpetual Securities issued by the Group, which includes no contractual obligation for the Group to deliver cash or another financial asset to the holders or to exchange financial assets or financial liabilities with the holders under conditions that are potentially unfavorable to the Group, are classified as equity instruments and are initially recorded at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Financial guarantee contracts

A financial guarantee contract is a contract that requires the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payments when due in accordance with the terms of a debt instrument. Financial guarantee contract liabilities are measured initially at their fair values. It is subsequently measured at the higher of:

- the amount of the loss allowance determined in accordance with IFRS 9; and
- the amount initially recognised less, where appropriate, cumulative amortisation recognised over the guarantee period.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Group derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Group's obligations are discharged, cancelled or they have expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.

Derivative financial instruments

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value at the date when derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of the reporting period. The resulting gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss.

Share-based payment transactions

Equity-settled share-based payment transactions

Shares/share options granted to employees

Equity-settled share-based payments to employees and others providing similar services are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments at the grant date.

The fair value of the equity-settled share-based payments determined at the grant date without taking into consideration all non-market vesting conditions is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, based on the Group's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest, with a corresponding increase in equity (share-based payments reserve). At the end of each reporting period, the Group revises its estimate of the number of equity instruments expected to vest based on assessment of all relevant non-market vesting conditions. The impact of the revision of the original estimates, if any, is recognised in profit or loss such that the cumulative expense reflects the revised estimate, with a corresponding adjustment to the share-based payments reserve. For shares/share options that vest immediately at the date of grant, the fair value of the shares/share options granted is expensed immediately to profit or loss.

At the time when the shares/share options are exercised, the amount previously recognised in share-based payments reserve will be transferred to share premium. When the shares/share options are forfeited after the vesting date or are still not exercised at the expiry date, the amount previously recognised in share-based payments reserve will continue to be held in share-based payments reserve.

4. Critical Accounting Judgements and Key Sources of Estimation Uncertainty

Critical judgements in applying accounting policies

The critical judgements, apart from those involving estimations (see below), that the directors have made in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies and that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements are disclosed below.

Timing of revenue recognition

Revenue from property sales is recognised over time when the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date; otherwise, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the completed property. The Group may not change or substitute the property unit or redirect the property unit for another use due to the contractual restrictions with the customer and thus the property unit does not have an alternative use to the Group. However, whether there is an enforceable right to payment depends on the terms of sales contract and the interpretation of the applicable laws that apply to the contract. Such determination requires significant judgments. The Group has obtained legal counsel opinion regarding the enforceability of the right to payment for sales contracts. Management uses judgments, based on legal counsel opinion, to classify sales contracts into those with right to payment and those without the right.

The Group recognises property sales revenue over time by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation at the reporting date. The progress is measured based on the Group's inputs to the satisfaction of the performance obligation, by reference to the contract costs incurred up to the end of reporting period as a percentage of total estimated costs for each property unit in the contract. The Group calculated the cost allocation based on phases of the projects and saleable floor areas. Significant judgments and estimations are required in determining the completeness of the estimated total costs and the accuracy of progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation at the reporting date. The Group has a standard cost budgeting and estimate completion process in which management reviews the development progress and execution of the performance obligations. As part of this process, management reviews information including but not limited to, the cost occurred and accrued to achieve the schedule. Changes in cost estimates in future periods can have effect on the Group's revenue recognised. In making the above estimations, the Group relies on past experience and work of contractors and, if appropriate, surveyors. The Group recognised property sales revenue over time and a point in time amounted to RMB15,602,151,000 and RMB38,830,713,000 respectively for the year ended 31 December 2019 (for the year ended 31 December 2018: RMB9,337,145,000 and RMB45,937,061,000 respectively)

Deferred taxation on investment properties

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax liabilities or deferred tax assets arising from investment properties that are measured using the fair value model, the directors have reviewed the Group's investment property portfolio and concluded that the Group's investment properties are not held under a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment properties over time, rather than through sale. Therefore, in measuring the Group's deferred taxation on investment properties, the directors have determined that the presumption that the carrying amounts of investment properties measured using the fair value model are recovered entirely through sale is not rebutted. As a result, the Group has recognised deferred taxes of both enterprise income tax and land appreciation tax on changes in fair value of investment properties.

Key sources of estimation uncertainty

The key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are disclosed below.

Net realisable value for properties under development and completed properties for sale

Properties under development and completed properties remaining unsold at the end of each reporting period are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Net realisable value for properties under development is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated costs to completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sales. Net realisable value for completed properties for sale is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs necessary to make the sales. During the course of their assessment, the management will also make reference to property valuations conducted by independent qualified professional valuers based on comparable market prices. The management are required to revise these estimates if there is a change in market condition or demand. If actual market conditions are less favourable than those projected by management, additional adjustments to the value of properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale may be required. As at 31 December 2019, the carrying amounts of properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale are RMB30,907,247,000 (2018: RMB22,842,799,000), RMB136,615,966,000 (2018: RMB117,876,867,000) and RMB12,167,498,000 (2018: RMB10,972,736,000) respectively (net of accumulated provision of RMB56,454,000 (2018: RMB56,454,000), RMB184,805,000 (2018: RMB270,351,000) and RMB671,735,000 (2018: RMB379,741,000) respectively).

Fair value of investment properties

Investment properties are carried in the consolidated statement of financial position at 31 December 2019 at their fair value of approximately RMB4,032,818,000 (2018: RMB4,066,128,000).

The fair value was based on valuation on these properties conducted by the independent qualified professional valuers using property valuation techniques which adopt the income approach by capitalising the net rental income derived from the existing tenancies with due provision for the reversionary income potential of the property interests, or where appropriate, by market approach by making reference to comparable sales transactions as available in the relevant markets. Assumptions such as rental yield and estimation of future rentals would affect the fair value of the Group's investment properties and corresponding adjustments to the amount of gain or loss reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

Land Appreciation Tax

The provision for Land Appreciation Tax ("LAT") amounting to RMB7,819,209,000 (2018: RMB5,520,141,000) (included in income taxes payable) is estimated and made according to the requirements set forth in the relevant PRC tax laws and regulations. The actual LAT liabilities are subject to the determination by the tax authorities upon completion of the property development projects and the tax authorities might disagree with the basis on which the provision for LAT is calculated. Accordingly, significant judgment is required in determining the amount of land appreciation and its related income tax provisions. The Group recognises land appreciation tax based on management's best estimates. The final tax outcome could be different from the amounts that were initially recorded, and these differences will impact the income tax expense and the related income tax provisions in the periods in which such tax is finalised with the local tax authorities.

ECL allowance

The Group recognises a loss allowance for ECL on financial assets, including trade receivables, other receivables, amount due from related parties, pledged bank deposits, bank balances, contract assets and financial guarantee contracts, which are subject to impairment under IFRS 9. The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition. Significant judgements and estimations are required in determining the impairment assessment including the judgements on grouping basis for the provision matrix and the estimations on the expected loss rates used to calculate the ECL allowance. As at 31 December 2019, the carrying amount of trade receivables, contract assets, and other receivables and amounts due from related parties are RMB1,065,646,000, RMB2,815,007,000 and RMB53,299,898,000 respectively (2018: RMB878,236,000, RMB1,887,085,000 and RMB35,797,417,000 respectively) (net of accumulated ECL impairment loss of RMB75,566,000, RMB17,316,000 and RMB3,395,847,000 respectively (2018: RMB101,266,000, RMB nil, and RMB2,593,247,000 respectively)). Details of the determination of ECL allowance and set out in note 49(b).

Impairment of goodwill

Determining whether goodwill is impaired requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash-generating units to which goodwill has been allocated. The value in use calculation requires the directors to estimate the future cash flows expected to arise from the cash-generating unit and a suitable discount rate in order to calculate present value. Where the discounted future cash flow estimations are less than expected, a material impairment loss may arise. The carrying amount of goodwill at 31 December 2019 was RMB769,241,000 (2018: RMB769,241,000) (net of accumulated impairment loss of RMB nil (2018: RMB nil)). Details of the impairment loss calculation are set out in note 20.

Coupon rate of the corporate bonds

The corporate bonds amounting to RMB13,463,506,000 (2018: RMB11,098,976,000) contain coupon rate adjustment right that allow the issuer of the corporate bonds to adjust the coupon rates of the remaining outstanding bonds under certain terms and conditions. The corporate bonds also contain written put options granting the investors of the corporate bonds right to sell back the bonds that will be triggered with the exercise of the Coupon Rate Adjustment Right. As at the reporting date of the consolidated financial statements, the Group had no plan nor intention to exercise the Coupon Rate Adjustment Right of the corporate bonds, therefore the effective interest rate charged for the year on the corporate bonds was calculated according to the original coupon rates and maturity dates of the corporate bonds. If the Group decided to exercise the Coupon Rate Adjustment Right of the corporate bonds, the effective interest rate would be different because the coupon rates of any remaining outstanding corporate bonds would be adjusted and the corporate bonds would become immediately repayable. Details of the corporate bonds are set out in note 36.

(ii) Performance obligations for contracts with customers

Property sales

Revenue from property sales is recognised at a point in time in the ordinary course of business when the customers obtain control of the completed properties (ie. when the respective properties have been completed and delivered to the customers) except for revenue from certain properties which have no alternative use to the Group due to contractual reasons and the Group has an enforceable right to payment from the customer for performance completed to date is recognised over time in accordance with the input method for measuring progress.

The Group receives 20%-80% of the contract value as deposits from customers when they sign the sale and purchase agreement. However, depending on market conditions, the Group may offer customers a discount compared to the listed sales price, provided that the customers agree to pay the balance of the consideration early while construction is still ongoing. Such advance payment result in contract liabilities being recognised until the corresponding revenue is recognised.

The Group considers certain advance payment contain significant financing component and accordingly the amount of consideration is adjusted for the effects of the time value of money taking into consideration the credit characteristics of the Group. As this accrual increases the amount of the contract liability during the period of construction, it increases the amount of revenue recognised.

Design and decoration service and project management service

Revenue from design and decoration service and project management service is recognised over time on input method based on the proportion of contract costs incurred for work performed to date relative to the estimated total contract costs.

The design and decoration service and project management service fees are invoiced to the clients periodically on an agreed-upon payment schedule and/or milestone between the customers and the Group. The Group recognised a contract asset over the period in which the design and decoration service and project management service are performed representing the Group's right to consideration for the services performed because the rights are conditional on the Group's future performance in achieving specified milestones. Contract asset is transferred to trade receivables at the point at which the rights become unconditional. Payments received before the related service is performed are included in the consolidated statement of financial position as contract liabilities.

For project management contracts that contain variable consideration based on the future pre-sales amount of the project, the Group estimates the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled using either (a) the expected value method or (b) the most likely amount, depending on which method better predicts the amount of consideration to which the Group will be entitled.

The Group does not consider the advance payments pertain to design and decoration service and project management service to have contained significant financing component.

Hotel operations

The Group's performance obligation from hotel operations is mainly to provide accommodation services to guests. Revenue from accommodation service is recognised over time during the period when the rooms for accommodates are occupied.

Sales of construction materials

Revenue from sales of construction materials is recognised when control of the goods has transferred to the customer, being at the point the goods are delivered to the customer. Payment of the transaction price is due immediately at the point the customer accept the materials.

(iv) Segment information

The chief operating decision-maker of the Group has been identified as the executive directors and certain senior management (collectively referred to as the "CODM"). Operating segments are determined based on the Group's internal reports which are submitted to the CODM for performance assessment and resources allocation. This is also the basis upon which the Group is organised and managed.

The Group's consolidated revenue and results are attributable to the market in the PRC (country of domicile) and almost all of the Group's consolidated non-current assets are located in the PRC.

The Group's reportable segments under IFRS 8 are as follows:

- 1 Property development
- 2 Hotel operations
- 3 Property investment
- 4 Project management

For the property development reportable segment, the CODM reviews the financial information of each property development project, hence each property development project constitutes a separate operating segment. However, the property development projects possess similar economic characteristics, and are with similar development and selling activities as well as similar customer bases. Therefore, all property development projects are aggregated into one reportable segment for segment reporting purposes.

For the hotel operations reportable segment, the CODM reviews the financial information of each hotel, hence each hotel constitutes a separate operating segment. However, the hotels possess similar economic characteristics, and are with similar development and selling activities as well as similar customer bases. Therefore, all hotels are aggregated into one reportable segment for segment reporting purposes.

For the property investment reportable segment, the CODM reviews the financial information of each investment property, hence each investment property constitutes a separate operating segment. However, the investment properties possess similar economic characteristics, and are with similar development and selling activities as well as similar customer bases. Therefore, all investment properties are aggregated into one reportable segment for segment reporting purposes.

For the project management reportable segment, the CODM reviews the financial information of each project management project, hence each project management project constitutes a separate operating segment. However, the project management projects possess similar economic characteristics, and are with similar development and selling activities as well as similar customer bases. Therefore, all project management projects are aggregated into one reportable segment for segment reporting purposes.

Other operating segments include sales of construction materials, design and decoration and other business. None of these segments meet the quantitative thresholds for the reportable segments in both current and prior year. Accordingly, these are grouped in "Others".

The CODM assesses the performance of the operating segments based on the post-tax profit of the group entities engaged in the respective segment activities, which includes share of results of joint ventures and associates and related finance costs, but excludes certain administrative expenses, other income, finance costs and taxation. Financial information provided to the CODM is measured in a manner consistent with the accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements as described in note 3.

Sales between segments are carried out on terms agreed between the counterparties.

No customers account for 10% or more of the Group's revenue.

13. Taxation (continued)

The deferred tax current year is mainly due to the fair value adjustment which arises from the acquisition of subsidiaries.

No provision for income tax has been made for the Company and group entities incorporated in Hong Kong as they have no assessable profits derived from Hong Kong.

Under the Law of the People's Republic of China on Enterprise Income Tax (the "EIT Law") and Implementation Regulation of the EIT Law, the tax rate of the PRC subsidiaries is 25% or 15%. Greentown Decoration Project Group Co., Ltd. ("Greentown Decoration Project Group") and Zhejiang Greentown Lianhe Design Co., Ltd. are new technology enterprises and the applicable income tax rate is 15% from year 2018 to 2020 and year 2017 to 2019 respectively.

In addition, the EIT Law provides that qualified dividend income between two "resident enterprises" that have a direct investment relationship is exempted from income tax. Otherwise, such dividends will be subject to a 5% or 10% withholding tax under the EIT Law. A 10% withholding tax rate is applicable to the Group.

The tax charge for the year can be reconciled to the profit per the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income as follows:

According to the requirements of the Provisional Regulations of the PRC on LAT (中華人民共和國土地增值稅暫行條例) effective from 1 January 1994, and the Detailed Implementation Rules on the Provisional Regulations of the PRC on LAT (中華人民共和國土地增值稅暫行條例實施細則) effective from 27 January 1995, all income from the sale or transfer of state-owned land use rights, buildings and their attached facilities in the PRC is subject to LAT at progressive rates ranging from 30% to 60% of the appreciation value, with an exemption provided for property sales of ordinary residential properties (普通標準住宅) if their appreciation values do not exceed 20% of the sum of the total deductible items.

According to the Notices for the Strengthening of Administration on LAT (關於加強土地增值稅管理工作的通知), the Group is required to pre-pay LAT on pre-sale proceeds at 0.5% – 3% for ordinary residential properties and 1% – 6% for other properties.

For the year ended 31 December 2019, the Group estimated and made a provision for LAT in the amount of RMB4,024,776,000 (2018: RMB3,889,060,000), according to the requirements set forth in the relevant PRC tax laws and regulations. The actual LAT liabilities are subject to the determination by the tax authorities upon completion of the property development projects and the tax authorities might disagree with the basis on which the provision for LAT is calculated.

The above items of property, plant and equipment other than construction in progress are depreciated on a straight-line basis, taking into account their residual value, at the following rates per annum:

Hotel buildings	Over the shorter of the term of the land use rights or 40 years
Leasehold land and buildings	Over the shorter of the term of the land use rights or 40 years
Leasehold improvements	Over the shorter of the lease term or five years
Machinery	10% to 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ %
Furniture, fixtures and equipment	10% to 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ %
Transportation equipment	10% to 20%

Details of the hotel buildings, leasehold land and buildings and construction in progress pledged to secure banking facilities granted to the Group are disclosed in note 45.

During the current year, the Group engaged an independent qualified professional valuer to conduct review of one hotel building in Qingdao. It was determined that the hotel building was impaired on the basis of its projected performance. Accordingly, an impairment loss of RMB84,154,000 was recognised in the current year in respect of hotel buildings.

In view of the improving performance of the hotel operations in Xinchang, the Group engaged Cushman & Wakefield Limited to update their review of the Group's hotel buildings as at 31 December 2019 and as a result a reversal of impairment loss of RMB18,510,000 (2018: RMB16,775,000) of hotel buildings was reversed during the year in respect of hotel buildings based on their value in use.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted. The discount rate used in measuring value in use was 9% (2018: 9%).

During the current year, the expense relating to short-term leases and other leases with lease terms end within 12 months of the date of initial application of IFRS 16 and leases of low-value assets was RMB122,897,000.

The total cash outflow for leases was RMB224,976,000.

For both years, the Group leases office buildings and apartments for its operations. Lease contracts are entered into for fixed term of 1 to 9 years. Lease terms are negotiated on an individual basis and contain a wide range of different terms and conditions. In determining the lease term and assessing the length of the non-cancellable period, the Group applies the definition of a contract and determines the period for which the contract is enforceable.

In addition, the Group owns several office buildings and hotel buildings. The Group is the registered owner of these property interests, including the underlying leasehold lands. Lump sum payments were made upfront to acquire these property interests. The leasehold land components of these owned properties are presented separately only if the payments made can be allocated reliably.

The Group leases out various offices and retail stores under operating leases with rentals receivable monthly. The leases typically run for an initial period of 1 to 20 years, with unilateral rights to extend the lease beyond initial period held by lessees only.

The Group is not exposed to foreign currency risk as a result of the lease arrangements, as all leases are denominated in the respective functional currencies of group entities. The lease contracts do not contain residual value guarantee and/or lessee's option to purchase the property at the end of lease term.

All of the Group's property interests held under operating leases to earn rentals or for capital appreciation purposes are measured using the fair value model and are classified and accounted for as investment properties.

The fair value of the Group's investment properties at 31 December 2019 and 2018 has been arrived at on the basis of a valuation carried out on that date by Cushman & Wakefield Limited.

In estimating the fair value of the properties, the highest and best use of the properties is their current use.

20. Goodwill

Cost

	2019 RMB'000	2018 RMB'000
At 1 January and at 31 December	769,241	769,241

The goodwill held by the Group as at 31 December 2019 arose on the acquisition of two subsidiaries that engaged in project management service in 2015. The detailed information is disclosed in the Group's 2015 consolidated financial statements.

Goodwill arose in the acquisition because the consideration paid for the acquisition effectively included the benefit of expected synergies, revenue growth and future market development. These benefits are not recognised separately from goodwill because they do not meet the recognition criteria for identifiable intangible assets.

Impairment test on goodwill

For the purposes of impairment testing, goodwill set out above has been allocated to one cash generating unit ("CGU"). During the year ended 31 December 2019, the director considered that there is no impairment of CGU containing goodwill.

The basis of recoverable amount of the CGU and its major underlying assumptions is summarised below:

The recoverable amount of the CGU has been determined based on a value in use calculation. That calculation uses cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by management covering a five-year period, and discount rate of 13.2% (2018: 13.6%). Other key assumptions for the value in use calculations relate to the estimation of cash inflows/outflows which include budgeted sales and gross margin, such estimation is based on the unit's past performance and director's expectations for the market development. The directors believe that any reasonably possible change in any of these assumptions would not cause the carrying amount to exceed its recoverable amount.

Annual incremental sales contract rate for first five years	5%	5%
Gross margin ratio	20%-50%	20%-50%

- (ii) Only two out of five directors of Hangzhou Binlv are appointed by the Group, while a valid board resolution requires half of the total votes. The Group thus does not have the power to control or jointly control Hangzhou Binlv. Therefore, Hangzhou Binlv is accounted for as an associate of the Group.
- (iii) In December 2019, the Group acquired 100% equity interest in Hangzhou Changrong Commercial Information Consulting Co., Ltd. ("Hangzhou Changrong"). After the disposal, the Group held a 30% equity interest in Hangzhou Zhaolian and Guangzhou Lvzhen, and therefore classified the investments as associates of the Group.
- (v) In August 2019, the Group's equity interest was diluted from 83.3% to 50% in Anhui Shunhong due to capital injection by an independent third parties. Only two out of five directors of Anhui Shunhong are appointed by the Group, while a valid board resolution requires half of the total votes. - (vi) In December 2019, the Group disposed of its 67.5% equity interests in Fuzhou Lvrong to two independent third parties. After the disposal, Fuzhou Lvrong was accounted for as an associate of the Group. Others represent mainly deferred tax liabilities recognised in respect of temporary differences arising from capitalised interest expense.

	2019 RMB'000	2018 RMB'000

At the end of the reporting period, the Group had deductible temporary differences of RMB738,972,000 (2018: RMB157,561,000). No deferred tax asset has been recognised in relation to such deductible temporary differences as it is not probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences can be utilised.

At the end of the reporting period, the Group had unutilised tax losses of RMB7,315,654,000 (2018: RMB6,619,705,000) available for offset against future profits. Deferred tax asset has been recognised in respect of RMB3,404,381,000 (2018: RMB2,483,781,000) of such losses.

Based on the latest budgets, the management believes that there will be sufficient future profits for the realisation of the deferred tax assets recognised in respect of these tax losses. No deferred tax asset has been recognised in respect of the remaining RMB3,911,273,000 (2018: RMB4,135,924,000) due to the unpredictability of future profit streams. Pursuant to the relevant laws and regulations in the PRC, the unrecognised tax losses at the end of the reporting period will expire in the following years:

2019	–	478,184
2020	829,632	916,699

2023	964,612	1,159,092
	3,911,273	4,135,924

Under the EIT Law of PRC, withholding tax is imposed on dividends declared in respect of profits earned by PRC subsidiaries from 1 January 2008 onwards. Deferred taxation has not been provided for in the consolidated financial statements in respect of certain temporary differences attributable to accumulated profits of the PRC subsidiaries amounting to RMB12,901,158,000 (31 December 2018: RMB14,854,940,000) as the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

The interest charged for the year is calculated by applying an effective interest rate of approximately 6.23% per annum to the liability component since the senior notes were issued.

- (ii) Early redemption option is regarded as an embedded derivative not closely related to the host contract. The directors consider that the fair value of the early redemption options as at 31 December 2019 is insignificant (as at 31 December 2018: nil).

Details of options granted on 28 August 2018 ("2018") are as follows:

	Vesting period	Exercisable period
The first 30% of the grant	From date of grant to the 1st anniversary	From the 1st anniversary to 27 August 2028

The remaining 10% of the grant	From date of grant to the 5th anniversary	From the 5th anniversary to 27 August 2028

The fair values were calculated using the Binomial model. The inputs into the model were as follows:

	The options granted on 27 December 2017	The options granted on 28 August 2018
Share price at the date of grant	HK$9.1	HK$7.8
Exercise price	HK$9.1	HK$8.326
Expected life	10 years	10 years
Expected volatility of the Company's share price	55.28%	54.81%
Expected dividend yield	4.33%	3.1%
Risk-free rates of interest	1.94%	2.201%
Exercise market condition	at least 30% above the exercise price	at least 30% above the exercise price

Expected volatility was determined by using the historical volatility of the Company's share price over the previous 10 years. The expected dividend yield has taken into account the historical dividend yield of the Company. The risk-free interest rates are based on the yield curve fitted by market yields of the Hong Kong government bonds with similar duration to the expected life of the share option.

The estimated fair value of the options granted on 27 December 2017 was HK$358,000,000 (approximately RMB299,753,000). The estimated fair value of the options granted on 28 August 2018 was HK$29,454,000 (approximately RMB25,534,000).

The Group has recognised the total expense of RMB42,763,000 (2018: RMB134,466,000) in the profit or loss in relation to share options granted under 2016 Share Option Scheme.

47. Contingent Liabilities

(i) Guarantees

The Group provided guarantees of RMB35,651,192,000 (2018: RMB33,937,731,000) at 31 December 2019 to banks in favour of its customers in respect of the mortgage loans provided by the banks to those customers for the purchase of the Group's developed properties. These guarantees provided by the Group to the banks will be released upon receiving the building ownership certificates of the respective properties by the banks from the customers as a pledge for security to the mortgage loans granted.

The Group also provided guarantees to banks and other parties in respect of credit facilities utilised by the following companies:

Credit guarantees provided to:

The directors consider that the fair value of the above guarantees is insignificant on initial recognition and there was no loss allowance recognised for expected credit losses during the year 2019 and 2018.

48. Capital Risk Management

The Group manages its capital to ensure that entities in the Group will be able to continue as a going concern while maximising the return to shareholders through the optimisation of the debt and equity balance. The Group's overall strategy remains unchanged from prior year.

The capital structure of the Group consists of net debt, which includes the borrowings disclosed in notes 34, 35, 36, 37 and 51(ii) (net of cash and cash equivalents), and capital and reserves.

The directors of the Company review the capital structure on a regular basis. As part of this review, the directors consider the cost of capital and the risks associated with each class of capital. The Group will balance its overall capital structure through the payment of dividends, new share issues and share buy-backs as well as the issue of new debt or the redemption of existing debt.

49. Financial Instruments

(a) Categories of financial instruments

	2019 RMB'000	2018 RMB'000

(b) Financial risk management objectives and policies

The Group's major financial instruments include equity instruments at FVTOCI, trade and other receivables, amounts due from related parties, pledged bank deposits, bank balances and cash, trade and other payables, amounts due to related parties, bank and other borrowings, corporate debt instruments, senior notes and receipts under securitisation arrangements. Details of the financial instruments are disclosed in respective notes. The risks associated with these financial instruments include market risk (currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The policies on how to mitigate these risks are set out below. The management manages and monitors these exposures to ensure appropriate measures are implemented on a timely and effective manner. There has been no significant change in the Group's exposure to these risks or the manner in which it manages and measures risks.

(b) Financial risk management objectives and policies (continued)Market risk(i) Currency risk*

The Group has bank balances, equity instruments at FVTOCI, other receivables, amounts due from related parties, other payables, amounts due to related parties, bank and other borrowings and senior notes denominated in foreign currencies, which expose the Group to foreign currency risk.

The carrying amounts of the Group's foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities at the end of the reporting period are as follows:

	Assets		Liabilities
	2019 RMB'000	2018 RMB'000	2019 RMB'000	2018 RMB'000
Hong Kong dollars ("HKD")	1,090,893	741,519	2,714,028	2,788,659
United States dollars ("USD")	5,680,369	6,189,099	16,501,216	12,397,613

The Group does not use any derivative contracts to hedge against its exposure to currency risk. The management closely monitors foreign currency exposure and will consider hedging significant foreign currency exposure should the need arise.

Sensitivity analysis

The Group is mainly exposed to the fluctuations in exchange rates between RMB and HKD/USD. The exposure in HKD/USD arises mainly from the Group's bank balances and cash, equity instruments at FVTOCI, other receivables, other payables, bank and other borrowings, senior notes and amounts due from/to related parties.

The following table details the Group's sensitivity to a 5% (2018: 5%) increase and decrease in RMB against the relevant foreign currencies. 5% represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjusts their translation at the year end for a 5% change in foreign currency rates. A positive (negative) number below indicates an increase (decrease) in post-tax profit and other comprehensive income where RMB strengthens 5% against the relevant currency. For a 5% weakening of RMB against the relevant currency, there would be an equal and opposite impact on post-tax profit and other comprehensive income.

	HKD Impact		USD Impact
	2019 RMB'000	2018 RMB'000	2019 RMB'000	2018 RMB'000
Profit or loss	47,633	104,149	405,782	232,819
Other comprehensive income (note)	(52,938)	(36,508)	–	–

Note: This is attributable to foreign currency exposure on listed equity instruments at FVTOCI.

49. Financial Instruments (continued)

(b) Financial risk management objectives and policies (continued)

(ii) Interest rate risk

The Group is exposed to fair value interest rate risk in relation to fixed-rate bank deposits, amounts due from/to related parties, bank and other borrowings, senior notes, corporate debt instruments and receipts under securitisation arrangements (see notes 30, 34, 35, 36, 37 and 51 for details).

The Group is also exposed to cash flow interest rate risk in relation to variable-rate bank deposits, amounts due from/to related parties and bank and other borrowings (see notes 30, 34 and 51 for details).

The Group does not use any derivative contracts to hedge against its exposure to interest rate risk.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on the exposure to market deposit and lending interest rates for non-derivative instruments. For variable-rate bank deposits, bank and other borrowings and amounts due from/to related parties, the analysis is prepared assuming the balances outstanding at the end of the reporting period were outstanding for the whole year. A 5 basis point (2018: 5 basis point) increase or decrease in market deposit interest rates and a 50 basis point (2018: 50 basis point) increase or decrease in market lending interest rates represent management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If the market deposit interest rates had been 5 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's post-tax profit for the year ended 31 December 2019 would have increased/decreased by RMB19,460,000 (2018: increased/decreased by RMB16,691,000). This is mainly attributable to the Group's exposure to interest rates on its variable-rate bank deposits.

If the market lending interest rates had been 50 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's post-tax profit for the year ended 31 December 2019 would have decreased/increased by RMB128,184,000 (2018: decreased/increased by RMB123,469,000). This is mainly attributable to the Group's exposure to interest rates on its variable-rate bank and other borrowings and amounts due from/to related parties.

(iii) Other price risk

The Group is exposed to equity price risk through its investments in listed equity securities in Hong Kong and unlisted equity securities. In addition, the Group has appointed a special team to monitor the price risk and will consider hedging the risk exposure should the need arise.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on the exposure to equity price risk at the reporting date.

If the prices of the equity instruments had been 10% (2018: 10%) higher/lower, investments revaluation reserve would increase/decrease by RMB151,199,000 (2018: increase/decrease by RMB127,568,000).

Credit risk and impairment assessment

As at 31 December 2019 and 2018, the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk which will cause a financial loss to the Group is arising from the carrying amount of the respective recognised financial assets as stated in the consolidated statement of financial position and the amount of contingent liabilities in relation to financial guarantee issued by the Group as disclosed in note 47.

The Group's credit risk is primarily attributable to its trade receivables, other receivables, amounts due from related parties, pledged bank deposits, bank balances, contract assets and financial guarantee contracts.

Trade receivables and contract assets arising from contracts with customers

In order to minimise the credit risk, The Group has policies in place to ensure that sales are made to purchasers with an appropriate financial strength and appropriate percentage of down payments. It also has other monitoring procedures to ensure that follow-up action is taken to recover overdue debts. In addition, the Group performs impairment assessment under ECL model on trade balances individually or based on provision matrix, as appropriate.

Other receivables

The credit risk of other receivables is managed through an internal process. The Group actively monitors the outstanding amounts owed by each debtor and uses past due information to assess whether credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition.

Amounts due from related parties

The credit risk of amounts due from related parties is managed through an internal process. The credit quality of each counterparty is investigated before an advance is made. The Group also actively monitors the outstanding amounts owed by each debtor and uses past due information to assess whether credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition.

Bank balances and cash and pledged bank deposit

Cash deposits are mainly placed with state-owned financial institutions and reputable banks which are all high-credit-quality financial institutions, therefore the Group's credit risk on liquid funds is limited.

Contingent liabilities in relation to the financial guarantees

For properties that are still under construction, the Group typically provides guarantees to banks in connection with the customers' borrowing of mortgage loans to finance their purchase of the properties. If a purchaser defaults on the payment of its mortgage during the term of the guarantee, the bank holding the mortgage may demand the Group to repay the outstanding amount under the loan and any accrued interest thereon. Under such circumstances, the Group is able to retain the customer's deposits and sell the property to recover any amounts paid by the Group to the bank. Unless the selling price drop significantly, which the probability is remote, the Group would not be in a loss position in selling those properties out. In this regard, the directors of the Company consider that the Group's credit risk in relation to financial guarantees from mortgage loans is largely mitigated.

The Group's concentration of credit risk by geographical locations is mainly in the PRC. Other than the concentration of credit risk on liquid funds which are deposited with several large state-owned banks and commercial banks in the PRC, the Group does not have any other significant concentration of credit risk, with exposure spread over a number of counterparties and customers.

Notes:

- For trade receivables and contract assets, the Group has applied the simplified approach in IFRS 9 to measure the loss allowance at lifetime ECL. Except for debtors with significant outstanding balances or credit-impaired, the Group determines the expected credit losses on these items by using a provision matrix based on aged days.
- External credit rating disclosed by the counterparty financial institutions and banks, majority of which are located in the PRC.
- For financial guarantee contracts, the gross carrying amount represents the maximum amount the Group has guaranteed under the respective contracts. The maximum amount that the Group has guaranteed under the respective contracts was RMB64,620,763,000 as at 31 December 2019 (2018: RMB56,853,166,000). At the end of the reporting period, the directors of the Company have performed impairment assessment, and concluded that there has been no significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition of the financial guarantee contracts. Accordingly, the loss allowance for financial guarantee contracts issued by the Group is measured at an amount equal to 12m ECL. The directors of the Company considered that the 12m ECL allowance is insignificant at December 31, 2018 and December 31, 2019.

As part of the Group's credit risk management, the Group uses debtors' aging to assess the impairment for its customers in relation to its property sales, hotel operations, project management, design and decoration and sales of construction materials operating segments because these operating segments have large number of small customers with common risk characteristics that are representative of the customers' abilities to pay all amounts due in accordance with the contractual terms. The Group assessed the impairment for its customers from these operating segments separately, and the information about the exposure to credit risk for these trade receivables based on provision matrix within lifetime ECL (not credit impaired) are presented below. Debtors with significant outstanding balances with gross carrying amounts of RMB56,404,000 that was defaulted as at 31 December 2019 (2018: RMB58,868,000) were assessed individually.

Liquidity risk

In the management of the liquidity risk, the Group monitors and maintains a level of cash and cash equivalents deemed adequate by the management to finance the Group's operations and mitigate the effects of fluctuations in cash flows. The management monitors the utilisation of borrowings and ensures compliance with loan covenants.

The Group relies on bank and other borrowings, senior notes, corporate debt instruments, receipts under securitisation arrangements and amounts due to related parties as a significant source of liquidity.

The following table details the Group's remaining contractual maturity for its non-derivative financial liabilities. The table has been drawn up based on the undiscounted cash flows of financial liabilities based on the earliest date on which the Group can be required to pay. The maturity dates for other non-derivative financial liabilities are based on the agreed repayment dates. The table includes both interest and principal cash flows.

The amounts included above for financial guarantee contracts are the maximum amounts the Group could be required to settle under the arrangement for the full guaranteed amount if that amount is claimed by the counterparty to the guarantee. Based on expectations at the end of the reporting period, the Group considers that it is more likely than not that no amount will be payable under the arrangement. However, this estimate is subject to change depending on the probability of the counterparty claiming under the guarantee which is a function of the likelihood that the financial receivables held by the counterparty which are guaranteed suffer credit losses.

The amounts included above for variable interest rate non-derivative financial liabilities is subject to change if changes in variable interest rate differ from those interest rate estimates determined at the end of the reporting period.

The outbreak of coronavirus disease (“COVID-19”)

The outbreak of COVID-19 and the subsequent quarantine measures as well as the travel restrictions imposed by many countries have had a certain negative impact on the operations of the Group, as most of the Group’s operations are located in the Yangtze River Delta Area in Mainland China. The Group had to stop its property development since January 2020 due to mandatory government quarantine measures in an effort to contain the spread of the epidemic.

Even though the Group had resumed its property development since February 2020, they are still not fully operating at normal capacity due to mandatory government quarantine measures.

In addition, the operations of certain of the Group’s customers, suppliers, associates, joint ventures and investees are also located in the Yangtze River Delta Area, the outbreak of COVID-19 is expected to have negative/adverse effect to these parties in different aspects, which in turn, may affect the recoverability of Group’s trade receivables and other financial assets that are subject to ECL assessment and also the carrying amounts of the Group’s properties for development, properties under development, completed properties for sales, interest in associates and joint ventures and other non-current assets.

Given the dynamic nature of these circumstances and unpredictability of future development, the directors of the Company consider that the financial effects on the Group’s consolidated financial statements cannot be reasonably estimated as at the date these financial statements are authorised for issue, but will be reflected in the Group’s future financial statements.

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of Greentown China Holdings Limited (the "Company") and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the "Group") set out on pages 123 to 290, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2018, and the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position of the Group as at 31 December 2018, and of its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs") issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") and have been properly prepared in compliance with the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing ("HKSAs") issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the HKICPA's Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the "Code"), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Net realisable value for properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale We identified the net realisable value for properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale as a key audit matter as a significant management estimate is required in assessing the net realisable value. Properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale at the end of each reporting period are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value.	Our procedures in relation to the management's assessment of the net realisable value of properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none">Obtaining an understanding of key controls over cost budgeting for estimated costs to completion;

Net realisable value for properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale Net realisable value for properties for development, properties under development is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated costs to completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sales. Net realisable value for completed properties for sale is determined by reference to estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs necessary to make the sales. As disclosed in the consolidated financial statements, as at 31 December 2018, the carrying amounts of properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale are RMB22,842,799,000 (2017: RMB25,467,537,000), RMB117,876,867,000 (2017: RMB83,149,261,000) and RMB10,972,736,000 (2017: RMB20,650,760,000) respectively (net of accumulated impairment losses of RMB56,454,000 (2017: RMB nil), RMB270,351,000 (2017: RMB nil) and RMB379,741,000 (2017: RMB386,330,000) respectively).	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Assessing the reasonableness of estimated selling prices by comparing, on a sample basis, the management's estimation with most recent average selling prices with contracted sales of the underlying properties made to date or from current market prices of properties of comparable standards and locations; and Assessing the reasonableness of estimated costs of completion by comparing, on a sample basis, the previous budgeted costs to actual development costs incurred, and checking to supporting documentation such as quantity surveyor reports and signed contracts.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Valuation of investment properties stated at fair value We identified the valuation of investment properties stated at fair value as a key audit matter due to the involvement of management's judgement in determining the fair value. As disclosed in note 16 to the consolidated financial statements, investment properties are carried in the consolidated statement of financial position at 31 December 2018 at their fair value of approximately RMB4,066,128,000 (2017: RMB2,716,396,000). The fair value was based on valuation on these properties conducted by the independent qualified professional valuer using property valuation techniques which adopt the investment approach by capitalising the net rental income derived from the existing tenancies with due provision for the reversionary income potential of the property interests, or where appropriate, by direct comparison approach by making reference to comparable sales transactions as available in the relevant markets. Favourable or unfavourable changes to the assumptions such as rental yield and estimation of future rentals would result in changes in the fair value of the Group's investment properties and corresponding adjustments to the amount of gain or loss reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.	Our procedures in relation to the valuation of investment properties included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Evaluating the appropriateness of the third party valuer's scope and assessed whether the third party valuer had sufficient expertise; • Obtaining an understanding of the valuation processes and the significant assumptions used in the valuation, namely the reversionary yield and market unit rent, from the management of the Group and the valuer; • Checking the source information provided by the management to the third party valuer to see if the source information is consistent with our records; and • Evaluating the appropriateness of the valuer's key assumptions by comparing yields on a sample of properties to external benchmark indices and comparing market unit rent used in the valuation on a sample of properties to comparable market transactions that we independently sourced from market data.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Recognition of revenue from sales of properties over time As disclosed in note 5 to the consolidated financial statements, revenue from sales of properties is recognised over time when the Group's performance under a sales contract does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date; otherwise, the revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the completed property. For the year ended 31 December 2018, revenue of the Group from sales of properties was RMB55,274,206,000, of which RMB9,337,145,000 was recognised over time. As disclosed in note 4 to the consolidated financial statements, the Group may not change or substitute the property unit or redirect the property unit for another use due to the contractual restrictions with the customer and thus the property unit does not have an alternative use to the Group. However, whether there is an enforceable right to payment depends on the terms of sales contract and the interpretation of the applicable laws that apply to the contract. Such determination requires significant judgments. The Group has obtained legal counsel opinion regarding the enforceability of the right to payment for such sales contracts. Management uses judgments, based on legal counsel opinion, to classify sales contracts into those with right to payment and those without the right.	Our procedures in relation to the management's assessment of whether the Group has the enforceable right to payment in those sales contracts recognised over time, we have: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtaining an understanding of management's procedures in identifying and classifying sales contracts with or without right to payment; • Reviewing the key terms of a sample of sales contracts to assess the presence of right to payment based on the contract terms; • Obtaining and reviewing the opinion of the Group's legal counsel, in particular, the legal counsel's interpretation of the applicable laws and their implication on the assessment of the enforceability of the right to payment; and • Assessing the competence, experience and objectivity of the legal counsel engaged by the management.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Recognition of revenue from sales of properties over time For the revenue from sales of properties recognised over time, the Group recognises revenue by measuring the progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation at the reporting date. The progress is measured based on the Group's efforts or inputs to the satisfaction of the performance obligation, by reference to the contract costs incurred up to the end of reporting period as a percentage of total estimated costs for each property unit in the contract. The Group calculated the cost allocation based on phases of the projects and saleable floor areas. Significant judgments and estimations are required in determining the completeness of the estimated total costs and the accuracy of progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation at the reporting date.	Our procedures in relation to the management's assessment of the estimated total contract costs and the accuracy of progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtaining an understanding of key controls over cost budgeting for estimated costs to completion; and • Assessing the reasonableness of estimated costs of completion by comparing, on a sample basis, the previous budgeted costs to actual development costs incurred, and checking to supporting documentation such as quantity surveyor reports and signed contracts.

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Provision for Land Appreciation Tax ("LAT") We identified the provision for LAT as a key audit matter due to the complexity of estimation of LAT. The Group is subject to LAT in the PRC, as disclosed in note 4 to the consolidated financial statements, the provision for LAT amounting to RMB5,520,141,000 (2017: RMB3,463,172,000) (included in income taxes payable) is estimated and made according to the requirements set forth in the relevant PRC tax laws and regulations. The actual LAT liabilities are subject to the determination by the tax authorities upon completion of the property development projects and the tax authorities might disagree with the basis on which the provision for LAT is calculated. Accordingly, significant judgment is required in determining the amount of land appreciation and its related income tax provisions. The Group recognises land appreciation tax based on management's best estimates. The final tax outcome could be different from the amounts that were initially recorded, and these differences will impact the income tax expense and the related income tax provisions in the periods in which such tax is finalised with local tax authorities.	Our procedures in relation to the provision for LAT included, among others: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Obtaining an understanding from the management of the Group in respect of the principal assumptions and judgements made in arriving at the provision for LAT; • Assessing the Group's provision for LAT computation prepared by the management of the Group with reference to relevant rules and regulations with the assistance of our taxation specialists; and • Checking the financial information, such as land costs, borrowing costs and the relevant property development expenditures, used in the calculation of provision for LAT to the Group's historical financial data. Furthermore, we assessed the adequacy and appropriateness of the disclosures in respect to the provision for LAT.

Other Information

The directors of the Company are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Directors and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The directors of the Company are responsible for the preparation of the consolidated financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with IFRSs issued by the IASB and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance, and for such internal control as the directors of the Company determine is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the directors of the Company are responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors of the Company either intend to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with our agreed terms of engagement, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with HKSAAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with HKSAAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors of the Company.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partner on the audit resulting in the independent auditor's report is Kay Man Wo, Dick.

Any difference at the date of initial application is recognised in the opening retained earnings and comparative information has not been restated. Furthermore, in accordance with the transition provisions in IFRS 15, the Group has elected to apply the standard retrospectively only to contracts that are not completed at 1 January 2018. Accordingly, certain comparative information may not be comparable as comparative information was prepared under IAS 18 Revenue and IAS 11 Construction Contracts and the related interpretations.

The Group recognises revenue from contracts with customers under IFRS 15 from the following major sources:

2.1 IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers (continued)

Notes:

- (a) The Group’s contracts with customers for property sales are with no alternative use to the Group. Taking into account the contract terms, the legal and regulatory environment in the PRC, the contracts which are fully paid, non-mortgaged and online registered provide the Group an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date and hence should be recognised overtime upon application of IFRS 15. The corresponding tax effect has been adjusted in respective tax assets or liabilities, as appropriate.
- (b) The Group incurred incremental commission paid/payable to intermediaries/employees in connection with obtaining sales of properties contracts with customers. These amounts were previously expensed as incurred and were recognised in contract costs and amortised to selling expenses on a systematic basis that is consistent with the transfer to the customer of the goods or services to which the assets relate upon the initial application of IFRS 15. The corresponding tax effect has been adjusted in respective tax assets or liabilities, as appropriate.
- (c) The net effects arising from the initial application of IFRS 15 resulted in an increase in the carrying amounts of interests in associates/joint ventures respectively with corresponding adjustments to retained earnings.
- (d) The Group adjusted the transaction price for the effects of any significant financing component for the contracts if the timing of payments agreed (either explicitly or implicitly) provides the customer or the Group with a significant benefit of financing the transfer of goods or services to the customer.
- (e) At the date of initial application, unbilled revenue arising from project management contracts and decoration and design contracts are conditional on the Group’s achieving specified milestones as stipulated in the contracts, and hence were reclassified from trade and other receivables, deposits and prepayments and inventories to contract assets accordingly.
- (f) At the date of initial application, pre-sale deposits was reclassified to contract liabilities.

The following tables summarise the impacts of applying IFRS 15 on the Group’s consolidated statement of financial position as at 31 December 2018 and its consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income and consolidated statement of cash flows for the current year for each of the line items affected. Line items that were not affected by the changes have not been included.

2.2 IFRS 9 Financial Instruments

In the current year, the Group has applied IFRS 9 Financial Instruments and the related consequential amendments to other IFRSs. IFRS 9 introduces new requirements for 1) the classification and measurement of financial assets and financial liabilities, 2) expected credit losses (“ECL”) for financial assets, contract assets and financial guarantee contracts and 3) general hedge accounting.

The Group has applied IFRS 9 in accordance with the transition provisions set out in IFRS 9. i.e. applied the classification and measurement requirements (including impairment) retrospectively to instruments that have not been derecognised as at 1 January 2018 (date of initial application) and has not applied the requirements to instruments that have already been derecognised as at 1 January 2018. The difference between carrying amounts as at 31 December 2017 and the carrying amounts as at 1 January 2018 are recognised in the opening retained earnings and other components of equity, without restating comparative information.

Accordingly, certain comparative information may not be comparable as comparative information was prepared under IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement.

Accounting policies resulting from application of IFRS 9 are disclosed in note 3.

Notes:

(a) Available-for-sale investments

The Group elected to present in other comprehensive income (“OCI”) for the fair value changes of all its equity investments previously classified as available-for-sale investments. These investments are not held for trading and not expected to be sold in the foreseeable future. At the date of initial application of IFRS 9, all its equity investments were reclassified from available-for-sale investments to equity instruments designated at FVTOCI. The fair value gains (net of tax) relating to those unquoted equity investments previously carried at cost less impairment under IAS 39 were adjusted to revaluation reserve as at 1 January 2018 with corresponding adjustments to equity instruments designated at FVTOCI and deferred tax liabilities respectively. The fair value gains relating to those investments previously carried at fair value continued to accumulate in revaluation reserve.

(b) Impairment under ECL model

The Group applies the IFRS 9 simplified approach to measure ECL which uses a lifetime ECL for all contract assets and trade receivables. To measure the ECL, contract assets and trade receivables have been grouped based on shared credit risk characteristics and debtors’ aging. The contract assets relate to unbilled work in progress and have substantially the same risk characteristics as the trade receivables for the same types of contracts. The Group has therefore concluded that the expected loss rates for the trade receivables are a reasonable approximation of the loss rates for the contract assets.

Loss allowances for other financial assets at amortised cost mainly comprise of pledged bank deposits, bank balances, other receivables, deposits and amounts due from related parties, are measured on 12-month ECL (“12m ECL”) basis and there had been no significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, except for certain other receivables and amounts due from related parties which are measured on lifetime ECL basis as those credit risk had increased significantly since initial recognition.

As at 1 January 2018, the additional credit loss allowance has been recognised against retained earnings with corresponding tax effect being adjusted. The additional loss allowance is charged against the respective asset.

All loss allowances for financial assets including trade receivables and other financial assets at amortised cost as at 31 December 2017 reconcile to the opening loss allowance as at 1 January 2018 is as follows:

	Trade receivables	Other financial assets at amortised cost

2. Application of New and Amendments to International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRSs”) (continued)

2.4 New and amendments to IFRSs in issue but not yet effective: (continued)

Except for the new and amendments to IFRSs mentioned below, the directors of the Company anticipate that the application of all other new and amendments to IFRSs will have no material impact on the consolidated financial statements in the foreseeable future.

IFRS 16 Leases

IFRS 16 introduces a comprehensive model for the identification of lease arrangements and accounting treatments for both lessors and lessees. IFRS 16 will supersede IAS 17 Leases and the related interpretations when it becomes effective.

IFRS 16 distinguishes lease and service contracts on the basis of whether an identified asset is controlled by a customer. In addition, IFRS 16 requires sales and leaseback transactions to be determined based on the requirements of IFRS 15 as to whether the transfer of the relevant asset should be accounted as a sale. IFRS 16 also includes requirements relating to subleases and lease modifications.

Distinctions of operating leases and finance leases are removed for lessee accounting, and is replaced by a model where a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability have to be recognised for all leases by lessees, except for short-term leases and leases of low value assets.

The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost and subsequently measured at cost (subject to certain exceptions) less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, adjusted for any remeasurement of the lease liability. The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at that date. Subsequently, the lease liability is adjusted for interest and lease payments, as well as the impact of lease modifications, amongst others.

For the classification of cash flows, the Group currently present upfront prepaid lease payments as investing cash flows in relation to leasehold lands for own use and those classified as investment properties while operating lease payments are presented as operating cash flows. Upon application of IFRS 16, lease payments in relation to lease liability will be allocated into a principal and an interest portion which will be presented as financing cash flows by the Group, upfront prepaid lease payments will continue to be presented as investing or operating cash flows in accordance to the nature, as appropriate.

Other than certain requirements which are also applicable to lessor, IFRS 16 substantially carries forward the lessor accounting requirements in IAS 17, and continues to require a lessor to classify a lease either as an operating lease or a finance lease.

Furthermore, extensive disclosures are required by IFRS 16.

As at 31 December 2018, the Group has non-cancellable operating lease commitments of RMB222,828,000 as disclosed in note 39. A preliminary assessment indicates that these arrangements will meet the definition of a lease. Upon application of IFRS 16, the Group will recognise a right-of use asset and a corresponding liability in respect of all these leases unless they qualify for low value or short-term leases.

For the year ended 31 December 2018

The application of new requirements may result in changes in measurement, presentation and disclosure as indicated above. The Group intends to elect the practical expedient to apply IFRS 16 to contracts that were previously identified as leases applying IAS 17 and IFRIC-Int 4 Determining whether an arrangement contains a Lease and not apply this standard to contracts that were not previously identified as containing a lease applying IAS 17 and IFRIC-Int 4. Therefore, the Group will not reassess whether the contracts are, or contain a lease which already existed prior to the date of initial application. The Group also elected the practical expedient not to apply for leases for which the lease term ends within 12 months at the date of initial application. Furthermore, the Group intends to elect the modified retrospective approach for the application of IFRS 16 as lessee and will recognise the cumulative effect of initial application to opening retained earnings without restating comparative information.

Amendments to IFRS 3 Definition of a Business

The amendments clarify the definition of a business and provide additional guidance with the objective of assisting entities to determine whether a transaction should be accounted for as a business combination or an asset acquisition. Furthermore, an optional concentration test is introduced to permit a simplified assessment of whether an acquired set of activities and assets is not a business. The amendments will be mandatorily effective to the Group prospectively for acquisition transactions completed on or after 1 January 2020. The directors of the Company considered the amendments will have no material impact on the consolidated financial statements in the foreseeable future.

3. Principal Accounting Policies

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRSs. In addition, the consolidated financial statements include applicable disclosures required by the Rules Governing the Listing of Securities on The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (“Listing Rules”) and by the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance (“CO”).

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments and investment properties which are measured at fair values, as explained in the accounting policies set out below.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these consolidated financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share-based payment transactions that are within the scope of IFRS 2 Share-based Payment, leasing transactions that are within the scope of IAS 17 Leases, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as net realisable value in IAS 2 Inventories or value in use in IAS 36 Impairment of Assets.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

In addition, for financial reporting purposes, fair value measurements are categorised into Level 1, 2 or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within Level 1, that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the asset or liability.

The principal accounting policies are set out below.

Basis of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the financial statements of the Company and entities controlled by the Company (its subsidiaries). Control is achieved when the Company:

- has power over the investee;
- is exposed, or has rights, to variable returns from its involvement with the investee; and
- has the ability to use its power to affect its returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the three elements of control listed above.

When the Group has less than a majority of the voting rights of an investee, it has power over the investee when the voting rights are sufficient to give it the practical ability to direct the relevant activities of the investee unilaterally. The Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether or not the Group's voting rights in an investee are sufficient to give it power, including:

- the size of the Group's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of holdings of the other vote holders;
- potential voting rights held by the Group, other vote holders or other parties;
- rights arising from other contractual arrangements; and
- any additional facts and circumstances that indicate that the Group has, or does not have, the current ability to direct the relevant activities at the time that decisions need to be made, including voting patterns at previous shareholders' meetings.

Consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the Group obtains control over the subsidiary and ceases when the Group loses control of the subsidiary. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income from the date the Group gains control until the date when the Group ceases to control the subsidiary.

Profit or loss and each item of other comprehensive income are attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests. Total comprehensive income of subsidiaries is attributed to the owners of the Company and to the non-controlling interests even if this results in the non-controlling interests having a deficit balance.

When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policies.

All intragroup assets and liabilities, equity, income, expenses and cash flows relating to transactions between members of the Group are eliminated in full on consolidation.

Non-controlling interests in subsidiaries are presented separately from the Group's equity therein, which represent present ownership interests entitling their holders to a proportionate share of net assets of the relevant subsidiaries upon liquidation.

Changes in the Group's ownership interests in existing subsidiaries

Changes in the Group's interests in subsidiaries that do not result in the Group losing control over the subsidiaries are accounted for as equity transactions. The carrying amounts of the Group's relevant components of equity and the non-controlling interests are adjusted to reflect the changes in their relative interests in the subsidiaries, including re-attribution of relevant reserves between the Group and the non-controlling interests according to the Group's and the non-controlling interests' proportionate interests.

Any difference between the amount by which the non-controlling interests are adjusted, and the fair value of the consideration paid or received is recognised directly in equity and attributed to owners of the Company.

When the Group loses control of a subsidiary, the assets and liabilities of that subsidiary and non-controlling interests (if any) are derecognised. A gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss and is calculated as the difference between (i) the aggregate of the fair value of the consideration received and the fair value of any retained interest and (ii) the carrying amount of the assets (including goodwill), and liabilities of the subsidiary attributable to the owners of the Company. All amounts previously recognised in other comprehensive income in relation to that subsidiary are accounted for as if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities of the subsidiary (i.e. reclassified to profit or loss or transferred to another category of equity as specified/ permitted by applicable IFRSs). The fair value of any investment retained in the former subsidiary at the date when control is lost is regarded as the fair value on initial recognition for subsequent accounting under IFRS 9/IAS 39, when applicable, the cost on initial recognition of an investment in an associate or a joint venture.

Business combinations

Acquisitions of businesses are accounted for using the acquisition method. The consideration transferred in a business combination is measured at fair value, which is calculated as the sum of the acquisition-date fair values of the assets transferred by the Group, liabilities incurred by the Group to the former owners of the acquiree and the equity interests issued by the Group in exchange for control of the acquiree. Acquisition-related costs are generally recognised in profit or loss as incurred.

At the acquisition date, the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed are recognised at their fair value, except that:

- deferred tax assets or liabilities and liabilities or assets related to employee benefit arrangements are recognised and measured in accordance with IAS 12 Income Taxes and IAS 19 Employee Benefits respectively;
- liabilities or equity instruments related to share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree or share-based payment arrangements of the Group entered into to replace share-based payment arrangements of the acquiree are measured in accordance with IFRS 2 Share-based Payment at the acquisition date (see the accounting policy below); and
- assets (or disposal groups) that are classified as held for sale in accordance with IFRS 5 Non-current Assets Held for Sale and Discontinued Operations are measured in accordance with that Standard.

Goodwill is measured as the excess of the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree, and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held equity interest in the acquiree (if any) over the net amount of the identifiable assets acquired and the liabilities assumed as at acquisition date. If, after re-assessment, the net of the acquisition-date amounts of the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed exceeds the sum of the consideration transferred, the amount of any non-controlling interests in the acquiree and the fair value of the acquirer's previously held interest in the acquiree (if any), the excess is recognised immediately in profit or loss as a bargain purchase gain.

Non-controlling interests that are present ownership interests and entitle their holders to a proportionate share of the relevant subsidiary's net assets in the event of liquidation are initially measured either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate share of the recognised amounts of the acquiree's identifiable net assets. The choice of measurement basis is made on a transaction-by-transaction basis. Other types of non-controlling interests are measured at their fair value.

When a business combination is achieved in stages, the Group's previously held equity interest in the acquiree is remeasured to fair value at the acquisition date (i.e. the date when the Group obtains control), and the resulting gain or loss, if any, is recognised in profit or loss or other comprehensive income, as appropriate. Amounts arising from interests in the acquiree prior to the acquisition date that have previously been recognised in OCI and measured under IFRS 9/IAS 39 would be accounted for on the same basis as would be required if the Group had disposed directly of the previously held equity interest.

If the initial accounting for a business combination is incomplete by the end of the reporting period in which the combination occurs, the Group reports provisional amounts for the items for which the accounting is incomplete. Those provisional amounts are adjusted retrospectively during the measurement period (see above), or additional assets or liabilities are recognised, to reflect new information obtained about facts and circumstances that existed as of the acquisition date that, if known, would have affected the amounts recognised as of that date.

Acquisition of a subsidiary or a group of assets and liabilities not constituting a business

When the Group acquires a subsidiary or a group of assets and liabilities that do not constitute a business, the Group identifies and recognises the individual identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed by allocating the purchase price first to investment properties which are subsequently measured under fair value model and financial assets/financial liabilities at the respective fair values, the remaining balance of the purchase price is then allocated to the other identifiable assets and liabilities on the basis of their relative fair values at the date of purchase. Such a transaction does not give rise to goodwill or bargain purchase gain.

Goodwill

Goodwill arising on an acquisition of a business is carried at cost as established at the date of acquisition of the business (see the accounting policy above) less accumulated impairment losses, if any.

For the purposes of impairment testing, goodwill is allocated to each of the Group's cash-generating units that is expected to benefit from the synergies of the combination, which represent the lowest level at which the goodwill is monitored for internal management purposes and not larger than an operating segment.

A cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment annually or more frequently when there is indication that the unit may be impaired. For goodwill arising on an acquisition in a reporting period, the cash-generating unit to which goodwill has been allocated is tested for impairment before the end of that reporting period. If the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit is less than its carrying amount, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill and then to the other assets of the unit on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit.

On disposal of the relevant cash-generating unit, the attributable amount of goodwill is included in the determination of the amount of profit or loss on disposal. When the Group disposes of an operation within the cash-generating unit, the amount of goodwill disposed of is measured on the basis of the relative values of the operation disposed of and the portion of the cash-generating unit retained.

The Group's policy for goodwill arising on the acquisition of an associate and a joint venture is described below.

Investments in associates and joint ventures

An associate is an entity over which the Group has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

A joint venture is a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the joint arrangement. Joint control is the contractually agreed sharing of control of an arrangement, which exists only when decisions about the relevant activities require unanimous consent of the parties sharing control.

The results and assets and liabilities of associates and joint ventures are incorporated in these consolidated financial statements using the equity method of accounting. The financial statements of associates and joint ventures used for equity accounting purposes are prepared using uniform accounting policies as those of the Group for like transactions and events in similar circumstances. Under the equity method, an investment in an associate or a joint venture is initially recognised in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognise the Group's share of the profit or loss and other comprehensive income of the associate or joint venture. Changes in net assets of the associate or joint venture other than profit or loss and other comprehensive income are not accounted for unless such changes resulted in changes in ownership interest held by the Group. When the Group's share of losses of an associate or joint venture exceeds the Group's interest in that associate or joint venture (which includes any long-term interests that, in substance, form part of the Group's net investment in the associate or joint venture), the Group discontinues recognising its share of further losses. Additional losses are recognised only to the extent that the Group has incurred legal or constructive obligations or made payments on behalf of the associate or joint venture.

An investment in an associate or a joint venture is accounted for using the equity method from the date on which the investee becomes an associate or a joint venture. On acquisition of the investment in an associate or a joint venture, any excess of the cost of the investment over the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities of the investee is recognised as goodwill, which is included within the carrying amount of the investment. Any excess of the Group's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities over the cost of the investment, after reassessment, is recognised immediately in profit or loss in the period in which the investment is acquired.

The Group assesses whether there is an objective evidence that the interest in an associate or a joint venture may be impaired. When any objective evidence exists, the entire carrying amount of the investment (including goodwill) is tested for impairment in accordance with IAS 36 Impairment of Assets as a single asset by comparing its recoverable amount (higher of value in use and fair value less costs of disposal) with its carrying amount. Any impairment loss recognised forms part of the carrying amount of the investment. Any reversal of that impairment loss is recognised in accordance with IAS 36 to the extent that the recoverable amount of the investment subsequently increases.

When the Group ceases to have significant influence over an associate or joint control over a joint venture, its accounted for as a disposal of the entire interest in the investee with a resulting gain or loss being recognised in profit or loss. When the Group retains an interest in the former associate or joint venture and the retained interest is a financial asset within the scope of IFRS 9/IAS 39, the Group measures the retained interest at fair value at that date and the fair value is regarded as its fair value on initial recognition. The difference between the carrying amount of the associate or joint venture and the fair value of any retained interest and any proceeds from disposing of a part interest in the associate or joint venture is included in the determination of the gain or loss on disposal of the associate or joint venture. In addition, the Group accounts for all amounts previously recognised in OCI in relation to that associate or joint venture on the same basis as would be required if that associate or joint venture had directly disposed of the related assets or liabilities. Therefore, if a gain or loss previously recognised in OCI by that associate or joint venture would be reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities, the Group reclassifies the gain or loss from equity to profit or loss (as a reclassification adjustment) upon disposal or partial disposal of the relevant associate or joint venture.

The Group continues to use the equity method when an investment in an associate becomes an investment in a joint venture or an investment in a joint venture becomes an investment in an associate. There is no remeasurement to fair value upon such changes in ownership interests.

When the Group reduces its ownership interest in an associate or a joint venture but the Group continues to use the equity method, the Group reclassifies to profit or loss the proportion of the gain or loss that had previously been recognised in OCI relating to that reduction in ownership interest if that gain or loss would be reclassified to profit or loss on the disposal of the related assets or liabilities.

When a group entity transacts with an associate or a joint venture of the Group, profits and losses resulting from the transactions with the associate or joint venture are recognised in the Group's consolidated financial statements only to the extent of interests in the associate or joint venture that are not related to the Group.

Non-current assets held for sale

Non-current assets are classified as held for sale if their carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use. This condition is regarded as met only when the asset is available for immediate sale in its present condition subject only to terms that are usual and customary for sales of such asset and its sale is highly probable. Management must be committed to the sale, which should be expected to qualify for recognition as a completed sale within one year from the date of classification.

When the Group is committed to a sale plan involving loss of control of a subsidiary, all of the assets and liabilities of that subsidiary are classified as held for sale when the criteria described above are met, regardless of whether the Group will retain a non-controlling interest in the relevant subsidiary after the sale.

When the Group is committed to a sale plan involving disposal of an investment, or a portion of an investment, in an associate or joint venture, the investment or the portion of the investment that will be disposed of is classified as held for sale when the criteria described above are met, and the Group discontinues the use of the equity method in relation to the portion that is classified as held for sale from the time when the investment (or a portion of the investment) is classified as held for sale.

Non-current assets classified as held for sale are measured at the lower of their carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell, except for financial assets within the scope of IFRS 9/IAS 39, investment properties which continue to be measured in accordance with the accounting policies as set out in respective sections.

Revenue from contracts with customers (upon application of IFRS 15 in accordance with transitions in note 2)

Under IFRS 15, the Group recognises revenue when (or as) a performance obligation is satisfied, i.e. when "control" of the goods or services underlying the particular performance obligation is transferred to the customer.

A performance obligation represents a good or service (or a bundle of goods or services) that is distinct or a series of distinct goods or services that are substantially the same.

Control is transferred over time and revenue is recognised over time by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of the relevant performance obligation if one of the following criteria is met:

- the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Group's performance as the Group performs;
- the Group's performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the Group performs; or
- the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date.

Otherwise, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the distinct good or service.

Revenue from contracts with customers (upon application of IFRS 15 in accordance with transitions in note 2) (continued)

A contract asset represents the Group's right to consideration in exchange for goods or services that the Group has transferred to a customer that is not yet unconditional. It is assessed for impairment in accordance with IFRS 9. In contrast, a receivable represents the Group's unconditional right to consideration, i.e. only the passage of time is required before payment of that consideration is due.

A contract liability represents the Group's obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Group has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer.

A contract asset and a contract liability relating to the same contract are accounted for and presented on a net basis.

Over time revenue recognition: measurement of progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation

Input method

The progress towards complete satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured based on input method, which is to recognise revenue on the basis of the Group's efforts or inputs to the satisfaction of a performance obligation relative to the total expected inputs to the satisfaction of that performance obligation, that best depict the Group's performance in transferring control of goods or services.

Variable consideration

For project management contracts that contain variable consideration based on the future pre-sales amount of the project, the Group estimates the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled using either (a) the expected value method or (b) the most likely amount, depending on which method better predicts the amount of consideration to which the Group will be entitled.

The estimated amount of variable consideration is included in the transaction price only to the extent that it is highly probable that such an inclusion will not result in a significant revenue reversal in the future when the uncertainty associated with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved.

At the end of each reporting period, the Group updates the estimated transaction price (including updating its assessment of whether an estimate of variable consideration is constrained) to represent faithfully the circumstances present at the end of the reporting period and the changes in circumstances during the reporting period.

In determining the transaction price, the Group adjusts the promised amount of consideration for the effects of the time value of money if the timing of payments agreed (either explicitly or implicitly) provides the customer or the Group with a significant benefit of financing the transfer of goods or services to the customer. In those circumstances, the contract contains a significant financing component. A significant financing component may exist regardless of whether the promise of financing is explicitly stated in the contract or implied by the payment terms agreed to by the parties to the contract.

For contracts where the period between payment and transfer of the associated goods or services is less than one year, the Group applies the practical expedient of not adjusting the transaction price for any significant financing component.

For advance payments received from customers before the transfer of the associated goods or services in which the Group adjusts for the promised amount of consideration for a significant financing component, the Group applies a discount rate that would be reflected in a separate financing transaction between the Group and the customer at contract inception. The relevant interest expenses during the period between the advance payments were received and the transfer of the associated goods and services are accounted for on the same basis as other borrowing costs.

For contracts where the Group transferred the associated goods or services before payments from customers in which the Group adjusts for the promised amount of consideration for significant financing components, the Group applies a discount rate that would be reflected in a separate financing transaction between the Group and the customer at contract inception.

Incremental costs of obtaining a contract

Incremental costs of obtaining a contract are those costs that the Group incurs to obtain a contract with a customer that it would not have incurred if the contract had not been obtained.

The Group recognises sales commissions for property sales as an asset if it expects to recover these costs. The asset so recognised is subsequently amortised to selling expenses on a systematic basis that is consistent with the transfer to the customer of the goods or services to which the assets relate.

Revenue recognition (prior to 1 January 2018)

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable and represents amounts received or receivable for goods sold and services provided in the normal course of business, net of discounts and sales-related taxes.

Revenue from sales of properties in the ordinary course of business is recognised when the respective properties have been completed and delivered to the buyers. Deposits received from pre-sales of properties are carried as pre-sale deposits.

Revenue from sales of other goods is recognised when the goods are delivered and title has passed.

Service income is recognised when services are provided.

Comprehensive service income is recognised on sales or pre-sales of properties by comprehensive service users at agreed fee rates.

Dividend income from investments is recognised when the rights to receive payment have been established.

Interest income from a financial asset is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount on initial recognition.

The Group's accounting policy for recognition of revenue from operating leases is described in the accounting policy for leasing below.

Leases

Leases are classified as finance leases whenever the terms of the lease transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the lessee. All other leases are classified as operating leases.

The Group as lessor

Rental income from operating leases is recognised in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

The Group as lessee

Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Benefits received and receivable as an incentive to enter into an operating lease are recognised as a reduction of rental expense over the lease term on a straight-line basis.

Leasehold land and buildings

When the Group makes payments for a property interest which includes both leasehold land and building elements, the Group assesses the classification of each element separately based on the assessment as to whether substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of each element have been transferred to the Group, unless it is clear that both elements are operating leases in which case the entire property is accounted as an operating lease. Specifically, the entire consideration (including any lump-sum upfront payments) are allocated between the leasehold land and the building elements in proportion to the relative fair values of the leasehold interests in the land element and building element at initial recognition.

To the extent the allocation of the relevant payments can be made reliably, interest in leasehold land that is accounted for as an operating lease is presented as "prepaid lease payments" in the consolidated statement of financial position and is amortised over the lease term on a straight-line basis except for those that are classified and accounted for as investment properties under the fair value model. When the payments cannot be allocated reliably between the leasehold land and building elements, the entire property is generally classified as if the leasehold land is under finance lease.

Foreign currencies

In preparing the financial statements of each individual group entity, transactions in currencies other than the functional currency of that entity (foreign currencies) are recorded in the respective functional currency (i.e. the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates) at the rates of exchange prevailing on the dates of the transactions. At the end of the reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rates prevailing on the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items, and on the translation of monetary items, are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale.

Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.

All other borrowing costs are recognised in profit or loss in the year in which they are incurred.

Government grants

Government grants are not recognised until there is reasonable assurance that the Group will comply with the conditions attaching to them and that the grants will be received.

Government grants are recognised in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the periods in which the Group recognises as expenses the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. Government grants that are receivable as compensation for expenses or losses already incurred or for the purpose of giving immediate financial support to the Group with no future related costs are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they become receivable.

Retirement benefit costs

The Group participates in state-managed retirement benefit schemes, which are defined contribution schemes, pursuant to which the Group pays a fixed percentage of its qualifying staff's wages as contributions to the plans. Payments to such retirement benefit schemes are charged as an expense when employees have rendered service entitling them to the contributions.

Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are recognised at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid as and when employees rendered the services. All short-term employee benefits are recognised as an expense unless another IFRS requires or permits the inclusion of the benefit in the cost of an asset.

A liability is recognised for benefits accruing to employees in respect of wages and salaries and annual leave in the period the related service is rendered at the undiscounted amount of the amount of benefits expected to be paid in exchange for that service.

Liabilities recognised in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related service.

Taxation

Income tax expense represents the sum of the tax currently payable and deferred tax.

The tax currently payable is based on taxable profit for the year. Taxable profit differs from "profit before taxation" as reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income because it excludes items of income and expense that are taxable or deductible in other years and it further excludes items that are never taxable or deductible. The Group's liability for current tax is calculated using tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax is recognised on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the consolidated financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are generally recognised for all deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such deferred tax assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition (other than in a business combination) of assets and liabilities in a transaction that affects neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit. In addition, deferred tax liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for taxable temporary differences associated with investments in subsidiaries and associates, and interests in joint ventures, except where the Group is able to control the reversal of the temporary difference and it is probable that the temporary difference will not reverse in the foreseeable future. Deferred tax assets arising from deductible temporary differences associated with such investments and interests are only recognised to the extent that it is probable that there will be sufficient taxable profits against which to utilise the benefits of the temporary differences and they are expected to reverse in the foreseeable future.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of the reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset is realised, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

The measurement of deferred tax liabilities and assets reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Group expects, at the end of the reporting period, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities.

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax liabilities or deferred tax assets for investment properties that are measured using the fair value model, the carrying amounts of such properties are presumed to be recovered entirely through sale, unless the presumption is rebutted. The presumption is rebutted when the investment property is depreciable and is held within a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment property over time, rather than through sale.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and when they relate to income taxes levied by the same taxation authority and the Group intends to settle its current tax assets and liabilities on a net basis.

Current and deferred tax is recognised in profit or loss, except when it relates to items that are recognised in OCI or directly in equity, in which case the current and deferred tax is also recognised in OCI or directly in equity respectively. Where current tax or deferred tax arises from the initial accounting for a business combination, the tax effect is included in the accounting for the business combination.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment, including land and buildings held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purposes other than construction in progress, are stated in the consolidated statement of financial position at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses.

Property, plant and equipment in the course of construction for production, supply or administrative purposes are carried at cost less any recognised impairment loss. Costs include professional fees and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalised in accordance with the Group's accounting policy and, where appropriate, the amortisation of prepaid lease payments provided during the construction period. Such properties are classified to the appropriate category of property, plant and equipment when completed and ready for intended use. Depreciation of these assets, on the same basis as other property assets, commences when the assets are ready for their intended use.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost of items of property, plant and equipment other than construction in progress less their residual values over their estimated useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognised in profit or loss.

Investment properties

Investment properties are properties (including the leasehold interest under an operating lease for a property which would otherwise meet the definition of an investment property) held to earn rentals and/or for capital appreciation.

Investment properties are initially measured at cost, including any directly attributable expenditure. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are measured at their fair values using the fair value model. Gains or losses arising from changes in the fair value of investment property are included in profit or loss for the period in which they arise.

Construction costs incurred for investment properties under construction are capitalised as part of the carrying amount of the investment properties under construction.

An investment property is derecognised upon disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use or no future economic benefits are expected from its disposals. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in profit or loss in the year in which the item is derecognised.

Impairment of tangible assets and contract costs

At the end of the reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible assets and contract costs to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any.

When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an asset individually, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash – generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Before the Group recognises an impairment loss for assets capitalised as contract costs under IFRS 15, the Group assesses and recognises any impairment loss on other assets related to the relevant contracts in accordance with applicable standards. Then, impairment loss, if any, for assets capitalised as contract costs is recognised to the extent the carrying amounts exceeds the remaining amount of consideration that the Group expects to receive in exchange for related goods or services less the costs which relate directly to providing those goods or services that have not been recognised as expenses. The assets capitalised as contract costs are then included in the carrying amount of the cash-generating unit to which they belong for the purpose of evaluating impairment of that cash-generating unit.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset or a cash – generating unit for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. In allocating the impairment loss, the impairment loss is allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill (if applicable) and then to the other assets on a pro-rata basis based on the carrying amount of each asset in the unit. The carrying amount of an asset is not reduced below the highest of its fair value less costs of disposal (if measurable), its value in use (if determinable) and zero. The amount of the impairment loss that would otherwise have been allocated to the asset is allocated pro rata to the other assets of the unit. An impairment loss is recognised as an expense immediately.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised as gain immediately.

Properties for development

Properties for development, representing leasehold land located in the PRC for development for future sale in the ordinary course of business, are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost comprises the costs of land use rights and other directly attributable costs. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. Properties for development are transferred to properties under development upon commencement of development.

Properties under development

Properties under development, representing leasehold land and buildings located in the PRC under development for future sale in the ordinary course of business, are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost comprises the costs of land use rights, construction costs, borrowing costs capitalised and other direct development expenditure. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale. Properties under development are transferred to completed properties for sale upon completion of development.

Completed properties for sale

Completed properties for sale are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost comprises the costs of land use rights, construction costs, borrowing costs capitalised and other direct development expenditure. Net realisable value represents the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

The Group transfers a property from completed properties for sale to investment property when there is a change of intention to hold the property to earn rentals or/and for capital appreciation rather than for sale in the ordinary course of business, which is evidenced by the commencement of an operating lease to another party. Any difference between the fair value of the property at the date of transfer and its previous carrying amount is recognised in profit or loss.

Inventories

Inventories other than properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is calculated using the weighted average method.

Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, and it is probable that the Group will be required to settle that obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are measured at the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Where a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows (where the effect of the time value of money is material).

Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when a group entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. All regular way purchases or sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised on a trade date basis. Regular way purchases or sales are purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within the time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place.

Financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value except for trade receivables arising from contracts with customers which are initially measured in accordance with IFRS 15 since 1 January 2018. Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised immediately in profit or loss.

The effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or financial liability and of allocating interest income and interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts and payments (including all fees and points paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial asset or financial liability, or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Financial assets

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets (upon application of IFRS 9 in accordance with transitions in note 2)
Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at amortised cost:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Financial assets that meet the following conditions are subsequently measured at FVTOCI:

- the financial asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling; and
- the contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

All other financial assets are subsequently measured at financial assets at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL"), except that at the date of initial application/initial recognition of a financial asset the Group may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in fair value of an equity investment in OCI if that equity investment is neither held for trading nor contingent consideration recognised by an acquirer in a business combination to which IFRS 3 Business Combinations applies.

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets (upon application of IFRS 9 in accordance with transitions in note 2) (continued)

A financial asset is classified as held for trading if:

- it has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the near term; or
- on initial recognition it is a part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that the Group manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- it is a derivative that is not designated and effective as a hedging instrument.

In addition, the Group may irrevocably designate a financial asset that are required to be measured at the amortised cost or FVTOCI as measured at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch.

- (i) Amortised cost and interest income
Interest income is recognised using the effective interest method for financial assets measured subsequently at amortised cost. Interest income is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset, except for financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired. For financial assets that have subsequently become credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the amortised cost of the financial asset from the next reporting period. If the credit risk on the credit impaired financial instrument improves so that the financial asset is no longer credit-impaired, interest income is recognised by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset from the beginning of the reporting period following the determination that the asset is no longer credit impaired.
- (ii) Equity instruments designated as at FVTOCI
Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI are subsequently measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognised in OCI and accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve; and are not subject to impairment assessment. The cumulative gain or loss will not be reclassified to profit or loss on disposal of the equity investments, and will be transferred to retained earnings.

Dividends from these investments in equity instruments are recognised in profit or loss when the Group's right to receive the dividends is established, unless the dividends clearly represent a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Dividends are included in the "other income" line item in profit or loss.

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets (upon application of IFRS 9 in accordance with transitions in note 2) (continued)

- (iii) Financial assets at FVTPL
Financial assets that do not meet the criteria for being measured at amortised cost or FVTOCI or designated as FVTOCI are measured at FVTPL.

Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any fair value gains or losses recognised in profit or loss. The net gain or loss recognised in profit or loss excludes any dividend or interest earned on the financial asset and is included in the "other gains and losses" line item.

Impairment of financial assets (upon application of IFRS 9 in accordance with transitions in note 2)

The Group recognises a loss allowance for ECL on financial assets which are subject to impairment under IFRS 9 (including trade receivables, other receivables, amounts due from related parties, pledged bank deposits, bank balances), contract assets and financial guarantee contracts. The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition.

Lifetime ECL represents the ECL that will result from all possible default events over the expected life of the relevant instrument. In contrast, 12-month ECL ("12m ECL") represents the portion of lifetime ECL that is expected to result from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date. Assessment are done based on the Group's historical credit loss experience, adjusted for factors that are specific to the debtors, general economic conditions and an assessment of both the current conditions at the reporting date as well as the forecast of future conditions.

The Group always recognises lifetime ECL for trade receivables and contract assets. The ECL on these assets are assessed individually for debtors with significant balances and/or collectively using a provision matrix with appropriate groupings.

For all other instruments, the Group measures the loss allowance equal to 12m ECL, unless when there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, the Group recognises lifetime ECL. The assessment of whether lifetime ECL should be recognised is based on significant increases in the likelihood or risk of a default occurring since initial recognition.

(i) Significant increase in credit risk

In assessing whether the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the reporting date with the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument as at the date of initial recognition. In making this assessment, the Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort.

In particular, the following information is taken into account when assessing whether credit risk has increased significantly:

- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the financial instrument's external (if available) or internal credit rating;
- significant deterioration in external market indicators of credit risk, e.g. a significant increase in the credit spread, the credit default swap prices for the debtor;
- existing or forecast adverse changes in business, financial or economic conditions that are expected to cause a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations;
- an actual or expected significant deterioration in the operating results of the debtor;
- an actual or expected significant adverse change in the regulatory, economic, or technological environment of the debtor that results in a significant decrease in the debtor's ability to meet its debt obligations.

Irrespective of the outcome of the above assessment, the Group presumes that the credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition when contractual payments are more than 30 days past due, unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information that demonstrates otherwise.

Despite the foregoing, the Group assumes that the credit risk on a debt instrument has not increased significantly since initial recognition if the debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk at the reporting date. A debt instrument is determined to have low credit risk if i) it has a low risk of default, ii) the borrower has a strong capacity to meet its contractual cash flow obligations in the near term and iii) adverse changes in economic and business conditions in the longer term may, but will not necessarily, reduce the ability of the borrower to fulfil its contractual cash flow obligations. The Group considers pledged bank deposits and bank balances to have low credit risk because the counterparties are banks with high credit ratings assigned by international credit-rating agencies or with a good reputation.

For financial guarantee contracts, the date that the Group becomes a party to the irrevocable commitment is considered to be the date of initial recognition for the purposes of assessing the financial instrument for impairment. In assessing whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition of financial guarantee contracts, the Group considers the changes in the risk that the specified debtor will default on the contract.

The Group regularly monitors the effectiveness of the criteria used to identify whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk and revises them as appropriate to ensure that the criteria are capable of identifying significant increase in credit risk before the amount becomes past due.

(ii) Definition of default

For internal credit risk management, the Group considers an event of default occurs when information developed internally or obtained from external sources indicates that the debtor is unlikely to pay its creditors, including the Group, in full (without taking into account any collaterals held by the Group).

Irrespective of the above, the Group considers that default has occurred when a financial asset is more than 90 days past due unless the Group has reasonable and supportable information to demonstrate that a more lagging default criterion is more appropriate.

(iii) Credit-impaired financial assets

A financial asset is credit-impaired when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of that financial asset have occurred. Evidence that a financial asset is credit impaired includes observable data about the following events:

- (a) significant financial difficulty of the issuer or the borrower;
- (b) a breach of contract, such as a default or past due event;
- (c) the lender(s) of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession(s) that the lender(s) would not otherwise consider; or
- (d) it is becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation.

(iv) Write-off policy

The Group writes off a financial asset when there is information indicating that the counterparty is in severe financial difficulty and there is no realistic prospect of recovery, for example, when the counterparty has been placed under liquidation or has entered into bankruptcy proceedings. Financial assets written off may still be subject to enforcement activities under the Group's recovery procedures, taking into account legal advice where appropriate. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event. Any subsequent recoveries are recognised in profit or loss.

(v) Measurement and recognition of ECL

The measurement of ECL is a function of the probability of default, loss given default (i.e. the magnitude of the loss if there is a default) and the exposure at default. The assessment of the probability of default and loss given default is based on historical data adjusted by forward-looking information. Estimation of ECL reflects an unbiased and probability-weighted amount that is determined with the respective risks of default occurring as the weights.

Generally, the ECL is the difference between all contractual cash flows that are due to the Group in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Group expects to receive, discounted at the effective interest rate determined at initial recognition.

For a financial guarantee contract, the Group is required to make payments only in the event of a default by the debtor in accordance with the terms of the instrument that is guaranteed. Accordingly, the expected losses is the present value of the expected payments to reimburse the holder for a credit loss that it incurs less any amounts that the Group expects to receive from the holder, the debtor or any other party.

Where ECL is measured on a collective basis or cater for cases where evidence at the individual instrument level may not yet be available, the financial instruments are grouped on the following basis:

- Nature of financial instruments (i.e. the Group's trade receivables, other receivables and amounts due from related parties are each assessed as a separate group);
- Past-due status;
- Nature, size and industry of debtors; and
- External credit ratings where available.

The grouping is regularly reviewed by management to ensure the constituents of each group continue to share similar credit risk characteristics.

Interest income is calculated based on the gross carrying amount of the financial asset unless the financial asset is credit impaired, in which case interest income is calculated based on amortised cost of the financial asset.

For financial guarantee contracts, the loss allowances are recognised at the higher of the amount of the loss allowance determined in accordance with IFRS 9; and the amount initially recognised less, where appropriate, cumulative amount of income recognised over the guarantee period.

Except for financial guarantee contracts, the Group recognises an impairment gain or loss in profit or loss for all financial instruments by adjusting their carrying amount, with the exception of trade receivables where the corresponding adjustment is recognised through a loss allowance account.

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets (before application of IFRS 9 on 1 January 2018)

The Group's financial assets are classified into the following specified categories: FVTPL, loans and receivables and available-for-sale investments. The classification depends on the nature and purpose of the financial assets and is determined at the time of initial recognition.

(i) Financial assets at FVTPL

Financial assets are classified as at FVTPL when the financial asset is either (i) held for trading or (ii) it is designated as at FTVPL.

A financial asset is classified as held for trading if:

- it has been acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the near term; or
- on initial recognition it is a part of a portfolio of identified financial instruments that the Group manages together and has a recent actual pattern of short-term profit-taking; or
- it is a derivative that is not designated and effective as a hedging instrument.

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial assets (before application of IFRS 9 on 1 January 2018) (continued)

- (i) Financial assets at FVTPL (continued)
Financial assets at FVTPL are stated at fair value, with any gains or losses arising on remeasurement recognised in profit or loss. Fair value is determined in the manner described in note 46(c).
- (ii) Loans and receivables
Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Subsequent to initial recognition, loans and receivables (including trade and other receivables, amounts due from related parties, pledged bank deposits, bank balances and cash) are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any identified impairment losses (see accounting policy on impairment loss on financial assets below).
- (iii) Available-for-sale investments
Available-for-sale investments are non-derivatives that are either designated or not classified as financial assets at FVTPL, loans and receivables or held-to-maturity investments.

Equity held by the Group that are classified as available-for-sale and are traded in an active market are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period except for unquoted equity investments whose fair value cannot be reliably measured. Dividends on available-for-sale equity instruments are recognised in profit or loss when the Group's right to receive the dividends is established. Other changes in the carrying amount of available-for-sale investments are recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading of investments revaluation reserve. When the investment is disposed of or is determined to be impaired, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve is reclassified to profit or loss.

For available-for-sale equity investments that do not have a quoted market price in an active market and whose fair value cannot be reliably measured, they are measured at cost less any identified impairment losses at the end of the reporting period (see accounting policy on impairment loss on financial assets below).

Impairment of financial assets (before application of IFRS 9 on 1 January 2018)

Financial assets other than those FVTPL are assessed for indicators of impairment at the end of the reporting period. Financial assets are considered to be impaired where there is objective evidence that, as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the financial asset, the estimated future cash flows of the financial assets have been affected.

For available-for-sale equity investments, a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value of that investment below cost is considered to be objective evidence of impairment.

For all other financial assets, objective evidence of impairment could include:

- significant financial difficulty of the issuer or counterparty; or
- breach of contract, such as default or delinquency in interest or principal payments; or
- it becoming probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or financial re-organisation; or
- the disappearance of an active market for that financial asset because of financial difficulties.

For certain categories of financial assets, such as trade and other receivables, assets that are assessed not to be impaired individually are, in addition, assessed for impairment on a collective basis. Objective evidence of impairment for a portfolio of receivables could include the Group's past experience of collecting payments, an increase in the number of delayed payments in the portfolio past the average credit period of 90 days, observable changes in national or local economic conditions that correlate with default on receivables.

For financial assets carried at amortised cost, the amount of the impairment loss recognised is the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate.

For financial assets carried at cost, the amount of the impairment loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset. Such impairment loss will not be reversed in subsequent periods.

The carrying amount of the financial asset is reduced by the impairment loss directly for all financial assets with the exception of trade and other receivables, where the carrying amount is reduced through the use of an allowance account. Changes in the carrying amount of the allowance account are recognised in profit or loss. When a trade or other receivable is considered uncollectible, it is written off against the allowance account. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited to profit or loss.

When an available-for-sale investment is considered to be impaired, cumulative gains or losses previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss in the period.

For financial assets measured at amortised cost, if, in a subsequent period, the amount of impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss to the extent that the carrying amount of the asset at the date the impairment is reversed does not exceed what the amortised cost would have been had the impairment not been recognised.

In respect of available-for-sale equity investments, impairment losses previously recognised in profit or loss are not reversed through profit or loss. Any increase in fair value subsequent to an impairment loss is recognised in OCI.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset to another entity. If the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Group recognises its retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay. If the Group retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Group continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralised borrowing for the proceeds received.

On derecognition of a financial asset measured at amortised cost, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable is recognised in profit or loss.

On derecognition of an investment in equity instrument which the Group has elected on initial recognition to measure at FVTOCI upon application of IFRS 9, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the investments revaluation reserve is not reclassified to profit or loss, but is transferred to retained earnings.

On derecognition of an available-for-sale investment the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in the available-for-sale revaluation reserve is reclassified to profit or loss.

Financial liabilities and equity

Classification as debt or equity

Debt and equity instruments issued by a group entity are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with substance of the contractual arrangements entered into and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of the Group after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Group are recognised at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Repurchase of the Company's own equity instruments is recognised and deducted directly in equity. No gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss on the purchase, sale, issue or cancellation of the Company's own equity instruments.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost

Financial liabilities at amortised cost including bank and other borrowings, trade and other payables, amounts due to related parties, liability portion of senior notes, corporate debt instruments and receipts under securitisation arrangements are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest method.

Senior notes

Senior notes issued by the Company that contain both liability and early redemption option (which is not closely related to the host contract) are classified separately into respective items on initial recognition. At the date of issue, both the liability and early redemption option components are recognised at fair value.

In subsequent periods, the liability component of the senior notes is carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The early redemption option is measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in profit or loss.

Transaction costs that relate to the issue of the senior notes are allocated to the liability and early redemption option components in proportion to their relative fair values. Transaction costs relating to the early redemption option are charged to profit or loss immediately. Transaction costs relating to the liability component are included in the carrying amount of the liability portion and amortised over the period of the senior notes using the effective interest method.

Corporate bonds

Corporate bonds issued by a subsidiary of the Group that contain both liability and written put option (which is closely related to the host contract) are not separated into host contract and embedded derivatives on initial recognition. At the date of issue, the corporate bonds are recognised at fair value.

In subsequent periods, the corporate bonds are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Transaction costs that relate to the issue of the corporate bonds are included in the carrying amount of the corporate bonds and amortised over the period of the corporate bonds using the effective interest method.

Receipts under securitisation arrangements

Receipts under securitisation arrangements are recognised initially at fair value, net of transaction costs incurred and are subsequently stated at amortised cost, any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in profit or loss over the period using the effective interest method.

Transaction costs are included in the carrying amount of the receipts under assets backed securitization and amortised over the period of the arrangements using the effective interest method.

Perpetual Securities

Perpetual Securities issued by the Group, which includes no contractual obligation for the Group to deliver cash or another financial asset to the holders or to exchange financial assets or financial liabilities with the holders under conditions that are potentially unfavorable to the Group, are classified as equity instruments and are initially recorded at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Financial guarantee contracts

A financial guarantee contract is a contract that requires the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payments when due in accordance with the terms of a debt instrument. Financial guarantee contract liabilities are measured initially at their fair values. It is subsequently measured at the higher of:

- the amount of the loss allowance determined in accordance with IFRS 9 (since 1 January 2018)/IAS 37 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets (before application of IFRS 9 on 1 January 2018); and
- the amount initially recognised less, where appropriate, cumulative amortisation recognised over the guarantee period.

Derivative financial instruments

Derivatives are initially recognised at fair value at the date when derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of the reporting period. The resulting gain or loss is recognised in profit or loss.

Generally, multiple embedded derivatives in a single instrument that are separated from the host contracts are treated as a single compound embedded derivative unless those derivatives relate to different risk exposures and are readily separable and independent of each other.

Embedded derivatives (under IFRS 9 since 1 January 2018)

Derivatives embedded in hybrid contracts that contain financial asset hosts within the scope of IFRS 9 are not separated. The entire hybrid contract is classified and subsequently measured in its entirety as either amortised cost or fair value as appropriate.

Derivatives embedded in non-derivative host contracts that are not financial assets within the scope of IFRS 9 are treated as separate derivatives when they meet the definition of a derivative, their risks and characteristics are not closely related to those of the host contracts and the host contracts are not measured at FVTPL.

Embedded derivatives (before application of IFRS 9 on 1 January 2018)

Derivatives embedded in non-derivative host contracts are treated as separate derivatives when they meet the definition of a derivative, their risks and characteristics are not closely related to those of the host contracts and the host contracts are not measured at FVTPL.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Group derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Group's obligations are discharged, cancelled or they have expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable is recognised in profit or loss.

Share-based payment transactions

Equity-settled share-based payment transactions

Share options granted to employees

Equity-settled share-based payments to employees and others providing similar services are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments at the grant date.

The fair value of the equity-settled share-based payments determined at the grant date without taking into consideration all non-market vesting conditions is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, based on the Group's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest, with a corresponding increase in equity (share options reserve). At the end of each reporting period, the Group revises its estimate of the number of equity instruments expected to vest based on assessment of all relevant non-market vesting conditions. The impact of the revision of the original estimates, if any, is recognised in profit or loss such that the cumulative expense reflects the revised estimate, with a corresponding adjustment to the share options reserve. For share options that vest immediately at the date of grant, the fair value of the share options granted is expensed immediately to profit or loss.

At the time when the share options are exercised, the amount previously recognised in share option reserve will be transferred to share premium. When the share options are forfeited after the vesting date or are still not exercised at the expiry date, the amount previously recognised in share option reserve will continue to be held in share option reserve.

4. Critical Accounting Judgements and Key Sources of Estimation Uncertainty

Critical judgements in applying accounting policies

The critical judgements, apart from those involving estimations (see below), that the directors have made in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies and that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the consolidated financial statements are disclosed below.

Timing of revenue recognition

Revenue from property sales is recognised over time when the Group's performance does not create an asset with an alternative use to the Group and the Group has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date; otherwise, revenue is recognised at a point in time when the customer obtains control of the completed property. The Group may not change or substitute the property unit or redirect the property unit for another use due to the contractual restrictions with the customer and thus the property unit does not have an alternative use to the Group. However, whether there is an enforceable right to payment depends on the terms of sales contract and the interpretation of the applicable laws that apply to the contract. Such determination requires significant judgments. The Group has obtained legal counsel opinion regarding the enforceability of the right to payment for sales contracts. Management uses judgments, based on legal counsel opinion, to classify sales contracts into those with right to payment and those without the right.

The Group recognises property sales revenue over time by reference to the progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation at the reporting date. The progress is measured based on the Group's efforts or inputs to the satisfaction of the performance obligation, by reference to the contract costs incurred up to the end of reporting period as a percentage of total estimated costs for each property unit in the contract. The Group calculated the cost allocation based on phases of the projects and saleable floor areas. Significant judgments and estimations are required in determining the completeness of the estimated total costs and the accuracy of progress towards complete satisfaction of the performance obligation at the reporting date. The Group has a standard cost budgeting and estimate completion process in which management reviews the development progress and execution of the performance obligations. As part of this process, management reviews information including but not limited to, the cost occurred and accrued to achieve the schedule. Changes in cost estimates in future periods can have effect on the Group's revenue recognised. In making the above estimations, the Group relies on past experience and work of contractors and, if appropriate, surveyors. The Group recognised property sales revenue over time and a point in time amounted to RMB45,937,061,000 and RMB9,337,145,000 respectively for the year ended 31 December 2018.

Deferred taxation on investment properties

For the purposes of measuring deferred tax liabilities or deferred tax assets arising from investment properties that are measured using the fair value model, the directors have reviewed the Group's investment property portfolio and concluded that the Group's investment properties are not held under a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment properties over time, rather than through sale. Therefore, in measuring the Group's deferred taxation on investment properties, the directors have determined that the presumption that the carrying amounts of investment properties measured using the fair value model are recovered entirely through sale is not rebutted. As a result, the Group has recognised deferred taxes of both enterprise income tax and land appreciation tax on changes in fair value of investment properties.

Key sources of estimation uncertainty

The key assumptions concerning the future, and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are disclosed below.

For the year ended 31 December 2018

Net realisable value for properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale

Properties for development, properties under development and completed properties remaining unsold at the end of each reporting period are stated at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Net realisable value for properties for development and properties under development is determined by reference to management estimates of the selling price based on prevailing market conditions, less applicable variable selling expenses and the anticipated costs to completion. Net realisable value for completed properties for sale is determined by reference to management estimates of the selling price based on prevailing market conditions, less applicable variable selling expenses. During the course of their assessment, the management will also make reference to property valuations conducted by independent qualified professional valuers based on comparable market prices. The management are required to revise these estimates if there is a change in market condition or demand. If actual market conditions are less favourable than those projected by management, additional adjustments to the value of properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale may be required. As at 31 December 2018, the carrying amounts of properties for development, properties under development and completed properties for sale are RMB22,842,799,000 (2017: RMB25,467,537,000), RMB117,876,867,000 (2017: RMB83,149,261,000) and RMB10,972,736,000 (2017: RMB20,650,760,000) respectively (net of accumulated impairment losses of RMB56,454,000 (2017: RMB nil), RMB270,351,000 (2017: RMB nil) and RMB379,741,000 (2017: RMB386,330,000) respectively).

Fair value of investment properties

Investment properties are carried in the consolidated statement of financial position at 31 December 2018 at their fair value of approximately RMB4,066,128,000 (2017: RMB2,716,396,000).

The fair value was based on valuation on these properties conducted by the independent qualified professional valuers using property valuation techniques which adopt the investment approach by capitalising the net rental income derived from the existing tenancies with due provision for the reversionary income potential of the property interests, or where appropriate, by direct comparison approach by making reference to comparable sales transactions as available in the relevant markets. Favourable or unfavourable changes to the assumptions such as rental yield and estimation of future rentals would result in changes in the fair value of the Group's investment properties and corresponding adjustments to the amount of gain or loss reported in the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income.

Land Appreciation Tax

The provision for Land Appreciation Tax ("LAT") amounting to RMB5,520,141,000 (2017: RMB3,463,172,000) (included in income taxes payable) is estimated and made according to the requirements set forth in the relevant PRC tax laws and regulations. The actual LAT liabilities are subject to the determination by the tax authorities upon completion of the property development projects and the tax authorities might disagree with the basis on which the provision for LAT is calculated. Accordingly, significant judgment is required in determining the amount of land appreciation and its related income tax provisions. The Group recognises land appreciation tax based on management's best estimates. The final tax outcome could be different from the amounts that were initially recorded, and these differences will impact the income tax expense and the related income tax provisions in the periods in which such tax is finalised with the local tax authorities.

ECL allowance

The Group recognises a loss allowance for ECL on financial assets, including trade receivables, other receivables, amount due from related parties, pledged bank deposits, bank balances, contract assets and financial guarantee contracts, which are subject to impairment under IFRS 9. The amount of ECL is updated at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition. Significant judgements and estimations are required in determining the impairment assessment including the judgements on grouping basis for the provision matrix and the estimations on the expected loss rates used to calculate the ECL allowance. As at 31 December 2018, the carrying amount of trade receivables, contract assets, and other receivables and amounts due from related parties are RMB878,236,000, RMB1,887,085,000 and RMB35,797,417,000 respectively (net of accumulated ECL impairment loss of RMB101,266,000, RMB nil, and RMB2,593,247,000 respectively).

Impairment of goodwill

Determining whether goodwill is impaired requires an estimation of the value in use of the cash-generating units to which goodwill has been allocated. The value in use calculation requires the directors to estimate the future cash flows expected to arise from the cash-generating unit and a suitable discount rate in order to calculate present value. Where the discounted future cash flow estimations are less than expected, a material impairment loss may arise. The carrying amount of goodwill at 31 December 2018 was RMB769,241,000 (2017: RMB769,241,000) (net of accumulated impairment loss of RMB nil (2017: RMB nil)). Details of the impairment loss calculation are set out in note 17.

Coupon rate of the corporate bonds

The corporate bonds amounting to RMB11,098,976,000 (2017: RMB6,936,088,000) contain coupon rate adjustment right that allow the issuer of the corporate bonds to adjust the coupon rates of the remaining outstanding bonds under certain terms and conditions. The corporate bonds also contain written put options granting the investors of the corporate bonds right to sell back the bonds that will be triggered with the exercise of the Coupon Rate Adjustment Right. As at the reporting date of the consolidated financial statements, the Group had no plan nor intention to exercise the Coupon Rate Adjustment Right of the corporate bonds, therefore the effective interest rate charged for the year on the corporate bonds was calculated according to the original coupon rates and maturity dates of the corporate bonds. If the Group decided to exercise the Coupon Rate Adjustment Right of the corporate bonds, the effective interest rate would be different because the coupon rates of any remaining outstanding corporate bonds would be adjusted and the corporate bonds would become immediately repayable. Details of the corporate bonds are set out in note 33.

(ii) Performance obligations for contracts with customers

Property sales

Revenue from property sales is recognised at a point in time in the ordinary course of business when the customers obtain control of the completed properties (ie. when the respective properties have been completed and delivered to the customers) except for revenue from certain properties which have no alternative use to the Group due to contractual reasons and the Group has an enforceable right to payment from the customer for performance completed to date is recognised over time in accordance with the input method for measuring progress.

The Group receives 20%-80% of the contract value as deposits from customers when they sign the sale and purchase agreement. However, depending on market conditions, the Group may offer customers a discount compared to the listed sales price, provided that the customers agree to pay the balance of the consideration early while construction is still ongoing. Such advance payment result in contract liabilities being recognised until the corresponding revenue is recognised.

The Group considers certain advance payment contain significant financing component and accordingly the amount of consideration is adjusted for the effects of the time value of money taking into consideration the credit characteristics of the Group. As this accrual increases the amount of the contract liability during the period of construction, it increases the amount of revenue recognised.

Design and decoration service and project management service

Revenue from design and decoration service and project management service is recognised over time on input method based on the proportion of contract costs incurred for work performed to date relative to the estimated total contract costs.

The design and decoration service and project management service fees are invoiced to the clients periodically on an agreed-upon payment schedule and/or milestone between the customers and the Group. The Group recognised a contract asset over the period in which the design and decoration service and project management service are performed representing the Group's right to consideration for the services performed because the rights are conditional on the Group's future performance in achieving specified milestones. Contract asset is transferred to trade receivables at the point at which the rights become unconditional. Payments received before the related service is performed are included in the consolidated statement of financial position as contract liabilities.

For project management contracts that contain variable consideration based on the future pre-sales amount of the project, the Group estimates the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled using either (a) the expected value method or (b) the most likely amount, depending on which method better predicts the amount of consideration to which the Group will be entitled.

The Group does not consider the advance payments pertain to design and decoration service and project management service to have contained significant financing component.

Hotel operations

The Group's performance obligation from hotel operations is mainly to provide accommodation services to guests. Revenue from accommodation service is recognised over time during the period when the rooms for accommodates are occupied.

Sales of construction materials

Revenue from sales of construction materials is recognised when control of the goods has transferred to the customer, being at the point the goods are delivered to the customer. Payment of the transaction price is due immediately at the point the customer purchases the materials.

C. Segment information

The chief operating decision-maker of the Group has been identified as the executive directors and certain senior management (collectively referred to as the "CODM"). Operating segments are determined based on the Group's internal reports which are submitted to the CODM for performance assessment and resources allocation. This is also the basis upon which the Group is organised and managed.

The Group's consolidated revenue and results are attributable to the market in the PRC (country of domicile) and almost all of the Group's consolidated non-current assets are located in the PRC.

In the current year, the Group reorganised its internal reporting structure which resulted in changes to the composition of its reportable segments, specifically, project management became an independent reportable segment. Prior year segment disclosures have been represented to conform with the current year's presentation.

The Group's reportable segments under IFRS 8 are as follows:

- 1 Property development
- 2 Hotel operations
- 3 Property investment
- 4 Project management

For the property development reportable segment, the CODM reviews the financial information of each property development project, hence each property development project constitutes a separate operating segment. However, the property development projects possess similar economic characteristics, and are with similar development and selling activities as well as similar customer bases. Therefore, all property development projects are aggregated into one reportable segment for segment reporting purposes.

For the hotel operations reportable segment, the CODM reviews the financial information of each hotel, hence each hotel constitutes a separate operating segment. However, the hotels possess similar economic characteristics, and are with similar development and selling activities as well as similar customer bases. Therefore, all hotels are aggregated into one reportable segment for segment reporting purposes.

For the property investment reportable segment, the CODM reviews the financial information of each investment property, hence each investment property constitutes a separate operating segment. However, the investment properties possess similar economic characteristics, and are with similar development and selling activities as well as similar customer bases. Therefore, all investment properties are aggregated into one reportable segment for segment reporting purposes.

For the project management reportable segment, the CODM reviews the financial information of each project management project, hence each project management project constitutes a separate operating segment. However, the project management projects possess similar economic characteristics, and are with similar development and selling activities as well as similar customer bases. Therefore, all project management projects are aggregated into one reportable segment for segment reporting purposes.

Other operating segments include sales of construction materials, design and decoration and other business. None of these segments met the quantitative thresholds for the reportable segments in both current and prior year. Accordingly, these were grouped in "Others".

The CODM assesses the performance of the operating segments based on the post-tax profit of the group entities engaged in the respective segment activities, which includes share of results of joint ventures and associates and related finance costs, but excludes certain administrative expenses, other income, finance costs and taxation. Financial information provided to the CODM is measured in a manner consistent with the accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements as described in note 3.

Sales between segments are carried out on terms agreed between the counterparties.

No customers account for 10% or more of the Group's revenue.

12. Taxation (continued)

The deferred tax current year is mainly due to the fair value adjustment which arises from the acquisition of subsidiaries.

No provision for income tax has been made for the Company and group entities incorporated in Hong Kong as they have no assessable profits derived from Hong Kong.

Under the Law of the People's Republic of China on Enterprise Income Tax (the "EIT Law") and Implementation Regulation of the EIT Law, the tax rate of the PRC subsidiaries is 25% or 15%. Greentown Decoration Project Group Co., Ltd. ("Greentown Decoration Project Group") is a new technology enterprise and the applicable income tax rate from year 2018 to 2020 is 15%.

In addition, the EIT Law provides that qualified dividend income between two "resident enterprises" that have a direct investment relationship is exempted from income tax. Otherwise, such dividends will be subject to a 5% or 10% withholding tax under the EIT Law. A 10% withholding tax rate is applicable to the Group.

The tax charge for the year can be reconciled to the profit per the consolidated statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income as follows:

PRC LAT

According to the requirements of the Provisional Regulations of the PRC on LAT (中華人民共和國土地增值稅暫行條例) effective from 1 January 1994, and the Detailed Implementation Rules on the Provisional Regulations of the PRC on LAT (中華人民共和國土地增值稅暫行條例實施細則) effective from 27 January 1995, all income from the sale or transfer of state-owned land use rights, buildings and their attached facilities in the PRC is subject to LAT at progressive rates ranging from 30% to 60% of the appreciation value, with an exemption provided for property sales of ordinary residential properties (普通標準住宅) if their appreciation values do not exceed 20% of the sum of the total deductible items.

According to the Notices for the Strengthening of Administration on LAT (關於加強土地增值稅管理工作的通知), the Group is required to pre-pay LAT on pre-sale proceeds at 0.5% – 3% for ordinary residential properties and 1% – 6% for other properties.

For the year ended 31 December 2018, the Group estimated and made a provision for LAT in the amount of RMB3,889,060,000 (2017: RMB2,149,611,000), according to the requirements set forth in the relevant PRC tax laws and regulations. The actual LAT liabilities are subject to the determination by the tax authorities upon completion of the property development projects and the tax authorities might disagree with the basis on which the provision for LAT is calculated.

Weighted average number of ordinary shares for the purpose of diluted earnings per share	2,174,771,832	2,169,115,709

Details of the hotel buildings, leasehold land and buildings and construction in progress pledged to secure banking facilities granted to the Group are disclosed in note 42.

In view of the improving performance of the hotel operations, the Group engaged Cushman & Wakefield Limited to update their review of the Group's hotel buildings as at 31 December 2018 and as a result an impairment loss of RMB16,775,000 (as at 31 December 2017: RMB19,680,000) of hotel buildings was reversed during the year in respect of hotel buildings based on their value in use.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted. The discount rate used in measuring value in use was 9% (2017: 9%).

All of the Group's property interests held under operating leases to earn rentals or for capital appreciation purposes are measured using the fair value model and are classified and accounted for as investment properties.

The fair value of the Group's investment properties at 31 December 2018 and 2017 has been arrived at on the basis of a valuation carried out on that date by Cushman & Wakefield Limited.

In estimating the fair value of the properties, the highest and best use of the properties is their current use.

Significant increases/(decreases) in the reversionary yield in isolation would result in a significantly lower/(higher) fair value of the investment properties. Cost

	2018	2017
	RMB'000	RMB'000
At 1 January and at 31 December	769,241	769,241

The goodwill held by the Group as at 31 December 2018 arose on the acquisition of two subsidiaries that engaged in project management service in 2015. The detailed information is disclosed in the Group's 2015 consolidated financial statements.

Goodwill arose in the acquisition because the consideration paid for the acquisition effectively included the benefit of expected synergies, revenue growth and future market development. These benefits are not recognised separately from goodwill because they do not meet the recognition criteria for identifiable intangible assets.

Impairment test on goodwill

The basis of recoverable amount of the CGU and its major underlying assumptions is summarised below:

The recoverable amount of the CGU has been determined based on a value in use calculation. That calculation uses cash flow projections based on financial budgets approved by management covering a five-year period, and discount rate of 13.6% (2017: 12.5%). Other key assumptions for the value in use calculations relate to the estimation of cash inflows/outflows which include budgeted sales and gross margin, such estimation is based on the unit's past performance and director's expectations for the market development. The directors believe that any reasonably possible change in any of these assumptions would not cause the carrying amount to exceed its recoverable amount.

No deferred tax asset has been recognised in respect of the remaining RMB4,135,924,000 (2017: RMB3,995,928,000) due to the unpredictability of future profit streams. 2018 Corporate Bonds (continued)

Further details of the 2018 Corporate Bonds are published on the website of the Shanghai Stock Exchange (www.sse.com.cn).

The 2018 Corporate Bonds contain a liability component and a written put option:

- (i) Liability component represents the present value of the contractually determined stream of future cash flows discounted at the prevailing market interest rate at that time applicable to instruments of comparable credit status and providing substantially the same cash flows, on the same terms.

The interest charged for the year is calculated by applying an effective interest rate of approximately 5.55% per annum to the liability component since the corporate bonds were issued.

- (ii) Written put option is regarded as an embedded derivative closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract, therefore, the written put option is not separated from the liability component.

As at 31 December 2018, the Group has had no plan nor intention to exercise the Coupon Rate Adjustment Right of the corporate bonds, therefore the interest expense for the year were calculated using the 2018 original coupon rates of the corporate bonds.

In respect of the share options exercised during the year, the weighted average share price at the dates of exercise is HK$10.50 (2017: HK$8.96).

HK$1.00 is payable for each acceptance of grant of share options. In addition, (i) in respect of the 2009A share options, certain grantees were required to pay an option premium of HK$1.00 per share option up front; and (ii) in respect of the 2009C share options, certain grantees were required to pay an option premium of HK$3.50 per share option in three annual instalments. As at 31 December 2018, share option premiums receivable amounting to RMB nil (31 December 2017: RMB62,844,000) were included in other receivables according to the payment terms of the share option premiums.

44. Contingent Liabilities

(i) Guarantees

The Group provided guarantees of RMB33,973,731,000 (2017: RMB30,777,464,000) at 31 December 2018 to banks in favour of its customers in respect of the mortgage loans provided by the banks to those customers for the purchase of the Group's developed properties. These guarantees provided by the Group to the banks will be released upon receiving the building ownership certificates of the respective properties by the banks from the customers as a pledge for security to the mortgage loans granted.

The Group also provided guarantees to banks and other parties in respect of credit facilities utilised by the following companies:

	2018 RMB'000	2017 RMB'000
Credit guarantees provided to:
Associates	7,831,428	9,300,000
Joint ventures	8,338,367	7,464,340

	2018 RMB'000	2017 RMB'000
Mortgage and charge guarantees provided to:
Associates	175,000	–
Total	16,344,795	16,764,340

Contingent liabilities arising from interests in associates at the end of the reporting period:

	2018 RMB'000	2017 RMB'000
Share of mortgage loan guarantees provided by associates to banks in favour of its customers	5,494,304	3,588,963

Contingent liabilities arising from interests in joint ventures at the end of the reporting period:

	2018 RMB'000	2017 RMB'000
Share of mortgage loan guarantees provided by joint ventures to banks in favour of its customers	1,076,336	4,098,424

The directors consider that the fair value of the above guarantees is insignificant on initial recognition and there was no loss allowance recognised for expected credit losses during the reporting period (2017: it is not probable that an outflows in settlement will be required).

For the year ended 31 December 2018

45. Capital Risk Management

The Group manages its capital to ensure that entities in the Group will be able to continue as a going concern while maximising the return to shareholders through the optimisation of the debt and equity balance. The Group's overall strategy remains unchanged from prior year.

The capital structure of the Group consists of net debt, which includes the borrowings disclosed in notes 31, 32, 33, 34 and 48(ii) (net of cash and cash equivalents), and capital and reserves.

The directors of the Company review the capital structure on a regular basis. As part of this review, the directors consider the cost of capital and the risks associated with each class of capital. The Group will balance its overall capital structure through the payment of dividends, new share issues and share buy-backs as well as the issue of new debt or the redemption of existing debt.

The Group's major financial instruments include equity instruments at FVTOCI, senior notes' early redemption options, trade and other receivables, amounts due from related parties, pledged bank deposits, bank balances and cash, trade and other payables, amounts due to related parties, bank and other borrowings, corporate debt instruments, senior notes and receipts under securitisation arrangements. Details of the financial instruments are disclosed in respective notes. The risks associated with these financial instruments include market risk (currency risk, interest rate risk and other price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk. The policies on how to mitigate these risks are set out below. The management manages and monitors these exposures to ensure appropriate measures are implemented on a timely and effective manner. There has been no significant change in the Group's exposure to these risks or the manner in which it manages and measures risks.

(b) Financial risk management objectives and policies (continued)Market risk(i) Currency risk*

The Group has bank balances, equity instruments at FVTOCI, other receivables, amounts due from related parties, other payables, amounts due to related parties, bank and other borrowings and senior notes denominated in foreign currencies, which expose the Group to foreign currency risk.

The carrying amounts of the Group's foreign currency denominated monetary assets and monetary liabilities at the end of the reporting period are as follows:

	Assets		Liabilities
	2018 RMB'000	2017 RMB'000	2018 RMB'000	2017 RMB'000
Hong Kong dollars ("HKD")	741,519	1,039,284	2,788,659	22,122
United States dollars ("USD")	6,189,099	3,872,532	12,397,613	12,494,813

The Group does not use any derivative contracts to hedge against its exposure to currency risk. The management closely monitors foreign currency exposure and will consider hedging significant foreign currency exposure should the need arise.

Sensitivity analysis

The Group is mainly exposed to the fluctuations in exchange rates between RMB and HKD/USD. The exposure in HKD/USD arises mainly from the Group's bank balances and cash, equity instruments at fair value through other comprehensive income, other receivables, other payables, bank and other borrowings, senior notes and amounts due from/to related parties.

The following table details the Group's sensitivity to a 5% (2017: 5%) increase and decrease in RMB against the relevant foreign currencies. 5% represents management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in foreign exchange rates. The sensitivity analysis includes only outstanding foreign currency denominated monetary items and adjusts their translation at the year end for a 5% change in foreign currency rates. A positive number below indicates an increase in post-tax profit and other comprehensive income where RMB strengthens 5% against the relevant currency. For a 5% weakening of RMB against the relevant currency, there would be an equal and opposite impact on post-tax profit and other comprehensive income.

(ii) Interest rate risk

The Group is exposed to fair value interest rate risk in relation to fixed-rate bank deposits, amounts due from/to related parties, bank and other borrowings, senior notes, corporate debt instruments and receipts under securitisation arrangements (see notes 29, 31, 32, 33, 34 and 48 for details).

The Group is also exposed to cash flow interest rate risk in relation to variable-rate bank deposits, amounts due from/to related parties and bank and other borrowings (see notes 29, 31 and 48 for details).

The Group does not use any derivative contracts to hedge against its exposure to interest rate risk.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on the exposure to market deposit and lending interest rates for non-derivative instruments. For variable-rate bank deposits, bank and other borrowings and amounts due from/to related parties, the analysis is prepared assuming the balances outstanding at the end of the reporting period were outstanding for the whole year. A 5 basis point (2017: 5 basis point) increase or decrease in market deposit interest rates and a 50 basis point (2017: 50 basis point) increase or decrease in market lending interest rates represent management's assessment of the reasonably possible change in interest rates.

If the market deposit interest rates had been 5 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's post-tax profit for the year ended 31 December 2018 would have increased/decreased by RMB16,691,000 (2017: increased/decreased by RMB12,216,000). This is mainly attributable to the Group's exposure to interest rates on its variable-rate bank deposits.

If the market lending interest rates had been 50 basis points higher/lower and all other variables were held constant, the Group's post-tax profit for the year ended 31 December 2018 would have decreased/increased by RMB123,469,000 (2017: decreased/increased by RMB76,737,000). This is mainly attributable to the Group's exposure to interest rates on its variable-rate bank and other borrowings and amounts due from/to related parties.

(iii) Other price risk

The Group is exposed to equity price risk through its investments in listed equity securities in Hong Kong and unlisted equity securities. In addition, the Group has appointed a special team to monitor the price risk and will consider hedging the risk exposure should the need arise.

Sensitivity analysis

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on the exposure to equity price risk at the reporting date.

If the prices of the equity instruments had been 10% (2017: 10%) higher/lower, investments revaluation reserve would increase/decrease by RMB127,568,000 (2017: increase/decrease by RMB71,052,000).

Credit risk and impairment assessment

As at 31 December 2018, the Group's maximum exposure to credit risk which will cause a financial loss to the Group is arising from the carrying amount of the respective recognised financial assets as stated in the consolidated statement of financial position and the amount of contingent liabilities in relation to financial guarantee issued by the Group as disclosed in note 44.

The Group's credit risk is primarily attributable to its trade receivables, other receivables, amounts due from related parties, pledged bank deposits, bank balances, contract assets and financial guarantee contracts.

Trade receivables and contract assets arising from contracts with customers

In order to minimise the credit risk, The Group has policies in place to ensure that sales are made to purchasers with an appropriate financial strength and appropriate percentage of down payments. It also has other monitoring procedures to ensure that follow-up action is taken to recover overdue debts. In addition, the Group performs impairment assessment under ECL model upon application of IFRS 9 on trade balances based on provision matrix (2017: incurred loss model).

Other receivables

The credit risk of other receivables is managed through an internal process. The Group actively monitors the outstanding amounts owed by each debtor and uses past due information to assess whether credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition.

Amounts due from related parties

The credit risk of amounts due from related parties is managed through an internal process. The credit quality of each counterparty is investigated before an advance is made. The Group also actively monitors the outstanding amounts owed by each debtor and uses past due information to assess whether credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition.

Bank balances and cash and pledged bank deposit

Cash deposits are mainly placed with state-owned financial institutions and reputable banks which are all high-credit-quality financial institutions, therefore the Group's credit risk on liquid funds is limited.

Contingent liabilities in relation to the financial guarantees

For properties that are still under construction, the Group typically provides guarantees to banks in connection with the customers' borrowing of mortgage loans to finance their purchase of the properties. If a purchaser defaults on the payment of its mortgage during the term of the guarantee, the bank holding the mortgage may demand the Group to repay the outstanding amount under the loan and any accrued interest thereon. Under such circumstances, the Group is able to retain the customer's deposits and sell the property to recover any amounts paid by the Group to the bank. Unless the selling price drop significantly, which the probability is remote, the Group would not be in a loss position in selling those properties out. In this regard, the directors of the Company consider that the Group's credit risk in relation to financial guarantees from mortgage loans is largely mitigated.

The Group's concentration of credit risk by geographical locations is mainly in the PRC. Other than the concentration of credit risk on liquid funds which are deposited with several large state-owned banks and commercial banks in the PRC, the Group does not have any other significant concentration of credit risk, with exposure spread over a number of counterparties and customers.

Notes:

- For trade receivables and contract assets, the Group has applied the simplified approach in IFRS 9 to measure the loss allowance at lifetime ECL. Except for debtors with significant outstanding balances or credit-impaired, the Group determines the expected credit losses on these items by using a provision matrix based on aged days.
- External credit rating disclosed by the counterparty financial institutions and banks, majority of which are located in the PRC.
- For financial guarantee contracts, the gross carrying amount represents the maximum amount the Group has guaranteed under the respective contracts. The maximum amount that the Group has guaranteed under the respective contracts was RMB56,853,166,000 as at 31 December 2018. At the end of the reporting period, the directors of the Company have performed impairment assessment, and concluded that there has been no significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition of the financial guarantee contracts. Accordingly, the loss allowance for financial guarantee contracts issued by the Group is measured at an amount equal to 12m ECL. The directors of the Company considered that the 12m ECL allowance is insignificant at January 1, 2018 and December 31, 2018.

As part of the Group's credit risk management, the Group uses debtors' aging to assess the impairment for its customers in relation to its property sales, hotel operations, project management, design and decoration and sales of construction materials operating segments because these operating segments have large number of small customers with common risk characteristics that are representative of the customers' abilities to pay all amounts due in accordance with the contractual terms. The Group assessed the impairment for its customers from these operating segments separately, and the information about the exposure to credit risk for these trade receivables based on provision matrix as at 31 December 2018 within lifetime ECL (not credit impaired) are presented below. Debtors with significant outstanding balances with gross carrying amounts of RMB58,868,000 respectively that was defaulted as at 31 December 2018 were assessed individually.
