CHARACTERISTICS OF THE GROWTH ENTERPRISE MARKET (“GEM”) OF THE STOCK EXCHANGE OF HONG KONG LIMITED (THE “STOCK EXCHANGE”)

GEM has been established as a market designed to accommodate companies to which a high investment risk may be attached. In particular, companies may list on GEM with neither a track record of profitability nor any obligation to forecast further profitability. Furthermore, there may be risks arising out of the emerging nature of companies listed on GEM and the business sectors or countries in which the companies operate. Prospective investors should be aware of the potential risks of investing in such companies and should make the decision to invest only after due and careful consideration. The greater risk profile and other characteristics of GEM mean that it is a market more suited to professional and other sophisticated investors.

Given the emerging nature of companies listed on GEM, there is a risk that securities traded on GEM may be more susceptible to high market volatility than securities traded on the main board of the Stock Exchange and no assurance is given that there will be a liquid market in the securities traded on GEM.

The principal means of information dissemination on GEM is publication on the Internet website operated by the Stock Exchange. Listed companies are not generally required to issue paid announcements in gazetted newspapers. Accordingly, prospective investors should note that they need to have access to the GEM website in order to obtain up-to-date information on GEM-listed issuers.

The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited takes no responsibility for the contents of this document, makes no representation as to its accuracy or completeness and expressly disclaims any liability whatsoever for any loss howsoever arising from or in reliance upon the whole or any part of the contents of this document.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Data Network Infrastructure

Year 2003 has been and will continue to be a difficult and challenging year for telecommunications players. Our business has continued to be shaken by the lags from the restructuring of the telecommunications industry. In addition, a focus of capital expenditure spending of our major customer, China Telecom, outside the Group's business domain has further adversely affected the Group.

Despite such challenges, alternate carriers, cable TV operators and governments have continued to provide opportunities in the construction of public and wide area data networks. Therefore, we have commenced to realign our sales and marketing resources and geographical presence, allowing us to further focus on and penetrate into these segments.

We have also been working towards a regional play in the Asia Pacific region. In addition to exploring business opportunities with local partners in selected countries for the bidding of data networks projects, we have also been actively exploring collaboration opportunities to allow Vodatel to establish its foothold in the Asia Pacific region.

Emerging Market Forces — Gaming Operators in Macau

With the opening of the gaming industry in Macau during 2002, existing and new gaming operators have commenced their investment in Macau. With deep roots in Macau and capitalizing on our reputation and industry knowledge, we have formed a work team to principally focus on the robust business opportunities driven by the gaming operators. Therefore, in addition to the products and services offerings currently carried by Vodatel, which cover wide area data networking, local area networks, computers and servers, imaging applications, security solutions and systems integration, we have also been actively sourcing innovative products and services from reputable suppliers, allowing Vodatel to carry and offer a complete portfolio of solutions and applications for gaming operators.

New Business Collaboration — Operation Support Systems

During the Three-Month Period, we have finalized a joint venture arrangement to engage in the research, design, development, integration, marketing and sales of Operation Support Systems and customer-based service and network management systems. With massive investment made by telecommunications service providers in data networks over the years, operators have increasing requirements for Operation Support Systems which allow them to better manage their data networks, monitor service levels offered to customers and improve customer-relations management system, billing functionality and basic provisioning.

Wireless Communications

On 9th May, 2003, Hong Kong-based Mobile Telecom Network (Holdings) Limited (“MTel”), in which we have an effective 7.3% equity interest (after capitalization), successfully got listed on the Growth Enterprise Market of the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong. With the mission to become one of the major mobile data solutions providers in the Asia Pacific region, MTel specializes in data and network technology including data routing, compression, acceleration, device-specific reformatting, security and multiple applications integration. Based on the closing price of MTel on 13th May, 2003, market value of our investment amounted to HK$9.25 million.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Attributable to difficult market conditions, we registered a turnover of HK$40.7 million and a net loss of HK$6.5 million for the Three-Month Period. For the Nine-Month Period, turnover amounted to HK$324.6 million and net profit of HK$19.3 million with gross profit margin leveled at approximately 24%. To improve our operating efficiency, we have commenced to streamline and realign our resources at our offices while maintaining geographic presence and without compromising customer support and services.

The Group continued to maintain a healthy capital structure with minimal bank borrowings. During the Three-Month Period, US$2.25 million of the US$3.5 million convertible bonds issued to Riverstone Networks matured. Of the US$2.25 million convertible bonds, we exercised our right to convert US$1.5 million convertible bonds into shares of Vodatel at an exercise price of HK$2.00 by creating 5,835,000 new shares of Vodatel and retired US$0.75 million convertible bonds. In addition, in view of the current business environment, we have repaid RMB3.0 million of the aggregate RMB13.0 million short-term loans raised to facilitate the operating activities of our subsidiary in the PRC.
